AUSTIN A. CASSIL'S LETTERS.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Sept. 1, 1877.

EDITOR BANNER—This place has a population of about 15,000, is the largest city in Southern California, and is destined to be the third city in the State, in wealth, population, and business enterprise. It is situated in the lovely Los Angeles Valley, which is clothed in perennial verdure. The view from the surrouding elevated plateaus or "Mesas"—as they are here called—is very fine. At the Southern end of the city the valley opens out into a broad plain and to the South-east as far as the eye can reach, the valley and plain are covered with beautiful orange groves, thrifty vine-yards, flower and vegetable gardens, and fields of golden grain. Although Los Angeles is contiguous on the east to a large extent of low, moist land, it is comparatively free from malaria, as the sea breeze seems to lift and bear it away. Los Angeles is not particularly healhty. There are many places in Southern California which are more so. There has been a moderate crop of grain in Los Angeles county on account of the quantity of moist land. Irrigation has been reduced to a science, more nearly here than elsewhere in the State. It is the great orange country and that article will continue to be its staple and representative product.

Los Angeles City is a flourishing place, but has many and antagonistic elements in its society. The Spanish, Mexican and Greaser element are happily fast fading into insignificance, but at present they make their influence felt very perceptibly. Los Angeles has a future whose brilliancy is dependent to a great extent upon the course pursued by her present population. Shortly after my arrival I took a horse-back ride out to

SAN GABRIEL MISSION,

About ten miles distant, arriving in time to catch a beautiful effect from the ocean fog and morning sun; the latter shining down through and back of the fog, which had partially risen, gave to the whole landscape a checquered appearance, tinting the orange groves and vineyards with beautiful shades of green, the flickering shadows chasing each other like hosts upon the field of battle; the mountains in the back ground shining like burnished gold in the gorgeous rays of the morning sun, each crag and crevice and mountain peak, lit up with a gorgeous light, all formed a scene on which the eyes delighted to linger, and which passed away only too soon.

Presenting letters of introduction, and passing through one or two orange and lemon groves and banana gardens, I visited the Old Mission Church, through which I was shown by the priest in charge, who looked and talked like a descendant of the old Spanish Padres, as he very likely was. Detailing as he went along, the early history and privations of the Mission fathers, he led me through the body of the church, which is a low, oblong structure, built out of adobe, or sun-dried bricks, its walls being from five to six feet in thickness, and its foundations treble that amount. The pavement of the nave is laid in "breer," a pitchy substance that exudes from the ground in this vicinity and is used in making pavements, which are something similar to our concrete pavements in the East. From this he led me through the chancel to the vestry, in which were stowed many of the rude images and robes used by the early fathers. He then showed me numerous historic ruins in the vicinity, among others the immense cauldrons, where, in early days, soap was manufactured, this being a staple, if not the principal, article of commerce. These furnaces and basins were still almost all intact, having originally been constructed in a very substantial manner. My next objective point was

"SUNNY SLOPE,"

The beautiful place of S. T. Rose, about two miles North-east of the Mission. Mr. Rose is the representative orange and wine producer of this country. He manufactured no less than 22,000 gallons of brandy last year, and annually sells millions of oranges. He has 100 acres in orange trees of all ages, from the young sprout to trees 19 years old. He says that an orange tree will bear a crop sufficient to pay the expenses of that year in 10 years from the seed. A budded tree will bear in much less time, four or five years or less. But he does not approve of budding, claiming that it does not produce as large or as fine a crop. Orange trees at the age of 15 will average 1,000 oranges per tree. He has trees that bear 3,000 each. There are no orange trees in the country that have arrived at maturity. His oldest are 19 years of age, and he believes that they will bear under favorable circumstances to the age of 100 years or over. Orange trees 5 years old can now be purchased for 75 cents each and younger in proportion. They can be transplanted at any age. He transplanted two at the age of 19, and they are doing finely. The price of oranges at present for the producer ranges from $17.50 to $20 per thousand. He sold his for $22.50. Mr. Rose also manufactures wines and brandies largely, manufacturing not only the product of his own ranche, but buying up all the grapes he can in the vicinity. His estimate is 15 pounds of grapes to one gallon of white wine, and more than twice that much for port. He is a member of a New York house, through which he disposes of most of horticultural products. He owns all the sources of his water supply, and estimates that if he had to buy water it would cost $5 per acre per annum. Mr. Rose is a very genial gentleman, cultured and refined, and possesses a large factor of success in his thorough acquaintance with that branch of horticulture in which he is engaged.

From Mr. Rose's, I rode over to the ranche of Mr. Titus, also a great orange-grower, where I stopped a few moments to gather some oranges, there being none on Mr. Rose's trees now. Oranges ripen in January and February.

Near Mr. Titus's I stopped to visit the old Spanish lady claimed to be 138 years old. If her family is to be believed she is undoubtedly very aged, as they say her third child died 13 years ago, at the age of 89 years.

After lunch at the Mission, I returned to Los Angeles by way of Pasadena, which is the name given to the combined Indiana colony and Lake Vineyard Tract.—The Indiana colony is a joint-stock company, of which A. O. Porter is President, and C. H. Watts Secretary, composed principally of Indiana people, its capital stock being divided into 200 shares of $250 each. This company was organized in 1873, and men sent out to purchase land. These men bought 40,000 acres, situated about seven miles North-east of this place The original stockholders divided 1,500 acres of this among them, allotting 7½ acs. to the share, and holding the remainder, together with the water privileges in common. After purchasing the 4 000 acres and paying all the necessary expenses, there still remains a balance on hand, which was invested in constructing water works, building reservoirs and laying pipe. Water is now distributed to every part of the improved portion, so that each land-owner can attach his hose at various points along his branch pipes and irrigate any portion of his land, sprinkle his garden or put out any incipient fire on his premises, the water system being as perfect as in any city. The colony has a man employed to look after the pipes, &c., and to pay him an assessment is levied upon each land owner of 25 cents for 25 inches of water for three hours, letting the water on two hours gratis. They irrigate the orange trees about once in six weeks.

The first house was built in the Spring of 1874. Several more were put up that year and quite a number the year following and now there are between 60 and 70 dwellings in the colony, and at a recent school election a vote of 73 was polled.—The colony has one or two churches, school house, numerous social, literary and industrial organizations, and a state of society that, as far as my acquaintance extends, is good.

Whether the colonists will make this a financial success or not I cannot pretend to say. They will have "a hard row to hoe" for a few years, until their orange trees, vines, &c., come into bearing but after that if the market remains at its present status, they will undoubtedly make money. One thing, however, is certain, they will have one of the most delightful places on this green earth, in which to live. For many of the above facts, I take pleasure in acknowledging my indebtedness to D. M. Berry of Los Angeles.

AUSTIN A. CASSIL.

THE OHIO REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Its Veritable Essence Freed from Humbug.

New York Sun.]

The Republican party in Ohio is pure and good. Its office-holders (with the exception of Index Noyes, who has been sent out of the country) have never been detected in rascality; and they will endeavor to remain undetected in the future, as in the past.

The National Republican party is also good and pure; wherefore the voters of Ohio should love and cherish it.

Under the circumstances, and for the time being, we approve of Mr. Hayes; but this approval must not be construed to mean a disapproval of those who disapprove of him. We admire his beard, and rejoice in the peculiar beauty of his fine blue eyes. His Southern policy is well intended, but—

Hell is paved with good intentions. The negro must be protected by Federal bayonets.

A pure civil service is a good thing before elections. An efficient civil service (like that which sent Mr. Hayes $10,000 last year to carry this State with) is a better thing.

We demand a good, honest currency—one which shall cheat our creditors out of ten per cent. of our indebtedness.

By the kind permission of Mr. Stanley Matthews, leading attorney for the Hon. Thomas A. Scott, we disapprove the Texas-Pacific subsidy job until after election, when Congress meets.

We view with alarm the present difficulties between capital and labor, and sympathize alike with poor and rich. We loudly demand that Congress pass laws insuring good wages for all employes and guaranteeing satisfactory dividends to their employers; for we want the votes of the one class and the money of the other to carry this State in October for a distinguished statesman whom it were idle to mention by name, inasmuch as the majority of the citizens of Ohio have probably never heard of him.

Anthony Howells, Esq.

The Democratic Convention of Ohio did itself in nominating for the office of State Treasurer, Anthony Howells, Esq., of Massillon, a gentleman eminently fitted to perform the duties of the office, and in every respect worthy of confidence and support. Throughout the Tuscarawas and Mahoning Valleys he is well and favorably known, and indeed is hardly a stranger in any of the iron and coal producing regions of Ohio. Mr. Howells is one of the most substantial and enterprising business men of Massillon, and his relations of a business character extend beyond our narrow limits. He is associated with Gen. James Lee, in the Volcano Furnace Company, and together they control a number of coal mines, some of which are the most productive in the Massillon region. Mr. Howells has assisted personally in the opening and working of some of these mines.

Mr. Howells is a careful, calculating, honorable business man. He has contributed largely to the development of the mineral resources of this region and has been eminently successful in his ventures. His intercourse, particularly with the hundreds of laborers which he employs, has always been of a friendly and humane character. He once delved in the mines, knows the dangers and temptations to which coal miners are exposed and is always ready to listen to their just demands. He is a friend of the laboring man.

It was by his own energy, perseverance and labor that Mr. Howells rose to the position he now occupies. His character and business standing are above reproach. The large interests which he now controls, and those he formerly controlled in Mahoning county, are sufficient indications that the Treasury of the States will be well guarded and the funds judiciously handled, should Mr. Howells be called upon to take charge of the money bags.—Massillon American, (Rep.)

Speech of Hon. R. M. Bishop,

Democratic Candidate for Governor.

Delivered in Cincinnati, on Monday Evening, Sept. 16th, 1877.

There was a grand meeting of the Democracy of Cincinnati, at the Sixth street market place on Monday evening, Sept. 16th. The platform was occupied by a number of distinguished gentlemen. Hon. Milton Sayler, Hon. D. W. Hill of Defiance, Judge Smith of New Orleans, Hon. Samuel F. Hunt of Glendale, Hon. Geo. W. Boyce, Hon. James Fitzgerald being among the number. The first speaker introduced was Hon. R. M. Bishop, the venerable candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket. As he approached the front of the platform and looked down on the sea of upturned faces, he was greeted with hearty applause. He adjusted his glasses, drew a roll of manuscript from his pocket, and in a clear, full voice read the following speech, which was listened to with the closest and most respectful attention, and was loudly applauded at the close.

FRIENDS AND FELLOW-CITIZENS: As most of you know me personally, you know that I am not in the habit of making public speeches. But, in view of the important position for which I am asking your suffrages, I feel that I ought to say a few words to you, and especially so as you are my friends and neighbors.

For more than thirty years I have lived among you. During that time I have tried by industry and fair dealing to merit your respect and confidence. My time has been mainly occupied with business matters. I have given little or no attention to the graces of rhetoric or the charms of oratory. Therefore I do not come before you with excellency of speech, but to say a few plain words to the people who know me best, and for whom I entertain a feeling that I can poorly express in words.

I claim no special merit, because I am not a professional speaker. Some may regard this as a reason why I am not fitted for the Gubernatorial chair. With such I will have no controversy. I understand too well the habits of our American life to expect any other conclusion. Candidates for almost every office within the gift of the people have been in the habit of discussing their claims before the public.—Hence it would be too much to expect of you not to prefer a brilliant orator instead of a practical business man for your standard-bearer in a contest like this. And yet it may be that we have reached a time in our political affairs when the people prefer less talk and more work—fewer words and greater deeds. And, should I spend the time which is usually occupied by gubernatorial candidates in stumping the State, in a thorough and conscientious preparation for the responsible duties of the office, it may be that, if elected, I will be all the better qualified to serve you than if I should prove myself in this canvass to be a great stump speaker. While I have not been in the habit of making public speeches, it has been my habit to hear or read most of the important speeches made by our ablest men, and I do not think I ever heard or read a more remarkable speech than that made by my worthy opponent on the evening of his nomination at Cleveland.—That this speech was a bid for the votes of what is denominated the workingmen can scarcely admit of a doubt, and that he clearly over-reached himself is just as evident to every candid person who will carefully examine what he said.

Now I claim to have as much sympathy for the workingmen as my opponent or any one else. I believe in the divine mission of labor, and delight to honor the noble sons of toil who have done so much and are still doing so much to build the foundations of prosperity for this great country. For, after all, honest labor is the basis of our individual and national prosperity.—But while I feel this way, and would honestly do every thing in my power to help every laboring man to the fullest enjoyment of all the privileges and benefits that he can rightfully claim, I can not and will not do this at the expense of law and order, or in the name of an unmanly crusade against capital. That the respective claims of capital and labor may be better adjusted than they are at present is, I think, quite possible. But that this can be done by breaking down one or the other, I do not for one moment believe. Capital and labor are mutually dependent on each other. What is the interest of one is the interest of the other also. If the capitalist can not proceed without labor, neither can the laborer be remunerated without capital.—That one may have sometimes a temporary advantage over the other is quite probable, but this is just as likely to be one as the other. It seems to me that the time has come when this whole subject should receive the most thoughtful consideration of our wisest statesmen. And whatever can be done ought to be done as early as practicable, to meet not only the present emergency, but any that may likely arise in the immediate future. We ought not to have in this country a recurrence of the scenes through which we have recently passed. Doubtless many sincere workingmen believed they had good reason for their course in seeking redress for their wrongs. But there ought to be a way provided in which redress can be had without destruction of the material resources of the country; for such destruction, in the long run, only adds to the hardships of the workingman.

To meet this emergency the Republican platform suggests a very doubtful expedient. That much may be accomplished by arbitration in all such matters, I think no one will dispute. But this arbitration can not be of the nature of that provided by the Republican platform. We have already had quite sufficient experience to indicate the result when the settlement of these matters comes into the hands of our Government officials. Once establish a bureau for the practical management of our railroads, and it will not be long before the corruption of the past years in reference to Congressional jobbery on railroad matters will be more than quadruled, while the workingman will be made to suffer in every instance. For if these decisions are to be influenced by bribery—a thing which our past history painfully suggests—then capital will have all the advantage, and the workingman will have no means of redress at all. That something might be accomplished by a Committee of Arbitration mutually agreed upon by the parties in contest I think is not only probable, but quite certain. But, while this is less objectionable than the plan proposed by the Republican platform I do not even suggest it as the most practical way to meet the question. That has been forced upon us. The fact is I do not think any hasty and crude notions ought to be accepted as a political creed upon a subject of such vital importance. But I am not without hope that, after thoughful consideration, the relations between capital and labor may be adjusted that there shall be henceforth no clashing between them, and should I be elected to the office for which I am a candidate, I will certainly, so far as my official position will justify do my utmost to effect this adjustment on terms beneficial alike to the laborer and the capitalist.

Another vital question meets us at the very threshold of this canvass. It is not a new question, but it is one, like Banquo's ghost, that "will not down." I need scarcely tell you that I refer to the money question. Our platform on this question is definite and emphatic. If meets the issue fairly, and we are ready to go before the people on its utterances. It demands the repeal of the Resumption Act, and in this demand I verily believe it speaks the wish of an overwhelming majority of the voters of this State. Not that these voters are opposed to resumption at the proper time, or in favor of a wild and unnecessary inflation, as has been frequently charged. This is not what our platform asserts.—That platform says: "As a means of relieving the distressed portions of the community, and removing the great stringency complained of in business circles, we demand the immediate repeal of the Resumption Act." It will be seen that this clause of our platform charges the stringency in business circles, and much of the distress of the people, to the Resumption Act, and consequently demands its immediate repeal. Now what else can produce our present financial troubles if it be not, in a great degree, produced by that same Resumption Act? When was our whole land more bountifully blessed with an abundant harvest? When did health smile on us more benignly than at the present time? When were all the material elements of prosperity in the country more signally manifest than in this year of our Lord 1877? And yet the cry of hard times comes up from every quarter of the land. What we propose is that accompanying this cry shall come up from every quarter the unqualified demand for a repeal of the Resumption Act—that very act which is to-day paralyzing our business energies, prostrating our commercial and manufacturing interest, and bringing untold distress to thousands of our fellow-citizens.—Let no one be alarmed at the cry of inflation. This pass-word of the demagogue is now well understood. We do not ask for inflation, but we ask for justice. We are unwilling to pay our taxes to the Government, and then have that Government speculate on us to our own great pecuniary disadvantage. We ask for justice in this respect, and I trust that Ohio will send such news to Washington, after the October election, as will teach our law-makers a lesson that they will not dare to refuse to heed. On this subject the Republican platform is dumb. It neither says one thing nor the other, and hence I suppose the Republican party do not regard this as a question of any importance whatever, or what is more probable, it is a question that the party leaders were afraid to handle, and hence they have sought relief where Dr. Holmes found it, in the case of the organ-grinders:

"Silence, like a poultice, comes
To heal the blows of sound."

Doubtless the discords in their Convention were such that, when the time for silence came, it was a great relief to the party managers. But I am greatly mistaken if honest Republicans are going to be satisfied with this non-committal policy. Nor do I believe they will vote to sustain a party which gives nothing but silence in response to the people's demands for a remedy to help them in their present sore distress.

Of course I am in favor of the silver dollar. And I am in favor of it, too, just as our platform expresses it. Let us "restore to silver its monetary power," and not with the "ifs," and "doubts," the "shalls" and "shan'ts, the "cans" and "can'ts," which characterize the Republican platform utterance. We want the silver dollar of our fathers, without any ifs, without any doubts; and I believe that is precisely what the voters of the State want, and will so declare at the October election.

And now, fellow-citizens, I must close. I told you in the beginning that I was no public speaker. and yet if I do not stop, you will charge me with, at least, making an effort to speak, however poorly I may succeed. One thing, however, you must allow me to say. I have no doubts concerning your patrotism. and consequently I shall expect you to give a good account of yourselves at the polls when the time comes for you to emphasize the principles for which we are contending.

Mr. Bishop and the State Committee.

From the Plain Dealer.]

The Leader lit down on a statement in an Enquirer special, regarding a rumored "misunderstanding between the Hon. R. M. Bishop and the most prominent members of the State Central Committee on the subject of Mr. Bishop's assessment for campaign purposes," like a hawk on a field mouse; but we are willing to rest the question of the truth or falsity of that rumor, upon the statement made by Mr. Bishop to a Leader reporter, who interviewed him on Monday, as given in the Leader's own account of that interview:

Reporter—Mr. Bishop, I called to ask something in regard to this report which the Enquirer has made about there having been a misunderstanding between the committee and yourself in regard to furnishing funds for the campaign.

Mr. B.—Well, sir, there is but one thing to say about that, and that is, that THERE IS NOT A SINGLE WORD OF TRUTH IN IT. THE SUBJECT OF MONEY WAS NOT MENTIONED, EVEN IN THE COMMITTEE ROOM, and I told the Enquirer man so. He has probably corrected it in his paper before this.

Reporter—Did you or your sons promise money to the committee as an inducement for the nomination?

Mr. B.—Nothing of the kind. The matter was not considered at all. The fact of the matter is, I was not taken up on any such grounds. I was nominated simply because my friends urged that I was a business man and not a politician.

We don't think it necessary to say anything further on the subject.

Treatment of Wool.

A superintendent of a Western factory gives the following hints as to the treatment of wool:

1. If possible, don't let the fleece get filled with chaff, by feeding your sheep at straw stacks. If you cannot feed them through racks, it is better to scatter the straw or hay about the yard, next to the fence. It is a decided injury to the fleece if the sheep feed at the straw stack.

2. Don't defer shearing too long, as the fleeces are apt to become cotted wool, which is only worth half price.

3. Wash wool well, or not at all, as poorly washed or dingy wool will command in market scarcely more than straight unwashed. In many parts of Minnesota, the facilities are evidently not sufficient for fleece washing, and in such places it is better not to attempt to wash it.

4. Whether washed or unwashed, fleeces should be properly tagged and each fleece should be tied up by itself in not too hard or solid a bunch. For tying up wool use only what is known as wool twine. Never use jute twine, as it gets into the wool and can be got only with difficulty. Many manufacturers will reject wool when tied up with such twine.

5. In taking wool to the market, don't put it in a wagon box with clay, straw. or chaff in the bottom, and cover it over with hay, expecting when you reach a market, to get a good price, as many do. If you expect to get a full price, treat your wool as though you considered it worth something yourself. It matters not what is to be sold, whether French silk or raw wool; the more neatly it is put up, or gotten up, for market, the quicker it will sell and the higher price it will command.

Secretary Sherman and the Farmers and the Debtor Class.

Mr. Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, has spoken. He spoke at Mansfield last Friday night.—When he was known that he would speak in that city on Friday night, there went up to him from all parts of the country, the hope that he would speak words as to the question of Resumption that would lift up the hearts of the financially depressed and the despondent. But, alas! he spoke no such words. On the contrary, he spoke words that must deepen their depression and augment their despondency.

When, in his speech, he reached the question of specie payments, he said:

"What I mean by Specie payments is simply that paper money ought to be made equal to coin, so that when you receive it, IT WILL BUY AS MUCH BEEF, CORN OR CLOTHING AS COIN."

And he should have added, "lower wages for the operative and farm hand;" for farm produce cannot be reduced in price from what it is now without reducing the wages of the farm hand, nor can clothing and manufactured articles be reduced in price without reducing the wages of the operative in the manufactory and tailor shop and shoe shop. The reduction of their wages go hand in hand with the reduction of the price of beef, corn and clothing as surely as that cause and effect go together. This proposed reduction in the price of the necessaries of life on the surface may seem well enough. If the tailor and shoemaker can buy as much of the necessaries of life with paper money when it shall have been brought up to an equality with gold, and the farmer can buy as much of the things that he needs with paper money as with gold as he can now, the change would seem to make no perceptible difference, and if the relative purchasing power of paper money will not be increased, wherefore the necessity of driving headlong to Resumption?

Fight for Life With a Mad Dog.

The Boston Journal says: A fearful encounter with a mad dog occurred in Bridgwater, N. H., on Thursday last. On the afternoon of that day a large mastiff entered the house of Widow Huckings and sprang at the throat of a young woman, a daughter of Mrs. Huckings. She threw up her arm and the dog bit her in the right hand. The mother, who was in another room, hastened to her assistance, when the dog

Our Supplement.

Judge Thurman's speech, delivered at Marion, on Saturday afternoon last, is issued in a Supplement which accompanies this week's BANNER. It will bear a careful and thoughtful perusal. The Judge reviews in a masterly manner, the Louisiana and Florida questions, and exposes the daring frauds which prepared the way for the inauguration of a fraudulent "President." He congratulates the country upon the victory of the Democratic policy. He speaks of the corruption in the administration of public affairs; of that Civil Service Reform, furnishing valuable information that is new to the country. He names three causes of the depression of business—labor-saving machinery, taxes, and the appreciation of the currency. He doesn't think it right to name a day for resumption, but believes that we should grow up to resumption gradually, and asks if we are not getting to specie payments fast enough. He is squarely in favor of the full restoration of the old silver dollar. He demands a revision of the tariff laws and a rigid public economy. His speech is one of the most sensible of the campaign, and should be read by every citizen, whether Democrat or Republican.

☞ Judge Taft declined to debate with Colonel Lew Campbell, "the Butler pony," as he had no desire so be flayed alive.

☞ Vote a full Democratic ticket from top to bottom. Don't scratch a name.—Don't trade votes for either love or money.

☞ Sam Carey claims that the workingmen will poll 40,000 votes in Ohio.—But Sam was always a tremendous blowhard.

☞ General Grant has returned to London, after an extended journey through Scotland, and is again acting the part of a lion on British soil.

☞ There is a report that Hayes will soon ask John Sherman to hand in his resignation as Secretary of the Treasury. We don't believe it.

☞ The New York Sun offers a prize of 50 cents for the best essay on the question which is the sillier, Hayes or Key. Here is a chance for genius!

☞ Let every Democrat become a self appointed committee of one to see that all Democrats in his school district, ward or township, vote on the 9th of October.

☞ "Lies like a Turk," used to be a maxim once; but in the way of telling big stories about their war victories the Russians can beat the Turks all to pieces.

☞ Governor Tom Young does not hesitate to express the opinion that the Democrats will carry Hamilton county, owing to the indiscreet speeches of Communistic West.

☞ The Beaver (Pa.) Argus, a Radical paper, nominates Governor Hartranft as a candidate for President in 1880. No man carrying such a name can ever reach the Presidency.

☞ Let Ohio follow the example of California, and elect a Democratic Legislature, and then we will have two Democratic United States Senators from the glorious Buckeye State.

☞ General George B. McClellan is the Democratic candidate for Governor of New Jersey. As the State has a decided Democratic majority his election may be regarded as an assured fact.

☞ The friends of monopoly will vote the Republican ticket. The friends of honesty and reform will vote the Democratic ticket. Between the two it is not hard for intelligent men to choose.

☞ Governor Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, accompanied the Presidential circus through Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia, and was everywhere introduced by Mr. Hayes as "an honest and patriotic man."

☞ That political bummer, Stanley Matthews, calls Ex-President Andrew Johnson, "a traitor," and yet, Secretary Evarts, when in Nashville last week, eulogized Mr. Johnson as a patriot and honest man.

☞ "My Confederate friends," is the way Hayes spoke of them as he passed through Kentucky and Tennessee, with the Presidential circus and menagerie.—The "Bloody Shirt" will now be permitted to take a rest.

☞ Bear in mind that a vote in favor of Vernor, is an indorsement of John Sherman's threat—the "Resumption Law must, shall and will be inforced." All in favor of a repeal of the resumption law should vote the Democratic ticket.

☞ Gen. McClellan says, in Harper's Magazine, that our army looses a larger proportion of officers killed in time of peace than the British army losses in peace and war together. Taking the number killed in the half century from 1804 to 1854, and deducting the losses during the wars of 1812, of Mexico, of Florida, and the Black Hawk, and consider the intervening peaceful periods, the percentage of killed is greater to the whole force than that of the British army in the same period, though Great Britain was at war nearly the whole time.

☞ The Columbus Journal has over a column of announcements for Republican meetings in different parts of the State; and while such patriots as "Private" Dalzell, Wm. H. West, De Gollyer Garfield, "General" Geo. A. Sheridan, Charley Foster, and Stanley Matthews are announced as speakers, we fail to see the names of Columbus Delano, R. C. Kirk, Colonel Cooper, J. C. Devin, or any of our Mt. Vernon orators in the list. Why is this thus?

☞ The Columbus correspondent of the Chicago Tribune (Rep.) is of the opinion that if the Radicals secure a majority in the next Legislature of this State, John Sherman is the dark horse that will carry away the Senatorial prize. That is just what we have all along said. A vote for a Republican candidate for the Legislature, is therefore a vote to send this "architect of ruin" back to the United States Senate.

☞ Thurlow Weed, now within two months of four score years of age, has finally withdrawn from politics, by resigning his membership of a New York Republican committee. Mr. Weed has had an eventful career, having learned the art of printing before he was fifteen, served in the war of 1812, for which he still draws a pension, and for fifty years an editor of more or less importance.

☞ The Republicans have a sweet lot of candidates on their State ticket. West is an avowed Communist, and we have the authority of the Urbana Union for the statement that Vogeler, candidate for Lt. Governor, is an infidel. While a member of the School Board in Cincinnati a few years since he was one of the leading spirits in excluding the Bible from the Public Schools in that city.

☞ A decision just rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States is possibly interesting to a large number of litigants. The court holds that when a creditor after judgment obtained against him, transfers to his wife property purchased with money for which he is responsible, the transfer is not sufficient to protect the property against the creditors of the insolvent husband.

☞ When the Presidential circus reached Lynchburg, Va., on Monday, the blatherskite, Key, Hayes' Postmaster General, excused himself from speaking, on the plea that no matter what he said the newspapers found fault with him. If Key had not made an ass of himself in saying silly things, there would be no occasion to set up a pitiful whine at this late day.

☞ Nearly a dozen of the strikers who bore a conspicuous part in the late railroad riots are now in prison in Warren county, N. J., awaiting trial. One and all they profess the sincerest penitence and regret the folly which made them the dupes of mischievous men, who have abandoned them to their fate. They are thoroughly cured of striking.

☞ By their aggressive movements in Herzegovina, the Montenegrins will revive the insurrection in that province, and cause intense annoyance to the Turks, who recent deeply defeats inflicted by their ancient foes. The exigencies of the Ottoman Army in Bulgaria prevent the Porte from sending more troops against the victorious mountaineers.

☞ Hon. J. W. Okey, our candidate for Supreme Judge, was born in Monroe county, of which he was Probate Judge for six years, and then served ten years on the Common Pleas Bench. He is now a member of the Revision Code Commission, having been appointed by Governor Allen. He is a learned jurist and a popular gentleman.

☞ Because Hon. R. M. Bishop, the next Governor of Ohio, has seen proper to attend many of our County Fairs, and become acquainted with the people, the Radical papers take occasion to abuse him.—The truth is, Mr. Bishop makes hosts of friends wherever he goes, and this is what worries the supporters of Communist West.

☞ The latest Savings Bank explosion that has come to our notice is that of the "Fidelity" at Chicago, John C. Haines President, which closed its doors on Monday. It had about 7,800 depositors, to whom is due about $1,300,000. John Sherman's death-dealing contraction policy is now being felt all over the land.

☞ West was chairman of a committee of the Ohio Legislature in 1863, and reported it was all right to arrest Doctor Olds and other citizens without due process of law, and incarcerate them in Ft. Lafayette and other places. Such is the man the Republican party would like to make Governor of Ohio! God forbid!

☞ Notwithstanding the "order" of Hayes, forbidding office-holder from meddling in politics, all the Government clerks are to be sent home to vote. As Hayes has adopted the Democratic policy towards the South, it would be in accordance with the eternal fitness of things for these clerks to vote the Democratic ticket.

☞ Every man who wants harder times than we now have should vote the Republican ticket. If the Republicans carry Ohio it will strengthen John Sherman's hands, and he will proceed to enforce the resumption law, no matter how many humble homes he destroys or how many bankrupts he makes.

☞ There is no disputing the fact that Hayes has met with grand receptions at every point he has visited in the South.—His "conciliatory" course, especially in overthrowing the Radical Governments in South Carolina and Louisiana, has made him very popular with the entire "rebel" population.

☞ The latest Bank explosion was that of the Savings Bank at Wolfsboro, New Hampshire, which closed doors on Friday, owing its depositors $450,000. And yet John Sherman tells us that this is the most prosperous country in the world.

☞ Another Chicago Savings Bank has gone up a spout. It was called "The Merchants', Farmers' and Mechanics' Savings Bank," but this great name didn't save it. As usual, the depositors were mostly poor people.

"As a Personal Favor."

Some of the Republican candidates are going around among their Democratic acquaintances, and begging them, as a personsonal favor, to give them just one vote this time, and they will never ask for the like again. These are no times to confer such "personal favors." Democrats, you have an excellent ticket of your own, composed of the very best men in the county—men of the highest character and every way qualified for the positions for which they have been nominated; and it is a duty you owe to yourselves, your party and your country, to give them your cordial and undivided support. No Democrat should aid, directly or indirectly, in keeping the Republican party in power—a party that, by its suicidal and oppressive financial policy, has brought distress and ruin upon all the industrial interests of the country.

Workingmen, Be Not Deceived!

There is no longer any doubt of the fact that this "Workingmen's Movement" was started by the Republican leaders for the express purpose of carrying the Legislature, so as to elect John Sherman, or some other contractionist and "architect of ruin," to the United States Senate. It is only in Democratic or close counties, where the Republicans will "work up" this dodge. Workingmen should not be deceived by any such shallow device. The Democracy are now and always have been the true and reliable friends of the mechanic and laboring man; and they may rest assured that until the Republican party is driven from power there is but little hope of better times in this country.

The California Triumph.

The Democratic victory in California is even more decided than at first reported. The San Francisco Examiner of the 13th, says the full returns indicate the Legislature will stand 84 Democrats to 35 Republicans, and 1 Independent, divided as follows:—Senate—29 Democrats, 10 Republicans, 1 Independent; House—55 Democrats and 25 Republicans—Democratic majority on joint ballot, 48! And this with the apportionment rather against us than in our favor. Now, Democrats, for Ohio!

☞ Secretary Sherman has made all the necessary arrangements for the Treasury clerks to come back to Ohio to vote, so that they may assist to secure a Legislature that will elect him to the United States Senate. This only goes to show that Hayes' Civil Service Reform is a transparent humbug.

☞ If the legally elected President of the United States, Samuel J. Tilden, had gone over the South making gushing buncombe speeches, after the style of His Fraudulency, Rutherford B. Hayes, oh, wouldn't the Radicals "make Rome howl" with their denunciations?

☞ Nearly all the Governors elect have been lawyers. Now the people propose to have a change, and elect a business man—a merchant—one who can sympathize with and help to foster the great mercantile interests of the country. That man is "Uncle Dick Bishop."

☞ Mr. Bickam, of the Dayton Journal, nominates Hayes as a candidate for a second term. Since General Comly, of the Columbus Jovrnal, has gone to make his home among the Cannibals, Bickam will play the roll of exclusive toady to his Fraudulency.

☞ General James A. Walker, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia, has come out boldly against any form of repudiation of the state debt, declaring that "repudiation is larceny: forcible readjustment is highway robbery."

☞ We would not be in the least surprised if Hayes, during his tour in the South, should proclaim himself in favor of "paying the rebel debt," and "pensioning rebel soldiers." All his utterances show that he is rapidly progressing in that direction.

☞ "Better times undoubtedly are here," says the New York Tribune. We are really glad to hear it, and hope you will not be so selfish as to monopolize the entire article. Do pray send a little slice out this way so that we can place it on exhibition.

☞ Here's indubitable evidence of a "revival of business:" The Circleville flouring mill in 1868 sold for $11,000, and in 1870 sold for $18,000, and for which $17,000 has been offered within three years, sold at a recent Sheriff's sale for only $5,800.

☞ The Russian loss during the unsuccessful bombardment of Plevna, is placed at 20,000—a fearful and crushing defeat for an army that, after crossing the Danube, expected to march right straight to Constantinople without any serious opposition.

☞ Some of Judge West's friends are becoming alarmed for him. They see in his insane rantings upon the stump the wreck of a once noble mind overthrown, and are beginning to seriously speculate how to withdraw a madman from the campaign.

☞ Hon. John Beatty, of Columbus, one of the leading Republicans in Ohio, expresses the belief that Communist West will be beaten 75,000. There is no doubt about West's defeat, but we think Mr. Beatty's figures are a few hundred too high.

☞ "Smiler" Colfax, even if he is a lame-duck Republican, has some good ideas. He says that the hard times are caused by the contraction policy of the Republican party. Yet the contraction goes on, notwithstanding the hard times.

☞ The Democrats of Ohio have only ten days more to work before the great battle of the 9th of October, and every hour of that time should be spent in efforts to insure the success of the only party that can save this country from utter ruin.

☞ The Republican papers studiously avoid making any reference to the overwhelming Democratic victory in California. They will probably be equally silent when Ohio sends her thundering response to the Golden State.

☞ Tweed is still telling all he knows about his own villainous career; but as he says that he had Republican as well as Democratic pals, the Republican papers cease to take any further interest in his narratives.

☞ The Sandusky Register says that Squire Green, the colored Republican candidate for the Legislature, is opposed to Stanley Matthews for United States Senator and does not indorse Hayes' Southern policy.

Death of Senator Bogy.

Hon. Lewis V. Rogy, United States Senator from Missouri, died at his residence in St. Louis, on Thursday, Sept. 20th. Mr. Bogy was born in St. Genevive, Missouri, on the 9th of April, 1813; was educated in the common schools; in early life was a clerk; afterward studied law in Illinois, and then at the law school in Lexington, Kentucky, where he graduated in 1835, and commenced practice in St. Louis; was elected several times to the State Legislature; was Commission of Indian Affairs in in 1867 and 1868; while practicing law devoted much of his time and means to developing the mineral resources of his native State; was one of the projectors and friends of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain railroad, of which he was for two years President; and was elected to the United States Senate for the term commencing in 1873 and ending in 1879, serving on the committees on Indian Affairs, Land Claims, and Education and Labor. It is said that when a boy he drew up a resolution, which he signed, sealed and gave to his mother for safe keeping, declaring that he would give himself no rest until he reached the United States Senate. This laudable ambition was fully gratified.

The Ewing-Matthews Debate.

In the course of the recent debate between Senator Stanley Matthews and General Thomas Ewing, the latter charged that Mr. Matthews was a party to a bargain with Southern Senators, whereby it was agreed that the fraudulent count should go on, in consideration of which Mr. Hayes would recognize the Democratic Governments in South Carolina and Louisiana. This Mr. Matthews emphatically denied, and dared Mr. Ewing to produce the proofs to sustain his charge.—Probably what would be regarded as legal proof cannot be obtained until an investigation by Congress takes place. On this subject the Baltimore Sun says:

There are hundreds of witnesses to the fact that Mr. Matthews repeatedly sought out Southern Congressmen and others at the Capitol and at the hotels, urged them to allow the electoral count to proceed and assured them that everything would be made right for the South. As this whole matter will undoubtedly be investigated by a committee of Congress, it will be seen whether Mr. Matthews, when put under oath, will have the hardihood to deny the promises which he made in the presence of those to whom the promises were made.

"President" Hayes and the "Rebels."

It is a significant fact that the men who get up these grand receptions for "President" Hayes in the South are Democrats and Ex-Confederates, and that the Republicans, Carpet-baggers and negroes are conspicuously non est. The simple reason for this is, that Hayes has turned his back upon the Republicans and all their cherished principles, and has planted himself fairly and squarely upon the Democratic Pacification Platform. Mr. Hayes has only done what John Tyler and Andrew Johnson did before him—abandon the party that put him in power, for the good of the country. Now, if Mr. Hayes will go one step further, and turn all the Republicans and Carpet-baggers in the South out of office, and give their places to his admiring friends the Ex-Confederates, the Southern people will probably be as well pleased as if Mr. Tilden was in the White House.

Furious Storm in Louisiana.

A terrible and disastrous storm visited the vicinity of New Orleans on the 20th.—The town of Milneburg, on Lake Ponchartrain, was four feet under water, and the loss to the Railroads and citizens amounted to $50,000. The Parish Court House and many dwellings were unrooted and the debris carried through the air for an immense distance. Nearly every fence has been blown down and the pecan trees are all destroyed. Fortunately there have been no lives lost, but many will bewail the destructive storm. The wind was so fierce that it was dangerous to leave the shelter of houses, as the air was filled with flying fragments of slate, brick, timber, and tree branches. The loss on the rice crop is estimated at thirty per cent. which will bear heavily on planters. The storm has been one of the must severe ever experienced in Louisiana.

A Mere Nightmare.

Stanley Matthews, in the debate at Alliance, said that the hard times now is a mere nightmare! General Ewing, in reply to Matthews, said: "Is it a mere nightmare that made yonder manufacturing establishment, which cost $35,000 a few years ago, sell at forced sale the other day for $9,000? Is it a mere nightmare that has thrown three hundred and fifty men out of employment in this very little city, and makes them wander around the streets fearful for the coming winter and anxious for their wives and little ones? Sir, this is not a mere nightmare—it is a DREAM REALITY, brought about by the policy of the Republican party."

A Fatal Toadstool Feast.

Mrs. Jas. St. Clair, wife of a man living on Lake street, Cleveland, cooked some mushrooms last week, which attracted the attention of a rent-collector named Duffy. On Saturday Duffy put in an appearance with what he pronounced a fine lot of mushrooms, but which in reality were toadstools of the most poisonous quality, which he gave to Mrs. St. Clair, who cooked them, and of which herself and two children ate heartily. In the evening all were taken very sick, and remained so until Sunday evening, when both children died. Mrs. St. Clair was in great agony during the night and on Monday her life was despared of.

Why Secretary Sherman Didn't Accompany the Presidential Party.

The New York Sun says: The important business which has detained Secretary Sherman in Washington while the other members of the Cabinet are gadding about the country, is now satisfactorily explained. He stayed to look after Ohio and civil service reform. The result of this self-sacrificing devotion to business is that the Ohio clerks in the Treasury Department (and a goodly lot they are) have been fixed up for going home to vote the Republican ticket next month. Score one more bull's-eye for civil service reform.

☞ Senator Conkling is making a square fight against usurper Hayes, in the selection of delegates to the Republican State Convention in New York. As far as heard from Conkling has won a complete victory. There will be "music in the air" when that Convention assembles.

☞ Whatever may be the result of the Ohio election, one thing is certain, viz: that Stanley Matthews has no earthly chance of being re-elected to the United States Senate. He is a dead cock in the pit.

Destructive Fire in the Patent Office, Washington.

Damage Estimated at Nearly Half a Million of Dollars.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Patent office building is on fire. The flames broke out in the model room and burnt the roof, and is blazing furiously. All the engines in the District have gone to the scene.

1:30 P. M.—At this writing the fire is under control. Most of the damage is confired to the upper stories.

Several fire companies from Baltimore arrived about 12:30. The time from making the application for them to their arrival in the city was less than an hour.

2:30 P. M.—The number of models is variously estimated at from fifty to seventy-five thousand. A number of the more important were on exhibition and storage in the west hall, which, with the north hall, is completely wrecked and the roofs burned.

The fire at this time—2:30—is confined to the attic on the east hall, from which nearly all the models have been removed, to the lower floors.

The loss in rejected models will be very great to the Government.

In the Patent Office building are all the offices subordinate to the Interior Department except the Pension Office.

3 P. M.—The fire is now confined to the northwest corner and is under control.

[Last Night's Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The fire originated from spontaneous combustion among a lot of non-patented chemical material stored in the attic on the Ninth street front. No fire was made in the conservatory to-day, nor had any been made in the building.

The principal loss falls upon the Patent office. The original copy of the Declaration of Independence and relics of General Washington were saved, as was also the Franklin printing press. Nearly all the specifications and original drawings of the Patent office are safe, and from these, models can be reproduced, if necessary.

Many clerks of the Interior Department, Land, Patent, Indian and Pension offices, have been ordered on duty to-night assorting papers and books, and drying all which have been damaged by water. The military are on guard duty at the building where they will remain until all records and public property shall be secured.—None of the Land Office records have been destroyed by fire, but many are seriously damage by water. The records of the Application division, the office which first receives applications from patentees, and of which papers no copies ore made, were saved. The most valuable models saved were those relating to sewing machines, firearms, printing presses, looks, safes, etc. The models of reapers, mowers and various agricultural implements were destroyed.

A temporary building will be erected at once.

The damage to the building is variously estimated from $300,000 to $500,000, while that growing out of the destruction of models and other valuables belonging to the Patent Office, are almost incalculable. The arches which formed the ceiling of the second story and upon which the floor of the third story rested, are so badly damaged by heat and water that many of them must be torn down. The marble of the outer walls is considerably discolored by the flames and cracked in many places.—It is supposed the fire had been smouldering beneath the roof, which was not fireproof, for some hours before it was discovered. Two or three fires occurred in the neighborhood of the Patent office, caused by sparks from that building. Losses small.

The total amount of models destroyed will not exceed 60,000.

Murderous Pistol Fight in the Streets of Richmond, Ky.

Four Men With Bullets in Their Brains.

RICHMOND, Ky., September 20.—This beautiful little city was to-day the scene of one of the most desperate and bloody affairs ever recorded in the annals of the old Commonwealth, resulting in the instant death of four men.

Something near a year ago Jasper Maupin shot and wounded John Bowman.—The affair created intense excitement, and the friends of the parties speedily arrayed themselves on opposite sides. Ever since there has been bad blood and a very bitter feeling among these hostile factions, and open collisions have been with difficulty prevented. Maupin was arrested, and held to bail for his appearance at court. The case was to come up for trial, and consequently the friends of both parties in large numbers came to town to be present at the hearing. Exactly how the trouble began has not been ascertained; but at about half past five o'clock this afternoon the two factions came together on the street.—Firing began at once, and for several minutes a continuous fusilade was kept up.—Spectators fled the streets, and left them to the sole occupancy of the active participants.

When the firing ceased the dead and wounded were picked up and cared for by their friends. Four men were found dead, each with a bullet through his brain.—Their names are John Bowman, John Cornelson, Jasper Maupin and Kit Ballard. All these were men of families, and resided in the vicinity of Kingston, in this county. Maupin and Bowman were the leader of their respective factions, but it is not likely that their death will result in bringing the terrible vendetta to an end.—Some of their friends will rush into the breach caused by she death of their champions, and the end is not yet. Several arrests have been made, and many others will follow.

☞ United States Marshal Wallace, of South Carolina, expresses the opinion that the Southern people care nothing about Mr. Hayes or his policy; and that while feasting him, and showering upon him smiles and huzzas, their chief object is to create the impression that they pre-eminently fitted to hold office. Wouldn't it be a little funny, any how, for Hayes to turn out a few thousand Radical Republicans and fill their places with these "erring brothers."

☞ The latest Railway swindle that has come to light, is that of the West Philadelphia (Market street) Passenger Railway Company. It appears that fraudulent stock to the amount of $750,000, above the $500,000 authorized by law, has been issued, which was privately disposed, of little by little and was mostly put as collateral security for loans obtained in the different Philadelphia Banks. This swindle has been in progress since 1870.

☞ There is considerable dissention in the Democratic ranks in Hamilton county—confined almost exclusively to the county ticket—some of the unsuccessful candidates being determined to defeat those who were more fortunate than themselves. Cannot Uncle Dick Bishop sprinkle a few drops of the Balm of Gilead on these sore-headed individuals?

☞ A cable despatch announces the melancholy tidings that Le Verrier, the distinguished astronomer and savant, who has been for many years the Director of the Observatory at Paris, and one of the most eminent men of science in Europe, died Sunday morning, in the 67th year of his age.

☞ The Democracy of Ohio are doing double the amount of political stump work that the Republicans are; and if we are not very much mistaken its fruits will be manifest on the 9th of October.

PERSONAL.

President Lincoln's monument at Springfield, Ill., is nearly completed. The groups of statuary are being lifted to their places.

The grave of Gen. Israel Putnam, at Brooklyn, Conn., is said to be marked only by a few stones and a fallen and defaced slab.

Mr. Irish, Democratic candidate for Governor of Iowa, is the first native of that State ever nominated to that particular office.

Mary L. Swan and Adele S. Hutchinson, graduates of the Boston School of Medicine, are practicing successfully in Minneapolis.

Mr. Archibald Forbes, the great war correspondent of the London Daily News, receives $5,000 a year, whether he is employed or not.

Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague paid $2,000 a yard for some lace a few years ago, and now her husband's business paper sells for 2½ cents on the dollar.

General Forrest, the ex-Confederate, who was supposed to be at the point of death, has passed the crisis of his disease and is now recovering.

When General Grant was away from Washington he didn't burden the newspapers with speeches. There were some good points about Grant.

Hon. W. E. Smith, Republican candidate for Governor of Wisconsin, is a Scotchman, fifty-three years old, and is a wholesale grocer in Milwaukee.

Dr. Goodwin, who prescribed pills, potions and powders for the late James Lick, has presented his little bill to the estate, this account amounting to $7,000.

Colonel Bob Ingersoll offers to bet the editor of the New York Observer $1,000, that neither Paine nor Voltaire recanted their infidelity on their death-beds.

Mlle. Adele de Rothschild and Baron Edmond de Rothschild, grandson of the founder of the great banking house, are to be married at Frankfort next month.

Col. W. T. Pelton, Mr. Tilden's nephew, has been elected director of the New York Elevated Railway Company, and proposes hereafter to let politics severly alone.

Ann Eliza Young is negotiating with a New York publisher to secure the early publication of her book on Mormonism.—It promises to contain some startling revelations.

Mr. Montgomery Sears, the wealthy young Bostonian, who was married the other day to Miss Choate, gave his bride a wedding present of a residence costing $110,000.

M. Thiers died in the little iron bed, scarcely larger than a child's, which he had used for fifty years. It was wheeled into the small drawing room where he had breakfasted.

The Pope must originally have been a man of Sampsonian constitution, inasmuch as he has been "growing weaker" for the last ten years and is yet able to get up at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Dr. Wilcox, of Hartford, will accept the Yale professorship, which has been offered to him. He will begin his work immediately, but will not leave his home in Hartford, and will still practice there.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Vote for Bishop and the repeal of the Resumption Act.

Judge West edited a Know-Nothing paper in Bellefontaine in 1854.

"The hell invented scheme of forced resumption" is the way General Tom Ewing puts it.

It "would not surprise" the New York Herald, if the Republicans lose the Fall election.

The Xenia Gazette, Republican, says: "Stanley Matthews is dead weight to the Republican party."

The Lebanon Gazette says: Gen. Durbin Ward is spoken of as a candidate for United States Senator.

General George W. Morgan addressed an enthusiastic Democratic meeting at Zanesville on Saturday evening.

Hon. Thos. F. Thompson, of Warren county, a leading Republican and member of Constitutional Convention of 1873, refuses to support Judge West.

"The way to resume is to reusme," says Horace Greeley. John Sherman knows a trick worth two of that. "The way to resume is to bankrupt" is his motto.

The Cincinnati Commercial declares that Gen. Garfield "was allowed, through lack of intelligence and attention, to spoil the State platform of the Republicans."

Nearly all the leading Democratic United States Senators have come to the front to disclaim any purpose to attempt to change the organization of the Senate.

A Business Man for Governor.

The workingmen say they are tired of voting for and supporting politicians for office and therefore they propose to renounce their allegiance to the old party organizations. We beg leave to inform them that the Democratic nominee for governor is neither a lawyer or politician. Mr. Bishop is a man of business affairs.—His life has been busy and profitable. He has toiled on a flat-boat, kept country store, plowed and hoed, worked his way to an honorable competence, and is at the head of one of the largest wholesale establishments in his line in the State of Ohio. He has succeeded by tireless industry, unquestioned integrity and the application of unerring business principles to his affairs. The people of Ohio wisely believe that he will carry into the Executive office of the State the practical sagacity that has brought him success in his private affairs. The intelligent voters of Ohio relish the idea of having a business Governor.—St. Clairsville Gazette.

Suicide of a Murderer.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—In September 1875, an old man named Davis, a resident of Lectonia, Ohio, was murdered and robbed by Thomas Mead, a young man living at Palestine, Ohio. Mead was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to be hung, but a year ago last May he escaped from jail. Detectives have been on his track since then, and to-day he was discovered at the house of his father in Limaville, a small village near Alliance. Mead refused to surrender, and fired upon the officers. They returned the fire, wounding Mead, who, seeing escape impossible, blew his own brains out rather than be captured.

Republicans and Tramps.

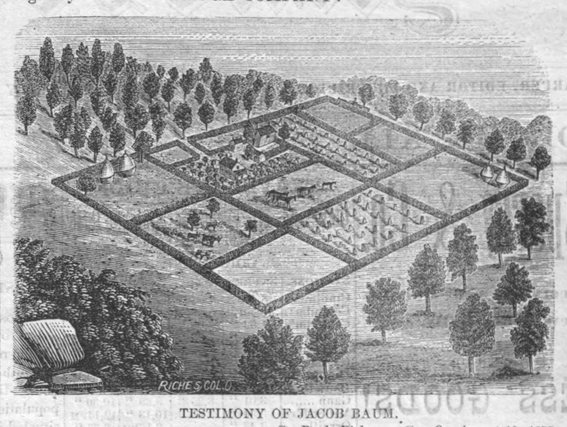
The Ohio Republicans are down on tramps, and they consider every poor renter who moves once a year a tramp. They passed a registration law last winter which disfranchises every man who has lived less than a year in the township, village or ward in which he offers to vote without registering.—Kansas City Times.

The first duty of the next Democratic Legislature of Ohio will be to repeal this iniquitous, unnecessary and oppressive Registry Law.

OHIO HEDGE COMPANY,

No. 71 North High Street, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

This cut represents the farm of JACOB BAUM, St. Paul, Pickaway county, O., hedged by the OHIO HEDGE COMPANY:



TESTIMONY OF JACOB BAUM.

St. Paul, Pickaway Co., O., August 10, 1875.

This is to certify that the Ohio Hedging Company planted 300 rods of hedging for me, in the spring of 1871, which they trimmed, pleached, wired down and pruned, during the season of 1875, and which is completed in every particular, and turns all kinds of stock, small and large. The said company also planted 302 rods in the spring of 1875 with like good success, and which I can say is doing splendidly; and I have further given them a contract for the season's planting of 1876. For my complete hedge, as it left their experienced hands, I would not accept five dollars per rod and be deprived of it. I am satisfied that they are the right men in the right business. JACOB BAUM, (since dec'd.)

The above cut represents the PATTERN and METHOD used by the OHIO HEDGE CO. IN WIRING DOWN A HEDGE.

TESTIMONY OF MARTIN C. HORN.

Martinsburg, Knox Co., O., Sept. 15, 1877.

This is to certify that I have examined a hedge on the farm of Robert Robison, on the Fredericktown road, wired, trained and pruned by the Ohio Hedge Company, and must say, I am well pleased with the system. It is a complete protection against the smallest animals, and very ornamental. I can fully recommend this company to the farmers of Knox and adjoining counties, as men to fully understand the system of hedging. I would advise all farmers to patronize this company, in fencing with hedge constructed in this way, and only wish all my brother farmers could see it. M. C. HORN.

From WM. BELL, Jr., Ex-Secretary of State.

At the request of Mr. Young, of the Ohio Hedge Company, I visited the place of Thomas Ewing Miller, of this city, and was afforded a most excellent opportunity to see the contrast between that portion of his hedge that has not and the portion that has undergone the process of wiring or plashing, and find it my duty to say that while I found the portion that had not been wired so open and scattered as to render it entirely useless as a protection, I find that the wiring or plashing system has wrought a most wonderful improvement on the old style system of hedging, and has produced a fence which for beauty and durability I can most cheerfully recommend to every citizen who is in any way concerned, as by it the fence is made so dense as to furnish the most complete protection against all kinds of stock. Mr. Young, of the Ohio Hedge Company, I have known well for some time, and know him to be a very prompt and deserving gentleman in the line of his business, and therefore commend him to the confidence of all with whom he may be brought in contact in a business point of view.

Columbus, Ohio, July 27, 1877. Very Respectfully, WM. BELL, Jr.

Mt. Vernon, Knox County, Ohio, June 28, 1877.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify, that I have been growing a hedge on my farm for the past six years, and most of my hedge was as fine as any in the country, but as it gets older the lower limbs drop off, so that it will turn no kind of stock except cattle and horses. I engaged the Ohio Hedge Company to wire down the poorest part of my hedge the past spring, and, to my surprise, the shoots have come out all along the canes, making a base so thick that it will turn chickens, pigs, geese, or anything else. I will further say that if I had it to do over again, I would let the company have the contract to set it out, grow and complete. I am satisfied that it would be cheaper and properly trained to turn stock. I can recommend them to the farming community of Knox and adjoining counties, as men who fully understand the subject of hedging.

Hon. George Arthur,

Will address the Citizens of Knox County, upon the living issues of the day, at the

COURT HOUSE,

Tuesday Evening, October 2, 1877.

Let the people turn out in their strength and hear these able and eloquent orators.

Last Grand Rally!

GEN. GEO. W. MORGAN

WILL ADDRESS THE PEOPLE AT THE

COURT HOUSE,

Monday Evening, October 8, 1877.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

— "Fresh Oysters" meets the gaze in every direction these days.

— The weather this week has been very propitious for the County Fair.

— Major John D. Rouse has our thanks for late copies of New Orleans papers.

— Bellville has now three papers, the Weekly," the "Local News," and "The Ar."

— The Loudonville District Fair takes place on the 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th days of October.

— Our oyster dealers anticipate a big trade this season, and prices will be about the same as last year.

— Don't go West, young man! Stay at home; vote for Uncle Dick Bishop, and see the way for better times.

— There is a time for everything, it is said. Well, this is the time to pay your subscription, as sure as you live.

— The many friends of Judge Geddes, of Mansfield, in this county, will be sorry to hear that he is dangerously ill.

— If you are scalded or burned, sprinkle bicarbonate of soda (cooking soda) on the wound, and apply a wet cloth.

— MARRIED: Mr. William Murry and Miss Louisa E. Cesna, by Pastor A. J. Brant, at his house, September 22, 1877.

— Yes, we all agree that the great need of the hour is cheaper funerals—unless it's a funeral. Then it is no so particular.

— Day by day the Chicago excursionists are coming back to their homes—all full of wise saws and modern instances."

— The fall term of the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, commenced Thursday, with about one hundred and fifty students.

— There is one thing that may be truthfully said of blue glass. Whisky from blue bottles invariably strengthens—the breath.

— The exact amount of watermelon a school boy can put himself outside of and still live, no fellow perhaps will ever be able to tell.

— The lady who has moral courage enough to wear a short dress these times is truly deserving of a long epitaph on her tombstone.

— The testy chap who has howled all winter "Leave that door open!" will shortly begin to howl with added vigor "Shut that door!"

— A list of all the Ohio soldiers taken prisoners, when taken, and the length of their imprisonment is being made by the Adjutant General.

— The mind of the tramp is filled with pleasant anticipation of the season when charity of the world takes the form of buckwheat cakes.

— The grandest mistake that many of our young men are making nowadays is in striking out in life with the expectation of doing clear of hard labor.

— The Bro. Williston, of the Bucyrus Forum, confesses a willingness to take several bushels of potatoes on subscription at 17 cents per bushel.

— It is a noticeable fact that the Curtis House of late is visited more frequently by gentlemen who seem to be greatly interested in recent improvements.

— The ever-popular Wallace Sister company, with Frank Dobson manager, are now making a tour through the State, and will visit Mt. Vernon, on Saturday evening, October 6th, at Kirk Hall. Tickets on sale at the Curtis House news stand.

— The tobacco crop is so large this year it is hoped that the habitual chewer will have to borrow a quid from his friend less frequently as usual.

— The wheat crop is immense, but farmers are not satisfied with the price, and those who "have to" are selling.—The others are waiting for a rise in price.

— Speaking about dancing, a clergyman hits the nail on the head with the remark that "people usually do more evil with their tongues than with their toes."

— An author asks, "what a rose, worn in a young lady's forehead indicates."—We suppose she means to indicate by it that she is kissed at all it must be under the rose.

— The new insane Asylum is divided into thirty wards which will accommodate an average, thirty patients each, making one hundred in all, the full capacity of the building.

— We had our mind made up to visit Europe next summer, but now it is announced that her people "are learning to play billiard balls," and the place has lost its attractions for us.

— The city ordinance levying a 2 per cent tax for the equipment of the Railroad machine shops, came near being bulled on last Monday evening—vide Council proceedings.

— A woman in the Fifth Ward declared that if her husband didn't come home earlier nights it would be the death of her. She can't understand why he stays out later now than ever.

— Bret Harte's story of "The Fool of Forks" has been translated into Russian under the title of "The Foolski of Forkevitch." An exchange thinks that must make Bretoff Harteski feel off-Kevitch.

— Several street scrimmages have taken place this week, at night time, but the police have gathered the participants in, and the Mayor has assessed the usual fines.

— The first story of Messrs. McIntire & Kirk's new law office, on High street, opposite the Court House, is now up. It will be the handsomest and most convenient law office in the city.

— The "helmet hat" is the latest novelty that has reached this market. Baldwin the Hatter, has sold several cases of this popular head adornment, and yet the demand has not been satisfied.

— It is said that oats boiled and fed in slop to hogs afflicted with Cholera will cure them up in a few days. It is worth while to try the experiment whether it succeeds or not. Somebody try it and tell us.

— The number of persons who registered in Mt. Vernon on Friday and Saturday last was not as large as had been anticipated. In the first ward there were 42; in the second, 20; third, 35; fourth, 25; and in the fifth, 20.

— To get your clothes well brushed in a barber shop, hold a nickle in sight while the boy is operating. The coin works like a charm, and the same piece will last all summer if you are not afraid of being thought mean.

— The C. Mt. V. & C. R. R., will sell round trip tickets from Mt. Vernon and intermediate stations during the Orrville Fair, which commences October 16th.—Trains will leave this station at 7 A. M., returning leave Orrville about 6 P. M.

— The Cleveland, Mt. Vernon & Columbus road sold 129 excursion tickets to Chicago last week Tuesday. The train on the Pandle road, contained forty cars, divided in three sections, arriving promptly at their destination the next morning.

— The old wooden bridge at the foot of Main street has been treated to a spanking new roof, which greatly improves its appearance. But now suppose a spark from a passing locomotive should set fire to the structure, wouldn't that be a great pity.

— Gambier Argus: We had a call from Mr. Samuel Kunkel, the Democratic candidate for Recorder, on Tuesday. Mr. K. appears every way qualified for the position of Recorder, and we should say that he would be a pleasant gentleman to do business with.

— This seems to be a bad season for Savings Banks. But because several of the largest of these institutions have failed, it must not be supposed that they are all unsound. We have every reason to believe that our Knox County Savings Bank is in a good condition.

— The business block of Messrs. Browning & Sperry and T. B. Mead, (recently injured by fire) has had a fourth story added to it, and heavy cornice and metalic brackets placed thereon. When all the improvements are made it will be among the handsomest buildings in the city.

— It is by no means pleasant to see the local news of the BANNER copied into the Newark Advocate under the heading of "Wicked Mt. Vernon." But the fact cannot be disguised that our city, by reason of the lawless acts of some of its rowdy population, is acquiring a bad name abroad.

— Dr. Woodward is having the corner storeroom of his block on Main and Vine streets, completely overhauled and improved for the accommodation of Mr. J. H. Milless, who purposes moving there as soon as it is ready for occupancy. Added to the other improvements will be a handsome iron front.

— The business of the C. Mt. V. & C. R. R. Company, together with the earnings during the month of August, 1877, were an increase over the business and earnings in the same month last year, the earnings being in advance $988 of what they were then, $33,001. This is the first increase that has been experienced for a long time.

— Two men were riding in the cars the other morning, when one asked the other if he had a pleasant place of residence.—"Yes," was the reply; "we have nice large rooms over a store." "Over a store? I shouldn't think that would be a quiet place." "Oh, it is quiet enough; the folks don't advertise." "Ah! I see," said his friend, in a tone of relief.

— The Mt. Vernon correspondent of the Columbus Dispatch tells us that the long-looked-for "revival of business" in this city has come at last, and to prove this statement he mentions the fact that four new saloons have been opened, one at the Philo House, one at the Curtis House, one under Wolff's clothing store, and one across from the B. & O. depot.

— Officer Weaver arrested a young fellow named Roberts on Sunday evening, who had imbibed too much "corn juice" and was amusing himself by snapping a revolver, in which there was a loaded chamber, at several people. He had a hearing before the Mayor on Monday, and was sentenced to Jail for fifteen days for carrying concealed weapons.

— Col. W. L. O'Brien, General Passenger Agent of the Pan Handle Railroad, and Thomas P. Barry, Esq., Western Passenger Agent of the B. & O Railroad, have locked horns, or telescoped, in regard to the recent rival excursions of those roads to Chicago. They are both brilliant writers, and have adopted this harmeless method of advertising their respective lines.

— Mr. Thomas Odbert, the Republican candidate for Treasurer, woke up the wrong passenger when he commenced electioneering with that old Jackson Democrat, Isaac Irvine, of Morris township.—Mr. Irvine told him that he had made a solemn pledge never to vote for a man who approved of the larceny of the Presidency. Let all Democrats make a similar response to the appeals of Messrs. Odbert and Cassil.

— S. N. Cook's thrilling war drama, entitled Paul Black, is on the boards at Kirk Hall to-night (Thursday) and to-morrow night. It is a piece of unusual merit, and will be presented in a most acceptable manner by a company of local talent. One of the most pleasing features about the entertainment will be orchestra music, under the direction of Prof. Chas. M. Thomas. Reserved seats on sale at the Curtis House news stand.

— Two young bucks from Mt. Vernon, Wise Linkerfield and Dick Brit, drove up to a school house above Fredericktown, on Saturday night, where a literary entertainment was in progress. Instead of taking in the "feast of reason," they made a descent upon the wagons and buggies hitched in the neighborhood, and despoiled them of the following articles: Two buffalo robes, three lap robes, one blanket, two whips and three sets of ivory rings, in all valued at $65. They were arrested by policemen Weaver and Alling, on Sunday evening, and turned over to Marshal English of Fredericktown.

— "With malice toward all and charity for none," we advise our delinquents to call in and settle up arrearages.

— Os. Arnold has got a notion in his head that Clark Armstrong and George Tilton have been telling some big fish stories since they returned from their Sandusky river excursion. But as Shakspeare or some other wise man once remarked, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof," we have only this to say that if the balance of the 700 pounds of black bass caught will compare in size and flavor to those sent to the BANNER family, Messrs. Armstrong, Tilton, Israel and Banning have occasion to feel proud of their work.

Our County Fair.

The Fourteenth Annual Fair of the Knox County Agricultural Society is now in progress. The display, in every department, was never excelled; and yet on the first and second days of the Fair the number of visitors was comparatively small. This arises from the fact that most of our farmers are busy with their Fall work, and can only make it convenient to attend one day, and then select the third or closing day, to witness "the races." We think if the Board of Managers had adopted a rule similar to that of the Richland County Agricultural Society, and charged 10 cents admission on the first day, 15 cents the second day, and 25 cents the third or subsequent days, they would secure a better attendance and realize more money. We throw out this hint for future consideration. We can neither find time or room this week (as our paper goes to press some hours earlier than usual) to give a full detail of the various articles on exhibition, and the names of the exhibitors.

Horses.—In this department the display is uncommonly good; and it is believed that not less than 175 horses of all kinds have been entered for exhibition and competition.

Cattle.—Some of the finest cattle ever exhibited at a County Fair, may be found on the grounds. In this department our Knox County farmers take the lead.

Hogs and Sheep.—About 100 hogs and 125 sheep are on exhibition—all of the very best varieties. We are pleased to observe that our farmers are every year improving their breed of hogs.

Agricultural Implements.—The display of Reapers, Mowers and Threshing Machines, Plows, Harrows and Rakes, Cutters, Corn-Shellers, &c., far surpasses any former exhibition. Wm. Rush has a fine Farm Engine on the ground, which furnishes the power to propel the machinery.

Floral Hall.—Floral Hall is packed full of all kinds of useful and ornamental articles such as Pianos, Sewing Machines, Paintings, Engravings, Photographs, Domestic Fabrics, Farm Products, &c., &c. The ladies who decorated the Hall have displayed the best of taste, and their work is admired by every one.

If you have not already visited the Fair do so at once, and contribute your mite towards making it a grand success.

THE RACES.

This feature of the Fair, usually the most interesting to farmers and owners of blooded stock, has not come up to the standard of former years. The first day's races were the next thing to a flat failure. On the second day there was no racing in the morning, as advertised, and in the afternoon, one race was dropped entirely for want of the proper number of entries.—The other two were only made up by making "blind entries." The State Pacing resulted as follows:

Danville Girl	1	1	1
Ohio Maid	2	2	2
Betty Miller	3	3	3

Time, 2:42, 2:46½, 2:35.

In the three minute trot the summary was as follows:

Grey Foot	2	1	1	1
Tom Scott	1	2	2	2
Daniel	3	3	3	3
Maggie Moore	5	4	4	4
Bogus Tom	4	5	5	5

Time, 3:00, 2:55, 2:55, 2:56.

Charley Gest at Large.

Our readers will remember that some two months ago we gave an account of the arrest of a notorious thief named Charley Gest, who stole a lot of wool from a farmer near Brandon, and sold it at Cardington.—The larceny being clearly proven, Gest was sent to our County jail, having failed to give security in $300 for his appearance at Court. A conviction and future residence in the Penitentiary being inevitable, the pals of Gest raised $250, which was deposited with A. R. McIntire, Esq., and our accommodating Probate Judge having reduced the bail to that amount, Mr. McIntire placed his name on the bond, and Gest was set at liberty, ready to resume his old mode of earning a living. As may well be supposed the people in the neighborhood of Brandon are highly indignant at this reduction of the bail bond and the release of so bad a character as Charley Gest.

City Council.

The Council met on Monday night pursuant to adjournment.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Smith moved that the City Solicitor be instructed to prepare an ordinance repealing the ordinance levying the 2 per cent. tax for the equipment of the Railroad machine shops.

Some general discussion took place as to the Constitutionality of this proecding, and the opinion of the City Solicitor was called for. Mr. Koons stated that he believed Council had a perfect right to repeal any ordinance by them passed, but that the Courts might, if they thought the law Constitutional, order Council to levy the tax again.

The yeas and nays were called, the vote standing as follows:

Yeas—Bunn, Smith, Jackson, Keller, Hildreth.

Nays—Ponting, Tuller, Moore.

The motion was declared lost for want of the proper two-thirds majority.

Mr. Bunn moved that a committee of two be appointed to inspect the bridge over the race on High street, West of the B. & O. depot, and cause the same to be repaired. Carried.

The President appointed Messrs. Bunn and Jackson said committee.

Mr. Bunn moved that the gutters near the B. & O. railroad, on Norton street, be planked over. Carried.

A pay ordinance was passed embracing the following bills:

Thos. George	$48.00
Wm. Weaver	48.00
Wm. Alling	48.00
Henry Cooper	48.00
O. Welshymer	72.00
"	19.91
Wm. Sauderson	6.00
Wm. Fordney	20.50
C. W. Koons	60.00
D. C. Lewis	15.00
E. W. Cotton	1.00
C. Magers	150.00
T. P. Fredrick	75.00
Thos. Woodhull	3.00

Mr. Daniels moved that a stone crossing be placed over High street, between McKenzie and Ridgely. Carried.

Mr. Hildreth addressed the Council on the subject of a Station House; the lawlessness existing in the city for the past week demanded that some rigid measures be adopted to check crime; other cities of the same size had their stone piles and chain-gangs, by which culprits were made to work out their sentences; he did not expect this system would be adopted in Mt. Vernon right away; but the subject needed agitating. He made a motion that a committee of three be appointed to examine the condidion of the Third Ward Engine House, and the feasibility of using a portion of the same for station house purposes, committee to report when called. The motion prevailed, when the President pro tem. appointed Messrs. Hildreth, Smith and Bunn said committee.

On motion an adjournment took place for two weeks.

Never Go to Sleep with a Revolver.

One night last week, young Tom Carpenter, of Gambier, went to bed with a revolver under his pillow. For a night or two before he had fancied that burglars were around and he was determined that "he'd fix them." Now he is considerable of a dreamer, and on this particular night he was wrestling in his dreams with a house-breaker, and had gotten him just where he wanted, and pulled the trigger, when the report of the pistol awoke him, and he found that the ball had taken effect in his thigh. The wound, an ugly one, was quickly dressed, and he is now doing well. He no longer takes the gentle revolver to his bed, and has given over the dreaming of dreams.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Galion has been visited by burglars during the past week. Two of them have been taken in while in the act and promptly jailed.

James Reyndelles, a tramp, was bound over in the sum of five hundred dollars by Mayor Winegardner of Newark, on Saturday morning and in default was remanded, charged with robbing the residence of Judge Jerome Buckingham of valuables to the amount of three hundred dollars.

The large barn and grainery of Jacob Hoskins, in Thompson township, Delaware county, was totally destroyed, with all its contents, by fire, on Saturday last the 15th inst. The loss is estimated at $1,200; insurance, $1,000, in the Ohio Farmers'. The barn is supposed to have been set on fire.

Newark American: The Star Glass Works of this city, after a rest of three or four weeks, will resume business again next Monday, when the proprietors expect to run a full complement of hands. Business in their line seems to be on the upward tendency, and everything indicates a good trade.

Barnesivlle dispatch, Sept. 22st: Jack Weilner, who was shot in the leg Sunday night last by Wm. Bryant, had his leg amputated above the knee last night. His recovery is very doubtful, and if the boy does die, Bryant will be punished to the full extent of the law. Great indignation is felt toward him.

The Newark Advocate: Last Monday night, there was an attempt to rob the First National Bank at Granville, this county. The room was entered, and the outer door of the vault blown off. The effort to blow off the inside door was unsuccessful, and the burglars left without the booty they had expected.

Joseph Eicher's large new barn, situated one mile and a half west of Wooster, burned to the ground on Thursday evening, together with its contents, consisting thirteen hundred bushels of grain and other produce. Loss estimated at $3,000, on which there was $1,000 insurance. The fire is supposed to be the work of tramps.

A Coshocton dispatch, Sept. 19th, says: Bostwick's jewelry and Glover's music store, in the same room were burglarized this morning. The outer door of a safe, containing jewelry, was blown off, but the second door was not opened. The explosion was fearful, breaking a large glass.—Sixty dollars' worth of gold pens were taken. No clue to the robbers.

Delaware dispatch, Sept. 19th: Edward Collier, a feather renovator, who, for some time past has been working in this vicinity, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. William Williams alias Evans, colored, charging him with attempt to rape. The case was heard to-day before Justice Crawford. No evidence was taken except that of the principals in the affair, and Collier was sent to jail.

Last Monday, September 17th, the village of Alexandria, eleven miles West of Newark, was visited by a serious fire. The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock in the morning, and originated in the basement of of Oldham's new building. The basement was occupied as a saloon and billiard hall. The ground floor was used by Owens & Beaumont as a dry goods store, and the upper story was occupied by the Masonic Lodge. The fire extended to and consumed the grocery of Theodore Owens, the butcher shop of Bryant Gurney, and two dwelling houses. Part of the store and household goods were saved. Total estimated loss $15,000.

Audacious Tramps.

On Wednesday morning two tramps came to the house of a Mr. Beckholt, in this township, and unceremoniously entered. Mrs. Beckholt being alone, was seized and bound hand and foot by the ruffians, who at once proceeded to ransack the house, but becoming alarmed they left before securing any plunder. Mrs. B., who is a brave little woman, with some difficulty managed to loosen the cords about her ankles, and hastened to a neighbor's house, where the tight ropes that bound her hands were cut, when she told her experience. A number of men in the neighborhood, armed themselves with guns and scoured the adjacent woods, but without success.

Near the same hour the house of Mr. Shinaberry in the same vicinity was entered by tramps, and a suit of clothes taken. As soon as the robbery was discovered a young man was sent to Mt. Vernon to notify the police, when officers Alling and Weaver went to the country, and getting upon the track of two suspicious characters, arrested them, and they are now languishing in Jail. The clothing was found where it had been thrown aside by the robbers in their flight.

OBITUARY.

JOHN HENEGAN—Born in Scotland, in the year 1853—died in Olathe, Kansas, September 19, 1877, aged 44 years.

JOHN HENEGAN, in the prime of life, has passed away, leaving behind a bereaved widow and six orphan children, and an aged mother, herself a widow, to mourn their irreparable loss. To Mr. William and Mrs. Jane Henegan, John was the last survivor of nine children to them born, and now he too has departed, leaving the venerable mother alone of a once large family to dwell here for a short space and then herself to be placed by their side in the cold, cold grave.

The subject of this sketch, with his father's family, came to Mt. Vernon in 1853, and has resided here ever since. With a disposition cheerful and loving, he won the affections of all who were acquainted with him, and that affection will last beyond the grave.

For nearly two years Mr. Henegan has been confined more or less to his house by disease beyond a physician's healing art. A short time prior to his death, he visited Olathe to close up some business at that place. He lived to finish that business, and then passed away as calmly and quietly as a child slumbering the sleep of innocence. During the last few days of life he named many of his friends, wishing they were with him to soothe and cheer him in his declining moments, which he knew were fast approaching.

From early youth Mr. Henegan devoted himself to Railroading, the last of such work was on our C., Mt. V. & C. Railway, to the interest of which many years of his life were devoted.

In 1867, in company with his father, he took the contract of constructing a canal around the Des Moines Rapids, one of the greatest undertakings of the kind in America. Other hands have just completed this great work.

In the fall of 1874 he commenced work upon the new Infirmary building, and brought it nearly to completion. This building is the most substantial of the kind in the State, and an honor to the County, and also to the State.

Much could be said in praise of our departed friend. Though not in affluent circumstances, his heart and his hand were ever ready to help the needy and relieve the destitute.

With the tears of the widow, the orphans, and the aged mother, mingles our own in heartfelt sympathy, for we knew him from his youth, and knew him to honor him.

Summary Vengeance Upon a Gang of Robbers.

ST. LOUIS, September 24.— A special from Leavenworth to the Globe-Democrat says that a private letter received at Fort Ellis, Kansas, gives an account of a fight between cattle thieves and a party of pursuers in Cheyenne county, Kansas some days ago. It seems that large numbers of cattle have been stolen during the past summer, and it was finally determined by herders and owners to put a stop to it and make an example of the thieves. In this instance it is said, some 7,000 cattle were run off from Western Kansas and Colorado by a party of twelve robbers, who started north with them. A party of fifteen rangers splendidly armed and mounted started in pursuit and after a hard ride of five days, came upon the thieves in the extreme north-western part of Kansas, surrounded them when at supper, killed seven of them hung another to a tree, and recovered all the cattle. None of the rangers were hurt, the surprise being so complete that the robbers had no chance to return the fire or make any resistance.

☞ It is the Patent Office that was fired this time. How the fire originated the country will probably never know; but it is said to be the result of spontaneous combustion. People can believe this story, if they wish. Our belief is that if Mr. Tilden had been inaugurated President there would have been several fires in the Departments before the new officers could have taken their seats. We think it is about time an investigation took place in regard the numerous fires in the public buildings at Washington.

☞ Ex-Governor Hayes has returned to Washington from his hand-shaking tour among the "rebels." It is a great pity we will have no more of his funny little speeches to read about "Greek meeting Greek."

☞ General H. B. Banning, has been appointed Chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee in Cincinnati, which is a guarantee that he will do plenty of work, and do it well.

☞ There was a very able debate at Lancaster on Tuesday between Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton and General Garfield. As usual in such cases, the friends of each gentlemen claim the victory.

— The Democracy had a good meeting at the Court House on Wednesday evening. The speeches of Hon. A. T. Walling, of Pickaway, and Hon. Isaac L. Egbert, of New York, gave unbounded satisfaction.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same

D. 1877, as follows, to-wit:

That sections one, three, five, six, eight, twelve, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, and eighteen, of article four, be amended so as to read as follows, and sections seven, of article four, and sections twelve and thirteen of article eleven, be repealed:

ARTICLE IV.

The Superior Courts of Cincinnati and Montgomery counties, shall continue until otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 3. The Court of Common Pleas shall be holden by one Judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the District, and said Court shall be open at all times for the transaction of business, Sundays and holidays excepted. Each county now existing or hereafter formed, shall constitute a separate Common Pleas District, and each District shall be known by the name of the county comprising the District.

SEC. 5. Each District Court shall consist of one Judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the district. There shall be elected one or more Judges in each district, and there shall be held annually, not less than three sessions in each county in the State. The Legislature shall divide the State into District Court districts, not exceeding twenty in number, and shall assign to each Common Pleas and District Court district, the number of Judges required to dispose of the business therein. Each district shall be composed of compact territory, bounded by county line, and as nearly equal in population as practicable. A concurrence of three-fifths only of all the members elected to both Houses, shall be required for the first apportionment, or to determine the number of Judges required in each District Court and Common Pleas district, under this amendment, but no change shall thereafter be made without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to both Houses.

Sections twelve and thirteen of article eleven are hereby repealed; the repeal to take effect when the Legislature makes the apportionment mentioned in this section.

SEC. 6. The District Court shall have like original jurisdiction with the Supreme Court and such appellate or other jurisdiction as may be provided by law.

SEC. 8. The General Assembly may provide by law for a Judge pro tempore, to hold any court when the Judge thereof is disqualified by sickness orotherwise to hold said court.

SEC. 12. The Judges of the districts and of the Courts of Common Pleas, shall, while in office, reside in the district in which they are elected, and their term of office shall be five years; but the Legislature may provide by law that any Judge of the Common Pleas Court shall hold that court in any other Common Pleas district, and that any Judge of the District Court shall hold that court in any other district for that court than the one in which he resides; and Judges of the Common Pleas may temporarily exchange districts with each other; and two or more Common Pleas Courts may be held at the same time in the same district, and two or more District Courts may be held at the same time in a district of that court.

SEC. 14. The Judges of the Supreme Court, the District Courts, and of the Court of Common Pleas shall, at stated times, receive for their services such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during their term of office, but they shall receive no fees or perquisites, nor hold any other office of trust or profit under the authority of any State, or of the United States. All votes for either of them for any elective office, except a judicial office, under the authority of this State given by the General Assembly, or the people, shall be void.

SEC. 15. The Court of Common Pleas provided for in this amendment shall be the successor of the present Probate Court and Courts of Common Pleas in each county. The District Courts herein provided for, shall be the successors of the present District Courts; and all the books, records, papers and business, in or appertaining to said Courts, shall be transferred to their successors under this amendment; the existing Probate Court is hereby abolished in each county at the close of the term for which the Judge thereof was elected, first occuring after the election of Common Pleas Judges under this amendment, and the Clerks in the Courts of Common Pleas and District Courts, shall be the clerks in the courts herein provided until their successors are elected and qualified; but the Supreme Court shall appoint its own reporter.

SEC. 16. There shall be elected in each county by the electors thereof, one Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, who shall hold his office for the term of three years, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified. He shall, by virtue of his office, be clerk of all other courts of record held therein, but the General Assembly may provide, by law, for the election of a clerk with a like term or office, for each or any other of the courts of record, or for the appointment by the Supreme Court of a Clerk for that Court.

SEC. 18. The several Judges of the Supreme Court, of the District and Common Pleas, and of such other courts as may be created, shall respectively have and exercise such power and jurisdiction at chambers, or otherwise, as may be directed by law.

The term of office of all Judges of Common Pleas and District Courts provided for in this amendment, shall commence on the first Monday in January next after the making of the apportionment provided for in section five of article four, and the term of office of all Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas, in office, who were not elected as Judges under this amendment, shall then expire.

No change shall be made by this amendment in the Supreme Court, or in the office or term of any Judge thereof. The first election of Judges of Common Pleas and District Courts under this amendment, shall be held at the general election for election of State officers next after the making of said apportionment for District Court districts by the Legislature, but nothing in this amendment shall be construed to change or alter the Constitution or laws until said apportionment. Section seven of Article four is hereby repealed, and section twenty-two shall be numbered section seven.

FORM OF BALLOT.

At said election, the voters desiring to vote in favor of the adoption of this amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Judicial Constitutional Amendment—Yes;" the voters who do not favor the adoption of said amendment, shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Judicial Constitutional Amendment—No."

TAKE SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR,

For all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

WILL CURE DYSPEPSIA,

I MUST OWN that your Simmon's Liver Regulator fully deserves the popularity it has attained. As a family medicine it has no equal. It cured my wife of a malady I had counted incurable—that wolfsbane of our American people, Dyspepsia.

A. E. P. ALBERT,
Professor in Nicholas Public School, Parrish of Terrebonne, La.

MALARIOUS FEVERS.

You are at liberty to use my name in praise of your Regulator as prepared by you and recommend it to every one as the best preventive for Fever and Ague in the world. I plant in Southwestern Georgia, near Albany, Georgia, and must say that it has done more good on my plantation among my negroes, than any medicine I ever used; it supersedes Quinine if taken in time. Yours, &c.

HON. B. H. HILL, GA.

CHILDREN!—Your Regulator is superior to any other remedy for Malarial Diseases among children, and it has a large sale in this section of Georgia.—W. M. Russell, Albany, Ga.

CONSTIPATION.

TESTIMONY OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF GEORGIA.—I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it. HIRAM WARNER,
Chief Justice of Georgia.

SICK HEADACHE.

EDITORIAL.—We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We have tried forty other remedies before Simmons' Liver Regulator, but nome of them gave us more than temporary relief; but the Regulator not only relieved, but cured us. ED. TELEGRAPH AND MESSENGER, Macon, Ga.

COLIC AND GRUBBS IN HORSES

Having had during the last twenty years of my life to attend to Racing Stock, and having had so much trouble with them with Colic, Grubbs, &c., gave me a great deal of trouble; having heard of your Regulator as a cure for the above diseases[concluded to try it, after trying one PACKAGE IN MASH I found it to cure in every instance, it is only to be tried to prove what I have said in its praise. I can send you Certificates from Augusta, Clinton & Macon, as to the cure of Horse.

They are Made at CROWELL'S Gallery, Where Specimens Can Now be Seen.

As it does not seem to be generally known that we do all kinds of copying from Pictures—and as agents for so-called copying companies always represent that they have some special way of producing copies which is better than the methods used in the Galleries—I wish to say that we are prepared to make a copy from any kind of a Picture, and will make it of any size, and on any material that is used for the purpose—either Plain or in India Ink, Crayon Pastel or Colors, and at about one-third less price than is asked by agents. It will readily be seen that the agent must make a profit,—and in fact he usually asks about double the price charged by the Photographer, who does the work. By dispensing with the services of this MIDDLE MAN, and doing your business direct with your home Photographer, you will save this commission, and have your work done by a responsible party, whose guarantee of good work amounts to something.
