

The Mount Vernon Republican: 1877

---

1-11-1877

The Mount Vernon Republican: Vol XXIII No. 4, January 11, 1877

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digital.kenyon.edu/republican1877>

Part of the United States History Commons

---

Recommended Citation

"The Mount Vernon Republican: Vol XXIII No. 4, January 11, 1877" (1877). The Mount Vernon Republican: 1877. 52.

<https://digital.kenyon.edu/republican1877/52>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Mount Vernon Republican: 1877 by an authorized administrator of Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. For more information, please contact noltj@kenyon.edu.

SCRIBNER'S DRUG

Prescription Store.

THERE IS NO BRANCH

Care and Caution!

Drug & Prescription Store

MEDICINES

PERFECT PURITY AND SAFETY.

"QUALITY SHALL BE MY AIM!"

SCRIBNER'S FAMILY MEDICINES!

SUCH AS

SCRIBNER'S Tonic Bitters

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

JANUARY 4.—Mr. Wright's (Iowa)

JANUARY 5.—In the Senate, some

JANUARY 6.—The President, after

JANUARY 7.—A petition was

JANUARY 8.—A petition was

NEW HAVEN IS MANUFACTURING

Passenger rates to the East

It is reported that Stanley,

There is a remarkable difference

Senator Cranston was robbed

The Republican.

PUBLISHED BY WILKINSON & KNABENSHUE.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1877.

Our first page will contain editorial

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that Mr.

CRONIN'S PAY.

Cronin, the Oregon Democratic

CREIGHTON MURDER.

The State Journal of Friday

THE FALLING OF THE BRIDGE

The falling of the bridge at

THE EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL

The editor of the Journal is

THE LICK ESTATE IS FAR

The Lick estate is far from

FROM THE EVIDENCE STILL

From the evidence still coming,

A BILL HAS BEEN INTRODUCED

A bill has been introduced in

EXR.—Perhaps if we had

EXR.—Perhaps if we had read

THE CIRCUMVILLE UNION

The Circumville Union-Heard

GOLD IS STILL ON THE

GOLD IS STILL ON THE decline.

ST. JACKSON'S DAY.

The Jamboree at Columbus.

The Journal, of Tuesday, gives

An error in Gov. Hayes' printed

SECRETARY BARNES was counted

READ an article on the second

LOUISIANA NOW has two Governors

THE expense of Cronin's organiz-

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

The cause of the decline in the

So far as we can learn, all the

Weather prophets will please

Monday night the mercury went

Report of sale of real estate by

Appointment of R. S. Tuller,

OUR EXCHANGES.

On the morning of the 23d, about

The North Carolinians will be

CLINTON CLIPPINGS.

Everything is lovely and the

Dr. Eugene Craft, after a vacation

The Armstrong Literary Society

FROM THE EVIDENCE STILL

A BILL HAS BEEN INTRODUCED

EXR.—Perhaps if we had

EXR.—Perhaps if we had read

THE CIRCUMVILLE UNION

The Circumville Union-Heard

GOLD IS STILL ON THE

GOLD IS STILL ON THE decline.

FREDERICKTOWN.

While a little son of Geo. Waiters

A friend from Frederick tells us

Two men with sleighs, on the

Mr. Seiberling will begin man-

L. Chevier, who was thrown from

Mr. Levi W. Hart, of Akron, was

Buchel College opened yesterday

A family named Flowers, living

Confirmation of sale in case of

Report of sale of real estate by

Appointment of R. S. Tuller,

OUR EXCHANGES.

On the morning of the 23d, about

The North Carolinians will be

CLINTON CLIPPINGS.

Everything is lovely and the

Dr. Eugene Craft, after a vacation

The Armstrong Literary Society

FROM THE EVIDENCE STILL

A BILL HAS BEEN INTRODUCED

EXR.—Perhaps if we had

EXR.—Perhaps if we had read

THE CIRCUMVILLE UNION

The Circumville Union-Heard

GOLD IS STILL ON THE

GOLD IS STILL ON THE decline.

Business Cards.

STEPHENS & FOWLER,

BERGIN HOUSE,

LANSING HOUSE,

DAVID D. EWING,

H. H. GREER,

W. C. COOPER,

M. MCLELLAND & CULBERTSON,

W. C. COOPER,

A. R. MONTGOMERY,

DR. CYRUS M. KELSEY,

DR. W. S. GARDNER,

FRANK C. JARIMORE, M. D.,

E. R. EGGLESTON, M. D.,

Mrs. A. D. EGLESTON, M. D.

JANE PAYNE,

Real Estate Transfers.

David Hall and wife to J. W. Rizer

David Hall and wife to Simon A.

David Hall and wife to J. F. Rowland

John Caywood and wife to D. Caywood

Milan McKee to Fletcher Banbury

John M. Armstrong, Sheriff,

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

Business Cards.

STEPHENS & FOWLER,

BERGIN HOUSE,

LANSING HOUSE,

DAVID D. EWING,

H. H. GREER,

W. C. COOPER,

M. MCLELLAND & CULBERTSON,

W. C. COOPER,

A. R. MONTGOMERY,

DR. CYRUS M. KELSEY,

DR. W. S. GARDNER,

FRANK C. JARIMORE, M. D.,

E. R. EGGLESTON, M. D.,

Mrs. A. D. EGLESTON, M. D.

JANE PAYNE,

Real Estate Transfers.

David Hall and wife to J. W. Rizer

David Hall and wife to Simon A.

David Hall and wife to J. F. Rowland

John Caywood and wife to D. Caywood

Milan McKee to Fletcher Banbury

John M. Armstrong, Sheriff,

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

Business Cards.

STEPHENS & FOWLER,

BERGIN HOUSE,

LANSING HOUSE,

DAVID D. EWING,

H. H. GREER,

W. C. COOPER,

M. MCLELLAND & CULBERTSON,

W. C. COOPER,

A. R. MONTGOMERY,

DR. CYRUS M. KELSEY,

DR. W. S. GARDNER,

FRANK C. JARIMORE, M. D.,

E. R. EGGLESTON, M. D.,

Mrs. A. D. EGLESTON, M. D.

JANE PAYNE,

Real Estate Transfers.

David Hall and wife to J. W. Rizer

David Hall and wife to Simon A.

David Hall and wife to J. F. Rowland

John Caywood and wife to D. Caywood

Milan McKee to Fletcher Banbury

John M. Armstrong, Sheriff,

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

On Christmas day, Robert Will-

NEW WAREHOUSE!

The undersigned, having arranged a portion of his

"Linseed Oil Works" as a Warehouse,

IS PREPARED TO BUY

GRAIN AND SEEDS!

Farmers will find it to Their Advantage to Call on Him BEFORE SELLING.

JAMES ISRAEL.

sept 20 '76 6m00

1776. 1876 J. S. BRADDOCK'S

REAL ESTATE COLUMN.

THE CENTENNIAL. No. 173.

J. W. F. SINGER, MERCHANT TAILOR

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Has the Largest and BEST STOCK of Goods for

Shirts Made to Order.

NEW SADDLE AND HARNESS SHOP!

NEW SHIP

ON SOUTH MAIN STREET

Where I will be glad to see all my old

MY EXPENSES ARE VERY LIGHT

I CAN SELL VERY LOW

Repairing of all Kinds

WM. M. THOMPSON.

A. H. STUMP & SONS,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

No. 56, South Street, BALTIMORE

NEW GOODS

FANNY PARKER'S MILLINERY

FANCY STORE

MAIN ST., MT. VERNON, O.

NOTICE OF INSOLVENCY

Petition Filed to Sell Desper-

CONFESIONS OF A VICTIM

EVERYTHING!

COLUMBUS

Business College

ACADEMY AND NORMAL SCHOOL

No. 98 NORTH HIGH ST.

THE MOST POPULAR AND SUCCESS-

3,000 GRAPE VINES!

100,000 Orange Hedge

Plants, 50,000 Apple Trees,

10,000 Ornamental and

The Latest Phase of the Situation.

From the New York Herald dispatch.

The Washington dispatch, which we printed yesterday, shows that political sentiment is settling back to the condition which immediately followed the meeting of the Electoral College on the 6th of December.

By the face of the certificates, Mr. Hayes had 185 votes, and Mr. Tilden 184, making a majority for Hayes and electing him, unless the prima facie result can be overturned. It was strongly asserted by the Democrats that the votes at the States had been given to Mr. Hayes by willful and standstill frauds, and committees of investigation were immediately appointed by Congress to inquire into the facts.

These committees have, as yet, completed their task in only three States, but in that one the investigation does not confirm, but explodes, the confident and noisy claim made by the Democratic party.

South Carolina is thus taken out of the list of disputed States, and conceded to Hayes by the unanimous judgment of a committee of whom a majority are Democrats—a result which encourages and strengthens those supporters of Mr. Hayes whose hopes began to waver, and in the same manner, albeit Democratic confidence. It affords a conspicuous proof that Democratic assertions are no criterion of truth, for if Mr. Tilden's friends could so egregiously mistake respecting South Carolina, they may be equally in error respecting the other disputed States.

At any rate, the reliance on what the Democratic politicians assert, but only on what the committees of investigation prove in regard to the disputed votes. On the face of the regular certificates, Mr. Hayes is elected, and the burden of proof rests with the Democrats when a claim is made that certificates are invalidated by fraud, and that they should not be rejected on mere doubts or suspicions, but only on conclusive evidence.

If full investigation leaves the result in any State doubtful, the arranged canvassing board is entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

It is not surprising that Republican Senators are recovering from their recent misgivings. According to present appearances, the Republican party will exhibit vigorous energy in insisting that Mr. Hayes should be declared elected, and he should be inaugurated as President.

Mr. Tilden might, indeed, take the oath, but it would be an empty form. His friends might claim that he was President de jure, while Mr. Hayes was only President de facto, but the Republicans would insist that Hayes was both de jure and de facto President, and would have the means of making their claim efficient.

After Mr. Tilden had taken the oath, what further could he do? The practical effect of a new President is to send the names of his proposed Cabinet to the Senate for confirmation.

The Senate would not even receive his communication, much less confirm his appointments. A President who ministers a government through his official subordinates, but no officer, civil or military, would give any heed to the commands of Mr. Tilden, whereas all Mr. Hayes' appointments would be promptly confirmed, and the whole civil and whole military service would yield him ready obedience.

There would be perfect unity between the head of the government and all its members, while Mr. Tilden would be powerless as any other private citizen.

It will be said that the Democratic House may stop the supplies; but this is a vain flourish—a threat which the Democratic party would not dare put in execution.

The voice of the people is the voice that guides them, and the sword that beats them down.

We are persuaded that no other sword will be drawn from its scabbard, and without the aid of the sword, Mr. Hayes cannot be thwarted, if he should be inaugurated as President.

THE ASHTABULA HORROR.

Local News—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner's Inquest. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable those who escaped alive to compare their recollections and experiences with the terrible calamity of the 29th, and arrive at perhaps as full and exact truth as can ever be ascertained. In the terrible excitement incident to such a catastrophe, human beings naturally lose their consciousness, and to such a degree that their statements can not be fully trusted. After they have thought the matter over deliberately, and compared their recollections with those of others, the truth is more fully ascertained.

There has perhaps been a wider difference of opinion expressed in regard to the number of passengers on board than upon any other point connected with the calamity. A curious, though not unaccountable fact is, that the difference of opinion exists almost entirely among the passenger and railway officials, the former placing the number very much higher than the latter.

Mr. Hayden, perhaps the only man who escaped from the wreck without a single injury, says that he was in the train with several times during the evening, and has a distinct recollection of the number of passengers in each car. According to this gentleman's deliberate opinion, there were nearly four hundred persons on board.

Forcing a Proposal. "Cordelia, how long is this thing going to last?" asked a Philadelphia friend, "I have just seen your daughter's head bowed herself out."

"What thing, ma?" "Why, this courting business of yours."

"O ma! for hasn't there been a fire in the parlor stove three nights this week already, and only half a ton of coal in the cellar? I declare, it does just as well for father's sake as for mine. Besides there's the gas."

"But, ma, we don't use but the least speck of gas," pleaded Cordelia.

"Don't use but the least speck of gas," echoed the mother. "Let me see you sitting in that room with only the least speck of gas. It isn't proper unless you are engaged, and I'll not allow it. I never did it. When do you think he will pop the question?"

"Yes, I think it is over, ma, and if you keep on at this rate your ma will owe everybody else. There is entirely too much nonsense among young people about their courting."

"But, ma, I don't know that he wants me to marry him."

"Well, why don't you find out? Isn't this leap year? Where's your tongue?"

"But, ma, I can't ask him. It isn't proper."

"Isn't proper, indeed! Well, then, I'll ask him myself the next time he comes here. This courting a girl for five or six years isn't proper, either, and I'm not going to allow you to throw away your chances in life on a fellow that hasn't the courage to speak out. Has he said anything yet that sounded like business?"

"No, faintly uttered Cordelia.

"O ma! well, then, I'll find out the next time he comes here. No 'O ma! don't. Wait a little longer. Maybe he'll speak out. He said something to-night."

"Why, he said that every young man ought to marry, and that he—"

"Come, come, now! No nonsense," sharply uttered her mother. "What nonsense! Why—then he sneezed," murmured the girl.

THE ASHTABULA HORROR.

Local News—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner's Inquest. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable those who escaped alive to compare their recollections and experiences with the terrible calamity of the 29th, and arrive at perhaps as full and exact truth as can ever be ascertained.

There has perhaps been a wider difference of opinion expressed in regard to the number of passengers on board than upon any other point connected with the calamity. A curious, though not unaccountable fact is, that the difference of opinion exists almost entirely among the passenger and railway officials, the former placing the number very much higher than the latter.

Mr. Hayden, perhaps the only man who escaped from the wreck without a single injury, says that he was in the train with several times during the evening, and has a distinct recollection of the number of passengers in each car. According to this gentleman's deliberate opinion, there were nearly four hundred persons on board.

Forcing a Proposal. "Cordelia, how long is this thing going to last?" asked a Philadelphia friend, "I have just seen your daughter's head bowed herself out."

"What thing, ma?" "Why, this courting business of yours."

"O ma! for hasn't there been a fire in the parlor stove three nights this week already, and only half a ton of coal in the cellar? I declare, it does just as well for father's sake as for mine. Besides there's the gas."

"But, ma, we don't use but the least speck of gas," pleaded Cordelia.

"Don't use but the least speck of gas," echoed the mother. "Let me see you sitting in that room with only the least speck of gas. It isn't proper unless you are engaged, and I'll not allow it. I never did it. When do you think he will pop the question?"

"Yes, I think it is over, ma, and if you keep on at this rate your ma will owe everybody else. There is entirely too much nonsense among young people about their courting."

"But, ma, I don't know that he wants me to marry him."

"Well, why don't you find out? Isn't this leap year? Where's your tongue?"

"But, ma, I can't ask him. It isn't proper."

"Isn't proper, indeed! Well, then, I'll ask him myself the next time he comes here. This courting a girl for five or six years isn't proper, either, and I'm not going to allow you to throw away your chances in life on a fellow that hasn't the courage to speak out. Has he said anything yet that sounded like business?"

"No, faintly uttered Cordelia.

"O ma! well, then, I'll find out the next time he comes here. No 'O ma! don't. Wait a little longer. Maybe he'll speak out. He said something to-night."

"Why, he said that every young man ought to marry, and that he—"

"Come, come, now! No nonsense," sharply uttered her mother. "What nonsense! Why—then he sneezed," murmured the girl.

"Sneezed, did he? What did he say after he sneezed? Speak out, now."

THE ASHTABULA HORROR.

Local News—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner's Inquest. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable those who escaped alive to compare their recollections and experiences with the terrible calamity of the 29th, and arrive at perhaps as full and exact truth as can ever be ascertained.

There has perhaps been a wider difference of opinion expressed in regard to the number of passengers on board than upon any other point connected with the calamity. A curious, though not unaccountable fact is, that the difference of opinion exists almost entirely among the passenger and railway officials, the former placing the number very much higher than the latter.

Mr. Hayden, perhaps the only man who escaped from the wreck without a single injury, says that he was in the train with several times during the evening, and has a distinct recollection of the number of passengers in each car. According to this gentleman's deliberate opinion, there were nearly four hundred persons on board.

Forcing a Proposal. "Cordelia, how long is this thing going to last?" asked a Philadelphia friend, "I have just seen your daughter's head bowed herself out."

"What thing, ma?" "Why, this courting business of yours."

"O ma! for hasn't there been a fire in the parlor stove three nights this week already, and only half a ton of coal in the cellar? I declare, it does just as well for father's sake as for mine. Besides there's the gas."

"But, ma, we don't use but the least speck of gas," pleaded Cordelia.

"Don't use but the least speck of gas," echoed the mother. "Let me see you sitting in that room with only the least speck of gas. It isn't proper unless you are engaged, and I'll not allow it. I never did it. When do you think he will pop the question?"

"Yes, I think it is over, ma, and if you keep on at this rate your ma will owe everybody else. There is entirely too much nonsense among young people about their courting."

"But, ma, I don't know that he wants me to marry him."

"Well, why don't you find out? Isn't this leap year? Where's your tongue?"

"But, ma, I can't ask him. It isn't proper."

"Isn't proper, indeed! Well, then, I'll ask him myself the next time he comes here. This courting a girl for five or six years isn't proper, either, and I'm not going to allow you to throw away your chances in life on a fellow that hasn't the courage to speak out. Has he said anything yet that sounded like business?"

"No, faintly uttered Cordelia.

"O ma! well, then, I'll find out the next time he comes here. No 'O ma! don't. Wait a little longer. Maybe he'll speak out. He said something to-night."

"Why, he said that every young man ought to marry, and that he—"

"Come, come, now! No nonsense," sharply uttered her mother. "What nonsense! Why—then he sneezed," murmured the girl.

"Sneezed, did he? What did he say after he sneezed? Speak out, now."

THE ASHTABULA HORROR.

Local News—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner's Inquest. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable those who escaped alive to compare their recollections and experiences with the terrible calamity of the 29th, and arrive at perhaps as full and exact truth as can ever be ascertained.

There has perhaps been a wider difference of opinion expressed in regard to the number of passengers on board than upon any other point connected with the calamity. A curious, though not unaccountable fact is, that the difference of opinion exists almost entirely among the passenger and railway officials, the former placing the number very much higher than the latter.

Mr. Hayden, perhaps the only man who escaped from the wreck without a single injury, says that he was in the train with several times during the evening, and has a distinct recollection of the number of passengers in each car. According to this gentleman's deliberate opinion, there were nearly four hundred persons on board.

Forcing a Proposal. "Cordelia, how long is this thing going to last?" asked a Philadelphia friend, "I have just seen your daughter's head bowed herself out."

"What thing, ma?" "Why, this courting business of yours."

"O ma! for hasn't there been a fire in the parlor stove three nights this week already, and only half a ton of coal in the cellar? I declare, it does just as well for father's sake as for mine. Besides there's the gas."

"But, ma, we don't use but the least speck of gas," pleaded Cordelia.

"Don't use but the least speck of gas," echoed the mother. "Let me see you sitting in that room with only the least speck of gas. It isn't proper unless you are engaged, and I'll not allow it. I never did it. When do you think he will pop the question?"

"Yes, I think it is over, ma, and if you keep on at this rate your ma will owe everybody else. There is entirely too much nonsense among young people about their courting."

"But, ma, I don't know that he wants me to marry him."

"Well, why don't you find out? Isn't this leap year? Where's your tongue?"

"But, ma, I can't ask him. It isn't proper."

"Isn't proper, indeed! Well, then, I'll ask him myself the next time he comes here. This courting a girl for five or six years isn't proper, either, and I'm not going to allow you to throw away your chances in life on a fellow that hasn't the courage to speak out. Has he said anything yet that sounded like business?"

"No, faintly uttered Cordelia.

"O ma! well, then, I'll find out the next time he comes here. No 'O ma! don't. Wait a little longer. Maybe he'll speak out. He said something to-night."

"Why, he said that every young man ought to marry, and that he—"

"Come, come, now! No nonsense," sharply uttered her mother. "What nonsense! Why—then he sneezed," murmured the girl.

"Sneezed, did he? What did he say after he sneezed? Speak out, now."

THE ASHTABULA HORROR.

Local News—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner's Inquest. Sufficient time has now elapsed to enable those who escaped alive to compare their recollections and experiences with the terrible calamity of the 29th, and arrive at perhaps as full and exact truth as can ever be ascertained.

There has perhaps been a wider difference of opinion expressed in regard to the number of passengers on board than upon any other point connected with the calamity. A curious, though not unaccountable fact is, that the difference of opinion exists almost entirely among the passenger and railway officials, the former placing the number very much higher than the latter.

Mr. Hayden, perhaps the only man who escaped from the wreck without a single injury, says that he was in the train with several times during the evening, and has a distinct recollection of the number of passengers in each car. According to this gentleman's deliberate opinion, there were nearly four hundred persons on board.

Forcing a Proposal. "Cordelia, how long is this thing going to last?" asked a Philadelphia friend, "I have just seen your daughter's head bowed herself out."

"What thing, ma?" "Why, this courting business of yours."

"O ma! for hasn't there been a fire in the parlor stove three nights this week already, and only half a ton of coal in the cellar? I declare, it does just as well for father's sake as for mine. Besides there's the gas."

"But, ma, we don't use but the least speck of gas," pleaded Cordelia.

"Don't use but the least speck of gas," echoed the mother. "Let me see you sitting in that room with only the least speck of gas. It isn't proper unless you are engaged, and I'll not allow it. I never did it. When do you think he will pop the question?"

"Yes, I think it is over, ma, and if you keep on at this rate your ma will owe everybody else. There is entirely too much nonsense among young people about their courting."

"But, ma, I don't know that he wants me to marry him."

"Well, why don't you find out? Isn't this leap year? Where's your tongue?"

"But, ma, I can't ask him. It isn't proper."

"Isn't proper, indeed! Well, then, I'll ask him myself the next time he comes here. This courting a girl for five or six years isn't proper, either, and I'm not going to allow you to throw away your chances in life on a fellow that hasn't the courage to speak out. Has he said anything yet that sounded like business?"

"No, faintly uttered Cordelia.

"O ma! well, then, I'll find out the next time he comes here. No 'O ma! don't. Wait a little longer. Maybe he'll speak out. He said something to-night."

"Why, he said that every young man ought to marry, and that he—"

"Come, come, now! No nonsense," sharply uttered her mother. "What nonsense! Why—then he sneezed," murmured the girl.

"Sneezed, did he? What did he say after he sneezed? Speak out, now."

J. STAUFFER & SON, REAL ESTATE COLUMN.

HEADQUARTERS FOR IMMENSE STOCK. GREAT VARIETY. LOW PRICES.

WE ARE NOW READY FOR THE FALL AND WINTER TRADE WITH THE LARGEST AND MOST ATTRACTIVE STOCK OF READY-MADE CLOTHING!

CLOTHING! CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, FANCY SUITINGS, OVERCOATS, HATS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Ever offered in the Market. Our Goods were bought FOR CASH AT PANIC PRICES.

CALL AND SEE US! AND WE WILL GIVE YOU BETTER GOODS AND LOWER PRICES THAN CAN BE FOUND IN THE CITY.

CALL AND SEE OUR GENTS' SUITS, at $4.50 TEN DOLLAR SUITS, at 6.00.

OVERCOATS! We are making A SPECIALTY OF OVERCOATS. We have inaugurated a NEW SYSTEM of selling Overcoats by Reducing the Prices at the first of the Season.

Clothing Made to Order, IN FIRST-CLASS STYLE, At considerable LESS PRICES than can be had elsewhere.

READ THIS! DEATH TO JUSE IMPERIAL CENSURE. WHEN AN ANCIENT ROME WAS IN HER GLORY. AN OFFER WITHOUT PARALLEL IN NEWSPAPER HISTORY! A CARE AND VALUABLE WORK OF ART PRESENTED FREE.

Colosseum i Rome! At the height of the splendor of the Imperial Rome, the Colosseum was the greatest and most magnificent of all the wonders of the world.

Grand and Tragic Sports of the Roman Populace. FAITHFULLY REPRESENTING THE SCENES OF THE GRAND AND TRAGIC SPORTS OF THE ROMAN POPULACE.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY GAZETTE FOR 1877-78. Reduction in Single Subscription Rate and Postage.

TERMS OF SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE FOR 1877-78. Single copy, 1 year with post, each $1.50.

Always Ahead! THE POPULAR AND RELIABLE CLOTHIERS.

J. H. MILLESS & CO., THE POPULAR AND RELIABLE CLOTHIERS.

THE POPULAR AND RELIABLE CLOTHIERS. Kirk Block, Cor. Main Street and Park Square.

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN'S WEAR.

OUR MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT. Under the supervision of MR. B. WEST, and cannot be excelled by any establishment in the State.

The Latest and Best Styles. Always on hand, and all goods cut and made as represented on fashion plate or desired by the customer, and at the very bottom prices for splendid work.

Table with columns for advertising rates: Single copy, 10 copies, 1 month, 3 months, 6 months, 1 year.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1877.

Can or Bottle the Apples.

Not all of them, perhaps, but as many of them as you can afford to buy bottles for.

Celery Culture.

A correspondent at Milford, N.Y., thus describes his treatment of Turner's Dwarf Celery.

VANDERBILT'S DEATH.

Commodore Vanderbilt died on Thursday morning, at nine minutes to 11.

His Investments.

It is estimated that Vanderbilt was the owner of stocks now worth $85,000,000.

His Life.

Cornelius Vanderbilt was born on Staten Island, May 27, 1794, making him nearly 82 at his death.

A Missed Passenger.

A Mr. Pratt, of Sunbury, Delaware County, sent his little daughter, aged fourteen, to the City of New York.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

WELDRID'S PREDICAMENT.

His Luck in Betting on the Result. "Nothing to Wear."

Perhaps in no task more interesting than the late election than Mr. Weldrid's.

TWEED—HIS GUESTS.

In Tweed's cosy little sitting-room at Endow street jail, three persons were gathered one evening recently.

CATCHING A MARINE TARTAR.

Some New Yorkers off the Coast of Florida Measuring the Devil.

MAVROE, Fla., Dec. 30.—The New York Aquarian has for some time had an expedition in Florida for the special purpose of capturing a shark, or devil-fish.

Go In, Fighting Men.

Yes; the men who fought from 1861 to 1865, on either the Federal or Confederate side, will consent to war if conducted on the proper basis.

Yah!

Sometimes, what a dreary, far away picture of the beautiful Bay Beach calls up in our minds.

THE TURNERS OF HUDSON.

Many of our Hudson anglers, who live in the silence of the woods, perform feats far surpassing the prestidigitations of Robert Houdin.

NEWS POINTS.

California farmers are complaining of dry weather.

At a dance in Waynesburg.

The Rev. Mr. Swaney, minister of a church in that place, called at the door with his niece on his arm.

Advertisement for A FULL LINE OF Shawls, Cloaks, Dress Goods, Trimming Velvets, Dress Silks, Cassimeres, Jeans, Beavers, Blankets, Flannels, Battings, Muslins, Calicos, LADIES' GENTS' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR, NOTIONS OF ALL VARIETIES, & C., & C. At LOWER PRICES THAN EVER SHOWN, FOR CASH ON DELIVERY. THIRTY DAYS ONLY. W. C. SAPP. DAVID SANDERSON, MANUFACTURER OF Carriages, Buggies and Wagons. CITY DRUG STORE, SHRIMPLIN & LIPPITT, DRUGS, PAINTS, OILS, & C. WEST VINE STREET, MT. VERNON, OHIO.

Advertisement for the Atlantic & Great Western Railroad, including a detailed GOING WEST and GOING EAST schedule with station names and times.

