Mayor Medill is among the lakes of Ireland, and thinks them ahead of those in Chicago.

Mrs. Edwin M. Stanton is again reported to be dangerously sick at her home in Pennsylvania.

Yorker is the candidate of the Wisconsin Democracy for Lieut. Governor. The farmers like pickers.

I trust the public will believe that if I put my hand to the plough I shall not look back."

The Hon. William Williams, of the Tenth Congressional District of Indiana, excuses the pocketing of the back-pay grab, on the ground that it cost him from $300 to $500 to bribe each editor in his district to support his nomination and election. What a difference there is between Colonel Allen refusing, in 1845, to take the constructive mileage, which all the other Senators took, with one exception, and E. F. Noyes taking $15,000 of which he had not the shadow of a legal right, when he was Probate Judge. In these days of corruption which ought to be elected Governor by a people who are anxious for political reform!—Chas. Eng.

It is almost a pity that the revolution in San Domingo has failed, and President Baerz still holds power. The Republican papers of the State have lately been circulating the yarn that Hon. William Allen, when in Congress pocketed several hundred dollars of Illinois mileage. A special dispatch from Chicago, Sept. 29, brands it, as it deserves to be, as an unmitigated calumny.

Centaur Liniment.

There is no pain which the Centaur Liniment will not relieve, no swelling it will not subside, and no lameness which it will not cure. This is strong language, but it is true. It has produced more cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, lock-jaw, palsy, sprains, swellings, catarrhs, scalds, burns, stings, ear-ache, etc., upon the human frame, and of strains, sprains, galls, etc., upon animals, in one year than have all other pretended remedies since the world began. It is a counter-irritant, an all healing pain reliever. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisonous bites are rendered harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is no humbug. The recipe is published under each bottle. It is selling as fast as ever before sold, and it sells because it does just what it pretends to do. Those who now suffer from rheumatism, pain or swelling deserve to suffer if they will not use Centaur Liniment. More than 1000 certificates of remarkable cures, including frozen limbs, chronic rheumatism, gonorrhea, etc., are on hand, and have been received. We will send a circular containing certificates, the recipe, etc., gratis, to any one requesting it. One bottle of the yellow wrapper Centaur Liniment is worth one hundred dollars for sprained or swollen limbs and muscles, or for scurf-worm in sheep. Stock-owners—this liniment is without exception the best remedy for all such ailments. No family should be without Centaur Liniment. Sold by all Druggists, 50 cents per bottle; large bottles $1.00. Thirty Years' Experience of an old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and cures restlessness and fretfulness in mother and child. We believe it to be the Best and Surest Remedy in the World, in all cases of INFANTS and DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from Teething or from any other cause. Full directions for the use of this Syrup are given on the wrapper. No other medicine has the same success. It is sold in the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

Centaur Liniment.

There is no pain which the Centaur Liniment will not relieve, no swelling it will not subside, and no lameness which it will not cure. This is strong language, but it is true. It has produced more cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, lock-jaw, palsy, sprains, swellings, catarrhs, scalds, burns, stings, ear-ache, etc., upon the human frame, and of strains, sprains, galls, etc., upon animals, in one year than have all other pretended remedies since the world began. It is a counter-irritant, an all healing pain reliever. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisonous bites are rendered harmless, and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is no humbug. The recipe is published under each bottle. It is selling as fast as ever before sold, and it sells because it does just what it pretends to do. Those who now suffer from rheumatism, pain or swelling deserve to suffer if they will not use Centaur Liniment. More than 1000 certificates of remarkable cures, including frozen limbs, chronic rheumatism, gonorrhea, etc., are on hand, and have been received. We will send a circular containing certificates, the recipe, etc., gratis, to any one requesting it. One bottle of the yellow wrapper Centaur Liniment is worth one hundred dollars for sprained or swollen limbs and muscles, or for scurf-worm in sheep. Stock-owners—this liniment is without exception the best remedy for all such ailments. No family should be without Centaur Liniment. Sold by all Druggists, 50 cents per bottle; large bottles $1.00. Factory Butter and Cheese.

The Utica Herald, which gives considerable attention to butter and cheese products, has the following account of the Starkville, N. Y. Creamery, where the first object is the production of good butter, and the second, of skin-milk cheese.

The morning's milk is set, twenty-four hours and the evening's twelve. All the cream is taken off that can be at the expiration of this time. It is allowed to stand over until the next morning after skimming to take an acid, which is churned, worked and salted, three-quarters of an ounce of salt to a pound of butter.

The churning is done in dash churns, with steam power. The milk is in deep wells in a tank of water large enough to contain two messes, and the work of the factory is all done by men and boys, it being found to be more economical.

The butter is packed in "cream pails" and the sales are made weekly. We saw no signs of ice, and we believe none is used.

After examining the butter department, we were naturally anxious to see the cheese. It was found quite different from skinned cheese. By the judicious use of rennet, heat and acid, the cheese was made mellow and less leathery than skinned cheese usually is. The skinned cheese is more apparent in the taste than in the texture, but there was not that flat flavor which characterizes "the white oak." It is not too much to say that it is the best skinned cheese we ever saw, and better than some we have seen where only one mess of milk was skimmed. The superiority of its character is indicated by the last sale, which was at twelve cents in New York.

Strippings.

All dairy women know that strippings, or last milk obtained from the udder, are richer in butter globules than the other portions of the milk. This is especially the case when the cows remain at rest before milking. If this be doubted, let the cows run from the pasture to the milking yard and note the result. Although it will make no difference in the quantity of butter whether the strippings, if taken, be churned separately from or in connection with the cream of the other milk obtained, it does make a large difference in the quantity and quality of the butter produced. Hence we have always insisted that cows for the dairy, and, especially, cows that are kept for furnishing the family with milk and cream, be not over-worked to the detriment of the quality of the milk.

In the case of these latter cows, the strippings are of consequence as furnishing milk for coffee, etc., nearly equal in richness to cream itself. Dr. Anderson, of Edinburgh, Scotland, who has given much attention to subjects connected with milk, has proved by actual analysis that the last milk of milk drawn from the udder contains sixteen times the amount of cream incident to the first one, the separation of the cream from the milk taking place in part of the udder, particularly in instances where the animal is suffering to stand at rest for some time before milking.

Winter care of Horses.

Considerable is written now-a-days about false economy in various ways. My observation leads to the conclusion that one important item is almost entirely overlooked, and that thousands of dollars are lost each year by the careless wintering of farm horses. For instance, a farmer A. owns a fine span of horses; he is not much of a horseman, but in the summer he works them, and keeps a man who takes good care of them. In the fall, after work is over, the horses are put into the stable and fed all the hay they will eat (be the same good or bad); are left perhaps a week or two at a time, with little or no exercise, and when they are driven, are let go at the top of their speed. Fast driving, with stomachs full of undigested hay, is the worst sort of treatment. The result is that, in a year or two, the horses have the leaves badly, are spoiled for market, and are unable to do the usual amount of service on the farm or road; and this alone causes a loss each year so long as the team is used.

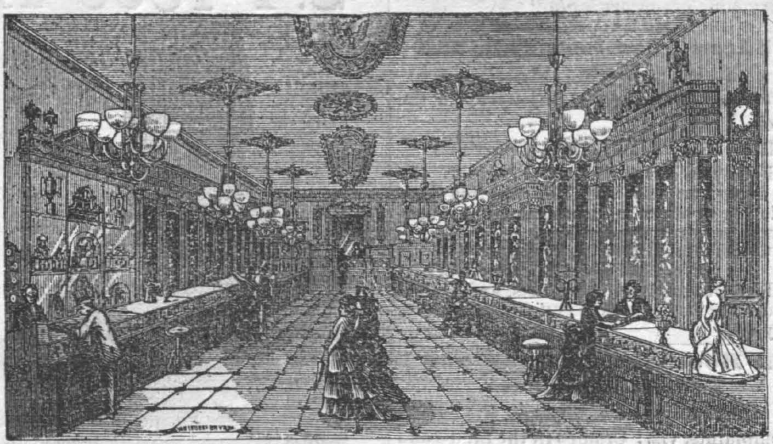

This could be easily avoided, by building a shed with a yard for exercise, and by feeding food of sufficient strength to keep the muscles in full strength. Some say that wintering horses in the field on hay alone, will cause a falling away of muscles and strength difficult to regain. No doubt, being killed by standing in a cold barn, being injured by horses—Gentlemen.

Bots in Horses.

In the Popular Science Monthly there is a short article relative to the power of endurance manifested by the larvae of some insects, and among them of the bot fly. It mentions a case where a piece of the stomach of a dead horse, which was covered with bot worms was spread on a board and spirits of turpentine was poured on the worms, yet after an hour not one was detached from the flesh. Then whole oil was poured on them, when they all let go and died almost instantly. Hence the inference that the worms should be used to detach the worms from the living horse, when attacked by bots.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. C. C. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the Medical Cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Erysipelas and Pity, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope only 6 cents. The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' experience, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine, and the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man of the land. Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, or, at express, post-paid on receipt of 6 cents, or two post stamps.
