S T A T E M E N T OF THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, ETC.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.—This Institution was originally chartered as a Theological Seminary. Subsequently an additional charter was granted, conferring upon the Faculty of Arts the name and all the privileges of a College. For the convenience of those intending to become members of the College, or of the Theological Seminary, as well as to prepare young men to engage in the active duties of life, without taking a full College course, there are two Preparatory Schools—so that the Institution now consists of four distinct departments.

LOCAL ADVANTAGES.—The location of this Institution contributes much to the attainment of the ends for which it was established. It is situated nearly in the centre of Ohio, at a distance from any city or village, except Gambier, (its own village,) in an elevated and healthy position, and in a neighborhood peculiarly free from the temptations and dangers to which young men are often exposed. The authorities of the Institution have the exclusive control of the lands, belonging to the Corporation, extending about a mile and a half in each direction from the College buildings. These lands are leased on such conditions and to such persons, that it is confidently believed no influence from this source of an injurious tendency will be exerted.

PECUNIARY REGULATIONS.—The parents and guardians of students connected with this Institution, having learned from painful experience that youth, if not checked, are apt, often from mere thoughtlessness, to contract heavy debts, have frequently expressed a desire, that the expenditures of their sons and wards might be placed under some regulation and control. An arrangement has accordingly been made by which their wishes in this particular may be fulfilled. The Treasurer of the College will take charge of all monies which parents and guardians may remit for the use of students, and disburse them according to such rules as they may lay down; or, if no directions are given, according to the best of his judgment, taking counsel when necessary of the President. It is considered, however, by the Faculty of the Institution, altogether preferable that those who supply the funds should give particular directions in regard to the manner of laying them out. When funds are not thus provided by parents and guardians, and they choose to have accounts opened at stores, the same control can be exercised. The necessity of particular directions in this case, is even greater than in the former.

PREPARATORY SCHOOLS.—The Preparatory Schools of Kenyon College are two, Senior and Junior; separate from each other entirely in residence, instructors, association, expenses, &c. The division has reference, not to the grade of instruction, but to the age, and to the domestic and parental care ordinarily required for pupils beneath a certain advancement in years, which is not necessary for those beyond it.

MILNOR HALL,

OR

JUNIOR PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The spacious edifice appropriated to this department, is situated nearly half a mile from the College, on a beautiful eminence, which furnishes the best opportunities for healthy, athletic exercises. Besides the accommodations allotted to the Associate Principals, the Matron, &c., this building is sufficiently commodious for about 80 pupils. It is furnished with a well selected library, containing nearly 600 volumes.

MILNOR HALL is under the immediate charge of the Rev. ALFRED BLAKE and the Rev. NORMAN BADGER, as Associate Principals. These gentlemen are Presbyters of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and experienced as instructors of youth. Such additional instruction will be furnished as the number of pupils may require. Parents, in committing their children to the care of the above named Principals, may feel assured, not only of their sound and efficient instruction, but of the most affectionate attention to their morals, manners and happiness, and a diligent effort to furnish them with as good a substitute as possible, in sickness, as well as in health, for the comforts of home. One of the Principals is married—both reside with the pupils, and have no other table than theirs. To the Matron is committed the charge of the clothing, and the care of the pupils when sick. The morning and evening worship of the Hall is confined to its own inmates. The Sunday worship is attended by the pupils, in charge of their instructors, at the College Chapel. Special attention is given, as heretofore, to train them in religious knowledge, through the study of the Holy Scriptures and the Catechism of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The great effort is, to combine the advantages of a well ordered Christian family with those of an efficient Institute of elementary and classical instruction.

ADMISSION.—Boys received over ten, and under fifteen years of age.

STUDIES.—Orthography, Reading, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Algebra, Book-Keeping, Geography, Natural Philosophy, English Grammar and Composition, Elocution, Latin, Greek, Sacred Music, the Catechism, the Holy Scriptures, and whatever else may be necessary in preparation for a college course—though the school is not confined to pupils preparing for College.

TEXT BOOKS.—Third and Fourth Eclectic Readers, Mitchell's Geography, Mitchell's Geographical Reader, Smith's Arithmetic, Mrs. Phelps' Natural Philosophy, Smith's English Grammar, Andrews' and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Jacob's Latin Reader, Anthon's Cæsar, Anthon's Cicero's Select Orations, Virgil, Anthon's Greek Grammar, Jacob's Greek Reader, Hale's History of the United States, Bible, and Catechism in the Book of Common Prayer.

Pupils, whose friends wish them to remain during vacations, will receive a partial course of instruction, under the same regulations as in term time.

EXPENSES.—For board, (exclusive of vacations,) tuition, room rent, bed and bedding, washing, fuel, lights, and physician's attendance, $120 per annum. Incidental expenses, from $2 to $3. Each term payable in advance. In addition to the above, $5 must be deposited with the Treasurer at the commencement of each term, for contingent expenses, such as books, stationery, mending, &c.: the balance, if any, to be refunded at the end of the term. Pocket-money must be deposited with the Rev. Mr. Blake. It is expected that money be deposited in advance with the Treasurer of the College, to meet all expenses of clothing, &c.

Letters should be addressed to the Rev. Alfred Blake, Gambier, Ohio.

[NOTE.—It is desired that the Sunday dress of the pupils in this department should be uniform. In winter, a blue cloth cap, blue cloth roundabout, dark vest, and steel mixed pantaloons. In summer, blue roundabout, light vest, and white pantaloons. Their every day dress should be dark.]

SENIOR

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

This department is under the immediate charge of the Professor of Languages, assisted by the Tutors. The students room in the College building, furnish their own rooms, and supply themselves with fuel, lights, &c. For those who design to enter College, a regular course of study is prescribed. Those not designing to pursue a full collegiate course, may prosecute any particular branch of study to the extent customary in High Schools.

COURSE OF STUDIES.—English Grammar, Arithmetic, Ancient and Modern Geography, Latin and Greek Languages, Book-Keeping, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Surveying, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Rhetoric, Composition and Declamation.

TEXT BOOKS.—Smith's English Grammar, Smith's Arithmetic, Andrews' and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Jacob's Latin Reader, Virgil, Anthon's Cicero's Select Orations, Anthon's First Lessons in Greek, Anthon's Greek Grammar, Anthon's Jacob's Greek Reader, Conversations on Natural Philosophy, Conversations on Chemistry, and in other branches the same books as are used in College.

Tuition fees, room rent and incidental expenses are the same as in College.

KENYON COLLEGE.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.—Candidates for admission into the Freshman Class are examined in Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar, Andrews' and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Anthon's Greek Grammar, six books of the Æneid of Virgil, Anthon's Cicero, Anthon's Jacob's Greek Reader, and Latin Prosody. Persons admitted to an advanced standing must pass an examination in the studies pursued by the class they wish to enter, or an equivalent.

[NOTE.—The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Geography and Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these studies will be strict and comprehensive; and that no student who is not well acquainted with them will be admitted.]

The stated time of examination for admission is on the day preceding Commencement, but persons may be examined at any other time in the College sessions.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required; and twenty weeks from the date of admission will be a season of probation, during which the Faculty will judge from the deportment and diligence of a student, whether it be expedient that he remain at the Institution.

STUDENTS PURSUING A PARTIAL COURSE.—Persons not candidates for a degree may attend on branches of the College course in connexion with the regular classes. This partial course is so far restricted that no one can deviate from the regular course without the written request of his parent or guardian, and the assent of the Faculty. No student may recite in one of the dead languages without attending to the other, nor pursue one part of the scientific course without reciting in all parts studied by his class; and no student pursuing a partial course shall be regarded as a member of the regular College classes.

The course of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy and Rhetoric is inseparably associated with the Classical and Scientific courses.

Students pursuing a partial course are subject to all the laws of the Institution, in regard to diligence, good conduct and College discipline.

RESIDENT GRADUATES.—For the accommodation of such young gentlemen as may wish to continue for some time in regular and stated study and recitation after taking their first degree, and to prosecute their College studies farther than is possible for Undergraduates, a course of study has been recently adopted sufficient fully to occupy another year. The plan has in a measure originated in a desire to meet wishes directly expressed to the Faculty; and it is hoped that it may be the means of leading others, who have not thought of it before, to embrace the opportunity thus afforded of giving more completeness to their scholarship, before they enter on purely professional study.

The following are the text-books, and the

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Any candidate for orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, may, on examination, be received as a student in the Seminary; and any other person, who may give sufficient evidence of a fair moral and religious character. The candidates for admission, not Bachelors of Arts, will be examined in Latin and Greek Grammar, Sallust, Cicero's Orations, Virgil's Æneid, Jacob's Greek Reader, and the four Gospels and Acts of the Apostles; and on the general principles of Natural, Intellectual and Moral Philosophy and Rhetoric. They will also be required to read an original composition.

Candidates for admission to an advanced standing must pass an examination in the studies which the class they desire to enter has pursued.

Every student, on admission, must subscribe the following declaration in the matriculation book of the Seminary:

"We the subscribers, Students in the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio, do solemnly promise, with reliance on Divine Grace, that we will faithfully obey the laws and prosecute the studies thereof, endeavor to promote the reputation and interests of the Seminary, and make daily effort by pious reading, self-examination and secret prayer, to cultivate all religious and moral dispositions and habits, and grow in those graces which should characterize the Christian and the Minister of the Cross."
