Mark Twain once remarked that people talk a lot about the weather but no one ever seems to do anything about it. This has been a winter to talk about in Gambier and I am sure that Dartmouth can have very little on us so far as weather is concerned; if we had only known what was in store for us we might have put on a first-class Winter Carnival. Since early in December Gambier has been blanketed in snow and ice. During all of that time the Middle Path has been slowly building up to a six or eight inch hard pack and now, in early February, hedges and shrubbery are bent low with their loads of snow and drifts are deep along the way. The maintenance men have worked hard with their tractor and snowplow, coal piles have diminished to an alarming degree with very little more in sight and travel conditions resulted in the late arrival of numerous students after the recess. The faculty children have enjoyed without interruption some excellent coasting on the hill leading down from Wilson's Store to the valley and students and some members of the faculty are out on skis in the late afternoon. It has been bright, clear weather for the most part but the first touch of spring will be welcome.

Uppermost in the minds of all connected with the College is the loss of a well beloved

COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD IN MAY

The next war-time commencement will be held on May 12th. Several students now in residence will complete their work for degrees during or at the end of the Spring Term and will be graduated. There will be a number of degrees awarded in absentia to men now in the armed services.

VETERANS TO BE ADMITTED AS SPECIAL STUDENTS

After a great deal of study on the part of the Kenyon faculty and administrative officers of the needs of returning service men, announcement has been made of the special arrangements by which veterans who have not fulfilled all regular entrance requirements may be admitted to the college as special students.

Quoting from the pamphlet issued by the college in December and now being circulated to Selective Service Boards, Separation Centers, USO and other advisory agencies, "For a limited period Kenyon College will make special provision for Veterans who have not completed college preparatory work in order to permit them to make up as speedily as possible their deficiencies in this respect and to prepare them for special entrance examinations into the College as Regular Students.

"Veterans whose records indicate that they are deficient may qualify as follows: by a certificate showing evidence of completion of one-half of college preparatory work in secondary

DR. REEVES, BELOVED BY KENYON MEN, DIES

William Peters Reeves died peacefully at his home in Gambier early in the morning of January 30, 1945. Funeral services were conducted in the Church of the Holy Spirit at two o'clock on February 1st by the Reverend Orville E. Watson, assisted by the Reverend Clement W. Welsh, Chaplain of the College, and the Reverend Thomas V. Barrett, former Chaplain. Final interment will be made in Richmond, Indiana, at a later date.

William Peters Reeves, who was the James H. Dempsey Professor of English Emeritus, was known to and beloved by every generation of Kenyon men since his first coming to the Hill as head of the English Department in 1900. His sound scholarship and stimulating teaching made him one of the notable teachers in the history of Kenyon College, and his versatile personality, which won him the traditional and affectionate nickname "Pete," created a personal esteem attested by the continuing numbers of Kenyon alumni who sought him out when they revisited the College. The Reeves Room in the Alumni Library, given in 1933 by the late Wilbur L. Cummings, '02, was named in his honor.

William Peters Reeves was born June 7, 1865, in Richmond, Indiana, the son of James Eyre and Hanna More Peters Reeves. After attending Earlham College in Richmond, he went to Johns Hopkins University, from which he received the A.B. degree in 1889 and the Ph.D. in 1893. He was a charter member of the Johns Hopkins Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi. After teaching at Union College and the State University of Iowa he was called to Kenyon in 1900 as Professor of English, and head of the English department, positions which he held

Do you belong to any of the Service Clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Optomist, Exchange Clubs, or any similar organizations?

Do you belong to any trade associations, The Bond Club, The Securities Club, or the Paint Club, the Insurance Club, or the Paper Club, or whatever industry organization you may be interested in?

Almost all of you are members of one or more groups of this type and you pay anything from a nominal amount of five or ten dollars up to fifty dollars per year, plus additional costs at each meeting.

Why do you belong to these organizations and what do you get out of them?

Probably the first answer is business and the second is social benefits that you may derive.

Have you stopped to consider that your local Kenyon Alumni Association offers you possibly just as many business benefits and certainly just as many social benefits and a lot more in the way of good fellowship and friendly feeling than these business clubs?

Then why is it that to collect from one to five dollars a year dues and keep you men active in your own organization that you are a

BEXLEY NEWS

The Alumni of Bexley are delighted that the Bexley exile will be terminated in the Fall. The next time Seminary exiles are to be provided it will be quite all right with us that it be some seminary other than Bexley; Virginia mayhap or Cambridge. Many of us, now, are engaged in the work of raising money for the Seminary. We are confident most Bexley Alumni have arranged or will arrange that a special offering for Bexley be received in their Parishes for Theological Education and given to Bexley Hall. More than this we believe that most Bexley graduates, who are now Rectors of Parishes, will see that a definite and sizable gift to Bexley shall be written into the Parish budget. Each of the alumni is also making a personal gift to the Seminary in addition to that of his Parish.

Since this is being written for the Kenyon Alumni Bulletin I see no reason to be in any sense exclusive in the matter of assigning opportunity for gifts. When you, as a layman, remember the college with money remember Bexley Hall as well.

It is good for the Bexley Alumni to know that eleven Bishops in the Midwest have accepted places on the Board of Fellows, thereby having part in the molding of the Seminary's policy and also providing their personal and Episcopal approval in the building up of a powerful Seminary in the Middle West.

The Easter Lectures are to be held Tuesday and Wednesday of April 10 and 11. Dean Roach has engaged Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, Dean of Drew Seminary, to be the Lecturer this year. Bexley Hall will be opened for the occasion. Reservations had best be in early. Write George Jones in Mt. Vernon or Clint Seitz in Gambier. There is going to be a crowd.

President Bexley Alumni Association.

The Rev. Roger Alling, '24, Bexley '28, rector of Christ Church, Corning, New York, has been granted a leave of absence and became a Navy chaplain with the rank of lieutenant, effective November 17th.

The Rev. Lawrence H. Tober, Bexley '44, was ordained to the priesthood on December 21st in Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, by Bishop Tucker of Ohio. He was presented by the Rev. Chester B. Emerson, Hon. '33, Dean of the Cathedral, who also preached the sermon. The Rev. Mr. Tober continues as curate of Trinity Cathedral.

The Rev. Charles F. Magee, '01, Bexley '04, rector of St. Andrew's Church, Clifton Forge, Va., and Emmanuel Church, Eagle Rock, Va., since 1926, resigned his charge on October 31st. He and Mrs. Magee will continue to live in Clifton Forge in a home they recently purchased.

GREETINGS FROM DR. TIMBERLAKE

Philip W. Timberlake, '17

The bell in Old Kenyon rang for class just now, and as I sat looking out of my office window, wondering just what I had to say to Kenyon men, I thought of those men, now in service in all quarters of the world, in whose ears the strokes of that same bell so many times had beaten. It is a little presumptuous for us at home to send any message at all. The messages that matter now are coming to us, from you. They are proud messages, purchased at a price best known to the senders, and the only decent reply is one of simple gratitude. That reply we all do send from this snow-covered Hill—that and our heart-felt best wishes. Be sure there will come a day when we shall set the Kenyon bell ringing to welcome you back again.

(Cleveland) recently laid the cornerstone of its new building at services presided over by the Rev. D. Maxfield Dowell, '26, Bexley '28, rector of the parish. After the cornerstone laying, services were conducted by Bishop Beverley D. Tucker, Hon. '38, at which sixty-five persons were confirmed. In the last year alterations have been made in Mr. Dowell's church providing a new chapel and baptistry. The chapel is used to accommodate the overflow crowds which have been attending Sunday morning services.

The Church has obtained a priority to proceed with the building of a new brick wing at the north side of the present structure. It is expected that the wing will be finished late in the spring.

Under the leadership of Mr. Dowell, who became rector in 1942, Christ Church has been one of the fastest growing churches in the Diocese of Ohio.

Early in December St. George's Episcopal Church of Hempstead, N. Y., celebrated the 20th anniversary of the rectorship of the Rev.

The President's Column

CHALMERS

The colleges are again involved in a critical national issue concerning manpower, and I take this opportunity of summarizing for the Alumni the policy of the College in all three issues. The first of these arose when Selective Service became effective in 1940 and became more acute on December 7, 1941, when undergraduates had to decide whether to go directly into the Army or the Navy or to keep at their studies.

Through all that period, the college kept the undergraduates informed concerning the opportunities for enlistment and especially for officer training and went into the details of each man's problem as he faced it. We advised a few to go directly into the services before they were required to go; we advised most of the Kenyon students to follow the general advice given by the President of the United States to continue their studies as long as they could until the Army or the Navy indicated that they were needed. Most of this group went into the Army and the Navy by way of the Reserves and proceeded in due course to commissions. Subsequently the College has made numerous changes in its calendar and course offerings, in order to carry students along as far as possible in their college education before the time when they are called to service, following the numerous advices of the Army and the Navy and those who speak for civilian services that there would be a growing shortage of young men with any kind of college training.

The second large issue to confront us concerns peace-time compulsory military training. As in the first issue, so in this, the College has found itself in the company of the leading colleges and universities in stating its opinion to the officers of the government who have asked for it. As in the previous issue, so in this, our first concern is the military defense of the United States, with all of the foreign military activity which that phrase involves. If military necessity requires compulsory peace-time military training, I shall vigorously favor it. In the judgment of many who have endeavored to learn all that civilians can learn about the problem, that necessity has not yet been demonstrated. In that stage of the discussion, it is clear to many, including myself, that the grave training and morale problems as well as the possible political and military problems involved in legislation on the subject right now are so serious that they give ample reason for postponing the decision, even though it is clear that a decision in favor of compulsory military training would be much easier to achieve in Congress now than later.

The third issue may be decided by Congress before the Bulletin goes to print. It concerns the labor draft of men classified 4-F. As a citizen, I am inclined to favor the passage of the law, and speaking as an individual I have so expressed myself. I have also, however, pointed out to officers of the government the importance of this matter of the numerically small but none-the-less important problem of the increasing shortage of educated and trained men in the country. Every month makes the shortages worse; they appear in the ministry, in teaching, in scientific research, in engineering, in medicine, in the law, and in all of those quasi-professional activities which require a foundation of education in the liberal arts and sciences. The only available supply of men for these many activities is the group of 4-F's now in college. Their numbers are small relative to the numbers available for transfer into war industry. Whether the War Manpower Commission or Selective Service will be able, in view of the tense political situation which surrounds the debate over the law, to make a realistic estimate of the immediate needs of war industry and of the longer-range needs of leadership in these technical services and professions is a question. I very much hope that it will be possible to do this, for what limited information I can accumulate on the subject leads me to the conclusion that we shall be penny-wise and pound-foolish if we further reduce the number of young men taking college work.

Unfortunately for the public relations of the colleges, the opinions expressed by the leading institutions of the country with respect to all three of these issues throw them open to the allegation that they are special pleaders bringing pressure in the interests of their own institutions. But those intimately familiar with the war record to date of the leading colleges and universities do not make this accusation, for they have observed that these institutions not only have been willing to play their part, but have initiated numerous enterprises of training, development, and research for the Army and the Navy, performing these effectively and with brilliance, and frequently to their own hurt.

Kenyon College has never asked the Army or the Navy or the War Manpower Commission to save it; it has never been deterred in carrying out its small part in influencing public opinion in these matters of high national policy by considerations of its own disadvantage resulting therefrom. Like numerous other quasi-public institutions, the College has a double obligation: the primary and immediate obligation of every citizen and every institution to do the best thing it can do to fight the war, and the specialized obligation which falls primarily on intellectual institutions to analyze the intellectual and training problems of the country and to advise the public and the government concerning the relation of these to the war.

I believe that when the history of the war is written, men will agree that the leading universities and colleges have fulfilled this special obligation in keeping with the general obligation which falls upon all citizens.

CHARLES C. WRIGHT, '96 AND MRS. WRIGHT AGAIN ENTERTAIN FACULTY

The annual "Wright Party" for the faculty took a little different form this year when Mr. and Mrs. Wright were hosts to the faculty, the students and the friends of the College in the vicinity, to hear the Cleveland String Quartet in a concert on Monday evening, January 29th, in the Great Hall of Peirce Hall.

The Quartet, all members of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, presented a series of numbers by Mozart, Quincy Porter and Brahms, after which refreshments were served in the loggia and the lounge. It was a musical treat for the college community, of which there are all too few in these war times.

The "Wright Party" has come to be an annual affair usually held during the Christmas holidays for the faculty and faculty wives only and during the past several years buffet suppers have been served with various forms of amateur entertainment following.

POST-WAR FACULTY COMMITTEE AT WORK

The Faculty Committee on Post-War Curriculum is at work with Professor Rice, Chairman; Professors Titus, Timberlake, Thornton, and Dr. Jackson, bibliographer.

The Committee is undertaking a thorough investigation of recent developments in liberal education at other institutions and of reports so far issued by post-war planning committees. Two open meetings of the faculty have been held under the auspices of the Committee. At one, the first meeting, Professor Jacques Barzun, of Columbia University, explained the underclass program at Columbia and particularly the work in the humanities and social sciences. At the second meeting Dr. Chalmers gave a report on his observations on post-war plans at other institutions throughout the country. It is not anticipated that the Committee will make any proposals as to the revisions in the Kenyon program soon but it hopes to focus faculty discussion on the problem and to prepare any changes which seem to be necessary to enable Kenyon to meet post-war conditions before the period of post-war adjustment comes along.

Athletics

COACH
"BILL" LANGE

The activities for the Winter Term have included only one varsity sport, basketball. The required work has been given over to volleyball, handball, swimming, badminton and bowling. Individuals have worked out in wrestling, boxing and skiing.

The basketball squad has had a changing personnel, but we have managed to have about ten men out and completing a twelve-game schedule.

Charles Allen was elected captain, and Dave Harbison is the manager. Men on the squad who have played most are: Roberts, Wroth, Young, Allen, McClave, Bell, Howe, Allured and Oda. Beginning with the early practice games the team has made progress and shown some improvement in each game up to the Kent State series. The first game Kenyon won on a last second shot by Allured. But in the return game Kenyon fell apart in the second half, and suffered its worst defeat of the season.

Rosse Hall is available for the students to participate in individual games all through the day, except when team games are scheduled on the main floor, and this is mainly in the afternoon.

A student-faculty bowling league is now under way. At the present time Rahming and Brown are setting the pace for the faculty; Fred Palmer and Don Peacock are on top for the students.

It was hoped that we could enter a few men in some special meets in swimming but there were so few available and so few schools carrying on swimming that only recreational and required swimming are being offered.

The rifle range is open each afternoon, but no matches were planned for the Winter Term.

Intramural games will be promoted beginning with the Spring Term, especially until the weather breaks when baseball, tennis and track can be played on the outside.

for the rest of his career. He was also for many years secretary of the Kenyon faculty.

Professor Reeves was married on June 27, 1910, to Miss Florence Merwin Beckwith, of Duluth, Minnesota. Their daughter, Hannah, is Mrs. Edward H. Smith, of Essex, Connecticut.

As a teacher and scholar Professor Reeves had wide interests joined with exacting standards. A student under James Bright at the Hopkins, he began there a life-long interest in philosophy which manifested itself in the substantial courses in Old English introduced by him at Kenyon. His profound knowledge of the Middle English period, particularly of Wyclif, was the result of life-long study and research; but his intellectual interests ranged into many diverse fields that made his private library a store-house of collectors' items. Many Kenyon men owed their first conceptions of scholarship to his precepts and example. Even in freshman composition his classes learned the necessity of investigating things at first-hand, with a respect for facts.

His interests in the immediate life of the College were as varied. It is, indeed, impossible to record them all. He was founder and for many years President of the Ohio Athletic Conference. He organized and coached a rifle club. For many years he was a faculty representative on the Executive Committee of the Kenyon Assembly. For many years he directed and produced a play at Commencement. He stimulated interest in music by the organization of a string quartet. Every Kenyon man can add to such a list from his own knowledge; and only the total of such an addition could express Professor Reeves' influence on the undergraduate life of the College. Kenyon would have been a vastly poorer place without the presence of his ripe scholarship, wisdom in the ways of man, and zeal for the discovery of truth.

PRES. CHALMERS PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. REEVES

Professor Reeves exemplified the scholar and the college teacher. In him all of us who were his colleagues and the hundreds who were his students knew a man of unflagging scholarly curiosity, whose lively mind and trained intelligence led him down many an unbeaten track of literary, philological and historical exploration. He conveyed to his students the two central facts of systematic learning; that what has already been discovered demands accurate and scrupulous mastery, and that surrounding known scholarship and within it are mysterious and important unknown events of the human spirit into which a vigorous and imaginative mind like his own will constantly probe. To him many another scholar on the faculty took his work for criticism and advice; from him they went away encouraged. Dr. Reeves' teaching did not stop with courses and literary research, extensive and brilliant as was his performance in the profession itself. In the true sense of the word, he was a distinguished college teacher, for his lively concern for numerous athletic and social affairs of students exhibited to us all the universal human concern of the college. He knew and guided college athletics, not only in Kenyon but in the whole state; he actively supported dramatics and each year produced the annual Senior Play, his fraternity looked to him for leadership constantly; and student and teacher alike knew that they had in him a constant helper and counsellor in any matter of importance to the development of young men, be it intellectual, moral, social or physical.

Our loss in his death cannot be calculated, for besides being a leader in intellectual and collegiate affairs, he was a close friend of very many. How often we called at his house to talk, and what stimulating and lively talk it was: history, dictionaries, tides, scientific instruments concerned with weather, guns, politics, national affairs, educational policy, letters, language, the libraries of the college, and libraries abroad—the list comprises the roster of subjects of an urbane, informed and enlightened mind and heart. To carry so lightly true erudition and to interfuse it with his generous, warm and humorous nature was to show forth to us all the attractiveness and the great usefulness of the life of books and ideas.

Years ago we all knew that William Peters Reeves had taken his place in the excellent succession of learned men who have made Kenyon College distinguished.

The Libraries

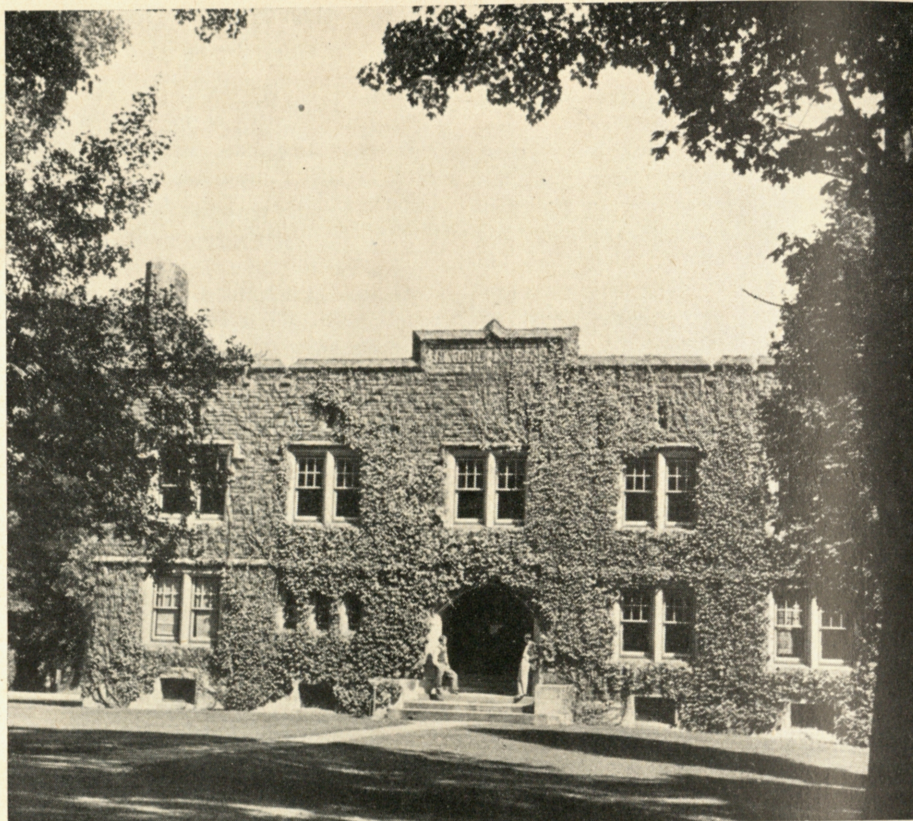

There has not been a report on the Libraries of the college since last Spring, although there has been great activity in the way of the ordering, acquisitioning, accessioning of books with all the following and attendant services and processes that make them ready for use. Thanks chiefly to the gifts of Mr. Carl Ganter; and to the Dempsey fund set up by Mr. John A. Penton, the growth of the book collection has been great. The collection in the Alumni library of Kenyon College now numbers almost 55,000 volumes, with another 500 received and waiting to be accessioned. This has meant an increase in the last twelve months of about 3,525.

On the Ganter Fund 913 titles have been ordered; in some cases this has been the filling in of back files of periodicals which has meant the addition of two or three to thirty or forty volumes. A total to date of 563 different titles have been received; and more than a hundred others are to be expected within a few weeks. To anyone at all familiar with the war-time book market with its problems of paper rationing and small editions, and with the rapidity with which book-stocks are exhausted, or, worse, individual titles are out of print altogether, the fact that more than half of the orders placed since the Ganter Fund was established have been received, should give satisfaction and pleasure. Those orders which the dealers have not been able to fill, have been placed with those houses which are equipped to search the market for scarce items.

At the Colburn Library of Bexley Hall where for the last nine months cataloguing has been resumed, after a pause of a year or so, approximately 1500 books have been catalogued. This library was recently the recipient of the theological libraries of two of its deceased alumni: the Rev. Harold C. Zeis, '26 and the Rev. J. E. Carhartt, '15. Although in each collection there are some items that duplicate books already in the Colburn collection each gift includes works not hitherto possessed which will be valued accessions. There are almost a thousand books in the two collections.

Readers of the Alumni Bulletin may remember from the discussion of the Libraries in the Bulletin of May, 1944, that with the growth of the number of titles in the Alumni Library, over which there is always rejoicing, more and more overflow space for the shelving of books has had to be found; especially basement storage in the library proper, as well as the shelves which fill the rear of the first floor of the community house and on the second floor.

In the basement storage there are about 6500 books, that only occasional use has relegated there, with the files of the unbound periodicals. All these things are available to the user on call, though ideally they should be in stacks where students and faculty may browse.

Everything in storage in the Community House: Newspapers, periodicals, of earlier years, bound government documents of the "serial set" are also available for study; but distance from the library makes it necessary to require a 24-hour notice in order to procure them from storage and bring them to the library.

The departmental libraries—biology, chemistry, physics—house about 3000 books and bound periodicals, either on deposit from the Alumni Library or as permanent collections. The college is fortunate to have these departmental deposits, for they are a partial answer to the overwhelming problem of space.

Books, however, are only one part of a library; for no matter how necessary, they are of no significance at all in education unless they are available for readers and students. Alumni Library continues to hold the great bulk of the ever-growing collection, but only at the cost of putting shelves into rooms that once were study rooms; carrels in the stacks remain a dream for the future; though it is still possible for one or two readers to find space to read and study at the few tables that remain in the stacks. But if we may repeat what was said in an earlier article on the libraries: "a modern college no longer regards its library as a storeroom," instead it is—at Kenyon, it will some day be—the centre of teaching and study, the very hub of campus activity, and the educational program. That is a goal to which faculty, students, and the library staff look steadily forward. It is a goal that should become increasingly attainable.

DR. ALDRICH ELECTED BISHOP COADJUTOR OF MICHIGAN

The Rev. Donald B. Aldrich, '35, L.H.D., Honorary, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York City, has formally accepted his election as Bishop Coadjutor of Michigan, subject to his release from the Navy and confirmation by the bishops and standing committees of the Episcopal Church.

As soon as word is received of the discharge of Dr. Aldrich from his duties as a chaplain in the Navy, the standing committee of the diocese of Michigan will proceed with steps to receive confirmation by the bishops and standing committees of the dioceses, looking toward Dr. Aldrich's consecration.

As rector of the Church of the Ascension, the congregation of which was largely responsible for the building of Ascension Hall, Dr. Aldrich is a loyal friend and alumnus of the College. He has preached in the College Chapel and has always taken a lively interest in Kenyon affairs. Kenyon College and the entire middle west is to be congratulated on Dr. Aldrich's acceptance of the Bishop Coadjutorship of Michigan with residence in Detroit.

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS DIES

John E. Parker, whose death is reported in this issue of the Bulletin, was a popular and highly respected citizen of Gambier and member of the College staff for over half a century.

Mr. Parker was raised in Gambier, his parents having emigrated from England and was throughout almost his entire life connected in some way with the College. He started out in the employ of the old Blake School for Boys which operated in the building later occupied by Harcourt School and was for sometime in the employ of Bishop and Mrs. Bedell, during which time he lived in Kokosing. He entered the employ of Kenyon College on March 16, 1894. The following is quoted from the "Article of Agreement" signed by President Sterling on that date:

"That the said John Parker is to be employed as janitor of said college and sexton of the Church of the Holy Spirit from the first of April 1894 until this agreement shall be terminated as hereinafter provided. He is to perform faithfully all the duties appertaining to the offices of Janitor and Sexton under the direction of the President and Faculty, and is to exercise particular care to preserve and prevent the destruction of all college property. He is to be strictly temperate at all times while in the discharge of his duties and while anywhere in or about the buildings and grounds of the college; and shall at no time or place drink in the presence of students or give to any student or receive from any student any beverage of an intoxicating character.

"He shall for his services as Janitor receive twenty-five dollars per month payable at the end of each month, and for his services as sexton, at the rate of fifty dollars per year, payable one fourth at the end of each quarter, the first payment being on the 30th of June 1894. He shall also occupy free of rent the janitor's house, and shall have the use of the garden attached thereto. He shall also have the privilege of pasturing one cow in the college pasture; and he is to see that only those cows are allowed to feed in the college pasture as are placed there by the professors or persons authorized by them."

On March 15, 1939, Mr. Parker was guest of honor at a luncheon in Peirce Hall given by President Chalmers and the members of the faculty to commemorate his forty-five years of service to the College. Dr. Chalmers said at that time, "Mr. Parker has not only served the College well for almost half a century, fulfilling his duties with care and a keen sense of responsibility, but has played his part in the College with dignity, respect and friendliness. Those who have known him and have worked with him have admired and loved the College better because he is here. Kenyon is proud that he is one of our number and proud of his long and honorable term of service."

Dr. Reeves and Dr. Coffin are reported in the Collegian of that date as having also addressed remarks to Mr. Parker and the affair is remembered as a particularly pleasant one by students and faculty of that time.

In recent years Mr. Parker was known as "The Keeper of the Keys." In semi-retirement he was in the maintenance office a few hours of each day to look after the intricate job of locks and keys for all of the college buildings, and students and faculty of recent years will always remember him as a kindly, gentle "Kenyon man."

For several years Mr. Parker has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown, his son-in-law and daughter, in Gambier.

and highly respected Kenyon professor. Dr. Reeves' death deprives the College and Gambier of one who for many years taught Kenyon students with a will. The recollection of his courses is vivid to the writer of this column and he personified Kenyon to many Kenyon men almost as did Dr. Peirce himself. The writer had a visit with him on a recent Saturday afternoon and will always carry with him the picture of "Pete" in his armchair before the fire in his study, smoking a cigar and deploring, in that pleasant way of his, the tobacco situation which denied him his usual smokes. He was one of the best and he will always live in the hearts of Kenyon men.

It being the season for local alumni associations' annual meetings, the Secretary and President Chalmers have already attended meetings in Cincinnati and Toledo since the first of the year and before this issue is in the hands of the alumni will have attended meetings in New York, Pittsburgh, Akron, Chicago and Cleveland. Others are planned during the month of April. Those held thus far have been excellent with a good turnout in both cases and an excellent talk by the President on the present and future Kenyon.

In this issue of the Bulletin will be found a complete and final report of the Kenyon Fund for 1944. We might have done better but we did well and if we can continue to increase the visible and tangible support of the alumni during the next few years, as we have during the past three, the college may depend upon very substantial alumni help in the future for the many things that need to be done. During this fiscal year, as the report states, our contribution will go toward the reduction of an inevitable deficit. But the time will come when the College will be full and in the black again and then our money may be used for something more constructive.

The Secretary has had many inquiries from alumni concerning the anonymous letter incident (covered in the Alumni Council letter of November 6) and each inquirer has been sent the complete file on the subject. There is nothing further to report at this writing except that the Appeal Board of the Senior Court, consisting of three members of the Faculty, reviewed the student cases thoroughly and upheld the sentences of the Court, except in one particular. That part of the sentence imposed upon Snowberger in which the Court recommended that after the termination of his suspension he find a college elsewhere more to his liking was set aside as improper and irrelevant.

The Investigating Committee of the Board of Trustees held hearings here in December to determine the extent of faculty participation in the incident, if any, and will soon make its report to the Board of Trustees. It is the hope of the alumni officers that a final and conclusive report can be issued sometime during the spring.

On March 1st your Secretary, with Mrs. Brown, will be off for a three weeks' stay at the Kenyon Ranch of Bill Allen, '13, in Arizona, returning shortly before the end of March. This statement is made with some embarrassment under present conditions but justification may lie in the fact that breaks in the routine here during the past three years have been few and far between and the pressure of carrying two jobs is a bit stiff. It is hoped that your Secretary may be able to demonstrate in the quantity and quality of work during the balance of the year the value of this period of relaxation.

Goddard, '03 Heads Underwriters

Thomas J. Goddard, '03, a partner in Chubb & Son was recently elected president of the American Institute of Marine Underwriters.

Tom Goddard, long an authority on marine insurance matters, has for many years given generously of his time and thought and money to Kenyon College and is now serving and has served for some years as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

J. E. Betts, '26 Speaker of Ohio House

The Hon. Jackson Edward Betts, '26 of Findlay, Ohio, who graduated cum laude and was a member of Delta Tau Delta was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives of Ohio at the beginning of the present session. He received his A.B. degree from Kenyon, his law degree from Yale. He practised law in Findlay with his brother, Richard; served as Prosecuting Attorney for Hancock County for two terms and has been a member of the legislature for five terms.

Meeting of Cincinnati Alumni

The Kenyon Association of Cincinnati met at the University Club on Monday evening, December 11th, for its annual get-together and business meeting. About twenty-five alumni turned out, notwithstanding extremely bad weather conditions. There was the usual festive time before and after the dinner. President Chalmers could not be present but Secretary Brown reported on the state of the College and an excellent impromptu talk on recent affairs at Kenyon College was given by Roger Sherman, '46, who with Bud Daneman, '44, and Bill Hull, '46, is now a student at Cincinnati University School of Medicine.

Ralph F. Gordon, '08, who presided in the absence of the President, Gale Evans, '26, was elected President for the coming year; Joe Scherr, '29, continues as Secretary.

The passing of Dr. Rufus (Brick) Southworth, '00, who rarely missed a Kenyon meeting during his lifetime was recalled in a short talk by his old friend Dr. Henry Stanbery, '96, and affectionate notice was also taken of the serious illness of Clarence Pumphrey, Buchtel 1874, "Honorary Alumnus" who has always been included in the membership of the Cincinnati Association. There was good singing and the usual Kenyon spirit.

Toledo Alumni Meet

On Friday, January 26th, the Alumni Association of Toledo held its annual dinner and meeting at the Maumee River Yacht Club in Toledo.

A large number of Kenyon alumni and friends were present. The meeting was presided over by R. Emerson Messenger, Jr., '24. Reports were made by J. Arthur MacLean, Hon. '37, Secretary of the Association, and by the Rev. George R. Selway, '29, Treasurer.

Donald R. Smith, '16, a former President of the Association, reported on the Kenyon Fund in Toledo, urging the members of the Association to greater effort next year. Secretary Brown gave a brief report on the state of the College and the general Kenyon Fund and President Chalmers talked at length on various phases of Kenyon of the present and the near future.

Among those present at the meeting were: Lawrence Bell, '10; Thomas W. Christian, '17; B. S. Dempsey, '28; Robert Elliott, Russell E. Fishack, '23; W. H. Graham, '41; L. L. Hawk, '25; Mr. Heiner; Clifford Kraemer, '28; R. W. Lawrence, '33; J. A. MacLean, '37; R. E. Messenger, '24; J. P. Pearse, '25; W. J. Rainie, '25; The Rev. G. R. Selway, '29; Mr. Sheldon; Donald R. Smith, '16; The Rev. Benedict Williams, '27; Robert K. Young, '27.

CONVERS GODDARD, '02 DIES

Kenyon men everywhere will hear with sorrow of the death of Convers Goddard, of the class of 1902, in Chicago. Con was a loyal and active member of the Chicago alumni group, for many years having served as its president, and attended every Kenyon get-together over a long period of time. Brother of Thomas J. Goddard, 1903, the present Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the College, he headed his own insurance company, Goddard & Company, and was well known in insurance circles in the Chicago area. He was a member of the vestry of St. Chrysostom's Church, and a trustee of the Francis Parker School.

Mr. Goddard is survived by his widow, Martha, a daughter, Mrs. d'Alte A. Welch, of Cleveland, and a son, Ensign George B. S. Goddard, now on duty in the Pacific, in addition to his brother, Tom.

Con came from a pioneer Ohio family whose home was in Zanesville at the time Con and his brother came to Kenyon. Subsequently, their parents moved to Gambier where they and a daughter lived several years before their death.

KAWASAKI BROTHERS OWN BIG PLANE PLANT IN JAPAN

The following is a quotation from a Youngstown, Ohio, newspaper and will be of interest to Kenyon men of the late 20's. One correction should be noted, the information was given not by the Rev. Paul W. Gauss, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Youngstown, but by the Rev. Kenneth Gass, '38, Bexley '40, assistant rector of St. John's Church in Youngstown.

"The Kawasaki brothers, owners of a large aircraft plant in the Japanese Kobe-Osaka industrial area reported bombed by B-29's Friday, were 1929 graduates of Kenyon College at Gambier, many Youngstown alumni of the college recall.

"Rev. Paul W. Gauss, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, said that he remembered the two sons, Daijiro and Mori, who at the time of their studies gave 14 Komagome, Hayashicho, Hongo-Ku, Tokyo, as their home address.

"The youths were immensely wealthy, being sons of the man who owned the Bank of Japan and also the greatest portion of the Japanese merchant fleet, Youngstowners recall. Both were excellent tennis players and were well liked. Daijiro was a fraternity brother of Rev. Mr. Gauss, belonging to Alpha Delta Phi, while his brother was a member of Psi Upsilon.

"Mr. Gauss said that Mori returned to the United States in 1938 with his Japanese bride and when asked about his business here reported he was "merely touring the country."

"The Kawasaki aircraft plant is one of the newest and most modern in Japan, on the western edge of the small city of Akashi on the southeast coast of Honshu Island, 10 miles west of Kobe.

"All Superfortresses reported bombing visually and hitting the target, setting huge fires.

"Kawasaki is believed to produce three main engine types for the Jap army—in line engines for the Tony, radial engines for the Nick, and engines for the twin-engine Lily bomber."

BISHOP HOBSON RETURNS FROM VISIT TO ENGLAND

The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, Bishop of Southern Ohio, who alternates with Bishop Tucker of the Diocese of Ohio as President of the Kenyon Board of Trustees was entertained, during the fall, in England by the Church of England's clergy.

Bishop Hobson preached in St. Mark's of London in October at a service attended by British and Americans and later in the same month participated in a great and historic ceremony at Westminster when he was formally received by the Upper and Lower Houses of the Convocation of Canterbury. A distinguished Chinese visitor, the Rt. Rev. Y. Tsu, of Kinming, was also present. The visitors who were introduced were welcomed by the Lord Bishop of London, the Rt. Rev. G. F. Fisher, D. D., in the absence, through illness, of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

In introducing the three overseas Bishops, the Bishop of London said, "For the first time in the long history of the Convocation of Canterbury it has invited the presence here, in full Synod, of visitors whom it desires to greet and to honour, and those visitors are distinguished representatives and official envoys of sister Churches of the Anglican Communion."

ALBERT C. DICKINSON, '88 DIES IN MT. VERNON

After a long and full career as owner and publisher of several newspapers Addison C. Dickinson, KMA '84, Kenyon '88, died at Mercy Hospital, Mt. Vernon, on October 15th. Mr. Dickinson, during his entire life, was a staunch supporter of Kenyon College, particularly of the Seminary, Bexley Hall, and of the Episcopal Church. He began his newspaper career in 1891 when, after a few years in banking in Cincinnati and in the fur business in Minneapolis, he came to Mt. Vernon to enter the office of the "Republican," forerunner of the "Mt. Vernon News." At that time the "Republican" was a semi-weekly, published by Mr. Dickinson's father-in-law, Charles E. Baldwin, and the latter's brother, W. F. Baldwin.

Upon the death of the Baldwin brothers Mr. Dickinson took over the management of the paper and continued as owner until the close of 1899, when he sold out in Mt. Vernon and went to Newark as publisher of the "Newark American Tribune."

After some five years in Newark he sold the "Tribune" and went to Newcastle, Pennsylvania, where he was owner and publisher of the Sharon, Pennsylvania, "Telegraph" and part owner of the Newcastle "Herald" and also a paper at Elyria, Ohio. He retained his interest in the "Telegraph" and when it was merged with the Sharon "Herald" recently became vice-president of the Herald Company.

Mr. Dickinson was born in Cincinnati on December 15, 1864, his mother being the daughter of former Governor R. M. Bishop of Ohio. He spent four years at Kenyon Military Academy and in college was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. For years he was a vestryman at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Mt. Vernon and took an active part in the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club. His daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Bogardus, continues to live in the family home on East Gambier Street, Mt. Vernon.

Kenyon men will miss Mr. Dickinson's presence at future Kenyon gatherings. He never failed to appear on the Hill at Commencement and other college celebrations and could always be counted upon for generous support of the College and the Seminary.

RIFLE CLUB THRIVES UNDER L. C. WILLIAMS, '92

The Kenyon College Rifle Club originally sponsored by the late Dr. Reeves was revived and reorganized in the spring of 1942, when Lewis C. Williams, of the class of 1892, returned to the College for this purpose.

At that time, it was apparent that rifle instruction and marksmanship might prove valuable to students then in college and the record of the Rifle Club under Mr. Williams' supervision has proved this to be true.

After consultation with President Chalmers, Dean Hoag, Coach Kutler, and Mr. Becker, concerning the necessary arrangements, Mr. Williams began operations in March, 1942. At that time an outdoor range was constructed at the airport and a little later the present indoor range in the large hangar. The first target was shot by President Chalmers in March with considerable ceremony and from that day to this the Rifle Club has served the students, including many Army trainees, well.

The quarters at the hangar are excellent for the purpose and it is Mr. Williams' opinion that the indoor range is one of the best amateur ranges among all the rifle clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association. The aeronautics club room provides comfortable lounging quarters for the rifle men and it has been a source of gratification to the College that this part of the airport which could not be used for its real purpose during the war has served so well in an entirely different direction.

In the two years of the Rifle Club under Mr. Williams approximately eight hundred different persons have shot on the range. While the majority have been college students and army trainees the number also includes many from the community and Mt. Vernon, not directly connected with the College. The junior division is made up of sons and daughters of faculty, high school students and others. In the NRA qualifying tests, fourteen experts have qualified, ninety-three have become marksmen, and many are on their way to marksmanship. One pre-meteorological trainee, Charles E. Dell, became a distinguished rifleman. David Imel, the son of the former swimming coach, qualified as an expert at the age of twelve.

Present officers of the Rifle Club, in addition to Mr. Williams as instructor, are:

| President | David Harris |
| Vice President | Laurence N. Hoffman |
| Secretary | Robert S. Underwood, Jr. |
| Treasurer | Alva B. VanDyke |
| Range Officer | David Imel |

Letters from former students now in the service furnish ample testimony to the value of Mr. Williams' service to the College.

they will be permitted to take college preparatory courses at the College designed to prepare them for the two achievement tests of their choice. During this period of preparation they will be Special Students; not until they have fulfilled the special requirements for admission will they be regarded as Regular Students. However, simultaneously with studying the special courses leading to the achievement tests in English and mathematics or in English and a foreign language, they will be permitted to enroll as Special Students in regular college courses. On successful fulfillment of the special admission requirements for Veterans, they will be regarded as Regular Students and the work which they have already taken in regular college courses will be credited toward their Bachelor's degrees. The special college preparatory courses will not be so credited.

"Under Public Law No. 346 the so-called 'G. I. Bill' the Veterans' Administration will pay a maximum of $500 for tuition, fees, and books in an 'ordinary school year.' This year is defined as three Quarters or two Semesters. In addition the Veteran will be paid $50 per month for living expenses if single, or $75 per month if married. In a three-term period at Kenyon, an unmarried man would be entitled to $950 for his education and living expenses.

"The costs at Kenyon for this period would exceed the allowance by about $150 or $50 per term. In cases where a Veteran can establish that he is unable to meet this extra cost, Kenyon College will consider applications for scholarships or grants-in-aid. In addition, loans at low rates of interest are available.

"A Veteran may attend all four terms of the year at Kenyon, and the second "ordinary year" will be considered to start at the beginning of the fourth term.

"Under Public Law No. 16 (Veterans' Rehabilitation) which applies to disabled Veterans, the payments are somewhat higher and vary according to the degree of disability."

As the Bulletin goes to press it is too early to say how great a demand there will be for this special service to veterans, but the plan has been well received by army and navy officials and most heads of high schools who have seen it and it is possible that, during the current year, a number of returned service men, who fall in the special category provided for, may come to Kenyon as "sub-freshmen," later to become regular students.

The alumni may do a service to the College by referring to the Director of Admissions any veteran of their acquaintance who might be interested in the plan.

POST-WAR COMMITTEE OF OHIO

COLLEGE ASSOCIATION MEETS

Late in December about four hundred delegates from forty of Ohio's colleges and universities attended a conference at Ohio State University conducted by the War Service and Post-War Adjustment Committee of the Ohio College Association. President Chalmers, as President of the Ohio College Association, presided at the general meeting and the nine commissions which were reporting to the several groups brought in highly interesting reports on the subjects of their study. Among these were future requirements for admission to college, vocational guidance and educational counsel, graduate study as preparation for college instructors, administrative problems and curricular changes, problems of control and finance, the role of adult education, permanent values to be gleaned from Army and Navy programs on the college campus and the need for publicity.

A number of the members of the Kenyon faculty and administration attended the meetings and several took an active part in the proceedings.

The final report of the general study will be presented to the Ohio College Association at its annual conference in April, at which Dr. Chalmers' second term as President of the Association comes to a close.

ENROLLMENT AND

STUDENT OFFICERS

The Fall Term, which began in November with seventy-eight men enrolled, closed in February with about seventy in residence, having lost about seven to the armed services and one by graduation.

As the Bulletin goes to press it appears that the beginning of the Spring Term on February 26th will see an enrollment of approximately seventy-five. Several students are called for induction during the recess. One or two will withdraw from college for a short time to work in war industry. Mr. Rahming, Director of Admissions, expects about twelve entering students and four former students are returning: Robert Bowman, a veteran who has instructed illiterates at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, for over a year; Charles MacGregor; Donald Platt and Richard Grudier.

KENYON KLAN INITIATES TWELVE

The Kenyon Klan initiated twelve new members at a private dinner in Peirce Hall on Wednesday evening, January 17.

Those initiated into the Klan were Coach Bill Lange, Charles Allen, Allen Allured, Bruce Bell, John Gulick, Dave Harbison, John Hartman, William Marshall, Fred Palmer, William Rathman, Robert Stewart, and Robert Willis.

At the time of the initiation, there were only four regular members at Kenyon: Richard Roberts, president; Erwin Leopold, vice-president; Charles J'Anthony, secretary and treasurer; and Richard McClave. Drs. Ashford and Bumer were the Klan advisers.

The membership of the Klan is now 256.

To be eligible for election into the Klan, candidates must have their major letter and must have attended Kenyon for two terms.

Founded in September, 1933, the Kenyon Klan was organized to encourage interest and participation in sports, to support and uphold student activities and Kenyon traditions, and to take an active interest in the student governing of Kenyon.

Alumni President's Column

vital part of is such a difficult job? Why is it that you don't come out to your Alumni meetings as you do to these trade association meetings?

This is my letter to all of you Kenyon alumni and this is one letter that I would like to have answered by many of you. The above questions have stood out in my mind for a long time and I never could figure out the answers, so I am asking you and I will really appreciate hearing from you.

The Board of Trustees runs your college. On that Board of Trustees are Alumni members elected by the Alumni and usually proposed or nominated after very careful consideration by the Executive Committee of your Alumni Council, which meets several times a year to take care of the Alumni interests of Kenyon College.

The Executive Committee of the Council represents a group of men who are elected by the local Alumni Associations and fortunately many of those men take a very active part in Council affairs. So the life blood of your entire Alumni Associations goes back to the local Associations and by its strength and its activities and the men the local associations elect to the Council, the active voice of the Alumni is carried through to the Trustees and the actual handling of College affairs to please YOU.

Unless YOU take an active part in your local Association, you are not only missing an opportunity to influence the present and future of your Alma Mater, but you are missing a lot of good associations with other Kenyon men and the contacts with a lot of your old friends and new ones that you should be making, who are tied much closer to you than the business friends you make in service clubs and trade associations.

Let's look at this matter for just a moment in a purely commercial or business way. Kenyon men are engaged in all types of business and many of them are outstanding in their communities and very successful. Certainly contacts with those men are going to help all of you and I believe they will do you as much or more good than organizations where you are a member as long as you pay your dues.

Your Kenyon Alumni group has something more to offer. There is a genuine bond of fellowship and good feeling and loyalty of one Kenyon man to another that is entirely lacking in other organizations. Why don't you support your local Association? Give as liberally to your Association as you do to these other organizations. Attend the meetings just as regularly as you do these other meetings. Try it for a year or two and see if you don't think it is worth while. I am sure you will find it will pay big dividends and will help all the way along the line.

I will be looking for your answers to this letter and I do hope you will send them in. If you agree with me, I would like to know it and, with your permission, I would like to see Bob Brown publish a few of the answers in the next issue of the Bulletin.

DR. WIELAND, '17 MAN OF MANY KENYON DEGREES

Among Kenyon alumni the Rev. George A. Wieland, of New York, occupies a unique position. He has received every degree which the College is, or ever was, qualified to grant.

Dr. Wieland graduated from Kenyon in 1907 with the A.B. degree. In 1909 he received the B.D. degree from Bexley Hall. In 1911 he became a Kenyon Master of Arts; in 1926 was given the S.T.M.; in 1928, the S.T.D., and at commencement in 1944 the D.D. was conferred upon him.

The Rev. Geo. A. Wieland

Dr. Wieland's life has been devoted to the Church. He served as lay reader and deacon at Grace Church at Defiance, Ohio, in his early years and was married there on January 1, 1910, to Miss Helen Deatrick, a resident of Defiance. The Wielands have one child, a daughter, now the wife of Dr. Daniel Merriam of Yale University.

Dr. Wieland's next charge was at Christ Church, Huron, followed by six years at St. Paul's Church, Norwalk. Following that he became a domestic missionary in the district of Arizona as vicar of St. John's Church in Globe, where a weak mission became a self-supporting parish during his three and a half years of residence. In 1925 he represented the District of Arizona at the clerical convention in New Orleans.

In 1926 Dr. Wieland became the rector of the Church of the Epiphany in Seattle, Washington, Diocese of Olympia, where he remained until going to New York as Executive Secretary of the Department of Domestic Missions, in April 1939. When he left Olympia he was President of the Standing Committee, an Examining Chaplain, Chairman of the Department of Finance, and a trustee of the Corporation. During his rectorship in Seattle he was elected deputy to three General Conventions.

On January 1, 1943, he became Director of the Home Department of the National Council, a position which he now holds.

The Church of the Epiphany in Seattle was the baby parish of the Diocese when Dr. Wieland became rector, with less than two hundred communicants, badly in debt, but with great possibilities. It is today one of the outstanding parishes of the Pacific Northwest and Dr. Wieland looks upon his work there with pardonable pride. He says that his "ministry in the West was fascinating from the first day to the last."

In the November issue of the Alumni Bulletin CHARLES C. RIKER, JR., '27, was erroneously recorded as Director of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, New York. He still retains his position in the Department of English and Fine Arts in the Eastman School.

AMERICANS UNITED SEEK AID FOR WORLD ORGANIZATION

There is an opportunity and need for Kenyon men to help in the important activity of arousing public opinion favorable to a strong form of world security organization. As a means of coordinating the work of existing organizations, and to bring together the efforts of all groups and individuals, Americans United for World Organization has been established, with President Hopkins of Dartmouth as Chairman of the board of directors. Other leaders include Mrs. Dwight Morrow, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Bishop Hobson, Henry J. Kaiser, Philip Murray, Beardsley Ruml, Walter Wanger, Bishop Oxnham, Sumner Welles, Senator Ball, and Senator Hatch.

The present objective of Americans United is to explain Dumbarton Oaks and to work for support of these proposals or whatever other plans the government works out with the other United Nations. The organization is strictly non-partisan and non-political.

Individuals who are interested in becoming members of Americans United, and those who are willing to work with local chapters, are requested to address the national headquarters as follows: Americans United for World Organization, 465 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Because a conference of the United Nations is projected for the near future it is essential for all who seek an enduring peace to work for prompt and complete support of the most promising plans that can be developed. As leaders in their communities across the country, particular confidence is placed in the alumni of colleges for the influence they can exert by participating in local activity of Americans United.

CHESTER M. CABLE, JR., '45, and CARL COOKE, '46, are attending the University of Arizona.

WILLIAM W. SPEER, KMA, whose business address for thirty years has been H. C. Speer & Sons Company, Chicago, is now residing in Laguna Beach, California.

Mr. Southworth, at the same time, is continuing his studies at Columbia University and the Union Theological Seminary for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. For five years he has been rector of St. Stephen's Church, New Hartford, New York, a suburb of Utica. Mr. Southworth is the son of the REV. GEORGE SOUTHWORTH, '09, and Mrs. Southworth of Indianapolis.

Wilson, '42 Continues Good Record As Medical Student

Bill Wilson, '42, is in his final year at Northwestern University Medical School. He was the first recipient of the Robert Bowen Brown, Jr., prize in Biology awarded each year "to the undergraduate who, in the opinion of the members of the Department of Biology, has done the best original or research work in Biology during the current year."

Bill Wilson has made an enviable record in medical school, ranking near the top of his class, he has served as a volunteer assistant in neurology and is highly regarded by students and faculty alike. At Northwestern Medical School Bill has done investigating work in the field of Neurology and has made a functional-anatomical study of the inferior olivary nucleus, a part of the extra-pyramidal system of the brain. He is now at work on his thesis and will graduate in June as an M.D. with a commission as first lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve.

Lt. Kenyon Cited for Meritorious Service by Admiral Nimitz

The alumni will read with interest and pride the following citation of Lt. Larry Kenyon, '38:

"For meritorious service in the line of his profession as Air Combat Information Officer of a fighting plane squadron operating against the enemy during 1944. In his official capacity, he flew over enemy objectives and thereby coordinated and improved the information which it was his duty to disseminate. Careful research and study permitted him to contribute information to the entire Air Group as well as his own squadron, thereby improving the results obtained by operations against enemy installations and shipping in the vicinity of the Marianas and Bonin Islands. His performance of duty was at all times in keeping with the highest traditions of the naval service."

LIEUT. TOZZER, '39, COMMENDED BY KING

1st. Lt. Brent A. Tozzer, Jr., '39, Alpha Delta Phi, who has been attached to the Field (or Tactical) Headquarters of Generals Montgomery and Leese of the British 8th Army in Tunisia, Malta, Sicily and Italy for over a year, has just received the following citation from His Majesty, King George of England:

"By the KING'S Order the name of

First Lieutenant B. A. Tozzer,
United States Army Signal Corps, was placed on record on 24 August, 1944,

as mentioned in a Dispatch for distinguished service

I am charged to express
His Majesty's high appreciation.

I. J. GRIGG

Secretary of State for War"

Enclosed with Lt. Tozzer's citation was a letter of congratulation for his "intelligent effort and distinguished service" from Major General L. L. Lemnitzer, Commanding American Armies in Italy.

"I wish it had gone to all my team instead of me—the sergeants do all the work," writes Lt. Tozzer.

Lt. Tozzer met the King at a small informal cocktail party at General Leese's Headquarters in July when he was in Italy.

Brent Tozzer's army career is interesting. He spent eighteen months with the British Eighth Army on the personal staff of Montgomery and Leese. Landing in Algeria, he joined them in Tunisia and served in Malta, Sicily and the Italian invasion, including a wild dash across the desert with other officers by truck, jeep and motorcycle to Tobruk, Alexandria and Cairo. He is now with the 849th Signal Intelligence Service.

During the regattas they made several assists to boats in distress and rescues of personnel.

In their work in Sandusky Bay, the Reservists have had occasion to make seventy-seven rescues and assists as part of their duties.

Grudier, Admissions Assistant, Again a Student

James Richard Grudier, a former member of the class of 1940, who was an assistant in the Admissions Office, after withdrawing from college and before entering the service, is back on the Hill. Dick Grudier has been honorably discharged from the Navy in which he held an ensign's commission and before the beginning of the current term when he enrolled as a regular student in the College to complete his work for degree assisted Mr. Rahming in the Admissions Office. His work was particularly in connection with the new plans for the admission of veterans. He succeeded in making valuable contacts for the College with those in a position to advise veterans as to the continuation of their educations.

PVT. STEWART, '45, DIES OF WOUNDS

COL. CULBERTSON FORMER KENYON C. O. SENDS GREETINGS

Colonel West Culbertson, Commanding Officer of the Kenyon Army Training Units, sends greetings to the College and the alumni from his present post at Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky. The Colonel became, during his comparatively short stay in Gambier a "loyal Kenyon man" and deplored as much as any of us the premature closing of the Kenyon training unit. He and Mrs. Culbertson visited the College in the fall and expressed the intention of returning at the earliest possible moment. Their home is in Cincinnati.

(To Pres. Chalmers)

I have just received your letter of November 20 and appreciate very much your cordial good wishes, and in turn may I wish you all of the College a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

I appreciate your invitation to visit Gambier again, to talk to the faculty and students, and will be only too glad to accept should I have the opportunity to be near Gambier at any time. I assure you that I shall visit the College any time that I am in the vicinity.

Please give my very best wishes to Bob Brown and to the others who may remember me.

CAPT. KENNETH C. WILSON RECEIVES AWARD Medal is bestowed by Lt. Col. J. P. Franklin at Fort Knox

The Rev. Kenneth Clark Wilson, Chaplain, '31, D.D. '33, A.B. '34, received the Bronze Star for his work with the 37th Division during the campaigns on Bougainville and New Georgia.

Chaplain Wilson served parishes in Galion, Bucyrus and Akron and when called to active service with the Ohio National Guard in October 1940 was director of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Cincinnati.

He went overseas with the 37th Division in May 1942 and returned to this country in October. He is now head of the chapel at the Regional Hospital at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

I was appointed to the Merchant Marine Academy on August 14th, and was sworn in as midshipman in the Naval Reserve on the 29th of the same month. I then went to work as a laboratory assistant at Sharp & Dohme, Inc., in Philadelphia. Most of the work there was of a biological nature, so it didn't give me too much experience in the chemical field, but at the time money was the most important item to consider, since I had been assigned to the Basic School in San Mateo, California, and would be required to pay my own transportation there. On the 28th of December I was transferred to the Academy at King's Point and called to active duty. There is one thing for which I am grateful, and that is the fact that there was an accelerated program at Kenyon.

It prepared me in some measure for the course of study here, although compared to the speed with which we travel here the courses at Kenyon are standing still.

In a way Kenyon prepared me to absorb most of this without blowing up or becoming discouraged as so many fellows do. The fraternity system, I think, was the prime factor. Pledge duties impress upon you the fact that these seemingly irrelevant laws are made with a distinct purpose in mind. Too, the Sophomore hazing that I received in the fall of '42 helped remind me that my dignity would heal!

C/M RICHARD W. KING, '46.

(to Dr. and Mrs. Cahall)

Frank and I are now the proud and happy parents of a boy—born Oct. 5th, weighing 6 lbs. 6 oz. The only sad part is that Frank has to be so far away. The news didn't get to Frank 'til the 17th 'cause we weren't able to cable.

I came home from California last Feb., Frank at that time was sent to Funafuti (an Isl. in the Ellice Group). Now he is at Auckland, New Zealand, but expects to be moved north of there before so very long.

I did want you to know about our "good news"—oh yes, the "good news" is named George MacGregor Love, and I have no doubt but that he will grow up to be a Kenyon man.

Mary Jane Love,
(Frank Love, '41)

I am just about in the middle of my second term here at Cornell. Fortunately, I am in the school of my own choice, Electrical Eng. It is just what I have wanted. The course is difficult but I work at it and am doing alright but certainly not exceptional. Including this term, I have just two years to go. It is a little longer than I expected because I repeated one term to help me get into the swing of things. This unit probably won't be here after June. Most of the fellows will be transferred to other units. In the meantime, the Navy is clamping down and making it tougher and tougher for us. It is definitely and admittedly a weeding out process.

I ran into Ted Bumer while he was a midshipman here. Also, a fellow by the name of Cooper (Dave, Ed. Note) who was an Alpha Delt in my class ('45). There is a professor in the E. E. school who used to teach at Kenyon (around 1930, I believe). I am sorry that I can't think of his name.

Life at Cornell certainly is not like that of Kenyon. Of course, half of the enrollment is Armed Forces, which changes things considerably, as you no doubt know. And, of course, there are coeds, which is just a little different from Kenyon.

Oh yes, before I forget. About a month or two ago I was home for a week between semesters. I took a train to Cleveland. There I found I had a long wait for the next train to Cincinnati. So, I hitchhiked from there to Columbus. I landed in Mt. Vernon about three A.M. If it hadn't been so late I certainly would have gone out to Kenyon and torn up the campus until I found someone whom I knew. One look at the place would have been great.

Jack Shepherd, A/S '45

Have been pleased to receive news of the College and alumni activities of late. Things remain the same for me in Alaska. Next month will round out two years for me up here, and I thus hope to be transferred to duty elsewhere following that. At present my duties as Executive Officer on an aid to navigation cutter are fine enough. But I hanker for duty in sunnier climes for a change!

Please remember me to them all with fondest best wishes.

(Lt. j.g.) J. W. Bingham, '37

You might be interested in knowing that at least one former ASTP student who had the privilege of attending Kenyon College considers his time there to have been well spent. My first contact with German and French-speaking peoples brought surprisingly good results.

Thanks for sending me the Kenyon Alumni Bulletin. It brings back many fond memories.

Joseph F. Arico

Time out in the Training Officer's office to get at a little personal correspondence, which may not be cricket, but the steady grind is beginning to take its toll on my eyes. Five of us have been helping make out an inventory . . . a temporary job until classification, scheduled for tomorrow or the day thereafter.

Arrived only Saturday, and as yet have learned nothing from the daily routine as to what my next assignment will be.

I saw Reed Halsted while waiting several hours for a train in New York Friday. He looks fine, and I imagine doing well at Med School. He did mention working with three other med students dissecting a 76 year old woman who died three years ago—speaking for myself, if it wouldn't hold up the grades, it would be enough to maintain the class interest anyway!

I still keep in mind the idea of coming back for a brief visit whenever the opportunity arises, but it is more wishful thinking than practical right now.

Give my best to the crew in the office . . . maybe special consideration for the mail carrier!

Dan Loveland (S 1/c), '47

(to Pres. Chalmers)

I just received your Christmas letter of 9 December 1944. I hope that the coming year will be as happy and prosperous a one for both you and Kenyon as the present conditions permit.

I wish to express my thanks for the subscription to the "Reader's Digest" for the coming year. For the time being, I am on duty in Washington and come the time that I ship out, the "Digest" will be doubly welcome.

Now that I am back on this side again, after a little more than two years in England, I would appreciate having my address changed on the mailing list, in order that the Alumni Bulletin may reach me here.

I came back on orders for a special A. C. job but on arriving at Miami Beach found the project had been terminated. My reassignment down here is more or less the same general type of work. Combat Intelligence, except they are training on P-47's (Thunderbolts) instead of B-17's (Fortresses); which I have been with in the past.

I shall probably get out of the service sometime soon, if possible and back in civilian business routine again.

Hope I may have an opportunity to visit the College during 1945.

(Captain) Wiley W. Glass, '13

I haven't written anyone at Kenyon in some time—and I do have some bits of news to tell. I ran into Fred Greeley, '42, in London about two months ago. He had just been recaptured after parachuting to safety behind German lines some months before. We had a pleasant chat on old times. In a different vein—my wife brought forth for me on July 4 of this year a son—course he's practically an old man by now, but I think it's about time to register him for the class of 1967. As you can see, I'm now stationed in Panama. The weather is delightful—honestly—warm and sunny with cool breezes from the ocean. Not at all like the rain, wind and snow that must be howling about your windows. So my traveling days are over for a while, but I have had a good look at England, Portugal, North & West Africa and South America in the past 2 years and consequently I'm glad to settle down for a while.

Give my best to Dr. Chalmers, the faculty and all whom I may know. Cheerio, for now.

(Lt.) H. Benn Corwin, Jr., '42

Just a note extending my heartiest greetings for the coming Yuletide. It seems like ages since my last and altogether too brief visit to Gambier, a mere question of several months, but I guess it will always be "too long since my last visit to the Hill".

(T/Sgt.) George Whitaker, '43

Your kind letters of 22 November with enclosure and 12 December discussing the matter brought up in my letter of 18 November were much appreciated and deserved an earlier reply. The truth is I have been swamped with work here, let alone much traveling, speaking, etc.

I am now back on full duty and subject to sea duty once again so I can indeed be thankful for a complete recovery.

With kindest personal regards to you and my other friends on the Hill, I remain—

P. S. The November issue of ALUMNI BULLETIN has just arrived.

Chaplain John Quincy Martin, '28

First of all, a very Happy and Prosperous New Year for you and all my friends of Kenyon. Moreover, may 1945 bring the Alma Mater augmented prestige. I sincerely hope that the New Year may see most all of the alumni overseas back on the beautiful campus for a Victory reunion. That is a day we are all looking forward to with keen anticipation. I can't tell you adequately how much cheer your messages from the peaceful village of Gambier have brought to me. I know that the New Year will bring many more from you, Dr. Chalmers and others who drop an occasional line. The most recent letter was the New Year's greeting of President Chalmers which really summed up the effort of all of us in this world conflict.

I am feeling fine and tell the Athletic Director that Coxey is down to a mere 168 without too much physical effort expended.

(Sgt.) Robert R. Coxey, '42

We expect things to change during war time and even old Kenyon cannot escape but what I'm interested in is the college's post war program for returning service men. I have been and still am counting very heavily on returning to Kenyon not only because the traditions and ideals, even though I spent less than a year there, made quite an impression on me, but also because Kenyon has always treated its students as men and presumed as such they should know best how to conduct themselves. As a returning soldier (and I think I speak for many men) my prime objective of course will be to complete as quickly as possible the prescribed hours for my degree, but I wish to do it with the utmost of freedom because I'm awfully sick of regimentation, and because during off hours a little playing or partying could well lick the boredom that sitting in a lecture hall is sure to bring about. In short Mr. Brown, Kenyon as it used to be was perfect, please don't change it, so many of us are counting on returning. I guess you could well say that "the college on the hill" is just the sort of American institution many of us are fighting for.

(Lt.) Raymond D. Ashman, Jr., '46

During 16 months in Italy and France I have yet to run across a Kenyon man. I have read, enviously, in the bulletin, of various meetings of Kenyonites, but the closest I have come was when Gil Martin was in Naples just a year ago and drove almost to Cassino trying to find me. I think one of the things I anticipate the most when this is all over is the opportunity to drive to Gambier some Sunday with my wife and have dinner in the Commons.

Please note my new address so that bulletins will reach me with as little delay as possible.

(T/5) Louis D. Strutton, '31

Have had another change of address, so I thought I had better send it on to you as the last Alumni Bulletin went to Maxwell Field.

Just moved over here last weekend to be Post Chaplain at this Basic Flying School. In fact, I am still moving in as evidenced by the lack of letterheads!

I pray that this new year may see the end of the War. I am still looking forward eagerly to that Post-War visit to the Hill.

(Captain) Joseph W. Peoples, Jr., '38

I wish to thank the school for the subscription to Reader's Digest which I see Kenyon is sending to men in the service. I can assure you that no book is more avidly read than the Reader's Digest.

The Alumni Bulletin arrives here quite regularly and certainly helps keep me up to date on Kenyon. Bob Kohstamm and I met some

COL. FERENBAUGH, '05, RETIRES AFTER LONG ARMY SERVICE

Col. Thomas L. Ferenbaugh, 2354 Bexley Park-rd, will end 35 years in the Army Wednesday. He is a medical officer stationed at Camp Forrest, Tenn. He is leaving the Army because of the age limit. He is 64.

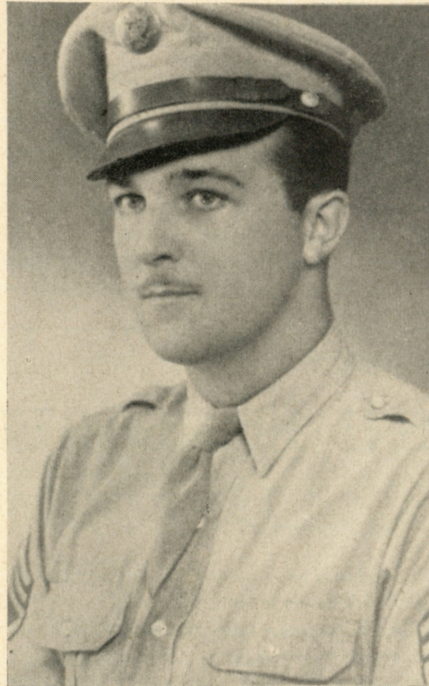

Col. Ferenbaugh is a native of Danville, O. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Kenyon College and medical degree from John Hopkins.

He won the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in World War I while with the famous Third Division. He was at Chateau Thierry and supervised first aid stations under intense enemy fire.

Col. Ferenbaugh served in the Army of Occupation, taught at Western Reserve, was surgeon at the Ft. Hayes Hospital, taught at the University of Vermont and in 1940 organized all the medical activities at Camp Shelby, Miss.

He is retiring as chief surgeon and commanding officer of the hospital at Camp Forrest. His wife, Mrs. Elsie B. Ferenbaugh, and their daughter, Helen, 14, live at the Bexley Park-rd address.—Columbus Citizen.

SGT. DAVIS, '40, REPORTED MISSING IN PACIFIC

S/Sgt. Howard W. Davis, Jr., '40, Phi Kappa Sigma, of Cleveland, is missing in the South Pacific as of November, according to word from the War Department to his father, H. W. Davis, of the Cleveland Ordnance Department.

Davis enlisted in January, 1940, after his withdrawal from college, with the 33rd Bombing Squadron and a few days after Pearl Harbor was on his way to Australia. From that time until he was reported missing his squadron was performing bombing missions from one of the small Pacific islands near Netherlands New Guinea.

Davis' Commanding Officer writes to his father, "We, his friends, share your anxiety over his welfare, for in the three years that he has been with this organization, he grew each day in the respect and admiration of the entire command. His zeal in action, his extraordinary professional knowledge, and the honesty of his character endear him to all with whom he came in contact". And "although no news has been received there is every possibility that he is alive and unhurt. We all look forward to his possible return".

time ago in Foggia, Italy, but it seems that the meeting place of Kenyon men is in the South Pacific. My job at present is Executive Officer of a heavy bombardment squadron. We have a great bunch of men.

DR. SALOMON HEARS FROM KENYON AST STUDENT

Convincing evidence of the effectiveness of the Army Specialized Training at Kenyon is conveyed in a letter to Professor Salomon from Irving Maness, who was a member of the German section of the training program here. In sending the letter which follows to the Bulletin Dr. Salomon says, "It is a most enjoyable proof that our work in ASTP was not in vain. The writer, one of our most brilliant and serious students, tells that he is connected for the time being with AMG office in Aachen. This is just the type of position in which we wanted to see our students. The linguistic form in which he expresses his gratitude for what he learned at Kenyon is in itself a flattering compliment to the language department; there is not a single linguistic mistake in the letter. It reads almost as if it were written by a German."

The letter, which was in German, as Dr. Salomon says, follows:

Germany, December 8th, 1945

"Dear Professor Salomon:

"It is a long time since I have written you a letter, but you can see that I am a long way from Kenyon. When I left Kenyon I promised to write you often; however, I did not keep my promise. Last week I received a letter from Peter Zuelzer and he told me that he has written you often and so I finally must write also.

"I have had many interesting experiences and I personally have gone through a period which is of great significance for later history. At present, thanks to the Lord, I am already in Germany, where I am doing my share in order to bring this war to a quick end. I am assigned to a military administration unit. I can make good use every day of the knowledge acquired with your help and in doing so I remember with pleasure your instruction. I would have liked to go more into details, but the censor does not permit this.

"Last week I had an interesting experience. I was standing upon the same spot on which Charlemagne received the emperor's crown. At this moment I remembered many discussions I had with you.

"I hope the war soon will be over so I may return home. Then I shall visit you and tell you personally about all my experiences.

"Cordial greetings

your former pupil

Irving Maness.

Just a note to tell you that I am definitely not "missing" and also never had any thought of being in such a state. I admit I have been "missing" from the list of contributors of the Kenyon Fund but that is another matter, which I have been very neglectful in correcting. Enclosed herewith is my subscription which is not the size I wish that it could be.

Had a delightful letter from Eddie Stansfield yesterday in which he told me of the return of one of the College's letters to me. Isn't it odd the way those things occur? Have been here some time and since being in France have been very much on the move. In fact I will be more used to life in a circus, consisting of one night stands, rather than, the static existence one usually leads in peace times.

It surely would have been enjoyable to have been in Gambier last June with all of you and am getting anxious for the return of those very happy times. As a matter of fact, sometime ago I decided quite definitely that I am too old for the Army! Anyhow after all this is over—don't please ever ask me to go on a camping trip! I am fed up with living in tents and washing out of a helmet!

Weather permitting, we are generally pretty busy, most of the time, which of course, makes the weeks pass as though they were days. As a matter of fact just about a year ago I made a flying trip to Gambier with Eddie and Clara to see Eddie Cless. As I recall, and I might add most pleasantly, we practically drank you out of house and home before you took us to dinner in Mt. Vernon. I have thought of that night so often Bob, we did have such a good time.

In my travels have seen Paris, which though hardly gay is truly beautiful. I was able to see most of the sights as well as go to Versailles, which was every bit up to expectation. Food is difficult to get there but the government has set up billeting as well as mess facilities so one does not have to rely on getting food in ordinary restaurants.

ALUMNI FUND REPORT

Up to the very last minute, when the books were closed December 31st on the 1944 Kenyon Fund I hoped to be able to report to the alumni that we had made our overall and unofficial goal of thirty thousand dollars. We missed it by $280.47. In other words, total contributions to the Fund during the last calendar year amounted to $29,719.53.

The campaign was conducted much as it had been the previous year. Committee organization work was done between May 5th and June 15th. On June 24th the first mailing went to all alumni in the form of a four-page broadside followed by four other mailings; another broadside about the middle of July, a printed letter in September, a printed card in early November reporting the progress of the campaign to October 31st and a final printed letter dated December 12th when contributions had reached about eighty-three percent of the goal.

Gifts totalling about thirteen thousand dollars which had come in between January 1st and the opening of the campaign gave us a good start. From then on there was a steady flow right up to December 31st.

It is necessary this year, as it was last, to mention in this report the special gift made to the Fund by Carl R. Ganter, '99, because his contributions for special purposes ($1,000.00 toward the cataloguing of Colburn Library and $10,000.00 to be used for the purchase of books for the Alumni Library) weight the final result considerably. Mr. Ganter's generosity to the College in many different directions is so continuous that we are somewhat accustomed to it but his gifts in 1944 were particularly welcome. The former, with others, is enabling us to do a very much-needed job in the Bexley Library and the latter has made possible the acquisition of a large number of books very much needed in the Alumni Library. However, it must be noted all the way through this report that Mr. Ganter's gift constituted thirty-seven percent of the total. Therefore, since his gifts accounted for the very large part of the gifts for special purposes (Table V) we get a better estimate of the showing of the alumni generally by deducting the amount contributed for special purposes from the total this year and last and then by comparing these two. Doing this we find that the increase in contributions received last year over the year before, for general operations and for the purposes shown on the subscription card is 46.6%, and of this showing the general alumni may be very proud.

It will be noted that 3150 alumni were solicited in 1944 as against 2850 in 1943, an increase of 10.5 percent. In 1944 633 individual alumni made contributions against 533 in 1943, an increase of 18.7 percent. And in 1944 20.1% of all living alumni contributed to the Fund. The percentage of increase in amount contributed over 1943 is 113.8%. The per gift average is $47.95 and the average contributed for all alumni $9.43. Both of these figures are very high when compared with those of other comparable colleges but here again it must be remembered that the Ganter gifts affect the result considerably.

In Table II is shown the results of the campaign in the several local associations arranged according to the percentage of quota reached. In some cases quotas for 1944 were considerably higher than for the previous year because where the quota was exceeded in 1943 that quota was used plus fifty percent of the difference between 1943 contributions and the 1943 quota; where the 1943 quota was not met (and in Toledo and Columbus, which were not set up as separate associations in 1942 and 1943) the quota was set at $5.00 per alumnus. It will be seen that the sixteen local associations taken together went 249% over their aggregate quota and that in those areas 32% of all alumni made contributions.

From the alumni outside of the local associations (1673) we received 158 contributions totalling $3,414.22, with 9.5% contributing. The amount of money received from outside alumni in 1944 was one of the bright spots in the picture and the number of outside alumni contributing increased 9.5%.

These figures speak for themselves. A great many Kenyon men, officers of local associations, committee chairmen and committeemen, did excellent work on this campaign and speaking for all of the alumni, for the College and for myself as "campaign manager" we are extremely grateful to them, particularly so in a year in which I know that every business man and professional man was busier than ever before.

Table III lists the ten highest classes in order of amounts contributed. The class of 1899 again walked off with the honors, due to Carl Ganter's large special gift for the Library last year.

It will be noted that every class from 1890 contributed, with four classes prior to 1890.

In Table IV are shown gifts by denominations. We received a great many larger gifts last year and it is interesting to note that the number of $10.00 gifts increased from 132 to 200.

Table V is a recapitulation of the allocation of gifts. The very large majority of alumni do not allocate their contributions and thus they go directly to the College as a gift for general operations. Gifts allocated to the Bexley Hall Development Fund go directly to that Fund; gifts to the Alumni Loan Fund go directly to that fund. Those allocated to scholarship and student aid, the Library, and the athletic program serve to reduce the amount of money which it is necessary for the trustees to appropriate out of their regular budgets to these departments and in that way are exactly as useful to the College as gifts not allocated or allocated to general operations. Gifts for special purposes, i.e., for purposes not included in the budget go, of course, direct to the purpose for which they were made.

The college fiscal year runs from August 1st to July 31st. For the purposes of the college budget I estimated that the alumni would contribute for general operations during the current fiscal year (exclusive of contributions for extra budgetary purposes) a total of $15,000.00. The current college budget therefore, includes this amount and, as the alumni know, will show a considerable deficit notwithstanding. Of the $15,000.00 budgeted we have already turned over to the College as of December 31, 1944, approximately twelve thousand dollars, leaving about $3000.00 to complete our commitment. Thus, all contributions received between January 1, 1945 and July 31, 1945, not otherwise allocated, will go to the College, first to complete our commitment and then to reduce further the deficit. From past performance it would appear possible that our gift to the College before the end of its fiscal year will be considerably in excess of the commitment.

The alumni are asked to contribute to Kenyon once each year for all ordinary purposes, a policy which was adopted in 1942 and which seems to meet with general approval. The number of alumni contributing is still disappointing but we did show a considerable increase last year when we added a hundred new names to our list and it is to be hoped that this increase will continue year by year. One very interesting fact in this year's figures is that alumni in the service contributed in almost exactly the same proportion as civilians. Contributions came from all over the world (shilling notes from New Guinea, and a pound note from England).

Thank you all for your cooperation and for your gifts. Every cent is being carefully and I think wisely used and is helping to carry Kenyon through these very critical times without too much loss of momentum.

TO THE ALUMNI:

Mr. Brown reports as Secretary of the College that no less than 633 Alumni contributed to the Kenyon Fund in 1944. This is exactly 100 more than the number who contributed last year. Mr. Brown tells me also that the proportion of those in the armed services who have contributed is about the same as the proportion of civilians. This significant fact makes even more impressive the statistics of the Fund and adds a special reason for gratitude. To every one of the 633 Alumni I send the thanks of the College.

So many officers and committee members in local associations have assisted Mr. Brown in bringing before the Alumni the needs of the College and Seminary, I take this occasion to thank them also for their good and effective work.

Three years ago when the Board of Trustees made the decision to continue instruction in the liberal arts and sciences and in theology if possible through the war, they knew that our success in this enterprise would depend among other things on the loyalty and generosity of all of the members of the College. It is very reassuring to see this widespread evidence of support by the Alumni.
