HISTORICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

The original object in founding these Institutions was the rearing up of Ministers of the Gospel in the midst of the habits and circumstances, and with all the facilities of economy peculiar to the western country, with especial reference to western wants. The first incorporation therefore, was under the name of the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio; and in this character, the Institution was opened for elementary instruction, at Worthington, near Columbus, in 1825.

Subsequently, an act of the Legislature was obtained, by which the President and Professors of said Seminary were constituted the Faculty of a College, by the name of Kenyon College; and by a concurrent act of the Convention of 1826, the Institution, thus modified and enlarged, was transferred from Worthington to Gambier, its present site.

Finally, in the year 1839, a further act of the Legislature was passed, providing for the incorporation of two separate Faculties—of Theology and Arts—one for the administration of the Theological Seminary, and the other for that of the College; and this provision, being carried into effect by the Convention of 1840, is now incorporated in the system of the Institution.

There have also been constituted, and for several years in successful operation, as auxiliary to the College, two Preparatory Schools, each under the care of one or more Principal Instructors, with a full complement of masters and teachers; so that the entire Institution now consists of four distinct Seminaries; the Theological Seminary; Kenyon College; the Senior Preparatory, and the Junior Preparatory Grammar Schools.

The Location at Gambier is beautifully chosen, and well adapted to the purposes of a Seminary of Learning on the largest scale. Nearly central in the State,—unconnected with any large town,—and yet within a moderate distance of the flourishing and central village of Mount Vernon, the county town of Knox County, it unites happily the benefits of seclusion, with great facility of intercourse in every direction.

The particular site, is a prominent head-land on the left bank of Vernon River,—five miles below the town,—elevated about 150 feet above the bottom lands, and commanding on the east, south and west, a varied and beautiful series of views over the fertile valley of that stream. The table land at the top of this elevation, rising slightly, towards the north, is occupied by the little village of Gambier, with the various edifices of the different Institutions distributed around it as follows.

I. BEXLEY HALL, the new and beautiful edifice destined for the accommodation of the Theological Seminary. This stands at the head of a wide avenue, about 400 yards north of the village, fronting due south. It is yet in an unfinished state, having been commenced only in 1841, but the exterior is sufficiently advanced to show, to great advantage, one of the purest specimens of Elizabethan Architecture in this country.

II. KENYON COLLEGE.—This more massive and venerable edifice stands about equidistant from the village, in the opposite direction from Bexley Hall; and being near the southernmost verge of the plateau, it overlooks the valley for several miles in both directions. The grounds around it, which are well shaded and beautifully sloped in every direction except the north, have been recently embraced, with Rosse Chapel and the dwellings of the College officers, in a park enclosure; and great pains are now taken to preserve the growth of trees, and to cultivate the whole as a green and shady park. The College building is of different dates; the centre part and spire having been erected in 1827-8, and the wings in 1834-5. The whole is of plain stone, 190 feet long, by 44 deep, and including the basement, four stories high.

III. ROSSE CHAPEL as it now stands, was erected in 1836. It has been used ever since for its appropriate purposes, but the interior of the Chapel proper is yet entirely unfinished. It is situated in the College Park, about 200 yards north, and a little west of the front of the College.

IV. Near Bexley Hall, in a south-westerly direction is the residence of the Bishop; and at a little distance on the other hand, in a very commanding and beautiful situation, MILNOR HALL, the building appropriated to the Junior Preparatory Department.

No building is yet provided for the Senior Preparatory Department, and in the mean time the Students of that Institution are accommodated with rooms in a part of the College edifice.

[The healthiness of Gambier, which has been satisfactorily tested by the experience of sixteen years, would naturally be inferred also from its topographical character and situation. It is too far north, and too much elevated above the adjacent stream and bottom lands to be affected by any miasmatic influences; and too remote from the Lake, having also a fine southern exposure, to be affected by the humid atmosphere of that vicinity. Perhaps no part of the State of Ohio is more favorably situated in regard to health, than the high central region of which Knox County forms a part, and it would be difficult to find, within that region, a spot more free than Gambier from all tendencies to local disease.]

Any candidate for orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, may, on examination, be received as a student in the Seminary; and any other person, who may give sufficient evidence of a fair moral and religious character. The candidates for admission, not Bachelors of Arts, will be examined in Latin and Greek Grammar, Sallust, Cicero's Orations, Virgil's Aeneid, Jacob's Greek Reader, and the four Gospels and Acts of the Apostles; and on the general principles of Natural, Intellectual, and Moral Philosophy, and Rhetoric. They will also be required to read an original composition.

Candidates for admission to an advanced standing must pass an examination in the studies which the class they desire to enter has pursued.

Every student, on admission, must subscribe the following declaration in the matriculation book of the Seminary:—

"We the subscribers, Students in the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio, do solemnly promise, with reliance on Divine Grace, that we will faithfully obey the laws and prosecute the studies thereof, endeavor to promote the reputation and interests of the Seminary, and make daily effort by pious reading, self-examination and secret prayer, to cultivate all religious and moral dispositions and habits, and grow in those graces which should characterize the Christian and the Minister of the Cross."

The course of study occupies three years, including the vacations, which are the same as in the other departments.

The subjects of study during the Junior Year, are Hebrew, Biblical Geography, Biblical Antiquities, Septuagint, Historical Books of the New Testament, the Principles of Biblical Criticism and Interpretation, and the Antiquities of the Christian Church.

The subjects of study during the Middle Year, are Hebrew and Interpretation of the New Testament continued, Christian Ethics, the Evidences of Christianity, Systematic Divinity and Ecclesiastical History.

The Senior Class is occupied with the study of the Scriptures, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, Church Polity, the Composition and Delivery of Sermons, and the Duties of the Pastoral Office.

Students are allowed to attend gratuitously, any recitations in Kenyon College which they may choose, provided they do not interfere with the appropriate duties of the Seminary.

A public examination of the students takes place at the close of every term.

No charge is made for Instruction, Room rent, or use of Library. Indigent students are aided from scholarships, and from the funds of the Missionary and Education Committee of the Diocese.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF KENYON COLLEGE.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be prepared to pass a strict examination in the following books and subjects, viz:

- IN GREEK. Anthon's GREEK GRAMMAR,
Anthon's Jacob's, or Felton's GREEK READER, or, at the option of the candidate, twenty DIALOGUES OF LUCIAN, and three books of Xenophon.
- IN LATIN. Gould's Adams, or Andrews' and Stoddard's, LATIN GRAMMAR.
Six Books of VIRGIL'S ÆNEID.
CICERO's Select Orations, Anthon's Ed.
- IN ENGLISH. Davies' ARITHMETIC,
ENGLISH GRAMMAR, and GEOGRAPHY.

In adjusting the grade of these requirements, the Faculty have aimed, purposely, to circumscribe the range of the Grammar School exercises, with a view to bring the pupil, as early as possible, under the influence of the College system; being well assured, that in this way, a better knowledge of elements is secured in the first instance, and a higher order of Scholarship and Science, eventually.

Candidates preparing for the Freshman Class are cautioned not to anticipate the studies of the College course, either in the Mathematical or Classic Department. In the former particularly, the attempt to learn the elements of Algebra or Geometry before admission, is found in most cases, to be a positive hindrance to the Mathematical discipline of the College. The better course is, for the candidate to confine his attention to the Classics, and especially to the authors named in the foregoing programme; to study these, not, as is too often done, with no higher view than to make out a loose English paraphrase, but rigorously parsing every sentence, until he shall have made himself thoroughly and practically acquainted with the Grammatical forms and Rules of both Languages. He will then be able to realize the true benefits of the Classic discipline in the College course, without such an engrossment of time as to prevent him acquiring also a full and complete course of pure and mixed Mathematics, beginning with the elements above named.

Candidates offering for advanced standing, will be examined in the studies of the College course corresponding to such standing: but for the reasons suggested in the preceeding paragraph it is hoped that no one will seek to enter in advance, except where circumstances render it unavoidable. Those at least who aim at Mathematical or Classic Honours, will find it of great importance to have passed through the studies of the Freshman year in the Institution.

The stated Examination for the admission of candidates, is on the day before commencement, annually; a supplementary examination, for the same purpose, is also held on the first day of each term; but students may be examined at other times, on application to the President.

MORAL QUALIFICATIONS.

Testimonials of good conduct are required in all cases; and every student on his admission, and before he can be assigned to a room, must subscribe a pledge, binding himself during his residence in the college, to abstain from ardent spirits, from gambling, and from the use of profane language, and in all other respects to observe the laws and regulations of the Institution.

MATRICULATION.

No student even after his admission to residence, is allowed to matriculate, until, after a probation of at least twenty weeks, he shall have established a personal claim to the confidence of the Faculty; failing in which he is liable to be dismissed.

Matriculation alone establishes the condition of full and accredited membership in the Institution, and renders the student, upon whom it is conferred, a proper candidate for degrees and honours. Should any student after matriculation, abuse the confidence on which that act proceeds, he may be degraded, i. e. reduced again to the condition of a Probationer, and then further disciplined, as the occasion may require.

PATRONAGE.

Each student, soon after his admission, is required to choose, and in failure to choose for himself within a reasonable time, the Faculty will nominate for him, some one of their number, to act as his College Patron. To this person, thus connected with him, he is at liberty, and is particularly requested to apply, as to a friend, whenever his inclination or circumstances may lead him to seek advice or information on any subject connected with his academic standing and pursuits, or with his personal welfare.

The patron, on his part, is required to take an active concern in behalf of the client thus committed to his care:—exercising a parental guardianship over him, and giving him advice and caution as he may see occasion. In doing this he will consult the wishes of the Parents as well as the interests of the Institution, counselling with both, for the promotion of his client's welfare, so long as he remains connected with the Institution.

STUDIES AND ACADEMIC EXERCISES.

There are generally, during the first two years of the course, sixteen regular recitations and exercises per week; the third year, fourteen; and the fourth, thirteen; not including Compositions, Declamations, and other occasional or appointed exercises, which occur, more or less, through the whole course, but particularly during the third and fourth years.

These recitations are appropriated to the different subjects of the respective years as follows, viz:—

A Class in French, under a skilful Instructor, is connected with the Institution; to which College students of the Junior and Senior classes are admitted, on application to the Faculty.

A Department of Civil Engineering and Architecture has also been instituted, under the instruction of the President;* and a course of theoretical and practical Lectures, with copious illustrations, will be given in the course of the ensuing summer, to which members of the Junior and Senior classes are admissible, with the consent of the Faculty.

Resident Graduates, in addition to the foregoing studies, and other ordinary privileges of the Institution, may have the benefit of a course of exegetical and critical readings in the higher Classics under the Professor of Languages;† or of higher Geometry and Analytics under the Professor of Mathematics.‡

No member of the College is permitted to pursue an irregular or partial course, of any kind, in lieu of his proper College course; nor can any Student be transferred from the College to the Preparatory Department for this purpose, except at the end of a term, after he shall have passed all his examinations, and then only with the approbation of the Faculty on the written request of his parent or guardian. §

EXAMINATIONS AND PUBLIC EXERCISES.

There is a regular examination of all the classes at the end of each Term. That which takes place at the end of the Summer term is called the Annual Examination, and is followed by the Commencement; the others are Term Examinations and are concluded with appropriate exercises in Declamation and Rhetoric.

Students who by sickness or any other unavoidable necessity, are prevented from appearing at the regular examination, may be examined separately, but no student, under any circumstances, is deemed to have made good his standing, or kept his term till he has passed a proper examination.

MARKS OF SCHOLARSHIP AND CONDUCT.

Every Student, at every recitation, is marked, according to his performance, from 0, to 3: the first symbol indicating a total failure, and the last a perfect recitation. When any one absents himself from a recitation, if excused, he is marked in proportion, otherwise, 0. Perfect recitations in any one subject during a whole term, give the maximum number attainable in that subject; and the performance of each student is estimated by the comparison of his actual number with that maximum.

A similar grade in Conduct is also made out at the end of each term, founded upon the observance of the following College requirements, viz: 1. Punctual attendance at all recitations. 2. Attendance at morning and evening prayers and at public worship. 3. Remaining in room, and preserving order therein, during study hours.

HONOURS.

Each class at the annual examination, being enrolled according to the grades &c., is marked off into sections [of from three to six, according to the state of the grades.] in each department; and each student who is embraced in the first section of any department, is considered as being distinguished therein. The assignment of an undergraduate to any responsible duty in the instruction of a Department, in the College or Grammar School, is also regarded as an honour. These are called honours by appointment; the others honours by grade. The following of both kinds were assigned at the last commencement, viz:

SOPHOMORES.*	{Lang	5 honours.	Boyd	4 honours.	Morris	4 honours.
	{Dowes	2 "	Woodward	2 "
FRESHMEN.	{Winston	4 "	Means	3 "	Smith	3 "
	{Bishop	3 "	Douglass	2 "	Rives	2 "

* * Two prize medals have also been instituted, for which a special [voluntary] examination of the graduating class is contemplated; to be conducted in writing, and open only to such as shall have attained a certain number of grade-honours during their College course.

LIBRARIES AND TEXT BOOKS.

The Libraries to which students may have access are as follows, viz:—

SENIOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This Institution is under the care of the Rev. Professor Sandels, assisted by the College Tutors and such other instructors as occasion may require. The students for the present occupy apartments in the College Building, under the same regulations as college students, and board at the same Boarding houses.

Appropriate courses of study are arranged on the plan of the best High Schools, both for those who are preparing to enter the Freshman Class in College, and for those who wish to obtain the elements of a thorough English Education; and the latter, when sufficiently advanced, are permitted by the Faculty to attend, without extra charge, the Lectures of the College Professors, on the branches in which they are engaged.

A NORMAL COURSE is also provided, [with the same privilege of attending the College Lectures,] for the benefit of those who wish to be Professionally educated as Teachers.

TEXT BOOKS.—Smith's English Grammar, Davies' Arithmetic, Goulds' Adams' Latin Grammar, Caesar's Commentaries, Virgil, Anthon's Cicero's Select Orations, Anthon's First Lessons in Greek, Anthon's Greek Grammar, and Anthon's Jacob's Greek Reader. In Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and other branches taught in the College, the Text Books are the same as those there used.

No student is received into this Institution under the age of Fifteen; and each, on his admission, must sign the pledge required of College students, and select a Patron.

The expenses of Tuition, Room Rent, &c., and all incidentals are the same for the Senior Grammar School as for the College, and payable in like manner.

JUNIOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

MILNOR HALL.—The spacious edifice appropriated to this Department is situated nearly half a mile from the College, on a beautiful eminence which affords the best opportunities for healthy, athletic exercises. It has accommodations for upwards of 50 pupils, besides the apartments allotted to the members of the household, and is furnished with a well selected Library of nearly 600 vols. The Institution is under the immediate charge of the Rev. Alfred Blake and the Rev. Norman Badger, as Associate Principals; both Presbyters of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and experienced in the instruction of youth. Other instructors are also added as the number of pupils may require.

ADMISSION.—Boys are received over ten and under fifteen years of age.

STUDIES.—Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, Arithmetic, English Grammar and Composition, Elocution, Sacred Music, the Bible and Church Catechism, Geography, History, Book-Keeping, Natural Philosophy, and the Latin and Greek Classics. All studies required for admission to the Freshman Class are taught in the School, though it is by no means confined to pupils preparing for College.

TEXT BOOKS.—Third and Fourth Eclectic Readers, Davies' Arithmetic, Smith's English Grammar, the Bible and Catechism, Mitchell's Geography and Geographical Reader, Hale's History of the U. States, Mrs. Phelps' Natural Philosophy, Anthon's Latin Lessons, Anthon's Cæsar, Anthon's Cicero, Virgil, Anthon's Greek Grammar, and Greek Reader.

Pupils whose parents wish them to remain at the Hall during the vacations, will receive a partial course of instruction under the same regulations as in Term time.

Parents, in committing their children to the care of the above named Principals, may feel assured, not only of their sound and efficient instruction, but of the most affectionate attention to their morals, manners and happiness, and a diligent effort to furnish them with as good a substitute as possible, in sickness, as well as in health, for the comforts of home. Both the Principals are married,—reside with the pupils, and have no other table than theirs. To the Matron is committed the charge of the clothing, and the care of the pupils when sick. The morning and evening worship of the Hall is confined to its own inmates. The Sunday worship is attended by the pupils, in charge of their instructors, at the College Chapel. Special attention is given, as heretofore, to train them in religious knowledge, through the study of the Holy Scriptures and the Catechism of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The great effort is, to combine the advantages of a well ordered Christian family with those of an efficient Institute of elementary and classical instruction.

EXPENSES.—Board, Tuition, Room Rent, Bed and Bedding, Washing, Fuel, Lights, and Medical attendance, for forty weeks of Term time, $120 per annum, payable each Term in advance. Incidentals from 2 to 3 dollars.

It is expected also that money will be deposited with the College Treasurer in advance, to meet the expenses of clothing &c.

Pocket money to be deposited with the Rev. Alfred Blake, to whom all letters relative to this Department may be addressed.
