Firemen's Contest.
On Monday evening, the members of the Fire Department, according to understanding, met upon the Public Square to engage in a contest of speed in coupling and uncoupling hose, throwing water, etc. The Steamer squad and the Second and Fifth Ward engine companies were the contestants. Washington No. 5 was the first to make the trial. The company numbers forty-four members, and is under charge of John Moore, ex-Foreman, with John Lawlor and George Wythe, as Assistants. The boys got to work and after laying ten sections, or five hundred feet of hose, uncoupled and coupled each section and threw water in 3 min. and 35 sec.—Lafayette No. 2, under Isaac Errett, as Foreman, and Wm. Hunt and A. C. Fink as Assistants, and numbering 30 members, then made the trial, and uncoupled and coupled the same amount of hose in 2 min. and 36 sec. This time was considerably less than No. 5's, but the latter claim to have made more connection than No. 2. The Steamer squad, under Hugh Lauderbaugh as Foreman, numbering 30 members, uncoupled and coupled their ten sections and threw water in exactly 2 minutes. The time made by each squad was remarkably good, considering that the work was done in darkness and that it was the first trial of the kind the boys had ever engaged in. A general desire was expressed at the time to have the contest repeated at some early day, when no doubt there will be a marked improvement.
Base Ball.
Our new club, or "Red Stockings" as they have been designated, and finally adopted as their name, went to Westerville on Monday to engage in a contest with the Oberlin University Nine. The latter club is composed of the best players out of two hundred students who attend that institution, though our boys found they had met a foe worthy of their steel. The game was called at 2 o'clock, p. m., and continued for two hours, at the end of which time the score stood 13 to 12 in favor of the University Nine. Up to the latter part of the game the Red Stockings led by a few tallies, but the tide changed, and the last inning, though some bad errors on the part of the Reds, decided the game against them. The return match will be played on Saturday next, at the Fair Grounds, and promises to be a very exciting and interesting one. An admission of 25 cents will be charged—ladies and carriages free. The Reds speak very highly of the courtesies extended them by the University boys and the citizens of Westerville generally.
Serious Accident.
Last Saturday evening, a brick-mason named Philip Reedy, attempted to board a passing train on the C. M. V. & C. R. R., at the crossing of Main street, but losing his balance was thrown under the train, one of the car wheels passing over his left foot, mashing it almost to a jelly. He was brought to town, and the wounded member dressed. But on Sunday, at a consultation of surgeons, it was decided in order to save the remainder of the foot, to amputate the contused part below the instep, and Doctors Larimore and Tudor performed the operation in a very successful manner. Reedy at present is as comfortable as could be expected, and will have ample time to meditate on his folly before he is able to be again.

Death of Adam Weaver.

Our citizens were greatly shocked on Tuesday upon hearing of the sudden death of Mr. Adam Weaver, which occurred at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of that day, from disease of the throat and lungs. For a number years past, he had been troubled with weak lungs, but it was not until within the last few weeks that he had indications of approaching death; and when we observed him on Saturday and Sunday taking his accustomed daily ride through our streets, little did we suppose that we would be so soon called upon to chronicle his death.
Mr. Weaver was a native of Lancaster, Ohio, and at the time of his death, lacked but a few days of being 60 years of age. He came to Mt. Vernon in 1844, when not quite 20 years of age, and engaged in the hardware business with his brother-in-law, Mr. Pope. This partnership lasted for three years, when he purchased Mr. Pope's interest, and continued the business in his own name up to the time of his death. He was married to Miss Lou H. Oberlin, on the 9th of July, 1871, at Oberlin, Ohio.
Mr. Weaver was one of our very best citizens. Enterprising, amiable, kind-hearted, and universally beloved, he died without a single enemy. By honesty and fair-dealing, good habits and close attention to business, he accumulated a large fortune—estimated at about $150,000, which, as he left no heirs of his body, will, by the laws of Ohio, descend to his wife. It is understood that his nephew, Mr. C. A. Pope, who has been Mr. Weaver's confidential clerk for twelve years past, will administer on the estate and continue the business as usual.
The funeral will take place from the late residence of the deceased on High street, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Sad Accident to Mrs. A. Banning Norton.
Mrs. A. Banning Norton, who accompanied her husband on the Excursion to the Texas Desert, met with a most shocking and terrible accident which in all probability will prove fatal, at the depot in Chicago, on Sunday, an account of which we append from the Tribune of Monday, Sept. 6th:
Immediately after their arrival, yesterday morning, an accident occurred which has thrown a gloom over the entire party. Mrs. A. B. Norton was standing against a car waiting for a train to pass by, and while watching her little son at play, the train which the car against which she was leaning, was attached, started up suddenly and threw her violently under the cars. The entire train ran over her, cutting her left arm off as cleanly as though done by a surgeon. She was removed to St. Luke's Hospital, where at a late hour last evening she was rapidly sinking. The accident contained no real tragedy, as she is believed to have suffered severe internal injuries besides the one to her arm.
Mrs. R. C. Hurd, sister-in-law of Mrs. Norton, received a telegram on Monday to the above effect, and started on Tuesday morning for Chicago. Mrs. Norton has a large circle of acquaintances and friends in Mt. Vernon, who will hear with deep regret the appalling news of the accident.
Suicide in Wayne Township.
A man named Lincoln Lore, aged about 40 years, in the employ of Mr. Benj. Dowler, residing about half a mile South-west of Fredericktown, on the Columbus road, went out into Mr. Dowler's orchard on Monday morning, and deliberately committed suicide, by cutting open his bowels, and then cutting his throat. He died in a very short time afterwards. The act surprised every one who knew him, as he seemed to be a good dispositional man, enjoyed good health, and never troubled himself much about anything. Before engaging with Mr. Dowler he lived at Paris, Illinois, but as to his ancestry and connections, we have heard nothing; nor have heard any further particulars in regard to the suicide than given above, which have been furnished us by a neighbor of Mr. Dowler.
A Distressing Case.
On Thursday week little Phyllis Adams, son of Judge Adams, while playing barefooted about his father's yard, jumped from the fence upon a broken bottle, cutting an ugly wound in his foot, from which the blood flowed copiously. A physician was called, who dressed the wound and no fears were apprehended at the time but that it would soon heal up. But since then hemorrhage has taken place several times, and an examination disclosed that an important artery had been severed. The difficulty now is to secure the end of the artery, in order to ligate, but as yet all efforts have been without avail, and it is feared the little fellow may become a cripple for life.
Settled with the State.
William E. Dunham, Esq., our County Treasurer, made his annual settlement with the Treasurer of State on Wednesday, August 31st. This is later than Knox county ever made her settlement before; but the delay has been owing to the unusual tardiness of the people in paying their taxes. The total amount paid into the State Treasury was $25,686.28; received back for school purposes $6,750.04. Net amount received by the State $18,936.24. Knox county collected for poller's license during the past year $81.20, which the State Treasurer reports to be the largest amount collected by any other county in the State.
The last Wayne County Democracy publishes in full the speech delivered by its able editor, Hon. E. B. Eshelman, before the Allen Club of Wooster, on the evening of August 28th. Mr. Eshelman was the Chairman of the Committee on Finance in the last Ohio Legislature, and his speech was devoted entirely to State Finances and State Politics. He shows, very conclusively, that under Democratic rule there has been a great saving in the people in taxes and expenses, as compared with Republican administrations in our State.
The Columbus Statesman gives us these words of encouragement: "The Democratic ticket will have an increased majority in our county," is quite a common expression with our Democratic friends when we meet from different sections of the State. Never before has Democracy so much reason to be encouraged. All that is needed to secure the election of Governor Allen by from thirty to fifty thousand majority, is good intelligent work upon the part of our Democratic friends throughout the State.
A certain steamship, while rapidly approaching the town of Belleville, Ontario, last week, blew her whistle, when a large dog on the street began to give short sharp, joyous barks, and to prance about as if he was highly pleased with something. The owner of the dog was a mate on the steamship, and the animal was brought ashore by his master. The dog barked and went on as if he was pleased, but at whatever hour his master boarded the animal always recognized the sound of the whistle and ran to greet his master.
Old residents of New Orleans, says the Times, who were wealthy before the war and Kellogg, are pawning their watches to buy food and clothing and pay taxes on property that they hope they may yet save and bequeath to their children.

THE "GEGHAN LAW."

Here is the "Geghan Law," over which the Republican speakers and presses are making a great howl. Any citizen will be opposed to the provisions of this law must be opposed to the principles of the Constitution of the United States. Just let everybody read and ponder this law, and point out any objections to it:—
"A Bill to secure liberty of conscience in matters of religion to persons imprisoned or detained by authority of law."
"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That, if any person, being a member of any religious denomination or persuasion, or reason of conviction of crime, or by reason of detention in any penal, reformatory or eleemosynary institution, or any House of Refuge, Work-house, jail or public asylum of the State, no person in any such institution shall be compelled to attend religious worship or instructions of a form which is against the dictates of his or her conscience; and it shall be the duty of the Director, Trustees, Superintendents or other person having in charge any such institution to furnish equal facilities to all such persons for receiving the ministrations of the authorized clergyman of their own religious denomination or persuasion, under such reasonable rules and regulations as the Trustees, Directors, Managers or Superintendents shall make; but no such rules shall be so construed as to prevent the clergyman of any denomination from fully administering the rites of his denomination to such inmates; provided such ministrations entail no expense on the public treasury."
SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.
GEO. L. CONVERSE, Speaker of the House of Representatives.
ALPHONSO HART, President of the Senate.
The Chicago Tribune, a leading Republican paper, says of this law:—
"Relative to the Geghan bill, passed by the Legislature of Ohio, and providing equal privileges to all religious sects in public, reformatory, penal and eleemosynary institutions, there is no question as to its intrinsic propriety and justice. The Tribune has never reflected upon the character of this law on the contrary, it has approved its purpose, and believes that such a law should be adopted in all States where bigoted officials exclude the ministrations of any institution from the ministrations of their own church; where there is no official attempt of this kind, the law is unnecessary. The law enforces the principle of common justice, which needs only to be formulated where the principle has been ignored."
In the late Massachusetts Legislature, Republican in both branches, an act similar to the so-called Geghan law was passed by Republican votes. The bill is correct in principle and proper in practice. It is merely giving to inmates of all State institutions full and entire liberty of conscience.
POLITICAL.
The New Orleans Picayune nominates Charles Francis Adams for President.
Republican leading are adding the "Southern outrage" business on the Pope of Rome.
If the Republicans carry Ohio, Taft is to have Delano's shoes. That's the "true inwardness" of it.
A Democratic possession at Raymond! Miss, a few days ago, was joined by three hundred colored citizens.
The Democrats of Greene county have nominated Dr. John Turnbull, of Bellbrook, for Representative.
It is said that it cost the people of Pennsylvania a million hundred dollars for a door to Gov. Hancock's stable.
The Democrats of Belmont and Harrison counties, have nominated Col. James Cady, of Harrison, for Senator.
Every Republican newspaper in Ohio is, and from now until the election will be, a cheap edition of "Fox's book of martyrs."
Allen is stronger by ten thousand votes in Ohio than he was a week ago, is the opinion of Col. McClure of the Philadelphia Times.
Four years more of Radical rule would reduce nine-tenths of the people to slavery and put the people in the power of the Money Kings.
The untaxed bondholders of the East, don't care how much real estate, labor or business may shrink; they demand their pound of flesh.
The Indianapolis Journal considers Judge Taft a prospective candidate for the Presidency, should the Republicans win in Ohio this fall.
Chilton A. White, formerly member of Congress from Brown county, has been nominated by the Democrats of Hamilton county for the Senate.
It is charged by Mr. Walker that Delano cost the government $10,000 a year for horses and carriages. Here is a fine chance to "point with pride."
The Cincinnati Volksfreund says that Governor Allen is very popular amongst the Germans in Hamilton county, and will run away ahead of his ticket.
Governor Smith, Gen. Gartrell and Messrs. Colquh, Hardeman and J. H. James are urged as candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in Georgia.
Poor men who vote the Republican ticket, this year, should not complain of the hard times, as by thus voting they support the policy which produces "hard times."
Governor Allen refuses to ride "dead head" on the Ohio railroads, which is an example that might be followed at Washington. Fancy Grant fumbling around in his pockets for money to buy a railroad ticket!

Mount Vernon, Ohio, August 13-1875

The Marion Mirror says: Gov. Allen has uttered a sentiment which ought to be written in letters of gold: "Permit me to make one observation, that every one can apply as he pleases: if we don't get back in this country to cheap government and honest living then the country is gone." These were the words with which Governor Allen closed his remarks at the Granger's picnic at the Licking County fair grounds.

The King of Bavaria looks upon himself as a singular being upon whom Providence inflicted a fantastic and very difficult temperament. Physically Ludwig is all right, but his weak point lies in his mind. It has been suggested to him to try an excellent cure, viz., to come over to America and open stores behind a counter for customers from 8 in the morning till 3 o'clock after midnight. That would diversify the train of his thoughts and keep him from continually harping on his daughter—which he never had.

Knox County Farmer.

How Little Grain Can We Sow to the Acre.

In the grasshopper district, where everybody is looking for some substitute of late growth for their destroyed wheat, oats, etc., but where seed is not, and money to buy with about as scarce as seed, it is important to know, not so necessarily how much seed to buy, as to know how little is necessary for a given number of acres. Seeking knowledge from old farmers who ought to know, and finding so wide a range of views as to quantity, I determined to weigh and count small quantities, and thus by calculation to arrive at about a proper quantity to plant. Beginning with turnips—purple top strap leaf—lock one bushel, avaridrop, and found, by actual count, it contained 1,077 sound seed, or 28,382 in one ounce, 423,312 in one pound. One bushel of millet contains 1,100, one ounce 18,000, one pound 288,240, and one bushel 14,412,000 seeds. Two ounces (counted) of buckwheat contains 2,325, one pound 18,000, one bushel 967,200 sound seed. Of this sample, 95 per cent. sprouted on trial.

In one acre there is 43,472 square feet, or 173,889 six-inch square blocks, and 6,250,983 square inches. Sowing one turnip square block seven ounces will put one seed on each and leave nearly 14,000, or one seed to every three square feet, or scatter promiscuously, or be lost. On the same calculation, half a bushel of millet will place 1,100 seed to every square foot, or 180 to the square foot. Is that thick enough? Plenty for hay, and half too much if sown for seed.

This brings me to your half bushel branching buckwheat. Taking 173,889 six-inch square blocks in an acre, and 967,200 seed in a bushel, as a basis, one seed gives 241,800, or 67,914 more than one to each block upon 1 1/2 to every six inch square, or 53 seeds to each square foot. With only four, even to ten per cent. of worthless seed, I would like to see it spread itself. I have come—since counting seed—to the conclusion that one ounce of turnip seed equals one half bushel of millet for grass, and one-fourth of one third for seed; and one peck of buckwheat is an abundance for an acre. Don't waste as much seed generally as is necessary to plant our farms. In our experiment with seed I tried turnip seven years old, and find that over 90 per cent. came up well and thrifty.—Cor. Rural World.

Saving Pig Manure.

It is not an easy matter to save all the manure from pigs. I have allowed for a loss of seven per cent.; on my farms, I presume, seven per cent. loss would be nearer the truth. The food of cows and sheep contains a large proportion of woody fibre. This is voided in the feces. But the food of pigs contains very little woody fibre; nearly the whole of the food is digested, and consequently we get a small amount of solid faeces and a very large proportion of liquid manure. Now, a pound of nitrogen in the urine is the crude, undigested matter found in the faeces.—And this is true in the case of all animals in regard to phosphoric acid. Prof. Johnson estimates soluble phosphoric acid at sixteen and a quarter cents per pound, and insoluble phosphoric acid at six cents.—The nitrogen and phosphoric acid in manure from pigs, therefore, is usually worth much more than that in the manure of cattle, sheep and horses. It is worth, probably, about as much as that found in manure. In the manure, however, it is an easy matter to avoid loss, but in pig-manure there is so much water that it is necessary to take special pains to prevent its running off. If we can save the urine of pigs, it will be found a very active and powerful manure.

On my own farm I keep on an average about one hundred and fifty pigs. I have not yet used dry pig manure as an absorbent, but I propose to do so. I have more or less dry earth about the pens, and I have two collars that are only partly dug out. I keep twenty or thirty pigs in each of these collars, and we wheel on the saturated earth from time to time and use it as manure. This is an economical way of digging a cellar. We gather everything on the farm that can be used for bedding, such as potato vines, leaves, etc., and it is astonishing what a mass of manure can be made in this way. Then we save all the droppings of the horse-stables, and use the droppings for bedding the pigs. I need hardly say that horse-droppings, saturated with pig urine, make a powerful manure. We cut all our straw and corn stalks into chaff, and we find that chaff and straw makes far better bedding than long straw. It absorbs more liquid, and the manure is more easily handled.—Joseph Harris.

When to Buy Sheep.

As a rule, the best time to buy is in the late summer—as flockmasters who have kept their sheep through the winter prefer to shear them before selling. It is usually most profitable to do so. After the first to the middle of August, the lambs are ready for weaning, and the farmer knows pretty well what the increase of his flock is to be, and also what the crops of grain and grasses will allow him to winter properly. The season's yield at home also affords the buyer a better opportunity for gauging the number of sheep to buy, the probable conditions of barn and granary.—Ordinarily, where one seller of store sheep can be found in the spring, ten can be found in the late summer or fall.

Three Points for Consideration!!

DURING the past five years the VEGETINE has been steadily working itself into public favor, and those who were at first most incredulous in regard to its merits are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

There are three essential causes for those having such a change of opinion, and these are:—

1. The fact that the VEGETINE is made from bark, roots and herbs, 2. It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without any harmful or poisonous ingredients. 3. It is a homeopathic remedy, and its action is in perfect harmony with the laws of nature.

The Third Body Sues for Sleep.

BOSTON, March 10, 1874.

Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your VEGETINE—even if it is a patent medicine—has been of great help to me in many cases.

Excessive mental work or over-exhaustion upon me a nervous exhaustion that desperately needs sleep, but as desperately desires it. Night after night the poor fellow lies awake until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost frantic desire for sleep.

Now I have a particular horror of "patent medicine," but I have a great horror of being afraid to tell the straight truth. The VEGETINE has helped me, and I own it up.

Yours, etc., J. S. DICKERSON.

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. WALKER, D. D., formerly pastor of the Bowdoin Square Church, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be esteemed as reliable evidence.

No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in Rev. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 Transit street.

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family has used it for two years, and in the nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER.

The following letter from Rev. S. B. BEST, pastor M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians, and those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. BEST. No person can doubt this testimony, and there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 1, 74.

Dear Sir:—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE as a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from nervous debility, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of all the best physicians, and a course of medicine, failed to give him any but the faintest hope of his recovery. Two of the number declaring he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that he would never recover.

He has now recovered, and is as healthy and walks about cheerfully and strong. Though there is still some discharge from the penis, which the Hm. was cured, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has now recovered, and is as healthy and walks about cheerfully and strong. Though there is still some discharge from the penis, which the Hm. was cured, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

Respectfully yours, S. B. BEST.

Reliable Evidence.

173 Bond St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14, '74.

Dear Sir—From personal benefit received by my son, as well as from personal knowledge of those who have cured their children of the same disease, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend the VEGETINE for the complaint for which it is claimed.
