HISTORICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

The original object in founding these Institutions was the rearing up of Ministers of the Gospel in the midst of the habits and circumstances, and with all the facilities of economy peculiar to the western country, with especial reference to western wants.* The first incorporation therefore, was under the name of the "Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio;" and in this character, the Institution was opened for elementary instruction, at Worthington, near Columbus, in 1825.

Subsequently, as pupils in elementary science and the classics increased, an act of the Legislature was obtained, by which the President and Professors of said Seminary were constituted the Faculty of a College, by the name of Kenyon College; and by a concurrent act of the Convention of 1826, the Institution, thus modified and enlarged, was transferred from Worthington to Gambier, its present site.

In this arrangement however, the original object of the Institution was not changed. Its aim was still to furnish, on the most economical plan, such an education, whether in elementary or other branches, as is required in a thorough preparation for the ministry,* and as a College course became necessary for this purpose, it was believed,—and the belief has been fully realized,—that by throwing open the College and its auxiliary institutions for the reception of pupils at large, the two departments would mutually aid and promote each other.†

The operations of the Institution, as a Seminary of learning, for some years after its transfer to Gambier, as well as at Worthington before, were,—under the circumstances of its organization,—almost exclusively academic; and in this Department therefore, were instituted the first Professorships. That of Latin and Greek, the first in order, was filled as early as the year 1825, while the Institution was still at Worthington; that of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy in 1829; Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and Chemistry in 1830; and Rhetoric, History, &c., in 1834.

In the Theological Department the first Professorship, that of Systematic Divinity, was filled in 1830; Ecclesiastical Polity, Pastoral Divinity, and Sacred Literature, in 1833; and Ecclesiastical History in 1837.

These appointments and dates show the rise and progress of the Institution, under its venerable founder and his successor in office—pari passu with the advancement of its first pupils,—from the elementary Grammar School of 1825, to the fully developed College and Seminary of 1833–4.

* Bishop McIlvaine's Circular, 1833.

† Bishop Chase's Address to the Convention of 1826.

The interior government of the entire Institution during this period, and for some years after the date last mentioned, was vested in a mixed Board or Faculty, composed of the professors in Arts and Theology indiscriminately, by whom degrees were conferred and other corporate acts performed for both departments. But this arrangement having been found in some respects inconvenient, a further act of the Legislature was obtained in 1839, under which, in 1840, the mixed faculty was resolved into two—one of Theology and one of Arts—by whom the two Institutions have since been administered separately.

Under this system, degrees in Arts and Academic degrees generally, are now conferred by the Faculty of Arts, acting corporately under the name and title of "The President and Professors of Kenyon College;" and in Divinity, by the Theological Faculty under the name of "the President and Professors of the Theological Seminary of the Diocese of Ohio."

There have also been constituted, and for several years in successful operation, as auxiliary to the College, two Preparatory Schools, each under the care of one or more Principal Instructors, with a complement of masters and teachers in the various branches of preparatory and elementary knowledge; so that the entire Institution now consists of four distinct Seminaries; the Theological Seminary; Kenyon College; the Senior Preparatory, and Junior Preparatory Grammar Schools.

The tract upon which these Institutions are located is a square of four thousand acres,* lying on both sides of Vernon River, in the County of Knox, five miles below the flourishing post town of Mount Vernon, which is also the County town. It was purchased for the present object, by Bishop Chase, in the year 1826, from William Hogg, Esq., of Brownsville, Pa., and by a unanimous vote of the Convention of that year was confirmed and settled as the site of the Theological Seminary of the Diocese of Ohio and Kenyon College for ever.

The situation is admirably chosen in point of natural beauty, healthiness, retirement, internal resources, and convenience of access; and in every respect well adapted to the purposes of a Seminary of Learning on the largest and most liberal scale. Nearly in the center of the State, unconnected with any large Town, with its own domain extending on every side, to the distance of more than a mile from the College, it is effectually guarded against injurious neighborhoods, while it has an easy communication, by Mount Vernon, with Cleveland and other points of the Lake shore on the north, and with Columbus and the national road on the south. No situation could more happily combine the advantage of seclusion, so needful to the student, with the facilities of intercourse in every direction.

The particular site of the College and other buildings is an elevated ridge or headland jutting out from the general slope of the hills on the north side of the valley of Vernon River, and having consequently a fine open expanse towards the east, south, and west, with a protection of rolling upland and forest on the north. The table land at the top of this ridge, indefinite in its extent northerly, and from one to five hundred yards wide, affords an irregular area, somewhat undulating, but generally elevated about 150 feet above the stream; the centre of which is occupied by the little village of Gambier, with the buildings of the different Institutions commodiously and tastefully disposed around it.

I. On a knoll somewhat elevated above the plat of the village, and about a quarter of a mile north, is the new and beautiful building of BEXLEY HALL, intended for the accommodation of the Theological Seminary. This having been commenced in 1841, is still unfinished; it is fully enclosed however, and rooms are already prepared for the reception of students, some of which are now occupied; and externally, except the bow window in front, it is essentially complete.

II. About 500 yards in the opposite direction, and near the southernmost point of the plateau, stands the more massive and venerable edifice of KENYON COLLEGE, fronting north, and overlooking, with all the advantages of its peculiar position, the valley and stream of Vernon River, to the distance of several miles in all directions. This building is of plain stone, 190 feet long, and four stories high, including the basement; with battlements, pinnacles, belfry, and a spire 117 feet high.

The grounds around it, which are well shaded and beautifully sloped in every direction except the north, have been recently embraced, with Rosse Chapel and the dwellings of the College officers, in a park enclosure; and great pains are now taken to preserve the growth of trees, and to cultivate the whole as a green and shady park. A stone gate way for foot passengers, has been recently constructed at the entrance of these grounds, near the village, and a wide gravelled walk extending thence to the College; besides which, for the accommodation of carriages, lateral entrances are also provided in front and rear of Rosse Chapel.

III. About 200 yards north, and a little west of the College Front, within the park enclosure, is ROSSE CHAPEL, a substantial stone building, in Ionic Architecture, finished externally, but within wholly unfinished, except a basement room for morning and evening prayers. The foundations of this building were laid by Bishop Chase, and the walls raised to the floor: the present building was erected, with some variation from the original plan, in 1836, and has been occupied as a College Chapel, and as the parish Church of Harcourt Parish since that time. The upper part, being unfinished, is only used in summer.

IV. Near Bexley Hall, in a south-westerly direction is the residence of the Bishop; and at a little distance on the other hand, in a very commanding and beautiful situation, MILNOR HALL, the building appropriated to the Junior Preparatory Department.

No building is yet provided for the Senior Preparatory Department, and in the mean time the Students of that Institution are accommodated with rooms in a part of the College edifice.

The position at Gambier, it has been observed, is well chosen in regard to health, and this, which would naturally be inferred also from its topographical features and relations, is abundantly verified by the experience of the Institution since its removal hither in 1827. It is too high both in latitude and elevation above the bottoms of the neighboring stream to be affected with miasmatic influences, and too far from the Lake, protected as it is by the intervening ridge and other safeguards on the side of the north, to be much affected by the damp chilly atmosphere of that vicinity. Perhaps no part of Ohio is more favorably situated in this respect than the high central region of which "the Hill" of Gambier is a part; nor would it be easy to find, within that region a place more free from all local influences calculated to produce disease.

* * It will be interesting to the friends of the Institution to learn that the College lands have been released from the incumbrance of debt which, less than a year ago, threatened their alienation. Since that time, by the successful efforts of Bishop McIlvaine in raising money for this object, the whole of the debt for which the Estate was mortgaged has been discharged.

The design was furnished by an English Architect in 1835, at which time the funds for the erection were also raised by Bishop McIlvaine, in England. The material of the window and chimney caps, copings, pinnacles, &c., is a fine light coloured free stone; and of the walls and buttresses, brick, coloured to correspond.

Candidates for admission to an advanced standing, must pass an examination in the studies which the class they desire to enter has pursued.

Every student, on admission, must subscribe the following declaration in the matriculation book of the Seminary:—

"We the subscribers, Students in the Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio, do solemnly promise, with reliance on Divine Grace, that we will faithfully obey the laws and prosecute the studies thereof, endeavor to promote the reputation and interests of the Seminary, and make daily effort by pious reading, self-examination and secret prayer, to cultivate all religious and moral dispositions and habits, and grow in those graces which should characterize the Christian and the Minister of the Cross."

The course of study occupies three years, including vacations, which are the same as in other departments.

The subjects of study during the Junior Year, are Hebrew, Biblical Geography, Biblical Antiquities, Septuagint, Historical Books of the New Testament, the Principles of Biblical Criticism and Interpretation, and the Antiquities of the Christian Church.

The subjects of study during the Middle Year, are Hebrew and Interpretation of the New Testament continued, Christian Ethics, the Evidences of Christianity, Systematic Divinity and Ecclesiastical History.

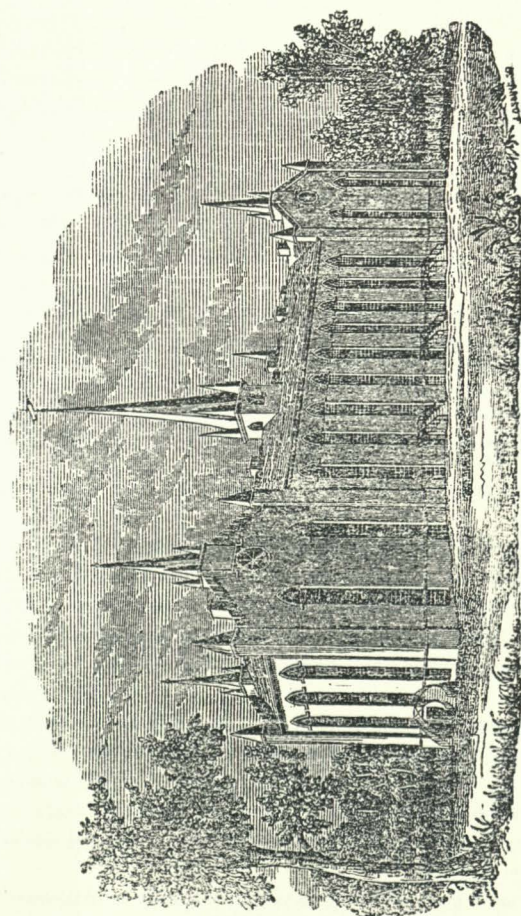

The Senior Class is occupied with the study of the Scriptures, Systematic Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, Church Polity, the Composition and Delivery of Sermons, and the Duties of the Pastoral Office.

Students are allowed to attend gratuitously, any recitations in Kenyon College which they may choose, provided they do not interfere with the appropriate duties of the Seminary.

A public examination of students takes place at the close of every term.

No charge is made for instruction, Room rent, or use of Library. Indigent students are aided from scholarships, and from the funds of the Missionary and Education Committee of the Diocese.

KENYON COLLEGE.

KENYON COLLEGE.

The building of this Institution occupies a prominent point at the southern extremity of "the Hill," overlooking the valley of Vernon River, with its varied scenery, to a considerable distance above and below. The grounds around it,—about 50 acres,—including a fine native grove, with Ross Chapel and the residences of the President and Professors, have been enclosed as a College park, and partially improved by clearing out the under growth, opening walks, and planting shrubbery and trees; a handsome stone gate way has also been erected near the village during the last season, and a broad walk laid down of the same material from thence to the College. The building itself is 190 feet long, by 45 deep, and four stories high, including the basement which opens on a level in rear. The centre spire rises 117 feet above the esplanade in front, or about 277 above the water of Vernon River, which on the west side approaches within 300 yards of the building. There are—besides Halls, Libraries, and Recitation Rooms—56 Rooms for Students, which have recently been fitted up in a very neat manner, and furnished with convenient standing Furniture.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF KENYON COLLEGE.

ADMISSION.—Candidates for Admission to the Freshman Class must be prepared to pass a strict examination in the following books and subjects, viz:

- In Greek.* Anthon's GREEK GRAMMAR,
Anthon's Jacob's, or Felton's GREEK READER, or, at the option of the candidate, twenty DIALOGUES OF LUCIAN, and three books of Xenophon.
- In Latin.* Gould's Adams, or Andrews' and Stoddard's, LATIN GRAMMAR.
Six Books of VIRGIL'S ÆNEID.
Anthon's Cicero's Select Orations.
- In English.* Davies' ARITHMETIC.
ENGLISH GRAMMAR and GEOGRAPHY.

Candidates preparing for the Freshman Class are cautioned not to anticipate the studies of the College course, either in the Mathematical or Classic Department. In the former particularly, the attempt to learn the elements of Algebra or Geometry before admission, is found in most cases, to be a hindrance to the Mathematical discipline of the College. A better course for the candidate, if he has time to spare, is to direct his attention exclusively to the elementary Classics, and especially to the authors above named; let him study these faithfully,—analyzing the construction, and parsing every sentence, until he shall have made himself thoroughly and practically acquainted with the grammatical forms and rules of both Languages. He will then realize the true benefits of the Classic discipline in his College course, and be able to maintain a respectable standing in that department without encroaching so much of his time as to prevent him taking a very full and complete course of pure and mixed Mathematics.

Candidates offering for advanced standing, will be examined in the studies of the College course corresponding to such standing; but for the reasons suggested in the preceding paragraph it is hoped that no one will seek to enter in advance, except where circumstances render it unavoidable. Those at least who aim at Mathematical or Classic Honors, will find it of great importance to have passed through the studies of the Freshman year in the Institution.

No candidate is admitted into the Freshman class under fifteen; and even at that age, unless he is more than ordinarily mature he will find it rather difficult to meet all the requirements of his college course. Sixteen or seventeen is generally a better age, if proper attention has been paid in the preceding years, to the formation of good academic habits; and in that case, even two or three additional years is no objection. A proportionate increase of age is, of course, necessary for admission into the higher classes.

Testimonials of good conduct are required in all cases, and a regular dismission, when the candidate comes from another college. Every student on his admission, and before he can be assigned to a room, must subscribe a pledge, binding himself during his residence on the Hill, to abstain from ardent spirits, from gambling, and from the use of profane language, and in all other respects to observe the laws and regulations of the Institution.

The stated Examination for the admission of candidates, is on the day before commencement annually; a supplementary examination, for the same purpose, is also held on the first day of each term; but students may be examined at other times, on application to the President.

MATRICULATION.—No student even after his admission to residence, is allowed to matriculate, until he shall have sustained a satisfactory probation of at least twenty weeks, and established a personal claim to the confidence of the Faculty; failing in which he is liable to be dismissed. Matriculation alone gives accredited membership in the Institution, and renders the student upon whom it is conferred a proper candidate for degrees and honours. Should any student after matriculation, abuse the confidence on which that act proceeds, he may be degraded, i. e. reduced again to the condition of a Probationer, and then further disciplined as the occasion may require.

PATRONAGE.—Each student, after his admission, is required to choose,—and in failure to choose for himself within a reasonable time, the Faculty will nominate for him,—some one of their number, to act as his College Patron. To this person, thus connected with him, he is at liberty, and is expected to apply, as to a friend, whenever his inclination or circumstances may lead him to seek advice or information on any subject connected with his academic standing and pursuits, or with his personal welfare.

The patron, on his part, is required to take an active concern in behalf of the client thus committed to his care:—exercising a parental guardianship over him, and giving him advice and caution as he may see occasion. In doing this he will consult the wishes of the Parents as well as the interests of the Institution, and will take care to be advised of both, as may seem necessary for his client's welfare, so long as he remains connected with the Institution.

STUDIES AND ACADEMIC EXERCISES.—There are generally, during the first two years of the course, sixteen regular recitations per week; the third year, fourteen; and the fourth, thirteen; not including Compositions, Declamations, and other occasional or appointed exercises, which occur, more or less, through the whole course.

These Recitations are appropriated among the different subjects of the respective years as follows, viz:—

FIRST AND SECOND YEARS.—Four Recitations per week, in Latin; four in Greek; five in Mathematics; two in Classical Antiquities and History, and one in the Scriptures.

THIRD YEAR.—Four Recitations per week, in Latin or Greek; three in Mechanics, and Natural Philosophy; four in Logic, Rhetoric, and English Literature; two in History, and one in the Scriptures.

FOURTH YEAR.—Four Recitations per week, in Latin and Greek; three in Astronomy and in Chemistry; five in the President's course, [Philosophy of Mind, Evidences of Christianity, Analogy of Natural and Revealed Religion, and Moral and Political Philosophy,] and one in the Scriptures.

A Department of Civil Engineering and Architecture has been instituted, under the instruction of the President,* and an open course of theoretical and practical Lectures, with copious illustrations, to which members of the Junior and Senior classes are admissible, with the consent of the Faculty.

Resident Graduates, in addition to the foregoing studies, and other ordinary privileges of the Institution, may have the benefit of a course of exegetical and critical readings in the higher Classics under the Professor of Languages;† or of higher Geometry and Analytics under the Professor of Mathematics.‡

No member of the College is permitted to pursue an irregular or partial course, of any kind, in lieu of his proper College course; nor can any student be transferred from the College to the Preparatory Department for this purpose, except at the end of a term, after he shall have passed all his examinations; and then only with the approbation of the Faculty, on the written request of his parent or guardian.§

EXAMINATIONS AND PUBLIC EXERCISES.—There is a regular examination of all the classes at the end of each Term. That which takes place at the end of the Summer term is called the Annual Examination, and is followed by the Commencement; the others are Term Examinations, and are concluded with appropriate exercises in Declamation and Rhetoric.

Students who by sickness or any other unavoidable necessity, are prevented from appearing at the regular examination, may be examined separately, but no student, under any circumstances, is deemed to have made good his standing, or kept his term till he has passed a proper examination.

MARKS OF SCHOLARSHIP.—Every Student at each recitation is marked, according to his performance, from 0 to 3: the first symbol indicating a total failure, and the last a perfect recitation. When any one absents himself from a recitation, if excused, he is marked in proportion, otherwise, 0. Perfect recitations in any one subject during a whole term, give the maximum number attainable in that subject; and the performance of each student is estimated by the comparison of his actual number with that maximum.

A similar grade in Conduct is also made out at the end of each term, founded upon the observance of the following College requirements, viz: 1. Punctual attendance at all recitations. 2. Attendance at morning and evening prayers and at public worship. 3. Remaining in room, and preserving order therein, during study hours.

HONOURS.—Those who, in any department of the College course or in conduct, attain a maximum, or very nearly a maximum, are marked on the roll of that department, as DISTINGUISHED. On the other hand those who fall so near the minimum as in any degree to implicate their standing, are marked as contra-distinguished. The assignment of an undergraduate to any responsible duty in the instruction of a department, in the college or grammar school, is also regarded as an honour. The following honours were accordingly awarded during the year ending on the 2nd August last, viz:

JUNIOR CLASS.*—Bowes 10, Boyd 10, Lang 10 and 1 by appointment.

SOPHOMORE " Bishop 10, Camp 10, Douglass 10, Smith 10, Riddick 2.

FRESHMAN " Benedict [proportioned for the year] 12, Cooley 12, E. M. Buckingham 11, Nash 11, Elliott 2, Lawson 2.

** Two prize medals have also been instituted, for which a special [voluntary] examination of the graduating class is contemplated; to be conducted in writing, and open only to such as shall have attained a certain number of grade-honors during their college course.

LIBRARIES AND TEXT BOOKS.—The Libraries to which students may have access, are as follows, viz:—

- |  |             |
|--|-------------|
| 1. The Library of the Seminary and College, containing about | 4,500 Vols. |
| 2. That of the Nu Pi Kappa Society,                          | " " 1,500 " |
| 3. That of the Philomathesian "                              | " " 1,750 " |

STUDENTS ROOMS.—The interior of the College has been recently repaired through out; the rooms neatly fitted up and papered; and the following articles of furniture placed in each, viz: a Bedstead for two Single beds; straw Mattresses and Chairs, one of the former and two of the latter to each student; a large study Table, and a Wash-stand.* Bedding and light furniture, as also fuel and lights, are furnished by the occupant.

* The system having been recently introduced was not applied to the Seniors.

Two students occupy one room, unless otherwise specially permitted; and on taking possession, they give a receipt and are held accountable, both for the room and furniture, until possession is regularly re-conveyed to the Registrar of Rooms, and the receipt cancelled.

Each student must deposit $2.00 with the College Treasurer at the beginning of each Term, to cover breakage and incidental damages to the College Buildings; the balance, if any, to be refunded at the end of the term.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE, BOARDING, &c.—Medical advice and attendance are given by the College Physician, to all members of the Institution who require it; for which $2.00 per annum is included in the College bills.

Board is furnished at private houses, licensed under certain regulations for that purpose, at rates varying from $1, [payable monthly in advance] to $1 50, per week.

Washing may be contracted for at 75 cents per month, and Fuel [good Hickory] costs $1.25 per cord, delivered at the College.

COLLEGE EXPENSES.—To be paid to the Treasurer at the beginning of each Term in advance, viz: Tuition, $30.00. Room Rent, use of Furniture, Medical attendance, care of Halls, Recitation Rooms and Chapel, and all other items [except deposits for damages] for forty weeks, $15.00. Total [exclusive of vacations] $45.00.

INCIDENTAL EXPENSES, [for the same period of Forty weeks] payable to individuals as they accrue, viz: Board from $40.00 to $60.00. Washing from $6.00 to 8.00. Fuel and Lights from $5.00 to $10.00. Text Books from $6.00 to $12.00. Postage, Stationery, &c. &c., from $10.00 to $20.00. Total from $67.00 to $110.00.

The estimate of ALL EXPENSES therefore, [except clothing] will be from $112.00 to $155.00 per annum, exclusive of vacations.

** Parents are respectfully requested, for obvious reasons, to make their remittances, in all cases, through the College Patron, or in some way subject to his controul; and to advise with him also as to any allowance of money they may wish to furnish their sons, over and above the estimate here given.

SENIOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This Institution is under the care of the Rev. Professor Sandels, assisted by the College Tutors and other instructors as occasion requires. The students for the present occupy apartments in the College Building, under the same regulations as college students, and board at the same Boarding houses.

Appropriate courses of study are arranged on the plan of the best High Schools, both for those who are preparing to enter the Freshman Class of College, and for those who wish to obtain the elements of a thorough English Education; and the latter when sufficiently advanced, are permitted by the Faculty to attend, without extra charge, the Lectures of the College Professors, on the branches in which they are engaged.

A NORMAL COURSE is also Provided, [with the same privilege of attending the College Lectures,] for the benefit of those who wish to be Professionally educated as Teachers.

TEXT BOOKS.—Smith's English Grammar, Davies Arithmetic, Goulds' Adams' Latin Grammar, Caesar's Commentaries, Virgil, Anthon's Cicero's Select Orations, Anthon's First

* This system saves the student, entering college, an outlay of from 25 to 50 Dollars.

Lessons in Greek, Anthon's Greek Grammar, and Anthon's Jacob's Greek Reader. In Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and other branches taught in the College, the Text Books are the same as those there used.

No student is received into this Institution under the age of Fifteen; and each, on his admission, must sign the pledge required of College students, and select a Patron.

The expenses of Tuition, Room Rent, &c., and all incidentals are the same for the Senior Grammar School as for the College, and payable in like manner.

JUNIOR GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

This Institution is under the immediate charge of the Rev. Alfred Blake and the Rev. Norman Badger, as Associate Principals, both Presbyters of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and experienced in the instruction of youth. Other instructors are also added as the number of pupils may require. It has accommodations for upwards of 50 pupils, and is furnished with a well selected Library of nearly 600 vols.

ADMISSION.—Boys are received over ten and under fifteen years of age.

STUDIES.—Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, Arithmetic, English Grammar and Composition, Elocution, Sacred Music, the Bible and Church Catechism, Geography, History, Book Keeping, Natural Philosophy, and the Latin and Greek Classics. All studies required for admission to the Freshman Class are taught in the School, though it is by no means confined to pupils preparing for College.

TEXT BOOKS.—Third and Fourth Eclectic Readers, Davies' Arithmetic, Smith's English Grammar, the Bible and Catechism, Mitchell's Geography and Geographical Reader, Hale's History of the United States, Mrs. Phelps' Natural Philosophy, Anthon's Latin Lessons, Anthon's Caesar, Anthon's Greek Grammar, and Greek Reader.

Pupils whose parents wish them to remain at the Hall during the vacations, will receive a partial course of instruction under the same regulations as in Term time.

Parents, in committing their children to the care of the above named Principals, may feel assured, not only of their sound and efficient instruction, but of the most affectionate attention to their morals, manners and happiness, and a diligent effort to furnish them with as good a substitute as possible, in sickness, as well as in health, for the comforts of home. Both the Principals are married,—reside with the pupils, and have no other table than theirs. To the Matron is committed the charge of the clothing, and the care of the pupils when sick. The morning and evening worship of the Hall is confined to its own inmates. The Sunday worship is attended by the pupils, in charge of their instructors, at the College Chapel. Special attention is given, as heretofore, to train them in religious knowledge, through the study of the Holy Scriptures and the Catechism of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The great effort is, to combine the advantages of a well ordered Christian family with those of an efficient Institute of elementary and classical instruction.

EXPENSES.—Board, Tuition, Room Rent, Bed and Bedding, Washing, Fuel, Lights, and Medical attendance, for forty weeks of Term time, $120 per annum, payable each Term in advance. Incidentals from 2 to 3 dollars.

It is expected also that money will be deposited with the College Treasurer in advance, to meet the expenses of Clothing, &c.
