THE OHIO CANVASS.

Speech of Gen. George W.

Morgan, at Mt. Vernon.

An Able Discussion of the Questions of the Day.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer, August 26.]

General George W. Morgan, formerly a Representative in Congress from the Thirteenth District, but who lost his seat by the redistricting of the district, delivered an able and effective speech at Mount

Vernon on Monday last, in which he strongly advocated an increase of the currency and the payment of the five-twenty bonds in the same sort of money in which they were bought by the holders. The speech was made upon the invitation of the Democratic Executive Committee of Knox county, of which Mt. Vernon, the General's residence, is the county seat.

It was delivered at the close of the county nominating Convention, a fact that was to be regretted, as, owing to the lateness of the hour at which the General began speaking, he was not able to give the subjects upon which he spoke the time their importance demanded. The speech was well received, and will form a valuable campaign document.

The Convention referred to was harmonious throughout its meeting. On the conclusion of the balloting for candidates it adopted, with but one dissenting voice in favor of seventy-one delegates, a resolution instructing their delegates to the State Convention at Columbus, to-day, to vote in favor of the payment of the 5-20 bonds in greenbacks, and for an increase of the currency equal to the business demands of the country.

The following is a full report of General

Morgan's speech:

Mrs. J. H. HARRIS AND GENTLEMEN OF

THE CONVENTION: Before proceeding to consider the vital questions before the country, I desire to say a word with regard to the animated discussion by which that subject has been taken up. I am glad that four candidates for nomination, three out of the four, no matter how good men they may be, must be beaten. It is no discredit to any gentleman to have been beaten. One man has been elected in favor of one of his followers. It is the right of the people to do so. No man has a claim to office.

The questions before the people. Such as recognized doctrine of the Democratic party. Such I know to be the views enterained by the gentlemen who were candidates for the office of Prosecuting Attorney. A man elected to office is the more likely to be a man of honor and integrity.

When I appeared before the people it was to give an account of my stewardship. The agency has expired, and I have resumed my sovereignty as a citizen, and address you as one of yourselves. I crave your attention, fellow-citizens, to the discussion of the questions before the people and liberty. The bankers and bondholders say the finance question is settled. On the contrary, it has just begun. This campaign inaugurates in the United States the most important question of the age.

This has caused this general question of the national question, the land? The financial management. The President and Congress are in league with the bondholders. The people are ignored.

The people are the property of the bondholders. The people are the property of the bondholders. The people are the property of the bondholders. The people are the property of the bondholders. The people are the property of the bondholders. The people are only be collected from a people who have been free at the point of the bayonet. The result of this was that a million of armed men three aside their uniforms and bayonets, and in a day quietly and cheerfully returned to the peaceful avocations of civil life. That was not a revolution.

and more honorable than a hundred victories on the battle-field. Our young men had proved they were brave soldiers; the war over, they proved they were good citizens, and since then our people have paid heavier taxes than any other on earth.

Proudly indeed have the Americans vindicated their capacity for self-government.

And although free institutions are in greater peril now than at any period during our history, I do not fear the result.

The freemen of America are capable of self-government; they are capable of danger which threatens them, and will prove worthy of their fathers.

Governor Allen to be Here.

We have the pleasure of announcing to the citizens of Knox county, without respect to party, and more especially the citizens of Hudson, that Governor Allen has accepted an invitation to attend the grand Pic Nic of the Grangers, at the Fair Grounds, on Saturday, Sept. 6th. The formal invitation was entrusted to Wm. E. Dunham, Esq., our County Treasurer, who, accompanied by the editor of the BANNER, called upon the Governor while in Columbus last week, and delivered the same. The Governor stated that inasmuch as he had no special engagement for the 5th, he would be most happy to accept the kind invitation of his friends in Knox, for whom he has always entertained the highest regard. The announcement of this fact will insure an immense attendance at the Fair Grounds on Saturday, as every man, woman and child in the county will be anxious to see and take by the hand the honest Executive of our great State.

Care of Team Horses.

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals presents the following concise rules for the care of horses, which will commend themselves to every horseman.

Patience or carrots may be given once or twice a week to good advantage.

See that your horse is kept clean, warm and comfortable, with plenty of bedding.

A piece of rock salt should always be left in the manger.

See that the harness is kept soft and clean, particularly the inside of the collar, which ought always to be smooth, and the perspiration, when dry, causes irritation, and is liable to produce galls on the shoulder.

The collar should fit closely, with space enough at the bottom to admit a man's hand. If too large it has the bad effect of drawing the shoulders together.

On no consideration should a team or any work horse be compelled to wear a martingale, as it draws the head down, and prevents him from getting into an easy and natural position.

The check-rein may be used, but only tight enough to keep the head in a natural position, and it should never be wound around the hames.

See that the hames are buckled tight enough at the top to bring the draft-horn near the center of the collar. If too low, it not only interferes with the action of the shoulder, but gives the collar an uneven bearing.

The collar should be taken that the girth is not buckled too tight, particularly on string teams, for when the traces are straightened, it has the tendency to draw the girth against the belly, and distress the horse.

See that the horse is kept well shod, with a good stiff shoe, always calked at toe, and heel on hind feet, as it is there where all the propelling power from when heavily loaded.

Keep the feet good and strong, by not allowing them to be cut away to much by the blacksmith.

The best of judgment should be used in loading, taking into consideration the condition of the horse, and the distance to be traveled.

Never overload, for by so doing you only distress, strain and distress your horse, and do him more injury than you can possibly gain by carrying the extra load.

When your load is hard to pull, stop often and give your horse a chance to breathe.

No good driver will ever resort to the cruel practice of whipping or beating his horse. A light whip may be carried, but it should never be used for punishment, and can be accomplished by kind treatment and good judgment.

Remember the horse is a very intelligent, proud, sensitive, noble animal, the most useful known to man, and deserving of the greatest kindness.

The negroes of Marengo county, Alabama, have resolved that they do not desire nor ask for mixed schools, and that as for social relations, they are governed by the laws of nature, which cannot, even if desired, be controlled, regulated, amended or repealed by any laws enacted by man. In the county the colored people declare that they are unalterably opposed to any kind of legislation, State or Federal, favoring mixed schools, mixed churches, or any mixture of races, or bearing on the question of social equality.

The plans of the railway which is to ascend Mount Vesuvius are now complete. The route will be 16.1 miles in length. The grades are twenty and thirty-five per cent, and the road terminates in a few feet of the crater. There will be one station, protected by a sort of break-lane, which will divert the flow, in case of eruption, from the building into the lake. The road is so laid out as to be naturally sheltered at every point, except for a distance of about sixty feet.

Judge Williams of Chicago has rendered a decision in a suit instituted by the heirs of the late Stephen A. Douglas for the recovery of certain property said to have illegally alienated from them. The ground of action was that of the executor of the estate had an interest in a sale which was made by him. The Court awarded the property sold to Robert and Stephen Douglas, debaring the widow from participation because she had been guilty of laches.

Harper's Weekly contains an illustration by Thomas Nast, depicting the return of Gov. Jewell. He is represented as shaking hands with Grant, while other members of this precious Cabinet stand around looking on. Grant is represented as a low-down heavy-drinking swindler, a fellow, and a scoundrel, who is likely to receive a whipping. He stands behind the others, and his face and expressions are most brutal and villainous. Nast is decidedly improving.

Capt. Jordan stole a gun from Noah Scott. They are negroes, and live near Atlanta. Cap. was arrested, and his proposition was that, instead of being locked up, he should allow Scott to give him a whipping. After much discussion they agreed that the whipping should consist of thirty-nine lashes on the bare back with a strap. A great number of people went out to the bushes to see the punishment, which was relentlessly inflicted and philosophically borne.

The new Commissioners of the District of Columbia have appointed O. A. Hart to be a school teacher. The education of this man is of such a sort that the writers of hats, jackets, and so on. He was a trustee before, but was dropped for incompetency. This must be a valuable kind of a school officer. How Gov. Denison ever consented to put such a man in power over the schools of the District is something very hard to understand.

For the purpose of securing low taxation and an honest administration of the public funds, the tax-payers of South Carolina have been forming Tax Unions throughout the State. Already nine county unions and 181 subordinate unions have been organized. The State Union, which will probably be called together about the middle of September, will be composed of delegates from the county unions.

Politics are as lively as Mexican fleas in Arizona Territory. There are no fewer than four candidates in the field for Delegate to Congress. H. S. Stevens of Tucson is said to be the most popular player on the Pacific coast, and John Smith of Camp McDowell is a noted judge of Buffalo to skin. The other two candidates to have political life which endear them to the Arizona soul. Party politics are ignored.

Notwithstanding that Louisiana is under negro and brother-in-law rule, there was an actual election of white voters in the State, according to the census of 1870. At that time the total number of white males under twenty years of age was 4,094, and of white voters, 193. Since 1870, however, there has been large immigration from Georgia and Alabama, and it is probable that now the negroes exceed the whites in number.

Henry Williams, pastor of a colored church in Macon, Ga., is the latest subject of a statement. A man named Marked that the wife of another church member named McComb had been exercising a calumnious influence over the pastor. McComb thereupon drew a pistol on Marked, and a riot ensued, during which the services of the minister were severely handicapped.
