Baby's Life Saved

Newark, O., Dec. 13, 1892.

The Hand Medicine Co.
Gentlemen:—Our baby, 17
months old, was teething, and the first molar was nearly through the skin. She suffered great agony, and I was confident that she was going to have a spasm. I bathed her gums
with Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. She changed for the better and went to sleep for six hours. On awakening there was no distress. I feel that it saved the life of our darling.—Yours respectfully,
Mrs. C. E. Eden, 704 Grandville St.

L. HARPER, Editor and Proprietor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

MOUNT VERNON, OHIO.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 21, 1893.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor, LAWRENCE T. NEAL, of Ross.

For Lieutenant Governor, WILLIAM A. TAYLOR, of Franklin.

For Judge of the Supreme Court, JOHN W. SATER, of Darke.

For Attorney General, JOHN P. BAILEY, of Putnam.

For State Treasurer, E. C. BLACKBURN, of Coshocton.

For Member Board of Public Works, LOUIS WILHELM, of Summit.

For Dairy and Food Commissioner, PATRICK H. MCKEOWN, of Hamilton.

For State Senator, 17th-28th District, NEWTON STILLWELL, of Holmes.

The Ohio election will take place November 7th.

LITTLE MISS Cleveland, baby Ruth's sister, weighs 94 pounds.

THE old Senatorial windmill at Washington is still grinding away.

CHICAGO has put 2,000 of her unemployed men at work in cleaning the streets.

It there had been no Sherman law and no McKinley law there would have been no panic.

A MOVEMENT is now being made in Chicago to keep the World's Fair open until after Christmas.

MARION S. ROBINSON, editor of the Shreve Vindicator, has been appointed Postmaster at Shreve.

Gov. McKINLEY should endeavor to explain how he came to lose $100,000 during the late financial flurry.

THERE is still talk of a general European war, and it will not be Kaiser William's fault if it does not materialize.

THE Kansas Banks are now said to be in better condition than they were before the commencement of the flurry.

SIX persons died recently in and near New York from the effects of eating toadstools, a deadly counterfeit of mushrooms.

Gov. McKINLEY was awfully tickled up at Akron when some of his over-zealous friends greeted him as "the next President."

The protected millionaires, who paid off Gov. McKINLEY's debts, will no doubt subscribe liberally to the boodle campaign in Ohio.

MILLIONAIRE CARNEGIE continues to build gorgeous libraries, cut down the wages of his workmen and cry "hard times." Poor man!

MR. McKINLEY might hire some "literary feller," who is out of a job, to prepare for him a new speech, containing at least one original idea.

It is a noteworthy fact that the Republicans have not blamed the Democrats with the financial misfortune of Win. McKINLEY and Charley Foster.

EX-SENATOR INGLETON denies the report that he is seeking the Republican nomination for Governor in Kansas. It is Peffer's seat in the Senate he is after.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has refused to pardon J. K. Foxworthy, a Nebraska pension attorney convicted of robbing soldiers by collecting illegal fees. Right.

JOHN W. WARDWELL, of Canton, and Frederick Swift, of New Bedford, Mass., have been appointed Receivers for the Cleveland, Canton & Southern Railroad Company.

MRS. FRANK OGDEN, of Republic, Ohio, recently released from an insane asylum, saturated her clothing with kerosene, and applying a match was burned to death.

PROF. HARRISON, of Indiana, is said to have received from the publishers of the Cosmopolitan Magazine over $1,000 for writing an article of 8,000 words for that publication.

MR. McKINLEY, in his Akron speech, dug up the dead bones of his once favorite tin-plate hobby, which he was glad to drop last year, after the humbug was thoroughly exposed.

PROF. BRAGGS denies that he proposes to leave the Presbyterians and join the Episcopal Church. He says he will remain in the Presbyterian Church and fight his case to the end.

SENATOR DOLBE's bill, to appropriate $123,000,000 for coast defense, may well rest in a pigeon hole until the treasury, left bankrupt by a Republican Administration, is replenished.

ESTHER has been decided upon as the name for Baby Ruth's sister. The name is a favorite one with Mrs. Cleveland, and to her is due the honor of giving it to her youngest daughter.

Gov. McKINLEY, in his repeated speeches, neglects to tell the people what became of the $100,000,000 Grover Cleveland left in the treasury when he vacated the Presidential chair.

The announcement is made that Senator Hill will deliver three speeches in Ohio in the interest of the Democratic party—Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, being the points named.

The boiler of a threshing machine exploded last Thursday night, while working at Loyonia, just across the Ohio river from Gallipolis. Engineer Jones and three other men were killed.

This fact has been pretty well settled that a gang of rascally politicians in New York created the late business disturbance for the express purpose of helping the poor old Republican party.

STERLE KELLOGG, aged 20 years, a son of Col. Sanford Kellogg, U. S. A., committed suicide by shooting himself, at Washington, because he failed to pass his first year's examination at Annapolis.

The Penitentiary convicts, who get out of their cells at night to engage in a game of "craps," should have invited Gov. McKINLEY and his Penitentiary officials to look on and enjoy the amusement.

It would be an interesting fact to learn how much money was contributed by the protected monopolists to get out that big crowd of Republicans to hear McKinley repeat his old tale at Akron.

Ohio Day at the World's Fair, last Thursday, was a wonderful success. The turn out of Buckeyes was immense. The Ohio monument was dedicated. The Ohio Building was handsomely decorated. Addresses were delivered by Gov. McKinley, Gen. Brickerhoff, Prof. David Swing, Judge Samuel F. Hunt, Judge Sage and other distinguished gentlemen. In the grand parade Gov. McKinley and his staff, at the head of the National Guards, cut quite a figure. Altogether, it was a big day for Ohio.

It is about time for the Railroad and Express Companies to organize a vigorous war against train robbers. The way to do it is to send a little army of brave men, well armed with Winchester rifles, along with every train, and thus "fight the devil with fire." This will cost money, but in the end it will be cheaper than the sacrifice of property and human life, to say nothing of the wholesale robbery, as practiced by train robbers and murderers.

We hear of no subscription paper being presented by the protected monopolists to pay off Charley Foster's debts, after the McKinley fashion. The reason is very plain: Charley Foster is now a private citizen, without power or patronage; while Win. McKINLEY is a live politician—an existing Governor, and a candidate for re-election. Foster is a dead duck, while McKinley is a live quack.

A "TRUSTED" clerk named Henry S. Cochran, in the U. S. Mint, at Philadelphia, stole $124,000 worth of bullion from the vault, and although an effort was made to keep the matter secret, it is said he confessed his guilt, and restored $100,000 of the stolen treasure. As the officials are all good "loyal" Republicans, of course the naughty Democrats cannot be blamed for this wholesale robbery.

INTENSE excitement prevails at Camp Parapet, La., growing out of the lynching of three negro brothers named Julian, and a young man named John Willis, charged with secreting a fourth brother, Rosellus Julian, who shot Judge Victor Estabrook to death in open court, while the latter was trying him for some offense. The negroes are arming and massing, and are threatening to kill the whites.

The latest report regarding ex-Secretary Foster's financial affairs places his entire liabilities at $1,086,671 92; total assets, $969,842 19. There is a proposition under consideration which is said to be favorably viewed by the ex-Secretary himself, to let Mr. Foster take charge of the business affairs and run them to a settlement without the imposition of irksome obligations.

STILL another Railroad disaster—this time on the Big Four, near Kankakee, Ill., on Monday night. The St. Louis Diamond Special crashed into the rear sleeper of the Cincinnati Limited. Ten persons were killed outright and about fifty injured, some of them fatally. Both trains were crowded with World's Fair visitors from the South and South-east.

The President has appointed Charles H. J. Taylor, of Kansas, a colored man, to be Minister to Bolivia. He was appointed in place of John H. Brown, who resigned.

CLEVELAND eight years ago, as President of the American Citizen, a newspaper devoted to the interests of the colored race, and is President of the National Negro Democratic League.

The Centennial Anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Capital at Washington, was celebrated in that city in a becoming manner on Monday. There was a military and civic procession, with an abundance of music, and speeches by President Cleveland, William Wirt Henry, a descendant of Patrick Henry, and others.

MICHELLE, the English champion, is now on his way to this country to engage in a prize-fight with Corbett for the championship of the world. John L. Sullivan, ex-champion, who was beautifully knocked out by Corbett, expresses the belief that the Englishman will come off victorious in the great fistic battle.

GEN. ROBERT A. MCCOY, Cashier of the Blair County Bank, at Tyrone, Pa., committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple. No cause can be assigned for the mad act, other than that he was tired of life, having lost his son and wife about a year ago. The Bank is in a flourishing condition.

MR. McKINLEY, in his Akron speech, wished to know if a lower tariff (which means lower taxes) as proposed by the Democratic party, would open the closed mills, when he knows full well that the "closed mills" are all opening as speedily as possible, with every prospect of doing a large and profitable business.

The Canadian Presbytery at Montreal have found Prof. Campbell guilty of heresy in both charges preferred against him, viz. Doubting the inspiration of the Old Testament, and refusing to recognize God as a smiter. He has appealed to the Synod. Only two ministers voted against conviction.

The Southern Pacific Railroad will issue new bonds to the amount of $800,000, for the purpose of retiring the old bonds, amounting to $200,000, the remaining $400,000 to be expended in building new lines in California; the most important being a road from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

MR. McKINLEY, in his Akron speech, made no effort to defend his Administration, and studiously avoided making any reference to two of his disgraced office-holders, Pocock and McDonald. The scandals associated with the Penitentiary and other State institutions, were also wholly ignored.

FREDERICK LATHROP AMES, one of Boston's wealthiest capitalists, while returning from a business trip to Europe, was found dead in a state-room of the steamer Pilgrim last Wednesday morning, soon after her arrival at the pier in New York. It is supposed his death was due to apoplexy.

During the intensely hot weather of the past week, there was fearful suffering in Southern Kansas among the home-seekers in the Cherokee strip. The thermometer registered 104° in the shade. Over fifty people were overcome by the heat; forty were asphyxiated and several died.

JOSEPH H. DOWLING, of Dayton, has been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the First (Cincinnati) District. This is claimed to be a "great victory" for ex-Governor Campbell. The people of Dayton, without regard to party, are delighted over the appointment.

MANUFACTURING industries of all descriptions continue to be starting up, with every prospect of an increasing and prosperous fall business, Republican croaking to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Cheering Signs of Returning Prosperity. The enterprising New York World, a few days ago, devoted an entire page to interviews with prominent business men, representing nearly every branch of industry—Bankers and Brokers, the Dry Goods trade, the Clothing business, Grocers, Hardware merchants, the Cotton Industry, &c., &c., all of whom gave cheering reports in regard to the improved condition of business during the past few weeks. A brief extract from these reports will no doubt be interesting to the readers of the BANNER.

George C. Williams, President of the Chemical National Bank and Chairman of the Clearing House committee, said: "The situation is improving from day to day. All we want is the action of the Senate and we may count the panic almost over. There has been a vast improvement in the financial situation apparent here within the past two or three weeks. The whole thing seems to have been the result of a big scare growing out of the suspension of gold and cash payments."

Harris C. Palmestock, Vice President of the First National Bank, which is the correspondent of our Knox National, said: "People are getting over the scare. Applications for help from the country are practically stopped. Many of these were largely precautionary anyway. People have quit hoarding up their money and it is in circulation again. Everything points in the right direction now."

Henry Clews, the banker; Henry V. Poor, banker and publisher of Poor's Manual of Railroads, and numerous other financiers gave interviews agreeing substantially with those above as to the promising outlook and the reasons for it. "The winter of our discontent has been made glorious summer by the death-knell of the panic," is Mr. Clews's version of it. "The tide has turned at last, and things are on the mend," says Mr. Poor.

John Claffin, of the great dry goods house of H. B. Claffin & Co., said: "Our trade is good now, but what we want is a vote on the silver repeal bill in the Senate." He added: "It looks now as if our trade for the rest of the season would be as good as it was last year."

Wm. L. Strong, dry goods merchant, who is an Ohio man, well known in Mt. Vernon, said: "There is a decided change in monetary affairs in this city as between to-day and two weeks ago! I believe we will have a tip-top trade throughout the months of September, October and November."

Howard Jaffray, of E. S. Jaffray & Co., said: "Everything is much better than it has been. * * * We expect a larger fall trade this year than last."

Samuel Ehrlich, of the great Sixth Avenue dry goods house, said: "We are going to do a bigger business than ever before this fall. The country is in good condition; the setback we had was not sufficiently hurtful to be of any account. All the mills are starting up now and everybody seems to feel that good times have come again."

Rogers, Peet & Co., the great clothiers, said: "Trade if anything, it is a little better than last year. We have stocked our stores with the usual amount of fall and winter goods, and we feel confident that we will sell all of them. The panic is certainly over and business men generally will enjoy a good fall trade."

In the cotton trade, a like improvement is noticeable. One dealer said: "Money is getting plentiful among business men, and of course that means a jump towards prosperity." Another said: "The mills which shut down at the beginning to resume work, and that makes things look better. We expect to see a big change for the better in a few weeks. Every line of business is picking up now."

Like favorable reports came from other branches of trade. The Hotel men, also, reported a great increase in travel, and where before they only registered half a page of name every day, they now register a page and half and two pages per day.

Altogether, the outlook is decidedly favorable. The scare is passing away, and business is resuming with a bright outlook for the future.

The Rebellion in Brazil Goes On. The rebellion now in progress in Brazil, is the most remarkable one in history, from the fact that the military powers of the country are at variance—the land forces, the arsenals and the forts taking sides with the existing Government, headed by President Peixoto, while the naval power is in rebellion against the Government, and is seeking to overthrow it. Of the 488 officers of the Brazilian navy 296 have joined the insurgents. The warships have been bombarding the forts, but the damage done was slight. The success of the rebellion, it is admitted, will be an end of the Republic, and will result in the establishment of a Monarchy. The rebel fleet is directed by Custodio Jose Mello, who is an acknowledged Monarchist, and what seems strange, the students take sides with him against Peixoto. The bombardment of the City of Rio de Janeiro was kept up several days last week, and great damage was done to property. Foreign ships in the harbor of Rio, which remain neutral, are not molested. One war ship, the Tiradentes, remains loyal to the Government. The Captain of the gunboat Alagoas, deserted the rebels and joined Peixoto's forces.

President Peixoto, of Brazil, with the loyal army, has abandoned Rio Janeiro and withdrawn to Santa Anna, where he expects to be attacked by a landing party from the rebel ships. It is reported that the States of Bahia and Pernambuco have declared in favor of the rebels.

During Daylight Train Robbery in Michigan. The latest train robbery took place on the Michigan Ridge Road in Michigan at 9 o'clock last Friday, in open daylight—when $75,000 were secured. The money was drawn from the First National Bank at Houghton and the Superior Savings Bank, for the purpose of paying off the employees of the Calumet and Hecla Copper Mines. The train was "held up" by bandits, about half a mile from Boston station, there being no guards on the express car. One masked man, with a Winchester rifle, took possession of the engine, while two other masked men, well armed, smashed the door of the express car and entered, ordering the messenger to hold up his hands, and the work of opening the safe and securing the treasure, took but a few minutes. The robbers then backed out of the car door, when they fired two shots, evidently a signal to the robber on the engine, who ordered the engineer to go on, coolly saying: "You will find a rail pulled up about three miles ahead." The passengers were not molested, which was a good thing for Teller Fish, of the First National Bank of Hancock, who had $40,000 in currency in his pockets.

Later—The money has been recovered and the train-robbers captured. One of the gang made a full confession. Two of the robbers were railroad freemen.

More People Missing. O. P. Shanefelt of Stark county, aged 50 years, and a well-known Republican politician of Stark county, is mysteriously missing from his home in Greentown. He went to Akron last Tuesday week to hear Governor McKINLEY, and the last seen of him was in a store at Akron that day at 11 a. m. He has been in ill-health, and people at his home think he has become demented and stayed away.

A young man named Sollinger, an undertaker of West Mansfield, went to Bellefontaine, Ohio, on Friday, to deposit $300 in the bank, but finding the bank closed, he started back for home, but never reached it. His horse and buggy were found by the wayside and later his hat and empty pocket-book. Suspicion points to a brutal murder.

Andrew Zalhouse, of Sharpsburg, Pa., near Pittsburgh, aged 19, and his sister, Katie, aged 17, went to Chicago to visit the World's Fair, and were enjoying themselves. One evening the young man took a walk out in the city, but never returned, leaving his sister alone and penniless. She had to be sent home by the charity authorities.

A. E. Knowlton, treasurer of Knox township, Vinton county, has been missing from his home there during the past eighteen days. Township funds to the amount of $1750 are also missing. His bondsmen are greatly alarmed at his disappearance, as it is now time that his accounts as treasurer should be settled.

O. M. Hatz, formerly Mayor of Marion Ohio, and later a Justice of the Peace in Tiffin is mysteriously missing. He sold a horse, harness and buggy to L. C. Hershey, near Tiffin, and afterwards went to Hershey's barn, took possession of the rig and cleared out, and has not since been heard from.

Sherman Canfield, a prominent business man of Toledo, is mysteriously missing, and he is charged with being a defaulter to an amount exceeding $5,000 in business transactions for Mr. J. C. Woodruff of Cincinnati, in connection with the Detroit and Cleveland Steamship Company.

Henry Gode, President of a Building and Loan Association in Cincinnati, wishing to see the World's Fair and have a good time, skipped out, taking with him several hundred dollars of other people's money. The losers are chiefly poor people.

Milton Bergmann, a prominent German of Detroit, attended the G. A. R. convention at Indianapolis, but instead of returning home he mysteriously disappeared, and his wife and daughter are now hunting for him.

A Wild Race for Homes. The "Cherokee strip," so-called, was opened for homes at 12 o'clock, noon, on Saturday, and when the signal was given, by the firing of guns along the line, the wild race for homes commenced; and although the 60,000 acres of land in the strip can accommodate 50,000 people, with farms of 160-acres each, it is believed that fully 100,000 people took part in the scramble for homes. They went on twelve trains, pulling cattle cars, which were only allowed to run at a speed of twelve miles an hour, and also in wagons, buggies, on horseback and on bicycles, while not a few made the race on foot, carrying blankets and food. Men, women and children took part in the mad rush.

As may well be imagined, many accidents occurred. Several persons were run over and killed, some died from heat and exhaustion, while others were killed by rivals in the race. One man who started before the signal was given was shot dead by a soldier. It is believed that in a single day the Cherokee population was swelled to nearly 200,000! Many who went from Oklahoma, hoping to find better homes, returned disgusted. Indeed, great disappointment prevailed among most of the settlers, as they found the greater part of the country had been visited by a fire, which left the land bare and desolate, with no feed for horses, and too late in the season to produce the necessities of life. These people will find a hard winter before them, without homes, fuel or food.

The Cherokee Outlet is so-called, because in removing the Cherokees from their original land in the Indian Territory, it was provided that they should always have an outlet to the Western plains, which were expected to remain as hunting grounds. It may be said, however, that in divesting the tribe of their reservation they have been paid for their land on terms mutually agreed upon, and each family of Indians has been allotted a farm.

Later—Trains are coming back from the Cherokee strip loaded with disappointed and disgusted "boomers." They were glad to get out of the burned, desolate land with their lives.

The Federal Election Law. The Tucker bill for the repeal of the Federal election law, which gives United States officials control over State elections, is now fairly before the House of Representatives. Majority and minority reports have been submitted, the first by the Democrats, and the second by the Republicans. The majority report, which was prepared by its author, Mr. Tucker, declares that the purpose and object for which these laws were passed have long since passed away. "Surely no officer of the army or navy," it says, "should be left to determine when it is necessary to bring troops to the polls and the constitution has impliedly prohibited it." The report concludes: "These statutes should be speedily repealed, because they are a violation of federal authority, because they have been and will be used as the machinery of political parties to reward friends and destroy enemies; because under them the rights of citizens have been taken from them; because their enactment shows a distrust of the states and their ability to guard the elections, and last, because their repeal will eliminate the judiciary from the political arena and restore somewhat the confidence of the people in the integrity and impartiality of the federal judiciary."

The discussion on the Tucker repeal bill has been exceedingly bitter, but the Democrats are determined to wipe from the statute books this "relic of barbarism," for really that is the title to give it.

A DISPATCH from St. Petersburg, Sept. 14, says: Twenty-seven people were burned to death or drowned by the burning of the steamer Shermoshonak on the River Volga. Most of those aboard were rescued, but 15 of the crew and 12 passengers perished.

An oil tank, used for fuel supply, at Canton, exploded on Friday morning. Henry Melike, the foreman, was almost roasted alive, and eight men were severely burned at the Wrought Iron Bridge Company's works.

D. F. Davis has just completed a well on the Ross farm, in Cass township, Hancock county, Ohio, which is good for 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, making it the largest well ever struck in the world.

Criminal Mismanagement at the Penitentiary. The McKinley managers of the Ohio Penitentiary are so busily engaged in making assessments upon the poor guards for campaign purposes, that they wholly neglect the business management of the institution. The latest criminal neglect of duty that has come to light, is the fact that a convict named Sullivan has secured a key that will open all the cells. He has been in the habit of thus releasing a lot of the prisoners at night, when they assembled to engage in a game of "craps." Had not the discovery been made and every prisoner in the penitentiary might have been set at liberty some night. Of course Mr. McKinley will make no reference in any of his speeches to this shameful mismanagement of the great penal institution of the State on the part of his "trusted" office-holders.

A Business Boom All Over the Country. The New York World prints dispatches from nearly 1,000 cities and towns in the West and South, giving views of bankers and business men on the business outlook. These interviews say the panic is a thing of the past, and that the outlook is most cheerful. Business is improving at all points, factories are starting up and money is easier. In the South, merchants, farmers and bankers say the cotton crop is much heavier than was expected and there is plenty of money to move it. Collections are reported easier, and generally speaking there is an end to the financial gloom.

Col. W. A. Taylor, in his Newark speech, made it hot for Gov. McKINLEY on State issues, a subject the "man with one idea" seeks to ignore. Taylor is well posted on State affairs, and will thoroughly ventilate the weakness and profligacy of the McKinley Administration.

During the past week there were deluging rains and destructive floods in Spain. Many towns and farm lands were inundated, and the people had to flee to the highlands for safety. Many sought refuge in caves and were drowned like rats. Hundreds of lives were lost.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland have received showers of telegrams congratulating them upon the birth of their second daughter; but, Mr. Cleveland, in pursuance of a long established rule, will not allow any of the messages of love to be published.

Over 9,000 pilgrims who went from Tunis to Mecca in May, 4,500 perished in the holy land from cholera and other diseases. It is said that of the 700 Turkish troops sent to bury the dead, 500 died while performing that sad and dangerous duty.

Hurst street, Cincinnati, seems to be peculiarly unfortunate in the number of destructive electric car accidents that have recently taken place there. Judge Hunt should adopt vigorous measures to protect his honored name from such disasters.

A SHORTAGE of $3,200 was discovered in the Fairfield County Treasury, which was made good by the new Treasurer, William F. Zeigler, after which he resigned the office. The Commissioners appointed Theodore Becker to fill the vacancy.

"TEMPERANCE," so-called, is often marked by impetuous speech. But it remained for the "good" people of Franklin, Ind., to endanger human lives by the use of dynamite as a spirit-bait agent against a saloon—Pittsburgh Post.

If Republican panic mongers could only have succeeded in keeping the country in a condition of mistrust and alarm for two months longer, they might possibly have succeeded in having their poor old humbug party restored to power.

It is the sublimity of impudence for the Republicans to attempt to fasten upon the Democracy the fruits of their own unwise and oppressive legislation, which have brought the country to the very verge of bankruptcy and ruin.

PERRY FOX and Clem Blizard, aged 18 and 19 years, were playing cowboy near Lancaster, Ohio, with a revolver. While Fox was handling the weapon it was discharged, killing Blizard instantly. Fox claims it was an accident.

FRANCIS H. WEEKS, the New York lawyer, who robbed many estates for which he was a trustee, to the amount of over $100,000, and suddenly left, has been arrested at San Jose, Costa Rica. He will be brought home.

One of the marked features of the Republican meeting at Akron, was several marching clubs wearing hats made by "scab" labor. This is an exemplification of McKinley "protection against the pauper labor of Europe."

CHARLES DE LESSEPS, who was sentenced to five years' imprisonment at Paris, for complicity in the Panama Canal scandal, was released a few days ago, his sentence having been set aside by the Court of Cassation.
