Official Paper of the County.

MOUNT VERNON, OHIO:

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 6, 1884.

It was too cold a day for Blaine to have a sunstroke.

The Philadelphia Record truthfully says that the most zealous part of the Cincinnati Enquirer is its Republican end.

West Virginia will no longer vote in October. Hereafter November will be the month and Ohio will have to stand the entire fire.

The Democrats come out of this campaign with clean hands and clear consciences. They worked earnestly, but honorably.

CONSUL LATROUD, at Bristol, England, writes to the State Department showing the advantages of government control of the telegraph.

The drunken loafers and bums, whose votes were bought by the Republicans, will now be turned out in the cold. Keep your doors and windows well fastened.

The Canton Democrat wonders if McKinley will reciprocate and vote to give Frank Hurd his seat. Not much. He is too bitter a partisan to even do justice to a political opponent.

The officers of the Baltimore & Ohio road have failed to negotiate a renewal of the lease of the Illinois Central tracks for an entrance to Chicago, and ejectment proceedings are threatened.

SENATOR THURMAN asserts that one hundred millions of the whiskey tax never reached the Treasury. It was stolen with the knowledge and connivance of Republican office-holders.

TIMOS, W. SAKTOS, editor and proprietor of the Ohio Repository, at Canton, died on Sunday, aged fifty-three years. The paper was established by his father, the late John Saktos, about 1815, we believe.

THREE-FOURTHS of the best lawyers in the State, without regard to party, who have been "interviewed" on the subject, declare their belief that the Scott law was unconstitutional, and that the Supreme Court did right in so deciding.

The Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital reports that yellow fever has again broken out on the west coast of Mexico in a most malignant form. The city of Culima, 1450 feet above the sea level, has not escaped. The fever also rages at Manzanillo.

BRIGGS is dead. He was a great tenor singer, although in recent years his voice was rough and occasionally a little cracked. In his prime his tones were rich, full, pure and strong. He was upon the operatic or concert stage in this country for many years.

The business failures of the past seven days, as reported to R. C. Dunn & Co., were in the United States, 231; in Canada 36; total, 267, against 258 last week, and 218 the week before. An increase is noticeable in the Pacific, Western and Southern States and Canada.

HON. J. F. MCKINLEY, ex-Congressman, an attorney from Miami county, Ohio, has been indicted for charging a larger fee than the law allows for obtaining a pension. He entered a plea of not guilty, and was held in $1,000 bond to appear for trial at the February term of the United States Court at Cincinnati.

WHILE Blaine was roaming over the country, rapping and tearing and making p-o-u-r-t-o-e-t-i-v-e-a-r-i-f speeches, Hugh McCulloch, a revenue reformer, Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McCulloch held the same position under that greatly persecuted individual, Andy Johnson.

THE Gallipoli Bulletin says: One of our most prominent Republicans made the remark a few days ago that he would not vote for Jesus Christ if he was on the Democratic ticket. By this he means to say, we suppose, that he would vote for Pontius Pilate if he was on the Republican ticket, and we guess he would.

GEORGE W. SMITH, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Pittsburgh, died last Friday morning after a lingering illness. Deceased was sixty years of age, a member of the well-known firm of Hostetter & Smith, and father-in-law of Hon. Thomas M. Bayne, Congressman from the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania.

The case of Bill Jones, who attempted to shoot Charles J. Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, came up for hearing at Washington, Monday. After hearing a number of witnesses and arguments of counsel, the case was submitted to the jury, who, after an absence of twenty minutes, returned a verdict of "not guilty."

JOHN SHERMAN's speeches were rained full of wool in Ohio; but the Boston Advertiser notes that he had nothing to say about wool in his late harangue in Boston. The Ohio idea was not to go down with the wool spinners of Massachusetts, but Mr. Sherman, who is a very discreet person, suits his wares to his market.

THE readers of the BANNER, who have been fed on strong political food for some months past, will hereafter be served with a change of diet, which, we hope, will be more palatable and healthy, and better calculated to produce refreshing sleep at night. These political elections are a terrible strain upon the nervous system and we always feel glad when they are over.

IN ten years according to census statistics, the value of manufactured products in the United States has increased $1,137,237,749. During the same time the earnings of labor in the manufacturing industries have been reduced $84,905,745. Doubtless much of the improvement in production is due to improved machinery and improved processes; but it is apparent that labor is not fully participating in the fruits of labor. So far as the workingman is concerned protection does not protect.

COT. GRIFPIN HALSTEAD, father of Mural Halstead, in returning from New London, Butler county, last week, to his home at Paddy's Run, stumbled over a pile of rubbish, and fell into a deep ravine, breaking his neck, and killing him instantly. His affectionate son, Murat, was in New York at the time, so busily engaged in writing vile abuse of the Democratic party to his paper, the Cincinnati Commercial Enquirer, that he did not even take time to come out to see the old gentleman decently buried.

GLORY!

VICTORY!

CLEVELAND AND HENDRICKS ELECTED.

The People Triumphant Over Bribery, Corruption, Thievery and Thugery.

Rejoice, Freemen, Rejoice!

We have never known a Presidential election when so much doubt and uncertainty hung over the result, as was the case this week. The first report, as is always the case, favored the Republicans, and of course they became somewhat noisy; but later Tuesday night, and up until noon on Wednesday all the dispatches favored the Democracy, who felt exuberantly happy. During Wednesday afternoon, however, the Republicans claimed that they had received dispatches from Columbus giving them not only the Solid North, but also four or five Southern States, mentioning the two Virginias, North and South Carolina and Tennessee. This set the street howlers to yelling, but the Democrats kept cool, having often witnessed such bogus proceedings before. Towards night, however, the Democrats began to receive encouraging dispatches which made them correspondingly happy, and when the Columbus evening papers arrived confirming the truth of these dispatches the Democrats became jubilant, but they did not march around the streets with a brass band, making fives of themselves, and yelling like savages, as did their opponents the night before.

We have no room for details, but we think we are safe in claiming that Cleveland and Hendricks have not only carried the Solid South, but also New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Michigan and Nevada, with a good chance in Illinois and Wisconsin, which we have placed in the Republican column. We sum up the result as follows:

ALABAMA.....10 California.....22
ARKANSAS.....7 Colorado.....32
DELAWARE.....3 Illinois.....28
GEORGIA.....12 Iowa.....15
KENTUCKY.....4 Kansas.....13

Latest Telegrams.—New York, Nov. 5, 11 p. m.—Democratic Committee say New York majority is 5,000 for Cleveland; New Jersey sure; Connecticut 1,000 Democratic; Indiana by a safe majority.

New York, Nov. 5, 11:55 p. m.—Republicans concede Connecticut Democratic by 1,200 plurality.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Herald's Bulletin says the correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Enquirer—Blaine organ—telegraphs from Indianapolis, conceding State to Democrats by 1,000 plurality.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 6, 12:50 a. m.—Private dispatches from Democratic leaders in New York City to Gov. Cleveland assure him that this State has gone Democratic by 5,000 majority.

New York, Nov. 6, 1:03 a. m.—Prominent leading Democrats have notified Gov. Cleveland that his majority in New York will be 5,000 and that it can't possibly be overcome by the ten counties yet to hear from.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6, 1:05 a. m.—Hendricks and Henderson show by figures that Indiana will give 7,000 to 8,000 majority for Cleveland and Hendricks, and say that reports of Associate Press are not reliable.

THE VERY LATEST!—At 10 o'clock this (Thursday) morning, General Morgan received a telephone message from Governor Hoadly, at Columbus, saying he had just received a private telegram from New York stating that the Republicans concede the state to Cleveland by 5,000 majority.

BLAINE DANGEROUSLY ILL!—BOSTON, Nov. 5, 11:40 p. m.—A special to the Globe from Augusta, Maine, says Mr. Blaine is dangerously ill. He took his bed this a. m., after scanning the returns during the night. He was soon found to be seriously indisposed.

The Treacherous and Unprincipled Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Galt's" letters to the Enquirer, during the late political campaign, did more to injure the Democracy and help the Republicans, than all the slander and abuse that appeared in the columns of the Republican Commercial Gazette. They were simply infamous. Everything that was vile and libelous, about Gov. Cleveland, was served up daily for the readers of that pretended Democratic paper, and paid for, it is said, at the rate of $10 per column; while Blaine's corrupt and dishonest transactions, which turned desert Republicans against him, were varnished over, apologized for and explained away in the most approved Republican fashion. There are plenty of Democrats who believe that McLean was well paid for publishing this libelous slop; but we can scarcely believe that is true. The letters made the paper popular among his Republican readers, who are his principal patrons and supporters. McLean caters for them and not the Democracy. He has not a drop of genuine Democratic blood in his veins, and cares nothing for the success of the Democratic party, any further than to make money by the sale of his paper. Occasionally he publishes a good Democratic article; but probably in the same paper would be found several columns on the other side, written by his able but unscrupulous Republican assistants. To induce his Democratic readers to peruse those Republican productions, the manager of the Enquirer very cunningly practiced a craft and fraud, by having them introduced with glaring headlines, conveying the idea that they were the very opposite of what they were. They were sugar-coated with the poisonous pills, as they were, to induce Democrats to swallow them for gospel truths.

It is a misnomer to call such a paper Democratic. It is wholly unworthy of the confidence and support of Democrats, and the honest, unselfish Democracy of the State should repudiate and withdraw their support from it.

Our Circulation About Twenty Dollars Per Capita.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Horatio Burchard, Director of the United States Mints, was in the city yesterday. In conversation with a reporter he said he had prepared his annual report to Congress, and it showed that the amount of gold received by the mints this year, less the gold deposited for coinage, is far less than the previous year. The mints were owing to Philadelphia mints being occupied in the recoinage of a portion of the gold currency called in, and thus not being able to coin gold or bullion. There was deposited at the mints $45,000,000 in gold, including foreign deposits. Of this $30,000,000 was produced this country. There was also deposited $22,000,000 in silver. The mints coined $1,000,000 in silver for the Hawaiian Government. Twenty-two millions of gold have been sent abroad. The increase in the circulating coin of the country has been: Gold, $13,000,000; silver, $22,000,000. The amounts of all circulation are: Gold, $1,800,000,000; silver, $1,100,000,000. The total amount in the National banks and Treasury, together with that in circulation, is $1,800,000,000. The gold coinage of any former period in the history of the country. Comparing December exports for the first eight months of this year with a similar period this year, and the indications are that the decline in gold bullion will be $1,000,000,000. The increase of silver $2,000,000. The exhibit of the export and import of gold for the eight months of 1884 ending October 1, shows a balance of $40,000 against us. Mr. Burchard expresses the belief that the outflow of gold will not increase. The crop movement, which has now set in, may be looked on as likely to set the current the other way, and an influx can be looked for until this season.

The Republican "headquarters" for lecturers, Monday night, was at the lively stable of Leroy G. Hunt, the late defeated. They were piled with whisky, raw alcohol and luncheon. One of the "victims" whose name we have not learned, is reported to have required the services of two physicians to revive him from a comatose condition. He had died from the administration of narcotics the Grand Jury, which meets next Tuesday, would have had a case of murder to investigate. By these methods, which, no doubt, prevailed all over the State, accounts for the Republican majority of 3,000 or more in the State.

JUMPED THE FROG.

A Disastrous Railroad Accident Near Mansfield, and the Narrow Escape of Many Lives—List of the Wounded.

A dispatch from Mansfield, on Saturday, gives the particulars of the wreck on the B. & O. Road, at 3:11 p. m. The "Daily," the fast express train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, with a disastrous wreck early this morning at Alta, a coal station four miles east of Mansfield. The express, which is the late at 3:11, left the station fifteen minutes late. At Alta a freight train was side-tracked waiting for the express to pass. When the express reached the switch, the locomotive, tender and baggage car slid the forward track of the smoking-car remained on the rails at the frog, dragging after it, the ladies' car and the sleeping car. The express was running thirty miles an hour at the time, and as the freight train was on the same track, the ladies' car was thrown from the rails at the frog, and the ladies' car was thrown from the rails at the frog, and the ladies' car was thrown from the rails at the frog.

That all the passengers in the rear car were not instantly killed is a surprise to all who visited the wreck this morning, and all railroad men united in the assertion that they have never seen so utter a wreck in which passengers were not killed. Although no deaths resulted, nearly all the passengers in the rear car were injured, and some seriously. Following the accident the injured persons were placed in the sleeping-car, which was not damaged further than the smashing of the front platform, and the occupants of which only sustained a severe shaking up, and brought to the city, where the services of Drs. Craig, Reed, and Hall were secured. The following is a complete list of the injured: J. W. Carson, fireman of the freight train, Newark; leg and arm broken and severe internal injuries.

Sensational Elopement.

A Heartless Scoundrel Deserts His Wife and Seven Children and Runs Away with Another Man's Wife.

Society at Lakeville, in Ashland county, is all aglow with the news of the elopement of a local life. The parties to the affair are J. H. Hider, a carpenter, and a Mrs. John Castor. Hider is the father of seven children, and is about forty-five years of age. Mrs. Castor is the wife of John Castor, a farmer, but leaves her husband behind her to go to Chicago, leaving a child behind her. About a week ago Castor went home and found a note under the door from his wife, saying that she had gone to her home near Tylertown, Wayne county.

Castor did not think much about the matter until he found that Hider had also disappeared. He then proceeded to his wife's folks and there discovered that Hider had run away with her. He then procured a revolver and is now in pursuit of his runaway wife. Hider leaves his family entirely destitute and dependent upon the county for their existence. Mrs. Hider was confined the same night as the doctor went to his room, and when the doctor went to his room, he found her on the floor, and he had to chop enough wood to keep the woman from freezing.

A little old woman, with a wrinkled face and florid nose, rushed into a south end drug store the other afternoon and breathlessly called for an emetic.

"Is it for an adult?" asked the polite clerk, as he proceeded to put up the drug.

"That's for you say?" For an adult? "Tis for no adult that I want it, 'tis for a medicine that I want it for of course, you grant?"

"No, no, you don't understand. I want to know whether or not it's for an adult, because that is a very essential thing to know."

"That difference does it make to you so long as I'm payin' me decent money for it," asked the old woman, growing excited.

"Well, it makes all the difference in the world, and before I sell it to you I must know whether it's for an adult or for a child."

"Phy didn't you say before, for you agent, it's for neither a adult nor a child."

"Who is it for, then?" asked the clerk in astonishment.

"It's for me old man, and for no body else."

The emetic was put up without further interruption.

"Sir, I demand your daughter's hand in marriage," boldly said the gifted young man to the great millionaire. "I do not ask it as a favor from you. We love one another. That is sufficient. I am her equal in every respect."

"Ah," exclaimed the millionaire, "are you a plumber?"

"No, sir," proudly responded the valiant suitor.

"A bank cashier with an unexhausted shortage?"

"No, sir."

"I am not!" and his lip curled proud in disdain.

"You are not a base ball pitcher with a rifle twist, that you thus impudently ask for the hand of one who will inherit millions?"

"No, sir, I am the inventor and patentee of a patent car coupler."

"Take her, take her!" cried the millionaire. "All I demand in return is that in no idle moment you decide to pay the National debt."

"Well, of course that will help a little, but that is not the main point."

"What is the main point, papa?"

"Well, you see, the papers will say you are the daughter of a millionaire."

"Well, that will enlarge my credit. See? Now run out to the stable, that's a good girl."

Is undoubtedly caused by Impure Blood. Hence a medicine which purifies the blood removes the cause of the disease and opens the way for a thorough cure. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, and it makes the cure complete by giving the system health and strength, and enabling it to throw off the depressing effects of the disease.
