COMMITTEE ON ADMISSION WITH ADVANCED STANDING

The problem of the unusually able student has perennially plagued educators, and the Ford Foundation has shown interest in several solutions that have been put forward in recent years. At present the problem is further complicated by the requirements of the armed forces, who will for several years to come most assuredly want anywhere from a year to two years of a young man's time.

President Chalmers has proposed a plan for admission with advanced standing which has drawn the interest of administrators of schools and colleges all over the nation. Over a year ago twelve of the colleges joined to form a Committee on Admission with Advanced Standing for the purpose of studying further the advantages of the plan. For its work the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation has made a grant of $50,000. Kenyon College is the recipient of the grant on behalf of the Committee.

President Chalmers' plan is based upon several important premises, one of which is that the best place for a boy or girl is in school until about the age of eighteen. The precocious sixteen-year old does not always fit well into the college atmosphere. Yet the demands of the armed forces and the demands of the graduate or professional schools, where he will most likely proceed, are such that he must somehow find a way to make his capabilities count and save some of the time that army service and the learning of professional techniques will require.

Another premise is that the quality of study is more important than the amount of time devoted to it. The able student tends to become stultified when he is held to too slow a pace.

The twelve colleges have formed a committee to make a study of the plan and to discover if standards may be agreed upon whereby credit toward the bachelor's degree may be granted for college-level work taken before college entrance. The heads of several of the leading public and independent secondary schools have taken part in the preliminary discussions and are willing to participate in the studies in the expectation that such standards can be developed.

If the studies succeed and their results are adopted, bright students with unusually advanced school preparation will enter college at

AIR R.O.T.C. AT KENYON

On March 21, Lt. Col. Paul C. Kiefer, USAF, Chairman, AF ROTC Deferment Board, announced with the approval of Arthur S. Fleming, President of Ohio Wesleyan University, the extension of the Ohio Wesleyan University R.O.T.C. program to the students of Kenyon, Denison and Otterbein beginning in September, 1952.

All men entering next year, all present freshmen and some sophomores are eligible. On successful completion of the four-year course they will be commissioned as reserve officers in the Air Force.

Alumni can be of assistance to the College by passing on this information to any young men in high school or preparatory schools in whom they may be interested.

Alumni Council Executive Committee Meets

On Saturday, March 15, the Executive Committee of the Alumni Council met for the primary purpose of nominating candidates for three vacancies in the alumni section of the Board of Trustees of the College.

Present were President William G. Caples, '30; Secretary Robert B. Brown, '11; members Stansfield, '26; Prosser, '40; Boren, '38; Curtis, '37; Scherr, '29; Thomas, '36; Johnson, '25; and alumnus trustee, R. Gale Evans, '26.

The Committee was in session most of the day and made the following nominations: the Venerable Donald Wonders, '13, Bex. '16, of Cleveland to succeed himself; William G. Caples, '30, of Chicago to succeed Alan G. Goldsmith of New York, who is completing his second term in June and is, therefore, ineligible for re-election, and Edson W. Forker, '16, of Pittsburgh to succeed E. E. Dale Shaffer, '39, resigned.

The Committee also passed a resolution designed to bring the method of making alumni awards to students and prospective students into line with actions recently taken by the Faculty, Board of Trustees and the National and State Athletic Conferences. The resolution follows:

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Council, representing the alumni of Kenyon College, desiring to do everything possible to conform with the ancient ideals of the College, with legislation recently enacted and actions recently taken by the Faculty and by the Board of Trustees, and with the current rules of the National and State Athletic Conferences does hereby resolve:

I have just returned from a tour of local alumni associations which really began in Akron on November 28, when the Akron Alumni Association held its annual dinner. There was then a recess until February 26, when the annual meeting of the Cincinnati Association was held; then beginning on March 1, in Cleveland, a series of meetings which ended on March 28 at Chicago. As I write this message early in April, only one more local association meeting is scheduled for this year—that of Knox County which is to be held in Mount Vernon on April 25.

Thus, your Secretary has had the pleasure of meeting with several hundred Kenyon alumni, in groups, around the dinner table and has had the privilege of speaking to this very important segment of the alumni body and of discussing many of the current College problems with them.

All of the meetings this year were good and some were exceptionally good. The alumni with whom I met and talked and who were privileged to hear President Chalmers at a number of meetings and the President of the Alumni Association, Bill Caples, at several others, seemed genuinely interested in our accounts of affairs within the College and in some of the projects in which the College is currently involved.

One of the pleasantest alumni meetings of the year occurred in Grand Rapids on Sunday, January 27, at Grace Church, of which the Rev. Dr. Donald V. Carey, '25, Bex. '29, is rector. President Chalmers spoke in the Church as the representative of the College and Bexley Hall on Theological Education Sunday, and after Church there was a very pleasant luncheon in his honor which was attended by a number of alumni in Grand Rapids, parents of students, and prospective students, and their parents.

Another very pleasant alumni occasion, a little out of the ordinary, was the dinner given by George B. Schley, '02, and Mrs. Schley for President and Mrs. Chalmers in Indianapolis on February 22.

Mr. Schley, taking advantage of the fact that President Chalmers was to speak at the Laymen's League breakfast, St. Paul's Church, Indianapolis, the following day invited the alumni of Indianapolis, with their wives, and those within driving distance of the City, to be his guests at the Columbia Club on the evening of Washington's birthday.

The alumni who turned out to hear President Chalmers speak on Kenyon College were George T. Cragg, '27, the Rev. John P. Craine, '32, Bexley '35, Robert G. Hubbell, '28, Thomas P. Jenkins, '28, Francis C. Truitt, '42, and Mr. Schley. There were also a number of parents of students from Indianapolis now in College, two prospective students, young Tom Jenkins and Philip A. Cole, and a number of representatives of Indianapolis schools, principals and guidance officers. Bishop Kirchhoffer was a special guest, and from the Diocese of Indianapolis, the Rev. and Mrs. William Burrows of St. Paul's, Arch N. Lawson, president of the Laymen's League, and Mrs. Lawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffith.

The dinner party was a huge success and the alumni who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Schley's hospitality intend to repeat the get-together on their own annually in the future.

Elsewhere in this issue is a list of officers elected by the several associations at their annual meetings, along with representatives to the Alumni Council.

While the total number of alumni who are able to attend these annual meetings is small as compared to the whole alumni body, they provide the officers of the Alumni Association and of the College with the only opportunity there is during the year to discuss College affairs and to secure the opinions and reactions of the alumni to what is going on at the Col-

ALUMNI NOTES

HARRY B. SHONTZ, '98, has qualified for another year for membership in "The President's Club" of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey. The roster of this organization is limited to the top life underwriters whose production records and quality of business far exceed the average.

SILAS B. AXTELL, '06, addressed the Eastern Conference, National Association Claimant's Compensation Attorneys, on "The History and Development of the Jones Act" when the Association held its meeting at the Hotel Astor in New York City on March 10.

ARTHUR L. BROWN, '06, Chicago is now representing the Rex Paper Company of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

FREDERICK L. WHITE, '07, has been elected to membership in the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping, an association organized to advance the science of surveying and mapping in their several branches.

HARRY DUNN, '12, at present Assistant County Prosecutor in Franklin County, has announced his candidacy on the democratic ticket for the new domestic relations judicial term beginning next January 2.

NATHANIEL W. BAKER, '29, has been named chairman of Cleveland's civil defense communications committee. His duties include coordination of emergency communications, such as telephone, telegraph, commercial and amateur radio and all types of messenger service. Mr. Baker is division commercial sales manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

FRANCIS T. MARTIN, '30, has announced the partnership of Martin and McClain, to succeed the law firm of Sundermann and McClain. The new firm is occupying offices in the Union Central Building, Cincinnati.

CREED JOPLING LESTER, '31, is running for re-election next November as Prosecutor for Knox County.

JACK CRITCHFIELD, '35, is seeking re-election as Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County, Ohio.

WILLIAM LANE, '43, and Mrs. Lane are the proud parents of three little daughters.

JOHN CLAYPOOL, '44, and Miss Corinne Pritts of Canton, Ohio, have announced their engagement. Mr. Claypool owns and operates the Pontius Insurance agency in Canton.

ROBERT DRUMMOND MURPHY, '44, has recently been appointed to the announcing staff of Station WDSU in Atlanta, Georgia. He held his first announcing job in Corpus Christi, Texas.

DAVID R. RANSOM, '44, is teaching this year in the English Department of Wofford College, Spartanburg, South Carolina.

THOMAS S. SMITH, '44, and Mrs. Smith announce the arrival of a baby girl on March 8.

WALLACE B. TAYLOR II, '44, is working toward a Ph.D. degree at UCLA.

New trustee, Ralph E. Morton

Morton New Trustee

Newly elected to the Kenyon Board of Trustees is Ralph E. Morton, '16. Vice president of the National City Bank of New York and of City Bank Farmers Trust Company, Mr. Morton is also a trustee of the Broadway Savings Bank, New York, and a director of the Travelers Aid Society of New York. He is also a member of the Bar of the State of New York.

During World War I Mr. Morton served as a lieutenant in the Navy. He is a former resident of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

School and College Conference

School officials from Ohio schools as well as from other states attended the fourth annual school and college conference held the week end of April 5-6 on the Kenyon campus.

The conference is designed to give opportunity for school administrators to meet with Kenyon administrators and faculty in order to discuss problems of mutual interest. Divided into three sessions the conference took up such topics as "Values of the Liberal Arts and Sciences," "Professionalism and the Liberal Arts," and "The Superior Student and Advanced College Standing."

February Trustee Meeting

At the spring meeting of the Kenyon Board of Trustees the Right Reverend Beverley D. Tucker, retired bishop of Ohio, was designated trustee emeritus. Succeeding Bishop Tucker in his ex officio capacity as a member of the Kenyon Board will be the Right Reverend Nelson M. Burroughs, Bishop of Ohio.

At the same meeting two members of the faculties were promoted: Dr. Oscar J. F. Seitz, from the rank of Associate Professor to that of Professor, his full title now being Bedell Professor of New Testament in Bexley Hall; and Dr. Edward Harvey, from the rank of Assistant Professor to that of Associate Professor of Modern Languages in Kenyon College.

Mr. Paul E. Ralston also received promotion, from the position of Acting Superintendent to that of Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Charles C. Wright House

By action of the Board of Trustees the building which houses the infirmary facilities for the College has been designated the Charles C. Wright House in honor of former trustee Charles C. Wright of Cleveland, who was instrumental in having infirmary facilities installed at Kenyon in 1943. Mr. Wright whose many benefactions included the "Wright Parties," delightful occasions of music and refreshments for the Kenyon Faculty, died in April of last year.

Infirmary facilities for the College were first installed in the house opposite the post office known as the Vernon property. In 1947 the equipment was moved to its present quarters, a building acquired through the Federal Public Housing Authority.

Gund Director, Sun Life

George Gund, Hon. '50, and Kenyon trustee, has been elected to a directorship in the Sun Life Insurance Company, whose headquarters are in Toronto, Ontario. Mr. Gund began his new duties in February.

Weaver Heads Ohio Eisenhower Committee

Kenyon trustee, Robert A. Weaver, '12, has been elected head of the Eisenhower-for-President move in Ohio. Weaver, who was a Stassen supporter in the 1948 presidential campaign, said, "In this world crisis and at the great crossroads ahead, the people should clearly have their choice — and we must not be forced to accept a Republican candidate selected by the boys in the proverbial smoke-filled rooms. The public must be served."

President Chalmers Fills Speaking Engagements

Despite the press of academic duties, President Gordon K. Chalmers has filled a considerable number of speaking engagements since Christmas, as well as attending meetings of various policy-making committees of which he is a member. The week beginning January 6th was particularly busy, starting off with an evensong address in Washington Cathedral, Washington, D. C. It was entitled "The University of Mars Hill."

The next few days were taken up with meetings of the Commission on Liberal Education of the Association of American Colleges, the National Selection Committee on Fulbright Awards, and the Commission on Christian Higher Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

On Wednesday, January 9, Dr. Chalmers appeared on a television program, "This is Washington," broadcast over Station WTOP-CBS. During the program he was interviewed on topics relating to modern education.

On January 22 President Chalmers was guest speaker at the Honors Convocation of Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, Michigan; and on January 27 he preached the sermon Sunday morning at Grace Church, Grand Rapids. An alumni gathering followed the service.

During February, he also attended two alumni meetings in the East, one in New York on the 7th, and one in Boston on the 10th.

"The Christian Influence in Education" was the title of the address President Chalmers made to a men's group at the Church of the Ascension, Middletown, Ohio, on February 4; and in Indianapolis, on February 22, he spoke

OBITUARIES

LEWIS C. WILLIAMS, '92, died of a heart attack March 22 at East Orange, N. J. Mr. Williams, who received his Master's Degree from Kenyon in 1899, had a life-long career as a teacher in secondary schools. He began by teaching at Kenyon Military Academy from 1892 to 1896. From 1896 to 1899 he taught at Cheltenham Military Academy near Philadelphia. After a year as vice-president of the Rhineland School for Girls, Mr. Williams spent the next twenty years at the Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, New York, where, in addition to his regular duties, he organized and directed an orchestra and acted as faculty adviser for a cavalry troop of some 100 students who drilled in a nearby armory during World War I. Until his retirement in 1937 Mr. Williams was Chief Co-ordinator at the Haaren Co-op School in Manhattan. In 1942 Mr. Williams returned to Kenyon to supervise the rifle range, a project which gave experience and skill to Kenyon students as well as to Gambier children in whom Mr. Williams always took a kindly interest. Recent Kenyon alumni, faculty, and residents of Gambier regret deeply the passing of Mr. Williams, whose fine and gentle character was loved and admired by all who knew him.

GEORGE W. MASON, '80, died at his home in Catlettsburg, Ky., on February 17. Mr. Mason, who had a life-long career as a civil engineer, took part in the preliminary survey and served as an engineer in the construction of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway between Huntington and Cincinnati. He was also a bridge building contractor. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi.

Word has been received here of the death on January 2 of ALBERT H. DALY, '08, of Toledo, Ohio. While at Kenyon Mr. Daly was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

ALBERT JAMES BELL, M.D., KMA '95, died February 24 in Naples, Florida, after a year's illness. Dr. Bell, a prominent Cincinnati pediatrician, had been for many years on the staffs of General, Christ, and Children's hospitals. He was a former associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, and also one-time chairman of the Medical Milk Commission of the Academy of Medicine. Dr. Bell organized and for years was head of the contagious disease department at General Hospital. In 1941 he became consulting pediatrician for the City Health Department. He is survived by a wife, a daughter, and five grandchildren.

THE HON. WALTER S. JACKSON, '03, Judge of the Third District Court of Appeals, Lima, Ohio, died of a heart attack on February

27. Judge Jackson, who had a long legal career in Ohio, obtained his law degree from Western Reserve University Law School three years after graduating from Kenyon. For many years he was counsel for the Nickel Plate Railroad, and also won considerable reputation as a trial and utilities attorney. He became appellate judge in 1942, receiving a heavy complimentary vote in his unopposed re-election in 1949. In June, 1951, Kenyon College awarded him an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree.

Word has been received of the death in February of this year of HARRY N. SWEZEY, M.D., a former student at Kenyon Military Academy. Dr. Swezey had been practicing medicine in Lafayette, Indiana, since 1911.

SAMUEL CURETON, '09, died February 1 in Mount Vernon, Ohio. He was for many years a partner in the former Cureton Casting Company of Mount Vernon and was a life-long resident of that city. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

PRESIDENT FILLS ENGAGEMENTS

to the Episcopal Laymen's League at a breakfast meeting.

Returning to the campus of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois, where he was president from 1934 to 1937, Dr. Chalmers was principal speaker at the Charter Day ceremonies on Sunday, February 24. He also participated in a round table discussion on education with a number of educational leaders representing several institutions. The discussion centered around the contribution of liberal education to the present world situation.

Mrs. Chalmers also attended the Rockford College Charter Day observances and gave readings from her newest volume of poetry.

March 28, 29 and 31st President Chalmers attended meetings in Chicago of the Board of Review of the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. At that time he also attended the annual dinner meeting of Kenyon alumni of the Chicago area.

On April 3 he gave the Honors Day Convocation Address at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, as well as a dinner-speech before Phi Beta Kappa. He gave another Phi Beta Kappa dinner-speech at the University of Cincinnati on Wednesday, April 30.

On May 19 President Chalmers will speak at a luncheon meeting of the Clericus at the Church of Our Saviour, Salem, Ohio. The following day he will be a guest at the Jubilee Convocation celebrating the sesquicentennial of the founding of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Prizes Awarded At Honors Convocation

The Kenyon Honors Convocation was held Tuesday morning, March 4, when some fifty undergraduates received recognition for high scholarship. Speaker for the occasion was Felix Morley, author and economist, one-time president of Haverford College, winner in 1936 of the Pulitzer Prize for "distinguished editorial writing," and author of numerous books, of which the latest is Foreign Policy of the United States, brought out by Knopf in November, 1951. Currently Mr. Morley is Washington correspondent for Barron's Weekly.

Mr. Morley addressed his audience on the subject of "Standards," building his remarks around the double theme of personal standards and governmental standards. He linked present corruption in government to general lowering of standards throughout the nation as well as to the Government's departure from the gold standard in 1933. "There is a real, if not always obvious, relation between the relaxation of a physical and a moral standard," Mr. Morley observed.

Among winners of prizes and awards announced at the Honors Day ceremonies was James Arlington Wright of Warnock, Ohio, winner of the Robert Frost Poetry Prize, offered annually by Mrs. C. Nichols Greene of Boston. The prize, an autographed copy of the complete works of Robert Frost, went to Wright for his poem, "Robert Sitting in My Hands." Roger Hecht of New York received honorable mention. The awarding committee was composed of Roberta Teale Swartz Chalmers, Professor John Crowe Ransom, and Professor Charles M. Coffin.

Also announced were the nine winners of Bookshop Awards, which are given to students who have shown outstanding originality in a term paper, or who have turned in an unsolicited thesis of high order. This year's winners are Richard Francisco, University Heights, Cleveland; George W. Geasey, III, Philadelphia; Jay Gellens, New York City; Patrick Jackson, Grand Rapids; Frank LeFever, Berwyn, Maryland; Paul C. Matthews, II, Princeton, N. J.; Frederick Neidhardt, Penns Park, Pa.; Constantine Patrides, Forest Hills, L. I.; Lee Sutton, Monrovia, Cal.

The program also carried an announcement of the new elections to Phi Beta Kappa. They are: Allen B. Ballard, Jr., of Philadelphia; George H. Christ of Philadelphia; Howard J. Duntzman of Cincinnati; Patrick J. Hagan of Philadelphia; George W. Lanning, Jr., of Lakewood; David H. Lobdell of Dearborn, Michigan; Peter D. Mosher of Larchmont, N. Y.; and Frederick C. Neidhardt of Penns Park, Pa.

Among students of Bexley Hall two were announced as having high honors standing: Donald M. Hultstrand, Parkers Prairie, Minnesota; and Merle G. Smith, Concord, New Hampshire.

President Chalmers and guest speaker Felix Morley at the Honors Day Convocation.

Kenyon Faculty Active

During 1950-51 the Kenyon faculty rolled up an impressive record of activity in fields other than classroom teaching. Twenty-one members had articles or reviews published in professional magazines or in literary publications. Many members had several items to their credit.

Twenty-eight presented papers, which will later be published, or made speeches to various public gatherings. Kenyon faculty are generous with their time and information to local organizations, as attested by their readiness to accept speaking engagements with Mount Vernon clubs. Thirty-nine attended professional meetings.

Kenyon Men Give Blood

The Red Cross Bloodmobile visited the Kenyon campus on April 7 and obtained 152 pints of blood, of which the greatest amount was supplied by Kenyon students. The Senior Honor Society through a committee chaired by William Ranney, '52, arranged for the donations from the student body. Nineteen faculty members volunteered, and 9 Gambier residents also donated.

From both the undergraduate College and from Bexley names were announced of those whose academic standing is above 3.5, and those who are reading for honors.

FACULTY NOTES

DR. RALPH J. D. BRAIBANTI of the Kenyon Political Science Department was assembly speaker on February 19. His topic was "Corruption in Government." Dr. Braibanti's treatment of the problem was both historical and contemporary.

PROFESSOR JOHN S. ATLEE of the Kenyon Economics Department was guest speaker at the Mount Vernon Chamber of Commerce on January 23. His topic was 'Soviet Russia Through Asiatic Eyes.'

T. L. (ROY) STYERS, in charge of college police at Kenyon as well as assistant coach in several sports, has filed for sheriff of Knox County on the Republican ticket.

DR. CHARLES S. THORNTON, Chairman of the Kenyon Biology Department, was assembly speaker on January 8 when he addressed the student body on "Orthodoxy and Science: The Significance of the Lysenko Controversy."

PROFESSOR W. DENHAM SUTCLIFFE of the Kenyon English Department, on leave at Harvard University, spoke January 25 on "General Education in a Free Society" at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine. Professor Sutcliffe obtained his A.B. at Bates and was a student there when he received his Rhodes Scholarship.

DR. FRANKLIN MILLER of the Kenyon Physics Department spoke before the Men's Club of the Mulberry St. Methodist Church, Mount Vernon, on January 14. His topic was "The Moral Aspect of Atomic Fission."

Old Kenyon as seen through the eyes of Vernon Howe Bailey, artist of international reputation. Mr. Bailey was official artist of the U. S. Navy in both World Wars, and has made a series of water colors and drawings in and about the Vatican. His series of lithographs, "Skyscrapers of New York," has been exhibited in both Europe and America.

New York Central Presents Drawing

During three months of this past winter the New York Central Railroad System has featured Kenyon College on the menu covers in its dining cars. The featuring consisted of a front cover drawing of Old Kenyon by the artist Vernon Howe Bailey and on the back cover photographs of Peirce Hall and Ascension with a paragraph giving the history of the College and describing its educational aims. It is one of a series of menu-covers featuring the many colleges served by the System.

On February 29, at a brief ceremony, the New York Central Railroad System, through its agent, Mr. H. H. Harwood, General Passenger Agent, Cleveland, presented the original pen-and-ink sketch of Old Kenyon to the College. Also present at the ceremony were Mr. R. R. Spangenberg, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, and Mr. J. T. Mays, Division Passenger Agent, Columbus. The College was represented by President Chalmers and Mr. R. B. Brown. A "high-table" luncheon followed the ceremony.

Weaver, Oberlin Lacrosse Coach

Peter Weaver, '50, prime mover on behalf of lacrosse at Kenyon, has been named lacrosse coach at Oberlin College.

Weaver, who has been a lacrosse enthusiast since he attended Deerfield Academy in Massachusetts, played four years at Kenyon and received all-American honorable mention in his sophomore season. During his last two years at Kenyon he was lacrosse coach for the Lords.

In an article in the campus newspaper, the Oberlin Review, Pete's rather hectic schedule is described as follows: "A police beat reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer from 7:30 p.m. to 3:30 a.m., Mr. Weaver's real day is just getting underway when all good lacrossemen should be getting to bed. With lacrosse practice lasting until 5:30 p.m., Mr. Weaver still manages to shower, exchange a few words with the other coaches, drive to Cleveland, eat, glance at the evening paper and "top it off with a quick beer" in his two-hour interval between jobs."

Beta Round-Up

The annual District 12 Round-Up of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity was held at Kenyon the week-end of March 8-9, with Beta Alpha Chapter as hosts. The District comprises the chapters from Wittenberg, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Case, Western Reserve, and Denison.

The serious business of the Round-Up was transacted in five discussion groups on Saturday afternoon. A basketball tournament and a banquet provided fun and sociability.

District Chief, John Dolibois, spoke at the banquet on the topic, "The Nurnberg Criminal Trials." Mr. Dolibois, who was in the Army Intelligence Corps during World War II, is now alumni secretary at Miami University. Kenyon Betas, John McKune, '55, and Charles Leech, '52, comprised the committee in charge.

The chairman of the Committee is President Chalmers, and the headquarters of the Committee will be in Kenyon College. The founding members of the Committee are: Kenneth C. M. Sills, president of Bowdoin College; Samuel T. Arnold, provost, Brown University; Laurence M. Gould, president, Carleton College; Archibald MacIntosh, vice-president, Haverford College; Gordon K. Chalmers, president, Kenyon College; B. A. Thresher, director of admissions, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Samuel S. Stratton, president, Middlebury College; John W. Nason, president, Swarthmore College; Frank H. Sparks, president, Wabash College; Victor L. Butterfield, president, Wesleyan University; James P. Baxter III, president, Williams College; and William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College.

Dekes To Celebrate Centennial

When Kenyon's first fraternity was founded, its members set the pattern of Kenyon fraternity life for the next hundred years. The centennial of the founding of Lambda chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon will be celebrated this June with appropriate ceremonies in which some two hundred alumni will take part. All arrangements for the event are being handled by the active chapter.

Kenyon's first fraternity was founded on June 5, 1852. At that time fraternities were forbidden, and meetings had to be secret. When at last the ban was removed, the organization grew quickly, and in the fall of 1855, with an initial donation of five dollars from James Larwill, the members began the building of a log cabin which was to serve as a meeting place. This cabin was the first fraternity lodge in the country, and a bronze plaque on a boulder now marks its site. The present Deke Lodge was built in 1871.

Saturday, June 7, will see most of the celebrations, which will begin at 4 p.m. with a ceremony at the rock and a "sing down" afterwards. At 5 p.m. the alumni will meet in the parlor of West Wing, and at 6 p.m. there will be a party for alumni, families, actives, and parents of graduating Dekes. The banquet and song fest will begin at 8 p.m., followed immediately by an open beer party in the Wing.

Chairing the Committee on Arrangements is William Yohe, '53. Assisting him are: Robert P. Hubbard, '52, Party Arrangements; Richard McMahon, '52, Decorations; Judson Speer, '52, Ceremony; Arthur Webb, '53, and William James, '54, Tickets, Badges, and Miscellaneous; James Shirk, '54, Housing; William Yohe, Phillips Clark, '55, and Robert Gieske, '54, Chapter History.

Doolittle Honored

Dr. Frederick J. Doolittle, '94, was honored February 6 on his 80th birthday by the faculty and student body of the Episcopal Academy, Merion, Pennsylvania, where Dr. Doolittle has taught for forty-seven years. The Right Reverend Oliver James Hart, Bishop of Pennsylvania, celebrated a special communion service, and the entire Upper School joined in a special birthday party at lunch.

Dr. Doolittle, who has devoted sixty years of his life to teaching, began his career as a tutor in Greek at the Kenyon Military Academy while he was still a student at Kenyon College. However, he was not too busy to become a star football and baseball player and to interest himself in the out-of-doors, which is so available to the student at Kenyon. This latter activity bore fruit later on in a Forestry Club, which he founded at Episcopal Academy, and which had as its object the beautification of the Academy's campus.

Kenyon College conferred on Mr. Doolittle the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters in 1947.

LIBRARY NOTES

From Mr. Lee Shepard of Cincinnati comes a gift of three pamphlets documenting some of the highlights of the early history of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio and also six journals of early conventions of the diocese. Dr. R. G. Salomon, Bexley authority on church history, has classified these items as "rare."

A project in care and maintenance has been begun in the Kenyon Library under the supervision of new Head Librarian, Edward C. Heintz. Thorough dusting of both books and stacks with the aid of a vacuum cleaner is now going forward, with scholarship students as the workers.

In the Library Annex the treatment of leather bindings with a 7% solution of potassium lactate is being performed in order to preserve the leather from disintegration caused by the acid used in tanning. An oiling process then follows the use of the solution.

Kent U. Moore, acting librarian at the Kenyon Library during the fall semester of this year, has accepted a position at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., as chief of the cataloguing division.

Mr. Moore came to Kenyon in the fall of 1946 as chief cataloguer. In 1948 he presented to Kenyon Library over 1,000 books from his personal library, many of them items of unusual interest. Mr. Moore took up his duties at his new post on April 7.

lege. The official opportunity for this comes, of course, through the meetings which are held between the Alumni Council and the Executive Committee of the Council with the officers of the College. But those meetings are not only infrequent, but usually are too much confined to the routine business which must be transacted.

One of the principal subjects of discussion was the prospect for future enrollment. Until the Chicago meeting, it was impossible to announce that the College had finally, after many years of effort, secured an Air R.O.T.C. program.

That announcement made on the front page of this issue of the Bulletin is one of great importance to the immediate future of the College. President Chalmers has worked indefatigably to secure an R.O.T.C. unit for Kenyon, realizing that in the present situation most young men considering college are anxious to combine, insofar as that is possible, their academic education with their military training.

The announcement for the unit at Kenyon was made by the president of Ohio Wesleyan University who has been authorized by the Secretary of the Air Force to extend its AF ROTC program to the students at Denison,

McDowell Editor for Chambers

David McDowell, '40, junior editor at Random House, Publishers, has two feathers for his cap: some months ago he won onetime Communist Whittaker Chambers' assent to do a book for Random House; and when the piles of manuscript began coming in, he was assigned as Chambers' editor. The Witness, which is appearing this spring, has already been named a Book-of-the-Month selection.

Mr. McDowell was an instructor in the Kenyon English Department for two years after his graduation and also served as secretary to the Kenyon Review. Since his Kenyon days he has completed a stint in the Army, has done publicity, promotion, sales, and advertising for New Directions, and has acted as American advisory editor for Transition.

Sladky Transcribes Handbook

Blind amateur radio operators at the Ohio State School for the Blind, Columbus, are benefiting from the volunteer work of Warren Sladky, '51. It all came about through another volunteer, William Jenney of Columbus, an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and a "ham" operator himself. When he offered to teach the system to students at the blind school, he found that there were no Braille texts suitable for the course. Sladky came to the rescue by transcribing by hand two volumes on fundamental radio and electronics, and now several blind students have passed the tests and have been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission.

Kenyon and Otterbein. Under this arrangement headquarters for this Detachment, No. 31, will be at Ohio Wesleyan. An air force officer will be in residence at Kenyon and all present academic freshmen in the College, along with certain academic sophomores (who are planning to go on to graduate school), are eligible to enroll.

Immediately upon receipt of official notice that Kenyon was included in the new plan, notices went out to all prospective freshmen, to all those now in high school or preparatory school who had inquired about Kenyon for next September, and to the schools themselves. It is expected that the acquisition of the ROTC unit at Kenyon will have a decided bearing on the size of the September, 1952, class and on all classes thereafter.

I hope to see as many of you as can possibly make it during the Commencement week end, June 6 to 10. There is an additional reason for returning this year: to pay tribute to Delta Kappa Epsilon, which will be celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of its founding at Kenyon. That is an important event in the history of the College because with the founding of the first Greek letter society at Kenyon there was established a pattern for college life which has now endured for one hundred years.

Head librarian, Edward C. Heintz

Mr. Heintz, who was appointed last fall, took up his duties in February. He comes to Kenyon from Bowdoin College, New Brunswick, Me.

Radio Committee Reports

Since the January report from the Committee on Radio Broadcasts, the scope of the work done by the Committee has again broadened, according to a recent report from Committee Chairman, Professor Paul Schwartz. Besides the regular Sunday and mid-week programs, a regular one-hour show has been added, and special programs have been released.

The new broadcast, entitled KENYON COLLEGE CLASSICS, is presented every Sunday from 4:00 to 5:00 p. m. It offers recorded classical music from discs belonging to the Carnegie Record Set, the Department of Music, and private record collections. The program is supervised by the Committee chairman and announced by Jack Williams, '53.

On February 25 and 26 two transcribed half-hour programs were broadcast over WOSU the radio station for Ohio State University. They were highlights from the conference on "Free Inquiry in the Modern World and its Dependence on Christianity," and excerpts from Professor Hans Morgenthau's address given at the Ohio Conference of International Relations Clubs on "The Real Issue between Russia and the United States." More half-hour programs are being offered to WOSU at this time; among them are Professor Ralph Braibanti's Assembly speech on "Corruption in Government," and excerpts from an address by Professor Alfred Hotz of Western Reserve University.

The 1952 Kenyon Lacrosse Team. Season to date: Two wins, 1 tied, 1 lost.

Spring Sports

by Pete Paisley, '52

The spring sports picture is bright with the prospect of that commodity often so rare at Kenyon, victories. Three Lord teams will participate in 46 games and meets before the semester ends, and two of them can practically guarantee their followers a winning season.

The tennis squad, under H. Landon Warner for its second year, highlights the picture. On hand for the season is the entire team which won twelve of thirteen meets and copped the conference title last spring. Leading the list of standouts is Ron Ryan, a junior from Cincinnati. Ron, captain of the squad, is defending conference singles champ and was beaten only once last season, that loss being to Cincinnati's great Tony Trabert. Strong backing right down the line can be expected from such stalwarts as Tildon McMasters, Tim Ryan, Jack Goldberg, Jack Harrison and Bill Greaves, all of whom won a strong majority of their individual matches last season. Kenyonites are counting on this squad as being the strongest to represent the school since Don McNeill's heyday on campus. The team's twelve-meet schedule is headed by matches with the perennially outstanding Kalamazoo team on April 26 at the Michigan college.

Starting its fourth season under Bill Stiles, the lacrosse club should have little trouble continuing its mastery over Ohio competition and producing a record top heavy on the win side. The "Abasab Boys," boasting eleven letter winners, have been practicing almost the year round and have already jelled into a stable if not a flashy outfit.

But despite the number of returning veterans, the quantity of available starters from last season's team is so low as to provide many questions as to the real strength of the squad. The entire first attack group is new due to the graduation of aces Lenny Burrows and Whitey Hollenbach and the drafting of John Jones, undoubtedly the best player ever to represent an Ohio team. In their place, Bill has been trying to find the right combination from among five hopefuls: Fred Papsin, Bruce Pennington, Vinc Guandolo, Took Cole and Pete Paisley. The midfield situation is strong, with Jerry Ellsworth, Si Axtell, Bob McOwen, Al Murphy, John VerNooy and Bill Rirey on hand; but at defense and in the goal there is again a problem due to the graduation of two men from each category. Filling in beside co-captain Brook Abrahams at defense are Joe Culp and Butch Aulenbach, while John Horswell has shown himself entirely capable in filling the goalie pads formerly worn by Hal Meier and Tom Berlin.

The team has already started its ambitious eleven game schedule. Washington and Lee, a powerful team this season, set the Lords on their heels, winning 15-3 on March 31; but the Gambier squad bounced right back to tie the University of Delaware 7-7, two days later. From their showings against these two opponents the team gives every indication of being capable of claiming the mythical mid-western crown at the end of this season as it has for the past four.

Pat Pasini's baseball team is the big question mark in the sports calendar. The squad, which won but 3 of 15 games last season, is definitely improved over that club, but how much so is problematical. Only one regular from that team is gone, graduated captain and second baseman Peyt Pitney. Around the infield from third base to first are Dom Cabriele, captain Dick Thomas, Will Archer and Mike Hayden. Outfielders Ron Fraley, Phil Pitney—Peyt's frosh brother—and Dick Promin along with catcher Hugh McGowan make up the remainder of the regular defense. On the hill, Pat is blessed with the talented Joe Pavlovich, who is being counted upon to carry two-thirds of the pitching barring a continuation of his current arm trouble. Bill Williams and Jim Sutherland are behind him when needed. Hitting, which is so often conspicuous by its absence on Lord squads, should be respectable. McGowan, Fraley,

Pasini Honored

At the April 3 meeting of the Kenyon Klan, veteran coach H. F. (Pat) Pasini was presented with a testimonial:

"The members of the Kenyon Klan, knowing that Mr. Humbert F. Pasini has decided to retire from Kenyon College at the end of this semester, wish to take this opportunity to express to him their respect, admiration, and affection.

Mr. Pasini, or "Pat," as we prefer to call him, has been, for six years, a faithful and active member of the Klan, and has always encouraged and lived the ideals of the Klan. He has been loyal to Kenyon College, loyal to his colleagues and to the members of his teams, and to the student body as a whole. He has been fair in his dealings and honest and considerate in his judgments and has always stood for sportsmanship. In all these and other ways he has maintained and enhanced the high reputation of athletics at Kenyon College. And all of these ideals of the Klan that "Pat" seems literally to embody and to carry out in his own practice, he has inculcated and encouraged in all students who have come into contact with him.

As a teacher, "Pat" Pasini has been efficient, hardworking, and successful, and all Kenyon athletes will miss his patient and inspiring instruction.

"Pat" is a real man, a man of undoubted character, a man of deep religious belief and conviction. We are losing, from daily contact, a companion who has so often put us right in so many important matters; but he will remain the true friend whom we love, respect, and admire.

The Kenyon Klan wishes also to express its appreciation to Mrs. Pasini, who on so many occasions has aided and befriended the Klan. We salute her also in this testimony of our admiration of her respected husband."

Thomas, Pavlovich and Archer have proven themselves capable with the hickory.

The squad has a sixteen game schedule ahead of it, eight of them home games in May. Although the southern "training tour" showed up many weaknesses, the team is confident of its share of victories in the not-so-hostile north.

The athletic department has dropped track and golf from its spring sports plans this season. The causes: lack of interest, participants and finances. Last season's track team failed because there just wasn't enough material to go around. This winter only a few men made an appearance at early practice sessions and the nucleus squad died a death of starvation. The golf team ceased when deemed unworthy of the funds needed to put four men on the Ohio courses not because the necessary

Baseball Team on Southern Trip

by Pete Paisley, '52

On March 17, the first day of "spring" vacation at Kenyon, thirteen undergrads joined Pat Pasini for a week of Florida sunshine, warmth and enjoyment. The pretense that the jaunt was intended as a baseball trip was quickly dispelled when the scores of the series were noticed by those who stayed in the cold belt. Their record was unblemished, and for those who care for the trivial, the scores were:

Kenyon 1 — Florida State 21
Kenyon 2 — Florida State 10
Kenyon 2 — Florida Southern 7
Kenyon 10 — Florida Southern 16
Kenyon 1 — Rollins 11

Yet the trip cannot be deemed as anything but a success. A balance sheet on the excursion shows that for as little as $35 per man (the maximum has not been stated) the team gathered concentrated experience in the finer points of the art of playing baseball, a jump in training on their future northern opponents, a varied, interesting trip, suntans and some fun. In the words of Pat Pasini, "The boys got a maximum of education in Florida, not only in baseball but in the experiences that accompany visiting campuses other than their own. I'm sure every one of them, after seeing the expensive but unchallenging southern schools, is proud to attend a college such as Kenyon with its traditions and depth."

That the trip was so inexpensive yet so beneficial is the result of many factors. The team paid its own way, except for $100 donated by Mr. William B. Beck, '94, of Akron, Ohio. Room and board were provided in funds were so much—about $300 for the season—but that so few got the advantage of the money.

Florida by the colleges the team visited, so that gasoline, rooms and food on the road were the only necessary expenditures. Careful planning of details by Pat insured the success of the excursion and its smooth running.

The scores, although topheavy for the hosts, are not other than were expected. Rollins and Florida State rely to a great extent on scholarships to produce winning teams, while Southern has an enrollment quite a bit larger than Kenyon's. Then too, the ace of the Lord's mound staff, Joe Pavlovich, managed to pitch only in six innings due to a pulled muscle in the shoulder of his throwing arm. Pat and the team alike are confident that the trip is proving of invaluable assistance now that their conference schedule is underway.

Tennis Team At Blossom Hangar

The Kenyon tennis team and their coach, H. Landon Warner, were guests of the Hangar Recreation Association, Cleveland, in a series of matches played Saturday and Sunday, March 8, 9.

Arranged by A. Davis Gale, 28, the matches gave Kenyon men a good opportunity to test this season's strength against some first-class amateur competition. The team was gratified to come off with five matches out of eight played. All the matches were doubles.

The Kenyon team consisted of Ron Ryan, '53, Tildon McMasters, '53, Tim Ryan, '52, Jack Goldberg, '52, and Bill Greaves, '52. The players from the Hangar Recreation Association were: Dudley Blossom, Jr., who is president of the Association, Guthrie Bicknell, Henry Rankin, Al Rankin, John Wilbur, George Merryweather, Davis Gale, and Willis Fulton.

ALUMNI COUNCIL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. That all previous actions of the Council and its Executive Committee, or either of them, pertaining to the method by which aid may be extended to students or prospective students, from funds contributed by the alumni, including that legislation by which the existing Alumni Grant-in-Aid and Loan Fund Committee was created and under which its functions, shall be rescinded.
2. That it restates by this resolution its interest in aiding by all legal and ethical means and within the limits of its resources as many deserving students and prospective students as possible, its principal interest being in those students who make or promise to make a real contribution to the College in any of the extra-curricular fields—athletics, student government, publications, music, debating, dramatics or in any other sphere which affects beneficially the student life of the College, with the understanding that while such students may not have attained scholarship grade in secondary school or college they must have met all the requirements for admission to Kenyon as prescribed by the Faculty and they shall not receive, under any circumstances, any academic favors whatever from any source in order to participate in athletics or any other college activity or in order to remain in college.
3. That funds for student aid which may be contributed by the alumni from time to time, in addition to the regular annual commitment for current operations, shall be an additional gift to the College to be added to and not substituted for grant-in-aid funds appropriated by the Trustees and shall be administered by the Dean of the College so long as he is charged with the administration of all other grants-in-aid.

4. That grants-in-aid supported by funds contributed by alumni to the grant-in-aid fund shall be known as Alumni Grants-in-Aid.

5. That in order that the Dean of the College may have the benefit of whatever assistance and counsel the alumni are able to give in connection with his administration of Alumni Grants-in-Aid, there shall be a committee of the Alumni Council to be known as The Advisory Committee on Student Aid.

6. That The Advisory Committee on Student Aid shall consist of five members, all of whom shall be alumni and shall include the Alumni Secretary, who shall act as secretary of the Committee, the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics when he is an alumnus, and where possible, qualified alumni living near Gambier. The Committee shall be appointed by the President of the Alumni Council from year to year at each annual meeting.

The luncheon period and an hour or so after luncheon were devoted to a discussion of the liquor problem at the College and the reputation which the College has concerning it.

President Chalmers brought to the Committee a request from the Board of Trustees that the Council consider this matter. Following is an excerpt from the minutes of the meeting concerning it:

It was agreed by all present that whereas the College may or may not have deserved in years gone by the reputation it now bears, it certainly does not deserve it now; and while the problem still involves the improvement of drinking conditions within the College, the main job seems to be to break the tradition and improve the reputation of the College. Many possibilities as to ways in which this could be done were discussed. It seemed to be agreed that it could not be done in print or by letter, but that perhaps the only way much could be accomplished would be by word of mouth, by getting it generally understood by the alumni that what they say about Kenyon to others, and particularly to prospective students and their parents, is of the greatest importance to the welfare of the College. It was also felt that something could be done through the alumni with the undergraduates in the various Divisions because much of the trouble now seems to stem from loose talk on the part of undergraduates when they are at home during vacation. No one apparently wants to whitewash Kenyon. The desire is that the liberalism which exists at Kenyon be understood as not being license and that drinking as a social practice, which is now almost universal, be put in its proper place in the life of the College and in the conversation of the students and the alumni.

The Chairman asked the Committee to work along on this actively in line with the message which had been brought to the alumni by President Chalmers from the Board of Trustees. No other official action was taken, but the Chairman asked the President to say to the Board of Trustees that the alumni, as represented by the Executive Committee, do recognize the problem and intend to do everything they can to improve the situation.

Class Secretary List Grows Rapidly

The move which President Caples made last fall to build an organization of class secretaries or class agents has been highly successful. You will be hearing from your class secretary frequently in the future. Following is the list to date:

Bishop Tucker receives the Bexley testimonial from Professor Salomon while President Chalmers looks on.

Bishop Tucker Honored On Retirement

At a dinner in the Hotel Cleveland on January 31 church notables from the Diocese of Ohio and from other dioceses gathered to do honor to Bishop Beverley D. Tucker upon his retirement from holy office after fourteen years of service. Also present was Governor Frank J. Lausche.

Besides the Kenyon trustees, a delegation of seven represented Kenyon College: President and Mrs. Chalmers, Dean Corwin C. Roach, and four members of the Bexley Hall faculty, Dr. W. Clinton Seitz, Dr. Oscar J. F. Seitz, Dr. Richard G. Salomon, and the Reverend Clement W. Welsh.

Two testimonials, one from the College and one from the Seminary, both in Latin, were presented to Bishop Tucker during the farewell ceremonies, and the texts of each follow.

Sentiments of esteem addressed by the Faculty of Kenyon College to the Right Reverend Beverley Dandridge Tucker upon the occasion of his retirement as Bishop of Ohio:

We, the members of the Faculty of Kenyon College, have learned with regret that the Right Reverend Beverley Dandridge Tucker intends to retire, on February 4, 1952, from the office of Bishop of Ohio, and we wish to record the esteem, the admiration, and the affection in which we hold him.

Coming, as he did, to Ohio from his native Virginia, Bishop Tucker might have found, had he not been an unusual man, this change of spiritual and social atmosphere a very difficult one to make. But, because he combines in himself in a rare degree those qualities of personality, intellect, and soul that a great Priest and a great leader must possess, he made this change from one cultural climate to another both quickly and gracefully.

In Ohio he was recognized immediately as an outstanding and able man, of profound religious belief and simple piety; and all doors and all hearts were at once opened to him. By his handsome presence, his fine voice, his distinguished manner, his infinite tact, and his good humour he charmed us; by his high seriousness as a thinker and scholar and his proved ableness as a man of affairs, he made us respect him; and by his devoutness and spirituality he gave us confidence.

From Virginia to Ohio Bishop Tucker brought with him more than great gifts of mind and soul; he brought Mrs. Tucker, a fair and gentle lady, who has endeared herself to all who know her and who is responsible for much of Bishop Tucker's success in the diocese. To her we express our respectful devotion.

In the Faculty of Kenyon College we deem ourselves especially fortunate in having had unusual opportunity to know Bishop Tucker, who as Bishop and Trustee of the College has often had occasion to be in Gambier. Each one of us regards him as a real friend who, because he was once a teacher himself, takes a genuine interest in our scholarly activities. Moreover, we know that, as a scholar and humanist, he is in thorough sympathy with the ideals of liberal education which we are trying to keep alive on this classic hill. We are grateful to him for having on all occasions used the full weight of his influence in helping and encouraging us to maintain those ideals.

We, the members of the Faculty of Kenyon College, are genuinely sorry that Bishop Tucker has decided to sever the official bonds that have bound him for twelve years to the Diocese of Ohio and to Kenyon College. We are happy that he cannot sever those bonds that bind him to our hearts.

In farewell we salute Bishop Tucker as Great Scholar, Great Bishop, Great Priest. And affectionately we wish him and his gracious wife many years of happiness and peace.

From the Faculty of Bexley Hall to the Right Reverend Beverley Dandridge Tucker.

To the Right Reverend Father in God, Beverley Dandridge Tucker, Master of Arts of the University of Oxford, Doctor in Divinity, Doctor of Sacred Theology, Doctor of Laws, Doctor of Humane Letters, by divine permission Bishop of the Diocese of Ohio, the President, Dean and Professors of Bexley Hall send greetings in the Lord.

Sad to say, the happiest relationships and the most helpful associations of men are, by the passing of time and all the changes and chances of this mortal life, at length brought to an end. Although this outcome may fill the heart with sadness, nevertheless it recalls the memory of the good fortune of the past, for which blessings of a kind Providence thanks should be given to God.

Your resignation of your pontifical jurisdiction makes us sorrowful, Right Reverend Father, even though you are committing it into the most worthy hands of your Coadjutor, beloved by both you and us; but as we remember your works, shown out of a good conversation with meekness of wisdom, we rejoice with grateful hearts.

With eminent dutifulness we reflect both upon your care of all the Churches shown to

BEXLEY NOTES

THE REVEREND HAROLD J. WEAVER, Bex. '35, has resigned from the rectorship of St. George's Episcopal Church, Lusk, Wyoming, in order to accept a call to St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Rawlins, Wyo. The Rawlins Daily Times gives a detailed write-up of Mr. Weaver's career, which is an impressive one of building up parish after parish.

THE REVEREND ARTHUR W. HARGATE, '36, Bex. '38, now rector of Trinity Church, Toledo, is the subject of a feature cartoon in the Toledo Times. The Reverend Mr. Hargate put himself through school by playing the saxophone in a dance orchestra. But the caption quotes Mr. Hargate as saying, "I decided that was hardly right for a theological student, so I gave it up. I still play a little though, when the children get frisky."

THE REVEREND JAMES P. BRERETON, '10, Bex. '27, has announced that he will retire from the ministry of the Episcopal Church on July 31. He is now rector of Christ Church, Hudson. The Reverend Mr. Brereton came late to the ministry, having spent several years in the business world. Before going to Hudson, he was rector of St. Paul's Church, Medina, St. Andrew's and St. Mark's in Dayton, St. Thomas in Berea, and the Community Church in Weymouth.

THE REVEREND DOCTOR D. MAXFIELD DOWELL, '26, Bex. '28, was honored on February 10 when his parish celebrated the tenth anniversary of his coming to Christ Church, Shaker Heights. Under Dr. Dowell's leadership Christ Church has multiplied its membership ten-fold. The Christ Church vestry sponsored the anniversary dinner. Climax of the evening was the presentation of a silver service oval tea tray to Mrs. Dowell by the women of the parish and a new Buick from the men of the parish to their rector.

THE REVEREND MILTON SAVILLE, '48, was ordained to the priesthood in a ceremony in Grace Church, Medford, Mass., on February 9. Bishop Norman B. Nash of the Diocese of Massachusetts, performed the ordination. The Reverend Mr. Saville has been a curate at Grace Church since his graduation last June from the Theological School, Cambridge.

all the congregations committed to your charge and also upon the earnest attention given by you to sacred learning and especially to the good estate of Bexley Hall. Together with your most renowned predecessors of blessed memory you deserve to be numbered among the founders and benefactors of our school.

We pray almighty God ever to send down upon you the healthful Spirit of his grace and to pour upon you the continual dew of his blessing and to grant that you may live in health and prosperity for many years. Farewell.

Bexley Stages Mardi-Gras

A dance, the first that has been held at Bexley for some years, was put on by Bexley students the Saturday preceding Ash Wednesday. Attendance was close to one hundred per cent, unmarried students importing dates for the occasion from nearby colleges.

Festivities began with a tea-and-coffee hour in the Bishop Leonard Room, Bexley Hall, at 2 p.m. At five o'clock all couples attended the chapel service before adjourning to a dinner at 6:30 in the private dining room at Peirce Hall.

From 9 until 12 the guests danced to music provided by The Three Moods from Columbus, and intermissions were enlivened with skits, quartette singing, and audience-participation singing.

Bexley Receives Unique Scholarship

Mr. James C. Gorman of Mansfield, Ohio, has offered to maintain a candidate for Holy Orders at Bexley Hall, for the necessary three-year course, with a scholarship carrying a yearly stipend of $880.

Mr. Gorman has stipulated a preference for a negro student, feeling that "our Church has an enormous and challenging field of endeavor among the negroes, not only in Ohio but throughout our country."

Easter Lectures

Dr. Elton Trueblood, Professor of Philosophy at Earlham College, delivered the 1952 Bexley Alumni Easter Lectures in Gambier on April 22 and 23. The theme for the four lectures was "The Christian Revolution."

Dr. Trueblood, who is a Quaker and of Quaker parentage, has had a long training in both religion and philosophy. After graduating from Penn College, Dr. Trueblood obtained his S.T.B. from Harvard University, going on to John Hopkins University for a Ph.D. He has written extensively in both fields, some of his titles being The Essence of Spiritual Religion, The Trustworthiness of Religious Experience, The Knowledge of God, The Logic of Belief, Alternative to Futility, and Signs of Hope in a Century of Despair.

For a time Dr. Trueblood was Acting Chaplain at Harvard University as well as a member of the Harvard Faculty; he was also Professor of the Philosophy of Religion and Chaplain at Stanford University, editor of The Friend from 1935 to 1946, and since 1946, occupant of his present post at Earlham College.

Lilly Foundation Makes Gift

A gift of $8,000 from the Lilly Endowment of Indianapolis will make possible the development of the facilities in the Colburn Library of Bexley Hall. Plans now call for a rehabilitation of the basement of the library, and the work will include new flooring, lighting, the installation of steel stacks, and the furnishing of a reading room.

Gambier Observer Reappears

On January 25 of this year a new series of issues of the Gambier Observer was begun by Professor Clement W. Welsh, who has been minister of the College Chapel in the absence of a full-time College chaplain and Harcourt Parish rector.

Relying very deliberately on its old background, the new Observer quotes liberally from its predecessor, at the same time giving an up-to-date slant to old yet ever-new problems. The Observer, true to its name, also records births, deaths, and events of importance to the Gambier community. Its writer and editor hopes that it is fulfilling its intended function of drawing together the people of the parish.

The original Gambier Observer made its first appearance on May 28, 1830, and was at first written by Professor William Sparrow, later assisted by Professor Marcus Tullius Cicero Wing, whose house, incidentally, Professor Welsh now occupies. Professor Welsh has emphasized the historical aspect of his project by using the original banner, which is a copper cut of Old Kenyon.

Luncheon Society Organized

Supplementing the more serious activity of the Bexley Society, a new luncheon society, calling itself "The Chowder and Marching Society," has been organized by Bexley students.

The Society, which is dedicated to good fellowship and interchange of ideas, originated with Bexley student Herbert Myers and Professor Clement W. Welsh. The sixty-odd members plan to convene twice a month for luncheon in the private dining-room of Peirce Hall, where they can listen comfortably to the guest speaker and relax with group singing.

To direct the organization's activities the members have elected a four-man committee with Mr. Herbert Myers (Diocese of Ohio) as chairman. The others on the committee are Mr. Russell V. Ewald (Minnesota), Mr. Merle G. M. Cmith (New Hampshire), and Mr. Thomas Atherton (Ohio).

Dr. Miller attended the meetings of the American Physical Society in Columbus on March 21-22. On March 28-29 he attended the meetings of the American Association of University Professors as a delegate of the Kenyon chapter of that organization. On the same weekend he also attended the meetings of the Council of the Society for Social Responsibility in Science. Both organizations met in Philadelphia.

PROFESSOR JOHN CROWE RANSOM was visiting lecturer on the campus of the University of Michigan February 26, 27. On March 26, 27 he lectured at the University of Iowa, and on May 8, 9 he will lecture at the University of Wisconsin. He also has the lead article in the department of "Literature and the Arts" of the March 31 issue of The New Republic. The article is entitled "An Age of Criticism" and is the first of a half-dozen articles Professor Ransom has agreed to write for the New Republic during the year.

PROFESSOR PAUL RADIN, Visiting Professor of Anthropology, conducted a three-day series of seminars at the University of Toronto, March 12, 13, and 14. During April and May Dr. Radin is traveling four times to Chicago where he will conduct seminars in the course on Sacred Books, an offering of the Department of Anthropology at Chicago University. Also during April Dr. Radin delivered a faculty lecture at Kenyon and addressed the College Women's Club of Mount Vernon.

PROFESSOR RAYMOND D. CAHALL and PROFESSOR RAYMOND ENGLISH attended the twenty-second annual International Day at Central State College, Wilberforce, Ohio, and took part in the workshop on "The Impact of East-West Antagonisms Upon the Possibilities of Achieving World Peace."

As We Were

Samplings from the files of the Collegian yield these nostalgic items.

June, 1896: The masthead for this issue lists the Collegian staff as being: Constant Southworth, R. L. Harris, P. B. Stanberry, Jr., D. L. B. Goodwin, J. A. Nelson, G. A. Straw, and C. R. Ganter.

February, 1902: On January 23, in the Philomathesian Society, was held the preliminary for the 22nd day debate. Subject: "Resolved, that the United States should accept the proposed Nicaraguan route through the Isthmus in preference to the Panama route." Affirmative: Messrs. Stewart and Abraham; Negative: Messrs. Davidson and Rodgers; Judges: Messrs. Roudenbush, Cummings, and Daniels.

November 23, 1906: At the regular meeting of Philo held on Wednesday evening, November 15, the following men were voted into the society: Messrs. Cahall, Marsh, Kneives, Cloe, and Lybarger. Papers are being prepared for early presentation by Messrs. Riley, Brooke, Knapp, and L'Hommiedieu.

May 3, 1911: Kenyon wins track meet with Ohio State University, 98 to 34. In all events but two a Kenyon man brought in a "first," and Kenyon men were also frequent "seconds." Here are the "firsts": 100 yd. dash — Weaver; 220 yd. dash — Weaver; 400 yd. run — Krieg; 1 mile run — Aves; 220 yd. hurdles — Little; 120 yd hurdles — Skiles; broad jump — Mason; high jump — Axtell; 16 lb. shot — Marty; discus — Axtell; 16 lb. hammer — Marty; half-mile relay won by Kenyon in 1 minute, 47 seconds by Little, Downe, Beatty, and Mason.

December 17, 1921: "Marrying Marilyn" is the name of the 1922 vehicle for college talent, and it was written by the happy combination of James Wade, plot and situations, and Henry Downes, dialogue. Several oldsters in the cast of principals help to make the production a success, and cannot but have improved with the experience behind them. They are: James Wade, Hummel, Van Arnhem, Schmick, Dudley, Fishack, de Boer-Cummings, and Wasser. H. R. Stegman, '23, and J. R. Kesselmire, '25, are valuable new additions to the list of principals . . . Veterans of the girls' chorus are Sturgis, Ward, and Niswender; and to the ranks of this coy aggregation have been added Gage, R. N. Hamilton, Cornelius Eichelberger, E. Crane, and McFadden, all class of '24; and Evans, E. Pattie, Rush, Bachmer, Corey, Diller and Bemis . . . The men's chorus this year is an extremely clever team with Broder, '25, Downe, '23, Judd, '24, and Cannon, '25.

January 1, 1927: Nu Pi Kappa has admitted eight new members, including D. S. Johnson, Edwin Southworth, Charles Riker, Robert Young, S. R. McGowan, C. D. Roth, R. W. Luethi, and Lewis Addison. Besides the new members, the club includes the following men: J. W. McClain, R. N. D. Arndt, Howard V. Harper, Kenyon Eberth, C. D. Marsh, J. A. Wright, S. B. Boudreau, J. B. Sturges, William Hamilton, Canon Watson, Professors Waterhouse, Walter, and Ashford.

June 15, 1931: Gambler Hour by Hour, by Ken Gillett, goes like this: Johnny Eberth cut quite a picture hobbling around here on Miss M.P.'s crutches . . . The four Adonises from East Wing, Fox, Weyhing, Reutter, and Hiller, showed up to sing in the choir for the Harcourt Baccalaureate sermon . . . Ed Ferris is going to have a very nice summer as an officer on a yacht racing across the Atlantic . . . The Delt Lodge is to be completed for their fiftieth anniversary banquet . . . The Williams nose, by the way, has begun to assume its customary summer hue of tomato red . . . Sterling Hanna and the Delts played off the finals in the intramural golf matches this morning. Dick Hutsinpillar, of the former team, said that he

Chambliss Gives Negatives

Kenyon is pleased at a recent gift from Sam Chambliss, '51. The gift is a collection of negatives of shots Sam took during his junior and senior years at Kenyon, and it ranges from casual division party candids to a series of aerial views taken from a plane in which Sam was both pilot and photographer. On this page are samples of his skill.

With Sam photography began as a kind of hobby, but it soon became an all-consuming passion. When he returned from service in World War II, Chambliss purchased the first-class equipment that helps to give his shots their biting clarity. Then he started in business. Incidentally, Sam was decorated with the Purple Heart; and he served five months in prison camps in China and Japan when he was captured in alien territory after bailing out of a burning F-51 Mustang.

Chambliss is at present an electrical draftsman for Fada Radio and T. V. at Belleville, New Jersey; and he is also doing free-lance photography. His work has already appeared in several trade magazines. He is living at 242-C Davey St., Bloomfield, N. J.

Lancashire Memorial Fund

The fund for buying books in memory of Thomas Lancashire, '54, has purchased a number of books for the North Canton High School Library, according to word received from the librarian, Mrs. Florence Stahler. Among contributors to the fund were President Chalmers, Dean Bailey, and members of the Archon Fraternity, of which Lancashire was a member. The purchases include books on radio and electricity, photography, and atomic energy.

hoped that Frank Lindsay would not go out of his head and shoot a 41 as he did in one of the other matches.

October 6, 1936: Between You and Me by Bob Demaree, includes this football item: A pat on the shoulder for Dick Baker and John Herman for their fine, amateur job of announcing the game . . . Dave Jasper for catching that low pass that led to Kenyon's victory goal . . . Captain Taylor, Mike Simonetti, Dick Olin, and Jack Sted for their hard, accurate tackling.

December 5, 1941: Polo team plays Culver in first match tomorrow. Line up for Kenyon: Charlie White, No. 1, John Ake, No. 2, Bill Lewis, No. 3, Fritz Watson, substitute. At the same time Kenyon's jumping team will meet Culver for the second time this fall. Members of the jumping team: Carter Brown, Dixon Hunt, Bill Lane, Robert Weaver, Jr., Sam Volkmar.

November 1, 1946: Six new members were accepted by the Hill Players. They are: Phil Fendig, James Hansen, Nevin Kuhl, Stewart Perry, John Swope, and Herschal Welsh.

PROFESSOR VIRGIL C. ALDRICH of the Kenyon Philosophy Department is chairman of the Program Committee for the American Philosophical Association, meeting the first week in May.

PROFESSOR HOYT LANDON WARNER of the Kenyon History Department has an article in the January issue of The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Quarterly entitled "Ohio Constitutional Convention of 1912." The same issue also contains his review of Russel B. Nye's Midwestern Progressive Politics.

PROFESSOR HYMAN CHESSIN of the Kenyon Chemistry Department will present a paper on the effect of "Ultrasonics on Metal Polarization and Electrodeposition" at a symposium in Cleveland May 21-23 sponsored jointly by the office of Naval Research and Western Reserve University.

PROFESSOR RICHARD G. SALOMON of the Kenyon History Department attended the Meetings of the Ohio Academy of History in Columbus, April 6-7. Dr. Salomon also lectured March 5 in Dayton on "The Historical Background of the Episcopal Church."

PROFESSOR ERIC S. GRAHAM of the Kenyon Chemistry Department attended the meetings of the American Chemical Society held in Buffalo, March 22-26. On April 1 he addressed the Loudonville Rotary Club on "Chemotherapy."

PROFESSOR EDWARD HARVEY of the Kenyon Modern Languages Department received his Ph.D. from Harvard in February. Dr. Harvey attended the meetings of the Modern Language Section of the Ohio College Association in Columbus, April 19. He served as chairman of the nominating committee.

DR. WILFRED DESEN, visiting professor in the Kenyon Philosophy Department, took part in a symposium on "The Idea of Conflict" at the meetings of the Philosophy Section of the Ohio College Association, April 19.

PROFESSOR PAUL SCHWARTZ of the Kenyon Music Department read a paper at the meeting of the Mid-West Chapter of the American Musicological Society held at the University of Michigan, April 18-20. The paper was entitled: "The Dux-Comes Relationship in the Early Baroque Fugue."

Word has been received that three vocal duets by Professor Schwartz were given their premiere at a concert in Dr. Schwartz' native Vienna on March 12. An excerpt from a critical review says (in translation), "The most modern contributions to the form of the vocal duet were supplied by the American Composer Paul Schwartz, whose three duets suggest an original and strong individuality. The pieces contain, along with melodic simplicity, harmonic and rhythmic ideas, whose expressionistic qualities result in unusual and characteristic effects. Closer acquaintance with the composer's works would be of interest."

Poems and Selected Prose of John Donne, a Modern Library College Edition prepared and edited by DR. CHARLES M. COFFIN of the Kenyon English Department, was released by Random House in April. Dr. Coffin also contributed an introduction and bibliography. Dr. Coffin attended the meetings of the Modern Language Section of the Ohio College Association in Columbus, April 19.

PROFESSOR E. H. JOHNSON, Chairman of the Kenyon Physics Department, attended the winter meeting of the American Physical Science Society which was held at Ohio State University March 20, 21, 22. On April 18 he attended the meeting of the Ohio Academy of Science at Kent State University. And on April 19 he attended the meeting of the American Physical Society at Kent State University, where he read a paper entitled: "A Unique Form of Compensated Pendulum."

PROFESSOR BAYES M. NORTON of the Kenyon Chemistry Department also attended the meeting of the Ohio Academy of Science, where he presided over the morning session. The program, arranged by Professor Norton, included a symposium with the title: "The Trapping of Solar Energy."

A striking lacrosse shot taken by Sam Chambliss, '51. This picture has been popular with sports editors of Ohio papers.

DR. RICHARD C. MANNING, Benson Memorial Professor of Latin Emeritus, a life-long member of the Appalachian Mountain Club, accompanied the club on its three-week trip down the Mississippi to New Orleans. The club left from Cincinnati April 5 on "The Delta Queen."

DR. H. LANDON WARNER and Professor RAYMOND ENGLISH, both of the Kenyon Political Science Department, have received renewals of their grants from the Social Science Research Council. The grants are for part-time research and part-time teaching. Dr. Warner will continue work on his biography of John H. Clark, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court; while Professor English is going on with his comparative study of the theory and practice of democracy in Britain and the United States.

Concerts and Guest Artists

Both the Kenyon Singers and the Kenyon Choir, under the direction of Dr. Paul Schwartz of the Kenyon Music Department, performed publicly several times during the recent season. In December the choir assisted the Mount Vernon Community Chorus in its rendition of Handel's "Messiah," and the Singers presented their annual Christmas Carol Service in the Church of the Holy Spirit.

In February the Singers and the Choir of the Lake Erie College for Women gave a joint concert on the Kenyon campus, and later in the spring the Kenyon Choir assisted at a Union Lenten Service in Mount Vernon. On Kenyon Day, April 26, the Singers entertained visiting sub-freshmen, and on May 11 they will join with the Western College Choir in a concert on the Western College campus.

During the year two guest artists came to the College under the auspices of the Kenyon Music Department. In January Mrs. Marie Simmelink Kraft, accompanied by Marianne Matousek Mastics, gave a program of art songs; and in April Frederic Balazs, director of the Symphony Orchestra of Wichita Falls, Texas, and chairman of the Music Department of Mid-Western University, gave a violin concert. He was accompanied by Dr. Paul Schwartz whose "Allegro ostinato" was given its first performance by Mr. Balazs.

Due to a curtailment of the budget of the Music Department, Professor Schwartz was able to arrange for only two concerts last year and two concerts this year. It is Dr. Schwartz's hope that the number of concerts can be increased next year.

Kenyon Juniors In Washington

Three Kenyon juniors who are spending the spring term in Washington under the program known as the "Washington Semester" are all engaged in projects that bring them into close touch with some of the most important governmental problems.

Edgar Davis is working in the office of veteran Congressman Robert Crosser (21st District, Ohio) on problems concerning the House Committee on Interstate Commerce, of which Crosser is chairman. Davis is from Indianapolis.

Charles Docter, from Cincinnati, is working on material for Senator Paul Douglas on the presidential primaries. Senator Douglas has an article on presidential primaries in a recent issue of the New Republic magazine.

"Legislative Restrictions Placed Upon the Rate Making Power of the Interstate Commerce Commission" is the title of the project on which Norman Nichol, Youngstown, is engaged. His project brings him into the office of Senator Bricker, who is chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Domestic Land and Water Transportation.

at the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

HERBERT L. HIRSCH, '51, and Miss Nancy Lou Hubbard of Chautauqua, N. Y. and Winter Park, Fla., have announced their engagement. Mr. Hirsche is at present studying in the Department of Design, School of the Arts, Yale University. The wedding is planned for the fall.

PAUL HOLLENBACH, '51, received all-American honorable mention in lacrosse for the 1950-51 season. He is at present stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas.

EDWARD E. KARKOW, '51, is now Seaman Apprentice in the United States Navy. He is currently on a training cruise to Cuba.

ENSIGN DONALD K. McELROY, JR., '51, received his commission in the United States Naval Reserve on January 25 upon graduation from the OCS in Newport, R. I. He has been assigned to a destroyer based at San Diego, Calif.

DAVE RITTER, '51, has been signed on with the Cleveland Football Browns, playing end.

GILBERT E. BRYAN, '52, is the new director of The Footlight Players, the little theatre group in Coshocton, Ohio. The first production under Mr. Bryan's direction was Mary Chase's "Harvey." He is also staff announcer for Station WTNS.

PVT. HOWARD J. DUNTEMAN, '52, has been assigned to the 5th Infantry Division, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa., for basic military training.

JOHN F. FURNESS, JR., '52, is now in Washington, D. C. He is Administrative Assistant to Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins, 10th District, Ohio.

JOHN OECHSLIN, '52, is currently at Fort George Meade, Maryland, awaiting transfer to another camp for basic training.

THE RIGHT REVEREND ARTHUR C. LICHTENBERGER, '23, Bishop of Missouri, has been made a trustee of Seabury-Western Seminary.

PROFESSOR FRANZ H. Mautner of the Bexley Hall Faculty presided over the year-end meeting in Detroit of the 19th Century German Literature Section of the Modern Language Association. He was elected its chairman for 1952. "Greek Motifs and Patterns of Style in Thomas Mann's Death in Venice" is the title of an article by Professor Mautner which appeared in the January issue of the Monatshefte, University of Wisconsin publication. "Lichtenberg as an Interpreter of Hogarth" appeared in the March issue of the Modern Language Quarterly.

PROFESSOR OSCAR J. F. SEITZ attended meetings of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis at Lexington, Ky., April 4-5. In Columbus, April 19, he took part in a Symposium on "Some Aspects of Contemporary Foreign Literature."

THE VERY REVEREND CORWIN C. ROACH conducted services at Christ Church, Indianapolis, March 4 to March 7.
