J. T. DORFMAN, Secretary.

Gov. TILDEN expresses the belief that the prospects of Cleveland's election are very good indeed.

BLAINE now wishes he hadn't tackled the Indianapolis Sentinel. He didn't know it was loaded.

In Ohio goes Democratic in October, the contest for President is ended. The Blaine is personally superintending the political campaign in Maine, and has his henchmen and lieutenants in every part of the State working under his direction. Neil Dow, the Prohibition leader, promises Blaine 5,000 Prohibition votes, and in return Blaine has pledged himself to do all he can to favor the passage of the Prohibition amendment to the Constitution, to prevent the manufacture and sale of all liquors, ale and beer, in Maine. Anything less than 12,000 or 15,000 majority in Maine will be a damper to Blaine. The State election takes place September 8th.

The Republican in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Wisconsin, etc., have made extraordinary efforts, during the past week, to induce Gov. St. John to withdraw from the Presidential race in favor of Blaine. Fabulous inducements, in the way of money and offers of lucrative offices have been made; but St. John has spurned them all. This is another confession of Republican weakness. He can neither be coaxed or bribed by the agents of Mulligan Blaine.

The New York World says: John Logan is delivering addresses out West on "The Results of a Protective Tariff, or Peace, Happiness and Plenty." If all the peace, happiness and plenty that we enjoy in this country is to be attributed to the system of protection, then how much more will be necessary to establish an earthly Paradise? Perhaps the peaceful and happy millions in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Alabama can answer this question.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN, who are making the campaign jointly, will soon invade Ohio. Their appointments are: Toledo, Sept. 17th; Sandusky, Sept. 18th; Cleveland, Sept. 19th; Youngstown, Sept. 20th and 21st; Akron, Sept. 22d; Mansfield, Sept. 23d; Springfield, Sept. 24th; Columbus, Sept. 25th; Dayton, Sept. 26th; Cincinnati, Sept. 27 and 28. Mrs. L. will do the thinking and writing and John will run the wind-mill.

MURKAT HALSTEAD, in his New York letter to the Cincinnati Com. Gas, Sept. 4th, makes this startling confession: "There are hundreds of saloons in Cincinnati and other Ohio cities that are substantially Republican club houses."

We commend this extract to the careful attention of those good moralists who are in the habit of uttering and publishing unseemable nonsense about "the whisky Democracy."

The Republicans of Virginia are hopelessly divided. Gov. Cameron and Billy Mahone are at loggerheads, and each is trying to knife the other. In view of the divided condition of the Republicans, all talk of carrying the State for Blaine has been abandoned. It is now only a question of the size of the Democratic majority, and our Democrats claim that they will elect nine out of ten Congressmen.

SENATOR EDMUNDS, (Rep.) of Vermont, in a letter written in 1880, said: "It is my deliberate opinion that Mr. Blaine acts as the attorney for Jay Gould. Whenever Mr. Thurman and I have settled upon legislation to bring the Pacific Railroads to terms of equity with the government, up has jumped James G. Blaine, muffled in hand, behind the breastworks of Gould's lobby to fire in our backs."

This general impression in Indiana seems to be that Blaine's suit against the Indianapolis Sentinel will never be pressed to a trial. It was a bit of political clap-trap, intended to silence all the papers, whether Democratic, Republican or Independent, that might allude to "his youthful indiscretions." But if Blaine thinks he can make $50,000, he will not be a dead-head in the enterprise.

JAMES G. BLAINE, who was a bitter vindictive Know Nothing and took an oath to work to prevent all foreigners and especially Catholics, from holding office in this country, now pretends to be deeply in love with the "sweet German accent and the rich Irish brogue."

It looks as if the Hocking Valley correspondent of the Columbus Journal was trying to work up a bloody war between the striking miners and the pauper laborers from Europe, so that the State militia may be forced to shoot somebody, and thus give the Republicans a chance to make a little cheap political capital against Gov. Hoadly and the Democratic party.

The Democracy of Massachusetts have nominated a strong, clean ticket, with Hon. Wm. C. Endicott for Governor. The balance of the ticket is as follows: Lieutenant Governor, James S. Grinnell; Secretary of State, Jeremiah Crowley; Treasurer and Receiver, Chas. Marsh; Auditor, John Hopkins; Attorney General, John W. Cummings.

There are 192,597 Germans in Ohio, 245,780 in Illinois, 134,283 in Wisconsin, 89,085 in Michigan, 88,268 in Iowa and 66,662 in Minnesota, all of foreign birth, with many thousands more native born with straight German blood in their veins. These are ominous figures for the consideration of our sanguinary brethren of the Republican party.

With wheat at 75 cents per bushel, wool at 35 cents per pound, and mechanics and laboring men all over the country "striking" against a reduction of their wages, certainly there is no inducement for the people to keep the Republican party in power. If the people wish a change, they must vote to bring a change about.

MR. ROMES, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Toledo district in opposition to Frank Hunt, is the proprietor of a brewery and a wine cellar in Toledo. He was nominated for the express purpose of catching the liquor vote. But the "God and Morality" liquor vote will vote for him all the same.

IRISHMEN will never forget that Jim Blaine was not only a bitter, vindictive and persecuting Know Nothing, but that he wrote and circulated the outrageous Madigan Circular, which was full of venom against Catholics and their religion. No conscientious Catholic can vote for Blaine, the bigot.

HON. MARTIN A. FORAN has been unanimously renominated for Congress by the Democracy of the Cleveland district. He is an eloquent and popular Democrat, and has always stood by the laboring classes in their stand against aggressive and oppressive monopolists. He richly deserves a re-election.

The Plain Dealer, in answer to the Sunday Voice, says: If all the "violators" of the commandments vote for Cleveland, he will have the largest majority ever given any man, and more than half his vote will come from the party of "high moral ideas"—the "Grand Old Republican Party."

The Bridgeport (Conn.) Morning News, has put the names of Cleveland and Hendricks at the head of its columns. It is independent, and its editor has been identified with the Republican party.

More Trouble for Blaine.

Blaine's suit against the Indianapolis Sentinel for libel is becoming interesting. The defendant's answer is printed on the first page of this week's BANNER, from which it would seem that the charges against Blaine are reiterated, showing a betrayal of Harriet Stawell, a forced marriage, and the birth of a child three months afterwards. Some of the most interesting details are put to Mr. Blaine under the rules of Court in Indiana, which he is asked and required to answer under oath. It begins to look as if Blaine "went off half cocked," when he commenced his suit, and put his foot into a trap.

It appears from the best evidence obtainable that Blaine was married to Miss Stawell, at Pittsburgh, Pa., in March, 1851, and that their first child was born about the first of June 1851. The only living witness to the marriage, outside of the immediate parties is Congressman Lemoyne, of Chicago, formerly of Washington, Pa., a class-mate of Blaine, who, being sworn to secrecy by Blaine, now refuses to talk on the subject. When the trial comes on, however, his lips will be unsealed.

People can now readily understand why the date on the tombstone of Blaine's first child was mutilated, but it was not the work of Democrats, as wickedly charged.

This is a strange Presidential campaign; but Blaine's fool friends, by their outrageous, false and malicious attacks upon Gov. Cleveland's private character, have brought these troubles upon themselves and their candidate. They have sown the wind, and they are now reaping the whirlwind.

The Maine Election—Blaine and Prohibition Unite and Win.

Immediately after Blaine's nomination at Chicago, Hannibal Hamlin confidently predicted that his majority in Maine would be 25,000; and although the average Republican majority in that State, at Presidential elections, beginning in 1868, has been about 21,000, the result of Monday's election foreshadowed a complete victory for Blaine.

The Republicans of Virginia are hopelessly divided. Gov. Cameron and Billy Mahone are at loggerheads, and each is trying to knife the other. In view of the divided condition of the Republicans, all talk of carrying the State for Blaine has been abandoned. It is now only a question of the size of the Democratic majority, and our Democrats claim that they will elect nine out of ten Congressmen.

Blaine's $100,000 Palace.

Pictures of Jim Blaine's $100,000 palace at Washington have been taken from different points of view, for distribution all over the country, for the information of voters. It is supposed to be the most stylish and gorgeous building in the country, the architect being directed to inspect and make improvements upon the most stylish residences of the aristocracy of New York. A full description of this palace would no doubt be interesting to the laboring men of this country who are now asked to vote for Mr. Blaine, but we do not care about filling our paper with the details; it seems strange that a man with a salary of $5,000 while in Congress, and $8,000 while a member of the Cabinet, could afford to erect such a magnificent abode.

It must be remembered, however, that Mr. Blaine, in consideration of congressional services, has acquired large interests in various railroads, coal and iron mines, and other profitable enterprises, in which he promised his benefactors and employers that he would not prove himself a "deadhead." The costly and elegant furniture in this palace, valued at $50,000, was selected by Mrs. Blaine in Europe, and shipped to this country free of duty, when Mr. Blaine was Secretary of State. No furniture manufacturers in this country could do work stylish enough to suit this American nabob; he had to go to Europe and make selections from the stock of the dealers who furnish the palaces of the nobility. Think of this. American mechanics and laboring men! And when you are asked to vote for James G. Blaine, as the pretended friend of American labor, join in the conduct in patronizing foreign mechanics in the purchase of his gorgeous furniture, and the fact that he and his partners imported "pauper laborers" from Europe to take the places of the men who demanded a "fair day's wages for a fair day's work."

The Republican Party Must Go.

A Searching Reply to an Insulting Letter.

The Republican State Central Committee of Ohio sent a letter to Senator Lot M. Morrill, of Maine, inviting him to visit this State and make some speeches in behalf of Blaine. The ignorant sould seem not to be aware of the fact that Senator Morrill had long since joined the silent majority. But the letter called forth from Mrs. Morrill a most scorching reply. "I am in mourning for my husband," she says, "but as much as I mourn his death I thank my Father in Heaven that He called him home before the party he loved so well and did so much for had so disgraced itself as to nominate so wicked and corrupt a man for the highest office in the gift of the American people as I know, and my husband knew James G. Blaine to be."

Morrill was the wife of an upright Republican statesman. Senator Morrill was a man whose fair fame was never sullied by the breath of suspicion. But he was not the kind of a man whom Mr. Blaine could affiliate with, and he was made the victim of the latter's intrigues and chicanery, and humiliated and degraded. His wife spoke out with dauntless anger her contempt for the man who ruined his political fortunes.

THESE appears to be a complete break-up of the Republican party in Wisconsin. The Germans, who compose about one-third of the population, and who have heretofore almost unanimously voted the Republican ticket, have come out enthusiastically for Cleveland and Hendricks. In addition to ex-Governor and ex-Congressman Theo. POUND, who wrote a ringing letter in opposition to Blaine, we are informed that two other Republican leaders of the State, Col. S. B. Boynton and John H. McGregor, have publicly declared they cannot support Blaine. Mr. McGregor was one of the delegates-at-large from Wisconsin to the Chicago Convention in 1860 that nominated Lincoln for President and has long been a gentleman of much political influence. The vote of Wisconsin may be set down as morally certain for Cleveland and Hendricks.

THE managers of the Hocking Valley coal mines have spent about $150,000 since last spring in employing Pinkerton's armed police in keeping the strikers quiet, and it is now announced that they have about concluded to suspend operations for the present, as they cannot afford to continue this extraordinary expenditure any longer. If this determination is carried out, some six or seven thousand miners will be thrown idle upon the world.

A DISPATCH from Augusta, Maine, Sept. 7th, says: Blaine is undoubtedly in a state of a good deal of mental worry. He came home the other night and ordered supper, but after it was prepared could not eat. He looks haggard, and those near him would not be surprised to hear of his complete collapse. Mrs. Blaine is also greatly troubled over the developments concerning the Blaine libel suit.

SENATOR HAWLEY is sorry that Blaine ever wrote those Mulligan letters, and he is candid enough to say so. It would be interesting to know the feelings of Mr. Blaine on the subject. If he isn't sorry now, there is a fair prospect that he will be before the year is out.

SOME of the meaner class of Republican papers are abusing Gov. Hoadly because he did not order the military to shoot down the starving strikers in the Hocking Valley. If he had done so, these very papers would have tried to make political capital out of the act.

MR. H. C. HUNT, a prominent member of the Grand Army of the Republic, in Albany, and always a leading and influential Republican, announces in a letter that he will not support Blaine and Logan, but will support New York's Reform Governor—Grover Cleveland.

WILL STEVE ELKINS or Frank Jones be kind enough to tell the public how much of the Republican campaign fund has been given to the "Rev." liar and scandal monger, Ball, of Buffalo?

A LETTER from a prominent and reliable Democrat in Indiana, says that everything in that State looks favorably to the Democracy, and that Cleveland's majority will not be less than 10,000.

PICTURE for a Republican Banner—Blaine on his knees at the feet of Mulligan, begging him for God's sake and the sake of his family, to give up those letters.

In Burlington, Vermont, where there is the largest Irish population in the State, Blaine "magnetism" didn't attract the honest sons of the "Old Sod" in that locality.

REV. GEORGE F. PIERCE, Senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died at Spartanburg, on the 21st inst. He had been in feeble health for some time.

The Republican party is of its usual legs. It has lived out its days of usefulness. It has become a mere party of plunder and speculation. The November elections will close its career.

WHAT the Democrats of Ohio have to fear more than anything else is overconfidence—the certainty of success, that may keep good many voters away from the polls.

The defaulting cashier of the week is Charles S. Hill, who helped himself to $200,000 of the funds of the National Bank of New Brunswick, N. J.

The Republicans used to speak of Vermont as "the star that never sets." The "star" is somewhat under a cloud at present.

CLEVELAND was visited by a most destructive conflagration on Sunday night which swept away property to the value of nearly three millions of dollars. The fire, which is believed to be work of incendiaries, started in the lumber yard of Woods, Perry & Co., in the flats, and in a short time extended over fifty acres of ground, consuming manufacturing establishments, oil refineries, lumber and coal yards, business houses and dwellings. Fully 1,700 men have been thrown out of employment. Fire engines were sent from Erie, Toledo, Youngstown, Akron, Columbus, Sandusky, Elyria, Painesville and Norwalk, and they rendered immense service in saving the entire city from destruction.

MAHON RUSYON, President of the National Bank at New Brunswick, N. J., and who was implicated in the embezzlement of Cashier Hill, committed suicide by cutting his throat in the water closet of the bank, on Monday, after the Bank Examiner had discovered a deficit of $1,000,000.

ANDREW CARMAGIE, the Scotch-Pennsylvania millionaire, is profoundly impressed by the belief that the people of Great Britain are almost immediately in favor of a republic, and hence his profuse investments of money in liberal newspaper ventures in England.

"REV." GEORGE W. PEPPER the great American blow-hard, has been up in Maine making Republican speeches, and telling Munchausen stories about twisting the tail of the British lion. George W. will "weather his nest" well during the present campaign.

MURKAT HALSTEAD, in 1876, advised Blaine to "study the history of Ananias and Sapphira." Halstead, himself, thoroughly and honestly, and with his magnificent lying, to make their "history" appear respectable.

AFTER one day's discussion between Gen. Warner, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Germersy-Washington district, and Col. Taylor, the Republican nominee, it was concluded that "discretion is the better part of valor," and retired from the contest.

THE Independents in New England are very active. They are circulating Blaine's record, especially the Mulligan letters, in such immense numbers, that every man, woman and child is made familiar with the crooked ways of the tattooed man of Maine.

THE widow of the late Hon. Lot M. Morrill, of Maine, publicly declares that Blaine is a "wicked and corrupt man." "My husband" were alive," continued Mrs. Morrill, "he would not support Mr. Blaine, or any such man, even at the bidding of the party."

THE Conkling stalwarts of New York taking part in the Presidential contest. They all say that "they are out of politics for the present." Many of them will quietly vote for Cleveland, while many others will not even go to the election.

IT was the scandal of Grant's administration that he accepted gifts or bribes from any person who expected executive favors in return. But we have no evidence that Grant ever solicited gifts or bribes as did James G. Blaine when in Congress.

ALL the Communists, Dynamiters and pestilential agitators in the country, who seek to turn the world upside down, are supporting Blaine; while the honest thinking, sober and intelligent portion of our countrymen are supporting Cleveland.

ART alliteration's artful aid is beautifully followed to bear in a head-line in Washington Sunday Gazette: "Blaine's Distasteful Badly Broken and Bound to be Better." And it has the additional merit of being truthful as well as alliteration.

THE Irish World, the Dynamite organ in New York, it is said, gets $20,000 from the Republican National Committee. Patrick Ford may sell himself to the Republicans, but he cannot sell the Irish-American voters of this country.

BUTLER addressed a small gathering of "followers" at Chicago one night last week, after which he went into secret conference with a National Republican Committee man from Nebraska. Butler is a mere tail to a Blaine kite.

MRS. BELVA LOCKWOOD, a "strong-minded" Washington city lawyer, has accepted the nomination for the Presidency tendered her by the Woman's Rights Party of California. What will the widow Butler say to that?

IF American laborers are "prosperous and happy" under the high tariff or tax laws of the country, why is it that strikes are matters of every day occurrence? And why those labor riots in the Hocking Valley?

MARIA HALPIN, the New York editor of the Cincinnati Com. Gaz., can string together more words in a senseless dispatch about nothing than any pencil pusher this side of the river Styx.

THE London Times' dispatch from Foo Chow states that China has given notice of a declaration of war against France. The neutrality of the Port of Shanghai is to be observed.

It is said that Blaine has lately "snubbed" Bob Ingersoll, because of his peculiar views on the theological topics; and this is why the brilliant pagan declines to raise his voice for the Mulligan hero.

THE Blaine managers in Ohio, it is announced, have made arrangements for Blaine to visit this State before the October election, and "fire the hearts" of his disconsolate Mulligan guard.
