PURGE THE PENSION ROLLS. Deserving Veterans for Ridding the Pension List of Those Who Do Not Belong on It. From the Grand Army Gazette.]

Honor" to the fact that there were numberless frauds on the pension rolls, and manfully took the ground that these should be eliminated and the pension list be made again what it was at first and what the patriotic people of Ameri a intended it should be-a Roll of Honor. That article was republished with favorable comments in many of the leading newspapers in this country, and the agitation thus started has gone on ncreasing. May it lead to the speedy purging of the pension list. The most drastic measures could no severe enough for that purpose.

In this purifying process every com-rade can be enlisted who has given honorable service in his country's hour of eed. And it is as much a patrioti luty. If you know of a person receiv ng pension in your town who is not onorably entitled to it by service in the eld, send the name of the new pension sioner for investigation. Or if you fear the wrath of the no rvice wearers of the bronze buttor

With a pensio Il greater than the number of men i field at the close of the war of the rebellion—and most of them ie in honored graves—and with an exenditure over $160,000,000 a year for hat one item, it behooves those intersted in the real veterans and the tried nd true veterans themselves, to be up and doing. There will be some startling revela ions in the next two or three years, we are convinced. We have some evidence already which will be prepared for the new Commissioner of Pensions. If fraud cannot be proven, then the penion will still be paid.

If fraud can be proven it cannot be oo quickly proven, and the pension Every dollar paid in fraud is wickedly Strike, comrades, while the iron is hot, and if it should sear some bogus claimants so as to leave a mark by which they may be known of all men, there

In this connection we wish to call atention to the frantic efforts made by ne George E. Lemon, in his clain agents' organ, to befog and mislead the cople and the comrades who support is paper and have made him rich, by bublishing huge cartoons of one-legged and otherwise maimed veterans and claiming that when honorable me and honorable editors clamor for the weeding out of frauds, they are injuring hese maimed heroes.

Lemon knows better than that. There ever was a worse or more vicious mis-epresentation made by him and the aim agent's ring. The gist of what we have said all along is given above. We have added nothing to and taken noth-ing away from our demand, and readers of the Gazette will bear us out in what we say. We ask only this: Let the pension list be overhauled. If a name is sent in as that of a person believed to be a bogus or unworthy recipient, let the facts be investigated. If the person is unworthy strike the name from the Roll of Honor That is all. No more, no less. Can the Grand Army mountebanks or Mr Lemon object to this? The Chamber of Deputies reassembled, after the preparation of the reports on the revision of the Constitution, and by a vote of 119 against 12, with 14 abstentions from voting, adopted universal suffrage, with a provision for plural voing by the classes owning property, according to the amount and situation of he property. Cheers within the Chamber were fol-owed by acclamations from the enornous crowd that awaited the result of voting outside the Chamber. The greatest enthusiasm was displayed every-where, and the people joined in a jubilee in honor of the great triumph which they had achieved. It is expected that the decision in favor of universal suffrage will have an allaying effect the dimensions of a general insurrection. It is acknowledged on all sides that had the Chamber not acted prompty there would have been a revolution

In Antwerp to-day the outlook more threatening than it was yesterday and this despite the fact that extraordilinary military precautions have been aken to preserve the peace. Among he more prominent of the agitators Antwerp are a number of Anarchists of these, two-Fabry and Weltershave made themselves particularly obnoxious to the police and to-day they were arrested. The striking dock laorers began their disorderly demonstrations again this morning. They took possession of the docks and compelled nany of the men to quit. One captain f a vessel from which the men had been driven away protested to the leaders of the rioters, whereupon the mob stoned him and forced him to flee. The police were ordered to disperse the rioters. A short conflict ensued, during which the police used their swords and evolvers, and finally the mob scattered. The mob gathered again as soon as the police disappeared, and the gendarmes was again sent to the wharves to isperse the rioters. This they succeeded in doing, but not until they had measured strength with the mob. As soon as the mob were driven from one point along the river front they would appear in another and continue the rioting.

Several times during the morning the police were obliged to charge the strikers, and every time were met with resistance. Six of the rioters suffering from sword wounds fell into the hands of the police.

Large quantities of cotton were set or ire to-day on the Quai du Rhin. Gendarmes hastened to the scene and a conflict followed. The strikers were driven from the quay. The fire was then ex-The most serious disturbance that has

Those who remained at work were attacked by the strikers to-day and the troops were called upon to protect the workers and restore order. The orders to disperse met with no attention, so the troops were ordered to charge the mob with fixed ayonets. They then drove them away Four of the strikers were killed and fif teen others received more or less serious bayonet thrusts. Some of the wounder will die. Great excitement prevails in the village, and the strikers threaten rades. Here, as in other parts of the country, the men are in many instances ourred on to riot by the women. For the benefit of our young readers who are puzzled to know how electricity can make light and run street cars we give the article in

To make electricity the first thing to do is to get up some heat. This is done by making a big fire under the boiler of the engine, in the electric works. The heat agreed to. The agreement appeared to goes into the steam, and the steam sets the nachinery in motion. Now remember this that motion is a form of heat. This may not be easy for the children to understand at first, but it is true First we have the heat under the boiler next we have the heat turned into mo tion; now we want to turn this heat-moion into electricity. This is done by causing a pair of iron bars to revolve rapidly between two magne's. The iron bar and the magnets taken together are called a dynamo. When this dynamo is set to work by the motion of the steam engine it The electricity may be sent anywhere mores were branded from a bottle of nithrough a wire, and may be changed again, trate of silver. The electricity passing through the slender wire made of carbon, inside of the little globe makes a brilliant light; in other words, the electricity is changed into light; then it passes on through into the heavier wire and is changed into electricity again, and is no longer visible. This is called, commonly, the incandescent light.

The other way to make electric light is nearly the same; the difference is that no slender wire is used. It was discovered that if a break was made in the heavy wire, and the two ends separated by a short distance, that the electricity in passing from one end of the wire into the other through plan used in what is called the arc light. The first trouble encountered was that the points of the wires would be constantly ourned off and the two ends become s widely separated that the electricity would not pass from one to the other. To avoid this trouble the wires are pointed with prepared carbon, which burns very slowly. The two carbon points are held in place by a system of magnets which shove them toward each other just as fast as they burn

The arc light is used mainly for stree lights, and every one of them is simply a little break in the wire, the stream of electricity changing into a glow of light at the point where the break occurs.

The incandescent ligth is used mainly nside of dwellings and business rooms There is no break in the wire in these, but around through the very slender carbon which is a vacuum-has no air. If air were admitted the carbon wire would burn up in

ELECTRIC RAILROADS.

Status of the Local Enterprise-Sur vey of the Routes Between This City and Gambier.

A corps of civil engineers from Cincinnati, representing the Western branch of the General Electric Company, arrived here Thursday and on the two following days were engaged in surveying the different routes between this city and Gambier, in order to estimate the cost of construction. On account of the narrow roadway by the 'river route," and the expensive rock blasting that will have to be done, the cost of construction will be far in excess of the Foreclosure Suits and Other New original estimate.

The serious objection against the route by the regular Gambier road, is the steep grades that are encountered, that in certain portions of the winter season would cause the suspension of traffic, and render the operation of the road unprofitable. The work of the engineering corps at this point is no sure evidence that the line will be built to Gambier. In fact the difficulties mentioned above may result in the abandonment of the line to Gambier, whether the quota of subscriptions assigned to that community is raised or not. It is learned that the Adventist people ar liberally inclined toward the road and very desirous of securing a line that will run to their new college. To this end they will make a generous subscription whenever the matter is presented to them in definite The Fredericktown folks are also anxious for an extension of the road to that enterprising town, and if given the opportunity to do so, will respond with a good round subscription. It may be of interest to those who are friendly to the proposed electric railway to know that the State legislature is considering the welfare of such roads in general. Representative Dodge, of Cleveland, has introduced a bill which provides that electric companies may be incorporated to carry not only passengers, but United States mails, freight, express packages and baggage They are given the same right to institute condemnation proceedings for right of way etc., as are railroads. The rights and regulations for electric roads are a sort of mixture of the provisions now regulating the steam railroads and street railroad compa-

The electric roads may pass through the streets of cities and villages and over the highways in rural districts. The electric others was read, praying for the opening of lines are allowed to consolidate, the same as Jackson street from High street North to steam railroads, but there must be no increase in fares. In the cities the consent of a majority of the property owners along the line must be obtained from the proper authorities.

The Massillon Independent has the following as coming from a traveling man: 'On the Canton-Massillon electric road the company is meeting with marked success, far beyond their most sanguine expectations, and the same can be said of the Massillon street railway. The former road is making from five to seven thousand dollars per month. The street railway company runs but Mr. Meyers said the expense would not sixty cars a day and each car nets the com-

At the Ringwalt store old patrons were agreeably surprised at the many changes recenty made in the interior. The goods are now arranged in departments, and each of the four floors seemed to be stocked with the latest goods and novelties to be found in the market. On the North side about the middle of the first floor, a commodious passenger elevator has been erected and the "lift" was kept quite busy for several hours carrying passengers up and down. A new cash-carrier system has been placed in operation, leading to every portion of the vast establishment. During the evening Prof. VonArmstead and orchestra discoursed

The establishment of Dunn & Co., in the handsome new Cooper building at the East side of the Public Square and High street, presented a most attractive appearance-Five 1,500 c. p. arc lamps rendered the show windows and interior brighter than day. The artistic work of the trimmer in the show windows was a sight for admiring eyes and many were the words of praise bestowed by the discriminating female critics. The same complimentary expressions were brand-new attractive display of dress fabrics, trimmings, &c., that were so skillfully arranged to please the eye. The second flooris reached by an easy stairway as well as a commodious passenger elevator, where During the evening, Dunn & Co. presented one thousand choice roses to the lady visitors who thronged the rooms as a souvenir of the occasion. A gentleman from Cleveland, who hap pened to be in town, Thursday evening, and whose business takes him to every section of the State, remarked, after having visited both establishments, that Mt. Vernon had two of the very best dry goods stores to be found outside of the larger cities in Ohio.

Miss Bessie Bird, the amiable and pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bird. Jr., was married at high noon, Wednesday of this week, to Mr. James Debes, of Oil removal of a decayed and dangerous tree, at City, Penn., at the home of the bride's parents, 403 W. High street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. Turner of the Congregational church, in the presence was introduded granting to Cooper, Roberts of the immediate family, and a few intimate friends, including the members of last year's high school graduating class, of which the bride was a member. The bride looked radiant in a beautiful costume of white silk. After congratulations were extended an elegant repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Debes departed at 2 p. m. for their future home at Oil City.

A quiethome wedding took place at the esidence of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Young, East of the city, Thursday evening of last week, the bride being their accomplished daughter, Miss Mary V. Young, and the fortunate groom, Mr. Walter S. Steele, a successful business man of Chicago. Rev. J. H. Hamilton officiated and the ceremony was witnessed by the near relatives and a few intimate friends. Many pretty presents were received and the affair was in every respect a delightful one. The newly wedded couple remained a few days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Young and then departed for the World's Fair city to live.

THEN SHE WANTS ALIMONY.

In order that she may be properly main tained. Mrs. Headington on Saturday filed a second suit against her husband in which she prays for alimony and injunction to prevent him from selling or incumbering their home on Catherine street, Mt. Vernon. The petition sets forth that they were married October 30, 1877, and have four living children, the oldest 14 years of age and Mt. Vernon is a substantial one. the youngest three years. She claims that for more than three years past he has failed and wilfully neglected to provide herself and children with the common necessities of life, so that she has been compelled to live by her own exertions, by sewing in order to support her children and to help support and clothe her husband, because of his dissipated habits. She says he has a good trade and is able to earn $2.50 a day, and while constantly in receipt of this income he abandoned and deserted herself and children on the 27th of March, 1893, Judge Waight granted a temporary restraining order as prayed for. DELUGE OF DIVORCE SUITS.

Three more divorce suits were filed or Saturday and came with such a deluge that Clerk Neal had scarcely time to draw his breath between times.

The first action is that of John Zimmer man against Samantha Zimmerman. They were married at Danville and have one son 17 years of age. He charges her with infi delity with David and Wm. O'Bryan, in the months of December, 1891, and Janu- 500. ary and February, 1892, and that during the same time she was criminally intimate with Charles Smith, and that at the present time leading dry goods establishments of this she is associating and staying with John he always conducted himself toward her as a faithful and obedient husband.

Zachariah Workman is the next candi date for divorce. He was wedded to Wellmina Workman, November 22, 1891, in Jefferson township, Knox county, Ohio, and no children were born to them. He claims that she deserted their home in October 1892, and frequently left him for several weeks at a time prior to that date, but since that time she has absolutely refused to live with him, although he is abundently able to provide her a good home and plenty to eat and wear. He also says she has abused and 12x14 feet, on lot 17, H. B. Beach filed a suit for legal separation from her husband, Burton Beach. They were married at Columbus, March 2, 1893. She charges that at divers times be tween that date and the 20th of April, 1893 he committed adultary at Mt. Vernon with divers women to her unknown and that she is unable to state time and places where such acts were committed. She claims that he communicated to her a loathsome disease, and that on the 5th day of April he deserted her. She says that the defendant is employed as a brakeman on the C., A. & C. road, and earns $60 a month. She asks the Court to restore her to her maiden nameof Effie Thurston, give her a decree for divorce and reasonable alimony.

Mr. Sinton is the father-in-law of Charles P. Taft, editor and proprietor of Cincinnati Times-Star. The Times-Star, a Republican newspaper, has been attacking the Strehil bill, the Consolidated road and Foraker. Foraker, among other things, said last night that the editor of the Times-Star in calling him a lobbyist and in making other statements was "an infernal scoundrel and liar." Foraker then said he had been offered $15,000 to sell the Martin cable road to the Consolidated at 60 cents on the dollar, and had been promised that the Times-Star would be muzzled if the sale was effected. To-day Editor Taft was interviewed. He denounced Foraker as a liar, and in a bitter editorial to-night said:

In obedience to the wishes of his pa rents, our future doctor was educated for the ministry, and while realizing that the ministry was a high and noble calling, his God-given power as a physician de veloped with such astonishing force that he was led into the study of medical science, and perhaps no living man of his age has mastered more completely the perplexing mysteries of medical lore. Nature endowed him with the facultie without which no man can be a true physician. There are some things which no education in the schools can create, or, if these be absent, can compensate for. And herein is a lesson that the most of us have need to learn and heed. No one but himself can wisely choose the vocation which a man should follow. No one should attempt it, save, possibly, in a suggestive or advisory way. Men should to make a mistake. This is a wonderful do what they are endowed to do. Dr. H. Lester Kutchin was born a physician and surgeon; his thoughts run in that line. He when combined in developing the science owes it to the world to pursue that calling. He is inspired to that end, to know He is no idealist, but in all that pertains the laws under which the various organs | to his specialties has gained that breadth of the human body perform their func-Sell all the Patent Medicines tions, the wonderful influence which the mind has in facilitating or hindering their normal action, together with the methods whereby to aid nature in restoring them to their natural condition when, from any cause, they have ceased to so act; these are the questions to the solution of which he has devoted his energies, and with such marvelous success as to have attracted the attention of the world's foremost thinkers. And he is in love with his work. He puts heart into it. His sympathies are enlisted, and he puts himself in the place of his patient, determined to be satisfied with nothing short of complete success. There are no obstacles too great to be overcome; no difficulties too great to be surmounted, if thereby he can become the minister of relief to the afflicted. And it may fairly be said for him, if for any, that he is master of his profession. It is not the
