LEGAL ADVICE TO BE GIVEN WITHOUT COST

Will Establish Office At Court
House; Jackson Wants
To Enlist

Registrants for the selective draft receiving questionnaires when they are sent out by the local draft board will be able to secure expert legal advice concerning the proper methods of filling out the blanks, according to announcement Thursday, as a result of the meeting of the local draft board and the legal advisory committee, composed of Common Pleas Judge Park H. Blair, Judge P. O. Leveering and William M. Koons, Wednesday afternoon.

At this meeting it was decided to organize the local attorneys and "able laymen" as well, with a view to having enough men on duty each day to care for the registrants without permitting a congestion of work. This organization has not yet been made, but it is planned to arrange an office at the court house, if possible, for this purpose and have the attorneys and other members of the associate board of advisors alternate at the office.

The local attorneys have volunteered to give their services free of charge either to the government or the registrant so served.

Cooper Jackson, colored registrant, has applied to the local board for permission to enlist, but Chief Clerk Evans said Thursday that he was of the opinion that the local board has no power to grant or refuse his request as Jackson has not yet been called for service, and hence is free to enlist if he wishes. It is understood that Jackson wishes to enlist as a truck driver.

PATRIOTIC SONGS TO FEATURE PROGRAM OF KENYON CONCERT

Second Appearance Of Glee
Club Here In Years; Red
Cross Benefits

A feature of the program that will be given at the high school auditorium Saturday night when the Kenyon college glee club will appear here, giving a concert for the benefit of the local chapter of the Red Cross, will be a fine program of patriotic songs.

The glee club is donating its services in order to enable the local Red Cross to replenish its treasury, which has been depleted by the unusually large amount of work that has been done here in making soldiers' garments and hospital supplies.

Saturday night will mark the second time that the Kenyon Glee club has appeared in this city for more than ten years.

How to Prevent Croup

In a child that is subject to attacks of croup, the first indication of the disease is hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be warded off and all danger and anxiety avoided.
