BEXLEY HALL.

Bexley Hall is the oldest of the theological seminaries of the Episcopal Church west of the Allegheny Mountains. The roll of Alumni includes two hundred and twenty-five names, the first being recorded in the year 1828.

When, in 1826, Bishop Chase developed the plan of his educational enterprise, there were a Preparatory Department, a Collegiate and a Theological. Later on, the Theological Faculty was separated from that of the College, and in 1839, Bexley Hall was erected, and has ever since been the home of the students in Theology.

In 1891, a new Constitution was adopted, which placed all the schools under the supervision of the President of Kenyon College, but which still retained the distinction of faculties. It is believed that this adjustment of relations tends to secure harmonious, connected, and more efficient action by all the schools, and provide more fully and exactly for the development of courses of study covering all the departments.

The design includes a high standard, and its vigorous enforcement. Thoroughness in theological education is a present demand which cannot with safety be neglected. Loyalty to the Church, for the service of which this institution was founded, requires insistence upon this point.

The method of instruction includes a large use of lectures. Text-books are used, and their contents must be mastered; but their purpose is very limited. They contain outlines and summaries, and are employed very constantly for reference. They do not, and cannot, however extensive, take the place of lectures systematically given and carefully adapted to the needs of those who listen.

The instruction is Churchly and conservative, but does not shrink from discussion of those critical questions of the day, ignorance of which, on part of the minister of the Church, is a disqualification as serious as it is inexcusable.

The Bishops of Ohio and Southern Ohio, and others, deliver, from time to time, courses of lectures on subjects of a pastoral and practical nature.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION.

DEPARTMENT OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

PROFESSOR STREIBERT.

Junior Year. 1. Language.

The study of Hebrew begun, Harper's Elements of Hebrew, and Hebrew Method and Manual being used as text-books. In connection with these, easy historical prose is read in the Pentateuch and the Books of Samuel and Ruth. A thorough mastery of Hebrew etymology and the acquirement of a vocabulary are made the special aims of the year's work. Four hours a week.

2. Old Testament Introduction and History.

The year is given to a careful study of the Historical Books in connection with the history of Israel, social, political, and religious. Attention is also given to the history of the old Canon of the Old Testament, and the origin of the several ancient versions, Aramaic, Syriac, Greek, and Latin. Two hours a week.

Middle Year. 1. Language and Interpretation.

In connection with the reading and critical exegesis of numerous Psalms and of poetical portions of the Pentateuch, the principles of Hebrew Syntax are carefully studied, Harper's Elements of Hebrew Syntax being used as a text-book, with constant reference to Driver's Use of the Tenses in Hebrew. Two hours a week.

2. Old Testament Introduction.

The Poetical and Prophetical Books are studied in the Revised Version, with lectures on the several forms of Hebrew poetry, and the rise and development of prophecy.

Two hours a week.

Senior Year. Interpretation and Criticism.

Portions of several Prophetical Books, chiefly Isaiah, are read in the original, in connection with the study of critical problems presented. Lectures are also delivered on Pentateuchal Criticism and Old Testament Theology. Two hours a week.

DEPARTMENT OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

PROFESSOR FISCHER.

The work in the Junior Year is devoted chiefly to the Life of Christ. St. Matthew and St. Mark are read in class with parallel passages from the other Gospels.

A course in New Testament History is pursued, and is followed by an outline course on Textual Criticism.

Recitations and lectures four hours a week.

In the Middle Year the Epistles are taken up in connection with the later New Testament History.

A course in Introduction covers the outline and contents of the New Testament Books. Three hours a week.

The work of the Middle Year is continued in the Senior Year. The Epistle to the Romans and the Johannine Writings receive especial attention. The more important and difficult questions in Introduction and Criticism are considered in detail. Three hours a week.

The course includes a careful examination of the larger part of the New Testament in Greek, and of the whole of it in English.

DEPARTMENT OF CHURCH HISTORY, POLITY AND CANON LAW.

DEAN JONES.

The course in Church History provides for an outline review of the whole field, in order that the student may appreciate the relations and proportions of the different parts. Special emphasis is placed upon the Second, Third, and Fourth Centuries in the earlier stages of the course, and upon the Fifteenth and Sixteenth in the latter. In the Middle year the leading subject is the growth, culmination and decline of the Papal power. The development of Christian institutions is carefully considered in the Junior Course. The literature and life of the primitive Church receives as full treatment as time will allow. These subjects, together with doctrines and heresies of the early Church are referred to and reviewed in the Middle Year, for it is believed that in most cases such review is needful to a full appreciation of the significance of these subjects which are of first importance.

In the Senior Year the History of the English Church occupies the full time, except that the Continental Reformation is considered in its leading aspects, and that the American Episcopal Church is reviewed in about six lectures, with reference to McConnell's History. Of the Sixteenth Century full and detailed knowledge is expected, and the course of instruction is extended to provide for this.

Smith's Student's History, Kurtz, Plummer's Church of the Early Fathers, and Wordsworth's Church History, are recommended for use in the Junior Year. Smith, Kurtz, Hardwick's Middle Ages, and Duruy's History of the Middle Ages, are recommended for use by the Middle Class. Jennings' Ecclesia Anglicana, Perry's History of the Church of England, and Prof. Aubrey Moore's History of the Reformation, should be read during the Senior Year.

The course in Polity follows, in the main, the direction suggested by the three great topics; i. e., the Being of the Church, the Authority of the Church, and the Ministry. It also includes a systematic study of Hooker.

In Canon Law attention is given to the General and Diocesan Canons, with a study of Fulton's Index Canonum.

DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY.

PROFESSOR DAVIES.

Junior Year.

The first two terms of the year are given to the thorough study of the problems of fundamental theology. The questions of Epistemology, the nature and grounds and significance of the moral distinctions and the natural grounds for the belief in God, are fully considered. Frequent written work is required. Harris's Philosophical Basis of Theism is used as a text-book. Fisher's Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief is used for the Evidences of Christianity. Three hours a week.

In the third term Dogmatic Theology is begun. Lectures are given on Theology Proper, the Being and Attributes of God, the Trinity, Creation, Providence, etc. There is supplementary text-book work. Written work is also required. Three hours a week.

Middle Year.

Dogmatic Theology is continued during the year. The topics covered are Anthropology, Soteriology and Pneumatology. Text-books, Browne on the Articles, Gibson on the Articles, and Pearson on the Creed. In addition there are frequent readings from the great Anglican Divines:

Hooker, Beveridge, Andrews, Bull, Waterland, and others. Work in the Anglican Divines is made a feature of the course. Written work is required during the year. Three hours a week.

Senior Year.

The subjects studied during this year are Ecclesiology, including the Church Doctrine of the Sacraments and the Doctrine of Grace and Eschatology. Text-books as before, and more extensive work in Anglican Theology. Three hours a week.

Christian Ethics is taught in this year. Smyth's Christian Ethics is used as a guide for topical study. Work is also done in other authors, especially Bishop Butler. One hour a week.

DEPARTMENT OF LITURGICS.

PROFESSOR FISCHER.

The study of Liturgics is begun in the middle year. with lectures and recitations twice a week, and is continued once a week through the Senior year.

The course begins with lectures on the structure and contents of the Book of Common Prayer, and is continued with Pullan's "History of the Prayer Book."

The study of the offices and history of the Prayer Book is then pursued in lectures accompanying Procter and the "Teacher's Prayer Book."

In the Senior year a special study is made of the Communion Office and the Early Liturgies, with reference work in Scudamore, Freeman, Brightman and Luckock.

Throughout the course frequent papers are prepared and discussed by the students on assigned topics.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

ADMISSION.

Any candidate for Priest's Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, with full qualifications according to Title I., Canon 4, Section 2, may be received as a student of the Seminary; and any other person who may give sufficient evidence of a good moral and religious character, and of such literary qualifications, to be determined by examination, as will enable him successfully to pursue theological studies. Applicants for admission are requested to address the Dean.

MATRICULATION.

Every student, on being admitted to full standing, must subscribe the following declaration in the Matriculation Book of the Seminary:

"We, the subscribers, students of the Theological Department of Kenyon College, do solemnly promise, with reliance on Divine Grace, that we will faithfully obey the laws and pursue the studies thereof, endeavor to promote the reputation and interests of the Seminary, and make daily efforts, by pious reading, self-examination, and secret prayer, to cultivate all religious and moral dispositions and habits, and grow in those graces which should characterize the Christian and minister of the Cross."

SEMINARY YEAR.

The year begins on the first Tuesday in October and closes on the Wednesday of Commencement week. Vacations coincide with those of the College course, as stated in the Calendar.

LECTURES.

In addition to lectures by the professors and the Bishops of Ohio and Southern Ohio, lectures are delivered from time to time during the year by various prominent clergymen.

EXAMINATIONS.

A public examination of each class is held previous to the annual Commencement and certificates are awarded to those who, on the final examination, are found to have pursued satisfactorily the full course of study.

DEGREES AND HOODS.

1. All examinations for degrees will be conducted by the Faculty on Tuesday preceding Commencement week, and on Tuesday preceding the beginning of the year.

2. The degree of B. D. will not be conferred on any candidate who is not in Priest's Orders; but graduates of a Theological School may take the required examination at any of the stated times before or after their Ordination to the Diaconate, and receive the degree at the Commencement following their advancement to the Priesthood. The examination for the degree of B. D. will be both oral and written, and will embrace the following subjects: In Exegesis, Messianic portions of the Old Testament, the Gospels, and one of St. Paul's Epistles, all in the original; in Ecclesiastical History, the First Three Centuries and the English Reformation; in Dogmatic Theology, Soteriology, and the Doctrine of the Sacraments; in Liturgics, the Book of Common Prayer.

3. A candidate for the degree of D. D. must be a graduate of an incorporated College or a Theological School, and must have been at least ten years in Priest's Orders. He must present an original essay in Latin, Greek or English, on some subject connected with Theology chosen by himself. He must also, in the presence of the Examiners, write two theses in English on subjects from Ecclesiastical History and Dogmatic Theology, assigned him at the time of the examination, and he must be prepared to read in the original and comment upon portions of the Old and New Testament, similarly assigned at the time of the examination.

4. The hoods adopted by this Seminary are in accordance with the American inter-collegiate system. For Bachelors of Divinity the hood will be black, not over three feet in length, lined with mauve silk, the College color, with a binding not over six inches wide, of scarlet silk or velvet. For Doctor of Divinity the hood will be of silk, four feet in length, and with panels at the side. The colors are the same as for Bachelor of Divinity.

EXPENSES.

No charge is made for instruction, room rent, permanent furniture, or use of Library. Text-books and movable furniture (such as bedding, towels, etc.) are to be provided by students.

Aid will be given to properly qualified students by scholarships, or by the Joint Education Committee of the Diocese of Ohio and Southern Ohio.
