END OF THE WAR IS NOT IN SIGHT.

Sir Alfred Milner Reviews African War.

Far Reaching and Disastrous Effect of the Guerrilla Warfare of the Boers.

London, April 18 .- The South African blue book, containing recent dis patches from Sir Alfred Milner, governor of the Transvaal colories, and other official correspondence, has just been issued. Mr. Milner wired requesting permission to return home at an early date, upon leave of absence, for the purpose of resting. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, replied by granting this request, but expressed the government's regret that it should be necessary for Sir Alfred to leave South Africa at the

In a recent dispatch Sir Alfred Milner reviews the situation in South Africa, and says that he had hoped some definite point would be reached at which it would be possible to sum up that chapter of history containing the war and forecast the administrative reconstruction which must succeed it. "But I am reluctantly forced to the conclusion that there will be no such dividing line," continues Sir Al fred Milner, "and I have not the slightest doubt of the ultimate resuit, but I foresee that the work will be slower, more difficult, more harassing and more expensive than was at one time

Mr. Milner continues: "It is no use denying that the last half year has been one of retrogression. Seven months ago this colony was perfectly quiet, at least as far as the Orange river. The southern half of the Orange River Colony was rapidly settling down and even a considerable portion of the Transvaal, notably the southwestern districts, seemed to have definitely accepted British authority and to rejoice at the opportuand the pursuits of peace. Today the scene is completely altered. It will be superfluous to dwell on the increas ed losses to the country caused by the prolongation of the struggle by the form which it has recently assumed. The fact that the enemy are now broken up into a great number of small forces raiding in every direction and that our troops are similarly broken principal speaker at a banquet given up in their pursuit, makes the area of to the Ashanti field force, Colonel actual fighting, and consequently of destruction, much wider than would his speech Mr. Chamberlain referred be the case in a conflict between equal to the war in South Africa as "one of numbers operating in large masses. Moreover, the fight is now mainly over supplies. The Boers live entirely on last hundred years, the absorbing inthe country through which they pass, terest of which has diverted public atnot only taking all the food they can tention from the great achievements lay their hands on, but looting the of Colonel Willcocks."

small village stores of clothes, boots, coffee and sugar, all of which they are in great need. Our forces are compelled to denude the country of everything movable in order to frustrate these tactics of the enemy.

"The consequences of the war, although grave, are not appalling. The country people will need help to pre vent them from starving, and probably a certain amount of capital. A more serious effect of the last six months is the moral influence of the recrudescence of the war, especially in Orange River Colony." Sir Alfred Milner thinks that a ma ority of the Dutch colonists do not desire invasion. Discussing the plans of the local defense put into operation, he argued that the government's policy should be to consider the feelings of the loyalists and thus to retain their loyalty, as well as to disarm enmity and to win the confidence of those fighting against Great Britain "South Africans are sick unto death of the war," he says, "but are prepared to suffer in order to make South

The dispatches reveal the fact that the government went further in the the Boers than Milner and Kitchener commenting upon the dispatches, do not attempt to gloss over the seriousness of Milner's views, but they exhibit no sign of discouragement and recognize that it is imperative that Milner should have rest. The pro-Boer Daily News alone takes a desponding view, and says: "What is nity to return to orderly government the whole truth of the military and ration is to get this plant, which is people are dead and seven probably ejectment. There was no thought of political situation when the government will admit so much? Sir Alfred Milner's temper reveals for the hundredth time the personal obstacle to all attempts at a settlement."

Prizefighting Legalized. Lansing, Mich., April 18.—After a the boiler blew out, tearing away the lively debate the senate passed a bili which practically legalizes 10-round prizefights in Michigan. It was presented ostensibly as a measure to stop prizefights in the state, but a provision permits glove contests up to 10 three-minute rounds, with the permission of the sheriff of the county, or, if in a city, of the mayor.

Liquor Dispensary Law. Honolulu, April 9, via San Francisco, April 18,-The territorial legislature is now in the midst of a hard fight over the proposed liquor dispensary law. The bill has been before the senate in various stages for several days, and committee reports for and against it have been made. The campaign has developed into a very bitter one, and there are charges of a corruption fund.

> Elwood, Ind., April 18 .- Pat Crowe, the kidnaper of young Cudahy, the Omaha youth, is thought to be located in Hamilton county, near Noblesville. Detectives from Omaha are now searching in the neighborhood where Crowe formerly frequented, endeavor Crowe came to Hamilton county 15 years ago, where he resided for four or five years, and where he married the daughter of John Rambo of Fisher's Station, soon after taking up their residence in Omaha.

New York, April 18 .- James Hazleton Willard, a lawyer of Bedford, Ind. was found dead in his room in the Clarendon hotel by his brother-in-law, Samuel A. Russell, who occupied an adjoining room. Some one at the hotel coach, and it is believed that he fell notified the coroner's office that the man had died from opium poisoning. This allegation probably was based on the fact that Mr. Willard had taken 15 grains of quinine and 25 grains of dovers powders. Willard had complained of feeling ill.

Carshops Burned.

Rochester, N. Y., April 18 .- A general alarm called the entire department to a fire at the New York Central carshops at East Rochester. The loss will probably be over $100,000. The shops had been closed for a week or more on account of a strike of the employes. The entire shops were destroyed.

IN RIPLEY CASE. ALLIED EXPEDITION ARGUMENTS MADE

ly Not Get to the Jury Before Friday.

Frankfort, Ky., April 18.-The arguments in the Ripley case are on, the testimony having closed. Judge Cantrill heard arguments on two sets of instructions presented by the attorneys on each side. The instructions submitted by the prosecution are in substance the same given by Judge Cantrill at Georgetown last summer in the Caleb Powers case, stripped, however, of the features which were recently turned down by the court of appeals in that case. The case will not likely go to the jury till Friday.

Agitation Against the Religious. Lisbon, April 18.-The agitation against the religious orders here is growing, the Republican papers violently attacking the pope because of a letter which the pontiff has written to the patriarch at Lisbon on the subject of the persecution of the religious orders. The newspapers declare the pope ought to have sent his pretest through the foreign office, in conformity with the concordat.

Scranton, Pa., April 18. - The 200 Delaware, Lackawanna and Western charged, returned to work after a sixhour session with the national head of the switchmen's union, Frank T. Hawlev of Buffalo. They returned without exacting conditions, but when they resumed their places they found their grievances had been redressed.

Peking, April 18.—The ministers of the foreign powers view with alarm the expedition against General Liu Kuan Ting, as they think he will retreat, probably laying waste the villages he traverses and killing native Christians, and that such actions will be used as an excuse by the military for further aggression, which would probably be the taking of Tai Yuan-Fu, the capital of Shan Si province. ### AMUSEMENTS.

Herne's Play

A fair audience enjoyed James A. Herne's old fashioned Hearts of Oak at the Woodward Wednesday evening. The play is built along the same plan as Shore Acres, except that the latter is by far the superior play. But Hearts of Oak is still better than nine-tenths of the current melodramas.

The play runs full of heart action and the theme is one so true to life that it almost seems as though you were back in the village of Marblehead, Mass., watching the real actors in the story playing out the original parts. The company was a first rate one. The next attraction is The Man from Mexico, April 26.

Representatives of the Columbus Board of Trade, Fish Stone Company and Others Present at the Funeral.

The funeral of the venerable William H. Fish, sr., occurred from the church of the Holy Spirit. The funeral was under Masonic auspices, the services being conducted by Magnolia lodge, No. 20, of Columbus, assisted by Mt. Zion lodge, No 9, of this city.

A private car conveyed the members of Magnolia lodge to Gambier, about twenty-five members representing the lodge. Forty memalso had a private car. Mt. Zion lodge was represented by twentyfive members. The Masonic service was conducted at the house at half past two. The service was conducted by Wm. E. Grant, worshipful master of Mt. Zion lodge. The commitment was conducted by George L. Cook, worshipful master of Magnolia lodge.

After the services at the house the remains were taken to the church of the Holy Spirit, where the beautiful Episcopal funeral service was pronounced by Rev. Owen J. Davies, rector of the church. Very impressive singing was rendered by the college choir. After the services at the church the funeral procession moved to the cemetery, where the Scottish Rite service was read by Edwin Morrell of Columbus. The ring was presented to the deceased's grandson, Master Herbert Fish, about to cross the B. & O. tracks a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fish. Of Directors-Something of a Problem to Secure a Competent Ceneral Manager - New Roads Have been Acquired.

The Baltimore and Ohio will be completely reorganized May 1 or soon thereafter. Upon that date F. D. Underwood leaves the road to accept the presidency of the Esie, and his successor will be named. It is understood that Mr. Solomon, the chairman of the board of directors, will retire, leaving that place vacant. Then, too, there is a vacancy in the office by the death of J. M. Schryver.

In addition to all of these official changes, the railroad has within the year become possessor of the Pittsburgh and Western. the Cleveland Terminal and Valley, the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern and the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad. D., 1896. such an organization as is now in vogue on the Pennsylvania lines, the systems east and west being April 1, Postmaster Canning governed separately with one general head in the east. The eastern system being made more extensive by a possible new line into New York, it is thought that this is required. It is firmly believed with one head. The complex situation and the need of a general reorganization will make the filling of the position of general manager, who is to effect this organization, even more difficult than it has been. It was believed that while Mr. Underwood was with the line he was the man to map out this system, but since he has decided to go to the Erie, his successor will come into a most difficult task. This position becomes all the more difficult when it is known that all of the lines west of Pittsburgh are now being rebuilt. New extensions are being made: cutoffs are contemplated; grades are being lowered; and curves are being removed, that the road may be in the best of condition.

If you are dangerously sick what is the first duty of your physician? He quiets the nervous system, he deadens the pain, and you sleep well. Friends ask, "what is the cause?" and the answer comes in pitying tones, nervous prostration. It came upon you so quietly in the beginning, that you were not alarmed, and when sleep deserted you night after night sleep deserted you night after night until your eyes fairly burned in the darkness, then you tossed in nervous agony praying for sleep.
