tradition, prefer death to capture.

General Wood, with detachments hearing. from the Fourteenth cavalry, the Seventeenth, Twenty-second, Twentythird infantry and constabulary scouts, has driven Pala and his followers into a swamp, which has been surrounded.

Pala was a noted slave trader and his followers to the island of Pula Sekar, near Borneo. One of Pala's leaders deserted and took refuge in the British settlement at Lahad. Pala, discovering his whereabouts, landed with a following and demanded of the British magistrate that he turn the deserter over to him. The demand was not complied with and Pala ordered a massacre. Twenty-five persons, including several British, were killed. Pala escaped to the island of Jolo and organized the present up-rising. It is reported that the Borneo authorities requested General Wood to apprehend Pala dead or alive and turn him over to them.

mated from reports received from various towns in the "new country" that 5,000 caves are being dug. City officials and town boards are urging this, and some of them have passed ordinances requiring it. At Hinton, Okla., the following official public notice has been published; "On nights when clouds look at all dangerous, a sentry will be stationed in the bell tower, provided with a repeating shotgun. If there is apparent danger he will ring the bell and fire a number of shots in quick succession. Also any person who sees a storm coming when the sentry is not stationed will be expected to fire a gun."

RHEUMATISM

Cnicago, May 15. - James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, left Chicago for Los Angeles, Cal. It is his announced intention to build a home in that city. Crippled with rheumatism and suffering intermittently from malarial fever, Jeffries says he has put on fighting gloves for the last time, and that he will never again enter the ring. Jeffries, with his brother Jack, owns several mining claims in Arizona, and to these and to mining in general Jeffries says he will devote his time in the future. He has canceled all his theatrical engagements and intends after visiting in Los Angeles to go to Harbin Springs in an effort to regain his health. Jeffries shows the effects of rheumatism in his swollen hands and bent arms. It is impossible for him to straighten his arms in a nor-Croker's Death. Kansas City, Mo., May 15 .- The police have completed their investigation of the visit of Herbert V. Croker, son of Richard Croker, the ex-Tammany leader, to an opium den and the north end saloons of this city, which resulted in his death on a Santa Fe train near Newton, Kan., Friday morning, and unless the relatives of young Croker request it, no further action on the case will be taken by the local police. Charles Wilson, the negro porter at the Coates hotel, who accompanied Croker on his visit to the opium den and later put him on a train at the depot, was released from custody. Ah Lee and Ghee Kee, the Chinese proprietors of the opium den, are being held and will be prosecuted in police court for conductingan illegal business.

TRAIN DITCHED

Boston, May 15.-A woman who claimed to be Carlotta, wife of Maximilian, former emperor of Mexico, and brother of the present emperor of Austria, has, according to the Herald, left the city after securing some $40,000 from members of the Italian colony on the pretense that she was the rightful claimant of the Austrian throne, "She is," the Herald says, "being sought by over 100 residents of the north end district, who for almost eight years have been paying her money to enable her, as they supposed, to gain possession of the Aus trian throne, upon which event taking place she promised that these who helped her would be made ministers and nobles and be given vast estates."

the Navy Paul Morton stated in response to questions prompted by rethe cabinet that he did not intend to leave public life until the fall. That he would do so then he said was a matter which had long been understood between him and the president. Morton is planning to go abroad in June. The question of his successor has not been considered, although in the middle west there have been reports that T. H. Newberry of Detroit, a millionaire, who has been proffered and has accepted the assistant secretaryship of the navy, is destined to become its head upon Mr. Morton's

LIVE NEWS OF INTEREST FROM BUCKEYE STATE

Cleveland, O., May 15,-John D. Rockefeller will be asked to aid in building the largest church in Ohio and the most unique probably in the world. While it is to be a Baptist church, it will be, practically speaking, a people's church, and is to be open all the time and for every one who wishes to make use of it. Rev. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, and Rockefeller's pastor, is behind the for her honesty. movement. It is the intention to erect on the site of the present church edifice, which is very old, a skyscraper church, perhaps 10 or 12 stories high. Paston Eaton proposes to have the church building to a large degree devoted to club purposes.

Socialist State Convention. Columbus, O., May 15. - Arrangements have been completed for the holding of the state convention of the Socialist party in Columbus May 29 and 30. The auditorium of Trades and Labor Assembly hall has been secured for the occasion and provision will be made for from 100 to 150 delegates, as it is believed that each send one or more representatives. All the prominent Socialists of Ohio will be present, and it is expected that many from other states will attend the convention.

VAST SUM

Emporia, Kan., May 15.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 17 was ditched by train wreckers a mile east of town. Six passengers were injured and two will probably die. This is the fourth attempt in the last four months to wreck passenger trains in the same place. Previous attempts were made by piling ties on the track, without serious results. This wreck was caused by removing the spikes and a curve. The engine on No. 17 passed over the loose rails safely, but the mail car left the track and was dragged 100 yards along the embankment before the train was stopped. The next five cars, two express and baggage cars, smoker and two day coaches, went into the ditch across Washington, May 15.—Secretary of the right of way fence and lodged in a zigzag line. The passengers were asleep when the wreck occurred. ports that he would soon retire from There is no clew to the wreckers.

Carlstrom, a wagon worker, for which eight men are now under arrest. Following the confession of Business Agent Charles Casey and Secretary Henry J. Newman of Carriage and Wagon Workers' Local Union No. 4, Charles Gilhooley, alleged leader of the men who beat Carlstrom, broke down and told his part in that and other deeds of a similar nature. From his admissions the police gleaned clews which set them to work investigating "slugging" plots in other industries where strikes have been in progress. The police secured the names of 14 persons who have been assaulted or intimidated by gangs of hired "sluggers" working for striking unions.

Another death was added to the list of strike victims. In a controversy arising out of the strike between John Cahill and two companions with James Jennings, colored, the latter was shot in the head and killed. Cahill, who did the shooting and who is under arrest, declares that he

Information which the team owners say they received, that the teamsters' joint council was not a unit in its determination to fight the owners, was given by the owners as the reason for the postponement of the enforcement of the ultimatum until Tuesday. That the decision of the teamsters will be reconsidered was evidenced when a call was sent out for another meeting of the teamsters' joint council for tonight. In addition to this meeting of the officials of the teamsters' union another call was issued for a meeting on Tuesday of the executive committee of the International Brotherhood

Favors Elastic Railroad Rates. Washington, May 15.-The conclu sions adopted by the International Railway congress, which closed its seventh session here, have been officially announced. The most inte ing of the conclusions related to railroad rates, on which, after prolonged discussion in which every country in which railways are operated was rep resented, the congress unanimously expressed its conclusions as follows: Tariffs should be based on commer cial principles, taking into account the special conditions which bear upon the commercial value of the services rendered. With the reservation that rates shall be charged without arbitrary discrimination to all ship roads themselves. Triple Tragedy.

tragedy occurred here when Thomas McCall, a night watchman for the Illinois Central railroad, shot and killed Edith Ferguson and Hal Williamson. The murderer an hour later turned the weapon upon himself firing a bullet into his head. McCal is said to have been jealous of Willlamson's attentions to the woman When he found the two together he fired on the couple. Edith Ferguson was instantly killed and William sustained wounds from which he died an hour later. McCall, after shooting the couple, went to the Tennessee hotel and killed himself.

"Well, even that isn't always necessary. I was out on the frontier some years back when a young fellow I knew to be a 'white head' was promoted in his regiment and paragraphed in all the eastern papers for his courage and coolness. He had been sent out to meet an attacking party of Indians. He didn't want to go a bit. He actually trembled when he confessed to me it was his first call to dangerous duty and he'd give anything on earth to be out of the affair. In less than twenty-four hours the station was ringing with the way he had held his ground, even when his men had beat a retreat. It was a miracle he wasn't captured or killed, staying there single handed to face and fire on the advancing foe"-

Long Winded Oratory.

It is no new thing for the house of commons to suffer from long winded oratory. As long ago as the sixteenth century Queen Bess soundly rated her lawmakers for not working more and talking less, and some years later Speaker Long actually succumbed to a succession of lengthy speeches. "The house is empty, and so be our stomachs," one impatient member declared. "I pray you, therefore, adjourn the debate for an hour." But the speaker declined to budge from the post of duty, with the result that he was taken ill and died shortly after. Brougham once spoke for six hours on end on law reform, Sheridan and Gladstone both have records of five hour speeches, Mr. Biggar tied their record, and Palmerston once held forth for four hours and a half on Don Pacifico,

The Bells of Davos.

The first thing that strikes the stranger in Davos, Switzerland, and strikes him unpleasantly is the bells. Not only does every cow, goat and sheep wear its bell, but when they are all shut up for the winter and we hope for a little rest then comes the infernal, eternal din from every cart, carriage, sleigh, omnibus and all other kinds of vehicle which ply for hire or otherwise. No doubt they become a necessity on the silent highways as winter progresses, but that does not render them one bit more palatable.

Irrigation Is Ancient. *

The practice of irrigation is very an cient, water having been stored and distributed in this way in Egypt as early as 2000 B. C. Persia, India, Ceyion, China, as well as Peru and Mexico, also had irrigation works ages ago. Even in Arizona remains of ancient irrigation works can be found, which suggest that that section of the desert may have been compelled by men to "blossom as the rose" many hundreds of years ago.

THE POSTAGE STAMP A MIGHTY "LAND GRABBER."

HOW IT IS MADE BY UNCLE SAM'S EXPERT WORKMEN.

The Manufacturing Process From the Finished Gummed, Pressed and Perforated Printed Sheet.

The first mechanical process in the manufacture of a postage stamp is the cutting, or engraving, of the die. This is a piece of steel of the finest quality, line which is to show in the finished being left in relief, as in wood engrav-

The die which the engraver cuts is a "negative;" in other words, a reversal of the design which the stamp will show. The reason for this soon becomes apparent.

When the die is finished and proofs show it to be satisfactory it is hardened and fixed in the bed of a powerful press. Over it is then passed a steel roller, the circumference of which is several times, perhaps four times, the diameter of the die. Immense pressure is applied, so that every line on the surface of the die is impressed upon the surface of the roller as many times as the circumference of the roller is larger than the area of the die. In this way four perfect copies of the die are reproduced on the roller, but reversed. Each of these impressions is a "posi-

This roller is now hardened in turn in order that it may transmit the impressions once more, this time to the plate from which the actual printing is to be made. This plate is also of steel. The size is sufficient to print a whole sheet of stamps-from 200 to 300 -at a single impression.

Into the surface of this plate the impression on the roller is forced by great pressure, once for each stamp in the subsequent sheet, and then the plate is hardened. These impressions are negatives, so that the prints from them -the stamps themselves-will be positives.

The reason for all this preliminary work is most interesting. In the first place, printing could not be done from a single die because of the vast quantities of stamps required. In the second place, it could not be done from the roller, because on that the lines are in relief instead of being incised, and in the third place, it would not be feasible to have several dies or a large number of them engraved, both because the expense would be prohibitive and because no two would then be absolutely alike. The present system makes it certain that every stamp of a certain lot is exactly like every other of the same lot-a great safeguard against counterfeiting.

When three printing plates have been made they are all fastened to the hed of a special printing press. When the machinery is started the first plate is inked, then automatically wiped until it is like a mirror. The wiping removes all the ink except what elings in the make it fit the button, lines of the 200 duplicate engravings

This has wrought a great saving of time over the old process of printing by hand. When the printed sheets are dry they go to the gumming machine, in which they pass between a dry roller on one side and one moistened with mucilage on the other. From these rollers they are cast out, wet side up, upon an endless web, which carries them through a steam heated

They come out dry, ready for the perforations, which permit them to be torn apart easily. These are very easily made by passing the sheets between one cylinder studded with steel pins and another perforated with holes to match the pins. The two together act like the jaws of a conductor's punch.

It was meant to give room and verge enough to a generation bent on having a good time in hall and bower. It was still a fortress of a kind, but this only as an afterthought. In the main it was a palace for sport and festival. It might have on the polished surface of which a man stood on dry land; it preferred to slowly and patiently cuts, line by line, bridge a river. There was no want of the portrait or other smblem which space in other directions, but this seemhas been adopted for this particular ed best as a stroke of constructive imstamp. The architect at the bilding called an incised plate-that is, every of Diana of Poitiers jumped the Cher as a schoolboy would have jumped a print is cut into the surface instead of brook. The huge arches never carried anything of use to mankind at large, not even a right of way.

At first most of them had no superstructure, and the bridge might have been called "Diana's folly." But she knew what she was about. She was a mighty man subduer, with a heart as cold as the stone of her new dwelling and a face and form kept beautiful forever by the studious avoidance of every pang-a wonderful creature withal, for she contrived to die in her bed. though she crossed the path of Catherine de' Medici. She ruled a king by the usual methods and by studious deference to him kept him her obedient, humble servant to the day of his death. She inspired one of the greatest sculptors of her time in his creation of a Venus that rivaled the antique.

She was one of the mightiest land grabbers of history, adding chateau to chateau with a purpose that never faltered and by methods of smooth, unemotional persistence that never failed. She started with everything against her in that epoch of the worship of youth when she began her siege of the heart of the dauphin of France. She was a widow, and a widow with a family, yet she knew no pause in her triumphant career till she had married and dowered them all and provided herself with a choice of palaces for her old age. She never made an enemy or which was quite as much to the purpose-a friend who was not likely to be of use. She died in the sanctity of faultless manners and an unruffled brow. Her heart of ice kept her a Venus to the last. Had her prototype been anything but a goddess Diana might have given her points in the wise avoidance of the ravages of temperament.-Century.

Japanese Claim Russians Are Using Saigon as a Base For Rojestvensky's Fleet - Instances Cited of Breaches of Neutrality-May Day Demonstration a Frost.

St. Petersburg, May 15 .- Following the policy of trying to improve the condition of the Poles, Emperor Nicholas has sanctioned an important law, permitting them to purchase land in the kingdom of Poland. They were deprived of this right after the insurrection of 1863, the land tenure of Poles being limited to land acquired by direct inheritance. The inability to buy land has been ever since one of the chief grievances of the Poles.

The May day demonstrations in the Russian capital were a complete fiasco, and reports from Moscow and the provinces indicate that order reigned on Sunday generally throughout the entire extent of Russia. Minor disorders are reported at Reval, Kishineff and one or two other places, but no reports of serious tumults or loss of life have been received, and the attempt of the Social Democrats and Social Revolutionists to signalize May day by great anti-government demonstrations appears to have been a complete failure.

A crowd made a demonstration at the graves of the "January martyrs," as they are popularly called, at the Preobrajensky cemetery, in the outskirts of the city. Cossacks dispersed the demonstrators. Subsequently the crowd sang the "Marseillaise," while crossing the fields. The Cossacks then charged, using their whips freely and inflicting painful injuries.

VIOLATE NEUTRALITY. Russian Ships Use Saigon as a Base.

Japanese Version. Tokyo, May 15 .- A prominent Japanese official sketched the important acts of the Russian fleet since France was first moved to preserve neutrality as follows: "The governor general of Indo-China officially reported that the Russian fleet had entirely departed from Kamranh bay April 22, but April 23 there still remained in the bay on cruiser, one torpedo boat destroyer and 15 transports of the Russian fleet. On April 24 the entire Russian fleet re-entered Kamranh bay and rode at anchor until April 26, when a majority of the warships sailed, leaving behind four converted cruisers and one torpedo-boat destroyer. These latter vessels took April 26, toward evening, these vessels stopped and examined the German steamer Loosok and the Norwegian steamer Providence, which passmore than 30 Russian vessels were anchored at Hon-Kohe, and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon they stopped and examined the British steamer Stettin, which was passing.

"According to the French official report Vice Admiral Rojestvensky promised Admiral De Jonquieres that he would leave Hon-Kohe May 3. It is evident, however, that the Russians were anchored at Hon-Kohe May 8. The latest telegrams from Indo-China indicate the presence at Hon-Kohe May 12 of seven Russian battleships, seven cruisers, two torpedoboat destroyers and four converted cruisers. Since the appearance of the Russian fleet in the far east Saigon has become a base for the transportation of military supplies for Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. The number of vessels furnishing supplies to the Russians is so great that those which were anchored at Saigon May 5 were countable by tens."

Breaking Eggs For a Living. A correspondent of a contemporary who has been searching for the most monotonous method of earning a living decides in favor of that of cracking eggs. "I met a man who said he was a biscuit manufacturer on a large scale and was rather inclined to boast about the number of eggs-continental eggswhich his firm bought in the course of a year. Now, it seems that to avoid calamity five eggs are broken into a bowl at a time before being added to the common stock. There are men, he told me, who do nothing else but crack eggs. They become so expert that a man can dispose of 1,000 an hour, or 10,000 a day."_London Star.
