It offered to withdraw halin, so modified as to include an Russia of the northern half of the istand for 1,200,000,000 yen. In addition, it offered to withdraw entirely articles 11 and 12 (surrender of the interned warships and limitation upon Russia's sea power in the far east).

He told Baron Komura Russia wanted peace. She had given the proofs in accepting every article involving the issues upon which the war was fought, but she could fight, and money for tribute she would not pay, not a kopeck. He asked Baron Komura to so the plenipotentiaries separated to meet again Saturday, ostensibly to as the rules of the conference require. his reply to the Japanese compromise. In reality the adjournment over the two days was to give each side an opportunity to consult its government for the last time.

The outlook is black. The possible line of further Japanese concession is fell in 10 minutes. The damage will considered to lie in the diminution of the amount of the purchase money demanded for the north half of Sakhalin. The decision rests, therefore, as it has from the first, with Russia. Unless the emperor agrees to yield between now and Saturday, the end is likely to come on that day. And the indications from Peterhof, instead of raising the chances of a change of heart on the part of the emperor, seem to indicate plan of holding the deliberations of the national irrigation congress in sections, initiated at the instance of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, is a failure, seems to be the consensus of opinion among the delegates to the congress, which is now in session in Portland, and in this view some of the government officials who have come here to address the sections coincide. Notwithstanding that there are in Portland about 1,200 accredited delegates to the congress, not more than 50 or 75 have attended the sectional meetings. The work of the congress is being done by the resolutions committee, and the only interest it has excited since the general assembly on the opening day is over the arguments which have taken place during its meetings.

ACTIVE

St. Petersburg, Aug. 24.—The situation in the Baltic provinces is not improving. Several political murders have been reported. Official advices show that the disturbances are fostered and directed by a thoroughly organized Social revolutionary committee with headquarters at Riga, the emissaries of which defy the best efforts of the police. The intelligence department of this committee supplies ample warning of movements of troops. Four of the leaders were arrested recently, one of whom was a woman. The Social revolutionaries are very strong, at Riga, Reval and east is almost dramatic in its extraordinary interest. Through George Von L. Meyer, the American ambassador at St. Petersburg, he has made a direct appeal to Emperor Nicholas to permit the adoption of such measures in the pending peace conference as will terminate the war. As a result of the president's instructions Ambassador Meyer had a special audience with Emperor Nicholas at Peterhof palace. What conclusions were reached at that conference is not known here, as no intimation has been given of the receipt by the president of Am bassador Meyer's cabled report. The report received from Assistant Secretary of State Peirce at Portsmouth that the peace plenipotentiaries had adjourned their sittings until next Saturday was a source of satisfaction. It is a distinct assurance that efforts are being made with increasing prospect of ultimate success to compromise on the crucial points of difference among the conferees.

Thus far the president has gained his points, one after another. It was due to his efforts that the conference did not break up finally last week, and his further important suggestions prevented a final dissolution of the conference Monday. Now he has carried his appeal for peace straight to the Russian emperor, an appeal, too, which can be said to have the positive support of the great neutral powers. It is stated that Japan has proposed to Russia that the question of indemnity for war expenditures be waived, practically, and that Russia agree to purchase a portion of the island of Sakhalin for $600,000,000. It is believed that one part of the proposition submitted to Baron Rosen by the president was that Russia should purchase possession of the island of Sakhalin, either in part or as a whole, and that man. Bracey, although a colored man, if the conferees were unable to agree upon a price to be paid for it, the amount be left to the determination of an impartial tribunal. Final decision of the proposition made by Japan through Baron Komura will rest with Emperor Nicholas. Even should it be rejected, it is almost certain now that it will be succeeded by other propositions looking to an ultimate agreement of the plenipotentiaries.

Sensational evidence was given by F. M. Mixson, who was commissioner in 1895, two years after the law went into effect. He testified that he demanded 5 per cent rebates from every whisky concern from which he purchased liquor. During his 11 months' incumbency, he said, these rebates amounted to $20. 000, which was turned over to the state treasurer. When asked what inducements, if any, had been offered him to buy certain brands of whisky, he said several houses had offered him bribes to favor certain goods

When you feel languid, tired. nervous and irritable, your vitality is low-your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power,

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

"My wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself being exceedingly nervous when the least excited. She was very restless at night, and never had a good hight's rest. She also suffered much from nervous headache. Dr. Miles' Nervine was recommended by a friend. After the first three doses she had a good night's rest, and at the end of the first week's treatment she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nervine has completed her entire cure."

A Bearded Frenk.

One of the earliest of the American bearded freaks was Louis Jasper, who lived in southern Virginia at about the time of the close of the Revolutionary war. His beard was nine and a half feet long and correspondingly thick and heavy. He could take his mustache between his fingers and extend his arms to their full length, and still the ends of the mustache were over a foot beyond his finger tips.

"I won't hurt you," said the wasp "I'm half sick today, anyhow."
"Which half?" asked the cat, backing off .- Chicago Tribune.

Wrangel and the Artist. Adolf Menzel did not care much for women, and he was apt to treat them with scant courtesy, no matter what their rank. When he was making his the Empress Augusta came to the conclusion that the women in it had not been sufficiently considered, so she sent Field Marshal Wrangel to tell him so. The artist took the criticism very ill and bluntly told the marshal that he had better mind his military affairs and leave art to artists. After a violent altercation Menzel pointed to the door, and Wrangel, red with rage, retired with the word, "You are a nauseous toad!"

They Didn't Have Time,

A short time ago some men were engaged in putting up telegraph poles on some land belonging to an old farmer who disliked seeing his wheat trampled down, according to the veracious Register of Great Bend, Kan. The men produced a paper by which they said they had leave to put the poles where they pleased. The old farmer went back and turned a large bull in the field. The savage beast made after the men, and the old farmer, seeing them running from the field, shouted at the top of his voice: "Show him the paper! Show him the paper!"
