FOUNDED 1836. MOUNT VERNON, OHIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1905 PRICE TWO CENTS

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Concerted action between the members of the Chicago typothetae and a number of the big independent employers of printers was decided on in an effort to oppose the demands of the union job printers of Chicago. The Typographical union filed demands on independent job and book publishing houses for an 8-hour day and union conditions after Jan. 1. After the union had ordered out 100 men in eight of these houses for refusals to grant the request of the union, the Chicago typothetae, whose members are already involved in a strike, invited the independent master printers to meet three members of the typothetae in an effort to devise means of fighting the union demand.

Effect of Chinese Boycott.
Washington, Sept. 15.—The state department received a communication from Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai which sets forth the condition of affairs there commercially growing out of the Chinese boycott. One phase of the movement which is disturbing to all business' minds, he says, is the effect it is likely to produce upon the finances of that great center of commerce. There are at the present time in Shanghai warehouses approximately 169,000 bales of American piece goods, valued at nearly $3,000,000 gold. The question, therefore, of marketing this commodity and of collecting the money under the present conditions, and with Manchuria closed, he adds, presents a very serious condition and is apt to cause great difficulty not only to the Chinese merchants but also to the importers. What is true of piece goods, he says, is also true of all other lines of staple products.

Attacked By A Mob
and beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Only 25c at G. R. Baker & Son, Mt. Vernon, and F. F. Hosack, Fredericktown, drug store.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The war department has made public the first complete report of Colonel Colton, "controller and general receiver of the custom service of Santo Domingo," showing the customs receipts and other fiscal data for April last, the first period of administration of the island revenues by the Americans. Colonel Colton says: "The most striking feature of the showing for the month was the handsome balance of trade in favor of the republic, amounting to $473,224; the total value of exports having been $722,448, against imports valued at $249,224."

Lover Drowns Himself.

— Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 15.—Theodore Schoemperlin of Litchfield, Minn., committed suicide by drowning here to escape matrimony. He left a note to his parents saying he had been tired of living since Aug. 23, when he became engaged to a young woman to pique another girl, whom he dearly loved.

Luis Puttet, chief secretary to the French minister of commerce, was killed on the Champs Elysee, Paris, owing to the carriage in which he was riding colliding with an automobile.

Fever in Minnesota.
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 15.—J. C. Wilson of Fair Oaks, Ark., was taken to the city hospital suffering from what physicians say seems to be yellow fever. Wilson was found by the police at the Union depot, where he was acting strangely. He had a health certificate issued by the Arkansas authorities.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had London, Sept. 15.—Reports received from Copenhagen say that some of the powers are intervening to secure a peaceful settlement of the difficulties between Sweden and Norway. No authoritative account has yet been issued regarding the progress at Karlstad of the negotiations between the Swedish and Norwegian commissioners. Both the Swedish and Norwegian papers regard the crisis as acute. The Swedish papers even talk of an ultimatum and preparations for mobilization, but though the situation between the two countries is strained, it is not believed that it will end in war. Christiania papers assert that Norway would gladly accept either arbitration or mediation, as the Norwegian government has a sincere desire to effect an understanding with Sweden.

The correspondent of the Times at Karlstad says: "Sweden regards as menacing and therefore requires the demolition of the recent works erected at the fortress of Frederiksteen, some of which are within 300 yards of the frontier and are armed with powerful guns. This applies also to the modern works around the fortress of Kongsvinger, which, though within 20 miles from the frontier, lie at the junction of the railways leading across the frontier to Sweden. Sweden has no desire to humiliate Norway, but is simply avoiding complications in the erection of defensive works which would be ruinous to both countries."

1888. For many years he devoted much time in behalf of the cause of home rule for Ireland, and he was the first national president of the Irish Land league in this country.

Cleveland's Comment.

Sandwich, N. H., Sept. 15.—When the news of the death of Mayor Collins was conveyed to former President Cleveland, Mr. Cleveland said: "The death of Mayor Collins will cause sadness in the hearts of many who have not had personally as intimate associations with him as were mine. In public life he was strictly honest and sincerely devoted to the responsibilities which officeholding involved. It is rare that a man of his great ability and with the reward of high statesmanship within his reach, succeeds so well and for so long a time in the discharge of duties pertaining to the executive head of his home."

Life Insurance Inquiry.

New York, Sept. 15.—When the special legislative committee probing life insurance companies' methods, adjourned, Chief Counsel Hughes had finished for the present the examination into the Mutual Life Insurance company, and the Metropolitan Life Insurance company was started on when Silas B. Dutcher, a director and a member of the finance committee, was called to the stand. Mr. Dutcher was questioned regarding the securities held by the Metropolitan and as Wilmington, Del., Sept. 15.—The Union Veteran Legion selected Columbus, O., as the place for holding the next annual session. For national commander General Joseph W. Kay of Brooklyn defeated General William A. Reilly of this city by 139 to 95 votes. Joseph A. Joel of New York defeated John H. Dowling of Altoona, Pa., and John Birch of Dayton, O., for vice commander; quartermaster general, J. M. Keyser, Pittsburg; surgeon general, Dr. J. F. McCord, Pittsburg.

Violated Ohio Parole.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Troubled by an uneasy conscience, Charles Orange, 23, surrendered himself to the police, saying that he had violated his parole from an Ohio prison by leaving that state. He said his home was at Mansfield, O., and that he had been convicted of horse-stealing and sent to prison. Later he had been paroled. He is being held pending communication with the Ohio authorities.

Democratic Candidates Confer.

Columbus, O., Sept. 15.—Democratic candidates for governor, Lieutenant governor and attorney general, John M. Pattison, L. B. Houck and J. A. Rice, were in conference in this city. They said they came here to consider the question of campaign speakers. The trio was noncommittal on other subjects.

Increase in Cases.

New Orleans, Sept. 15.—There was nothing new in the local situation beyond the increase in the number of new cases and deaths. There were really seven yellow fever deaths, but one of them does not appear on the records. It is the case of an Italian who, in the delirium of his fever, secured a revolver and blew his brains out. In the country, the situation at Tallulah is improving. Other country reports were: Patterson, 20 cases; 3 deaths; Kenner, 5 cases, 2 deaths; St. Rose, 2 cases; Barrataria, 2 cases; Clarke Cheniere, 1 case, 1 death; Sarpy, 2 cases; Berick, 1 death; Houma, 3 cases.

The oftener a man loses his temper the more he has of it.—Galveston News.

Boston, Sept. 15.—At an early hour this morning the remains of Mayor Patrick A. Collins arrived from Hot Springs, Va., where the mayor had suddenly expired. Paul Collins, the mayor's oldest son, accompanied the remains. Arrangements for the funeral of the mayor have not been completed. It is expected that the funeral will be held on Monday or Tuesday. Flags were half-masted throughout the city and over the fire alarm system 61 blows were struck, one for each year of Mayor Collins' life. Daniel Whelton, chairman of the board of aldermen, will act as Mayor Collins' successor, and will probably hold the office until the end of the present year. Mayor Collins was one of the leading Democrats of the country. He served in congress from 1883 to 1889, and was United States consul general at London from 1893 to 1897. Mayor Collins was the presiding officer of the national Democratic convention of troops owing to the menacing attitude of the rioters. A deputation from Elizabethpol presented a petition to General Shirinkin, commander of the forces, asking that immediate steps be taken to prevent further bloodshed. The revolutionary party at Tiflis issued a proclamation calling for a general uprising.

Railway Promoter.
Boston, Sept. 15. — Elijah Brigham Phillips, formerly one of the most prominent railroad men in the country, died at his home in Brookline at the age of 86 years. He was well known throughout the west in railroad managements prior to 1890. His last position was that of president of the Fitchburg railroad, now a part of the Boston and Maine railroad.

St. Louis, Sept. 15. — Troubled by an uneasy conscience, Charles Orange, 23, surrendered himself to the police, saying that he had violated his parole from an Ohio prison by leaving that state. He said his home was at Mansfield, O., and that he had been convicted of horse-stealing and sent to prison. Later he had been paroled. THE LATEST GRAFTER IS A SEX CONTROLLER

"I had a talk with a man on a Pennsylvania train going to Philadelphia the other day," said a Mt. Vernon man, "which is startling if true. Of course, I have no way of proving the truth or falsity of his statements, nor of identifying him, but his story is plausible and he may be as represented. It was in a crowded day car and we occupied the same seat. He was a glib talker, well groomed and might have been taken for a thrifty physician from a suburban town whose inhabitants considered their apparel as of some worth. He was reading a newspaper and presently he laughed and began talking about an item he had just read of a New York woman who claimed to be a 'sex controller.'"

"This led to further talk on the claims of American and foreign physicians and scientists along the same line, and the man showed that he knew what he was talking about. Finally he became quite confidential and told me he had done something in the business himself, and that it was one of the finest forms of graft he had ever known. Seeing that he was willing to talk, I questioned him to a finish, and he told me he had made thousands of dollars at it and had never had a serious complaint from any of his patients."

"His plan, he said, was simply to write a private letter to some man he knew of—and he was well posted—who had only girls in his family, or who had been recently married stating that he had solved the mystery of sex controlling at will, and he would guarantee a boy baby or make no charge whatever for his services. He was just as ready, he said, to guarantee a girl baby, but the demand for that kind was small. His prices ranged from $100 to $1000 according to the wealth of the prospective father."

He had a prescribed formula, which he did not divulge, and if it did not succeed when faithfully followed, the cost to the patient would be absolutely nothing. Many of his letters, he said, were ignored, but there were enough anxious fathers to give him frequent cases, and these he called upon in person to arrange final details.

"As about half the children born are boys he stood a fair chance to realize his price on about half his contracts. It was nothing more than a bet of a hundred, or a thousand, to one that the next baby would be a boy, with him at the short end. If the baby happened to be a girl he had a good excuse to offer, quite scientific, he said, and in most instances he got the same kind of a bet on the next one. Of course, his formula was a fake, but he assured me that it was perfect harmless, and the happy father of a boy always felt so good over the result that he paid the money gladly and asked no questions. Besides, he said, how could they prove he was a fakir? Or who would want to. It cost nothing if the experiment failed, and if it did not, wasn't he delivering the goods per contract?"

"It was the safest graft on earth, and the prettiest, he said, for nobody had any cause for complaint, and a good many had cause for rejoicing. He did not give me his address and said he was going to Chicago on business. He had just returned from Boston and said his field extended from Maine to California. I told him he was giving his snap away talking about it so freely, but he didn't care, he said,

BUTCHERS OF THE BANK INSPECTION BILL

While Governor Herrick is making promises to do things better in the future, especially to recommend the enactment of a state bank inspection law, he should explain why he was covertly opposed to the Moore senate bill in the last legislature, and why all his immediate friends and the state house or "official" lobby done the bill to death in the house with the governor's knowledge, if not, indeed with his consent and approval.

The bill provided for the most thorough inspection of the private banks of the state, and passed the senate with but slight opposition.

But in the house it met with desperate and relentless opposition by a lobby, which included the Cincinnati boss, who conducted the battle from start to victory, by long distance telephone.

That money was freely used is beyond all question. All the private banks in the state that have recently gone into bankruptcy contributed money to defeat the bill in the house. The receivers of these bankrupt concerns could, if they chose, no doubt tell exactly how much of the depositors' money went to defeat a measure intended to protect them.

We know, at least, of some receivers who have the cashed checks which show how much it cost the stockholders of the banks placed in their hands to keep the bars from being put up.

When Senate Bill No. 62, by Mr. Moor, was pending in both the senate and the house, Governor Herrick gave no sign of recognition to it; did nothing to smooth its passage; did nothing to rebuke or disperse the lobby which was killing it in the house.

As already stated, the bill passed the senate, but in the house it was defeated by the votes of the Republican representatives named below, who at some or all the stages of its attempted passage voted to kill by voting no and killing it. They were:

Brannock, Briggs, Burnett, Carrothers, Crist, Criswell, Demuth, Eagleson, Evans, Fisher, Foster, Frizzell, Jones of Lucas, Jones of Jefferson, Kennedy, Little, Moulton, Myers, Nihart, Osler, Pumphrey, Rawson, Reynolds, Riegle, Roll, Rowland, Stuckey, Sprague, Stewart, Thomas, Thompson of Lawrence, Wagner, Wayne, Williams of Hamilton, Williams of Mahoning, Willis, Worthington.

Greek Sailors Mutiny.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 15.—Seven Greek sailors of the British steamship Glenroy, Captain Spink, are in jail here charged with mutiny. They attacked the captain with knives. The other officers of the vessel came to the captain's assistance and the mutineers were subdued and put in irons. They had their preliminary trial and were held by the United States commissioner. They will be tried before British Vice Consul Sudlow. Captain Spink was not hurt.

Medicine and Ceremonial.

The physicians of medieval England, who were for the most part monks, friars or Jews, possessed a large assortment of remedies, some of them borrowed from the Byzantine physicians, others from the traditional practice of the people. Christian physicians, however, called religion to their aid. None of their remedies was administered without ceremonial. While the medicine was being compounded the patient would say twelve times over one of the psalms, beginning "Miserere mei, Deus," then several paternosters, "then drink the dose and wrap thyself up warm," or he would sing the psalm, "Salvum Me Fac, Deus," then drink the draft out of a church bell, the priest finishing the cure with prayer.

Dr. Creighton remarks that, as the maladies of the middle ages contained an unusual element of hysteria, the ceremonial may not have come amiss as an aid to the treatment. Physicians gained considerable fees by their practice, which the people appear to have grudged them. The satirical writers constantly accuse them of greed, but these charges were probably owing to the prevalence of the idea, not yet extinct, that as "medicine is from the Lord God," the leech was not entitled to a money payment.—London Spectator.

An Offer Declined.

Persons who are envious of those whom they are pleased to call the fortunate rarely count the cost of success. Apropos of this, an amusing story is told of General Lefevre, duke of Dantzic. One day the general had a visit from a friend of his youth, who commented not without feelings of envy, on the dignities and riches which the duke, who was born in a peasant's cottage, had acquired in many battles and by his faithful services.

"Oh, I am prepared," was the rejoinder, "to hand them over to you at the very price I paid for them. We will proceed together into my garden. There you shall walk up and down for the space of half an hour while I command a company of infantry to fire on you. There were more in my case, but you shall have the benefit of altered circumstances. If you are not shot in thirty minutes all that is mine shall be yours."

An Arab in the Rain.

"Those who are not accustomed to rain are frightened by it," says a writer. "I once saw an Arab rained upon for the first time. He was abjectly terrified and demanded to have his passage paid from the country. Sicily—in which the dread phenomenon occurred. He had been conveyed from the Sahara, I think, by a European, whose servant he was, and he evidently thought his master was behaving abominably to him in permitting him to get wet. By the first steamer he returned to his native desert, abandoning excellent wages, and shaking the raindrops furiously from his slippery feet."

Economy is in itself a source of great revenue.—Seneca.

PATRIOTIC OLE BULL.

The Greatest Political Influence In Modern Norway.

What was it that made Ole Bull undeniably the greatest political influence in the history of modern Norway? The riddle is easy to read. Although he voiced the peasants, his own voice was that of no peasant, but one of the most severely learned of European utterances. His instrumental mastery was complete, and the technical difficulties of his compositions have left them for the most part unperformable. But Mozart was his chosen theme, worshiped with such an ardor of consecration that the whole range of his works had for him no secret. His fame, therefore, was of that order that opens all doors. Statesmen and chief captains like Bismarck and Von Moltke were his intimates, and he was their confidant. To world artists like Liszt, Chopin and Mendelssohn he was own brother. Indeed, a curious physical resemblance between Liszt and himself led to many amusing contretemps on this score. And sovereigns, diplomats and great nobles were all proud to name him among their friends. In him, then, Norway had found one who could stand for her in the highest ranks of the nations, learn for her the secrets of statecraft and recover in her behalf the trick of thinking like a king. For this is one of the losses entailed on a people who are governed by foreigners from a foreign seat—that they forget to think of their country as a whole, the habit that is the secret of rulers.

Yet it was only as a man and not by any means as a politician that an autocrat could claim the friendship of the distinguished artist. His own sovereign felt that he had cause for grave offense when the news reached Stockholm, in 1848, of his heading a procession in Paris to present the Norwegian colors to Lamartine. But even royal anger could not resist the good stories told on the next visit, and the king stood biting his lip at the careless bonhomie of Ole Bull as he turned suddenly and said, "By the way, sirs, you should have been with us the other day in Paris when we went to acclaim Lamartine."—Margaret E. Noble in Century.

Campaign Against Lazy Worm.

Washington, Sept. 15.—That the people of Porto Rico have become thoroughly awakened and enthusiastic in their desire and endeavor to rid themselves of the scourge of anæmia, popularly designated as the "lazy worm" affliction, is indicated in a report just received by the surgeon general of the army from Captain B. K. Ashford, who is expending $15,000 this year in a campaign against the malady. During the months of June, July and August nearly 10,000 patients had been treated, with cures in nearly every instance. In August, at the medical station in Alibonito, exactly one-third of the population was treated. This number was 2,482, of which only six died; 716 were discharged as fully cured, while the majority of the remainder are on the road to recovery. The effect of the disease is to render the victim absolutely unfit for work. The disease gradually wastes away the tissues, during which time the afflicted becomes a public charge. The natives believed this wasting away was due from lack of food.

Stables In Trees.

In the Bahama Islands there flourishes a tree the roots of which attain to enormous proportions, often reaching to a height of fifteen or twenty feet above the surface of the earth, spreading in all directions, underground as well, in order to obtain sustenance and give support to the trunk and branches. On the tree grow innumerable balls of silky cotton, presenting an almost fairylike appearance as they glisten in the sunlight. They are in great demand for stuffing pillows, being soft as down. The spaces formed by the roots are often quite as large as fair sized rooms, and if roofed over one tree would form a commodious dwelling place for a family. In fact, it would be infinitely superior to the average native hut. Holes could be cut in the roots to allow of internal communication. Up to the present, however, the natives have not utilized them as houses, though they are frequently in request as stables for horses.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via C. A. & C. railway beginning May 23d and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensively than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the West. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of Conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agents of C. A. & C. Ry.

AMERICAN CABLE

Will Connect the United States With China and Japan.

New York, Sept. 15.—Through American enterprise the way has been won to connect the western continent by direct submarine telegraphic lines with the empires of Japan and China. Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Commercial Pacific Cable company, made the announcement that his company has secured the necessary concessions to enter Yokohama, Japan, and Shanghai, China. The last step in a series of diplomatic negotiations which were begun at the wish of President McKinley, and which have extended over a period of three years, was taken when Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister to the United States, affixed his signature to Japan's agreement with the Commercial Pacific Cable company for landing rights at Yokohama. An agreement for landing rights at Shanghai was signed by China several weeks ago. When these new cables are completed, Mr. Mackay said, their length, added to other cables already laid or about to be built, will form part of a system which extends two-thirds of the distance around the globe.

OLD SORES ROOTED IN THE BLOOD

Old Sores are the result of a deeply polluted, foul blood supply. The blood is filled with poisons, and as it finds an outlet through the ulcer, the surrounding parts become diseased and the sore eats deeper into the tissues and flesh and becomes a permanent trouble.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated I would be, neither have the sores ever broken out again, and some twelve years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so signally benefited by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier.

Salves, powders, plasters, etc., do no good, and the sufferer gets disgusted and often despairs of curing an old sore. The trouble is in the blood and until the poisonous matter that is keeping up the ulcer is driven out the place cannot heal. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood by removing every particle of poison or impurity from the circulation and building up the system. It makes the blood healthy so that as it circulates to the diseased parts the tissues are strengthened and the sore can heal naturally and permanently. If you have an old sore or ulcer do not waste time with salves, powders, plasters, etc., but write for our book and ask for any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.
