She visited her mother, formerly Mrs. Caley, for several weeks, returning to New York city less than a week ago. Her brother also lives in Akron. Miss Caley was 21 years old and was born and raised in Warren O. She has been separated from her husband a short time. Her brother refuses to believe that she committed suicide, and attributes her trouble to a man known as "Jack." Miss Caley never lived in Akron. Before leaving Cleveland she was seen in company of a well-dressed stranger.

Miss Booth at Canton. Canton, O., Oct. 25.—Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, spoke to a large audience at the auditorium in this city on "Bridging the Gulf." Miss Booth called on Mrs. McKinley and had a talk of 15 minutes with her. She was presented with a pair of slippers made by Mrs. McKinley and a photograph of the late president and Mrs. McKinley. Miss Booth was given permission to enter the McKinley vault at Westlawn cemetery and placed a wreath on the late president's bier.

Railroad Official Arrested. Norwalk, O., Oct. 25.—E. A. Peck, division superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who was indicted by the recent Huron county grand jury for larceny, was arrested at New Castle, Pa., by Sheriff Snyder of this county. The charge is that through Peck's connivance the Norwalk Traction company's grade crossing was taken away one night at the Baltimore and Ohio crossing near Chicago Junction.

Doctor Green Sentenced. Bowling Green, O., Oct. 25.—Dr. Alexander Green, formerly of Delta, O., was found guilty of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Green shot and killed Mrs. Ella Tiffin of Weston last May because she would not marry him, and then attempted suicide. His defense was insanity. Green was removed when he was sentenced, although his

DAMAGE SUIT BEGUN AGAINST IROQUOIS OWNERS

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The first damage suit against the proprietors of the Iroquois theater, which was burned Dec. 30, 1903, has been commenced in the United States circuit court before Judge Landis. Edna Shunter, who was badly injured in the fire, has brought suit for $25,000 damages against the theater company and the George A. Fuller Construction company, which erected the building. Two weeks have been occupied in securing a jury. Attorney Charles C. Spencer made the opening statement for the plaintiff. He declared to the jury that he would show that the building ordinances were grossly violated by the theater proprietors. This suit is comparable to be of great importance. Hundreds of other suits aggregating millions of dollars in damages have been brought, and the evidence in this first trial is of momentous consequences to all concerned.

President Off to Arkansas. Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 25.—President Roosevelt concluded a strenuous daughters, who were with him, sobbed in a pitiful manner.

Declared Insane. Sandusky, O., Oct. 25.—John Ritzenthaler of Huron, who held up and attempted to rob Fred Ulmer, paymaster of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road, last summer, was adjudged insane by a jury in the common pleas court. Dr. H. C. Rutter, specialist, of Columbus, examined him and he declared him to be insane. Among the marks of degeneracy are webbed hands and an unusually high palate.

Boughton, a banker of New York, who is in Hamilton installing a new savings department in the Miami Valley National bank, eloped with Miss Elsie Brown, head waitress in the restaurant where he was taking his meals. Their acquaintance began when Boughton came to the restaurant. They were married in Kentucky.

Mr. Hinkle served the city as mayor from 1901 to 1903. He had been in poor health for some time. A widow and five children survive.

Fall Causes Death. Fremont, O., Oct. 25.—Mrs. David June, 82, wife of a wealthy pioneer manufacturer, is dead from injuries received in a fall down stairs. Mrs. June died in the same house where she and her husband had lived for 53 years. They celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary several weeks ago.

Infant's Sad Fate. Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 25.—Vernon Cleaves, infant son of Early Cleaves, fell into a tub of hot water while his mother was preparing to give him a bath. His little sister promptly pulled him out, but the hot water had entered through his mouth and ears and death soon followed from internal scalding.

Lost Five Barges of Coal. Ironton, O., Oct. 25.—The towboat Ironsides, in a fog, struck the obstructions of the new bridge here, losing five barges of coal. The Ironsides left Pittsburg with 22 barges, in command of Captain Richardson, bound for Cincinnati.

period in Alabama by a two hours' visit to Birmingham, where his reception, in keeping with those given him at Montgomery and Tuskegee, was at Montgomery and Tuskegee, was at the hearty and soul-stirring. Visits to the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute and to the Methodist Female college were crowded into a little less than two hours. At Montgomery he spoke to a great throng under the shadow of the Confederacy's first capitol and soon was on his way again. For several hours the president was the guest of Birmingham, and his train left on the run to Little Rock. The day was unmarked by any special incident save at Birmingham, where an intoxicated man in his excitement dropped a pistol from his pocket on the pavement. The president saw the incident and called the attention of officers to the man, who was quickly arrested.

An American, believed to be the noted Joseph Killoran, is under arrest in Vienna charged with being leader of a gang which recently stole 20,000 crowns from a Vienna bank.

GENERAL STRIKE

Is Probable At Fall River Textile Co.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 25.—Although the Fall River Textile council, which held a special meeting to consider the refusal of the Manufacturers' association to grant a direct wage increase of slightly more than 14 per cent, made no recommendation to the various unions, the indications point to a general strike before the close of the month. Special meetings of the unions will be held tonight to vote on the question of leaving the mills.

The circular announces that the next annual election of directors will be held at the offices of the society in New York at noon Wednesday, Dec. 6, when the trustees will vote for 13 directors, of whom seven will be taken from the policy-holders.

EXPLOSION

Occurs In Tenement House In New York

New York, Oct. 25.—The seven-story tenement house on the corner of Grand and Mott streets was shaken by an explosion of dynamite which some unknown person had placed on the steps of the butcher shop on the ground floor. The explosion threw the hundreds of tenants in the building and in the houses adjoining into a panic. Men, women and children appeared on the fire escapes screaming that there was a fire and begging for help. Others fled into the streets half clad, and that part of "Little Italy" was thrown into a ferment of excitement which lasted for an hour. The butcher shop was wrecked.

Wants Son Removed.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 25.—Eric Erickson filed with Governor Johnson a petition asking that his son, Charles M. Erickson, sheriff of Rousseau county, be removed from the office. Governor Johnson wired Sheriff Erickson to place his office in charge of his deputy, A. T. Allenson, until his father's charges could be investigated. Erickson says in his petition that his son has been drunk almost continuously since elected. The father also charges the embezzlement of $300 collected on an execution by his son, which he had to pay.

REPORTS OF THE INQUIRY PREPARED FOR NEWSPAPERS

New York, Oct. 25.—Emory McClintock, the actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance company, testified before the legislative insurance committee. He practically advocated no law for insurance companies except a certain supervision to give the reports publicity. He thought the public could take care of themselves, and that publicity was the best law. Asked how far this view was shared in official circles he thought he was somewhat of a missionary along that line. It was brought out that the Mutual has been paying for the dissemination throughout the country of reports of this investigation that were favorable to the company. Charles J. Smith, a newspaper man, was the witness. He is employed by the Mutual Life Insurance company to do a large number of things, but a month ago was placed in charge of sending out these reports. Mr. Smith had visited a number of vouches for the payment of this work and these aggregated $11,000, with more bills to come in. He thought the amount to date would reach $14,000. Mr. Smith wrote these reports and submitted them to Allan Forman, who owns the Telegraphic News Bureau, and $1 a line was paid by the Mutual Life for the service. Clippings from various papers about the country were shown to the witness and identified as the dispatches he wrote and sent to Mr. Forman. These were sent to about 100 papers, but Mr. Smith did not know whether the papers were paid for inserting them. In one dispatch Mr. Smith wrote that Mr. McCurdy's attitude on the stand made a distinctly favorable impression, and for this he had to pay $2 a line.

John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, was next examined. While lacking the startling features of the testimony of some of the other life insurance presidents who have testified, Mr. Hegeman's remarks and explanations were none the less interesting, especially his statement that $76,000 was given to the industrial policy-holders of his company last year without any obligation whatever. Mr. Hegeman said that in eight years his company had voluntarily given to the policy-holders $8,000,000. This was in extended insurance, mortality dividends and liberalized policies during epidemics, floods and fires. It was brought out that while the company carried collateral loans throughout the year, none appeared in the annual report on Dec. 31. This was explained by the witness, who said that all collateral loans were transferred on the last day of the year to Vermilye & Company, the bankers, under an agreement, and were brought back again in January. This was done, according to his witness, to avoid the horde of applications for call loans from the Wall street district. The large loans at such a low interest as 1 1/2 per cent, especially the one to President John A. McCall of the New York Life Insurance company, were taken up, and Mr. Hegeman spoke strongly of his friendship for Mr. McCall, who he said was closer than any other man to him in insurance business, outside of his immediate associates.

Farmer's Break.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The efforts of Patrick McGrath, a farmer of Chester, Ind., to "live things up a bit," proved a success in that town, and he is now in jail. McGrath found things too dull for him, and noticing an engine standing on the tracks of the Lake Shore road announced that he would bet 25 cents that he would waken up the town inside of 10 minutes. The wager was taken and McGrath climbed aboard the engine and pulled the throttle to the last notch. The engine darted down the track and tore into a train of freight cars in which a number of Italians were eating their dinners. Four of the cars and the engine were smashed and four of the Italians seriously but not fatally injured. McGrath escaped with but a few injuries.

Crew's Experience.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 25.—Captain Andrew P. Janson and his lifesaving crew of eight men of the Erie lifesaving station were towed into port by the tug Desmond after 16 hours on Lake Erie without sleep or food, the result of a bogus call from Northeast, Pa., 10 miles east of this city. Captain Janson received the message, which stated that a vessel off that port was flying signals of distress. In the teeth of a 35-mile gale the men put off in the large boat, and nothing further was heard from them until towed into port, and anxiety gave way to indignation when it was learned that the call was bogus.

Was a Toledo Boy.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—After having been viewed by the parents of a dozen missing boys, the body of a boy who was killed by a streetcar was identified as that of Roland J. Sheehy, living in Toledo, O.

BREWERS

Close All The Dives In Kansas City, Mo

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25.—Brewers ordered joint keepers in Kansas City, Kan., and the suburbs of Argentine, Armourdale and Rosedale, to close, and most of the 200 saloons in those places respected the order. What the state and county officials have not done in years the brewers have themselves accomplished within 24 hours. Most of the joints are owned by the breweries. The others can secure no more beer and their supply is almost exhausted.

Accused of Robbery.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—George Webster, said to be a son of well-to-do parents living in Buffalo, N. Y., and nephew of a former governor of Missouri, was captured by the police after a pistol fight in a little room at 190' Wells street. He is charged with robbery and is alleged to have a long criminal record.

IS WOUNDED.

Suspect Arrested in Connection With a Bank Robbery.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 25.—A strange man, suffering from a wound believed to have been inflicted with a shotgun discharged at long range, was found limping along the road four miles west of this city by three residents of this city, who overpowered the man and took him to the county infirmary, where he is being held on suspicion of being one of the men who robbed the Ridgeville National bank. The man begged his captors not to summon a physician and refused to explain in what manner he had been wounded. He is well dressed and clean shaven. He gave his name as Isaac Copps, and said he lived at Decatur, Ind. His hands were discolored in a manner that indicates powder burns.

Indicted by Federal Jury.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 25.—An indictment containing nine counts was returned by the federal grand jury against Sebastian Zorn & Company, T. G. Williams and Jesse A. Busfield, charging violation of the interstate commerce law. The indictments charge that the defendants illegally secured rebates on grain shipments, favoring certain shippers and districts and discriminating against others. The defendants were admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 in each case. The indictment is the outcome of the recent investigation of grain rates made here by the United States interstate commerce commission.

Will Have to Revise Scale.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 25.—Developments in the glass situation took a sudden and unexpected turn when John R. Robinson of this city, president of the National Association of Windowglass Workers, quoted the price of windowglass at 9¢ and 25¢. This is a new move, and will mean that the signers of the Amalgamated scale, including the plants that recently deserted the national association, will have to revise their scale before they can go to work.

WITTE TALKS TO WORKMEN ON STRIKE SITUATION

Strike Takes A Violent Turn In Number Of Cities

Railway Men Meet And Declare A Strike On All Lines Entering St Petersburg--Trouble Is Spreading In All Directions

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—The government resumed railroad service on a few roads, but under great difficulties. The decision of the railroad men at a meeting here to declare a general strike has immensely complicated the problem. Trains left Moscow over the Nicholas road, but the passengers were notified that communication was guaranteed only as far as Tver.

Several attempts were made to interrupt communication by telegraph and telephone out of Moscow, and the telegraph offices had to be guarded by Cossacks. Persons wishing to send messages had to fight their way through crowds of strikers, and in many cases were severely handled. The strike has taken a violent turn in a number of cities, from which reports come of encounters between mobs and the police and troops. Agrarian disorders have broken out in the province of Samara. Troops sent there include a detachment of artillery, indicating that the situation is quite serious.

The executive committee of the league of leagues has adopted resolutions saying that the present moment was favorable for a general strike of all the professions, and recommending doctors, lawyers, engineers and other members of constituent organizations to cease all professional activities.

At a meeting of 8,000 railway men held in the university it was decided to declare a strike on all the railways radiating from St. Petersburg. It also was decided at the meeting to send deputations to Prince Hilkoft, minister of railways, and Count Witte, president of the committee of ministers, and present to them addresses demanding political reforms, including among them the convocation of a constituent assembly elected by direct universal suffrage. The meeting remained in session until the return of the deputation. The men returned without having succeeded in seeing Prince Hilkoft owing to his absence at Peterhoff, where he was making a report of the railway troubles to Emperor Nicholas. They found Count Witte, who pointed out that the address contained many demands which could not be realized in any country, and also many which were worthy of attention. He said that a constituent assembly was quite impossible, and contended that the suffrage and other political demands had nothing to do with the question of the railroads. He promised that liberty of meeting and of the press would promptly be granted, and said the continued application of martial law to the railroads was due to a misunderstanding and would be remedied. He declared that he was friendly to all reasonable demands, and promised to confer with Prince Hilkoft as to the best means of dealing with the railroad question. At the same time he advised the deputation to end the strike and then to peaceably formulate the demands of the men. Having listened to the report the meeting decided to postpone action until the deputation had an interview with Prince Hilkoft.

Rosen Mentioned.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—The report that Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador at Washington, will succeed Count Lamsdorff as foreign minister, is not confirmed, but it is definitely stated that the promulgation of an edict establishing a cabinet with Count Witte at its head may be expected in a few days.

Strike at Lodz.

Lodz, Oct. 25.—There are now 35,000 workmen on strike. The governor has asked the minister of the province to declare martial law.

UNDER THE WHEELS.

Prominent Shipmaster Killed When He Lost His Balance.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Losing his balance as he was about to board a westbound train which was approaching the station of the Pennsylvania railroad, B. Frank Clyde, 53, vice president of the William P. Clyde Steamship company, and millionaire clubman, was dragged under the wheels of the locomotive and instantly killed. His body was terribly mangled and his face was crushed beyond recognition, identification being made by means of a tailor's label on the clothing bearing Mr. Clyde's name.

Goes to Prison.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 25.—W. H. Harroun, charged with having forged $700,000 worth of bills of lading and drawing money on them, was found guilty by a jury and the penalty fixed at five years in the penitentiary. The forgeries were committed about a year ago and were principally on Burlington route bills of lading.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 25.—President Lennou of the St. Paul American baseball club announced that "Dick" Padden had been selected as manager of the St. Paul club for next year.

If the Mt. Vernon Ring can "make good" at the election by succeeding in securing an endorsement, they will be in a position to completely dictate county affairs next year, the year after, and as long as they choose to, and hand out the offices to themselves and the members of their families. This year is the time to clip their wings.

It grows more and more apparent that a lawyer is needed for probate judge. The questions submitted in the probate court are too intricate and important to be passed upon by a person who is not a lawyer. Pat. Berry is an experienced lawyer and is thoroughly familiar with practice in the probate court. It would be of decided public advantage to elect him probate judge.

The records of the probate court of Knox county show that already $949.97 have been taken from the widows and orphans of this county under the inheritance tax law and paid into the state treasury. That is just $949.97 more than should have been taken from them. There is no telling how much will be taken from the widows and orphans of the county in the future. The inheritance tax law was enacted as an administration measure of Gov. Merrick. He is responsible for it, and it is one of the things that should condemn him at the polls.

Burned To Death When The Barn Was Destroyed

Serious Fire Visits Watford At An Early Hour On Wednesday Morning

Waterford, O., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The large barn, owned by John Walters of this place, was entirely consumed by fire at three o'clock this morning and two valuable horses were burned to death.

The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. Occupants of the house were aroused at three o'clock when the barn was in a mass of flames. Before Mr. Walters or any of the neighbors could reach the structure the horses had been burned to death. In the barn at the time were several tons of hay and two rigs, all being consumed by the flames.

The loss will reach a thousand or eight hundred dollars, with one hundred dollars insurance. The cause of the fire is being investigated by Mr. Walters as it is believed that the structure was set on fire.

IMPORTANCE

Having A Lawyer For Probate Judge

Clearly Set Out By Judge Kinkead Of Columbus

Noted Author Of Works On Probate Practice

Cites Several Instances In His Own Experience To Show That A Lawyer Should Be Probate Judge

The importance of having an experienced lawyer as probate judge impressing itself upon the people of Knox county, on account of the many intricate legal propositions submitted to the probate court for decision, and which have increased very materially during the last few years growing out of enactments by the legislature.

Pat. Berry, the Democratic candidate for probate judge, is an experienced lawyer, while his opponent is not.

Over in Coshocton county the same conditions exist as in Knox county. In Coshocton county one of the candidates for probate judge is a lawyer, while the other is not. A letter was written from Coshocton to Judge E. B. Kinkead of Columbus, asking his opinion of the matter of having a lawyer for probate judge, and Judge Kinkead has answered it very fully, and cites several reasons why a trained lawyer should be elected to the office.

Judge Kinkead is at present instructor in the Ohio State University law school, teaching pleading, probate law, practice and procedure. He is author of Kinkead's Probate Law and Practice, and Kinkead's Readings and is regarded as one of the leading law authorities of the state.

Judge Kinkead's letter is as follows:

Columbus, O., Oct. 12th, 1905.

Dear Sir:

I hardly know how to answer your letter of yesterday in reference to the question of whether or not a probate judge should be a lawyer. I can't see how a probate judge can be a good one unless he is a lawyer. There are so many difficult questions that may come up in the various matters that fall within the jurisdiction of the probate court, that it would seem to me to be a very important matter for one who is not a lawyer to grapple with.

In my experience, having served several years in my early days as a deputy clerk in the probate court and in the practice, writing and teaching, I have found many difficult questions coming within the province of the probate court.

I had one rather unique experience in a famous case which was tried in the probate court of Ottawa county, Ohio. I was called into the case as associate counsel, there being six lawyers in all engaged in the case, and it took me two days to argue the case to the court and two weeks being consumed in the entire trial. There were a dozen legal questions involved in that case, every one of which was entirely new in this state.

I never engaged in a case where lawyers worked harder and more earnestly to solve these problems and enlighten the court. For instance, one of the questions was whether or not there is any estate of limitations which runs against a right of an administrator to file a petition to sell real estate. The second was whether there is any time limited in which the widow can obtain her year's allowance. Another was whether or not a widow who has lived on the property and used it is chargeable with the value of the personal property, rents and profits to offset her year's allowance. Another was whether or not the widow, as executrix, is subrogated to rights of claims against the estate which she had paid off, and whether she can subject the real estate after lapse of years to payment of such claims. Then there was a question of the right of innocent purchasers of realty under the circumstances; the question of collateral impeachment of accounts passed upon by the court, and a collateral impeachment of the approval of the inventory and appraisal in the proceedings in the probate court. And so on.

To have the slightest appreciation of these questions, the court must have a thorough knowledge of the fundamental law respecting such matters.

The judge who heard this case was not a lawyer, and he was, undoubtedly, influenced by the personnel of the lawyers and he decided in favor of the petitioner, and on appeal in the common pleas court before an able judge the finding was against the petitioner on all of the questions.

I could go on and recount a number of questions which I have had in my practice in order to show that a man who has not some education in the ground work of the law would not be qualified to consider and pass on it.

My judgment is that there ought to be a positive law requiring that all judges of probate courts must be lawyers.

I would be glad to answer you more fully, but time forbids.

Yours very truly,
E. B. Kinkead.

Too Much Mother-in-Law Is Husband's Defense

Against Whom He Has Pending A Suit For Alienating The Affection Of His Wife—Other News From The Courts

Cora D. Clutter has commenced suit in the probate court against her husband, Ray D. Clutter, a prominent school teacher of Knox county, for alimony. The parties were married December 10, 1902, and have one child, 16 months old. Plaintiff says that her husband drove her away from his home and ordered her not to return, and also told her to take away their child, saying, "I don't care what you do with him." She also says that her husband has failed to provide a home for her and that he has failed to provide her with the necessities of life, and that frequently before the separation her husband ordered her to leave him and stay away from him. She says that her husband has assaulted her and declared her mother should not visit her, and that she should not visit her parents' home. She charges her husband with associating with other women. She says her husband is a school teacher in Knox county, earning about $50 per month, and asks that the First National bank of Utica, O., be enjoined from paying him any money. She also asks for temporary alimony to enable her to prosecute this suit, and for her support pending the same, and that at the final hearing of the petition she be allowed permanent alimony. Smythe & Smythe, attorneys for the plaintiff.

The defendant in his answer says he is willing to provide for the wife and child, but intimates that the action was brought at the instigation of her mother against whom he has an action for alienation of his wife's affections.—Newark Advocate.

A VERY SENSIBLE OWL

[Written for The Banner by H. M. Cain]

How can a young man, on a street corner stand,
And smoke cigarettes, which the ladies eschew,
Or load up, on beer, every night in the year,
When there's thousands of maidens to woo?

'Twas referred to an owl, as he looked very wise,
As to which of the three, he would much rather do,
He ruffled his feathers; then closing his eyes,
Gave out as his answer, to woo.

And then he proceeded to speak of divorce;
With knowledge astounding; and all of it true.
Denouncing it roundly, throughout the discourse,
Yet paying high tribute, to wit and to woo.

How comes it, sir owl, that your plumage is torn?
With some of your wisdom, the story relate.
'In many fierce battles, with foes who are sworn,
'I've parted with feathers, but never my mate'.

Next he sailed into the subject of "graft,"
Just wait; let me think what he likened it to.
With a rope round his neck, to a man who is daft,
Though he stand at the top, he will surely fall through.

Now here is a point, where we all can agree,
I believe it myself, never doubting of you.
There are only two toasts, at his home in the tree,
And they are, to wit and to woo.

For that speaker I've searched, like a monk in his cow,
Now a much traveled bird, brings the tidings to me;
'Twas the spirit of wisdom, in the form of an owl,
That had spoken while perched in a tree.

REVOLVER

Thrilling Experience Of Centerburg Man At Newark

Growing Out Of The Labor Difficulties At The Wehrle Foundry Where He Had Taken Position Of A Striker

(Newark Advocate)

Another violent outbreak occurred in the West End on Monday night between the union and nonunion polishers. Three men, George W. Webb of Centerburg, Clarence Hoover and Clem Hartsock of Johnstown, polishers who have taken the place of the strikers, were attacked shortly after dark, or about 6:30 o'clock, on Monday night while going from the Wehrle foundry to the Forry street bridge, where they intended taking a car to the city. Just as they got on the bridge two of the striking polishers, C. F. Felix and George E. Collins, met them. Felix and Collins, without any preliminaries, drew their revolvers and compelled the polishers by threats and force to go to a saloon in the Brothers building, on Union street, where they held them as prisoners. The two men making the attack finally went outside the saloon, but told their prisoners that if they attempted to escape they would brain them. The men were terrorized and remained in the saloon. They claim that Felix and Collins returned with a third man and at the point of revolvers took them into the back yard where Collins struck at Hoover, who dodged him, and Felix struck Webb on the head and knocked him down and kicked him in the breast. Hoover and Webb managed to make their escape and as they ran away they heard Hartsock screaming out as the men beat him.

Hartsock has mysteriously disappeared and cannot be found anywhere, although a thorough search has been made for him, and nothing has been heard of him at Johnstown.

Lieut. N. A. Jeffries, who has charge of the special officers at the Wehrle foundry, says that he attempted to make an investigation, but was unable to obtain any definite information regarding the matter. Warrants for the arrest of the three men charged with making the assault will be served.

BOLTS HERRICK

For His Opposition To Farmers And Soldiers

(Columbus Citizen.)

J. Macey Walcutt, one of the most prominent Republicans of this city, has joined the bolt against Governor Herrick.

Mr. Walcutt was formerly chief of police of Columbus, has served the county Republican committee and is a son of the late Charles C. Walcutt, one of the most prominent generals from Ohio in the civil war.

Mr. Walcutt is a heavy holder of farm lands in this county and spends most of his time upon his farm.

"As a life-long Republican I keenly feel the embarrassing condition of the party in this campaign in the unfortunate character of the men on the ticket," says Mr. Walcutt. "Herrick, with deep-rooted prejudice against the farmers, vetoed the appropriation for the benefit of the farming interests, and, smarting under the stern rebuke which even the bossridden state convention administered, he, with sullen defiance, assailed the plan of the establishment of state quarries for convict labor to crush stone to build good roads. The plan was to distribute this crushed stone to the various counties and relieve the farmer and equalize the cost of good roads to the benefit of the entire state.

"When balked in his intent to destroy the usefulness of the farm for the unfortunate feeble-minded by the state board of charities, he favors a new penitentiary at great and useless expense, instead of the quarries for cheap road material and better and healthier conditions for the convict.

"I believe it is the duty of all veterans, their sons and friends to resent the brutal discharge of veteran soldiers in flagrant violation of law to make room for political henchmen.

"I think that every true Republican will do the best service and purify the party by voting against Herrick and the entire ticket.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhoea.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald, of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

"I think that a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but restored health is so important to me that I cannot help from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women."

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a sterile trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Try it once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.
