Illinois is a quiet one, as party lines are not drawn very closely, and the indications are that not over one-half the regular number of ballots will be polled. A member of congress is to be elected in the Fourteenth district to succeed Benjamin F. Marsh, who died last summer, and commissioners will be elected in 19 counties not under township organization. In Chicago five judges of the superior court, one judge of the circuit court and a president and nine members of the sanitary district are to be chosen.

Philadelphia Fight Fierce. Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—The managers of both sides claim that their candidates will sweep the city. The Republicans claim their ticket will win by 50,000 majority. The city party asserts that the candidates who have the indorsement of the Democrats, Independence Democrats, Prohibitionists and the Lincoln party, will carry the city by at least 60,000. An extremely heavy vote, heavier than that cast at most presidential elections, is being polled. United States Senator Pen. gist, price 50c. rose and Chairman Wesley R. An-Plummer, Republican candidate for state treasurer, will carry Pennsylvania by upwards of 100,000. Their prefor three years, instead of two diction is disputed by Democratic National Committeeman James M. Coffey and the Lincoln party managers, who claim that Wm. H. Berry will defeat Plummer. Berry is the Demo-cratic nominee and has the endorsement of the Lincoln party, Independence Democrats and Prohibitionists.

Intense Feeling at Louisville. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—The managers of the Democratic and fusion parties are claiming victory by pluralities of 5,000 to 7,000. The repeated charges of fraudulent registration have aroused intense feeling on both sides. The managers of both parties specifically instructed their workers not to go armed to the polls. The fusion managers have a deputation of from ten to thirty unarmed citizens at each polling place "to prevent fraud and to peaceably but firmly insist on a fair count."

Awarded Widow of Prominent Man Who Was Assassinated.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 7.-Two years ago Pink Head, a prominent citizen, was assassinated in his yard in Hickman county. A few days before Cheatham Hodge had killed his brother, Robert Hodge, by accident, near the Head place. Mrs. Pink Head sued Hodge for $20,000 damages for being responsible for her husband's assassination. Today a jury gave her $15,-000. Hodge was never prosecuted criminally for the alleged offense.

"I Thank The Lord!" cried Hannah Plant, of little Rock. Ark., "for the relief I got from stead," he says. "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts,

ENCOUNTER

Between Prominent Farmers in Which Combatants Are Badly Hurt.

Danville, Ky., Nov. 7.—A desperate encounter between three prominent farmers of Caspy county occurred over the Boyle county line. Crubbs Triplett and Clod Mays quarreled with John Pemberton, Mays and Triplett drew revolvers and Pemberton grabbed an axe. Mays received a glash on the cheek that tore away half his jaw, while Triplett was struck twice in the back. He will die. Pemberton was shot twice, one in the arm and just below the heart. The men are too bady injured to be arrested.

MADE THEIR ESCAPE.

Ball Brothers In the Hills After Brush With Militia.

Middlesboro, Ky., Nov. 7 .- The city and surrounding territory are quiet and no immediate developments in the case of the Ball brothers are expected. The return of the last of the possemen effectually disproves the reports that any of the party which pursued the Ball faction were wounded. Whether any of the Ball partisans were wounded is not known. The Ball brothers and their friends have evidently escaped for the time being into the mountains of Virginia and Ten-

Attitude of Mormons.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 7.-The first authoritative statement as to the attitude of President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon church, was published in the News, whose editor, Apostle Penrose, is supporting Mayor Richard P. Morris, Democrat, for re-election. This announcement states that President Smith is not interfering with the election, and he "has no counselor advice to give voters in relation to the matter" Reed Smoot is supporting Chief of Police Lynch, the Republican Storm on Lake. Cleveland, O., Nov. 7 .- A storm of great violence raged over Lake Eric. The gale reached a velocity of 54 miles an hour, and a tremendous sea was kicked up. The life saving crew went out in a surf boat to a big steel steamer apparently in distress lying at anchor off Euclid beach. It was reported, however, that while the vessel was listed and laboring heavily, she was in no great danger.

Suicided in His Cell. Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—Albert H. Darwin, a prisoner at the county jail, charged with the murder of Mrs. Anna Gray, of Joliet, Ill., committed suicide in his cell by hanging. Darwin eloped with Mrs. Gray from Jollet several months ago, the couple going to Akron, O. When the woman decided to return to her husband and children she was shot and killed by Darwin.

Demand of London's Poor. London, Nov. 7.-The desperate condition of the poor of London was brought to the notice of Premier Balfour by a remarkable deputation of the wives and other women relatives of the unemployed, who did not hesitate to tell the premier unless some thing is speedily done to lessen their sufferings, there will be bloodshed. The "Marsellaise" was heard as the procession advanced, perhaps the first time it was ever heard under such circumstances in the streets of London. Premier Balfour acknowledged that the evil was very real but he had little to suggest in the way of alleviation, except an expression of hope that public charity would come to the aid of the unemployed.

The editors acceded to the governor general's request. The anti-Semitic disturbances are reported from all the outlying districts. The peasants are greatly excited, and are urged by agitators from Odessa. Troops have been despatched to the disturbed districts. The president of the board of trade has telegraphed to the minister of finance, urgently requesting him to prolong the payment of liabilities for six months, and to order the state bank not to shorten the credit of merchants and to facilitate the rediscounting of the bills of private banks and banking houses. In view of the entire devastation of almost all the Jewish mills, shops and factories, the trade of Odessa is threatened with complete ruin, and wholesale bankruptcies are feared.

The struggle for autonomy in Poland has been renewed, and flags bearing the Polish coat of arms are flying from many buildings, preliminary to further action. The governor general of Warsaw issued an order setting forth that as he has ascertained that the citizens of Warsaw are not fit to profit quietly by constitutional liberties, he henceforth prohibits processions and open air meetings, and threatens to disperse crowds by force of arms. The governor general has telegraphed to the minister of interior asking if he can permit publication of Polish newspapers uncensored. This action is the result of representations made by the who pointed out that the pre ent strike of their employes, who re fused to work on censored papers, prevents them from assisting in the pa-

"Hyomel Costs You Nothing If It Fails," Say Craft & Taugher

Among the many medicines upon the market that claim to cure catarrh none but Hyomei has enough faith in its own merit to offer to refund the money if it does not cure.

Hyomei is the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote parts of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs $1.00 of our mechanics; it has been the and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime, and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh will grow better from the first day's use, and will be completely cured within a short time.

It is the only treatment for catarrh where you can get your money back from a local dealer Craft & Taucher

"PUMPKIN HEAD,"

Pastor Called The Town Marshal, And Riot Was Barely Averted

Chillicothe, Ohio November 7.-The village of Frankfort is excited over the sensational encounter between Rev. M. Wilson, of the Presbyterian church, and Strawder McNeal, who is Marshal of the Republicans In Booths Longer Frankfort is a dry town, but there has been a great deal of whisky and beer imported, and on Sunday night Rev. M. Wilson blamed the Marshal for it. The pastor refered to the the Marshal as a pumpkin head and a coward for failing to do his duty, and the Marshal, who was present, jumped from his seat and called the pastor a liar.

A riot was imminent, but the Marshal left the church without trouble. Monday morning the two men met in front of the postoffice, and the Marshal slapped the minister's face. Bystanders interferred and there were no arrests.

To Be in Readiness For The Next Campaign--To Be Called Roosevelt Independent Republican Voters of Ohio

Columbus, Ohio, November 7.-Last night the initial steps were taken here for the organization of an entirely new party, or one affiliated with the Republicans whose duty will be to correct the evils alleged to exist. Its tenets will be to down bossism and the liquor traffic, and, according to Congressman A. R. Webber, of the Knox county District, the name will be the Roosevelt Independent Republican Voters of Ohio. Its branches will reach to all sections of the state. This will be done whether Governor Herrick is re-elected or not, and the active campaign of organization will begin just as soon as this present war is over. For us motto it will have a phrase culled from one of President Roosevelt's addresses while touring through the Sunny South, which reads:

"That man is a dangerous citizen who so far mistakes means for an

His Devotion Is Intense and He Is

A traveler in Africa writes: "This is a land of religion. 'The Mussulman's devotion is intense, ever present and all pervading, being not an accessory tacked on, as it were, to his life to be practiced more or less surreptitiously, but an essential part, wherewith and wherein he lives at all times. A Mussulman prays openly and publicly, in nowise afraid to be seen. Every man wears his string of beads whereon he records the number of his daily prayers. Notwithstanding its, to us, uninviting appearance, the religion has made and still is making great strides in Africa, and one can only attribute this to the fact that here at last is a religion of which its adherents are in no way ashamed. It offers to the faithful absolute assurance of salvation and engenders that blind, unbesitating faith therein which is so comforting to the native mind.

"Seeing a crowd of pilgrims bound for Mecca patiently-nay, with pleasureendering the worst treatment that one could imagine meted out to herds of driven slaves, one envies the excess of faith that can engender such a disposition. Though robbed, slain, staryed, herded with pestilence and subjected to countless hardships and annovances, yet year after year they come from far and near thousands and tens of thousands strong on this the most wonderful and far reaching of latter day pilgrimages.

"At Jedda one sees pilgrims from all corners of the globe-Dutch subjects from Java, Chinese from Peking shiploads from India and Farther In dia, Russian subjects from all parts of the great empire, French subjects from Algiers, from Morocco, and dusky negroes who have tramped for months from the western shores of Africa. Through many lands and midst many tongues they come, all to meet at this thronged center of the maelstrom of the Mussulman faith

GREEK ATHLETES.

The Way They Ran and the Style of Track They Used.

"In the foot races of the ancient Greeks," says a writer, "the shape of the stadium caused a great difference, since it was not circular, but long and narrow, with one or both ends semicircular. Consequently the runners had to take a sharp turn at the end of each lap, while except at the turn they were running a straight course. Evidently this turn needed much practice, for the pictures on the old vases show athletes practicing this one part of the race as a kind of drill, taking each movement separately.

'In early times, when all the runners turned round the same post, the turn gave opportunities for foul play, and there are stories of one competitor tripping another at the post or seizing him by the hair to prevent his winning. But later, in the shorter distances at least, each runner had his own track and post to turn round, and probably the separate courses were roped off in much the same way as they are now in sprint races. For the start elaborate arrangements were made and at Olympia the stone slabs are still to be seen, with the grooves at regular intervals that had to be toed at starting.

"Greek long distance men ran in the most approved style of the present day. But the sprinters apparently employed a considerable amount of arm action and took very long steps, rising well on to the toes. Then there was the race in armor, an event highly praised by several of the Greek writers as a valuable preparation for war and which is supposed to explain the famous running charge of the Athenians at Marathon.'

A Literary Coincidence. "My father, W. Clark Russell," said Herbert Russell in telling of a literary coincidence, "had finished maturing the plot of his novel, 'The Death Ship,' which is a version of the legend of Vanderdecken. I was his amanuensis at the time. He said to me, 'Tomorrow we will begin the story.' On the fol-lowing morning when I entered his study to take his dictation of the opening lines he showed me a letter he had fust received. It was from W. S. Gilert, the well known dramatist, asking him why he did not write a novel

Funerals in the Highlands.
A Scottish correspondent writes of funerals in the highlands: "There are no undertakers here. A carpenter makes the simple coffin, relatives and resting place, which is dug when the having walked perhaps six miles to the chosen kirkyard, they take a refreshment of sandwiches and whisky and walk home again. The rigorous absence of pomp is maintained, but there is the added embellishment of pipe music."

Got Near to Them. An English druggist gives the following list of blunders made by his poorer customers: "Catch an eel" for cochineal; "prosperous paste" for phosphorus paste; "grease it" for creosote; "fishy water" for vichy water; "guitar" for catarrh; "everlasting" for efferves-

Bryant. Bryant always thought he could write much befor poetry than that contained in his "Thanatopsis," which was one of his earliest. During his later days he on several occasions expressed some surprise at the preferparticular poem, "when I have done so many things better." He believed the translations of Homer to be the best work he ever did.

MISSIONARY RIDGE.

How the Scene of a Terrible Battle Originally Got Its Name.

Stretching for miles along the eastern border of the city, picturesque and pleasing to view is Missionary ridge. How well that name is known from the hemlocks of Maine to the flowers of Florida, and yet how different from its name are the associates one gives it when it is pronounced! In history it is recorded as being the scene of one of the fiercest conflicts of the civil war, but to the people who know the origin of the name it is a monument to the memory of a band of devoted, self sacrificing Christian men who, braving the hardships of emigration not for the love of gain, but to help their fellow men, built the Brainard mission on the picturesque heights known by the name of Missionary ridge.

It was in 1817 that the Rev. Cyrus Kingsbury, Ainsworth F. Blunt and the Rev. John Vail first viewed the site of their mission. They were sent here by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, and the same board had provided for the erection of a mission, including school buildings and a home for the missionaries. But the contractors failed in their contract, and the missionaries were left without money and without even a shelter. But by energetic efforts they created a mission school and built a mill on the banks of Chickamauga creek. The mill race, nearly a mile long, is still visible. The mill was purchased by Philamon Bird in 1852. He tore down the small structure and built what is now known as Bird's mill.

On May 27, 1819, the president of the United States, James Monroe, appeared at the door of the mission unannounced. He was accompanied by General Gaines. Although surprised by his visit, the missionaries were ready to receive him, and he complimented them on their work and in glowing terms praised the beautiful location of the mission. The Brainard mission was used until the Indians left. It did an immense amount of good, and at one time there were more than 500 Indian children being taught beneath its roof. The Lord's supper was observed for the last time on Aug. 19, 1838.

In the old mission cemetery east of the ridge, overgrown with weeds and forgotten by almost everybody, is a little monument on which are the following words:

"Here lie the remains of Samuel Worcester, D. D., pastor of the Tabernacle church, Salem, Mass., first secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. Born 1770; died June 7, 1821."-Chattanooga

The Vizier's Little Joke. A Frenchman who lived many years in Fez tells how the Moroccans enjoy a joke at the expense of Europeans. An ultimatum had on one occasion been sent to the governor demanding a letter of apology. No letter came, and the French charge d'affaires went to the vizier, Si-Feddin-Garnit, to announce his departure. "Do not go!" cried the vizier. "You are our friend. The letter only needs the sultan's seal. It will be ready tomorrow." It was not ready on the next day or the next. and on the third day the charge d'affaires, after refusing all refreshment, declared that he was leaving Fez immediately, whereupon Si-Feddin-Gar-

The Burmese Nirvana. In "The Silken East" the author, V. C. Scott O'Connor, explains what that vana, or neikban, is to the faithful Burmese:

And this neikban, what is it? Eternal extinction or eternal and conscious peace? The everyday Buddhist, in Burma at least, is in no doubt upon the subject, and for the rest, for an exalted idea of paradise, I do not remember to have come upon anything finer than this: "Where the believer expects to find a sure shelter against all errors, doubts and fears, and a restal government," according to an editorial all errors, doubts and rears, and a rest, government, according to the day. "As a sysing place, where his spirit may secure in the Standard of the day. "As a sysing place, where his spirit may secure in the Standard of the day. "As a sysing place, where his spirit may secure." ly enjoy the undisturbed possession of

The "Bummaree,"

That not very elegant word, sup-posedly an Americanism, "bummer," is said to be descended from the Eng-lish "bummaree," itself centuries old, if not very literary in the company it has kept, IA "bummaree" was a person who peddled fish outside the regular fish market. Naturally such a person was in disfavor with the dealers in the established markets. The "bumma triends carry it, hip high, to its last rees" were accused of cheating and selling worthless wares, hence the disend of the journey is reached, and, agreeable significance of its linguistic descendant.

STOCKHOLM.

The City of a Thousand Islands and Rocky Reefs.

From Sweden's capital an enthusias tic visitor writes: "The sky has an almost Italian radiance as the sun shines clear and bright on the glittering levels of the lagoon that divide the new town from the old. Across the water, on which a fleet of white ferryboats ply, rises the broad front of the palace, the stern outline of which is relieved by the russet glow which time has lent to the brickwork. In front of the palace runs a broad quay crowded with shipping, behind which one may catch peeps of narrow, winding streets, with sloping roofs and painted houses bent with age. The square front of the palace rises above the red and gray roofs, seeming to command the old city. On my right the waters narrow to a swift rushing stream, over which a stately bridge has been thrown, uniting the palace with the picturesque pile of the opera house, or, rather, with the broad square in which it stands. Behind the opera house lie broad streets of modern houses, in which there are unexpected glimpses of waterways crowded with shipping.

"Stockholm is built on a series of islands formed by Lake Malaren. It is. indeed, the city of a thousand islands and rocky reefs, which are sown broadcast many miles beyond the mainland, where the lake and river join the sea. The steamers which ply up and down the lake afford endless excursions. Seaward you may sail a day among the islands until you reach the long, low reefs on which the Baltic beats.

"In spite of their cold climate the Swedes delight in the open air. After the indoor life of English or American cities it is a great pleasure to take one's meals out of doors, although it may sometimes be necessary to dine wrapped in an overcoat. We have seen people dining in the Tivoli gardens beneath awnings and umbrellas in the rain. This habit may explain the health and vigor of the Swedes!

Fighting Shows Race.

"By the way they fight I can tell men's nationality," said a policeman. An Englishman, when he is going to fight, throws his hat and coat in a blustering, bluffing way on the ground. A Scot pulls his hat down tight on his head and buttons his coat carefully. The canny Scot is not going to ennit drew the letter from his leathern danger any of his property. An Irishwallet. "It has been ready for five man appeals to the crowd to hold his days," he said. "You see, there was no coat. The Celtic nature desires sympathy and tries to build it up. An American is so anxious to pitch in and have the much discussed consummation of Nir- thing over that he starts fighting without giving a thought to hat or coat."-New York Press.

The London Police.

When the scheme was first broached fierce opposition developed to the establishment of London's metropolitan police, in September, 1829. Police to patrol the streets of London? Such a scheme was "repugnant to the spirit of English law and to the theory of free tem of clandestine intelligence the thing is complete," it went on: "The low constable is instructed to make himself acquainted with the inhabitants of every house within his beat.

CUT TO THE QUICK.

Fire in the lumber yards at Mc-Ghee & McGinnity, Denver, Colo., destroyed lumber and contents to the value of $85,000.

By the collision of a Grand Trunk passenger train and street car at Blue Island, Ill., five persons were killed and 10 seriously injured.

Thomas A. Stoddart, 76, manager of the St. Louis clearing house, died after a long illness. He began his banklng experience in St. Louis in 1857.

At Los Angeles, Cal., Ira Caler, a blacksmith, shot and instantly killed his wife, and then shot himself through the forehead. The immediate cause of the killing was a quarrel over $4.

Peter St. Agnolio, an Italian fruit dealer, was found dead in a back room of his store at Holland, Mich., with four bullet holes in his body. His brother Joseph and Tony Martins are under arrest.

Mrs. Arthur Massengill was burned to death, her husband and sister-inlaw fatally burned, and other members of the family seriously burned, by the explosion of an oil store in their home near Monticello, Ky.

Killed by Elevator.

Washington, Nov. 7.-Margaret Mc-Ilvaine, 35, employed as a chore woman in the state, war and navy building, was instantly killed in an elevator at the door of the office of the secretary of navy. The elevator was in charge of a watchman instead of the regular conductor, and as the woman entered the cage she stumbled. The elevator suddenly started up and her head, which protruded from the door, caught between the floor of the elevator and the ceiling.

Gifts to Columbia.

New York, Nov. 7 .- Columbia university last year received money gifts amounting to $1,960,000, and had an enrollment of 4,981 students, according to the annual report of President Nicholas Murray Butler. President Butler said of Columbia's new study program, whereby a student may graduate after three years' study, or may take more than four years to cover the same ground: It breaks the lockstep theory system of uniform annual promotions from class to class.

Alive and Well.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 7.-Although the police of Toronto, Ont., have identified a woman who was murdered there as Pansy Lowthian, a wealthy young woman of Denver, Colo., Miss Lowthian is alive and well in this city. Miss Lowthian has been visiting friends here for six weeks. She cannot account for the rumor, as she has never been in Toronto.

Shot Wife and Self. Washington, Nov. 8.-Washington J. Quiggle, private secretary to Thomas F. Walsh, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife and then shot himelf in the heart, dying instantly. Quiggle was 35 years old. The tragedy occurred in their apartments at the Brunswick.

Persian Minister's Mission.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.-General Carteza Khan, Persian minister to the United States, arrived in this city from Washington, and will remain for several days. This is the first visit of Khan to Pittsburg and its purpose is to inspect the manufacturing interests in the Pittsburg district.
