Letter to Charles McIlvaine

Bishop of Winchester

The Charles P. McIlvaine letters were written in the 18th and 19th century and therefore may contain language that we understand today as harmful or offensive. You may encounter paternalist descriptions of Native Americans, racial slurs, or sexism. For more information, see our policy page.

Farnham Castle,
Surrey.

Aug. 12. 1867

My very Dear Bishop

The letter from Larves, just received, tells me that you are actually in England, with stairs. I lose no time in telling you that unless you can come to me this week, I shall not see you till next month. At the beginning of next week I leave Farnham for the Channel Islands, and shall not be able to return till Synodical action begins.

you will find a most hearty welcome here till Saturday next - alas, I cannot say beyond that day.

your most affec^ted

Christina

P.S. I shall be delighted to see you again
