Letter to Philander Chase

G.W. Marriott

The Philander Chase letters were written in the 18th and 19th century and therefore may contain language that we understand today as harmful or offensive. You may encounter paternalist descriptions of Native Americans, racial slurs, or sexism. For more information, see our policy page.

My dear Bishop Chase,

I am very much obliged to you for your kind letter, & for the sight of your Appeal. I sincerely rejoice that you have been hitherto so successful, & trust you will go on & prosper by God's blessing in all the good you are wishing to promote in your new Diocese. —

I should like to know if you can form any idea how long your stay will be in this Country. I trust we shall see you; if you go to Cotesbats & Goodington we should come in between the two. — I should indeed be sorry not to see you. Alas, my means of aiding you are not what they were when you had my dearest Husband's able assistance, but you will have the Widow's Mite & her best wishes & prayers. —

George takes this for the 20th Inst & hopes to be able to call on you, but he can only be a few days in Town new & less work on his hands. —

With your remembrance

we very kindly to all the family you are with & offer them my hearty congratulations on their Leis' marriage, which I hope is ours, which gives them satisfaction.

My children beg to be remembered to you.

Believe me,

your sincere & obliged

J. H. Marriott
