

12-1835

Letter to Anne Tyndale

Unknown

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.kenyon.edu/chase\_letters

---

Recommended Citation

Unknown, "Letter to Anne Tyndale" (1835). Philander Chase Letters. 1034.
https://digital.kenyon.edu/chase\_letters/1034

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the College Archives at Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. It has been accepted for inclusion in Philander Chase Letters by an authorized administrator of Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. For more information, please contact noltj@kenyon.edu.

X
The Pious Dissenters ought to bear in mind, that they are the assailants in this unholy strife. That the Evangelical men in the Church merged the distinction between Churchmen & Dissenters in that Brotherhood in Christ believing and acknowledging them to be such, and joining cordially with them heart & hand in various religious societies established for the general good of man.

The High Church accused them of error & evil in thus uniting with their dissenting brethren; but still feeling in their own hearts the living power of the principle of true Christianity, they trusted to it as existing in the hearts of others, and believed they should not be deceived.

The recent conduct of most maps of Dissenters proves that they have been deceived, that the High Church were right & they were wrong - not in principle, but in the judgment they respectively formed of the depth and vitality of the principles of the Modern Dissenters; Nay that Lord Chancellor Eldon judging of them merely on worldly principles, judged of them accurately many years ago when he said 'Give them the power & they will join heart & hand with the enemies of religion in pulling down the Church -

A remarkable specimen

1735-6

7
Mrs Tyndale

Holton Rectory

Wheatley

Oxfordshire

