Letter to Dudley Chase

Philander Chase

The Philander Chase letters were written in the 18th and 19th century and therefore may contain language that we understand today as harmful or offensive. You may encounter paternalist descriptions of Native Americans, racial slurs, or sexism. For more information, see our policy page.

New York 27. July 1760

My dearest Brother;

July, letter of the 17th inst^t was handed me last night. I am glad that you are so well as to write so good a letter. May God bless and comfort you under your indisposition, and especially give you the consolations of his Holy Spirit in Christ Jesus our Lord.

I have rec^d. more recent letters from my dear wife than the one you had the goodness to inclose me. She never ceaseth to remember your kindness to be with her on her short visit to Burlington, and to beg her best love to you and all the dear ones in Randolph Bethel & Royal ton.

As to myself God supports me with his Holy Arm and enables me to forgive mine enemies as I ought to do —

What success I shall meet with in this City I know not. Yesterday I preached twice in two of the principal Churches in Brooklyn. Next Sunday I shall preach in St. John's in the morning, in St. Georges in the afternoon and in Jersey City in the evening for S. Barry. - During the intermediate days from today till Saturday night I shall not have one moment to spare except to think of you and dear Olive and my sweet Grand Daughters & Brother Lincoln & Sisters Cotten and Rachael continually. Oh that we might all meet in Heaven! God grant it Thru Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen!

I think of coming to you shortly after finishing my work here in New York Till then adieu.

Ever your loving Bro^r P^r Chan
