Letter to Samuel Chase

Philander Chase

The Philander Chase letters were written in the 18th and 19th century and therefore may contain language that we understand today as harmful or offensive. You may encounter paternalist descriptions of Native Americans, racial slurs, or sexism. For more information, see our policy page.

To the Rev. S. Chase:

My dear Sir,

On Monday or Tuesday next I am to set off on my tour of duty to the southern part of the Diocese.

Before I go I would be glad to know the state of my accounts, - meaning by that term all that concerns the store as well as myself,
My indebtedness to others, & the indebtedness of others to me,

The results of my cash are kept chiefly by Mr Chase my dear wife, she will furnish me.

The Mill and of flour is all important —

How many Bils have been sent away and how many on hand. —

The results of the grinding on shares or otherwise

Please confer with my Son Henry whom I wish to meet at my house with you to consult on matters in general - necessary to be known & acted on in my absence

- The hour of convening next Monday forenoon you will fix yourselves and let me know -

We meet tomorrow Saturday to examine the Students in Divinity - Please consult with Dudley at what time and place the ^o? Meeting shall be

I have risen as usual before 4 o'clock and write this by candle light - My head aches for want of sleep & by reason of care

I suppose the usual drowsiness will come on me after breakfast.
The man who I must be employed in making the pile of unanswered letters less than it is.

Ever your faithful friend & obedient Servant in the Lord.
