

Philander Chase Letters

1-12-1846

Letter to the Teachers of the Hands at Hanes Hall

Philander Chase

The Philander Chase letters were written in the 18th and 19th century and therefore may contain language that we understand today as harmful or offensive. You may encounter paternalist descriptions of Native Americans, racial slurs, or sexism. For more information, see our policy page.

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.kenyon.edu/chase_letters

Recommended Citation

Chase, Philander, "Letter to the Teachers of the Hands at Hanes Hall" (1846). Philander Chase Letters. 1251.

https://digital.kenyon.edu/chase_letters/1251

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. It has been accepted for inclusion in Philander Chase Letters by an authorized administrator of Digital Kenyon: Research, Scholarship, and Creative Exchange. For more information, please contact noltj@kenyon.edu.

Private

Learning is of nouse unless it leads us to God who made us, who sustains us and who will judge us at the last day.

The salvation of the soul must be the object aimed at: and this must be effected by a sober and affectionate behaviour in the Teacher & by modesty and docility in the learner.

The word of God or the Holy Bible as it is rightly divided and set forth in Epoms is to be read by the whole school

The following Prayer, ^{from the Prayerbook is} always to be recited by the Teacher as he commences

"Blessed God who hast caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our Learning, Grant that we may in such wise hear them read mark learn & inwardly digest them that by patience & comfort of thy holy word we may embrace & ever hold fast the blessed hope which thou hast given us in our Lord & Saviour Jesus Christ"

Directions have been given to the Rev. Dudley (has to set forth the lessons to be read from the holy Scriptures & to him I refer you for instructions on this head and for any books or tracts that maybe read or distributed in the School.

Above all pray that your own mind and heart maybe awakened more unto a sense of the deadly nature of sin; and that an increasing desire for pardon and peace through the Blood of Jesus Christ may be shed abroad in your hearts. This end this only will make you duly anxious for the salvation of others.

Commending you & your work to the blessing of God thro' Jesus Christ our Lord Jesus Your Servant in Theobon

Wm. Chase

Jan: 12 1846

Jubilee College

To the Teachers of the Bands at Ferris

Fall -

When one has read this let it be handed to another