Dear Sir

Accept my best thanks for your kind letter on Bishop Chase's acc. Mr Harrison's contribution of £5 towards James George's education will be thankfully received, as the balance at present in my hands is inadequate to meet the Bill sent in. I have now a balance of about ten pounds - In addition to this I can calculate upon ten pounds more from subscriptions & donations promised - Mr Harrison's £3 is a seasonable addition & I hope that in the course of the summer I may meet with help from other friends which will cover the deficiency.

In the mean time Mr Harrison's £5 had better remain in your hands, till I remit to you such a sum as I shall be able to raise.

I wrote to good bishop Chase the beginning of this month stating to him the lowness of my funds & expressing a fear lest I should have some difficulty in meeting the expenditure. I am encouraged however to hope from such unexpected Godsends that the cause is in better hands than mine - and that the Lord will provide.

I am dear Sir
I trust in the best of bonds Yours faithfully
Th. Holmes
