KENYON

Loses to Case --- Overwhelms Heidelberg Following Week.

On October 30 Kenyon bowed down to Case for the second defeat of the season. The score was 32 to 11.

The weather and field conditions were ideal and Kenyon was hoping for a victory before the kick-off. For some reason or other the team did not play football in the first half and this part of the game was to say the least, disastrous. Case's end runs and skin tackle plays gained yard after yard and when the half ended, the score stood Case—29, Kenyon—5. Our only score came when Bentley scooped up a fumbled punt and went 40 yards for a touchdown. This happened just before the close of the half.

This play and a vigorous raking over the coals served to put a bunch of much needed life into the team and the second half was much more satisfactory to the Kenyon adherents.

As the first half was all Case, so the second half was all Kenyon and the offense evoked by the mauve in this period was a revelation. Forward pass after forward pass was worked to great advantage; but Kenyon was forced to be content with one touchdown. Case against this tallied but 3 points on a rather lucky drop-kick, the ball hitting a Kenyon player's up-raised arm and being elevated just enough to clear the cross-bar.

First Half.

Case won the toss and took the south end of the field, letting Kenyon kick. Axtell kicked to Heller on the 10-yard line. Heller slipped and fell. Roby made 10 yards through the left side. Orr fumbled and Kenyon got the ball. Lord made a forward pass which was received by Roby. They lost 15 yards but kept the ball. Henry failed to gain. Axtell punted to Orr, who was downed in his tracks by Williams. Emerson punted 60 yards to Young.

Henry lost four yards and Axtell's punt was blocked by Prochaska and the ball bounded back of Kenyon's goal line, Henry falling on it. Axtell's attempted punt was again blocked by Hinaman. Roby made five yards, Twitchell two yards, then Twitchell made first down on Kenyon's five-yard line.

Heller made four yards. Orr fumbled and lost four yards. Twitchell was shoved over on the next play for a touchdown. Heller kicked goal. Time seven minutes. Score: Case 6, Kenyon 0.

CASE IS PENALIZED.

Axtell kicked to Heller on the five-yard line, and he returned it 20 yards. Orr's forward pass was intercepted by Henry and it was Kenyon's ball. Young's run lost two yards. Heller caught Lord's attempted forward pass and made 20 yards. Twitchell made three yards around right end. Roby made six yards. Heller failed first down—the ball going to Kenyon. Bentley made a forward pass to Axtell, gaining 20 yards.

Case was penalized 5 yards on offside play. Young lost 5. Kenyon was penalized 15 yards for holding. Lord punted 30 yards, and Twitchell lost two yards. Heller lost eight yards. Bentley breaking through. Emerson punted to Young in midfield.

Henry lost 15 yards on double forward pass, the ball hitting the ground.

Lord punted, Axtell getting the ball on Case's 40-yard line, a sensation play. Henry went through right tackle for five yards. Young lost seven yards on an attempted quarterback run. Lord punted, and Roby made a remarkable 60-yard run through almost the whole Kenyon team, being downed on Kenyon's 35-yard line.

Twitchell hit the line for four yards. Roby made it first down. He bucked for six yards and then first down again. Rosendale carried it four yards and Twitchell dodged two tackles, carrying it to within one-half yard of Kenyon's line. Kenyon held Roby, but Twitchell carried it over. Heller missed a difficult goal. Score: Case 11, Kenyon 0. Time, 18 minutes.

Axtell kicked to Twitchell, who dodged and ran back 35 yards. Time was taken out for C. Cable, Kenyon's right guard. Twitchell made 35 yards around the right end, Young downing him on Kenyon's 30-yard line.

Roby gained two yards on a forward pass, Orr to Roby. A moment later Case scored again. Heller kicked goal. Score—Case 17, Kenyon 0. Time—20 minutes.

Axtell booted to Randall, who returned it 20 yards. Twitchell tried an onside kick, but the ball was called back. Emerson punted to Kenyon's 45-yard line, Young getting the ball.

THROWN FOR A LOSS.

Randall threw Henry for a five-yard loss. Lord punted to Roby, Axtell downing him in his tracks. Emerson punted 50 yards, but the ball was again called back, and Kenyon was penalized 15 yards.

Roby made 45 yards on a cross buck, and the ball was on Kenyon's five-yard line.

Rosendale carried the ball over for another touchdown on a delayed pass. Heller kicked goal. Score: Case 23, Kenyon 0. Time, 24 minutes.

Slater went in for Twitchell.

Heller returned Axtell's punt 35 yards. Emerson punted 50 yards and Lord punted out of bounds on the 25-yard line.

On the first play, Orr circled right end for a touchdown. Heller kicked goal. Score: Case 29, Kenyon 0. Time, 26 minutes.

Rheinheimer replaced Williams at right end for Kenyon.

Case started in to play rings around Kenyon. After the brown and white had kicked and carried the ball to Kenyon's 20-yard line, Lord punted and Roby fumbled on Case's 40-yard line.

Bentley grabbed the ball and ran away from Orr and over the goal line.

On the punt out the ball hit the ground. Case 29, Kenyon 5. Time, 28½ minutes.

On a returned kickoff, a forward pass and a halfback kick Kenyon took the ball to Case's five-yard line. Emerson punted and the half was over.

Score: Case 29, Kenyon 5.

Second Half.

Fogg made no changes in his lineup, except that Roby went to quarter and Orr to right half.

Case commenced to march toward Kenyon's goal soon after the kickoff. After receiving the ball, Bentley fumbled on the first play. Case carried the ball to Kenyon's 15-yard line.

Bentley was put out for slugging and Weaver took his place.

After Kenyon had held for two downs Roby made a drop kick between the goal posts for Case. Score: Case 32, Kenyon 5.

Forsythe replaced Heller. Emerson's punt after the kickoff was good for 45 yards. Forsythe grabbed Lord's forward pass and Emerson punted again. Lord punted, and once again it was fumbled, and Axtell ran to Case's five-yard line, being downed by Roby from behind. Kenyon tried a forward pass which failed, and Emerson on the next play punted to Kenyon's 40-yard line. Kenyon gained 35 yards on a forward pass.

Roby made a sensational run of 70 yards after Lord's punt. The ball was carried back for Case holding and the ball was given

On a forward double pass Kenyon made first down only two yards from Case's line. On the second play Henry broke through center for a touchdown. Lord kicked goal. Score, Case 32, Kenyon 11.

After the kickoff Kenyon made 27 yards on a forward pass, Lord to Williams. Kenyon made no

KENYON'S

War Memorial. Dr. Stanger Urges that Work be Pushed.

Shall there be erected a concrete memorial of Old Kenyon's splendid and almost unique record made by her sons in the great Civil War? Shall other colleges of greater or lesser note erect and dedicate monuments to those sons who in the tremendous crisis offered their all to their country, and shall Kenyon, whose President, Lorin Andrews, aroused by the first shot at Sumpter, became the "first volunteer" from the great state of Ohio: whose son Edwin M. Stanton was predestined the iron Secretary of War—facile princeps—with a multitude of others, from private soldiers to major generals, not to mention those who played distinguished roles in the civil service on both sides, neglect to objectify and perpetuate the fact, in some fashion? We sincerely hope not.

At considerable trouble, and with earnest purpose, designs for a beautiful Gate-way to the campus were drawn by a son of Kenyon, and sent to the older alumni. The response to this suggestion has been so faint, that it is feared that this proposition, for one reason or another has seemed to be too ambitious, and is therefore not practical. It is thought that it would be unwise to put so much money into a mere adornment or ideal, at the moment that our Alma Mater is crying aloud for larger endowments, desperately needed for the perpetuation and enlargement of the work of the institution. This may be true. If it is a question between a memorial and the efficiency and enlargement of Kenyon, no true son of hers will hesitate on which side he should take his stand. Kenyon can live and prosper without any monument to her valorous sons, but she cannot fulfill her work and destiny without greater endowments.

But the question arises, cannot we attain both results, under a different form? This hope has inspired another proposition, which, if more modest, and less picturesque, seems to the writer quite feasible; and in some respects, perhaps, quite as appropriate and instructive as the memorial archway.

It is in brief, this. Let there be placed in Rosse Hall, with its sacred memories, closely associated with the founders, and all the generations of students, two tablets, one on the north and the other on the south walls, between the great windows, with suitable inscriptions, containing the names of all who took part in the great conflict, with their class and rank. Those who fell in battle or died might be especially noted.

I can think of no place more conspicuous or appropriate than this. Within these sacred walls have been born, or will be born, all the sons of our noble Mother; here the future generations will continue to gather in physical, social, and intellectual rivalry; this hall might be called the clearing house, or centre of Kenyon's physical and mental life.

In communicating to the Bishop of Ohio this suggestion, we have been pleased to learn that he had anticipated us somewhat in an address to Kenyon men at Richmond, and that he considers the place chosen a happy one. While his idea limited the memorial to those who died in the service, we venture to suggest, that it should be a memorial of all who enlisted on either side, whether they lived through it or not. All who entered that great conflict gave their all, if necessary; all died in act, and we think all should live in blessed memory. Any well chosen committee, in consultation with an architect can elaborate the details of such a memorial, and we venture to think that the expense of it will be so moderate that it would not be difficult for us to realize its accomplishment before all those who participated in the war shall have been mustered out.

We make this second attempt to secure a memorial with considerable hesitation, not only because of our own very humble part in the war, but on account of the little apparent interest manifested in our first attempt to bring the matter to the attention of the alumni. If the suggestions here made are not adequate, or if there are any of the friends of Kenyon who can suggest a better or more feasible plan they will find the writer always ready to forward anything that will be for the betterment and glory of Kenyon and her sons.

THE LAST S. C. I.

The cry has been heard constantly all over college that Kenyon spirit is on the wane, that traditions of which every Kenyon man is proud are rapidly dying out, that customs which give this college of ours a recognized position which other Ohio colleges may never hope to obtain, are slowly, but surely, passing away. There is no doubt in the minds of all the undergraduates that such is undoubtedly the case and yet the student body will do nothing at all to bring about a complete change in the present attitude taken in regard to the old customs and traditions.

Holding the freshmen too innocent to cause offense and the upper-classmen considering themselves too superior to be accused of complicity in the blame, the present Sophomore class is receiving all the criticism for the present state of affairs. Unjust and uncalled for criticism on the actions of the Sophomores are heard everywhere and never a word is mentioned blaming the upper-classmen in the slightest degree.

Some person who had the interest of Kenyon at heart and who hated to see traditions fade so peacefully away into memories wrote a question on a small piece of paper and placed it in the Collegian box. The question was brief yet to the point—"What has become of the ancient and honorable intitution of the Sophomore Court of Inquiry?" That man's intentions were of the best and as such they should be given all the credit due them. But now listen.

The Sophomore class responded to the appeal of the college sentiment and gave an S. C. I. Numerous upper classmen were asked, no, begged to judge this affair which had been so heartily and sincerely craved by the upper classmen and Sophomores and to every request came the same monotonous tale of over-burdening abstracts and various other lessons. Had it not been for Thurstin and Hall an under-classman would have been forced to be judge. Neither of the two above named men have been in residence on the Hill for their entire course, yet they found Kenyon spirit enough to take enough time from their regular work to help preserve the Kenyon traditions.

By actual count there were but two upper classmen present during the entire portion of the evening. And still the criticisms were heard everywhere from these upper classmen that the Sophomores were the ones who had been allowing Kenyon spirit to wane. Not one out of every five or six men in college were present at the S. C. I. that night and it was useless for a few men to try and carry the entire burden on their shoulders.

It is perfectly justifiable for a man to keep silent in regard to his stand on the subject and then remain away from an S. C. I., but there is absolutely no excuse for any Kenyon man to air thoroughly his opinions on the subject and then make himself conspicuous by his absence as numerous Kenyon men did the other night.

The Sophomore class made an entirely unsupported stand for the "ancient institution" and will continue to do so—if they are supported by those who are so persistent in expressing their desire to see the waning Kenyon traditions re-established. If you desire to see Kenyon traditions live and prosper as you so vehemently protest that you do, why don't you come out and show your desires by your actions rather than your words?

There will be another S. C. I. held in the near future to give the men around college a chance to show the stand they take on Kenyon customs and traditions. Will you be there?

A remarkable number of Freshmen have succeeded in losing their yellow hats already this year. When the Sophomores made such an admirable selection of head gear they should see to it that it is displayed as much as possible.

Executive Committee Meeting.

Oct. 27, 1909.

The meeting was called to order with Dr. Reeves in the chair. Bentley, Lybarger, Harter, Tunks, Sackett and Hardy were present. In the absence of Mr. Young, Mr. Hardy was appointed secretary pro tem.

Manager White reported as follows upon the Reserve football game:

Balance on hand$ 37.50
Budget 100.00
Guarantee 225.00

Total receipts$362.50
Total expenses 239.28
Balance on hand 123.22

It was moved, seconded and carried that Manager White be instructed to incur no unnecessary expense during the rest of the season.

Next came the election of the glee club manager and Mr. Sackett was elected to that office.

Meeting then adjourned.

Assembly Meeting.

Nov. 2, 1909. The regular November meeting of the Assembly was held in Philo hall, Nov. 2nd, with President Bland in the chair.

Dr. Reeves presented K's for the season of 1909 as follows: Baseball K's awarded to Messrs. Cunningham, Coolidge, Scott, Kite, Barber, Van Tuyle, Crippen, Simpson, Cardillo, Bentley and Kinder. Basketball K's to Messrs. Coolidge, Crippen, Henry, Sanderson, Cardillo and Bentley. Track K's to Messrs. Coolidge, G. Southworth, Mason and Henry. Tennis K's to Messrs. White, Carr and G. Southworth.

Mr. Millsbaugh was then unanimously elected as the member of the executive committee from the second constitutional division in place of Mr. Sackett, resigned.

Mr. Henry announced a Junior informal on Saturday evening, November 6th.

Manager White urged a larger attendance at home football games.

The meeting then adjourned.

GLEE AND MANDOLIN CLUBS.

Following rapidly the election of Mr. Sackett as manager of the Combined Glee and Mandolin clubs of Kenyon college, came the announcement that the annual "trip" will be taken immediately upon the return of the men from their Christmas vacations. This means that work which was to be accomplished in three months will have to be done in half that time. It means hard work and no small amount of self-sacrifice.

The "calls" have been well responded to and a wealth of material is at hand for use in both clubs. As the management places a limit on the number of men taken on the trip there will be a necessary "weeding out process" put into execution in a few days. Those men only whose work and faithfulness attending rehearsals, warrants it, will be kept.

The outlook from every standpoint, is encouraging. A greater undertaking is planned than was ever attempted before, but from present indications, the clubs will be able to "make good" and back the manager in whatever plans he makes.

FIRE!

"In Hell for those who don't repent" as once said a reformer. But what has this statement to do with Kenyon college? The other night a fire occurred which once again should be a reminder of our unpreparedness for such emergencies.

Many of our college buildings are absolutely unprepared in case of fire. There are the buildings of Hubbard hall, Hanna hall and Old Kenyon with no prevention whatever in case of fire. There is not a fire extinguisher in any one of these buildings.

If the reader could only see the small blazes which occur occasionally in the students' rooms! But did someone say that the students would interfere with fire extinguishers, if we had any? Have not the students themselves a little fear of fire in Gambier?

Have we student self government in college to enforce measures of precaution with regard to fire? Have we a faculty in college with power to protect its own property?

A Senior.

The Ohio State Sanatorium for tuberculosis near Hiawatha park, Mt. Vernon, was dedicated Oct. 27. Full accounts of the buildings and equipment can be seen in the Ohio State Journal, Oct. 28 and the Mt. Vernon Daily Republican News, Oct. 27. This model institution is well worth a visit from Gambier.

AN UNJUST ATTITUDE.

The recent criticisms of Half-back Bentley are very unjust. It will be remembered that Bentley was put out of the Case game for alleged slugging and the next day several Ohio papers criticised him very harshly. As a matter of fact both the action of the officials in putting Bentley out of the game and the newspaper comment growing out of it was very unfair.

The writer of this article was within a few feet of Bentley when he was put out of the game and can say with certainty that he did not slug and his threatening attitude was only taken in self-defense. Wherever the Kenyon team has played this year the cry of our opponents have been from the start "gent Bentley," such an attitude naturally angers the man against whom it is directed and also tends to make the officials watch him more closely than anyone else in the game. It is safe to say that had the officials watched some of the Case line-men, notably their left guard, as they watched Bentley, the former would have been ejected early in the game. Whatever may have been Bentley's actions against an old high school rival in Columbus and we do not excuse this in the least, should be no reason for the whole state to conspire against him to make him out a "dirty player." Whether or not, no one regrets his former actions more than Bentley himself and he has this year played a clean hard game throughout. The outcome merely serves to show how hard it is to live down one's reputation.

But the worst thing about the whole controversy has been the readiness with which some Kenyon men and alumni have believed these stories. During his college course Bentley has probably trained more consistently and worked harder for Kenyon's success in all branches of athletics than any man now in college. He certainly deserves more from Kenyon men than some of them have been inclined to give him.

On another page of this issue we print an article by a member of the Sophomore class relating to the S. C. I. and its present condition on the Hill. We do not agree with the writer in his statements that Kenyon spirit is on the wane or that Kenyon enthusiasm is dying. To quote an instance the football team has been better supported in the last two years than for a long time. Nor do we think this condition is entirely due to the wonderful record of the 1908 team.

As to the complaint that the Sophomore class is unsupported in its efforts to preserve traditions there is much justice in the plea. We think enough has been said on this subject however and hope in the future to avoid mention of it. Kenyon traditions are very dear to all Kenyon men and our fondest hopes are that the best of them and the good in them may be always preserved.

"K" MEN SHOULD ORGANIZE

—o—

Recently there has been some talk in college of having an organization of all the men who have earned their letters in any brand of athletics. Such organizations have been very successful in aiding athletics at other colleges and we have every reason to believe it would be just as successful at Kenyon.

It is naturally the case that men who have striven for their college on any athletic field have her success in every branch of athletics at heart. By organizing enthusiasm could be worked up in those lines of athletics which most need it and poor teams might be made into good ones. To bring the matter right home, Kenyon has had a very poor track team for several years past. This year we must do better or forfeit our standing in the "Big Six." Our past failure has been chiefly due to lack of enthusiasm. An organization of "K" men, all of whom would be men of influence in college, by systematic effort might do much toward remedying this condition of affairs. At any rate we think the experiment is worth the trial.

At present a small body of men are trying to develop track efficiency by cross country running.

To much credit cannot be given Mr. Fultz and his squad of faithfuls for their efforts to work up enthusiasm in this line. We hope that the student body will back Capt. Mason and Mr. Fultz in their endeavors to give us a good track team.

There is little glory to be gained in track at this time of the year, especially for men just starting. Other activities more in the present absorb all our attention. We hope the track team will not let these facts discourage them. While they may not show it as yet, the student body is behind them everyone. The Big Six seems a long way off but it will indeed be a goodly sight to see a Kenyon man leading the bunch to the tape next May.

SENIOR PLAY AND INFORMAL DANCE.

The 1909 Reveille is still in need of funds to clear off its printing debt. For this purpose a combination entertainment will be offered by the Senior class on the evening of Saturday, November 20th. A play will be presented at 7:45 called "Ici On Parle Francais," a rip-roaring farce and a long laugh. Visitors for the Wooster game will remain for this and for the dance afterwards for which Johnny Jackson and his trio will repeat their performance of last Saturday with their inimitable foot-tickling two-steps. The admission for the play will be, reserved seats, fifty cents, general admission forty cents, for the dance, seventy-five cents. Keep your mind on this!

A Junior Informal.

On Saturday evening, November 6, an informal dance under the auspices of the junior class was held in Rosse Hall. Nearly all the Harcourt girls were present and many of the college men. Some of the members of the faculty and faculty ladies also helped make the event a success by their presence. Music was furnished by Jackson's orchestra from Columbus.

Senior Informal.

On the evening of November 20th the Senior class will give an informal in Rosse Hall. Music will be furnished by Jackson's orchestra from Columbus. Plans are under way for a play to be presented earlier the same evening but as yet this cannot be definitely announced.

Many friends of Whiting Avery '02 will be surprised to know of Mr. Avery's recent illness. He has been confined to his bed with pneumonia in Grant Hospital, Columbus, but is now much improved.

HARCOURT.

The Ancient and Majestic Festival of Hallowe'en was celebrated in fitting mode by the students of Miss Merwin's school. A merry party of happy girls assembled early in the evening, dressed in quaint and unique costumes and wearing masks, to join in the ghostly procession. This mysterious line wound itself about the dimly lighted halls until many beautiful evolutions had been performed. Then the lights were turned up and urged by strains of sweet music, the car-free dominoes enjoyed the dance.

The two notable concerts given in Columbus recently by Mmr. Schuman Heinke and Walter Damrosch respectively, were well attended by parties from the school.

Later the masks were removed and, curiosity being dispelled, games were played and material delicacies tasted of.

During his recent visit to Gambier, the ex-president of Harvard, Dr. Chas. W. Eliot, showed cordial and sincere interest in the institution on Gambier Hill and what they stood for. A goodly share of this interest fell to Harcourt Place School. The methods and ideals which he found embodied in the life of the school, elicited his hearty approbation and during a visit with its principal he pronounced it a "genuine" school.

AT OTHER COLLEGES.

The faculty at Ohio Wesleyan have decided that the university glee club shall have no engagements away from home. The students are up in arms over the affairs but will probably be unable to do anything. If we may criticize the honorable professors we would say they are making a mistake for the glee club should be an active force in every live college. It not only advertises the school but gives many voices cultivation which they otherwise would not have had. When a glee club has no out of college engagements it is very hard to get the men interested.

Dr. James Mark Baldwin, a Princeton man, has been chosen head of a national university to be founded in Mexico City under government auspices. He will direct the educational system of Mexico.

Eight men, representing five Ohio colleges, took the Rhodes scholarship examination in Hunter law room, Page hall, on Oct. 19 and 20. Kenyon was especially well represented, sending three men to try for the coveted honor of a scholarship to Oxford college. The men who took the examination were: W. J. Bland, Kansas City, Mo., Kenyon college; F. W. Carr, Youngstown, O., Kenyon; W. M. Haushalter, Akron, O., Hiram college; C. M. Lee, Oxford, O., Miami university; M. H. Wiseman, Springfield, O., Kenyon; W. G. O'Brien, Marietta, O., Marietta college, and A. M. Perry, Marietta, O., Marietta college. C. S. Bucher of Oberlin took the examination, but he was a candidate from Missouri, and W. B. Shepard, of Shelby, a student at Harvard but a candidate from Ohio, also took the examination in Massachusetts.

The examination covered the translation, composition and grammar of Latin and Greek, Arithmetic, and Algebra or Geometry, and lasted two full days. The papers were sent to Oxford, England, for grading, as were all the papers of every other Rhodes examination held in all the States and British Provinces. The questions were uniform everywhere and the examinations were held simultaneously. The selection of the scholarship will be announced in about six weeks.

The first graduate fellowship in journalism ever afforded in any college or university in the United States, has just been established at the University of Wisconsin in connection with the course in journalism in that institution. The fellowship, which amounts to $400 a year, has been given by an alumnus of Wisconsin through the Alumni Association.

No text books are to be used in the economics course at Dartmouth this year. Instead the class has been asked to subscribe to the New York Post, and to read the paper thoroughly in order to discuss economic questions in class.

Denison has an inter-class committee on college customs. They are trying to establish arbitrarily college customs and spirit. A great number of them have been laid down, not only for Freshmen, but also for the other classes.

Ohio State has almost decided to give up baseball. Last year's team was not a success and the student body failed to take any interest in the sport. There will be several leagues formed in the university and recreative baseball will take the place of the regular varsity schedule.

Several colleges are about to give dramatic productions. Undergraduates at Stanford University will present the opera, "The Chimes of Normandy" some time in November. George Ade, the composer of the "Fair Co-ed," is writing a play for the Harlequin club of Purdue. The Princeton Triangle Club will give a play written by a Sophomore. It is a comic opera and is entitled, "His Honor, the Sultan." "The Shoemakers' Holiday" is the title of a play to be presented by the English club of the University of California.

The University of Pennsylvania has a department called the Students' Bureau of Self Help. This Bureau aims to get all kinds of work for students either in college or about the city.

The Mask and Wig Club of the University of Pennsylvania offers a cash prize of $200 for a libretto suitable for their twenty-second production at Easter, 1910.

Ground has already been broken for a men's building at Oberlin College to serve as a "Union" and association building. The ground floor will be devoted to general social uses and will include a large auditorium. The second floor will be given to association, committee and Bible study rooms and offices for the various organizations of the college men. On the third floor will be dormitory accommodations for about sixty. The basement will contain bowling alleys, grill room and dining room. The cost of the building will be $125,000.

President Taft is to be awarded one of the little gold footballs which Yale men who play in championship games get at the end of the season if they win the gridiron championship. The President will be treated in this respect as a member of the Yale eleven, but he will be allowed to break training from time to time. It is probable that he will attend either the Yale-Princeton or the Yale-Harvard game.

The game ended with the ball on Case's 25-yard line with the ball in Case's possession. Final score, Case 32, Kenyon 11.

Notes of the Game.

The second half was gratifying to Kenyon supporters. After the general poor showing of the first period, Kenyon's play in the other half was indeed a decided come-back.

Case has a wonderful team and easily looks like "the one best bet" for State honors.

Twitchell and Roby, Case halves are as classy a pair as we have encountered this season. Randall at end also displays great form for the Brown and White.

Bill Bland again played a snappy game at center and had the best of the argument with "Tiny Abbott", the 250 pound lineman.

Axtell's work at end was uniformly good. His following of the ball showed good headwork.

That the score shows Case up to somewhat better advantage than they should be shown is brought out by the accompanying tabulation:

THE KENYON HEIDELBERG GAME.

On Benson field, November sixth, Kenyon defeated Heidelberg in a runaway match 59 points to 8.

The visitors scored in the first half on a drop kick from the toe of Captain Adams and in the second half, put over a touchdown after this same player had made a long run and planted the ball on Kenyon's two-yard line.

Kenyon scored mainly as a result of long runs and some well executed forward passes.

The game was never in doubt and was more or less of a farce from the start. The men were shifted all over the team, many playing in positions they had never attempted before.

In the second half Kenyon's second string were put in and failed to equal the regulars' total score by one point. The subs rolled up 29 points as their share.

Henry and Bentley tore off several long runs in the first half as did Weaver and Williams in the second. Mason showed good form at full-back when he was put in that position.

Of the new men in the line, Southworth and Jones showed up particularly well.

Bland and Young were the only men to play the contest through and J. Cable did not enter the game at all.

The game in detail:—

the ball 10 yards. A forward pass to Williams brought 30 yards, and Lord went around the end on a fake buck for 20 yards more. Henry circled end for a touchdown on the fourth down. Lord kicked goal. Score: Kenyon 6, Heidelberg 0.

Heidelberg kicked to Kenyon's eighteen-yard line where Young caught the ball and ran it back five yards. Hayward ran half the remaining distance to the goal and Bentley carried the ball over on the next play. Lord kicked goal. Score: Kenyon 12, Heidelberg 0.

Adams kicked off to Mason, who fumbled, but recovered in time to run eight yards. Kenyon tried an on-side kick unsuccessfully and Adams fell on the ball. In the next play Snyder gained five yards on an end-over play. Heidelberg tried a drop kick on Kenyon's 25-yard line but the ball went wide of the goal posts and Axtell dropped on the ball and carried it to Kenyon's 10-yard line. Heidelberg held Kenyon for two downs and Axtell punted to the middle of the field where Mason received the ball on Adam's fumble. A series of fumbles followed. By a long pass, Axtell took the ball far into the opponent's territory, and Bentley went around the end for another touchdown, shaking off two Heidelberg tackles on the way. Score: Kenyon 18, Heidelberg 0.

Adams kicked to Young who ran to Kenyon's 20-yard line. Lord bucked through tackle for five yards. A forward pass failed and Kenyon was penalized for holding. Axtell kicked to Heidelberg's 40-yard line where Williams tackled Adams before he could start. Heidelberg took a decided brace and Beck succeeded in making two first downs. However Kenyon held again and having taken the ball away from Heidelberg on downs started it back toward the opponent's goal by a long quarterback run around left end where Young was finally tackled. Henry bucked five through tackle, Bentley gained five around end and Hayward made 10 on a tandem buck. Here Kenyon was again penalized for illegal use of the hands on offense. However in the next play the distance was more than recovered by a long pass to Mason who, when tackled rolled over and over for three yards towards Heidelberg's goal. Once more Henry crossed the goal for a touchdown and the score stood, Kenyon 24, Heidelberg 0.

On the next kick-off Henry ran the ball back 20 yards. Here two forward passes in succession were worked successfully, one to Axtell and the other to Hayward, who was tackled by Snyder on Heidelberg's 30-yard line. Again Kenyon was penalized for holding and an on-side kick failed, giving Heidelberg the ball. Hirney and Beck bucked eight yards in two downs and Adams kicked out of bounds. Heidelberg recovered the ball. In the next play Heidelberg carried the ball to Kenyon's 30-yard line. Heidelberg tried in vain to open up holes in Kenyon's line and Adams stepped back for a try at goal. This time he succeeded and sent what appeared to be a spiral drop kick sailing between the goal posts. Score: Kenyon 24, Heidelberg 3.

It was now Kenyon's turn to kick off. In the next plays Heidelberg was forced to kick, unable to gain ground against Kenyon's line. Henry started the ball back by a long end run and after a series of bucks through the line by Lord and Bentley he brought the ball to Heidelberg's 2-yard line by another long end run. Bentley then proceeded to add 5 more points to the score. Lord kicked goal. Score: Kenyon 30, Heidelberg 3.

Heidelberg's poor open field tackling seemed largely responsible for the large score in the first half.

Time was called almost immediately after the next kickoff. Score: Kenyon 30, Heidelberg 3.

Second Half.

Kenyon played the second half with nearly all her subs. Williams kicked to Harvey. Heidelberg lost the ball on an attempted forward pass. Hayward made 30 yards on a long pass and Young took the ball around end for a touchdown. Young kicked goal. Score: Kenyon 36, Heidelberg 3.

Heidelberg kicked to Kenyon. Mason, who replaced Lord at fullback, ran first 10 yards and then 30 around end. Young dodged through the Heidelberg players to their 30-yard line. Mason bucked 10 yards, Young made five more and Mason crossed the goal line for another touchdown. Score: Kenyon 42, Heidelberg 3.

Heidelberg kicked off to Kenyon. A forward pass to Weaver netted 15 yards. Kenyon was penalized again for holding. Another on-side kick failed but Heidelberg lost the ball immediately on a poor forward pass. Hayward was tackled hard in the next play and laid out for a minute but stuck to the game. Heyman got the ball on a fumble and once more the Heidelberg backs made desperate attempts to break thru the Kenyon line but without effect. On the next down, Weaver with good interference, went around the end and fifty yards down the field for a touchdown. Young missed goal. Score: Kenyon 47, Heidelberg 3.

C. Cable ran the ball back 10 yards on the next kick-off and Mason bucked the line for five more. Weaver and Williams took the ball far into Heidelberg's territory on long bucks and end runs, and once more Young scored on Heidelberg. Score: 53-3.

On the next kick-off C. Cable ran back 15 yards but Young fumbled on the next play and the ball went to Heidelberg. Southworth broke through the line and regained possession of the ball. In the next play Mason made a long sensational run through the center of the line, 70 yards for Kenyon's last score. Young kicked goal. Score 59-3.

Kenyon now began to play loosely and Heidelberg, taking advantage of a fumble, put the ball on Kenyon's 2-yard line and then

HELL IS PAVED

With Good Intentions—Will You
Be A Paving Block Or A Real Devil?

If you understand the application of the above after hearing the announcement that the Senior class will carry through the greatest entertainment combination in the history of the college on the evening of November 20th, it should strike you forcibly that you should get into the pot. It will boil over.

On the aforementioned date the historic talent of the class of 1910 will produce the roaring farce (we leave it to you who does the roaring) called "Tei On Parle Francais." You pay a penny a minute for thirty five minutes of continuous laugh, and then, still riding on the wave of exhilaration thus caused, you glide gracefully into one of Johnny Jackson's inimitable foot-ticklers, or payment of sixty-five more coppers. Many visitors will be on the Hill to see us drub Wooster and they will all be there.

Don't be backward about coming forward; you can't go too far!

The Chess club will begin holding regular meetings right after Thanksgiving. Students who are interested might bring back their chess boards and men from home.

A tournament has been arranged between Princeton and Pennsylvania to be played by wireless.

Census Bureau Wants College Men

Census Director E. Dana Durand announces November 3 next as the date for making a practical test of the qualifications of applicants for appointment as special agents for the collection of the Thirteenth Census statistics of manufactures and mines and quarries. Blank applications may be obtained now by writing the Bureau of the Census. No applications which are received after the close of the business, October 25, will be considered.

In a circular of instructions relative to the subject the director states that about January 1, 1910, the bureau will employ from 1,600 to 1,800 special agents. As far as possible it is desired to obtain for this work persons who have college or university courses in statistics or economics, and persons who have had service in the accounting department of some manufacturing or other business establishment.

When an application is complete in every particular it should be mailed to the Director of the Census at Washington, D. C. Care should be taken to affix sufficient postage to the envelope containing the application.

If the applicant's statements as to business training and experience and education are satisfactory, and the application is complete in every respect, a card will be mailed to the applicant advising him when and where to appear to complete the prescribed practical test in filling out a schedule such as is required in the actual work of a special agent.

Applicants must be careful to state in their applications the place selected for taking the practical test. A list of the places where this test may be taken is given below. The applicants must be citizens of the United States; between the ages of 20 and 60 years; in good health and physically able to perform the required duty; and of good character and habits. These facts must be vouched for by at least two persons who are personally acquainted with the applicant.

A Study.

It is interesting to notice a good student and to inquire into his mode of studying, to see what influence in his life differentiate him from the student of inferior standing. Probably no one thing has more to do with his success than the room in which his work is prepared.

He returns from his lectures, tired out, but the appearance of a neat and cosy study immediately refreshes him. The cushions on the large, wide window-seat are a reminder of home preparatory school and fraternity, and they breathe forth an invitation to rest among them. Resting upon them, the mind is relieved as it lives over that part of the life of which they are a reminder.

The walks are covered with choice pictures, pennants and views. One side is covered with photographs of the family and friends, another with the favorite actors and actresses, and a few scenes from the last successful plays, while the third side is given over to the winning teams of the college and preparatory school. Just above the writing table is found the photograph of the young lady, who at that particular time, is claiming a large amount of attention.

The floor is covered with rugs of different colors and sizes. A typewriter has an important place in the student's study, and is to be seen ready for use.

But the most important piece of furniture in the study is the chair, in which most of the work is done. This is placed midway between the book-case and the study-table so that it is possible to reach any book in the book case or anything on the table, without getting up. It is a deep-seated chair, upholstered in leather, with a wide arm on one side which serves as a writing-desk, and a basket arrangement on the other side. In this basket may be found pencils, paper, pipes, matches, tobacco, and in fact, almost everything which the student will want. The book-case is well supplied with the works of choice authors and with text books, some of which have been used and put aside, but which still retain a valuable place in the study, and are often used for reference. The table, which occupies a place in the center of the room, is covered with a little bit of everything and in the confusion it often looks as if it were impossible to distinguish one thing from another.

The student, then, returns to such a room, not elaborated in its furnishings, but comfortable, and finds it pleasant.

During the night of Friday, Oct. 29th., the grain elevator near the station, belonging to Thompson Brothers, was destroyed by fire. The fire originated from a hot box on a freight car on the siding and quickly spread to the building. The college fire department was called out and did efficient work in saving the freight station and other adjoining buildings. The loss on building and contents, including over 3,000 bushels of wheat, is about $12,000.00, on which there was no insurance. The Collegian wishes to express its sympathy to Mr. Thompson and hopes he will have no trouble in obtaining reimbursement for his damages from the railroad company.
