Week Attracts Many Visitors---Hop and Play a Distinct Success.

The Sophomore Hop was given by the Class of 1912 in Rosse Hall on the evening of May 27. No time of year is more beautiful to give a series of gayeties in Gambier, and the Annual Hop of the Sophomore class is almost the best time of the year to have visitors come to Gambier. For this reason, nearly as many out of town guests are present for the usual dance and play as are here for Prom, and every Sophomore class endeavors to out do the previous one in providing a good time for its visitors.

The Hop on Friday evening began the gayeties of the week end. Instead of the usual interscholastic track meet of Ohio preparatory schools for the possession of the Wertheimes Trophy Cup, an interclass meet of the undergraduates was held in its place. Although there was not the novelty of seeing many new faces of the younger athletes on Benson Field, the event entered into by the four classes of college proved as entertaining and as interesting to watch as an interscholastic meet.

The vaudeville show on Saturday evening, followed by an informal dance, brought to a close the two days entertainment. Everyone expressed themselves as having enjoyed a thorough good time, and many claimed the Hop of 1910 a worthy rival to the mid-winter Junior Prom.

The Hop

When the guests assembled on Friday evening for the Hop, they found that the Class of 1912 had prepared a surprise for their invited visitors and friends. Few persons expected such taste in decoration and care in detail as that which awaited them at Rosse Hall when the dance began.

The decorating scheme was accomplished by banking the walls of the hall with young maple trees. Around the sides and overhead

SECOND VICTORY

Over Denison---Kenyon also Places in Big 6---Freshmen Win Class Meet.

Kenyon took a close and exciting game from Denison at Granville on June 4th, and thus ran the number of victories against this team up to two for the season. The score was 5 to 4.

The day was cold, and wet, and good base ball was difficult but nevertheless Kenyon put up a good fielding game and was on the job every minute. It looked like Denison's game all the way but Kenyon showed lots of ginger, kept on fighting each inning and finally pulled the game out in the eighth when two runs were slammed across the plate. The team played heady ball. Good baserunning, thoughtful defensive play and an ability to pull together were in evidence throughout the contest.

A base on balls, a hit, an infield out and an error gave Kenyon a one-run start in the first. In the third the Baptists came right back with three. Three of the first hits they garnered off Cardillo came in this round. These together with a walk and an error, gave them their runs. Each scored one in the third and Kenyon put one across in the sixth. The score stood at this 4-3 mark until the eighth and there the rope was cut. Here's the story—Bently walked. Young flew to right. Enter Axtell of the team of artists known as "Axtell & Kinder, The Game-Busting Kids." Bently steals his way to the middle station and is promptly driven home by a beautiful two-base drive to deep center by Axtell. The latter lingers on second while Lord flies out to right. Enter Kinder, leading juvenile of the aforesaid vaudeville team. He poles one out of the reach of all the gardeners to deep left center and wins the game. Cardillo flew out to first but we had enough. Those two long ones were beauties, both of them, and on a ball field would have been rolling yet. As it was they went for doubles on the Granville cow lot.

Denison got a man as far as second in the eighth but Cardillo whiffed the last man. In the ninth they went out in one-two-three order, number one being put down by a pretty running catch back of second by Williams.

Cardillo pitched a steady game and with the team backing him up in tight places and scoring the necessary runs, he worked in fine style.

The score:

Kenyon sent but two men to the Ohio Conference Meet at Columbus on May 26th, and these came away with two points more than was scored by several teams which had 10 and 15 men entered.

Captain Mason got the two points by landing third in the broad jump. (Incidentally the winner of this event had to break a record to get away with it.) Mason put a lot of steam into his jump and tore off a pretty leap of 21 feet 5 inches. This is the best Mason ever did and he is to be congratulated on his good work.

Kenyon's other entry, Weaver in the 220 yard dash, had the misfortune of landing in the same trial heat with McCoy of Miami who won the final. McCoy beat him 2 yards in 23 1-5, the fastest heat among the preliminaries. Weaver was clocked at 23 2-5. Had he had the luck to land in some other trial heat he might have shown in the final. As it was, he ran a pretty race and was by no means out-classed.

The Freshmen had a walk-over in the inter-class meet on May 28. They scored 78 points as against the sophomore's 40, Junior's 6 and senior's 1. Nineteen-ten entered but one event and took third in it. Marty and Krieg, both first year men, lead as individual point winners with 18 apiece. Axtell, 1912, was next with 16 and Sparks, 1913, next with 12.

The condition of the track made good time impossible and nothing wonderful development in the field events.

Harcourt Dance

One of the delightful social functions preceeding Sophomore week was the May dance given by Harcourt Place School on Monday evening, May 23d. The ball-room as well as the reception room was very tastefully decorated with palms and flowers.

Two musicians from Jackson's orchestra of Columbus furnished splendid music and each dance was so persistently encored that it was an early hour before all of the dances upon the program were completed. Punch and ices were served during the evening.

The University of Michigan is to have a branch in Arabia. The plan will start with the equipment of a hospital at Busrah, a town located on the banks of the Euphrates river.

were suspended many electric lights and over the main doorway a blazing emblem of the class numerals "1912" attracted attention. No criticism could be made of the catering, and except for the few who unfortunately had their dinner dances fall at the time of the "Courthouse in the Sky" and "The Prince of Tonight Waltzes," no one regreted the time spent on the balcony overlooking the dancers.

Sammy Stewart of Columbus who has become so popular at all Kenyon and Harcourt dances with his lively playing, together with four other musicians, known as Wright's Orchestra, furnished the music, and perhaps no program of twenty-eight dances has been more thoroughly enjoyed. The dancing lasted until three thirty. Only regrets were to be heard when the last music ended and only congratulations were extended to the Sophomores who managed the Hop of 1910.

The following visitors were on the Hill for the Hop:

The Misses Evelyn Williams, Columbus, Ohio, Dorothy Siddell, Ravenna, Ohio, Dorothy Sutphen, Cleveland, Ohio, Harriet Gowen, Cleveland, Ohio, Harriet Lawrence, Cleveland, Ohio, Evelyn Leader, Findlay, Ohio, Gretchen Kinder, Mrs. W. H. Kinder, Findlay, Ohio, Marion Cook, Cleveland, Ohio, Misses Lucile and Virginia Watson and Mrs. Watson, Flint, Michigan, Miss Valet, New York City, Helen McNabb, Mt. The Play

The second event staged by the Sophomore class was the vaudeville show, given on May 28, at Rosse Hall. All of the acts were enthusiastically greeted, although none of them showed a great amount of preparation. If these stunts are to be given in the future there should be more care taken in their production.

Hadley Rood, whistling soloist on last year's glee club, unexpectedly appeared in the first act and rendered a few of his snappy whistling solos. Mr. Rood scored a distinct hit with his work. Fred

Clark, as usual proved himself an excellent entertainer and those who have not had the privilege of hearing him sing a coon song have certainly missed a treat.

Mr. Cardillo deserves a great deal of credit for the work he put into the show and it is largely due to his efforts that it was a success.

The program was as follows:

BEXLEY NEWS

This year's Senior class at Bexley will graduate six. Mr. Ernst will go to Defiance, O., Mr. Moffat will become assistant curate to the Rev. Dr. Watson at Akron. Mr. Kinkaid will remain at Bexley next year to complete some collegiate work. Messrs. Soares, Riblet and Sturges are the other members of the class.

The National Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet at Nashville, Tenn., in September.

Canon Watson attended the recent Diocesan Convention of Southern Ohio at Piqua. The amendment concerning the Board of Trustees of Kenyon college was overwhelmingly defeated.

Canon Watson will preach the ordination sermon for the Seniors of Bexley Hall this year.

The class of '07, Bexley are planning a reunion in Gambier this June.

Arch deacon Dodshon of Southern Ohio has resigned. His resignation takes effect September 1st. It is expected that he will return to England after this date.

It is expected from present indications that the Summer School for Clergy at Gambier, June 13-17, will be well attended.

The lion was adopted recently as the official mascot of Columbia by the student board. The king of beasts now takes rank with the Princeton tiger, the Yale bulldog, and the wolverine of Michigan, the latter all members of long standing in the college jungle. Some of the Columbia students preferred the eagle or the Harlem goat as the college mascot, but they didn't get their way.

The Black Friars of Chicago are to present a play in which the special scenery will represent the University of Chicago campus as it will appear twenty years hence.

Out of the annual award of University of Chicago fellowships, Ohio colleges received the following number: Adelbert, 1; Oberlin, 4; Ohio State, 1; Ohio Wesleyan, 3; and Western Reserve, 1.

The Purdue Exponent apologized in a recent issue for having printed editorials from the Daily Nebraskan and Daily Cardinal without credit.

Investigation of the work of graduates of the University of Illinois, shows that eighty-four per cent of them are doing that for which they were trained.

THE COLLEGIAN

It is customary for the incoming editor to make some mention of the future policies and make-up of the Collegian and we take this opportunity for stating the work we expect to do next year. The readers of the Collegian this year have approved of the new style of the paper and for this reason the paper next year will be issued in the same form.

Another reason for keeping the paper in the form of a newspaper, rather than in the magazine form, is found in the financial situation. This year has been the first financial success in many years.

In the past Kenyon men have not taken the interest in the make-up of the paper that they should for they have depended entirely on the board to furnish the articles. This should not be, for the reason that the Collegian should express the ideas of the whole college, not of a few men on the board. Next year we will have a column in which the men can comment on the way things are being carried on. The idea is just to have the men express their views and in this way better many things which need improvement.

A column will be instituted next year in which current events will be reviewed. The board feels that many men in college do not have the time or inclination to keep in touch with the outside world and this column will try to sum up briefly the events from one issue to the next.

The Collegian Board as it now stands will be materially weakened by the graduation of five of its oldest members. This is a splendid chance for the undergraduates to show spirit and at the same time get some excellent training.

What the present editor will aim to do is to make the Collegian a Kenyon paper in every sense of the word. To do this the hearty co-operation of every man in college is necessary and this is what we request in this the last current issue of the paper.

THE PAST YEAR

At the last meeting of the Collegian Board Mr. R. A. Weaver was elected to the office of Editor-in-Chief for the coming year. Following the custom heretofore pursued, the editor elect has charge of the final issue of the paper.

This year has witnessed a complete change in policy, in the form of the publication and in many other ways incidental to such change, the Collegian has aimed to be a newspaper. With the exception of the editorial column the entire paper has been devoted to the publishing of college news. We believe that the Reveille formed an outlet for any literary activity which may exist in college.

The Collegian appeared at the first of the present college year in a new dress. That this has proved becoming is, we believe, the unanimous verdict. Financially the business manager is able to report a reduction in the large indebtedness which up to two years ago was constantly increasing. Under the present system, this debt should be paid off by the end of two years at the most, and after that the paper should and will be a money maker.

Taking everything into consideration the Board feels that it may congratulate itself on the Collegian of 1909 and 1910. We have striven for and in a large way we believe we have attained, during this past year, a conservative, dignified publication which has been and we trust will always be a representative Kenyon publication.

When June and talk of Commencement Week come, coincident with them comes an attempt to dip into the mysteries of next year. Herein clairvoyance is not necessary to prediction, what next year holds for Kenyon is what Kenyon men put into it. What the Collegian expects to do in this last issue is to set men to hoping, perhaps, but much more, to thinking and doing. Hope may be the breath which keeps the fires of life aglow, but when the fires are in full blast, what we need to worry about is not the breath, but the fires themselves. A scattered flame gives little heat.

To be successful in all the activities we undertake we must have a larger college. This means work, not bodiless hopes and dreams, but real personal labor and self-sacrifice. No one loves Kenyon or is truly grateful for her great gifts to him, who will not work for her. Dr. Walton ought to make some of us ashamed of what we have not done. He is not an alumnus of Kenyon, yet he is going to go out and work for her this summer while many of us are picnicing in the woods.

Since our members are few we must make philosophical provisions for the few. In college an axiom of life is truly applicable, "There is no success without concentration." This we seem to have forgotten. There is a physical and a psychological reason for our success in football and our continued failure in all the athletic activities which follow it. Other colleges many times larger than ours have discovered them before this. They have seen not only the difficulty but the impossibility of one man playing foot-ball, basket-ball, base-ball, tennis and doing track-work all in one year. Physically he can't stand it; but more than that, his mind refuses to allow him to do it. The most a man is allowed to base-ball or now, and he is an ex-do at Yale is to play foot-ball and base-ball or row, and it is an exceptional athlete who is permitted even two branches of athletics. In Kenyon foot-ball takes almost every athlete in college. Men train faithfully during the fall, and foot-ball is a great success. When the winter team arises, the same men play basket-ball, and then the college execrates them because they smoke and refuse to go to bed at nine-thirty. Base-ball brings out the some crowd of men. Then complaints begin that the men don't come regularly to practice. The track captain failed to organize a squad, let a lone a team. The reason for all these things is that the athletes of the college have gone stale. Each succeeding game absorbs a certain amount of physical and mental interest and staleness clings closer and closer like a leech sucking out the life blood. Let us concentrate on foot-ball and base-ball. With the exception of a few who are especially interested in basket-ball and who should be willing to sacrifice them for the good of the college, every one would be glad to see it go. Two real successes are a greater credit to the college than four attempts.

A great aid to the college unity and efficient internal administration would be a bit of foresight on the part of the Juniors and upper-class men. Look forward to your Senior year. The responsibility, the heads of important departments, the entire direction of college affairs will be and ought to be upon Senior shoulders. You cannot take these duties and perform them with all your interest and energy when you are already loaded down with extra hours needed for graduation. Work for freedom your Senior year; you will need every minute of it.

The Juniors will probably attend the commencement exercises this year in order to learn what they are expected to do next year. The Seniors will attend in a body, with Mother and Father and the Faculty as spectators of their cordial "Thank Yous." But the rest of the college sleeps. Is this most ridiculous of parodies to occur again this year? If commencement week means only the play and the concert and the dance, why not have the diplomas sent by mail and the hoods with the Latin formula of presentation pinned to them, sold at three dollars and a half at Jackson's drug store? But if it means the separation of seventeen men from their Alma Mater and the hood and the diploma are symbols of their work, then should not the celebration be in their honor and ought not respect be shown, if not for the men themselves, for their efforts in behalf of the college and their collegemates by the attendance of a few of the friends they have made in the four years of their college course?

The class of 1910 says good-bye to the Juniors and the Sophomores and the Freshmen. We have farewells to say to the Faculty who are better friends than ever before. We leave with smiles and not tears because Kenyon will be here for us whenever we can come back to her, and we are beginning a larger life where term-bills are mere rent and there is no credit at Harry's and no checks from home.

This is the last issue of the Collegian for the college year. It is a time of reminiscence and anticipation, rather than a time when the present is all important.

Busy as we are with preparation for Senior week, there is a tendency to rest on our oars and mingle with thoughts of the past year, perhaps for the future, and particularly the next year at Kenyon.

It is to be a glorious year for Kenyon all along the line next year. Of this we feel confident. The under classes this year have shown that they have not a whit less Kenyon spirit than the classes above them, and we are sure that we can safely entrust the care of the class of 1914 to them. But there must first be gathered from all over the country this class of 1914, and the question ought to come home to every man: How are we to have a large freshman class? Every man must realize fully what a highly important thing this is at Kenyon. Every time there is a small entrey class here there is a corresponding slump the following year in athletics for here every man counts as he does at few other colleges. With large freshman classes Kenyon will continue to hold her own with her sister colleges of Ohio.

This summer, circumstances make it imperative that every Kenyon man get out and boost, if the above result is to be accomplished. More than ever will individual work count in this direction. Next year we want seventy five freshmen to fill the ranks and uphold the prestige of our Alma Mater. It is a duty you should gladly take up. Go at it seriously. Boost Kenyon, and help advance her interests in the best and most material way, by increasing the roll of her loyal sons.

FOOTBALL

Outlook for the Coming Fall Very Bright -- A Prospectus.

The fine weather of the last few weeks has brought out the football enthusiasts in great shape and the campus in front of Old Kenyon has lately been the scene of many a punting duel. This spirit evinced for football is just another sign of the interest taken in next year's team by all of the men. Ask any of this year's collection of Kenyon men what team is going to lead the state next year and without a dissenting voice you will hear Kenyon. Older men are wondering why this great interest is being shown and the only answer that can be given is that we have got the craze and from now until next September football will be talked continuously and from next September until November football will be played as it hasn't been played at Kenyon for years.

Every coach that has ever directed Kenyon teams has prayed for more material. Many of these coaches have done wonders with the material on hand, but although off times turning out good varsity teams, they have never had an adequate number of "subs." Benis Pierce, the best coach in the middle West, will have so many men trying for every position next year that it will take a few days to get used to the new order of affairs.

The management has been very careful in arranging a schedule and as it now stands, it is a splendidly balanced list. The Cleveland games do not come in consecutive weeks this year and this will give Coach Pierce time in which to work up new plays and get his men in shape for the next battle. Instead of a hard game before the State game the 1910 schedule calls for a Varsity-Freshman game.

This game will give the Freshmen a chance to show what they can do and in this game the Freshmen, who earn numerals, will be chosen.

But to come back to the theme of our 1910 team we find that for the first time in many years we are going to have a heavy line. Lawrence and Snyder both showed last year that they will develop into steady men and they should be able to hold down the center position.

At guard we have Capt. Cable and a large number from last year's Freshman team. Mason, if given a chance in the middle of the line, would prove a tower of strength.

J. Cable, last year's veteran tackle and Frank Marty should prove the best pair of tackles in the state next year. Marty is expected to be one of the All-State tackles. His work on the Freshman team last year stamped him as one of the "phenoms" of the season. "Buck" Weaver should keep all of the linemen working to hold their positions.

Both Reinheimer and Axtell will be on hand to cover the flanks next year, but this does not prove that they will be the ends because men like Aves, Skyles and Williams will be hot on their trail at all stages.

The backfield will be built around Pontius and Crippen. Pontious, an old D. U. S. star, should be a wonder in our backfield. He weighs two hundred pounds when in condition and has had a great deal of experience. Nothing need to be said of Crippen, because he will be remembered as of the half-backs on our championship eleven of 1908. Last fall he was at Case and they were counting on him for next year. However, Case's loss is our gain.

There will be a great fight for the other two positions in the backfield and the man, who is a regular at Thanksgiving, will have to play a consistent game throughout the season. Young, Henry and Weaver will be on hand from last year's team and it is very probable that Harry Dunn will be back in harness again next year. Besides these veterans there are a number of cracker-jack men from the Freshmen team, Skyles, Allen, Wickham and Underhill make a bunch that will cause all the backfield boys a great deal of worry.

Kenyon men do not need to worry about next year's team, but they want to keep on the job and get a bunch of huskies for the Freshman team next year. In looking over the prospects we can't see anything but a long string of victories for next year.

Reunion Of The Class of Eighty

There will be a grand class reunion at Kenyon this Commencement Week. The class of 1880, a class that has not lost a single member by death since its graduation, will return in full force to visit the old Hill of so many happy recollections.

The reunion proper will be on June 21st. From seven until eight o'clock in the evening the class will hold a reception in the Kenyon House. The patronesses consist of ladies of Gambier, who were friends of the members of the class at the time of their graduation. They are:

Mrs. John Trimble, Miss Mary Chase, Mrs. Theodore Sterling, Mrs. E. C. Benson, Miss Mary Trimble, Miss Bessie Blake, Miss Emma Chase. All acquaintances and friends of the class, and especially the students, are cordially invited to this reception.

From eight o'clock until some uncertain hour after midnight, the class will hold its banquet in the dining room of the Kenyon House, and at its close the members will march down the Path to Old Kenyon to the accompaniment of the old familiar college songs.

The class of eighty consisted of eleven members, all of whom mentioned are still alive. Their occupations are as follows: Three are clergymen, four are physicians, two are lawyers, and two are business men. Every man was present at the two previous anniversaries of the class, in 1900 and 1905, and a full attendance is expected this year. A souvenir of the occasion is being prepared which will contain the pictures of the class of '76, in '79, in '80, in 1900, in 1905, and in 1910.

Three members of the faculty of 1880 still serve, Dr. Theodore Sterling, Gambier, Ohio, the Rev. Geo. A. Strong, Cambridge, Mass., and Prof. W. T. Colville, Carbondale, Penn. Of these, only Dr. Sterling is expected to be present.

No one can deny that the members of the class of '80, living, as they do, many hundred miles apart, in overcoming all the obstacles, which naturally lie in the way of a meeting such as this, deserve well of their Alma Mater.

CLASS BANQUET

The Juniors

The annual banquet of the Junior class was served at Stoyles Restaurant on May the twenty-first. In point of spirit the banquet excelled any one ever held by the class of '11. The men did some exceedingly fine singing, while the list of toasts was splendid.

The toast list was:

Toastmaster—Mr. Millsbaugh
The Class—L. H. Russell
Harcourt—B. H. Reinheimer
Our Endeavors—W. H. Wood
Kenyon Spirit—C. H. Marvin
Memories of the Gravel Pit—C. M. Cable

The Sophomores

The Sophomores held their feast in the spacious and luxurious parlors immediately above Bill Hunter's combination barber-shop and pool room. To say that the banquet was a success would be to put it mildly and there was nothing mild about this party.

"Fuzzy" Downe acted as a starter and the heats were all interesting.

The Programme:

Toastmaster—Mr. Downe
The class—Mr. Clements
How we regard Kenyon—Mr. Gaines
1912 as Upper Classmen—Mr. McCafferty
The Spirit of Our Men—Mr. Porter
The Best and the Rest—Mr. Boylan

The Freshmen

"Bill" Hunter's banquet hall was also the scene of the Freshmen feed and if the noise was any criterion of the enjoyment of the occasion, the Freshmen certainly had a great time. Mr. Sykes proved an able toastmaster for he kept things moving from beginning to end. The toast list:

Mr. Sykes—Toastmaster
Mr. Sparks—The First Lap
Mr. Weaver—Harcourt
Mr. Wiseman—Skeleton in our Closet
Mr. Wheaton—A Class Poem
Mr. Sprague—The Comet
Mr. Hicks—A Thrill

COLLEGE NEWS

Upper Class Singing, Reveille Raffle and Other Items

Yes, we all saw the comet, and we were all disappointed too, those of us who did not get up in the morning to see it. It was cloudy the first few evenings after it was visible in the West, and it was pretty dim by the time it was seen, and none of us will die of anxiety waiting to see it in 1985. Clouds and the Harcourt dance also interfered with the observation of the total eclipse of the moon on May 23rd, but a few good glimpses were obtained from the windows of the Harcourt Gymnasium and by the Astronomy Class in the observatory.

The Upper Classmen held their first song service Sunday evening, June 5th around the Prayer Cross. As it happened, many of the best singers were off the Hill at the time, but some sort of harmony was reached, and if the custom of Upper classmen singing Sunday evenings is to grow into a tradition, it had an auspicious beginning. The Freshman song and an S. C. I. yell showed that the Upperclassmen at least are strong for maintaining past Kenyon traditions.

The Collegian is very sorry to note the absence of Mr. C. M. Cable, '11, from College for the remainder of the semester. The circumstances are made much better by his promise to return in the fall. Football prospects would indeed be had with the Captain of the team out of college.

It has been decided by the 1910 Reveille Board to raffle off the six original drawings by Mr. Paul Hann for the cuts in this year's Reveille. Some Alumni may perhaps desire chances at these true works of art and particulars can be obtained from the Reveille Editor.

On June 1 a meeting of the Collegian Board was held in the Sterling Room. Mr. R. A. Weaver was elected Editor-in-Chief for the year 1910-11. Mr. A. G. Goldsmith was elected Secretary of the Board. The question of a staff of reporters was discussed and it was decided to continue the system in the ensuing year.

The class of 1910 will hold their annual banquet on Friday evening, June 17. The committee has arranged to have the banquet take place in Gambier and hopes to see a large number of the former members present.

The assembly held its last monthly meeting for this collegiate year on June 4th, Pres. Wood presiding. The first business to come up before the assembly was that concerning the athletic fee. It was moved and seconded that the amendment to the constitution, regarding the raising of the athletic fee on term bills from $2.50 to $5.00, be taken from the table and voted upon. The amendment was passed.

In regard to the abolishment of basketball, the assembly decided that a vote on that question should be taken in one of the early meetings of the next collegiate year.

Manager Russel then awarded basketball K's to the following men: Cardillo, Hardy, Weaver and Gaines.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the resignation of Dr. Reeves as chairman of the Executive Committee be accepted, and that a vote of thanks be extended to him for his service while in that office. Dr. Allen was elected to fill the vacancy.

Since it was the last meeting for the class of 1910, all the Seniors present made a farewell address to the assembly. Their remarks were full of regret at the thought of leaving the "Hill," and expressed their determination to prove themselves loyal Kenyon men. These inspiring speeches indicate how capable the Kenyon graduate is standing before and addressing a body of men.

The meeting then adjourned.

TENNIS

Kenyon Fails to Show at Cleveland. Wesleyan Defeated In the Doubles

The Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament of Ohio colleges was held at Cleveland on May 26, 27, 28. This Intercollegiate Association was organized for the first time last year, and the first meet was held at Kenyon in May 1909, at which Case, Wesleyan and Kenyon were represented. The meet this year, held at Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland, was a very successful affair, and Case, Reserve, Wesleyan, Wooster, Oberlin, Kenyon and Denison had teams represented. The Intercollegiate meet for next year will be held at the Ohio Wesleyan University. The following men were elected as officers: Bare, Wesleyan, President; Perry, Case, Vice President and Fulton, Wooster, Secretary-Treasurer.

Kenyon was represented at the Cleveland meet by Captain White and Sanderson. The great amount of rainy weather before the tournament made the play of the two opening days rather ragged. The Kenyon team lost in singles in the second round, and was defeated in the doubles by Reserve, 8-10, 6-2, 6-4. In the singles Henderson and Jones both of Oberlin reached the semi-finals, but declined to play for final honors on the ground that the tournament was a collegiate affair and not for individual honors. In doubles, Wooster defeated Oberlin in the finals by a score of 8-10, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Wesleyan vs. Kenyon

The tennis team of Wesleyan University played Kenyon at Gambier, Saturday, June 4. The excessive rains of the preceding week had made it impossible for either team to practice since their return from the Cleveland meet, and the heaviness of the court made the play slow. White of Kenyon was defeated by Bare of Wesleyan, and Sanderson of Kenyon was defeated by Carey of Wesleyan. White and Sanderson played together in doubles, defeating Bare and Carey of Wesleyan by a score of 9-7, 6-4.

The Handicap Tournament has been so hindered by rain during the last three weeks that scarcely any of the matches have been played off. Examinations are so near, and so many players have entered that the tournament has been postponed until the fall, for the finals, and for the prizes which the Tennis Association has offered.

Harcourt Commencement

On Monday afternoon, June 6, the Harcourt Commencement exercises were held in the pretty auditorium of the school. Miss Vivian B. Small, M. A., President of Lake Erie College gave the address. Her address was thoughtful and impressive and the graduates were very fortunate in receiving their charge from such an able source. The programme is as follows:

Other Colleges

One of the debaters recently elected at Harvard for the annual debate with Yale, is a youth of fourteen years. This recalls Harvard's eleven year-old mathematical genius, who is said to be the best prepared student who ever entered the university.

Uncle Joe Cannon declared recently in an interview in the Yale News: "To a bright young man, who has anything in him, a college course is not necessarily fatal to success."

Of all the prominent public citizens of the country the following percentages are college trained: Congressmen, 32 percent; senators, 40 percent; presidents, 65 percent; Supreme Court justices, 73 percent; and chief justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, 83 percent.

Of the 179 recipients of Rhodes honors last year, 90 were from the United States, 78 from the British colonies, and 11 from Germany. All of the America students but one have returned to the United States for employment.—The Tulane Weekly.

CLASS SONGS

NINETEEN ELEVEN

(Tune—"Lord Jeffrey Amherst")

One fine summer morning, when the world had just begun
 Father Sol looked across the sea;
 And he saw the years made ready that through endless times should run
 And he laughed with content and glee;
 "I'm very glad I made them, they are swift and they are strong,
 They're all as bright as bright can be,
 But if I should choose among them, well, it wouldn't take me long;
 Nineteen 'leven is the year for me!"

CHORUS

Oh, Nineteen Eleven! 'Tis the class of the heart and hand so true,
 Mother Kenyon, dear Kenyon, we are loyal to our class and you.

NINETEEN TWELVE

Tune of Yale "Boola!"

Oh, come let us sing to Nineteen Twelve,
 Let us sing, let us sing, all merrily;
 For we are the class of Nineteen Twelve,
 We will sing of our immortality.
 Last year we dug, next year we'll delve,
 But neither one know we;
 For the only year is Nineteen Twelve
 We have learned in Universal History.

CHORUS

When the college chimes are ringing,
 And the college men are singing,
 Kenyon binds us all together
 In the class of Nineteen Twelve
 Oh, stop the clock on Gambier Hill,
 Make it one eternal evening and a day;
 On Gambier Hill let the sun stand still
 To watch the sturdy football heroes play
 We'll stop the clock on Gambier Hill,
 And here we'll ever stay,
 While the moon stands still on Gambier Hill
 To hear the serenaders far away.

CHORUS

We'll know no year but Nineteen Twelve,
 So the time to come no terror for us hath;
 And all our calendars we will shelve,
 Oh, tell it not in Gasa or in Gath!
 Our calendars we'll neatly shelve,
 In spite of old Time's wrath,
 And we'll know no year but Nineteen Twelve,
 And we'll sing forever on the Middle Path.
