BEXLEY

Will be Remodeled -- Ancient Structure to be Rebuilt Inside.

Some time ago a committee was organized to look into the rebuilding of Bexley Hall, which has now become a matter of great importance. This committee, composed of President Peirce, Dean Jones, The Rev. A. L. Frazer, the Rev. George P. Atwater and the Rev. S. A. Husten, has drawn up a pamphlet, extracts from which follow:

"The present condition of Bexley Hall is both unsightly and unsafe. The building was constructed in 1839 and has endured more than seventy years of constant wear and use. The floors and staircases are worn out and present an unsightly appearance. No cellar was originally excavated and the foundations were insecurely placed. The walls have settled and cracked and the floors are badly out of level. Under present conditions the building is rapidly going to ruin and far reaching renovation is necessary to save the structure.

"In recent years all of the buildings belonging to Kenyon College have been repaired and put in thoroughly good condition. The battered and ruinous state of Bexley Hall is in striking contrast and demands immediate attention. The Seminary building has perhaps the most architectural merit of any structure belonging to the College. The working model was sent from England and architectural experts consider it the most perfect example of Elizabethan Collegiate architecture to be found in the United States. From every point of view the preservation of Bexley Hall is important and its immediate renovation is an urgent need.

"For more than eighty years Bexley Hall has been a center of Church influence and usefulness. Many scores of useful clergymen have received their training within its walls. Of the present House of Bishops about ten per cent. have received their academic or theological training at Gambier and the dioceses in Ohio depend in great measure upon this Seminary for the supply of clergymen essential to their growth. Without its graduating classes the Bishops in Ohio would find great difficulty in obtaining men to meet the growing needs of their dioceses.

"Fifty thousand dollars will in all probability be necessary to do the work of restoration in a thorough and substantial way including arrangements for lecture rooms and Chapel. The restored building will then house the students comfortably and handsomely and will give the Faculty of Bexley Hall adequate facilities for doing their best work. Moreover, a noble, historic building of unique architectural merit will be preserved from certain ruin and the oldest Theological Seminary west of the Alleghenies strengthened and its power in serving the Church vastly increased. Eighty-five years of noble and effective service endorsed the appeal of this divinity school."

BASKET BALL

Season Closes--12 Games Lost and Three Won, is the Record.

The basketball season was closed away from home with a trip to Edinboro Normal, Allegheny and Buchtel. The team, although not winning, put up a splendid game and as Coach Stewart of Allegheny said "they are a vicious little bunch of fighters." It is this never-say-die spirit which has been the one redeeming feature of this season's work.

At Edinboro the team met an opponent playing the Allegheny style and after a hard game we pulled out with the short end of 20-14 score.

At Allegheny the boys put up their best game of the season. This was the team which defeated Oberlin two games this year. During the first fifteen minutes Kenend of the first half that the Meadville boys drew ahead. The first half ended 15-11.

In the second half Allegheny put in some fresh men and they managed to tire our weary bunch considerably. The final score was 33-19.

After the game two distinct receptions were given for the team. First the girls gave a splendid reception for the two teams and later a smoker was given. In every way possible the students tried to show the team a fine time and they certainly succeeded.

The trip had been a pleasure up to this time but on the next evening we took on Buchtel.

Here once more we led for a portion of the first half but our heavier opponents were out to win at any odds and after a few fistie encounters they managed to end the first half with a 11-7 lead.

In the second half their weight told and they finished the game with a safe margin. Final score was 34-16. The following men took the trip: Captain Weaver, Manager Axtell, Aves, Beatty, Gaines, Skiles and Marty.

Dennison—Kenyon

The basketball season on the Hill was closed with an unprecedented rush when our team met stubborn defeat, at the hands of the strong Denison five. The contest might well have been termed an indoor football game, for the teams indulged in most of the tactics which belong strictly to the gridiron and official interference proved of little avail. Perhaps this accounts for the display of intense interest on the part of the spectators, but whatever the cause may have been, Rosse Hall was the scene of a reawakening of basketball interest at this our last home game.

The result of this game is sufficient evidence of the handicap which Kenyon experienced through the lack of a Basketball coach.

The whole season has been marked with a desire on the part of the men to exert every effort for victory, and this spirit was especially emphasized in this game with Denison. Each man worked to his utmost and defeat came only as a result of insufficient coaching. Aves did splendid work for Kenyon while Higgins of Denison seemed to have his hands on the ball most of the time.

While the sting of defeat at basketball is not a totally novel sensation to Kenyon yet the hopes of the team and spectators did not drop until the second half was over.

On Wednesday, March 11, Kenyon completely swamped the Mt. Vernon Y. M. C. A. team on its own floor. Although the association men tried to hold down the college basket-shooters, they were not very successful as the 61-13 score testified.

Aves was Kenyon's star, shooting seven baskets, while Masteller did the best work for the Y. M. C. A. Skiles played a star game until he had to leave the floor with a badly sprained ankle. Line-up and summary:

Brotherhood Game

On Monday evening, March 13, a team, composed of members of the Kenyon chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrews, journeyed over to Mt. Vernon, where they played the Y. M. C. A. basketball team. The game was fast and interesting. Kenyon's two forwards succeeded in caging thirteen baskets which alone were sufficient to defeat their opponents. The final score was 31-23 in Kenyon's favor.

On Wednesday March 8, Kenyon met defeat at Delaware by a 23-5 score. The game was hard fought throughout. The following, clipped from the "Transcript" will give you an idea of what the Methodists thought of the game:

"At no stage of the contest did the Kenyonites really have enough chance to make the game exciting. The little comic sketches put on occasionally by Weaver and Marty, of the visiting team, were about the only things which kept up the flagging interest of the spectators.

A few glimpses of real fast basketball were caught, but for the most part the game was just a vain attempt by the Kenyonites to hold down Wesleyan's score. So complete was Wesleyan's superiority that only one field goal was scored by Kenyon, this honor going to Center Gaines, of the visitors. Each member of the local aggregation played a good, steady game, but their form could not be compared with that in last Saturday's battle with Ohio State. For the visitors Captain Weaver, Marty and Gaines were somewhat dimly shining stars:

The team worked well together with Tasman and Rhorbaugh as stars; Tasman threw seven out of eight fouls. Langmade held his man Baird, who is the Y. M. C. A. star, to no baskets. Snyder refereed the game.

Basketball Election

At a recent meeting of the basketball team R. A. Weaver of Kenyon, Ohio, was re-elected captain. Mr. Weaver has played two seasons on the Kenyon team and we hope that he will be able to lead the team through a successful season next year.

The members of Phi Beta Kappa among the American Rhodes scholars who are now studying at Oxford University have organized themselves into a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society, with the intention of extending the society into foreign soil as a recognition of scholastic ability and achievement.

CLEAN ATHLETICS

The basketball season closed in Gambier two weeks ago with a game which well deserves criticism because there was such a difference between it and the game of the preceding week, when Wooster played Kenyon. The Wooster game was a fast and clean one. The Denison game might have been called fast, but it was by no means clean.

By comparing these two games it is easy to see how far superior are clean to dirty athletics. It is a fine thing to have a fighting or scrappy team, but we must not confuse these words with rowdiness or dirtiness. A fighting team will play hard and earnestly, but at the same time in accordance with the rules.

Basketball is a game which requires science, speed and skill. When these are used by both sides, the result is a very interesting game. The minute rowdiness or unnecessary roughness enters, the interest is deadened. The important point, then, is not how to hinder or even injure an opponent. If the Kenyon team was ever the cause of such a game, we are sorry.

There is a warning in this for all athletic games. The best and surest way for any team to follow is to play fast and hard, but fair and clean. A defeat in such a game will give us quite as much glory in the state as a victory by a dirty team.

Kenyon has always been called a plucky college. The term implies fairness, and let us see that our teams always deserve that title.

COLLEGE SINGING

The question of a college fence was discussed in these columns a few weeks ago. We realize that the college would reap many benefits from such a plan but it is not the purpose of this article, however, to express the advantages of such a custom. The fact is we do not now possess a college fence and for the present we must get along without one.

Why not make more use of the "prayer cross." It has been the custom for a number of years past to use the "cross" as a place where students might meet in friendly gatherings. "College Sings" were held every Sunday evening thruout the spring when the upper classmen would gather about the cross and sing college songs. This is a custom which ought to be kept. It is our duty as Kenyon men to keep up the spirit of our college singing. Kenyon is known thruout the state as a college which has the best of songs, and the best of voices to sing them.

As spring is coming near, let us make plans to continue these "college sings." Let us select a time and place, and make the Hill resound once more with good college songs.

THE COLLEGIAN

A meeting of the Collegian Board was recently held to discuss means for improving the paper. A complaint had reached the board that the New York Alumni Association did not approve of the paper as it is now published and for this reason the board has determined to use every energy in improving the Collegian.

It seems to the Editor that there will always be objections made to the methods used in editing a student publication and much more would be accomplished if the critic would definitely point out his criticism. It is very easy to criticize but any criticism, which is not definite, can not produce any good result.

The paper at Kenyon has many limitations and these should be taken into consideration when comparing it with the publications of the large schools. The financial end must always be kept in view and for this reason many improvements have to be left out of our paper.

The paper can not be published as often as is desirable simply because we are paying off a debt contracted in other years. The fact that the work is not hand set is also due to lack of money and accounts for many errors.

But the main reason why the Collegian isn't what it ought to be is because it doesn't arouse the interest it should. Neither the board nor the editor receives any remuneration either in college credit or financially. For this reason the work does not attract the very best talent in school. The men who do make the board have very little incentive to do careful and conscientious work.

A committee has been appointed which will confer with the English Department concerning the giving of credit for Collegian work and we feel that, if this committee is successful, the Collegian will have taken a long step ahead.

AN EDITORIAL

To any man, who has lived on the Hill, the phrases "Kenyon men are gentlemen" and "Plucky little Kenyon," are too well known to bear further explication. They appear regularly in the columns of our paper and find expression at nearly every gathering. They are expressions significant of the esteem with which we regard our little community and any effort to belittle this esteem could be perpetrated by none but an ingrate. A little reflection however can but reveal the provincialism which attends their constant use by us.

There is a prevailing opinion among men that he who boasts of his own accomplishments is lacking either in the accomplishments or in the rudiments of culture. In direct contraposition, stands the principle that accomplishments, or ability will only be recognized after the possessor flaunts them before the eyes of the public. Which, after careful analysis, appeals most to us? It is the belief of the writer that Kenyon men choose to accept the former but inadvertently practice the latter. Let us rather carry an air of conservatism but continue to fulfill the spirit of these phrases.

At Dartmouth College, a new and unique publication began in January. It is called the "Agora," and is devoted exclusively to communications and protests from faculty members, students and alumni on matters of college good. The innovation in this seems to be giving the faculty a chance to talk back.

COMIC OPERA

Another One to be Given--- The Senior Play Has Also Been Selected.

The Sophomore Hop this year will be marked by the production of another of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas, "Iolanthe." Those who were fortunate enough to hear "The Mikado," last Commencement can look forward with nothing but delight to this undertaking of the class of 1913. The Sophomore class is directing the production and Mr. McCowatt will assume the leadership and supervision of the play itself. Mr. Harkness will accompany the musical numbers.

The score of "Iolanthe" is sure to be popular with lovers of light opera music. The story has to do with the trials and tribulations of two lovers in fairyland, Strephon and Phyllis, whose plans are continually frustrated by the Lord Chancellor, Phyllis's guardian. The staging of the scenes, which are all pictures of fairyland, gives great opportunity for delightful effects, providing the men who take the parts of fairies can overcome their natural physical deficiencies for the qualifications necessary to graceful nymphs and gnomes.

The cast has not yet been finally determined, but at present the parts assigned are:

The Lord Chancellor	Fred G. Clark
Earl of Mountarat	Glen Skiles
Earl of Tolloller	John W. Clements
Private Willis ..	Warner D. Cook
Strephon	William T. Allen
Queen of the Fairies	Homer Jewitt
Iolanthe (Strephon's mother) ..	Wiley W. Glass
Fairies
Celia	Don C. Wheaton
Leila	Harold S. Johnson
Fleta	Phil H. Starr
Phyllis (an Arcadian Shepherdess and Ward in Chancery) ..	John E. Harris, Jr.

Senior Class Play

The Class of 1911 has decided to present Sheridan's "Rivals" as their Commencement Week offering. The setting of the play is that of the middle Eighteenth Century and it abounds in comical predicaments and speeches, which cannot but interest and amuse.

While the cast has not been definitely decided, the members of the class have commenced work on the play and it is the purpose of the instructor, Dr. Reeves, to have several rehearsals each week. The final cast will be selected within the next few days.

April Assembly

The regular April meeting of the Kenyon Assembly was held in Philo Hall, Monday April 3rd, with an unusually large attendance. A great deal of business was brought before the meeting and some matters were attended to which will be of lasting importance to Kenyon students.

President Peirce was present and, in a short address, urged the men who are going home for Easter vacation to begin to think of the class of 1915. Most "prep" schools will be in session during our holidays, and he asks that an effort be made to interest desirable men in coming to Kenyon. Dr. Peirce also spoke of the Student Library Fund and suggested that the money be turned in promptly so as to be available for work during the summer.

The Secretary of the Executive Committee reported among other things the engagement of Clyde Waters as an all-year athletic coach for next year. Dr. Allen presented the basketball K's to the following men: Captain Weaver, Skiles, Beatty, Aves, Gaines, Snyder, Marty and Axtell. The privilege of wearing numerals for basketball work was accorded to Freshmen Jenkins, Houston, Tasman and Langmade.

The amendments to that section of constitution bearing on the duties of the Dormitory Committee, which were offered at a recent meeting, came up for their final reading. After some discussion and explanation, upon motion of Mr. Dickinson the amendments were formally adopted.

Mr. Reinheimer made the final report for the Student Lecture Course committee and the Auditing committee reported the books of the Assembly to be in a very satisfactory condition. Mr. Reinheimer also announced that the first installment of all Library Fund subscriptions was over due and urged that the men come to the committee with their money, thus making the matter more convenient for all concerned.

After several short addresses on baseball and kindred subjects the Assembly adjourned with the heartiest Thrill and Hika heard for some months past.

Beginning with the present term, the University day at Princeton has been condensed from the old scheme of six hours of classes to five. Recitations begin at 8:30 and continue until 1:30.

The Oxford University track team is counting largely on the services of American Rhodes Scholars in the annual dual meet with Cambridge.

BEXLEY NOTES

Mr. Todd has been offered a parish in Huron, Ohio.

"Bub" Lee of class of '06, spent a few days on the Hill during the middle of March.

Rev. Moffet's Victrola is still attracting the attention of the musically inclined and concerts on Friday evening are now a weekly event.

Mr. Frank Albus is now living in Bexley, his wife and family having moved to Coshocton late in March.

Dr. Reeves will have three courses in the English department of Ohio State summer school which opens at Columbus the middle of June.

The 1913 class song has been selected and the words written. The music was arranged from two Cornell march songs by Fred Clark while Canon O. E. Watson contributed the appropriate words. The song has much snap and vim to it and the Sophomores can be heard at most any time during the early afternoon rehearsing the march song in the Sterling room.

The Carnegie Foundation for the advancement of teaching, gave as a reason for its refusal to accept Ohio State university the fact that there are fifty-one chartered colleges and universities in this state, more than are possessed by the British Isles, with a population nine times as great.

The foundation has already accepted five Ohio schools—Case, Oberlin, Cincinnati, Marietta, and Western Reserve.

Tennis

The tennis prospects for this year are unusually bright. Thus far the following schedule has been arranged:

April 29—Oberlin—Gambier.

May 15—Minnesota—Gambier.

June 3—Oberlin—Oberlin.

June 8—Otterbein—Gambier.

Besides these dates a splendid trip is to be taken by the team which will probably be composed of Marty, Beatty and Manchester. This trip will take in Michigan, Chicago, Purdue, and Illinois.

The tennis courts will be completely remodeled. A new foundation will be given to the courts and a clay and sand top will replace the present one. New steel backstops and a new set of posts will be set up. The whole will be enclosed on three sides; the one toward the campus will be left open.

This new equipment will be installed by the first of next month.

Summer Courses in Biology

During the month of July Dr. L. B. Walton will offer three biology courses of ninety hours each, including an introductory course for students who have had no preparation in that science. For each course three semester hours will be given, and the maximum number of hours which may be carried is six, although double work may be taken in any one course.

Aquatic Biology deals primarily with fresh water forms, plants and animals, occurring near Gambier. A year of biology is prerequisite, while a reading knowledge of German and French is desired.

General Biology is introductory, and consists mainly of lectures, laboratory work and occasional field excursions, while entomology includes the collection and classification of insects.

Senior singing has been introduced at Stanford and from now on will be conducted regularly until the end of the college year.

The "Hop"

Arrangements for the Sophomore Hop Week are about completed, and indications are that it will be a big success. Besides the usual play and dance, a series of athletic events, which will add to the pleasure of the week end, have been scheduled.

The Hop committee decided to give an opera and selected Mr. MacCawatt to manage it. The latter chose, "Iolanthe," one of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas, and has held several rehearsals. It will be given on Thursday evening May 18.

On the evening of May 19, the informal dance will be given. Rosse Hall will be decorated with a false ceiling of foliage and green lights, a black and orange canopy over the balcony and bunting of the same color around the walls. The music will be furnished by Johnson's orchestra of Cleveland.

The days will be occupied by a tennis match with Minnesota on Thursday afternoon, a tennis match with Wooster Friday afternoon, a track meet with the same college Saturday morning, and a base ball game with them Saturday afternoon.

The Hop committee has done exceptionally well. All that is necessary now to make the Hop Week a great success is good weather and the support of the college.

Has Made Good

"Bob" Bentley, '10, who took such a prominent part in college athletics during his four years at Kenyon, has made good as a coach at Hitchcock Academy, San Rafael, Cal. After having turned out a championship foot ball team last fall, he sends word that his base ball team has also won the preparatory school championship of California.

"Bob" will return east some time in May and will spend a few weeks in Gambier before the close of the collegiate year.

Exchanges

William McCaughey, of Ireland, a Freshman at the University of Pennsylvania, has the reputation of being the strongest man in the Freshman class, and holds most of the school's strength records. He weighs 210 pounds, lifts 3,000 pounds and collapsed the dynamometer, or leg lifting machine, in undergoing a test.

Dr. F. W. Marvel, head of athletics at Brown University, has prepared a tabulation of the foot-ball injuries sustained by players on New England gridirons during the past season. Letters were sent by Dr. Marvel to nineteen colleges in New England and replies were received from thirteen of them. In answer to the question, "Do the new rules tend to decrease injuries?" every college replied "Yes." To the question, "Do they tend to decrease minor injuries?" two colleges answered "No" and the others "Yes."

At Yale, Phi Beta Kappa elects to membership those who attain an average standing of 330 on work of the Junior and Senior year, 400 being the maximum.

By a recent ruling, instructors at Chicago are forced to shave their mustaches, as co-eds have refused to attend classes if the instructor has any hirsute adornment.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin of the class of 1894 has written back to that institution, asking for the "W" that he earned there nineteen years ago.

Course Committee Presents
Able Speaker---The Hon.
William G. Sharp.

The Hon. William G. Sharp, of Elyria, Member of Congress from the Fourteenth District, in which Gambier is located, delivered a very interesting address in Philo Hall, Monday, March 27, under the auspices of the Lecture Course Committee. As he is Kenyon's Representative, a large per cent. of the student body were present.

Choosing for his subject the practical workings of the lower House of Congress, Mr. Sharp explained a number of the confusing features confronting a new member, among them the rules, committee selections and seating arrangements. He dwelt at length upon the memorable fight on the rules, of March, 1910, and pointed out the evils confronting past Congresses and the remedies expected from the sixty-second.

The speaker gave some attention to a number of interesting figures. Inasmuch as the membership of the House is 391, he explained the necessity of increasing the ratio of representation per member. The citations, precedents and Speaker's rulings on the House rules, he said, filled ten volumes of one thousand pages each. The number of standing committees is fifty-eight.

Mr. Sharp spoke plainly and did not confuse his hearers with technical expressions, while his touches of personal experience gave an added interest to his remarks.

Following the address a smoker was given in the East Bullseye, where faculty and students were given an opportunity of meeting the speaker informally. During their visit to the Hill Mr. and Mrs. Sharp won a host of friends, and the Lecture Course Committee is to be congratulated on securing "Kenyon's Congressman."

New Faculty Ruling

At a regular meeting of the Faculty held on March 15th, the following rules were adopted:

1. No student shall carry more than sixteen hours' work during his first semester in residence.
2. A student may carry nineteen hours' work if he shall have made an average grade of two and shall have passed all the subjects of the preceding semester.
3. A student may carry twenty-two hours' work if he shall have made a grade of one in nineteen hours' work of the preceding semester.

4. All rules in conflict with the foregoing are hereby repealed, except that nothing herein shall effect the members of the Classes of 1912 and 1913.

In the past few years, all standard colleges have found it necessary to limit the number of hours that students are permitted to carry, the ground for such limitation being that quality is better than quantity. Unquestionably a man will profit more in the way of mental growth and training from sixteen hours' work well done than from twenty-five hours' half done. More than this, where a large number of ordinary students are permitted to carry twenty hours or more, the courses are weakened so that twenty-two hours come to represent no more than sixteen hours reasonable should do. As a result, the graduates go forth with a smattering of many things, but a complete knowledge of nothing.

A further reason for the rules is that, under the former system, men were tempted to neglect their work during the first two years. They knew that they would have an opportunity to make up their deficiencies by carrying excessive hours when they were upperclassmen, at the very time when college activities make the greatest demands and when the students themselves are of the greatest value to the college.

The new system will permit men of unusual ability and industry to complete their course in three years. It will require the average student to do average work throughout his course and will compel the student who is deficient in ability or preparation, or who devotes exceptional attention to non-academic activities, to spend more than normal time in obtaining his degree.

The present ruling brings Kenyon into line with the strongest colleges throughout the country. It represents an effort to raise the standard of work and to make the slogan "quality, not quantity." Kenyon, with its select student body, its small classes and its splendid Faculty, should be satisfied with nothing less than the highest standard of excellence.

It is hoped that the new rule, once its purpose and effect are thoroughly understood, will receive the hearty and unanimous support of the student body.

The number of Reveilles published this year will be limited. Only those who order before the book goes to press, will be SURE of securing a copy.

The book is going to be a success and especial care is being used in the choice of cuts. The book will be literally filled with views and pictures of scenes in and about the campus. No loyal Kenyon man can afford to be without this year's Reveille. Begin to figure now, because the manager will soon be around to see you.

In boosting the Reveille you boost Kenyon.
