Formal Dedication

Alumni Library to be Held Saturday of Commencement Week June 15

Dr. Talcott Williams, Prominent Journalist, to Deliver Principal Address

The formal dedication of the new Alumni Library will take place during the week of the eighty-fourth annual commencement, and promises to be one of the leading events connected with this year's graduation season. The Board of Trustees has secured as speaker for this ceremony Dr. Talcott Williams, M. A., D. C. L., LL. D., recently appointed head of the new Pulitzer School of Journalism at Columbia.

Dr. Williams has been for a number of years editor of the Philadelphia Press, and is recognized as one of the leading figures in American newspaper life. His long experience and success in this profession led to his selection last month as Dean of the Department of Journalism, founded at Columbia upon a bequest of two million dollars from the late Joseph Pulitzer, veteran editor of the New York World. As this is the largest and most important attempt along this line, the call of Dr. Williams to the above named chair constitutes a high honor.

The address will be given on the afternoon of Saturday, June 15, when the new Library and Norton Hall will be formally opened to the college and dedicated to the use of Kenyon men.

Dr. Williams has not as yet announced his topic, but it is hoped that he will devote some time to the aims and purposes of the school which he is to direct, as it seems to be a topic of interest at Kenyon just at present. Three men have already decided to enroll under Dr. Williams upon the completion of their work on the Hill, and more are considering it seriously.

The Kenyon Trustees are very fortunate in securing for the address a man of such scholarly attainments and recognized ability, and his appearance here, so shortly after his election at Columbia, is considered a mark of recognition such as is rarely bestowed upon Kenyon.

Political Subjects

Discussed in Series of Lectures--- Former Kenyon Man Speaks on Student Course

The Honorable James D. Hancock of the class of '59, a judge in Pennsylvania, favored the students of Kenyon with two lectures on the development of government, on May 3 and 4. His lectures were given under the auspices of the student lecture course committee, and were both instructive and interesting.

The subject of the first lecture was "Democracy."

Under this subject Judge Hancock traced the development of government through the family, the pastoral tribe, the agricultural tribe, the small nation, and lastly, the empire. He cited Athens as an early type of a democracy, and Rome as an oligarchy in which the people had the power of veto, in his judgment the model form of government. More or less in support of this opinion he cited many instances of the instability and rashness of the common people in regard to what ought to be done on particular occasions, but showed that the general trend of public opinion was progressive, and that it was necessary for progressive government to have the will of the people as its foundation. Government should not be a reflection of public opinion at a given time concerning a given event, but it should be the reflection and result of the moral standard and general progress of the people,—of public opinion after it has been settled, tried and sifted by time and experience.

This lecture was introductory to the one on the "Development of Democracy in the United States," which Judge Hancock gave on the following evening, May 4. As the title implies, it traced the history of our government from its beginning in the colonies down to the questions of the present presidential campaign. Two points which were brought out are especially worthy of note: first, the high standard of the men who drew up our constitution, whom Judge Hancock praised as the greatest body of men ever

Harcourt Glee Club

Presents Charming Operetta in Rosse
Hall---Attended by Large Audience

An unusually large and enthusiastic audience greeted the members of the Harcourt Glee Club in their annual concert Saturday evening, May 4, at Rosse Hall. The program was divided into two parts, the first consisting of the rendition of the ever popular "Bacchante" and two plantation songs, "Doan ye Cry, Ma Honey" and "Kentucky Babe." These were sung, with the curtain down, by the Glee Club in its entirety and the effect thus produced was decidedly novel and pleasing as was attested by the round of applause that attended each selection.

The second part was given over to the operetta, "Spanish Gypsies" (Vincet). In this, the girls scored the biggest hit of years, much credit being due to Miss Spangler, whose hard and consistent training made possible the excellence of the production. The scene was laid in Spain and the costumes were decidedly Spanish, some very pretty effects being achieved in dress. Tambourines and castanets, added to the realism of the setting and served to enhance the beautiful rhythm of the dances. These were a feature of the program and reflected well on the ability of Miss Grieg as an instructor. Those of Miss Angell and Miss Siddall were particularly well received as was the solo of the former when she told the fortunes of the girls. Too much praise can not be given Miss Mary Terry. Her stage presence was pleasing and her voice possessed a delightful sweetness of tone. Miss Grace Klump's solo "In The Years Long Ago" was the most finished of all in artistic quality, she displaying unusual ability. Miss Stewart and Miss Putnam also sang with credit to themselves. On the whole, the concert of last Saturday evening was the best given by any Harcourt Glee Club in years. The following was the cast of the operetta:

Base Ball Victories

Over Wittenberg and Miami
Come as a Welcome
Surprise

Excellent Pitching and Fielding a Feature of Both Games---Base Running Good.

Captain McMaster and his Kenyon baseball crew sprang the biggest and most welcome surprise last week that the College has known for months. When the great bell in Old Kenyon rang out on Thursday evening, it was some time before the men on the Hill could realize or believe that it was for a baseball victory, but when the ringing was repeated Friday they were only too ready to see visions of a championship team. And no one will deny that these two victories were enough to stir up all kinds of enthusiasm and confidence in every loyal supporter of Kenyon Athletics,—a term that includes just about everyone in Gambier.

This reversal of form is the more gratifying, coming after the disastrous trip to Athens. At that time the new men, composing almost the whole team, did not seem to have their bearings at all, and their playing was more or less disorganized. It certainly speaks highly for the ability and faithfulness of Coach Waters and Captain McMaster that, in the short time intervening, so great an improvement has been accomplished.

As far as both these games were concerned, Captain "Mac" was decidedly "The Man of the Hour." At Springfield and again at Oxford, he relieved unsteady pitchers, in both cases in the second inning, pitching almost seventeen innings in the two days and winning both games. This is a performance little short of marvelous, when one remembers that "Mac" has never worked out as a pitcher this season, rather devoting all his attention to his second-base position. In the Miami game, on his own responsibility, Cpt. McMaster went into the game with three men on the bases, and but for an unfortunate slip-up in the infield, would have retired the side scoreless. To say that this took nerve is putting it mildly indeed.

First Game*Kenyon 6, Wittenberg 5

The first game on the trip was played against Wittenberg College at Springfield, May 3. Without detracting from the credit due our own men, it must be acknowledged that this victory had some of the earmarks of a miracle. C. Miller, Wittenberg's "phenom" pitcher, did his share of the work to the extent of striking out twenty-one Kenyon batsmen, and holding his opponents to three hits, while his own team registered seven, of which he made one himself. But inopportune errors and stupid base-running, together with the mistakes of a green catcher, combined to bring defeat in spite of wonderful pitching.

In the first inning, Weaver, Wonders and Wickham scored for Kenyon, though only one hit was obtained. In the second, Anderson led off with a single, an error allowed Weida to follow, and after Weaver's out, both scored and later Carr brought the total up to six runs. Twice after this Kenyon runners reached third base but no more scores were forthcoming.

For Wittenberg, a hit placed Stewart on base in the first inning and another by Weidner brought him across the plate. In the third, with the help of a base on balls and a hit, two more runs were added by Cole and Weidner. The fifth inning closed the scoring for Wittenberg after hits by Weidner, McNutt and C. Miller had produced two more tallies and brought the total up to five. There were men on base in every inning following and one was caught at the plate, but efforts to tie the score were fruitless and Kenyon succeeded in winning the first game of any kind that has fallen to her lot on the enemy's ground since the tennis games last Spring.

Second Game*Kenyon 7, Miami 6

The second game was a well-earned victory. It was played Friday afternoon at Oxford, Ohio, against Miami University and lasted ten innings, during all of which the teams were within one run of each other. Kenyon showed improvement in every department, making twelve hits and fewer costly errors than before. McMaster again covered himself with glory, taking up the fight in the second inning when the outlook was very squally and bringing his followers safely through to victory. The whole team seems to play with more confidence behind "Mac" and altogether it was a lucky chance that called him in to the box to show his real ability. Buck Carr pulled off a sensational stunt in the field. With two men out, two men on base and one run needed to tie the score, a long fly sailed into middle field, far over Buck's head. But Kenyon's star sprinter let out an extra notch or two of speed and while racing along with his back to the diamond, reached out and nailed the flying sphere with one hand. This play was easily the fielding feature of the game and brought the middle gardener a well-earned round of applause.

The runs came as follows:

In the first inning hits by Weaver and Carr, together with an error scored three runs for Kenyon. Weaver, Carr, and McMaster crossing the plate. Beatty got a hit in the second, but was caught off first. In the third, Weaver got a free pass and completed the circuit on a smashing three-bagger by Carr. In the next inning Russell was passed but was later out at first. Bill Jenkins registered a clean single in the fifth after one out, but the next two men were unable to aid him. In the sixth a base on balls for McMaster and safe hits by Russell and Beatty resulted in two more tallies. This ended Kenyon's scoring until the tenth, when Weaver, first man up, reached first, Carr and Wonders went out, McMaster joined Weaver on the bags and both moved up one on Wickham's single, which filled the bases with two men out. At this juncture "Rusty" Russell stepped up to the plate and poked out a clean single which brought in the run that clinched Kenyon's second victory.

Miami's first points came in the second round when four successive walks and an error let in Pixler and Pruden and summoned McMaster to take up the work of saving the game. After two were out in the next inning, a combination of hits and errors let in three more runs and put Miami one point to the good. In the fifth there were three on base but Gee was caught at the plate and the next two men up were easy outs. The tying run came in the eighth when Gee tore off a good one for two sacks and scored on a single by Pixler. One man reached first in the tenth, but was unable to do anything better.

Basketball Captain Elect

At a recent meeting of the basketball "K" men, Eric Tasman, class of 1914, was elected to captain next year's team. "Tas" has splendidly demonstrated his playing ability during the past season, when his work at guard was one of the bulwarks of the team's defense and his popularity and good nature fit him for the position of leadership. One thing is assured, if his men follow their captain's example, we will have a hard working team next year. It is a little early for prophecies but with Tasman, Langmade, Houston and Young, as well as many good men in the class of 1915 and a possibility of Freshmen, there is nothing at all gloomy about the outlook.

Student Lecture

On the evening of Thursday, April 25 the student body was favored with an interesting lecture by an Alumnus of Kenyon, Isaac H. Harter of the class of '70, as a delegate of the Constitutional Convention, an honor recently conferred upon Mr. Harter. The substance of his lecture dealt with the workings of that body now in session in Columbus. Mr. Harter, a member of the Conservatives, outlined briefly the history of our present Constitution, after which, he took up the business of the Convention, telling of the various important measures that body has passed and of others that were then pending. Aside from telling of the business of the Convention, Mr. Harter told about the appointing of delegates, who are men from every walk of life and of various amusing incidents that have arisen from time to time in the Convention.

The lecture was an important as well as an interesting one in view of the fact that it gave the men of Kenyon an insight into one of the most important political bodies that has ever convened in this state.

Following the lecture a smoker was held in the West Wing Bullseye.

Recitals at Harcourt

On Tuesday evening, April 23, the students of Harcourt Place School and Bexley Hall together with several college men, who are soon to enter Bexley, attended a very enjoyable recital given by Mrs. Marie B. Moulton and Mrs. Julia Leonard in the music room of Harcourt Place. Mrs. Moulton played some exceedingly difficult selections on the piano and received very deserving applause. The instrumental part of the program was interspersed with quite a number of charming songs by Mrs. Leonard. Mrs. Leonard possesses a very pleasing voice, which shows considerable training. Those who were fortunate enough to be present, spoke highly of the ability of both Mrs. Moulton and Mrs. Leonard, declaring that the evening was one long to be remembered with pleasure.

Miss Josephine L. Rhoades assisted by Miss Marion Spangler gave, on Tuesday evening, April 30, a very unique and interesting recital at Harcourt. The subject was "The Study of Poetry an Aid in the Study of Music." Miss Rhoades read parts of the poetic drama "Ulysses" by Stephen Phillips and Miss Spangler sang appropriate illustrating songs translated from Max Bruch's German cantata, "Ulysses." Both Miss Rhoades and Miss Spangler gave fine renditions of their respective parts according to the reports of the college men who were present and the evening was very pleasantly and profitably spent.

Competitive Managerships

A competitive system of electing managers of the athletic teams in Kenyon has been given serious consideration by the Seniors constituting the Nominating Committee of the Assembly.

The present method whereby the Executive Committee mechanically confirms the recommendation by the Manager of some likely Assistant and later, Manager, has in general proved effective, in so far as the Manager's foresight and judgment of ability and consciousness have proposed the right Assistant. Where the Manager, however, has offered the name of an incompetent or diffident person which is only to be learned after a half season's experience, there is no remedy that can gracefully be used, and the Assistant is in due time made the Manager without further consideration.

To obviate this fault and to get the maximum amount of faithful and experienced service out of every man who aspires to manage a Kenyon team, or the Glee Club, the competitive system, as in use at Cornell, Yale, Williams, and other leading institutions, is proposed, so modified, however, as to be applicable to Kenyon. The proposition and solution offered by the Nominating Committee is this: Let us take the football Managership as the best example, for this honor offers the greatest opportunity to do effective service for the interests of Kenyon, and a corresponding honor for the man who wins the name of Manager of the Football Team. Every Junior in College who wishes to compete for this office will, in the fall of his Junior year, signify his intention by handing in his name to the Nominating Committee. Then, providing he is in earnest, he will begin his duties by competing with his rivals in making perfect the facilities for the development of a Championship Team. The gridiron will be mowed at the proper times, the field will always be marked with lime for all practices as well as for games, the side-line fences will be in shape, the goal posts in place, the score-board in operation, adds will be secured to pay for programs for home-games, and printed lists of songs might be distributed before all contests in Gambier, so that Kenyon men may know more than one or two songs appropriate for gridiron games. In short, the rival and competing aspirants will see done all those little things that are necessary for a team's best efforts, —things that no single Manager nor Assistant could possibly think of or have time to carry out. Likewise, for the other teams. The cinder track would be improved, the baseball diamond would be immensely benefited and the tennis courts would be in excellent shape all the time. No argument can dispute the fact that three or four men competing for a Football or a Glee Club Managership, will do just three or four times the work for these respective organizations, and in the end the man who has accomplished the maximum, and has worked the most faithfully will stand the greatest chance of gaining the coveted position. The Nominating Committee then, after having received the Managers and Graduate Manager's recommendations, will present to the Assembly its recommendations together with a fair statement of the comparative claims to consideration of the various candidates. The election will be by the Assembly.

This above draft is the result of serious discussion on the part of many upper-classmen. We believe, through this system, our teams could work to much better advantage, and fast, clean, winning athletics, so necessary to Kenyon's future prosperity, would be its ultimate result.

Representative Men

The old expression "A Representative man" is often quoted in the discussion of different college men and affairs. Yet its true meaning is not always clear. By the representative man, we usually refer to the so called "all-around man"—one who combines his intellectual, social and athletic affairs in the most pleasing as well as most efficient proportion. His studies are pursued with sufficient energy to make them of some worth. At the same time he enters into the outside work connected with a college. To such a man usually comes the leadership of any organization or movement; for he is capable and willing to assume responsibilities which others refuse or neglect. The result is that his influence is felt not only in one branch of college affairs but permeates through several. To such men too much credit cannot be given, and any college relies considerably on their efforts. Such a man is the representative man, in the local use of the word. It is a position which it is not possible for all to possess, for it pertains to individuals and not to the whole student body.

In a broader sense, however, every Kenyon student is a representative man, if we understand that expression in its true meaning. For a representative is a delegate. He stands for a type. Into whatever community a college man enters, he carries with him the responsibility of representing his respective college. The people with whom he comes in contact, take him as a type of men which his college sends forth, and for opinions accordingly. Whether we desire it or not, the label of being a Kenyon man is also the sign of being a representative, and to this responsibility we are all called.

Since such is the case, an alumnus' best service for his college is in the fulfillment of the highest ideals which he had in college.

To be good representative men of Kenyon in the true sense of the word—this is a position which all must fill. The important question remains: Do we fill it with credit to ourselves and to our college?

A Four Year Course

There are two direct reasons why the number of students in college is smaller than usual. One is the small size of the last two entering classes, the other is the large proportion of men who leave college before the end of their four years. The remedies for the former require, for the most part, united and official action from some quarter, but the remedy for the latter lies in the hands of each individual fellow in college. You probably want to help matters, and you can do so now by deciding to come back next year and by getting others to do the same.

The welfare of your college, of the organizations to which you belong, and of the college activities in which you take part depends on the size of the student body. Your interest in them, and a certain sense of duty toward them ought to influence you to come back next year. If this were, however, the sole argument we could present, and if in returning, you were sacrificing one, two, or three years without any personal benefits, we would advise you not to consider coming back. There are other reasons, however. The advantage of an educated man over other men is self-evident; and the pleasures of life also are materially increased by culture. There are few fellows who are not convinced of these things. But there is one more reason, probably the most important.

To complete your college course means to accept an actual opportunity for greater success when you are paddling your own little canoe twenty or thirty years from now. This is especially true at Kenyon. Responsibilities are placed on your shoulders during your Junior and Senior years which require ability. If you have ability, it has an excellent chance to develop right here,—a much better chance than it would have in the business world. If you haven't ability, you have to acquire it to do the work which student organizations allot to you. The man with greater ability than his co-worker or his competitor is bound to have greater success.

There is nothing in the argument that you gain two or three years by leaving college and getting out into business two or three years earlier. If you have any confidence in it, you are as foolish as the man who starts to walk to a certain place in order to get five or ten minutes start on the man who is waiting for the street car. Every time you dig out a lesson, every time you discuss a question concerning college affairs, every time you serve on a committee or fill an office, you are increasing your ability and your chance of future success.

You ought to come back, you want to come back, and you will be better off in the future if you do come back. If you are wavering, decide now to take advantage of your opportunity; and if you hear any student saying that he

Reveille

The 1912 Reveille went to press before the first of May and will probably come out about May 25. The cover will be purple with a purple silhouette of ascension on a black ground of gold. The book will be printed on smooth paper, and around each page will run a light purple border. The book will be full of pictures. A "society" picture will take the place of the "Prom" picture on account of a slightly different arrangement of Commencement, Prom, and Hop. This was drawn by Paul Hann and is one of his finest, both in respect to idea and workmanship. It has been the aim of the editor and the Board to put out an accurate and good-looking book, and to get the atmosphere of Kenyon life into it. They anxiously await the verdict of the subscribers, and practice dodging bricks every day back of Old Kenyon. It is certain that the Reveille will be a financial success and will do considerably more than to come out even. The manager deserves a great deal of credit for this, as he had unusual obstacles to surmount at the beginning of the year.

Seniors and Juniors Entertained.

On Saturday evening, April 27, the Senior Class was very delightfully entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Newhall. A number of Harcourt girls were present and the evening was spent in playing a variety of card games, a different game being in progress at each table. After the card games delightful refreshments were served.

On the Monday following Dr. and Mrs. Peirce were the hosts at a military euchre party. This time the honored guests were the members of the Junior Class and a number of the girls from Harcourt.

Each table represented a country with its appropriate flags. Should the visiting country be the winner it would take as a prize one of the flags of its opponents. Italy succeeded in landing the most flags and France was declared the country supreme on land and sea. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening.

May Assembly.

The regular May meeting of the Kenyon Assembly was held on the evening of Monday, the sixth. The roll-call showed that all the members except five were present. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved, Mr. Watson read the report of the Executive Committee, which was accepted. The treasurer, Prof. Downey, made his report for the month of April. The report was accepted. There being no old business, the Assembly proceeded at once to the election of officers for the year 1912-13.

Four proxies were sent by members who were absent. It was voted unanimously that these proxies be allowed.

Mr. Watson, speaking for the nominating Committee, recommended that two ballots be taken before any man be dropped from the ticket, after which low man should drop and so on until the election of one of the candidates.

The candidates for President were Crawford, Dickinson, Wickham and I. J. Koehnline. On the fifth ballot Mr. Wickham was declared elected.

For Vice President, McMaster

defeated Bowlus by a small majority.

Candidates for Secretary were Baird, Langmade, Weida and D. Wonders. Mr. Langmade withdrew his name. The first ballot resulted in the election of Baird.

Prof. E. H. Downey was elected Treasurer by acclamation. In the same manner Mr. B. H. Reinheimer was elected to the Graduate Managership. He succeeds Dr. Walton, who found that the position took too much time from his research work.

The new Executive Committee is composed of the following men: Baird, Crawford, Tasman, Kinder, Sprague, I. J. Koehnline and Matthews. Dr. Allen is Chairman of this committee.

The Dormitory Committee for the following year is composed of Black, Bowlus, Crawford, Wickham, Weida, Clark, Sprague and Wheaton.

Student Lecture Course Committee: Wheaton, Hauck, Dickinson, Houston and Rettig.

At the close of the election Mr. Bowlus moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Dr. Walton for the service he has rendered the Assembly in the capacity of Graduate Manager. The motion was carried unanimously.

The meeting then adjourned.

Bexley Summer School

The Summer School for the Clergy of the Middle West, which was organized three years ago, will be held in Gambier on June 12, 13 and 14. The purpose of this school is to bring together as many of the Clergy who can come to Gambier, to talk over and discuss the various problems which always confront them in their several parishes. Heretofore this meeting of the Clergy has been a distinct success in every way and from present prospects the number of clergymen who expect to attend this year, will far exceed that of any other.

The committee on the Summer School is as follows:

Dean DeMoulin of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio; The Rev. T. I. Reese, Rector Trinity Church, Columbus, Ohio; The Rev. A. T. Reasoner—Fenton, Mich.; The Rev. D. F. Davies—Gambier, Ohio.

The speakers at Summer School are:

The Coburn Players

On the evening of May 29 the Coburn Players of New York will present Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" on the campus near Ascension Hall. For a number of years the College has tried to secure a company of out-door players without success; and the coming of the Coburn Players should be a matter of gratification and some pride. They have presented plays at Harvard, Yale and other Eastern Universities, and also at the leading country clubs in the East.

To make the play successful, and to warrant a repetition, earnest support of the student-body and of the people of Gambier and Mt. Vernon must be asked. Seats will be reserved. In case of rain the play will be given in Rosse Hall. Make no other engagement for the evening of Wednesday, May 29.

Velvet

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

A good friend is the friendly coach—who comes and brings a tin of Velvet and helps you in the nick of time.

Velvet is a remarkable tobacco—in these hurry-up days it takes its time. Takes two years of mellowing to take out all harshness and "bite"—make the taste rich and the quality "smooth."

That's why Velvet is a helpful smoke—never irritates—just delivers the maximum of pipe pleasure—that we're all after. At all dealers.

Notice to Subscribers

Your Subscription is Due Now.

The management of the Collegian is now sending out bills to subscribers, many of which have no doubt been already received. You will lessen our worries by sending us a check immediately. Many of the Alumni owe two and three years, and some four, while others have been dropped from the mailing list because they owe even more. There is at this time an Alumni indebtedness to the Collegian of nearly $500.00. We need money badly and as loyal men of Kenyon, you should lend your support along this line. Send us a check or mail order for the amount due now. We need the money so badly that another set of bills will be sent out shortly, if the returns of the first are slow in coming in. Don't wait to get a second statement. Do it now. Make your orders payable to gathered together; and second, the preservation by our government of two principles embodied in our constitution,—namely, the clause which has preserved the inviolability of contracts, and that which declares that private property shall not be taken for public use without due compensation. In the latter part of his lecture, Judge Hancock took up modern political questions. He was opposed to most of the popular reforms of the day, and was especial bitter against protective tariff.

Judge Hancock's lectures were full to the brim with well-grounded theories and made an impression on those who heard them. At the smoker held for him in the East Wing Bull's Eye after his first lecture, he was surrounded by a group of inquisitive students who were anxious to hear his authoritative opinions on the questions of the day. One the whole he was very conservative in regard to political questions.

Final Hop Plans

The ensuing week will see the realization of the Sophomores' dreams for the last month or so. No effort has been spared by the committee in its plan for the Sophomore Hop and next Friday we ought to see one of the best Hops that has ever been witnessed on the Hill. The Sophomore Minstrels, which are to be given the day following, on Saturday, will be the first minstrels ever given in Gambier. The performance will be divided into two parts. The first part will be conducted in old fashioned minstrel fashion. The circle will be composed of twenty men together with the end men and the interlocutor. Messrs. Anderson, Russell, Thompson, Wonders, Freeman and Clark will take the part of the end men, while Mr. Wheaton will act as interlocutor. The second part will be vaudeville style, being made up of several individual acts which are very clever and amusing.

Friday afternoon Wittenberg and Kenyon will meet at baseball while Saturday we will play Wesleyan at tennis.

The order of dances is as follows:

1. Phryne (waltz)
2. College Capers (two-step)
3. Gold and Silver (waltz)
4. Moonlight Bay (two-step)
5. Red Widow Waltz (waltz)

Interesting Facts

There has just come from the printers a new college bulletin called "Information about Kenyon College." It is number twenty-four of the bulletin series and is devoted solely to the expression and description of student life here on the Hill.

Differing as it does from the college catalogue it touches upon those phases of College Life in Gambier which are separate from the class room. In detail it describes the system of student self-government, the honor system and the social life of Kenyon. Other chapters in the book are devoted to Dormitory Life, Religious Life, Athletics, Amusements, and Literary Societies. A most important part is devoted to "The Freshmen at Kenyon" in which the many problems confronting a new man are discussed and their solutions suggested. A history of Kenyon is also included in this valuable collection of information.

This book of "Information" fills a want long noticed and should be a valuable asset in getting new men to Gambier, for it presents in clear and interesting language, the actual life of a student here on the Hill. The final chapter of the book, which is devoted to the advantages of the small college, should also be of much help to Kenyon men, because it presents many strong arguments in favor of the small institution of learning.

A new booklet of Kenyon views has also been received. Every man should see to it that these two bulletins reach the hands of every prospective Kenyon man for one explains real Hika life, the other pictures it.
