ASSEMBLY DEBATES BASEBALL QUESTION

Constitution Amendment To Abolish Sport Fails To Pass At The November Meeting

Little Other Important Business Was Transacted At Largely Attended Meeting

Discussion and subsequent failure to pass of an amendment to the Assembly constitution, providing for the abolition of baseball as an intercollegiate sport marked the November meeting of the Assembly, held the evening of November 6. Little else of importance was considered.

The amendment was offered by D. H. Wattley, '17, at the October meeting, and was at that time laid on the table for the month required by the constitution. Its removal from the table opened a serious debate on the whole baseball question.

W. V. Mueller, '18, spoke against the amendment, stating that the finances of the Assembly warrant the authorization of a team, and that there is enough good material in college to put out a winning combination.

J. E. C. Meeker, '17, suggested that if there should be financial surplus it could be better employed in improvement of the athletic field, which, he showed, is in bad condition.

J. A. Shafer, '17, also supported the amendment, and D. H. Wattley, '17, stated that with current expenses to be met no surplus could be relied on to finance the team.

A number of other speeches were made, both for and against the measure, and President Cross ruled that voting should be by ballot, as it was necessary to determine whether the required three-fourths vote was given for the amendment. The chair also ruled that freshmen could vote, as they had paid their athletic fee.

The result of the ballot showed that the amendment was lost, 45-49, falling far short of the necessary majority.

For the committee on revision of the constitution, Mr. Meeker, requested and secured permission to rewrite the entire document. He stated that the committee would report the proposed constitution at the December Assembly.

E. C. Welch, '17, suggested that the new constitution should authorize the use of a certain shade of blue in uni-

LITERARY SOCIETIES ARE IN FULL SWING

Nu Pi Kappa Holds Smoker, While Philo Has Well Attended Meeting Weekly

Nu Pi Kappa Literary Society gave a smoker Wednesday, October 25, which drew a large attendance. All the members of the society were present.

After a short program, the meeting was addressed by Dr. Lacy Lockert, Assistant Professor of English, who gave an interesting talk on the aims and work of a literary society.

Cigars, cigarettes, sandwiches and coffee were served. Nu Pi Kappa has initiated a large number of men and promises to have a very successful year.

Philo Active

Philomathesian Literary Society held a well attended and interesting meeting on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Senor Tobar de MacMahon, one of the new members of the faculty, read a unique original story, in which the names of the majority of the men in college appeared in their proper meaning.

Philomathesian will meet Wednesday of each week, and a schedule of programs has been arranged for each meeting during the year.

Messrs. Myers, Douglass, Maxwell, Mueller and Jordan of '18, have been reinstated, and the new men who have been initiated are, Metcalf, '17, Hastings, '19, McGuire, '19, Devin, '19, and Holley, Sidnell, Graves, Blessing, Close, Kelly, Jerpe and McMurray of '20.

The policy of the society of limiting the number of men, has proved successful this year as the increased interest in the Philomathesian society has shown clearly. The society has passed a ruling whereby three successive cuts will drop a member.

A smoker is being planned for Wednesday, November 15. This will be an open meeting and Dr. Reeves will probably be the speaker.

Choir Will Give Concerts

Choir Leader DeWolf has expressed his intention of beginning work soon on the well known cantata, Stainer's Crucifixion, which he has in view for using on Palm Sunday.

POLITICAL CLUBS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held And The Faculty Members Address Undergraduate Body

The feeling of apathy over the election, which prevailed to a great extent during the early part of the college year, entirely disappeared with the formation of the Republican and Democratic clubs, and politics was all that was talked from Bexley to Old Kenyon, during the final weeks of the campaign. The clubs were undoubtedly of great help to the voters, most of whom voted for the first time at this election, and were no small help to those who, although not voters, wished to be brought into intimate relationship with the ideals and principles of the two great parties.

Each club held "smokers," at which members of the faculty spoke on the issues of the campaign, thus enabling the men to draw their own conclusions from an unbiased presentation of facts. That the men appreciated the efforts of the clubs toward aiding them in casting their vote, was demonstrated by the large turnouts at the meetings. The Republican Club was fortunate in securing as a speaker the Honorable Robert L. McCabe of Columbus, who spoke to a crowd that packed the Commons parlor.

Rivalry between the two clubs was intense. The Wilson Club started with approximately twenty-five voters, but never reported an increase in voting strength, while the Republican Club which started with a voting membership of thirty-five, increased to forty-six before election time.

The two clubs will probably become permanent organizations at Kenyon, though it has been suggested that after

Bad Luck Spoils Chance At Athens, Where Fumbles Prove Costly To Both Elevens

Mt. Union Breaks Kenyon Defense And Scores At Will, Final Result Being 40--6

After holding Mt. Union to a single touchdown in the first half Kenyon weakened and lost by the score of 40-6. The game was slow and uninteresting throughout, except for the playing of Cholly, the Mt. Union full-back. McGormley scored Kenyon's first touchdown of the season on a prettily executed forward pass.

The Kenyon team was considerably weakened by the loss of nearly the entire backfield due to injuries. The team played well in the first half but was unable to maintain the pace and with the advent of Cholly, who made an 85-yd. run through the entire team, the Mt. Union team had things their own way.

A two-weeks rest before the Cincinnati game will give the cripples plenty of time to recover from their injuries and the team should be stronger then than any other time this season.

score of 6-0. Although fumbles were frequent on both sides, it was such a misplay that cost Kenyon the game, after Endle had recovered an Ohio fumble and dashed 80 yards, to be pulled down on the 4-yd. line. Play was in Kenyon territory during the greater part of the contest, but the light line held Ohio for downs several times.

During the first half the ball was in Ohio's possession most of the time. The Kenyon backs were unable to gain through the heavy line, while the Ohio backfield, Rogers in particular, tore through the line and around the ends for large gains only to lose the ball on downs or fumbles. Rogers's spectacular work made possible the only score of the game, Ende carrying the ball over.

In the second half Ohio kept the ball most of the time but lacked the offensive power to make points, failing two place kicks.

It was in the last quarter that Kenyon's hope for a victory came. Kurtz fumbled on Kenyon's 15-yd. line. Endle recovered and dashed down the field, closely pursued by Goddard who finally brought the diminutive half down on the 4-yd. line after an 80-yd. run. On the second down Kenyon fumbled, and Ohio recovered. The only chance to win was gone as the game ended two minutes later.

The Ohio team is very weak and was lucky to get away with the game. Her offense was very poor, although the defense was good. The Kenyon team fought to the last minute and deserved to win.

Reserve Gets New Athletic Field

Western Reserve University has a new athletic field in process of construction in the rear of the Dental Building. The field is 400 feet square, and will have room for two gridirons and two baseball diamonds.

The field is to be used solely for inter-class and intermural events, and not for the varsity teams.

ALUMNUS PUBLISHES ESSAY

L. L. Riley, '07, Writes on "Social Worship" in Quarterly

Lester Leake Riley, Kenyon, '07, has written an article in the Constructive Quarterly for June, 1916, entitled "Social Worship." The magazine is devoted to interests of "the faith, work and thought of Christendom," and Mr. Riley's article deals with the creation of the community into spiritual organism—social worship is the outpouring of this common communal soul expressing its needs and aspirations.

Mr. Riley received his A. B. degree from Kenyon in 1907, graduated from Bexley in 1909, and soon after his graduation took charge of St. Paul's Parish at Newport, Kentucky, at which place he has been located since that time.

REVEILLE MAKES PROGRESS

Unique Features Planned For Publication of Juniors

The Reveille, by the class of 1918, is reported as progressing rapidly. Most of the work at present is being directed towards the arrangement of the contents and several new and unique features will be revealed in the book. It is also planned that this year's book contain more literary work, little incidents of college life and the thousand and one droll incidents which occur from day to day in the class room and on the campus. It will also contain a plentiful assortment of pictures—glimpses of the campus and also as many snap shots of the men around the college as the editing board can get hold of. In short, it promises to be just a little better than any annual heretofore published.

WAITERS' BALL PLANNED FOR NEAR FUTURE

Although no definite date has been chosen, the Waiters' Ball is expected to take place some time between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The reason for this time is, that nearly all waiters are football or basketball men, and this interferes with their "stepping out." Nevertheless, when it is announced, all the lords of the scullery will be on hand, for this is one of the grand social functions of the year, and many will make their debut into high society. C. R. Brick, '18, who is managing the affair, will see to it that each has a fair maid from Harcourt, or elsewhere to pivot about the floor with. The ball is to be held on the first floor of the Commons as in former years. Last year four dances were given, and many social lions were developed.

Professor and Mrs. Johnson are the parents of a little girl, who was born on November 4.

LECTURER DEPICTS FRENCH HOSPITALS

Professor Walter Peirce, of Ohio State University, Describes Work In Ambulance

Description of the work of the American Ambulance in France was given before a large audience in Philo Hall by Professor Walter Peirce of Ohio State University, on the evening of November 10. The lecturer illustrated his talk with pictures taken by him during the past summer in the American Ambulance in Paris.

Professor Peirce stated that his purpose in giving the lecture was to arouse some interest in the work being done by the American Ambulance in France. By the word ambulance, he continued, he meant a military hospital, and not merely a vehicle for conveying the wounded. He described his entrance into the service last summer, when he became an orderly in the American Ambulance in Paris. He stated that he was connected with two wards of the hospital, doing all the heavy work, which the nurses could not do. Many interesting and intricate surgical cases came under his observation, and he said that the Americans excelled in that branch of the work. Professor Peirce described some of the means by which amputation of injured limbs is avoided, and apparently hopeless cases are cured.

Among the pictures shown was one of several Rhodes scholars, and the lecturer stated that a number of these men engage in hospital work during the summer vacations.

During Professor Peirce's stay at the Ambulance three of the ten men in his ward were given the Military Cross. In closing he read a letter received by him from one of the soldiers. It was written in English, three weeks after the writer had begun studying the language, and was a remarkably good piece of composition.

the election they join into one Political Club, in order to continue the interest aroused during the campaign, in the affairs of our government. One thing is certain, both have brought about a unified effort in upholding the principles of their respective parties, and both must be congratulated on the valuable work they have accomplished for their parties and for their individual members. Throughout the last few weeks the club meetings have been the center of social and political activity—the service they rendered has been invaluable, and both should continue actively as an evidence of the progressive spirit of Kenyon.

Warm and Not Very Ugly Creations
Grace Heads of 1920

Baby blue bonnets, with a warm red border and flaming button on the top have been decreed by the sophomores for the freshman class. The toques made their first appearance on November 11, and are now the universal thing on the campus. Considerable comment has been made on the fact that the hats are not ugly, as in former years, but look quite neat. This oversight of the class of '19 has not yet been explained.

STREET CROSSING PAVED

Bad Mudhole Eliminated From Middle Path Intersection

A convenient and useful improvement has been recently made for the benefit of the students and faculty of Kenyon College. A broad stone and cement walk was laid across the street just outside of the college park entrance and a safe passage is now provided during bad weather. Formerly much inconvenience was undergone during the winter and early spring months on account of the mud at this crossing. The total cost was about fifty dollars.

The campus also presents an improved aspect. The fallen leaves have been collected and burned, and the college grounds cleaned up in general. As a result of these improvements everything will be in readiness when cold weather sets in.

Account of Convention

Dean Jones occupied the college pulpit Sunday, November 5, and instead of a sermon, he gave an interesting account of the recent general convention held at St. Louis.

He gave a description of the assembly and showed how it was composed of two separate bodies similar to our national congress, the two houses being the house of Bishops and the house of Deputies. The feeling throughout the convention according to Dean Jones was one of harmony and party sentiments were dropped in the endeavor to accomplish the work before them.

forms, since the college color, mauve, cannot be easily secured.

Mr. Wattley announced that the Puff and Powder Club would hold their play on the evening of November 25, and asked whether the Assembly favored an informal dance to be held after the performance. The Assembly voted to leave the matter at the discretion of the club.

A Square Deal

The question of staying in training is of the greatest importance to any football team, and is hard to enforce because it depends mainly upon the willingness of the team to maintain it.

Some members of the football team this year have broke training frequently. It is impossible to say what effect this has had upon the team, but it is a fact that, all things being equal, the team which trains will win. It is only fair to the men who do train, for the rest to abstain from breaking over.

A Matter of Dates

"Did you ever realize," asks the Denisonian, "That Calliope Literary Society was the first college literary society founded west of the Appalachians,..... being established in 1836 from the union of two small societies which began in 1835?"

Frankly, we do not realize that interesting fact, inasmuch as Kenyon has two older societies with authentic records extending back to their establishment. To be explicit, we refer to the Philomathesian Society, which was founded in 1827, and the society which branched off from it in 1832, Nu Pi Kappa.

Pleasant as it is for the Kenyon literary societies to extend greetings to one founded in the days of Jackson and Van Buren, they must be greetings from older sisters to a younger; for both Philo and Nupi were the dominant organizations of Kenyon college before Calliope was born.

The First Step

In another column of this issue appears the schedule of matriculation examinations, which brings to mind the fact that matriculation is the first measure a freshman gets of his scholastic strength. It is not possible to exaggerate the importance of meeting this test successfully. The new man who succeeds in it gets a good start, makes a good impression, and gains confidence in himself. Moreover, the percentage of the class which matriculates at this time is either an honor or a disgrace to the class; and it is the duty of every freshman to see that it is an honor, and not a disgrace.

Benson Field

The football field is at present in as poor a condition as it ever has been. From its mole-infected, tunneled south end to its uneven barren north end there is hardly a spot which could be called fit for men to practice on or play on. The moles have this year caused the greatest amount of the injuries which are keeping our best men from playing up to their true form. Their tunnels have caused several bad ankles, some broken arches and also a number of bad twists. At the other end the unevenness and barrenness has made it one of the most undesirable places for practice. The middle is thus left for the team and what chance of a good practice is there on a small section such as is left? Why can't we have an entire or a greater part of the field as it is in the middle? Why can't the trustees or the faculty spend a little money on Benson field and give us a fair place for football practice which would not cause the injuries to the men who are counted on to give the school their best on the field?

Time to Settle

Some weeks ago a notice was posted on the bulletin board saying that Reveille assessments were due and should be paid to certain men appointed in each division. Whether it is lack of funds, tight-fistedness or plain stupidity can not be stated with conviction, but it is certain that there has been no wild rush to get these assessments paid up.

The publishing of the Reveille might be regarded as a duty which devolves upon the Junior Class of the college. It is not a class institution, it is a college institution and is published for the benefit of the college, the class merely acts as an agent or middle-man in the transaction. It takes money to edit and publish this book! That is the reason the assessments are made, because an institution for the good of the college should be supported by the college.

Furthermore, the collection of it is not a joke or the subject for a joke. It is a serious responsibility for the Junior class to shoulder and they should not be made to dig down into their own pockets for the benefit of a few indifferent and tight-fisted pikers.

Every college has its pikers—Kenyon is supposed to have few or none! It is up to you to keep yourself out of the "piker" class and then there will be none. Better get out the old check-book and write out a check today and give it to the representative in your division. If you do it now, you will have it off your mind.

Those Chairs

Did you ever stop to consider what you were doing when you took your knife from your pocket, during the course of some sleepy class, and started to engrave your initials on the arm of a chair, so that all future Kenyon men may know that you—you sat in that chair and, with the aid of a little pen knife made your name immortal? Perhaps you never thought of it, but just at present it might be a good idea to think about it.

Less than a year ago Ascension Hall was refurnished with new chairs. You rejoiced because you would not have to pile a lot of foreign matter on top of the arm to keep your pencil from breaking through the paper into a groove, ingeniously carved by one of your predecessors. But just at present you are putting the arms of our new chairs in a shameful condition. Many of them already have grooves that make it impossible for one to write upon them.

Would you carve the furniture in your own home as a pastime? Hardly. But this is your home for nine months in the year. Such childish amusements ought to be forgotten when a man comes to college. You should be as proud of the college furniture as you are of the college campus and put away your childish habits of destroying property. Think about it the next time your infant desire to destroy seizes you, and your knife finds its way into your hand bent on mutilation and destruction.

First Impressions of a Westerner

On Arriving in Kenyon Park

Ye editor sent the cub reporter to secure an interview with Doctor Selinger, the new professor of Economics and Sociology. Doctor Selinger expressed himself as decidedly pleased with the general tone of things and men hereabouts. To his way of thinking the architectural and horticultural features of the College express a degree of seasoning, culture, and refinement, which only time can bring about. To one who has been in touch with the pioneer conditions in things educational, as the new professor has, there is something peculiarly attractive about the traditions, which Kenyon has had time to work out. The professor was very favorably impressed with the treatment and education in manners, singing, and acting of the freshmen. To him the pajama parade was a new experience in night esthetics, and he declared himself specially pleased with "Slim Jim."

The general tone of Kenyon men, with reference to the refinements and amenities of social intercourse also impressed him favorably. When sounded on the political situation, he was of the opinion that November 7 would put a quietus to the hopes of Mr. Wilson, and would open the way for a sane, constructive program of protection, preparedness and Americanism. He thought that the Kenyon men were not so interested in politics as the men in the far West, and more-so than the undergraduates in Chicago.

President Gives Address

Dr. Peirce, President of Kenyon, made the opening address before the Ohio Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at Cincinnati, Tuesday, Oct. 31. His subject was "The Courage of a Citizen."

The congress was attended by the National President of the organization, representatives from all the states as well as the entire Ohio delegation. The members of the Daughters of the American Revolution number 100,000. Dr. Peirce's address was enthusiastically received.

Meeting Postponed

A meeting of Kenyon men at the University Club in St. Louis scheduled for Oct. 25, at which Dr. Peirce was to make the principal address was cancelled on account of the death of Mrs. Leonard. Dr. Peirce was in St. Louis when news of the death reached him. He immediately cancelled his engagement and hurried to the Leonard home in Cleveland.

STATELY SERVICES MARK FOUNDERS' DAY

Annual Memorial Read and Special Te Deum Sung in Honor of Kenyon Benefactors

Impressive ceremonies marked the celebration of Founders' Day on November 1, when the Founders' Memorial was read at a special morning service.

The service began at half past ten with the customary academic procession. The choir headed the procession, and was followed by the faculty. After the singing of a Te Deum, President Peirce read the Memorial of the Founders, which contained as additions the names of the late Dr. William Thompson, '58 and Mrs. William A. Leonard, late wife of Bishop Leonard of Ohio.

After this ceremony the Holy Communion was celebrated by Dr. Peirce.

SPANISH CLUB ORGANIZED

Lectures in Spanish Language Given by Professor

The initial meeting of the Spanish Club was held Thursday night, Oct. 26. An appreciative audience of some thirty or forty students listened to Senor Tobar de MacMahon's lecture in Spanish on the Latin-American countries.

Though he spoke very slowly and distinctly, those present were able to catch only an occasional word of which they knew the English equivalent.

The club is to convene once a week for a lecture and brief discussion and the Senor is confident that by the end of the fifth or sixth meeting his talks will be understood with a fair degree of comprehension. He bases his confidence on the success of a similar club in New York of which he was the president.

The address and discussions were carried on as they are here, entirely in Spanish. This method has been fully vindicated for Senor Tobar has many letters from old pupils of his, now in good positions, requiring a knowledge of Spanish, attributing their success primarily to their work with him.

Such an opportunity is rare here on the Hill, and also one to be eagerly accepted, especially by those men intending to go into a business or commercial career. As admission to the club does not require enrollment in any of the Spanish classes, a good sized membership should result.

Faculty Picnics

There have been two faculty picnics recently. Dr. and Mrs. Peirce were hosts at a moonlight picnic supper held at the stone quarry, while Mrs. West held a similar party on the Bishop's Backbone.

DR. WEIDA PRESIDES OVER OHIO CHEMISTS

Becomes Acting President of Ohio Branch of the American Chemical Society

Dr. G. F. Weida, head of the chemistry department at Kenyon, has recently become acting President of the Ohio Branch of the American Chemical Society. Meetings of the society are held once every fortnight at the chemical laboratories of Ohio State University.

The position is an honor and responsibility, and speaks well for the standard of chemistry at Kenyon.

Dr. Weida plans to have a meeting of the society in Gambier, and will probably arrange that event for next spring.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED ON SOCIOLOGY

During the past week the library has received a number of books for the department of sociology. These are thoroughly up-to-date works on various sociological questions of the present day. One which is of general interest is Edward A. Steiner's "The Immigrant Tide, Its Ebb and Flow." Mr. Steiner is a professor at Grinnell College in Iowa. His works are easy and interesting reading and his style picturesque.

A book on evolution, by Thompson and Geddes is also on the shelf of new books. This is merely a resume of the subject, but is a well written book. Anyone desiring a general knowledge of the subject, will enjoy this volume.

More original work is probably contained in Vernon L. Kellogg's volume "Darwinism Today." The author makes a point of the fact that evolution and Darwinism are not necessarily synonymous, and explains several other theories which have been advanced to account for the variation of species. A large part of the work is taken up by the arguments for and against Darwinism, working at the matter squarely from both sides.

In addition the Library has recently received from the Trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy the following book on Christian Science by Mary Baker Eddy: Science and Health with Key to the Scripture; also The Life of Mary Baker Eddy by Sibyl Wilbur and The Christian Science Journal (monthly periodical).

This literature has been presented without cost to the library, and is to be placed at the disposal of the reading public as soon as it has been catalogued.

Eight thousand seats have been added to the Yale Bowl in preparation for the Harvard game, making a seating capacity of over 70,000.

SCIENCE CLUB NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

F. B. Dechant, '17, Elected President and Two Meetings Held—New Men Received

The Science club of Kenyon College was organized for the year 1916-17 at a meeting held in the Dempsey room of the Commons on Monday, October 23.

Ralph C. Goode, '15, being the secretary and treasurer of the old club, acted as chairman while the following officers were elected:

President—F. B. Dechant, '17.

Vice Pres.—Philip Twigg, '17.

Sec. and Treas.—C. K. Loomis, '18.

Approximately fifteen members were present at this meeting, all of whom are interested in the work and ready to be made willing recipients of its educational value. After deciding to meet every two weeks, a committee was appointed to arrange the program for future meetings.

The second meeting of the Science club was called to order in the Dempsey room of the Commons with a full attendance. Members of the faculty present were, Professors Allen, Johnson, Walton and Weida.

Aside from the regular routine of business, three exceptionally interesting and instructive papers were read by J. Wendell Southard, '17. O. J. Meyers, '18, and C. D. Williams, '18. All three papers dealt with scientific observations that would be of particular interest to the club.

At the close of the meeting there was a little social gathering in the form of an enjoyable smoker.

PLAY REHEARSALS PUSHED FOR MELODRAMA

With only a week or two remaining before the Reserve game, the Puff and Powder club to a man is working might and main to assure the success of its initial play, "Little Buckshot." Rehearsals are being held regularly and are significant of the fact that the final staging will be successful in every detail. The melodramatic force of the play is being felt more and more as time wears on. As stated in the last issue of the Collegian, this production is being advertised both at Case and Reserve so that a large crowd is expected. Many alumni will return to the Hill on that day to witness the Reserve game so the cast is striving hard to entertain them royally with this exciting melodrama.

Because of poor attendance, chapel services at the University of Kansas have been abandoned.

Yale now has an endowment of $18,431,000.64. Over $2,000,000 of this amount was received during the last fiscal year.

FRESHMAN ELEVENS PLAY CLOSE GAME

Hanna Hall Team Defeats Old Kenyon by Score of 27-0—Playing Unusually Good

Harvard freshmen (Hanna Hall) beat Yale freshmen (Old Kenyon) 27-0 in their annual game at Benson field on November 8.

The early part of the first quarter, Yale had the ball in Harvard's territory, but a blocked punt by Allen gave Harvard the ball and by steady rushes interspersed by forward passes, they put the ball on Yale's 15 yard line. Yale held for downs and punted out to the 30 yd. line. Allen carried the ball back to Yale's 10 yd. line. Thompson punched thru tackle for the first touchdown. Goal from touchdown failed.

Harvard kicked to Yale. Yale failed to gain and lost the ball to Harvard. Allen by a series of rushes and forward passes brought the ball to Yale's 25 yard line, where he drop-kicked. This ended the scoring for first quarter. Score Harvard 9, Yale 0.

Second quarter: Allen took the ball on a thirty yard run and scored a second touchdown. Goal was missed again. Both teams were frequently penalized for offside play. Score—Harvard 15, Yale 0.

Eastman secured two touchdowns in the third quarter, but both trials for goal failed. The third quarter was interrupted by Muelled, '18, to announce that Hughes was leading by 20 electoral votes.

There was no scoring in the last quarter, although Greene made some long runs for the Yale organization.

Altogether the game was fast and snappy, considering the condition of the men, Yale was not as badly outclassed as the score would indicate and showed fight throughout, while the tackling of both teams was unusually sure and hard. Allen and Eastman starred for Harvard, while Green, Close Smith and Graves were most conspicuous for Yale.

Line-up:

Mrs. William A. Leonard Provides Money for Both College and Divinity School

Three bequests, amounting in all to $17,500 are made to Kenyon in the will of the late Mrs. William Andrew Leonard. Two of these sums are for the benefit of theological students and instructors at Bexley Hall, and the third is for the use of the collegiate department.

The interest of $7,500 is set aside as a fund for the education of ministers. A similar fund of $5,000 is devoted to an increase of the salaries of theological instructors.

The collegiate department receives $5,000, to be used for the benefit of the college in any way that the trustees may see fit.

ELECTION RETURNS AROUSE EXCITEMENT

Press Flashes Wired from Columbus to Commons, Where Students Cheer Favorites

Never in recent years has such excitement been aroused in college as characterized the week of the presidential election. Each conflicting rumor was received amid the wildest enthusiasm, which did not subside until the last doubt had been settled, and President Wilson was declared re-elected without the support of New York, Indiana, or Illinois.

On election night President and Mrs. Peirce held open house at the Commons, where returns were received from Columbus until two o'clock in the morning. A good-natured rivalry pervaded the crowd, and each candidate received due applause, until Mr. Hughes was apparently elected. Local returns gave the Republicans a majority of 17 in the village and 1 in the township.

Announcement was also made that Harcourt had gone for Hughes, while the Woman's Club supported Wilson.

The excitement which had died down Tuesday night awoke again at noon Wednesday, when news was received of Wilson's gains in the West. For two days following the Hill was a bedlam of conflicting rumors, and wires were sent to Cleveland, Columbus and one to Los Angeles, for information.

Leading up to the election, the two political clubs boosted their candidates, and got out practically all the college vote.

EPISCOPALIANS ARE MAJORITY ON HILL

Over Fifty Percent of Students Favor
That Church—Various Creeds Discovered

With seventy-one members of the Episcopal church in college that body leads all others, and is more than 50% of the total enrollment of undergraduates. The Presbyterian church comes next, having 25 members in Kenyon.

All but a few students have religious connections of some manner, and many different creeds are represented on the Hill this year.

The churches represented and the number of members in college are as follows:

Episcopal	71
Presbyterian	25
Methodist	12
Congregational	8
Baptist	6
Reformed Church of Christ	4
Roman Catholic	2
Lutheran	2
Christian Science	2
Unitarian	1
United Brethren	1

CONCERT BOOKED FOR WOOSTER

No Other Dates Are Scheduled Until Spring Trip

In connection with the work of the Glee Club for the coming season Leader DeWolf announces that there will be no extended trip taken before Christmas. One engagement has been secured at Wooster on Dec. 8, but it is doubtful if any other dates will be arranged before the spring trip. Because of the favorable showing of the last trip, there will be but little trouble in securing engagements in those cities visited by last year's club.

Sandusky, Mansfield and Painesville have requested concerts which certifies the popularity of the Kenyon Glee Club in those places. The executive committee has granted the club an engagement on the evening of the Senior Prom.

After the Wooster concert a reception will be held in the concert hall for the members of the Glee Club.

Director DeWolf requests suggestions from anyone regarding new music for the club, and especially as to some snappy popular number which would add much to the variety as well as spirit of the proposed concerts.

Ohio State University is to have a trophy room to contain photographs of teams, cups, emblems, and trophies won in athletic contests.

A. C. Dyer

Word has been received of the death of A. C. Dyer, '79, at his home in Kinsley, Kansas.

Mr. Dyer was born in Ohio, and graduated from Kenyon in the class of 1879. He then studied law at the University of Cincinnati, and was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1883.

Moving to Kansas, Mr. Dyer practiced law for several years at Topeka, and later entered into business at Ness City, Kan. He was favorably known among a wide circle of friends in Kinsley as an upright citizen. His wife was Miss Rice, formerly of Harcourt Place School.

Mr. Dyer was a member of the Episcopal Church, and was also affiliated with the Knights of Pythias.

Medical School

Plans have materialized for an immense medical school at the University of Chicago. Several large sums have been given for the establishment, including $1,000,000 from the Rockefeller foundation, and a site from the city of Chicago. The new institute will surpass the largest establishments of the kind in Europe.

The State College of Iowa is building a $35,000 club house to be used for the entertainment of visiting teams. It will contain a tile swimming room, a trophy room, a reception hall, a dressing room, lockers, showers, and bath rooms.

Memorial Service

A memorial service was held at the Church of the Holy Spirit at the time of the funeral of Mrs. W. A. Leonard, wife of Bishop Leonard. The service for the burial of the dead was read by Dr. Weida, Dr. Selinger and the Rev. Mr. Winslow. The funeral took place in Cleveland on Wednesday, Oct. 25, at two o'clock, and was attended by a large number of bishops, clergy, and laity.

REVISION COMMITTEE STILL WADING THROUGH CONSTITUTION

The committee on revising the Assembly constitution, has already commenced work, but is still not ready to make a definite report owing to the chaotic state of the constitution, the committee composed of Davies, '17, Meeker, '17 and Tate, '18 will probably not complete the work of revision until after Thanksgiving. The committee is of the opinion that the simplest method would be to draft a new constitution.

KENYON AMBULANCE FOR FRANCE

Attempt Is Undertaken to Provide Vehicle for Use in Europe
—Money Requested

Plans to provide a Kenyon ambulance for service in the war zone in France have been undertaken by several men in Gambier, and the chances are said to be good for the success of the project.

Professor Larwill, who first suggested the ambulance, states that it would cost about $1,000. While he was in France last summer Professor Larwill saw several Yale and Harvard ambulances, and he feels that Kenyon could help the hospital service in a similar way.

It is planned to take subscriptions for the vehicle, and the present moment is seized, because of the recent lecture at Kenyon, describing the American hospital in Paris.

Further announcement will be made as to the particulars of the undertaking, and it is hoped that both students and alumni will help the project to a successful end.

SHAKESPEARE LECTURE DATED

Dr. C. W. Wallace Will Speak on Great Poet's Works

The first Larwill lecture of the year will be given Thursday evening, Nov. 16, in Philo Hall at 8 p. m. by Dr. Charles William Wallace, recognized as the most distinguished Shakespearean student now living.

In his comprehensive study of Shakespeare Dr. Wallace has made a number of important discoveries of original Shakespearean manuscripts and is able to throw considerable light upon the manner in which Shakespeare wrote as well as upon points of present day stress, which have theretofore never been disclosed.

He is the author of several important books on Shakespeare and his lecture has proven to be highly educational and entertaining.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Such men want comfort AFTER smoking

IT'S NOTICEABLE that more and more substantial men are choosing Fatimas for their steady smoke. There must be some reason for it. Surely, these men would quickly pay a far higher price for another cigarette if it suited them better.

That is just it. No other cigarette can quite give what Fatimas give.

Some other cigarettes taste good, yes. But Fatimas do more—they are comfortable. Not only are they comfortable to the throat and tongue while you smoke them but, much more important, they leave a man feeling keen and "fit" AFTER smoking, even though he smokes more than usual.
