FOOTBALL INTEREST AT EARLY ASSEMBLIES

Dr. Lockert and Abbott Arouse Fighting Spirit for the Football Season

Tentative Plans for a Fall Assembly Dance Initiated

The first regular Assembly of the year was held September 24. The meeting was characterized by a considerable show of spirit. Every man, including the Freshmen, seemed really interested in the serious affairs of the meeting.

The Chairman of the Committee on Hiring a Coach, Captain Abbott, reported that Mr. Patton would be on hand the twenty-fifth of September.

Dr. Lockert spoke at some length and very forcibly on the football situation at Kenyon. His address did much to stir up the fighting spirit of the whole Assembly. He quoted Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade" and drew a parallel between our dauntless little eleven and the valiant "six hundred"—"the some one had blundered" in this case being the esteemed members of the Ohio Conference.

The question of what the Freshmen could do was then considered and both Dr. Lockert and Captain Abbott urged them to come down to the field and offer their assistance on a scrub team in giving the Varsity some practice.

Vacancies on the Dormitory, Honor, and Executive Committees were filled from the respective divisions.

Executive Committee: Second Constitutional Division, J. F. Dudley.

Dormitory Committee: Second Constitutional Division, Fletcher Devin; Fifth Constitutional Division, Leland Gunn; Sixth Constitutional Division, G. B. Schneider.

Sickness in Faculty

Late in the summer, Mrs. Peirce became ill and was taken to Grant Hospital, Columbus, for a serious operation. Mrs. Peirce passed through the operation successfully and, we are pleased to announce, is convalescing quite rapidly.

Just at the beginning of the college year, Dr. Manning was taken sick with the mumps. For a while, Dr. Manning was quite ill, but, happily, his recovery is now complete.

WOOSTER MANAGES TO HOLD KENYON 0-0

Men Play a Scrappy Game and Often Threaten Wooster's Goal

Kenyon, in her opening game of the season, outplayed her opponent, Wooster, all through the game, though the score shows a 0-0 tie. The game, played on Benson Field, revived everybody's football hopes.

Before the game it was publicly admitted that the prospects for a successful season were none too bright, inasmuch as the war had hit athletics hard. Every one had coached himself to celebrate the anticipated moral victory. After the game, the thought of moral victories was forgotten: the team had shown a punch and fight that forecast a season of real victories.

The game was all Kenyon. In only two ways did Wooster surpass her—in weight and luck. Wooster was outplayed and outfought in every department. The play was in Wooster's territory throughout the game and only once did she get the ball beyond Kenyon's forty-yard line.

In the first quarter, Kenyon worked the ball from her own thirty-yard line to Wooster's ten-yard line on hard line smashes by Abbott and Snook. Here, however, the final punch was lacking for a touchdown and a drop kick failed.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first in that Kenyon constantly threatened her opponent's goal.

OHIO ATHLETIC CONFERENCE HOLDS IMPORTANT SESSION

No Freshmen Will Play Football

The Ohio Athletic Conference determined to maintain to the full all athletic rules in its session at Columbus, Sept. 21.

Though all of the colleges in the Conference have lost many of their best football men by their enlistment, the sentiment in the conference was strongly against lowering the standard of eligibility. Maintaining ideals in sportsmanship is more important than putting out good football teams. Consequently, no Freshmen or men ordinarily ineligible will play in conference games this year.

Dr. Reeves was re-elected President of the Conference. Hiram College, on probation before the Conference last year, sent a delegate to the session.

KENYON HAS REGULAR MILITARY DEPARTMENT

Major Ward Is Appointed Military Instructor at Kenyon

By rule of the Board of Trustees, last commencement, instruction in military science and drill was made a regular part of the college curriculum. Captain Parsons, of Mt. Vernon, was made Military Instructor and required drill was arranged for on two afternoons of the week. An elective course in Military Science was to be offered. However, just the Friday before college opened Captain Parsons was ordered by the government to report for duty. This left the college without an instructor in a required course at the very opening of the year.

However, Kenyon has fortunately secured the services of Major Ward, who, for many years, was in the Ohio National Guard. Lately of the Champlin Printing Company, Columbus, Major Ward has severed all business connections to devote his time to the service of the nation.

Major Ward will be on the Hill Mondays and Tuesdays of each week. The Collegian Room, in the library, has been assigned to him as an office, where he will be pleased to meet any men interested in military matters.

Major Ward first met the entire student body on Monday, Oct. 1, when he gave a preliminary talk. Work was started in earnest the following day. Two companies were formed.

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF DEAN JONES

The Reverend Hosea William Jones, D. D., Dean of Bexley Hall, died at Gambier, July 16, after a brief illness. For twenty-two years Dean Jones had been connected with the faculties of Kenyon College and Bexley Hall.

Dr. Jones was born in Delaware, Ohio, on September 16, 1846, and received his training for the ministry at Bexley Hall and at King's College, Oxford. He was ordained a clergyman of the Church in 1870. Then, for fifteen years, he held various parochial charges. He returned in 1885, to Gambier, to become professor of Ecclesiastical History at Bexley Hall, in which capacity he was acting at the time of his death.

In affairs of the Church, Dean Jones was very prominent, being, time after time, one of the four Ohio delegates.

KENYON OUTPLAYS MT. UNION 14-0

Varsity Wins On Straight Football-- Holds Foe for Three Downs On One Yard Line

Unfortunate Accident Puts One Mt. Union Player Out of the Game For Season

Kenyon's superiority over Mt. Union on the gridiron was forcibly displayed when she invaded Alliance on October 6 and, by clearly outplaying the Mounts, defeated that team by the score of 14-0. Although it was supposed that the complete loss of Jerpe to the team and Stephens's temporary injury would weaken the line-up, Berkley and Mueller, who filled their respective positions, played exceptionally well and were great factors in the victory. Only once did Mt. Union threaten to score and then they were repulsed.

Captain Abbott won the toss and chose to receive. After seeing back and forth for several minutes, the ball again came into Kenyon's possession. The Mauve then started rushing and placed the ball on Mt. Union's 30-yard line. Abbott's signal was called, but when the ball was passed it struck him on the shoulder and bounded away. Mueller finally recovered it 17 yards nearer the Mounts goal line. Three quick plays put the ball forward thirteen yards. Abbott's signal was again given, but this time there was no fumble and he went smashing over the top of a heap of players for the first touchdown. Abbott then kicked goal. Score, 7-0.

In the second quarter, Mt. Union started off with a rush and carried the

MATHER GIVES COLLEGE $100,000

Last June during Commencement week, Samuel Mather of Cleveland, materially increased his previous gifts to the College by a liberal addition of $100,000 to the common endowment fund of Kenyon College.

The interest by, the donor's expressed wish, will go in part to provide pensions for the clergymen at Kenyon College and Bexley Hall and the balance is to be added to the professors' salaries. A bulletin to this effect was published earlier in the year but the details are not generally known. This is the largest individual gift for the academic year 1916-17.

E. E. PATTON TAKES CHARGE OF FOOTBALL

Comes at Critical Moment in Kenyon Athletics

Mr. E. E. Patton, one time Captain of Ohio Wesleyan's football team and all-star tackle, will have charge of Kenyon athletics during the foot-ball season.

Mr. Patton has had a great deal of experience both playing and coaching football. He played fullback or tackle during his three years of eligibility at Ohio Wesleyan. Since leaving college he has coached teams at Moores Hill, Indiana, and at Hiram College.

With but fifty-five eligible men in college (and three of the most fit of those recently ruled out by conference or college rules), the least of the Coach's troubles will be picking the team. Most of the men who are out are green at the game, and the average weight as much below that of the normal college team. Coach Patton's job is no easy one.

But the showing made in the Wooster game certainly tells that the old time spirit is still going strong. With four days' practice and with the right spirit in the men, Coach Patton has done remarkably well.

Let's all get behind Coach Patton and give him a long and loud "What's the matter with coach" for, believe me fellows he's all right.

and class work and drill began. W. V. Mueller, '18 and A. Remy, '18, were appointed to serve as captains for the ensuing year and they took charge of their respective companies, A and B, immediately. Other commissioned and non-commissioned officers had not been appointed at the time of going to press, but all the men were being given a chance to show their military ability.

So far, only the very rudiments, such as the facings and a few marchings have been taken up. By the end of the year, however, the two companies are expected to be able to execute practically all the movements of the infantry, both close and extended order.

Several hikes, besides a few days' camp toward the end of the year are being planned.

All the men are ordered to appear in O. D. shirts on October 15; the rest of the uniform will be secured later.

Attendance upon the military course for a period of an hour and a half every Monday and Tuesday is required of every one in college. To those who finish the course with distinction, one and one half hours credit towards graduation will be given.

Besides the required course, an elective course, one hour a week, is to be offered by Major Ward to men especially interested in military tactics and drill.

THE KENYON RIFLE CLUB

An Organization that is Especially Timely

Renewed interest is being shown in the Rifle Club. It offers a good deal for the money, 120 rounds of Krag ammunition a year and the use of the rifles on the range; individual medals, issued from Washington, if a man can win them; use of the in-door 25 yard ranges in the basement of Rosse Hall, for .22 practice; membership in the National Rifle Association of America, with admission to the Army ranges; the right to wear infantry uniform, provided that a bar of rifle green be on the collar or sleeve; all this for a dollar a year, and twenty-five cents initiation fee.

A man can qualify for the grade of sharpshooter, expert, or mere marksman without interfering with his studies; he gets the best possible training in the 'hikes' to the range, and in shooting his scores; and it is sport of the finest kind. At the last meeting of the Ohio Athletic Conference it was voted that all institutions in the Conference be asked to introduce rifle-shooting as an intercollegiate sport.

General Pershing's last report to Washington, and incidentally to the American people—leaves no one in doubt as to the duty of every man to qualify as a rifleman who can do so. The Kenyon Rifle Club offers more advantages for rifle-shooting than any other college in the state, and every man should make the most of them.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS MEETING

The Senior Class, though small in numbers, decided to give the usual Prom in February and to keep up the student activities as much as possible during this war year, at a meeting held recently.

Plans for a banquet to be held soon were discussed and it was decided to hold a banquet immediately after the football season. The greatly diminished numbers of the class seemed to bind the men all the more closely together and a desire to hold class functions was evinced by all.

The singing at the Commons was made a matter of discussion. The revival of many of the old songs which seem to have been forgotten was advocated and plans were made for distributing copies of a few of the best songs of other days.

The class considers itself lucky in not being laden with debt by the edition of the "Reville" and will make every effort to graduate free from debt. The payment of several assessments long due for the "Reville" and for the Junior Reception will help the class finances considerably.

The following officers were elected: President—L. H. Tate. Vice President—M. V. Mueller. Secretary—A. Remy. Treasurer—W. H. Catt.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS BECOME BRIGHTER

Many Upperclassmen Are Out--Much Spirit Shown

Now, before you chronic grumblers take your mallets out and begin your fall knocking, look down Benson Fieldway some afternoon and consider football prospects. For, truly, Kenyon boasts many this year.

Remember, you older men, in 1915 when freshmen were kept out of the grand game for the first time, what impenetrable gloom settled over the football problem? Bring to mind the sheer agony that manifested itself when the hopeful ones had to check stars like White and Gordon, not mentioning our present captain, from the available list. Well, the proposition this year isn't totally dissimilar.

The cream of the varsity is gone, we are not to be allowed to play any freshman material, contrary to the general understanding, and are forced to rely on a short crew, eligible physically and scholastically to help Kenyon play out its 1917 schedule. Looks a little stormy, doesn't it?

On the credit side of the sheet we have much though. To begin with, Patton seems to strike pretty close to the Kenyon idea of a coach. Patton has started well and the opinion prevails that the end of the season will conclude as satisfactory a year as circumstances can possibly warrant. And—we boast a captain of indomitable energy and a football player of such merit that with the customary support given men of his ability would, in an ordinary season make that select All-Ohio circle. Abbott's work cannot be commended too highly.

Wendell Love is a veteran from whom much is expected. He knows football and the tackle position in particular. The Wooster game, among other things, showed what a consistent fight from Love may be counted on in future battles. Snook proved a revelation in this game. He is getting under way faster, pushing harder and blocking better than he did last year. Abbott's faultless interference helps Snook much when he carries the ball, but much credit is due him for using his head and for playing infinitely better football than he did in 1916. He is at right half to stay.

Read at left half will round into a valuable man. He is running too high and appears to suffer a little from stage-fright. His good tackling and blocking should help him keep his place. Tod Stevens, our "war" quarter-back seems to have plenty of speed and uses his good head discreetly in directing the onslaught. The Wooster game saw him handling punts well and brought him out in the role of a fairly clever dodger. His size and weight dose not seem to lessen his usefulness to the team.

Graves and Eastman are good end material and are doubtless there for the rest of the year. Graves mused a few forward passes for Wooster and although his game wasn't spectacular, there was plenty to commend in it. Eastman tackles hard and gets to the ball quickly. He has brains and applies them. Remy is playing excellent football. Against Wooster he was a power at tackle and most of the time appeared to be getting two men out of the way.

Besides this, Maxwell, Schneider and Mueller are coming along and promise well. Holley, Merkey, McNeil, Young, Andrews, Harper and Sidnell, all new material make up the rest of the string. Rowe who played in all but a few of last year's contests promises to be out shortly. All in all things look decidedly bright for Kenyon 1917 football.

Honor Committee: Fifth Constitutional Division, W. W. Graham.

Mr. Dudley was elected Cheer Leader.

The singing at the Commons was also discussed and Mr. Hohly urged every man in college to look over a song book and become familiar with some of the songs again, and then to sing.

The regular October Assembly, October 1, was practically a repetition of the first in showing the determined spirit of the men in college to make the best of poor prospects for a successful football season. Kenyon has taken a new lease on life and, instead of being cast down at possible gloomy prospects, is showing again her famous old time fighting spirit.

Captain Abbott urged the Freshmen to come out and organize a football team. He said that there were good chances of several games with Mt. Vernon.

Mr. Dudley asked for the support of the college in the production of the Reveille. The increased price of getting out a book makes it necessary for every one to pay his assessment. The Junior Class intends to put out a worthy book.

Mr. Miller suggested that action be taken to secure a special train for the Reserve game. President Catt appointed a committee to make arrangements for such a train if possible.

A fall dance, to raise money to buy magazines and books for the soldiers, was suggested by Mr. Beach. This suggestion seemed to meet with the hearty approval of all. A committee was appointed to arouse interest in a dance and make plans for it.

Cheer Leader Dudley had much to say about the cheering at the Wooster game. He asked the men to stay in a more compact formation and to put more energy into their cheering.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the "Thrill."

You Are A Freshman

"You are a Freshman." As a new man you hear that phrase almost as soon as you step off of the train. What a lot of possibilities are wrapped up in these few words! They mean that you must not smoke on the Campus, speak until spoken to, and many other seemingly foolish and incomprehensible things.

Consider, if you will, however, the deeper, more significant possibilities in these words: you are a Freshman. First of all they mean that you are in a new world, surrounded by new ideas and ideals. You are going to be measured by a new standard. Perhaps you come from a more or less sheltered home. Now, for the first time, you stand on your own feet. The time has come when you must make your way alone. The real worth of your character is going to be judged by rigorous standards. You are to be gauged on what you can do and not on empty promises or vain boastings.

College is nothing but a bank. You deposit your brains and interest and if properly cared for, they will yield great interest on the original investment. That interest is the great Treasure House of Knowledge on which you have to draw in after life.

Now, I ask you, is it not worth more to you, when you step out of college to meet the problems of life, to know that you are prepared than to feel that, after spending your substance in riotous living, you are empty-handed and face the demands of life with nothing but a deficit on your mental and moral bank-book?

Unfortunately, you are a Freshman and may, perhaps, refuse to consider your first year at Kenyon seriously. Truly that is a misfortune, and when you have reached your years of discretion you will look back a sadder if not a wiser man on the days that drew no interest.

The Play's the Thing

Is football a sport? This seems to be a mooted question when football is discontinued anywhere merely because certain stars are not back in college and the outlook for a winning team is not good. In a college where football is a real sport, no players, however excellent they may be, are so necessary that football cannot be played without them.

The man had the right idea who said, "Kenyon will play football as long as there are eleven men eligible." We are in football to win games and we want as many stars as we can get, but just because one man or two—or fifty, do not return to college, we are not going to quit fighting.

The team is rapidly rounding into shape and growing stronger every day. Every football squad has suffered from the war, and every football squad has not learned to fight under difficulties as ours has. Consequently our prospects this year are good and are growing better.

Now, we who do not get out on Benson Field every day must realize that football calls for sacrifice. There is not a man on the squad who came to college to play football. And football fame doesn't get a man through his courses. Indeed, often it seems to be used as a black mark against a man, when the final reckoning comes. Playing football means the loss of practically all leisure.

The men on the squad deserve our backing not only for the fight they show in the games, but also for the college spirit they manifest in going out under difficulties.

Did You Ever Consider

That, if the men who are always talking about the amount of work they have to do would spend the time that they take in telling others about their troubles in some useful occupation, they would have a great deal more leisure?

That the "cockiest" last year's Freshmen make the best Sophomores? But I wonder what sort of Juniors and Seniors the same men will make?

That the men who sprint for chapel every morning often do not manage to get a seat as far up in the church as their number of years in college should entitle them to?

That old jests are the best? The perennial humor in "up in the air, Freshman," addressed to an Upper-classman, grows better with age.

CHANGE IN TREASURER

This fall semester sees the treasurer-ship of Kenyon College pass from out of individual hands and placed in the control of the Guardian Savings and Trust Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

This company will act as a repository for all funds of the college corporation and represent it in all financial transactions. Mr. W. A. Ackerman of Mount Vernon was the Treasurer in 1916-17.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ORGANIZES BUSINESS

The Most Important Committee of the Assembly Starts Work

The Executive Committee held its first important meeting of the year at the Commons, September 25, with Dr. Allen presiding. The committee consisting of Stevens, Schneider, Mueller, Pedlow, Snook, Jerpe and Dudley, and the managers of the various school activities were present.

The nominations of R. W. Maxwell, '18, as Business Manager of the Collegian and of T. W. Wiseman, '18, as Manager of the Glee Club were ratified.

The suggestion was made that the tennis courts be put into better shape and Tennis Manager Weida was granted a budget to carry out the suggestion.

A greater effort than usual was made to keep the budgets as small as possible. The committee realizes that the strictest possible economy is necessary this year if the Assembly is to be kept out of debt.

DEATH OF W. W. SANT

During the past summer, word was received of the death of William Webster Sant, Class of 1914. Mr. Sant died in a military hospital at Cairo, Egypt, on June 23, while he was serving with the Young Men's Christian Association of the British Army.

In the death of Mr. Sant, Kenyon suffered its first loss of the war and a brilliant career was cut short.

Mr. Sant graduated from Kenyon with high honors and was one of the two Kenyon men ever to receive a Rhodes Scholarship. He went into residence at Lincoln College, Oxford, in September, 1914, and remained there until he became attached to the service in the autumn of 1915.

FRESHMAN ARE VANDALS

The night before the Cane Rush the Freshmen spent about an hour, from one to two in the morning, in one of the twin strawstacks near the bridge on the road running east from the post office. A few days ago, they got a bill for thirty dollars' damages to the stack. But even at the present price of straw, there is room for doubt as to whether thirty-six Freshmen could do thirty dollars' damage to one ton of straw. Upholding Kenyon traditions, the Freshmen have taken no notice of the bill.

Dormitory Committee Elects Chairman

President Peirce called a meeting of the Dormitory Committee, October 3. President Peirce reminded the members of the serious nature of their duties and asked for their support in the strict enforcement of the dormitory rules. The committee elected R. W. Maxwell, '18, Chairman.

FRESHMEN GET CANE NUMERALS

They Defeat the Sophomores In the Annual Rush, 17-7

The Freshmen defeated the Sophomores, 17-7 in the annual Cane Rush. Early in the morning the "Class of '21" tied up and disqualified all of the Sophomores, but the judges impelled perhaps more by ideas of sport than by a desire for justice allowed everyone to enter the rush, alleging that both classes violated the rules of the contest in the initial scrap. The Cane Rush proper was rather tame compared to those of several previous years and the Freshmen won easily.

The Freshmen left the Hill early and the Sophomores followed an hour and a half later. After spending several weary hours marching under the direction of several Juniors, and sleeping for a while under a stack of straw, which has since become famous, the Freshmen got the report that their opponents were shut up in Rosse Hall.

The Freshmen made a quick return to Gambier, sneaked up through Benson Field, and took their stand before Rosse Hall. There was a moment's hesitation and then "The Sophs are going to be hung" sprang up as loud as the tired and timid Freshmen could sing.

This was expected to bring the Sophomores out, but failed to do so. At one time, the door to Rosse Hall swung open and the hearts of all the Freshmen started playing "Home, Sweet Home." But the opening of the door was a false alarm, for just one Sophomore stuck his head out and yelled, "Come on up."

The Juniors then gave up hope of starting a fight that night and ordered their "army" to go to bed. The Freshmen went into the East Division, where all but a few guards got some sleep.

About five o'clock in the morning, some one gave the alarm that the "Sophs" were coming out. Though the alarm proved false, all of the Freshmen, now thoroughly awake, decided to besiege Rosse Hall again.

Here the two classes exchanged compliments, but there was no action until twenty-five minutes after six. Then Captain Jerpe's entire horde came rushing down the steps of Rosse Hall and the fight began.

However, the Freshmen greatly outnumbered the Sophomores and after a tussle of ten minutes' duration, all of the Sophomores were tied up and dragged to the judges.

The judges claimed that the rules were violated by both classes and allowed the whole Sophomore Class to enter the rush proper.

The Cane Rush was held on the Campus between Ascension Hall and the Library, late on Saturday morning. The Freshmen reached the cane first and won the rush by mere weight of numbers, 17-7. The numerals "1921" are therefore engraved on the old cane, and once more the historic relic is stowed away, waiting for the numerals "1922."

to the General Convention. He was the author of "A Half Year in the Prayer Book."

The following resolution was spread upon the minutes of the faculty:

The Faculty of Kenyon College regrets to record, at the first meeting of the scholastic year, the sudden death of the Reverend Hosea W. Jones, D. D., Dean of Bexley Hall and Professor of Church History. Throughout a lifetime of devotion to Bexley Hall and Kenyon College, Dr. Jones had become the friend and adviser of generations of students and alumni. As a colleague Dr. Jones's strong character gave to his relations with this Faculty stimulus and interest; he was a candid friend, a generous opponent; he did not disguise his convictions, but he enforced them with courtesy and with a wide understanding of human nature. As a scholar and historian Dr. Jones exhibited a rare faculty in discriminating between temporary and permanent values; and it is due to his memory to add that mere accumulation of facts, uncontrolled by the historical imagination, found little favor in his appraisement. Nor was Dr. Jones less conscious of literary art in historical composition: to destroy the interest of human evidence by employing a crude or inefficient style was to him inexcusable.

Not without effort can the Faculty of Kenyon College reconcile the loss of the wise humor, the ripe judgment, the manly personality of Dr. Jones. September 17, 1917.

BISHOP WILLIAMS DETAINED IN FRENCH PORT

The Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, Kenyon, '09, was detained in a French port, recently, and subjected to a minute examination. All of his papers, books and letters were sent to the prefecture of police and the delay caused Bishop Williams a great deal of inconvenience.

A suspect named Bishop arrived on the ship with Bishop Williams and the French officials confused the title with the name and detained the wrong person.

Bishop Williams is on a mission to make a general survey of Red Cross work in France.

THE FRESHMEN ARE SURPRISED

Another Kenyon Tradition Is Upheld

On their return from President Peirce's reception some of the Freshmen were unpleasantly reminded of everyday existence, after their short flight to the rarefied altitudes of Gambier society, through finding a part of their furniture to be among the missing, and some, unfortunately, among the wounded.

The beds of all the Fresh in one division had accumulated in one room, in such disorder that reassembly seemed a hopeless task. But with the energy and determination shown previously in the Cane Rush, they set to work, and soon each had extracted from the tangle enough pieces to make one complete bed, which he put together as best he might.

Thus one more 'Kenyon Tradition' was given another year's lease of life, although the obsequies would have been cheerfully attended by the greater portion of the student body.

KENYON OUTPLAYS

ball well into Kenyon's territory, but were held for downs. Abbott punted, but the Mounts soon showed that their renewed drive was not to be denied them. By a series of slashing attacks on the line and spectacular end runs, interspersed with a forward pass, the up-state team carried the ball to the 1 yard line. Here the "old fight," for which Kenyon is noted, came to the front and on three attempted line bucks, Mt. Union failed to gain an inch. A forward pass was then tried as a last resort, but "Hack" knocked the ball to the ground before the Mount's waiting end could gather it in. Abbott then punted out of danger and Mt. Union's one chance to score was lost.

The third quarter found the two teams see-sawing up and down the field with Kenyon having a slight advantage. At one time, when Mt. Union had the ball, Quarterback Zellar broke through the line on a buck. "Hack" and "Bill" Mueller rushed forward, both hitting Zellar at the same instant. He went down in a heap with a dislocated right elbow and will probably be out for the remainder of the season.

In the last quarter, the play was almost entirely in Mt. Union's territory. It was in the early stages of this quarter that the quarterback playing in Zellar's place displayed very poor judgment. Mt. Union had the ball on its own 25-yard line. As line bucks and end runs failed to gain, a forward pass signal was called. The play started all right, but Abbott, ever on the job, snatched it out of the air and skirted the opponents left end 30 yards for a touchdown. He kicked goal again. Score, 14-0. Kenyon received the kick-off and, as a result of a few bucks and a 25-yard run by "Eddie" Read, was well on its way to another touchdown when time was called.

All in all, Kenyon men may well feel proud of Coach Patton and his comparatively green team. There are still a few rough spots in the teamwork, but this will be obliterated before the season progresses much further.

The lineup and summary:

Kenyon (14)	Mt. Union (0)
Eastman l. e.	Lichty
Remy l. t.	Eckis
Seibold l. g.	Conrad
Berkey c.	Brown
Maxwell f. g.	Opp
Love r. t.	Ramsayer
Graves r. e.	Ellbridge
Mueller q. b.	Zellar
Reed l. h.	McCaskey
Snook r. h.	Allott
Abbott f. b.	Berkle

Substitutions—Kenyon: Rowe for Remy. Mt. Union: Allott for Zellar; D. Hart for Allott. Touchdowns: Abbott 2. Goals: Abbott 2. Referee—Snyder (Harvard). Umpire—Hogan (Hillsdale). Head linesman—Steele (Ohio Medics). Time of periods—12½ minutes.

WOOSTER MANAGES TO

Wooster, however, made a firm stand in the pinches. The half ended with Kenyon in possession of the ball on Wooster's thirty-yard line.

Kenyon received at the beginning of the second half. Again the Mauve and White smashed down the field on straight football. Once Wooster held for downs but fumbled on Abbott's punt, which Remy recovered on Wooster's fifteen-yard line. The quarter ended on the next play with Kenyon eight yards from the goal.

The first three plays of the fourth quarter placed Kenyon within two yards of victory. Again the final punch was lacking and Wooster took the ball on her own one-yard line and punted out of danger.

As is to be expected of the first game of the season, the play was somewhat slow; nothing but straight football was used by either team; and fumbling, penalties and times-out were frequent.

However, throughout the game Kenyon exhibited a constant drive and steadiness remarkable for a game so early in the season. Her spirit of fight fully upheld the tradition of Kenyon teams. The scoreless game by no means indicates the way in which Kenyon outplayed her opponents.

According to expectations, Captain Abbott played his usual brilliant game; Stevens' return of punts was excellent; the line played a steady, wide-awake game, and the fact that no particular stars can be singled out shows the efficiency and harmony of the team.

Kenyon is pleased with the outcome of her men's first game and is expecting a big percentage of victories during the season. The line-up:

Kenyon	Wooster
Eastman l. e.	Stiffler
Remy l. t.	Gormley
Schneider l. g.	Hall
Jerpe c.	Duncan
Maxwell r. g.	Laporte
Love r. t.	Loge
Graves r. e.	Murray
Stevens q. b.	Brannon
Read l. h.	White

Snook r. h. Quimby
Abbott f. b. Roderick
Time of quarters: 10, 12½, 10, 12½ minutes. Substitutions: Kenyon, Seibold for Schneider, Mueller for Stevens; Wooster, Watason for Brannon. Referee: Mr. Wells, Ohio State. Umpire: Mr. Hyer, O. W. U.

At the first meeting of the Commons Committee, composed of Carpenter, Tate, Maxwell, Wiseman, Hohly, Remy and Snook, Wiseman was elected chairman. The Chairman of the Committee acts with two members of the faculty on the Commons Board.

AULMNI NOTES

Phil Twigg, '16, at Base Hospital 23, Buffalo, was recently made a Sergeant.

H. W. Patterson, '07, is now Assistant Advertising Manager of the Art Metal Construction Company, Jamestown, N. Y.

Four members of the Class of 1912 were in attendance at the Reserve Officers' Training Camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison: A. G. Goldsmith, E. C. Dempsey, Keith Lawrence and W. D. Cook.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASM TAKES THE COMMONS BY STORM

More football enthusiasm was shown at the Commons the evening before the Mt. Union game than has ever been shown in recent years except at the Reserve rallies.

The customary singing had been started and, though the songs were sung heartily, there was no especial indication in them of what was about to happen. Then someone yelled, "Speech, Abbott." That started things. Abbott's slight hesitation made the demand grow more insistent and after the Football Captain had reassured the student body of his firm determination to win from Mount Union, cheers and wild shouting, whistling and stamping were the order for several minutes. Individual members of the team and Coach Patten voiced their sentiments and the keynote seemed to be unquestionably to beat Mount Union.

The fact that we succeeded next day in trouncing Mount Union may be attributed in no small degree to the spirited send-off given the squad this night.

When the returns came in Saturday night, the continuous ringing of the bell for an hour and a half was substantial evidence that the result was gratifying.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS AND REVELLE BOARD

The Class of 1919 met in the Dempsey Room, Monday afternoon, September 24. Election of officers first occupied the attention of the class. The following men were chosen: President, J. Lloyd Snook; Vice Pres., John F. Dudley; Secretary, Edward Pedlow; Treasurer, Thomas W. Wiseman.

Election of "Reveille" Editor and subsequent appointment of Associate Editors followed. John F. Dudley was named Editor-in-Chief to succeed Frederick P. Young, formerly elected but now in the national service. The "Reveille" Board is now composed of: Editor-in-Chief, John F. Dudley; Associate Editors, J. Lloyd Snook, E. G. Carpenter, T. W. Wiseman, Roy Heck; Art Editor, Leland C. Gunn; Business Manager, Carter S. Miller; Advertising Manager, James W. Beach.

The class expressed its determination to push through the 1918 "Reveille," in spite of the small number of men in college.

TUNE OF "THE THRILL" TO BE USED IN ARMY

President Peirce read a letter before the men at the Commons, Thursday evening, October 12, from W. H. Kite, '09, requesting permission to use the tune of the Thrill as a regimental song for the Three Hundred and Thirtieth Infantry. Mr. Catt called a special meeting of the Assembly and a motion to grant the requested permission was unanimously carried.

As there are several Kenyon men in the 330th both as officers and in the ranks, the use of the tune of "The Thrill" is peculiarly fitting. The suggestion of the tune came first from a Reserve man who had heard and admired "The Thrill" in his college days.

President Peirce also announced that he had received a photograph of the Kenyon ambulance which is to be framed and hung in the library. He read, besides, a telegram signed Wattley and Lowry congratulating the football team on the victory over Mt. Union.

Three New Courses Offered

Three new courses, given this semester, have not been announced in the college catalogue: Economics 15 under Dr. Selinger, History 13, under Dr. Cahall, and a course in Telegraphy offered by Professor Johnson.

Economics 15 is a study in salesmanship, business correspondence, and advertising. The number of courses in business now offered in the curriculum shows the growing demand for studies which are of direct benefit to the man who intends to go into business.

History 13 is especially timely. The course is a study in Imperialism. Dr. Cahall will show how the discoveries of the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries created imperialistic ambitions in the European nations and how the desire for domination has always led to war and continues to do so even to this day. No text-book is employed and the course is given along graduate lines.

About twenty men are taking Professor Johnson's course in practical telegraphy. This course, instituted at the request of the government is aimed to train men to proficiency in sending and receiving telegraphic messages. The need of expert telegraphers in the Army is great.

A very interesting little machine is used to send stock messages. A roll of paper much like a miniature roll of player-piano music allows an electrical contact to be made at desired intervals, and creates the dots and dashes.

ACHIEVEMENT

Twenty-five years ago the General Electric Company was founded.

Since then, electricity has sent its thrill through the whole structure of life.

Eager to turn wheels, to lift and carry, to banish dark, to gather heat, to hurl voices and thoughts across space, to give the world new tools for its work — electricity has bent to man's will.

Throughout this period the General Electric Company has held the great responsibilities and high ideals of leadership.

It has set free the spirit of research.

It has given tangible form to invention, in apparatus of infinite precision and gigantic power.

And it has gone forth, co-operating with every industry, to command this unseen force and fetch it far to serve all people.

By the achievements which this company has already recorded may best be judged the greater ends its future shall attain, the deeper mysteries it yet shall solve in electrifying more and more of the world's work.
