BARTEL, OBERLIN, IS WINNER IN THE OHIO INTERCOLLEGIATE TOURNAMENT

*Oberlin Star Has Easy Time
Disposing Of All Contestants; Doubles Are Lacking Because Of Bad Weather*

Fighting his way through the preliminaries and early rounds in easy fashion by his defeat of Willier (Wooster), Muth (O. W. U.) and Kilgore (Kenyon), Bartel of Oberlin won the championship of the Ohio Intercollegiate Tennis tournament by his masterful triumph over Friedman of Ohio State on Saturday, May 24 at Columbus.

The major part of the tournament was staged on the local courts, but a heavy rain Thursday night and early Friday morning made it clearly impossible to play on the courts for several days and thus it was, that the teams went to Columbus where the singles were finished, but no doubles played at all.

One of the biggest surprises of the tournament and that which brought joy to the heart of every Kenyon man, was Kilgore's victory over Wirthwein of Ohio State. Wirthwein had beaten Kilgore with some ease at Columbus earlier in the season, but Kilgore came back strong "in his own back yard" and played the State man to a standstill, finally winning from him by the score, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

In his next match, Kilgore was sent against Bartel of Oberlin, the winner of the championship, and although "Gus" appeared to have a slight attack of stage fright at the start of the contest, Bartel taking the first set, 6-1, he staged a come-back in the second set and ran the Oberlin man all over the court, finally losing, however 8-6.

McConnaughy of Denison defeated "Hal" Walton in straight sets, 6-0 and 6-1. Despite the score, the match was a close one throughout and every point that McConnaughy won was a great effort and after much volleying.

The results of the matches were as follows:

McConnaughy (Denison) beat Dunbar (Wooster) 6-3, 6-1; Barret (Oberlin) defaulted to Walton (Kenyon); Bartel (Oberlin) beat Willier (Wooster) 6-1, 6-1; Muth (O. W. U.) beat Willer (Denison) 11-9, 5-7, 6-0.

In the second round, Friedman (O. S. U.) beat Thomas (O. W. U.) 6-3, 7-5; McConnaughy (Denison) beat Walton (Kenyon) 6-0, 6-1; Bartel (Oberlin) beat Muth (O. W. U.) 7-5, 6-4; Kilgore (Kenyon) beat Wirthwein (O. S. U.) 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

In the semi-finals, Friedman (O. S. U.) beat McConnaughy (Denison) 6-3, 7-5 while Bartel (Oberlin) beat Kilgore (Kenyon) 6-1, 8-6.

Finals—Bartel (Oberlin) beat Friedman (O. S. U.) 6-4, 6-1.

Brubaker of Wesleyan was chosen president of the association for the next year and it is very probable that the meet will be held at Columbus.

Tentative Program Is Arranged To Include Concrete Grandstand And Dressing Rooms; Alumni Will Be Asked For Help

With a subscription of over $600 from the small student body alone, and several promises from alumni and friends of the college, prospects for a newly constructed athletic field and improvements in Rosse Hall loom up big for next year.

Last year, an Athletic Endowment Fund was started for Kenyon; a committee consisting of H. C. Devin and L. T. Cromley of Mt. Vernon and Dr. L. B. Walton was selected to care for the work while a student committee secured some few subscriptions from the men in college. However, the advent of the S. A. T. C. into the college last fall interrupted the plans materially and the matter was let drop until this spring when the urgent need of a good athletic field where Kenyon might compete with her opponents in football, baseball and track successfully, rose again. The result was that a committee was appointed among the members of the student body and temporary plans were laid.

A tentative program, as decided upon by the members of the student committee, is as follows: reconstructed football field, new quarter mile running track with a 220 yard straight-away, new baseball diamond, track equipment, concrete grandstand with space below for two dressing rooms, showers, and one store room; the improvements in Rosse Hall will probably include eventually an indoor track, swimming pool, renovated dressing rooms and showers.

For years, Kenyon has not turned out as good athletic teams as she is capable of producing.

Now, since the war is over, Kenyon will be back on a normal basis probably next year and her greatest needs at the present are just the improvements that have been named above. The men in college have shown that they want better athletics by liberally subscribing to the fund and they are supremely confident and happy in the knowledge that their alumni will heartily endorse their action by over-subscribing the remainder of the fund.

SOPHOMORE HOP IS DISTINCT SUCCESS; BIGGEST IN YEARS

Rosse Hall Is Decorated In Gorgeous
Manner; Color Scheme,
Green And White

EXPECTATIONS EXCEEDED

More Than 100 Guests Are Present;
Informal Is Most Pleasant Affair

Magnificent, elaborate and gorgeous in its every appointment, the Sophomore Hop, given by the class of 1921 on Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, was a most pronounced and distinct success in its entirety.

Transfigured into veritable fairyland by the untiring and inspired efforts of the decorating committee, Rosse Hall never appeared so beautiful as at the Hop. With green and white as the color scheme, the interior of the hall bespoke the personification of spring on the Hill. The walls and part of a false ceiling were covered with green and white crepe paper while the remainder of the ceiling was intertwined with branches of leaves. Directly in the center and overhead there was constructed a massive dome which was literally smothered by dogwood fresh from the Gambier woods.

Presenting a "take-off" on a winter garden, the stage was enclosed by a fence and lattice work made from branches of trees. In the center, there was erected a fountain with moss and leaves around it while in the background there were entwined in some more lattice work branches of leaves, the whole of the arrangement lending a freshness and coolness to the evening.

During the dance a dinner was served on the stage by caterers from Mt. Vernon while punch was served in the east end of the hall.

On Friday afternoon, several impromptu tea dances were held in the divisions while in the evening, an exceedingly pleasant informal was held in Rosse Hall, the music being furnished by the Kenyon college orchestra.

FRESHMAN CANES ORDERED; STICKS ARE OF CHERRY WOOD

This year, as usual, the Freshman canes are late in arriving. It is due, however, to the fact that the Cane rush was not held until this spring instead of in the fall as is the custom. At a meeting of the Freshman class on May 8, samples furnished by a New England firm were submitted and a model selected. They are made of cherry wood and are of the same design as those of the present Sophomore class.

SPIRIT OF AMERICAN SOLDIER UNEQUALED THROUGHOUT WAR

Major Ian Hay Beith Pays High Tribute To Yankees' Fighting Ability "Over There"

SEAS WILL BE FREE

Secret of The British "Mystery Ship" Explained; Excellent Lecture By Britisher

Major Ian Hay Beith of the British army delivered an exceptionally interesting lecture on the Larwill foundation in Philo hall recently declaring that the spirit of the American troops during the war was unequalled by those of any other nation.

Major Beith, in the course of his talk, stated that if there were ever another war, he was sure that the "freedom of the seas" would be guaranteed—by the British and American navies working together.

For the first time since the termination of the war, Kenyon men had the rare privilege of hearing from a direct and authentic source the workings and prowess of the British "mystery ships" as told by the major.

Contrasting French seaports such as St. Nazaire several years ago with those of today, Major Beith showed, in a striking way, the great progress made by the French in making these towns fertile as ports for accepting and sending out men and equipment. He then went on to tell of the first trench railroad, how inefficient and bunglesome it was, and compared it with the modern and extremely efficient system of trench railroad transportation at the close of the war.

Paying a high tribute to British and American womanhood for its part in winning the war, the major told of its work in England and France and of the hardships and unpleasantness it had to endure in its work.

That the American soldier, in his fighting all through the war after America's entrance into it and particularly during the summer of 1918, proved himself to be more of a natural born fighter than the soldiers of the other allied and associated nations, was clearly evidenced by the fact, the major said, that the Yankee suffered from the complications of restraint in modern warfare and wanted to "carry on," using his own initiative, rather than to wait for the big guns to be brought up behind him. In connection with this, Major Beith stated that through this war, America had been turned from a continent into a nation of one whole people.

One of the greatest effects the war has produced, according to Major Beith, is the respect and toleration that England and the United States gained and will retain for each other.

VARSITY WINS OVER FIRST YEAR MEN IN TRYOUT TRACK MEET

Freshmen Forced To Accept Little
End Of 74-44 Score; Team

RECORD IS BROKEN

Read Hurls Javelin 147 Feet 6 Inches,
Coach Makes "Find" In Bostwick As Pole Vaulter

In the Varsity tryout meet with the Freshmen on May 6, the older men had very little difficulty in disposing of the youngsters by a score of 74 to 44. Out of fourteen possible firsts the first year men secured three, but to the coach one of those three was better than all the other firsts combined, for he discovered in Bostwick the best pole vaulter Kenyon has had in many years. With a weak ankle, the Freshman cleared at eleven feet. For the Varsity, P. Maxwell starred, placing in seven events for an individual score of twenty-two counting three firsts.

During the afternoon, Read for the Varsity broke all previous records with the javelin, hurling it 147 feet 6 inches. After the meet, Coach Jerpe named the following men for the Collegiate stripe: Pflum, P. Maxwell, R. Maxwell, Read, Arndt, Brewer, and W. W. Graham.

Summary:

TWELVE ARE CONFIRMED BY BISHOP LEONARD

Three College Men Make Vows; Inspiring Sermon Given By The Bishop During Service

Confirmation service was held in the church of The Holy Spirit, the first Sunday of this month. Bishop Leonard of Northern Ohio officiated at the service, confirming twelve candidates, three of whom were from the college. After the ceremony, he gave an inspiring sermon addressed chiefly to those who had just been confirmed, but in its scope, taking in the whole congregation. Being the first Sunday of the month, Holy Communion was celebrated, the newly confirmed taking advantage of this opportunity to seal their vows which they had so recently taken.

The service was well attended not only by members of the parish but also by quite a few strangers. The following were the candidates presented to Bishop Leonard by Rev. Wood for confirmation:

Charles Theodore Colwell, Stella May Doolittle, Mary Virginia Davis, Virginia Leonard, Wellington Calvin Leonard, Marion Sisson Nebson, Graham Walton, Edgar Jones White, Horace Charles Vokoun, Lester Carson Kilgore, Lewis Paul Carabelli.

Fletcher Devin, ex-'19, is studying electrical engineering at Boston Tech.

BASKETBALL LETTERS PRESENTED TO TEAM

Coach Jerpe Gives Resume Of Season
To Assembly; Lt. Weida Makes
Speech To Men

At the regular May assembly meeting, Coach Jerpe presented basketball letters to the following men for work in the team this year: Captain Read, Seibold, Walton, P. Maxwell, Treat, Pflum, and Manager Jerpe.

Before the letters were presented, Coach Jerpe gave an interesting account of the season, regretting the fact that, since so many men who might have played are in the service, the material was limited to such an extent that a winning team could not be developed.

President Sant then announced a Victory loan rally which would occur on Friday, May 9.

W. G. Pflum then told of the extraordinary preparations for the Sophomore Hop this year and urged as many as possible to attend.

Lt. Frederick Weida, ex-'18, who had returned from France, then spoke a few words to this assembly and expressed great pleasure at being back on the Hill.

K. B. Zint, ex-'16, will be on the Hill for Commencement.

James Tod, ex-'18, Cincinnati, was on the Hill a short time ago.

NOW IS THE TIME

A new athletic field for Kenyon! A swimming pool and indoor track in Rosse Hall! How does that sound to you, Mr. Student?

A good football field with no mole hills and with new iron goal posts, a new quarter mile running track with a 220 yard straightaway, new track equipment, a good baseball field with the diamond kept in A-1 condition, a concrete grandstand to seat approximately 500 persons with two dressing rooms, showers, and a store room beneath it, and to add to it all, a swimming pool, new curtain, new scenery, and an indoor track for Rosse Hall. Doesn't that sound well for Kenyon?

The above is a big program—but, it is not too big, and it is just exactly what Kenyon needs most of all at the present time to put her back up to her high athletic standard, for we must frankly admit that Kenyon has been tagging along the bottom of every conference athletic standing for the past ten years. And why? Because the men individually, the teams, and college as a whole have not had the proper facilities for turning out good teams even though the material, as far as good men are concerned, be residents of the college.

Kenyon's next improvement, her next great step toward permanent prosperity includes all of the above-mentioned accessories. It is now up to you as a college man to do your duty financially as well as morally by giving what you can to help raise the $500 which the committee has named as the sum for the college itself to contribute for the improvement, to show the alumni that it means business and that each and every man is willing to make some sacrifice for the good of the new Kenyon. Think it over! Isn't it worth your while, Mr. Undergraduate, to contribute $5 or more, if you can afford it, for the good of the college, for its reputation and prestige among other colleges in the state and nation, for your own good in that you may make use of all of these improvements? Think it over again! Your college is what you make of it.

Do you want a Kenyon where bookworms and parlor snakes abound?

Do you want Kenyon to be dropped from the Ohio conference?

Or—

Do you want a real Kenyon with good athletics and students combined?

Do you want to see Kenyon at the top of the conference standing?

Then use your hands, your head, and your pocketbook to help.

"Give till it hurts."

ALUMNI VICTORY RALLY

An Alumni Victory Rally—It speaks for itself.

Could anything be more appropriate, more timely or more appreciated by Kenyon alumni and the undergraduate body than such a rally at Commencement?

La guerre est finis, la victoire est gagnée; this much is accomplished, but in Kenyon's history there is yet another chapter to be written and it will be written only on Saturday evening, June 14, when alumni and undergraduates, faculty and friends alike will unite in saying "Le jour de gloire est arrive."

Commencement at Kenyon this year will mean one of the greatest and most appreciated reunions that have ever been held—it will mean the return to the Hill of the men who offered all they possessed to the cause of humanity, to the returned soldier and sailor it will mean a renewal of the spirit and love that he has cherished for so long both here and in Europe, and to all, it will mean the happy meeting of old friends and the formation of new acquaintances—all engrossed in the predominating love for Kenyon, the Hill.

THIS MEANS YOU

The reaction since the war has developed a rabid species of wanderlust. Particularly is the general spirit of unrest noticeable among the choosers and colleges. On every hand, men talk of leaving college, with no definite aim and on the slightest pretext. First, second and even third year men propose abandoning their college work for some comparatively unprofitable adventure.

A prevalent theory and a theory which is difficult to dislodge, is that travel and experience make a college degree. During these stirring times, this idea crops out in a violent manner, and had it no foundation at all, it would be difficult to check. It offers a pleasant alternative to college routine; it offers a vast, infinite veneer of harmless culture in place of analytical preparation. Consequently, even men of talent and judgement advocate the cultural variety of education with much sincerity.

Nevertheless, let it be said that the compensation is false. Without a true foundation, the so-called experience is valueless. One may have experiences, yet he cannot coordinate them—he may not even be able to discuss them properly. He may have culture, but he has nothing on which to spread it. It may be, and is entirely possible that the man with neither the degree nor the broadening advantages will surpass him in the end. Every man and especially the man of today, needs a firm, strong, stern fist; let him acquire all the pretty little flowers when he has grown and expanded.

This is an earnest plea for college men not to abandon their careers, not to sacrifice their chances of success for some transient whim.

To follow some chimerical project, couched with roseate fantasy, is utter and bottomless folly. The modern world requires real men and real deeds. Philosophy teaches us that compensation is ever just and relentless. Judge for yourself which is the better method of development.

IMPROVEMENT, INDEED!

In the past, the editorial column of the "Collegian" has abounded in brickbats aimed at various heads. Now, we wish to throw a bouquet or two, the recipients of said bouquets being the Executive committee, and particularly the faculty members of that committee.

Several years ago, when the present faculty members took office, they found the Assembly hundreds of dollars in debt. The committee had been in the habit of appropriating money which it did not have, and then getting it by the easier way—borrowing. The present officers instituted an efficient budget system and, by a generous expenditure of time, money and energy, and by "clipping the corners" wherever possible, they have entirely lifted the load of debt and placed the Assembly on the soundest financial basis of its history.

Every dollar that passes through the treasury of the Assembly—and the total runs in the thousands each year—must go through the heads of the committee. Not a cent is lost, not a cent is wasted. The committee must know where every cent that is granted, is to go; it requires a detailed report of every cent after it is spent. All this takes time and trouble, but it is given ungrudgingly because it makes for efficiency. The system that accomplishes this result retains all the advantages of student government without its usual attendant vices of graft, waste and inefficiency. All hail the Executive Committee!

REV. SCHOFIELD GIVES

LECTURE ABOUT AFRICA

Archdeacon of Diocese of Colorado

Shows Progress Made By Christian Missionaries

Kenyon had the privilege of hearing the Rev. Thomas A. Schofield, Archdeacon of the Diocese of Colorado, deliver a lecture on the subject of Africa on May 1. The Archdeacon stated that the African Soudan is one of the greatest strategic points for missionaries in the world. Pictures, illustrating conditions today in Liberia and the adjoining territory, demonstrated the great progress wrought by Christian missionaries. Mr. Schofield pointed out that before Christianity took foothold here, most of these people were primitive as their ancestors at the time of the pyramids.

Mr. Schofield then stated that the Episcopal Church was spending about $52,000 yearly for missionary work in this region. The Archdeacon showed some rare pictures of the "devil cults" during the course of his lecture. In closing, he said that although conditions were still savage in many respects, still "We know perfectly well that they are very capable people, but they are only thousands of years behind us."

O. S. U. DEFEATS MAUVE

IN FIRST TENNIS MEET

Kenyon Racquet Wielders Are Powerless Against State; Lack of Practice Is Cause

The Kenyon tennis team opened the season at Ohio State, April 26. Lack of practice resulted in a rather disastrous defeat, the Columbus boys winning all the matches.

L. C. Kilgore, who had just returned from the east, and had no practice whatever, was matched against Wirthwein, State's leading net star, and lost two sets, 6-0, 6-0. Walton gave Davis a hard fight but failed to stop the State captain, the score being 6-4, 6-2. Walton was also in poor form due to lack of practice.

In the doubles, the Gambier men were pitted against Hane and Roehm. Both Kenyon men took a brace in this event and won the second set, the final score being 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

The Kenyon representatives were clearly handicapped by lack of practice due to the unplayable condition of the college courts.

Lt. Edward Seese, class of '17, and a member of the American Expeditionary Forces, is attending the University of Bordeaux, having been granted a furlough for the purpose of continuing his education.

The Story of Your Study Lamp

IF you were studying by an old smoky oil lamp and suddenly a modern, sun-like MAZDA lamp were thrust into the room, the contrast would be dazzling. That instant would unfold the result of thirty years' development, research and manufacturing in electric lighting.

EDISON'S
FIRST

And this development commenced with Edison's first lamp—hand-made, when electricity was rare.

The General Electric Company was a pioneer in foreseeing the possibilities of Edison's invention. Electric generators were developed. Extensive experiments led to the design and construction of apparatus which would obtain electric current from far-away waterfalls and deliver it to every city home.

With power lines well distributed over the country, the use of electric lighting extended. Street lighting developed from the flickering arc to the great white way. Electric signs and floodlights made our cities brilliant at night, searchlights turned night into day at sea, and miniature lamps were produced for the miner's headlight and automobile.

While the making of the electrical industry, with its many, many interests, was developing, the General Electric Company's laboratories continued to improve the incandescent lamp, and manufacturing and distributing facilities were provided, so that anyone today can buy a lamp which is three times as efficient as the lamp of a few years ago.
