THREE LARWILL LECTURES FOR MONTH OF MARCH

Foreign Affairs Stressed

The month of March will see three Larwill Lectures, as two more are scheduled for the fifteenth and nineteenth to follow the one delivered the fifth by the Hon. F. Bradley-Birt on Persia. The other two are also on foreign politics and International Relations, a subject the importance of which has scarcely ever been greater and which is growing in importance from year to year.

The lecture on Persia perhaps falls slightly short of these other two in the importance of its subject. Persia is not as important as is Western Europe, of course, and the lecture did not deal entirely with present affairs, but also with past history.

From the point of view of present day affairs the next two lectures will be more important and more interesting. March 15 Hugh Dalton, former Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the British Empire will speak on the problems of International Relations.

Mr. Dalton is now studying economic planning in various countries. His address, according to a bulletin issued recently, will include a discussion of the tradition, still incomplete, from international anarchy to world order. The problems of prevention of war, disarmament, international arbitration and conciliation, treaty revision by peaceful means, international economic relations will be considered.

Four days later Henry C. Wolfe, Kenyon '22, will lecture on "The Meaning of the Little Entente." This is a timely subject now as it has been for some years, as the stand of Rumania, Czechoslovakia, and Jugo-Slavia is very important in the solution of the present Central European difficulties.

The last Larwill Lecture scheduled is for April 25, when Carlos Davilla, former Chilean Ambassador to the United States, will lecture on politics and leaders in Chile and the United States.

KENYON STUDENTS GET GOVERNMENT AID

TOTAL OF TWENTY WILL WORK IN VARIOUS POSITIONS AROUND CAMPUS

A number of Kenyon College students have jobs on the campus as a result of a recent Congressional appropriation for college aid. At present twelve students are being employed as janitors, in publicity, in the Library, etc. Kenyon will be paid $300 a month for this purpose, and twenty men will be employed, each receiving $15 a month. The remaining eight positions will be filled at the direction of the Dean.

PROMINENT ALUMNI DIE IN FLORIDA AND CINCINNATI

E. S. Franks '81 And A. L. Herrlinger '83 Pass Away During Last Month

Two veteran Cincinnati attorneys, who were in Kenyon together half a century ago, have died less than a month apart.

They were Edwin John Franks, '81 A. B., who succumbed in that city March 1 at the age of 75, and Andrew L. Herrlinger, '83 A. B., '88 A. M., who died in Miami Beach, Fla., February 4. He was 71. Both were victims of heart attacks.

Mr. Franks, who attended the Cincinnati Law School after his graduation from Kenyon, practiced in that city for fifty years. He was a faithful attendant at reunions of the alumni organization there, and once narrated at a Kenyon dinner an interesting anecdote of his days in Gambier. As printed in a Cincinnati newspaper after his death, it follows:

"One of the first scientific demonstrations ever staged to prove the possibility of pitching curves in baseball was due partly to Attorney Edwin J. Franks, more than a half century ago. He arranged to convince a doubting professor at his alma mater, Kenyon College.

"The curve was a phenomenon in baseball at that time, having been developed by Pitcher Bob Mitchell of the old Cincinnati Red Stockings. Throughout the nation, controversies raged in the press as to whether such a feat could be achieved. Sports pages carried columns of comments by doubting Thomases and by those who acclaimed Mitchell's curve as a revolutionary fact in the world of sports.

"This argument led to discussions among scientists, and in many college faculties the professors divided over the question of whether a pitcher could throw a curve. At Kenyon, where Franks was a student, the professor of Latin disagreed with the professor of physics, the latter being convinced Mitchell really could put "English" on the ball and bank it against a wind current.

"Young Franks, to settle the argument, invited Mitchell to Gambier. The pitcher drove tall stakes into the campus and proceeded to prove that he had an out-shoot (or perhaps an in-shoot) as well as a fast straight ball. The physics department announced vindication — but, Franks often related, the Latin department insisted it was an optical illusion."

Mr. Franks is survived by his widow, three sons and a daughter. Mr. Herrlinger retired about a year and a half ago, after practicing law in Cincinnati for thirty-five years. He had been living in Florida for several months.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Florence Herrlinger, he leaves three brothers, Albert P. Herrlinger, president of the Herrlinger Paper company, Troy, O., with offices in Cincinnati; Edward F. Herrlinger, president of the Gummed Products company, and William Herrlinger, associated with the Union Selling Company, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Weimer, Mt. Auburn, and five children, Mrs. E. J. Paulus, Miss Elsie Herrlinger, and Leonard, Robert and William Herrlinger.

SPRING SPORTS TO GET UNDER WAY

At an informal meeting in the Lounge, Mr. Kutler announced to a group of interested students that plans had been laid for beginning spring athletic activities. Afternoons from three to five were set aside for baseball in Rosse Hall, so that those desiring to limber up would be able to. Later in the afternoon a net is to be stretched so that tennis players can start before the courts are ready. Track men will work out on the path and beside Rosse Hall until the track and field are in shape.

EASTERN ALUMNI MEET

Dr. Peirce Speaks

The Annual Dinner of the Kenyon Association of the East was held at the Cornell Club of New York February 1. Dr. Peirce spoke of the Aeronautics Courses being given by Wilbur L. Cummins, '02. The speakers included Fred G. Clark, '13, Dr. James Ewing, F. H. Cunningham, Earl D. Babst, '93, the Very Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving II, and A. K. Taylor, '06, Robert A. Weaver, '12, presided.

KENYON PLAYS GREAT GAME TO SCARE ASHLAND TEAM

TWO TIES MARK INTRAMURAL RACE

Three Teams Lead White League, Two Way Tie In Purple

LATE NEWS

West Wing won a place in the final Intramural Basketball Tournament by defeating South Leonard.

Intramural basketball this year has furnished an unusual amount of interest about the Hill. A large freshman class has resulted in what might be called the discovery of several stars and hence unexpected opposition, little looked for by the pre-season dopsters, has developed. Upsets by teams usually crushed by the big five has caused a keen rivalry and hard fought games.

Looking first at the White League we find three teams dominating the scene. Middle Leonard, North Hanna, and East Wing. For a while it seemed as tho the outcome for the league championship would be East Wing in a walk; but North Hanna, beaten by Middle Leonard, who had been beaten by East Wing, nosed out East Wing by a one point margin, the score being North Hanna, 16, East Wing 15. The result of this surprise is a three way tie for first place, with the ultimate winner very much in doubt. The other two teams in the league North Leonard, with its beef trust outfit and South Hanna have tagged along with North Leonard in the van by a 30-16 victory over the South Hanna boys. The scores of all the games in the White League are as follows: M. L. 19, N. L. 17; E. W. 18, M. L. 13; M. L. 30, S. H. 24; M. L. 27, N. H. 19; E. W. 43, N. L. 19; N. H. 13, N. L. 8; E. W. 23, S. H. 15; N. H. 30, S. H. 16; N. L. 32, S. H. 14; N. H. 16, E. W. 15; Team standing is thus:

Team	Won	Lost	Percent
Middle Leonard	3	1	.750
North Hanna	3	1	.750
East Wing	3	1	.750
North Leonard	1	3	.250
South Hanna	0	4	.000

In the Purple League we see Middle Hanna and West Wing as the favorites. This league has not as yet completed its schedule as West Wing and South Leonard have still to meet each other. Middle Hanna seemed slated for the crown having defeated both the Wing and South Leonard, when the semester ended. With the start of the second term a dark horse rose up and again all the dope was upset. Middle Kenyon by the acquisition of two new men came thru with a startling

Torrid Game Lost By Only One Point, 45-44

Kenyon played a spirited game against Ashland college in the last home game of the season Feb. 15, losing by the scant margin of 45 to 44. A free throw by Clelan being the deciding marker.

The game was fast throughout with the lead changing hands at exciting intervals. In spite of the closeness of the battle, very few fouls were charged. But as rarely as the free throws came, it was a foul toss which accounted for Ashland's last point. Kenyon was trailing 44 to 40 at the time. Steve Clarke's basket spurred the Purple and White to a final rally. But time was no respecter of teams, and the gun was fired as Bill Daly's shot went through the loop one point short of a tie.

Kenyon was in the thick of it from the first toss-up. The score was tied at 5-all and 11-all. But spectacular shooting by Clelan who collected 15 points during the first half, put the Ashland team out in front. Snyder, Ashland right guard, contributed five baskets to the cause, mainly because he was permitted to take many set shots, as Kenyon sought to cover Clelan, Berry and Shafer. The score was 29 to 20 at the half.

With the starting whistle of the second half, Kenyon went back to work. Point by point the Ashland lead was whittled away until Kenyon not only tied the score but forged ahead to a 40 to 36 edge. Concentrating on Clelan, the Kenyon cagers overlooked Berry at this juncture, and before they knew what had happened he had scored four baskets in succession to make the score 44 to 40. Shortly after Clelan was fouled, and made good his toss.

Swanson and Daly were the Kenyon high-scorers, but every man in the line-up except one, accounted for two or more points.

EAST WING WINS SWIMMING MEET

TAKE ALL BUT ONE FIRST

Winning all but one first place, which went to Middle Leonard, East Wing won the Intramural Swimming Meet with practically no trouble. At the end of the qualifying rounds, North Leonard seemed to be in a position to make a close race out of it, but due to some unfortunate accidents were unable to compete in the finals. Middle Leonard won one Relay when an East Wing swimmer disqualified his team by starting before the man before him had touched the end of the pool. Thomas won the back stroke and Neff won the long free style for th efeature victories.

INFIRMARY NEEDED

The recent quarantine of Leonard Hall should prove to be a forceful example of why Kenyon College needs some sort of small hospital or other building for the care of the sick. In most schools with any great number of students in residence there is a building, often called the infirmary, designed for taking care of all ordinary cases of sickness. Of course, we do not have a great number of students, but are we, for that reason, free from disease? Ask Dr. Claypool! There have been at least two cases of Mumps among the students in the last three years as well as the recent Scarlet Fever outbreak. There have been a number of injuries requiring treatment by a physician, as we all can recollect. The appendicitis cases, of course, could scarcely be handled in an infirmary, but it might be used for treatment until it became certain that operation was advisable.

As it is now, the cases of contagious diseases have resulted in either large hospital bills, where the patients could be moved or, where they could not, quarantine of a whole dormitory with the attendant disruption of classes. Whether or not any of us like to have classes disrupted is beside the point. The function of the college is education, and the system of education here involves regular class meetings. Hence anything interrupting this schedule is a detriment to the college.

Also under the present system, sudden injuries, like the one experienced before an intramural baseball game last spring involve an immediate dash to Mt. Vernon, which, at best, cannot be done in less than ten minutes, counting time to get started, and to find a doctor once there. This is really too long to have to wait for treatment in an emergency.

If one of the buildings on the campus or in the village were converted to use as an infirmary, with a resident physician or nurse, or both, accident cases could be treated immediately. All cases of contagious diseases could be isolated at once, and the patient given proper care, as well. The colds that so often seem to run through the buildings could also be treated, and steps taken to prevent their spread.

The need of such a building being established, or even if not established, there is an immediate question that will be thrown to any advocate of an infirmary for Kenyon. This is "How?" Our solution is worked out as far as we can work it. It is this, (1) Conversion of some building on the campus or nearby in the village in the village into a small hospital. The expensive equipment in large hospitals would not be needed. What would be needed are wards for isolation, and first aid equipment, chiefly. (2) The hiring of a young Kenyon graduate who has recently graduated from medical school and needs a start in his profession. If this were not possible, a trained nurse be procured.

Farther than that, we scarcely take the idea. The actual details must be left to those whose business it is to see that Kenyon gets what she needs.

The objection has been raised that infirmaries often do not take contagion cases. Is there any reason why a special room could not be set aside? Or even if there is, even if it would not be possible to take care of contagious diseases, the other reasons given are sufficient to make the presence of a nurse and infirmary highly desirable.

INDIGNATION AROUSED

New York, N. Y. (NSFA)—The indignation aroused among students in all parts of the country by the expulsion last week of seven students who refused on conscientious grounds to take military training at Ohio State University has brought a storm of protest to the attention of the University authorities. According to word received from Charles Hart, one of the objectors who was allowed to remain in college, the basis for judging all the cases was the validity of the conscientious grounds, a new aspect of R. O. T. C. resistance. A committee of three faculty members including the head of the military training department made the decisions, ruling that Mr. Hart was justified in his objection on conscientious grounds but that the others had no justification for such a stand in opposition to the regular University regulation.

The Student League for Industrial Democracy, many of whose branches have joined the National Executive Committee in voicing their protest against the Ohio State expulsions, is sponsoring Albert Hamilton, a student recently expelled from the University of California at Los Angeles for refusal to take military training, on a tour to colleges in all parts of the country in support of conscientious objectors.

The North Carolina Daily Tar Heel in expressing the hope that the classmates of the Ohio State students will come to their support with indignant protests, says: "If it could be a universal student expression, this attitude among future citizens would undoubtedly do more than anything else to stem the tide of militarism. With the nations of Europe literally perched on powder boxes, and cries for re-armament already in the air in this country, we can be thankful that there exists such a student attitude to check the militarist. It shows much more bravery than the military zealots of 1914. We hope that the Ohio State students are upheld in their conscientious objections. Even if they are not, their courage for expression of a worthy cause is to be commended."

COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING

The newspapers of this part of the country have been concerned recently with the case of the Ohio State students who were suspended because they would not submit to compulsory military training, the R. O. T. C. as it is called. Every year there are a number of students in all schools that have this military training who make application for release from it. Some are granted because of physical inability to take part in such work, but those that do not get this special dispensation usually end up by taking it anyway, whether they like it or not. But this year a group of those who are opposed to military training refused to be thus forced into it and as a result were suspended from school.

Other universities with R. O. T. C. have met the same difficulty, and some others have met it differently. In some cases, "conscientious objectors," as they can be called, have not been forced to take military training. In others they have.

The attitude of the press has been varied. City papers seem inclined to treat it as news only, which is perhaps wise. But the Antiochian, student publication of Antioch college, took up the cudgels for the suspended students. Interest aroused by the fact that one of them was a former Antioch student. This publication objects to compulsory military training, and therefore to suspension of students because of it.

It is easy to show that such military training is not in accord with the idea of world peace. To those, and there are many, who are seriously concerned with keeping the world from wars, compulsory military training is an evil thing. But of course they are answered by militarists, and others, that in the present state of the world it is still necessary to maintain an army and that we must have some kind of training of a large number of people to be ready for the event of suddenly increasing our army a great deal, for war. Probably they can show the efficacy of the R. O. T. C. in this way. We are not concerned with that now. Granting for the time that the idea of world peace is a little idealistic, we must also grant one other thing, that there are many people that are really opposed to military training. The question that we have to decide is, should these people be required to take part in this training against their own desires?

It seems to us that they should not. We cannot find anything in the purpose of a university that justifies forcing students to a military training. Let those that want it take it, yet, there seems to be plenty of them. The Citizen's Military Training Camps are still besieged with applications for admittance. But to force anybody to undergo a distasteful military course just so that he may get the rest of his education is hardly necessary, since there are many willing for the training.

Of course, we do not really expect that Ohio State and her sister universities will drop the compulsory feature of military training because of opinions like this one. Our real solution of the problem, our serious advice to students who do not want to take military training is this: Don't go to Ohio State or any other university where it is compulsory. Pick out a school where it is not. This would save a lot of trouble.

JUBILEE COLLEGE GIVEN TO STATE OF ILLINOIS

Will Be Made Into State Park

A column in the Decatur Herald of January 3, 1934, comments on old Jubilee College, Philander Chase's second collegiate venture. As most Kenyon men know, this college was never successful, and the buildings have been long idle. The story in the Herald runs as follows:

We missed a telegraphic wife story recently, telling some interesting news about old Jubilee college up near Peoria. Consequently a Peoria newspaper's rotogravure section last Sunday gave us our first information that Dr. George A. Zeller of Bartonville, who purchased the college and its grounds a few years ago, has now deeded the entire place to the state of Illinois for a state park.

It is the best news we've heard in weeks. We have been up to old Jubilee twice and find it one of the loveliest, most romantic spots we have ever seen. As English in its setting and buildings and atmosphere as Old Salem state park over beyond Springfield is Early American, each is a definite part of pioneer Illinois. The beautiful old college, of golden stones deeply cut with the initials and names of boys now long dead, was built in 1839 and 1840, you will recall, with money raised by Bishop Philander Chase in England, and was named Jubilee because Queen Victoria contributed generously. Many of the furnishings, if we recall correctly, also came from England, but were removed to Indiana by the last departing president of the college, when he went there. Probably no power on earth could restore those furnishings, but we wish it were possible.

We hope the state will find it possible to restore the building and make the place a mecca for all Illinoisans and their guests. Dr. Zeller at first presented the college to the Boy Scouts, and that was a romantic gesture but not a practical one. The boys had no money to restore it or even keep it in its present state of disrepair, and, try as they will, reverent as they wish to be, there is something about a boy that makes old things fall down dead before him, usually in many pieces.

Down a wheel-track path that leads from the college to two immense old iron gates, between rows of grand old feathery pine trees, lies the ancient cemetery where the bishop and many of his flock lie buried. Quaint old epitaphs are to be read here, revealing much of the life of 100 years ago. That, too, goes to the state.

At the earliest possible moment we want to go up there again and see what the state is doing about it. We hope the same careful architects who restored Old Salem will take over the beautiful dead college. L. R.

RETALIATES WITH 39-27 WIN

Basketball Team Closes Season With Loss

Kenyon college closed the basketball season losing its eighth Ohio conference game out of 12 to Marietta college 39 to 27 at Marietta Feb. 22. The winners clinched the victory in the second half by scoring 24 points.

Leading at half-time by a five-point edge, Kenyon was overtaken and defeated by a second half rally during which Ball, Marietta's pugilistic center, and Fenton were the chief basket makers.

Swan and Daly stood out for Kenyon with the former being the high scorer with four baskets and a free throw. Ball, with 11 points, was Marietta's scoring star.

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL (Continued from page 1)

victory over the league leaders beating Middle Hanna by a score of 16-13. This surprising victory assures either West Wing or South Leonard of a tie with Middle Hanna. The scores of the games played in this league are as follows. W. W. 15, M. K. 11; S. L. 18, M. K. 10; M. H. 15, W. W. 14; M. H. 20 S. L. 16 Team standing follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Percent
Middle Hanna	2	1	.667
West Wing	1	1	.500
South Leonard	1	1	.500
Middle Kenyon	1	2	.333

The first ten men leading the scorers are as follows:

Name	T.P.	Av.
1. Eustis	39	9.75
2. Kreimer	29	7.25
3. Morgan	28	7.00
4. Manz	27	6.75
5. Stamm	23	5.75
6. Gruber	22	5.50
7. Gould	20	10.00
8. Lehr	18	9.00
9. Hudgins	16	5.33
10. Crumrine	15	5.00

Instead of playing out each league as was originally planned the three teams in White League will meet the two finalists in the Purple League in a five team tournament. This is being done to eliminate any chance of another tie. Immediately after these are played Volley ball will start, and after that speed-ball will be finished up.

KENT STATE PULLS TWO UPSETS

Go Against Dope Twice Against Kenyon

Kent State College caught Kenyon on an 'off' night Feb. 10 and romped away with a 33 to 20 win, mainly because Flanders helped himself to 18 points. It was the first loss of the season in Ross Hall.

With but three days practice following vacation, Kenyon was unable to get underway until the second half. But facing an 18 to 8 score the rally came too late. And everytime Kenyon would get within hailing distance, Mr. Flanders would step out and make a basket. He also sank six out of seven attempts from the foul-line.

Flanders did not just happen to 'on' either. He was just too good—probably one of the best forwards Kenyon faced all season. Swanson was again the best offensive player for Kenyon with four baskets.

For the second time in a row Kent State concentrated its offense around one player and defeated Kenyon college. The final score was 44 to 34 Feb. 17 at Kent. Flanders, right forward, was the scoring star who Kenyon failed to stop again, and thereby suffered defeat.

Flanders had a big night, and scored the most points any single player has scored against Kenyon all season. He collected 10 baskets and six foul shots for a 26 point total. Incidentally, no other Kent player scored more than four points.

Swan and Munger were the chief point-makers for Kenyon with eight counters apiece. Kent stopped Swanson with one basket.

Feb. 27—Capital—Gambier.

ASHLAND GAME

Page was the defensive star, being effective in helping hold Clelan without a field goal the second half.

It was the second defeat for Kenyon by Ashland. The first game was lost 56 to 40.

MUSKIES DEFEATED IN GOOD GAME

Six Men Make More Than Two Baskets

Kenyon's court team rose to the best form it has shown yet this season, on January 24, and easily disposed of Bill Lang's Muskingum outfit by a score of 36-23.

Quite a delegation of Mt. Vernon fans turned out for the occasion, and kept the rafters of Rossee Hall vibrating with their cheers.

Kenyon's timing was much improved, and, always able to control the tip-off, they were never in danger. Page started things off with a long shot, and it was not long until Kenyon had rolled up a 12-4 lead.

Muskingum was forced to yield an advantage in height, and this had much to do with their inability to break thru the Kenyon defense for set-up shots.

Kenyon led at the half, 22-8, and then slumped into a state of lethargy, while the Muskies ran their end of the score to 13. Then a 'bunny' by Daly started things moving and the Purple and White were never headed thereafter.

Every member of the Kenyon team functioned perfectly, the only black mark being the inability to sink foul shots. Len Swanson was high point man again with nine points added to his rapidly rising season total. Sutton showed surprising accuracy on long shots, and Page, Daly, Clarke, and Mueller played their usual steady game. All of which promises bigger and better things for Kenyon basketball fans in the future.

The box score:

SWANSON MAKES POSITION ON ALL- CONFERENCE TEAM

NAMED ON UNITED PRESS SELECTION

Leonard Swanson, high-scoring guard on Kenyon's basketball team, was selected as guard on the United Press All-Conference basketball team. This U. P. selection was made by coaches and sports writers. Holland of Otterbein and Sekerak of Wooster were the forwards. Clelan was named center, with Appleby (Akron) and Swanson guards. The Associated Press selection listed Sir Louis, of Akron as forward, with Holland on the second team. McConnell, Denison was named instead of Swanson. Otherwise the selection was the same as the United Press.

CAPITOL DEFEATED SECOND TIME

KENYON WINS EASILY

Led by Leonard Swanson, team high-scorer, Kenyon college trounced Capitol University for the second time this season by a 34 to 18 count Feb. 20 at Columbus. Swanson contributed six field goals and three foul shots to the cause for a total of 15 points which supplied the winning margin.

Kenyon won this game with 16 points to spare on the Capitol court, or exactly twice the margin by which the Purple and White eagles were victorious on their home floor 44 to 36 in the first game. The winners were never in any danger, and practically coasted to victory. Bill Daly's seven points was the next best for Kenyon.

ROUGH GAME WON OVER MARIETTA

Sutton Injured When Hit In Eye

In a game marred by fouling to the extent of pugnacity, Kenyon defeated Marietta College 27 to 22 on January 27. It was the third successive victory for Kenyon at Rosse Hall.

Marietta, with a much heralded center in Ball, started right off to rough up the Kenyon players. And from them on Referee Peiffer had a busy time attempting to detect all the fouls. He called 35 personals and a technical foul; however, he overlooked the worst infraction of the rules in a fistic encounter between Ball and Sutton. Ball, limited in his usual scoring freedom by close guarding, hit Sutton under the eye. It was a terrific blow and forced Bruce to leave the game.

This unfortunate event turned the stands to a spirit of indignation. There were calls to put Ball out of the game. But he stayed in. He was of little value, however, when a victory-minded Kenyon quintet decided to win or else.

Sutton, having hurried back from Pittsburgh where he was called on account of illness in the family, strengthened the team for only a few minutes. With Len Swanson out with a sprained ankle, the team needed every available man.

It was Steve Clarke who arose to the occasion. He out-jumped Ball at center, and gave a brilliant scoring exhibition. He won the game almost single-handed in the second half with nine points. His total was 15.

After the score was tied three times, Kenyon took a 16 to 13 lead at the half. During the next period Marietta crept within a point of tying the game; then Clarke scored two baskets and three foul shots in a row to settle the game for Kenyon.

PRE-MEDICAL STUDENTS FORM CLUB

GILBERT ELECTED PRESIDENT

The first meeting of the Pre-medical club was held Friday, Feb. 16, in the ladies lounge of Peirce Hall. The first business was to elect officers. Gilbert was elected president, Gordon vice president, and Wright secretary and treasurer.

Dr. Walton, Gilbert, Wright, Ferito, Manz, Merrill, Gruber, and Gordon were the men present. They decided to hold meetings on the first Monday of every month. The topics under discussion were should a doctor specialize pneumonia and its care, and the correct choice of medical colleges. The club hopes to have a speaker from a well known medical college at each of their meetings. They also hope to learn something about medicine from Dr. Claypool and Dr. Drake, who are the club's honorary advisers.
