AN END TO "NUMBER PLEASE?"

Machine Age Comes To Sleepy Gambier

Once again in Gambier, the machine age will make a replacement of human energy. It is expected that next year a dial telephone system will replace the present rather antiquated but none the less satisfactory switch board in the front room of Mrs. Leota Allen's home. It is unnecessary to say that Kenyon men will miss the voice of operators who not only make connections but are willing to give all sorts of information.

On June 1st, Mrs. Allen will have completed her twenty-fifth year as chief operator of the Kenyon and Gambier telephone exchange. Mrs. Allen admitted that such work as hers cannot be learned in a week. At present there are nearly three hundred people or organizations whose numbers must be memorized. There is not an idle moment for the operator from early morning until ten o'clock at night. It seems scarcely possible that more than nine hundred calls are put through daily, and that the average for a month is something over 28,000. Long distance calls average 115 a day.

Mrs. Allen has sat at the switchboard through many long days and nights in times of unusual circumstances. She was at work all during the 1913 flood, two cyclones.

TRACKSTERS LOSE

On Thursday, the Kenyon track team lost its second track meet of the season by a score of 84½ to 42½. The victor was Capital University of Columbus.

Although the team showed an abundance of potential power, they were not able to step into enough places to do much good.

The Kenyon men who took first places in their events were Olin in the discus; Gilne, in the 100 yard dash; and Clarke, in both the high jump and the pole vault, tying with other men both times. The high point man of the Mauve was Olin who copped 9½ points by taking, along with his discus honors, a second in the high hurdles, a third in the shot put, and a tie for third in the pole vault.

Other men taking places in their

DRAMATISTS FEAST, ELECT, PETITION

Forty-four members of the dramatic club banqueted last Wednesday night and elected the following officers: E. Dale Shaffer, president, Richard Olin, stage manager, and Tom Sawyer, assistant stage manager. John Tappan was elected treasurer for the coming year. It was decided to formulate plans to petition two national dramatic societies for the membership. Present at the banquet besides members of the dramatic club were Dr. Ashford and Dr. Black.

A SECOND "FAT?"

By ELRICK B. DAVIS
Class of '25

When trustees of Kenyon college set out to find a new president to succeed Dr. William Foster Peirce their problem was to find a man who could live up to the record of his predecessor.

The trustees knew what they wanted. They wanted another "Fat" Peirce. So the committee of five of the trustees chosen by their fellows to make the selection was every one an alumnus of the college.

Three of the five had been students under Dr. Peirce at the Gambier institution. The other two—Frank H. Ginn of Cleveland, and Earl D. Babat, the Crestline boy who became America's sugar tycoon—left Kenyon not long before Dr. Peirce arrived and for a generation have been among his closest admirers.

Dr. Peirce was 28 when he was elected Kenyon's president 41 years ago. Dr. Gordon Keith Chalmers is 33. Retirement age will catch him before he can equal the Peirce years in office. He can come within four years of it.

Dr. Peirce tried to quit a year ago, when he had rounded off 40 years in office and only the president of the University of Virginia had been, among college presidents, in office longer. He might have served two more years. The trustees asked at least one year of grace. They got it.

Dr. Peirce was a long lath of a fellow who played tournament tennis during his early years at Gambier, which is why now the eleventh generation of Kenyon men calls him "Fat." It has not been published that the new president is a tennis player. Anyway the college's present student tennis team can take care of that. It is composed mostly of champions.

What is really important is that the new president is a scholar in the humanities, like Dr. Peirce, Kenyon is a humanities college or it is nothing. It is no place for a careerist in "Education."

Dr. Peirce's fields as a teacher were history and philosophy. Dr. Chalmers' is English literature and philosophy. Dr. Peirce prepared for the Kenyon presidency by teaching in the college for four years before his elevation. Dr. Chalmers has been for three years president of Jane Addams' alma mater, Rockford College, in Illinois, a college in important respects similar to Kenyon.

The parallels of comparison might be continued. Enough has been shown. Times have changed in some respects in 41 years. Kenyon changes with them. Her trustees in the '90s required Dr. Peirce to become an Episcopal priest. No such need was laid on Dr. Chalmers.

But the basic requirements do not change. Choice of Dr. Chalmers means that Kenyon is true to its tradition.

PREP SCHOOLERS HERE FOR THIRD TIME

Next Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15, the Hill will play host to the third annual National Preparatory Tennis Championships, an invitational tournament. At this writing, there are over one hundred prep school players from all over the country already signed up.

Probably the favorite this year will be Joe Davis, the boy from Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville, Tennessee, who won the tournament last year. Davis was also runner-up two years ago, the first year the matches were held. Another fine player already entered is Stacy Hill of Cincinnati, playing, however, for the University school of Cleveland. Hill also played last year.

The various divisions will again be called upon to care for the participants in their divisions. Rudy Kutler was loud in his praises as to the Hill's cooperation at the Ohio high school tournament and hopes for a repetition of our now-famous hospitality.

Preliminaries will start on Friday at one o'clock and the finals at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday.

OHIO STATE MEETS KENYON— AND DEFEAT

On Tuesday afternoon, Kenyon's ace racket wielders defeated Ohio State's team by the score of 6-1.

Don McNeill, Kenyons No. 1 man, whitewashed the State No. 1 man, Carl Nihausen, 6-2, 6-0. Lewis easily took Steinman, 6-2, 6-2, while Pryor dropped Janes, 6-1, 6-3. In the two remaining matches, Reeder easily defeated James, 6-2, 6-3, and Cochrane, the only Kenyon man to lose his match, was swamped by Nist, 6-1, 6-0.

In the doubles, McNeill and Lewis defeated Nihausen and Hoyes, 6-2, 6-4. Reeder and Pryor edged a first set victory, 8-5, and took the second set decisively, 6-2, to win their match.

This marks the sixth victory of Coach Lambert's boys, and, of course, that famous Tulane tie. There seems to be no doubt in anyone's mind as to the completion of an undefeated season, the real ambition now being to win the National Intercollegiate this Spring.

ERRORS BEAT KENYON NINE

Yesterday afternoon, before a large part of the student body and faculty, the baseball team lost their fifth game in a row as Ashland handed them a score of 6-4. The game was all in Kenyon's favor up to the end of the sixth inning when the disconcerting drop of a fly ball by May seemed to be the signal for an Ashland rally, and from then on the 4-1 Kenyon lead became a 6-4 trailer.

Kenyon's battery of Koegler and Wright turned in a good job; Koegler striking out 7 men and Wright holding down home plate in professional style. Had not their good play been marred by a few glaring errors, the Hillmen would have undoubtedly deserved and won their ball game. The most spectacular play of the game was the double play from Baker at third to Bauser at first, to Wright at home plate.

A few statistics show us that Ashland made but 5 hits to Kenyon's 7, although outplaying the home team in the field, making only 2 errors to Kenyon's 5.

MAY DANCE WAS GAYEST SINCE BEFORE DEPRESSION

Kenyonites Welcome Re- turn Of Prosperity In High Spirits

"Everybody was happy" at Peirce Hall Friday night when that master of showmen, Ted Lewis, aided by a great band and a versatile troupe of performers, put on a show so great that all Kenyon is still saying this year's May dance was the best ever. Lewis, with battered hat and clarinet, led his musicians through an orgy of music that included everything from pre-war ragtime to 1937 vintage swing.

Promptly at 11:15, as promised, a broadcast of the proceedings was made over the WLW line, a broadcast that began with the national anthem, "Tiger Rag," and included decent tunes such as "Boo Hoo!" and "Was It Rain?" The program closed with a typical Ted Lewis number, "On the Sunny Side of the Street." During the broadcast, the dancers swarmed around the microphones, or listened to the program over auto radios, division radios, and various other vantage points.

The Grand March formed at midnight and passed through the Great Hall in what seemed like an endless procession, properly forming the "K" and standing to sing "The Thrill." Then the orchestra struck up some music, and the dancers melted into a pot pourri of gaiety that lasted until dawn.

The highlight of the evening was the floor show, which included all the stock Ted Lewis routines: girls doing tap dances; "The Hi-Haters," with their soft shoe dance; "The Radio Aces"; and, of

"BENNY" GAGE TO PROPHECY

Kenyon college will be represented in the state peace oratorical contest to be held at Capital University May 15 and 16, by Allan Gage. His subject will be "The Imminent Revolution." In the contest will be fourteen other colleges and their subjects will all be similar to Mr. Gage's. Last year Kenyon was represented by Arthur P. Schmidt who showed up very well according to Dr. Black, his coach. Dr. Black will coach the Kenyon entrant.

POLO CLUB WILL END SEASON WITH BANQUET

The Polo Club at their last meeting a week ago Wednesday night decided to give a banquet in honor of the polo team and its enviable record this past winter season. The committee headed by Fritz Doepke has decided on May 17 as the banquet night. Invitations have been sent to Dr. Peirce, Mr. R. A. Weaver, Dr. Ashford and Captain Frederick Eberle. The banquet will be held at the Mount Vernon Country Club and will conclude the polo club's most successful year.

OPEN LETTER

Mr. Thorndike Dwelley,
Editor, The Denisonian,
Granville, Ohio

My dear Mr. Dwelley,

About two weeks ago, the editor of The Adytum, your year book, came to us and asked if we would be interested in publishing the pictures of fourteen Denison Co-eds entered in a contest for the selection of the "Adytum Queen" and select the most beautiful of the fourteen. To us, this was not a "flare for the spectacular," as you chose to put it in your editorial of May 4. To us, it was a warm gesture of friendship. We had never participated in such a contest and felt honored to have Denison ask us to aid them. But you, you would not have it that way. You would rather have the breach between the two student bodies widened. Perhaps, you felt yourself slipping. Perhaps, you were afraid that it was not a "sudden flare for the spectacular" but rather, a sudden flare for Kenyon men.

However, be that as it may, we did feel good when we read in a Columbus paper, front page, that Denison men were "agog" because we at Kenyon were going to select your Adytum Queen. It made us feel good because you could get riled-up over such a little matter. There is nothing a Kenyon man would rather see than someone who can't take it. And to think that you were "agog!"

But let's be frank! Your editorial states that "The editor of The Adytum took this step, we understand, to prevent a time-honored beauty contest from turning to a mere vote of popularity. This assumption gives too much credit to the power of campus politics. . . . Even if politics were as prominent as the editor would have us believe . . . the net result would still be an Adytum Queen who was at least charming in appearance."

Now, Mr. Dwelley, why not be sensible? What sense is there in a beauty contest which is not going to determine the most beautiful? But maybe you like to do things that way! Yet, you yourself admitted our ability. Did you not say, "Kenyon men, long hailed as connoisseurs of feminine beauty." What more could you ask? You further state, "We do not claim that we are capable of officiating at Atlantic City's pageants of bathing (bathing) beauties, nor do we aspire to the job of selecting the chorus for a Broadway musical show. We do claim, however, that Denison men have just as much of an eye for the aesthetic as any other similar collegiate body when it comes to picking out the picture of a beautiful woman."

Perhaps that is where you feel rubbed! We are connoisseurs, and you are not, by your own admission. And you realize that Kenyon is not similar to your "collegiate body" and that we could do a better job than you with our two eyes.

Mr. Dwelley, we lived up to our name as Gentlemen of Kenyon and helped a young lady in distress, for she was surrounded by the dragon of campus politics. We accepted the gesture of friendship. We enjoyed the fun of participating in your contest. But no, you didn't want it that way. You would rather try to persecute one of your Editors who saw a job, wanted it done right, and did it.

Sincerely,
Editor, Kenyon Collegian

THREE ORATORS
"MAKE" TKA

The nomination of three students to membership into Tau Kappa Alpha, National Forensic Fraternity, was announced after a meeting of the society held last week. The nominees are Robert T. Skiles, L. Alan Seymour and Richard C. Olin. The initiation of the new members will take place on May 17, after which the election and installation of new officers will take place.

Francis H. Boyer, president of TKA, announces that he has received word from the national offices of the election of Tau Kappa Alpha to membership in the Association of College Honor Societies. TKA is the youngest society and the only forensic organization admitted to membership in this group of the nation's most select college honor fraternities and so-porities. However, TKA is the sole honor society which grants a charter only upon the petition of college authorities.

"I ought to be paying you instead of you paying me," said Ted Lewis Friday night, when asked how he liked Kenyon. "I never knew such a fine college existed in Ohio, and I hope I'll get a chance to play here again."

Editor "Kenyon Collegian"
Gambier, Ohio

Dear Sir:

Now that the balloting for the Denison Queen is over are you going to be so kind as to print the names of the fourteen contestants? I am not the only man on the Hill who desires this information and I feel sure that the information will be appreciated by all. Be a sport and help fill up our address books with the names of these "queens."

Yours very truly,

A. Campus Student.

We are sorry but it is impossible for us to print the names, or the telephone numbers, of the fourteen contestants in the ADYTUM QUEEN CONTEST. We are not keeping them for ourselves but it is considered best policy to withhold publication. However, we do suggest that you watch THE COLLEGIAN closely for an announcement of the winners when THE ADYTUM comes off the press.—Editor.

events were Kirjan, who took a third in the 440 yard dash and a second on the shot put, and Dandridge, who took second in the broad jump and third in the high hurdles. W. Morgan scored in his distance runs when he placed second in the mile and third in the half mile. Sonnenfeld took two third places, one in the hurdles and one in the 100 yard dash.

Milikin took a second in the low hurdles as well as a third in the discus. Other men who also placed were Weir in the 220 and Sparks in the broad jump, both third places. On Friday the team meets Hiram, there. This promises to be a far more evenly matched meet.

FOOTBALLERS WILL TRAVEL AFAR

The football team will do more traveling next season than it has for a long time. It journeys to Alfred University to meet them October 23, and travels to Chicago to meet Lake Forest college on November 6. Oberlin will be here homecoming week-end October 9. The other home games are Bethany and The Detroit Institute of Technology. The latter is a team with not a particularly impressive 1936 record but it has a very strong Sophomore team and is a school of over one thousand men.

The 1937 schedule is:
October 2—Otterbein, there.
October 9—Oberlin, here.
October 16—Bethany, here.
October 23—Alfred, there.
October 30—D. I. T., here.
November 6—Lake Forest, there.
November 13—Wittenberg, there.

course, "Snowball" Whittier; who, with Ted, put on that old stand-by, "Me And My Shadow." The floor show was well-received by a crowd that milled around the floor and extended all the way to the doors. Thunderous applause greeted each number.

No dance has ever surpassed this one for enthusiasm. Most of the merry-makers, students and faculty members alike, stayed all night, many of them neglecting dancing to listen to the music.

The Great Hall was splendidly decked out, with spot-lights gracing all the walls, and crystal showers emerging from the north wall. Every five minutes or so a flash from a camera revealed that amateur photographers were busy.

The sad hour of five rolled around before anyone realized it, but the packing of instruments and the appearance of brutal dawn made this a cruel fact. So the celebrants were forced to adjourn to breakfast.

Leonard Hall threw open her parlors Saturday afternoon to a crowd of tea dancers still talking about the night before. But the music of Bob McMahon was more than passable, and tea-time was satisfactory.

The Saturday informal brought the week-end to an official close, and tired couples strolled homeward, wishing that it were still Friday.

Russ Gruber and his dance committee are to be congratulated for putting on the finest dance in the memory of Kenyon students, one which will always be remembered. The phonograph records of the broadcast and the pictures that were taken will prove to be souvenirs well worth keeping.

This Sporting World

By Lee Allen

This week-end will see another tennis tournament at Gambier, this one being devoted to kiddies from all over and called the National Prep School Tournament. To date about eight entries have been received, but many more will come in in the next few days. This is the third year of the tournament, and it is steadily growing in prestige.

Two years ago this tournament was begun, quite inauspiciously, at the courts behind Old Kenyon in a blinding rain. Handfuls of spectators appeared intermittently to learn that the favorite was a boy named Arensburg from Shadyside Academy. But the favorite of the gallery was Joe Davis, from Montgomery Bell School at Nashville, Tenn. Arensburg met Davis, then only fourteen, in the finals, and trounced him.

Last year it was possible to move the field of play to the Har-Tru courts, and this fact coupled with a break in the weather allowed some good tennis to be seen. Joe Davis, with better equipment than in 1935, went on to win easily.

This year Davis is entered again, and it will be interesting to see if his game is still improving. He will have a lot of competition.

Following the Prep School Tournament will come the Ohio Conference tournament, which will be an interesting example of legalized mayhem. To see Don McNeill & Co. macthing strokes with the best the Ohio Conference can offer is a good deal like watching Dizzy Dean pitch his heart out against the local nine at Bangs, O. Fortunately, Dean has never been forced to do the latter.

Spring sports have been coming along nicely from a standpoint of finishing the schedules, but outside of tennis, victories are about as scarce as cigarettes in Westerville. The golf team has engaged in four matches, losing them all. In accomplishing this the team has rolled up a total of 7½ points, holding their opponents to a mere 60¼.

The baseball team has also taken the field four times, has also been beaten each time, and only once has a respectable score been made. This was the 5-4 loss to Otterbein.

The track team, handicapped by all sorts of things, did manage to take second place in a triangular meet, but followed this by losing to Capital, who doubled the score on us.

Tennis is successful here because we have tennis players and we have tennis courts. The other sports could take care of themselves also if they had the same set-up.

The so-called track that circles our football field is an interesting pile of cinders that, so far as the author knows, has never been used for anything except a proving ground for autos on dance weekends. As a running track, it is hopeless. Two men of this year's track team attempted to run on it, and both were promptly injured.

Rudy Kutler avers that this year there was much more enthusiasm about track prospects than ever before, but the lack of proper equipment soon threw a damp rag over the entire set-up. It is a pretty sad thing to have high school men come down here to see our wonderful tennis courts, when the unsightly and useless track is projected into the same landscape.

The same thing is almost true of the baseball diamond, although this year enough work has been done on it so that you can tell the field is used for baseball. That's about all though.

How men can be expected to do their best under such conditions is inexplicable. Any good coach can tell you that good equipment is essential to good playing, no matter what the sport. And we say this in spite of the alumni who are going to come back here in June and tell us how back in dear old '000 Brother Soandso ran the five mile dash with an anvil under each arm and a case of double pneumonia. Just think how much better the guy would have done if he had been well and the race was not so long. And think how much better our track team and our baseball team could do if they had some incentive for playing.

Why can't the athletic department be endowed? Our athletic plant is hopelessly dated.

"NUMBER, PLEASE"

the last of which in 1932 took out nearly all the lines. She has been on duty through several fires and a bank robbery when the "drops" were flying in all directions. The drops are the plates which drop down as a signal to the operator to make connections. It is interesting to see that some of the drops are more worn than others. The one from which the finish is most worn, is the line to Howard which also carries all the local stores on it. Running a close second are the six lines to Mt. Vernon, and then several of the divisions.

The telephone operators life is not an easy one. Mrs. Allen and her two assistants daily tend to their business of long distance calls from California to New England; they are there in case of emergencies, and they willingly give information on everything from the time to the movies at the theatres in Mt. Vernon.

Next year will be no one to say "Number, please," "Are you waiting?" and "I'll try again," and one must realize that something is lost in the adoption of modern system.

TEACHERS TAUGHT

Last Thursday the Kenyon netters showed they were getting nearer their true form when they defeated the Western State tennis team in a clean sweep, 6-0.

Don McNeill displayed great form in beating Carl Fischer, who recently defeated Ernie Sutter, the National Intercollegiate champion; 6-2, 8-6 was the score of the McNeill-Fischer match.

McNeill completely overwhelmed Fischer in every department and after six duce points he came through to take the set.

Morey Lewis defeated Milton

Rhuell, their sophomore star, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2. George Pryor had little difficulty in disposing of Norman Klein 6-2, 6-1. Gordon Reeder hurriedly disposed of Devin Smith, 6-3, 6-0.

The Lord's doubles team came through to win both the doubles, however, the teachers did take a set out of both matches, taking the first set in each but the Kenyon netters came on to win easily. Reeder and Pryor opposed Smith and Klein; the score was 4-6, 7-5, 6-2. McNeill and Lewis defeated Fischer and Rhuell 5-7, 6-2, 6-2.

It has been passed by the faculty that Division 8 (Philosophy, Psychology, and Religion) of the present diversification groups be abolished; and that Philosophy be put in Division 4 with Mathematics; that Psychology be put in Division 6 with Biology and Geology; and that Religion be left unclassified. FIVE Divisions shall be required out of SEVEN. This diversification requirement is optional for all students now in College and compulsory for those entering hereafter.

Presenting Joanna de Tuscan—ideal American Girl
Athlete—talented, attractive, fond of dancing, and WOMEN'S FENCING CHAMPION OF THE U. S.

Today the sport of fencing puts much the same value on healthy nerves as did the deadly duels of long ago

IN Joanna de Tuscan's own words: "A person who twitched or didn't have nerve control would never stand out in fencing. My No. 1 reason for choosing Camels is—they never jangle my nerves. I enjoy smoking Camels as often as I please. It's Camels for me always 'for digestion's sake' and when I feel I need a lift. They're so unusually mild and never make my throat harsh or rough."

SCHOLARSHIP MAN. "The toughest part of studying is sticking to it hour after hour," says James Dean, '38. "I've learned that smoking Camels helps ease the nervous tension of study."

HE BROKE the world's indoor 440-yd. dash record twice in one day. Ray Ellinwood—sensational U. of Chicago quarter-miler—prefers Camels. "I find that Camels opened the door to smoking pleasure," he says.

WRESTLING ACE, Joe Green, absorbs plenty of punishment. "A long training grind strains nerves," says Joe. "I enjoy Camels often—they never jangle my nerves. When I'm tired after a bout, a Camel gives me a real 'lift' in energy."
