"MIGHTY LITTLE KENYON" TAKES CINCINNATI CAVALRY TWICE IN BLOODY BATTLE

1000 See Trainer Escape Serious Injury When Players Crash

It took "mighty little Kenyon" to break the winning streak of the Cincinnati Cavalry riders who with 18 wins out of 22 games had defeated such teams as Yale, Cornell, Culver, Detroit, Pittsburgh, and Lexington.

With James Garfield Stewart, Cincinnati's mayor and Kenyon alumnus, '02, tossing the ball into the arena at the beginning of the first game Friday evening, the Kenyon trio of Trainer, Eberle and McMahon started out on what proved to be their toughest battle this season. A record crowd of over one thousand spectators saw a Kenyon team, on the short end after the first period, stage a comeback in the last two periods. Three goals were scored by each team during the second chukker which kept Cincinnati in the lead, 6½-4. Eberle playing opposite Cincinnati's strongest man was somewhat bewildered during the first two periods but caught on to his opponent's tricky strategy and nailed him down during the remainder of the game. The third period netted seven goals for Kenyon and three and a half points for Cincy, score 11-11. Seven goals for Kenyon and five for Cincinnati put the game on the ice for the Lords in the last chukker, 18-16.

Saturday's game was a bloody encounter. The house was packed and it witnessed a game marked by tumbles of riders and horses, bloody faces, reckless riding and (Continued on Page 4)

"RETALIATION" BY I. R. C. PLANNED

Kenyon's International Relations club after a successful intellectual and social round of activities at Lake Erie college plans retaliation by playing host to the young ladies of that school. The executive committee of the Kenyon chapter is formulating plans which will include dinner and an afternoon session on the Saturday following. After the business session an evening banquet and an informal dance will conclude the activities. Twenty-five members of the Lake Erie chapter will be invited.

On April 4 and 5 the club will have as its guest, Frank O. Darval, noted English publicist, who will speak on the British Foreign Policy and the German question. Besides being a professional commentator, Mr. Darval is a lecturer on International Relations at Cambridge University in England. He is a politician affiliated with the Liberal party.

James Heath, president of the Kenyon chapter, urges members to attend the meeting, February 27, at 8:00 p. m., in the lounge of the Commons. Important business will be discussed and full cooperation of every member is necessary to make the activities of the club successful.

Chalmers Names Amherst Inst'r To Dean Vacancy

DR. GILBERT T. HOAG
Dean, Kenyon College

Dr. Gilbert T. Hoag, instructor in English at Amherst college, was today named Dean of Kenyon College by President Gordon Keith Chalmers. Dean Hoag will begin his new position in September.

Dr. Hoag, who is the tenth new member to be added to the Kenyon faculty during the current academic year, is a graduate of Haverford College and Harvard university and has for the past ten years been instructor in English at Amherst. As a member of the Amherst faculty, Dr. Hoag carried on research work in Germany and Scandinavia in 1935 and 1936 on a Sherman Pratt Faculty Fellowship from Amherst. He has also studied extensively at English universities.

Before entering Haverford, Dr. Hoag attended La Villa, a boarding school for boys at Lausanne, Switzerland. He then entered Phillips Exeter Academy, where he was graduated. At Haverford he was president of the Poetry Club and later graduated with high honors in English. At Harvard he studied English and Business Administration and received the degrees of M. A. in 1925 and Ph. D. in 1938.

JUNIOR "SCHOLARS" HAVE 1.74 AVERAGE

The committee on scholarships has recently met and reviewed the records of present scholarship holders, and considered the applications of those wishing scholarships. Also, there have been three new scholarships added to the lists, and eight present holders will receive raises in the scholarships they now hold.

Dr. C. M. Coffin, head of the committee, remarked that a scholarship is a reward for intellectual achievement, and not simply a grant to an otherwise deserving student. He added that a student with a 2.0 average who shows that his general attitude is favorable, and has definite need, added to a favorable interview with members of the scholarship committee, with good references of responsible people, is eligible to apply for a scholarship. Dr. Coffin also stressed the point that a man who gets a 2.0 or better average will not automatically receive a scholarship, but will have to fulfill the requirements stated above.

As a point of interest, it may be added that the Junior scholarship holders lead the school with the average grade of 1.74. The Freshmen follow them with an average of 1.9, the Sophomores following them with an average of 1.97. The Seniors bring up the last of the list with a 2.0 average.

PRE-MED GROUP INVITES MEMBERS

Applications for membership in the Pre-Medical Club are now being invited. Applicants must state their average in Science grades and their class in college. They also must be pre-medical students. Applications in writing should be turned in to R. L. Shorkey, South Hanna, on or before Monday, February 28.

Brouse, Henry, Lehrer Display Strength For Next Year

Kenyon's undefeated swim-squad traveled into Southern Ohio February 16-17, crushing Wittenberg and the University of Cincinnati. The final score at Wittenberg read 64-11 with the Kenyon team taking first place in every event, five second places out of seven events, and accounting for one third place turned in by Henry in the 100-yard free style. The Ehle-Brouse-Shorkey 300-yard medley relay machine splashed to their victory with an Eagon-Ehle-Brouse-Sebach combination winning the 400-yard relay. The purple divers, Long and Davis, took first and second, inclusively, with Long out-pointing his mate by a 6.4 margin. Lehrer won the 220-yard free style and took second in the 440. Eagon won the 50-yard free style and Matthews followed second. Matthews picked up his first in the 440 free style. Bill Griffin took his usual backstroke event with the Ehle taking second honors. Griffin helped in the 220 by getting a second place. Sebach splashed in a first in the 100-yard free style and the frog-men Shorkey-Wehmeyer, took a first and third, respectively, in the 200-yard breaststroke. Wittenberg accounted for two second places in the 100-yard free style and the breaststroke. They ran up five third places, the majority of these carried by the Hicks and Hoch company.

At Cincinnati the final score stood 61-12. Kenyon still on a high-scoring rampage. Here the Lords took five first places, six seconds, and one third place, also cinching (Continued on Page 4)

This troupe, traveling in repertory, will bring a quality of performance not often enjoyed outside the metropolitan areas.

There will be one performance of "The Rivals." That is Sunday evening, March 20. Admission will be 50 cents.

SENIORS, NOTICE!

Tonight at 7:00 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Senior class in the second floor lounge of the Commons. Everyone be there!

Kenyon Plays Inspired Ball, Holds Wooster

Undaunted by the 23 point lead which the Scots of Wooster College, present Ohio Conference leaders, held over them at the half time of the game played at Wooster last Saturday night, Kenyon's Lords staged a second half rally which netted them 40 points to their Wooster's 17 and gave them a 51-51 tie. In the overtime period, Wooster outclassed the Lords and emerged the victor with a 64-52 count.

As might have been expected the scoring honors of the game went to Frascella of Wooster, noted for his scoring ability, who dropped in fourteen goals and three fouts for a total of 31 points. Gordon "Tex" Reeder, displayed a beautiful brand of ball against the leaders, set the pace for the Lords with 19 points, followed by Chubbuck also of the Purple with 13.

A strong advocate of the small college, he believes that such college should develop the character and physique of the student, as well as the mind. He also believes that habits of clear and precise thinking are of more importance than purely factual knowledge.

Famous as one of America's foremost soccer players and frequently referred to as an All American in that sport, Dr. Hoag was a member of the Haverford varsity and later played with the Merion Cricket club team. At Amherst he coached the freshman soccer team.

HAFELI CALLS SPRING PRACTICE

Coach Dwight Hafeli called spring practice for his 1938 football squad on March 3. Coach Hafeli hopes to get in three weeks of hard work, at the most, so that the team will be that much farther advanced when the season opens next fall. Coach Hafeli also hopes to obtain a line on the new players in this session and to stress fundamentals. If the attendance is good, the session of course will be shorter but a small turnout will mean a lot of work for a small squad. He intends to split the squad into two equal camps based on ability and hopes for these two teams to play a series of regular games, the losing team treating the winning team to a smoker. There will also be a contest for those players that show the most ability on the fundamentals of the game at the close of the practise session three weeks hence.

Players asked to report are: Juniors, May, Olin, Elliot, Baker, Stamm, Thomas; Sophomores called are: Reed, Whittaker, Crutenden, Chubbuck, Michaels, Schuller, Shubin, Seibert, Wende. Reporting from Coach Imel's Frosh squad will be: Trealeven, Tanner, Pringle, C. Bowen, Watts, Loving, Justice, McDowell, Seltzer, Curtiss, Stevens, Hancock, G. Chubbuck, and Sveik. This practise is open to anyone interested in football, and Coach Hafeli hopes many will come out who did not come out last fall but yet have ability.

MU KAPS, BETAS SET FOR CHAMP. TILT

Last week saw about the last Intramural basketball games before the final, which is to be played for the championship, between the Mu Kaps and the Betas, which will probably take place Thursday.

In the first game of the week, Phi Sig defeated Psi U, 22-14. In this game the high scorers were, for their respective teams, Jones with six, and Reed with five. In the second, Mu Kap outlasted the Delts, 18-14. Michaels with seven points, for Middle Kenyon, and McCulough, Beta with eight, were the scoring leaders.

South Leonard nosed out East Wing in the closest of the weeks' contests, 19-17. Lewis and Cavenader led the scoring for the Alpha Delts, while Amato topped South Leonard with eleven. South Leonard also won the most one-sided game of the week, and were again led by Amato. They swarmed over North Hanna to the tune of 50-15, as Amato piled up twenty-nine points. Trainer also starred for Betas, grabbing off fourteen, while Chubbuck got six for the losers.

In the final game of the week, South Leonard completed a busy

Letters

The COLLEGIAN assumes no responsibility for views expressed in this column.

Dear Editor of the Collegian:

I read, today, with great interest and conflicting emotions the letter addressed to you by a member of the Philomathesian Society and your comment on the same. Nu Pi Kappa, the sister society, was organized in the very early days and rivalry between the two was keen.

While Hayes, 1842, was a student so many southern men had withdrawn from Kenyon, due to the controversy over slavery, that Nu Pi Kappa was faced with dissolution. Guy Bryan, of Texas, and Hayes were classmates and fast friends and together they worked out a plan by which a delegation resigned its membership in Philo, joined Nu Pi and thus preserved the life of the latter society.

While the writer was in college the total number of students exclusive of K. M. A. and Bexley reached the low ebb of 29. But we had an active Philo. This old society has given to the nation a president and a host of others prominent in public life whose number is out of all proportion to its total membership.

Never in the history of Kenyon has there been greater need of discussion and debate on questions vitally affecting the welfare, perhaps the very continuance of our form of government. Philo! help "Wake up America."

Mr. Williams, it is gratifying to hear from Alumni who knew Philo "way back when."—Ed.

Q. E. D.

You may not be a Tarzan, you may not be a Lou Gehrig, you may not be a football hero, but you all have a chance to show your stuff in the T. K. A. speech contest to be held soon.

You puny course spoilers may creep out from behind your books long enough to give a speech or three. You men who never associate with others can get together with yourself and make-up a speech, you athletic heroes can climb down and mingle with the rabble long enough to speechify. In fact, every man in Kenyon has an opportunity to do his stuff before an audience who really will appreciate his efforts. The attendance last year shows that the contest is very popular, so why hold back your modest violets? Hand in your entry to T. K. A. and sling it along with the rest of the boys.

Dear Whoever-You-Are:

Don't be discouraged if some sour-puss (indignant Kenyon patriot, as he might be called) doesn't like your column. I also have been reading it continually and I believe you encompassed perfectly the opinion of the majority of the students—the intelligent ones at least. Keep up your constructive criticism, for this is exactly what we need.

Yours for some successful results,

(If you print this letter, please withhold name.)

Thanks a lot, chum, I'm glad to get one complimentary letter. It helps a lot to think that someone is really understanding what I write.

BLACK, LAMB CAST IN VERNON PLAY

The wife of a Kenyon professor and a member of the college administrative staff will both be starred in a dramatic offering this Thursday evening in Mt. Vernon. The vehicle is "First Lady," Broadway success of last season, and prize-winning movie. Mrs. John W. Black, and Miss Lucy Ellen Lamb are both featured in important roles, particularly the charming Mrs. Black.

"First Lady" is to be presented by the Mt. Vernon Theatre Guild as the twenty-second annual Library Fund Benefit. The Memorial Theatre is the scene of this event, and tickets are now on sale at 25, 50, and 75 cents. A member of the Collegian staff who witnessed the dress rehearsal cannot be subdued in his enthusiasm for the brilliant performance given by Mrs. Black in this play. She is very well cast, and has adapted herself to the character in a fashion which practically "steals the show." All Kenyonites are urged to see this comedy with the assurance that it is far above the standard of ordinary

Why Yes, Pango!

It is eight-thirty and Pango and I are sitting in our room studying; that is, I think we are studying until I look up and notice that Pango is reading a popular magazine.

Well Pango, I ask, why aren't you studying? Nothing to study, mumbles Pango without even looking up from his magazine. Don't you have any classes tomorrow, I ask. Sure, replies Pango, three of them.

Now you can't tell me that your professors haven't assigned any work for their classes, I comment. They assign it, all right, affirms Pango, fourteen pages of translation for my eight o'clock, two and a half chapters for my nine o'clock, and a quiz for my eleven o'clock.

I am surprised, I tell him, that with all this work to do, you say you have nothing to study.

Simple, says Pango casually, putting down his magazine, it works this way. If I study for my first two classes, I won't be able to study for my quiz at eleven o'clock, and then I'll flunk it. But if I study for my quiz, I am sure I can ace it. Yet, if I do that, I can't study for my first two classes. And, if you don't study for a class what is the point of going to it just in order to catch a couple of daily-recitation fishes? So if I don't go to my first two classes tomorrow morning, I'll have enough time to study for my quiz tomorrow. And that's the reason I don't have anything to study now.

That doesn't make sense, I say, on one hand you don't seem to have enough time for anything, and on the other hand you have more time than you can use. That, comments Pango, is one of life's many strange paradoxes which I can't bother to explain now.

You must get a lot of cuts that way, I inquire, don't you. Yes, says Pango, that is the only unfortunate thing about the whole deal.

Well, I say, why can't you study for all your classes. Then you wouldn't have to cut so much. That would mean that I wouldn't know as much about the subject as I ought to, or that I'd be so tired and I couldn't stay awake in class, explains Pango. In either case I'd appear dull and lazy in the eyes of the professor. I find that it is much better to go to one class fully prepared, and feeling my best, rather than to go to three classes tired and ill prepared. It is better for my average.

By the way, what average did you get last semester, I ask with a smirk. Better than a one point five, says Pango modestly, of course I didn't work so very hard. And Pango returns to his magazine while I sit and gaze at my open book and think.

Not for posterity: "You can be betting that we are getting some fun out of life" is the song that the great nations of the world are singing as they load their shoulders with chips which look more like scrolls of closely typed demands for colonies and trade-bases than like the conventional blocks of wood. A man, a nation, I mean, does not seem to be a man any more unless he has a corps of slaves to boss around and to sell things to.

CHALK TALK

By Jack Barlow

It seems to me that Cincinnati had an overdose of Kenyon victories last week. First, Coach Imel led his undefeated swimmers into town and it's reported that they emerged with a 61-12 victory. Frankly, from the two scores it was quite a holiday for the team, piling up 126 points to their opponents 23. It doesn't sound like too much work and the story also reads that Coach Imel swam his sophomores as much as possible. Maybe Imel should have swum the seniors and taken all the points at Cincinnati except that Davis and Long and Company were beaten in the diving by Poplar of Cincinnati.

Secondly, Captain Eberle took his three, and only three, poloists to Cincinnati to play one of the toughest polo teams in this part of the country, and the boys trot out and walloped the cavalry men on two successive nights, 18-16, and 23-17.

Mayor Stewart, who threw the ball in for the game, is an alumnus of Kenyon, class of '02, and was one of the many in a capacity crowd of 1,000 who were thrilled by the close game on Friday night and the rough game on Saturday night.

What worries me is how the Kenyon team is going to practice for the Intercollegiate in a sea of mud. Last Saturday the indoor riding floor became muddier than a state fair race track on a rainy day, under the heavy downpour of rain making the ring useless for riding. It just happens the roof is worn out. How Captain Eberle hopes to use this ring during Gambier's California month of sunshine is a mystery to me. It only rained thirty of the thirty-one days last March.

Toledo may have their Chukovits, Michigan their Townsend, and Stanford their Luisetti, but Wooster's "Pop" Frascella keeps right up among the nation's best. "Pop" sinks them from anywhere and managed to sink himself a measly 31 points in last Saturday night's fracas against the Purple at Wooster. In spite of the fact that the Purple lost, 64-52, the game was nearly an upset as at the end of the game the score was 51-51. In the overtime "Pop" broke loose for five of his baskets for ten points clinching the game for Wooster. The Kenyon team has been an in and out team all year and for the last few games has been really hot. The sophomores have learned a lot of basketball so far this year and will continue to do so for the remaining three games with Ashland, Mt. Union and Wooster. The latter is the only remaining home game. If you're interested in seeing a real exhibition of basketball go over to the gym, for a change, next Wednesday night and watch the Scotts and the Lords in another battle and learn why Wooster leads the Ohio conference.

In spring football practice this year there will be a very familiar face missing—Mike Simonetti. For three springs and two falls, he got all he had out on that field. He fought as few Kenyon guards ever fought. Win or lose "Mike" played for all he was worth. Due to a serious injury received last fall, "Mike" has to forget about football and his loss is not going to be easy to overcome. Now is the chance for all those players who in the football poll expressed their ability to play to show their ability by reporting for spring football and give the coach a chance to size up next year's squad. Next year there is a difficult but short schedule, so it is imperative that as much work as possible be done this spring. Next Thursday is the day and Coach Hafeli will welcome all his last year's men who are not graduated, and all of last year's freshmen squad.

Saturday, the Wooster swimmers come to Gambier to try and prove to Imel that he was just a little bit over-confident in getting his hair cut so soon. If you remember he was going to wait until the team was beaten, but being a staunch optimist he decided to aid the barber business out of what Mr. Roosevelt calls a recession and what college students call being plain broke and invested in something that might be somewhat unsafe. The last time the two teams met at Wooster the score was 51-35. Newspaper clippings said that Kenyon edged out a victory.

The score should be better this time as it is in our own pool Saturday at 3 p. m.

spectacular playing. The first period resembled a wild horse chase rather than a polo game. Trainer escaped serious injury in a miraculous way when his opponent clashed at top speed with Trainer's mount hurling rider and horse through the air. A nose-for-news photographer clicked his shutter to catch the accident. Soon after this incident a ready-for-business doctor patched up a wide gash in the same Cincy player who got his chin too close to Trainer's mallet. The referee then warned the players. The game, however, continued to be rough. By the end of the first half Cincy was leading, 9½-7. The third period saw the score change in favor of Kenyon, 11½-10. In the last period the Kenyon riders displayed a brilliant brand of polo, hitting the ball twelve times through the goal posts and allowing the Cavalry only three goals. The spectators went wild as Kenyon whipped the "tough boys" as one paper termed them.

Bob McMahon was presented with a mallet by one of Cincinnati's fair horsewomen at the end of the game for his high-scoring, which he shared in equal measure with Trainer and Eberle for their outstanding play.

A large group of Kenyon alumni expressed their happiness by entering into a singing contest with the Cincinnati Cavalry Choir during the entertainment following the game.

Saturday morning Captain Eberle took the team to the City Hall to pay their respects to Mayor Stewart who entertained them at great length with stories of "old time Kenyon, the finest school in this big country."

The Kenyon poloists return to Cincinnati March 11 and 12 for another series with the Cavalry.

SWIMMING

the 300-yard medley and 400-yard relays. Griffin - Shorkey - Brouse turned in the 300-yard medley while the Griffin - Brouse - Ehle - Sebach team cinched the 400-yard relay. Lehrer won first honors in the 220 and 440-yard free style with Henry, another Sophomore, following second in these events. The Sebach and Eagon firm took first and second inclusively in the 50 and 100-yard free style. Popor of Cincinnati out-dove Davis into second place, Long following third. Griffin and Ehle back-stroked the 140-yard grind and figured in the first and second column. Shorkey beat the waves for a first in the breast stroke, Wehmyer taking Kenyon's only third place in the meet. Cincinnati took a first in diving, one second place in the breast stroke, and four third places accounting for the University's twelve points.

The important outcome of the meets was the work displayed by Sophomores Brouse, Henry, and Lehrer who were all worked hard by Coach Imel to gain invaluable experience for next year and they gave evidence of being strong contenders for Sebach's, Eagon's and Matthews's positions, who will be lost at graduation.

WHAT M. C. COBEN SAID TO HAROLD SNEAD,
CHIEF PILOT OF TWA

"Do you find Camels really different from other cigarettes?"

Harold Snead gives his own answer—"Camels agree with me!" he says. And millions of other smokers agree with Pilot Snead, making Camels the largest-selling cigarette in America

ON HIS SECOND MILLION MILES! Snead has been flying since the "night mail" days. He knows what he's talking about when he says: "You've got to take care of yourself in this line of work. Ragged nerves are out. I smoke—all I want. Camels don't get on my nerves."

A FEW of the instruments that Pilot Snead has to watch. After a trip, Hal likes a Camel. "When I feel tired, I smoke a Camel," he says. "Yes, I get a 'lift' with a Camel. You may think I am enthusiastic about them. I am! All in all, here is a cigarette that agrees with me!"

"Some people say all cigarettes are alike, Mr. Snead... Can Camels really be so different?"

"There's a big difference, sir. I know most of the American fliers with records of several thousand hours in the air. The majority are steady smokers and prefer Camels, as I do. Experience has taught them that Camel is a really different cigarette!"

AFTER THE BIG TWA SKYSLEEPER, above, was set down in Newark Airport, M. C. Coben was chatting with Hal Snead, chief pilot of the Eastern region, and Isabelle Judkins, air hostess. Hal pulled out his Camels and offered them around. And so they got to talking cigarettes!

ON DUTY, Isabelle is a perfect hostess! "I notice most of the passengers on the TWA run prefer Camels," she says. "When conversation turns to cigarettes, someone always exclaims that Camel is certainly the cigarette that is different. The comment I often hear is, 'Camels agree with me.'"
