HIKA EDITORS GIVE POLICY EXPLANATION

Literary Magazine To Be Suspended For Balance of Year

For some time there has been considerable wonder and speculation on the campus as to the status and policy of HIKA. At long last the editors are prepared to make a public statement concerning the future of the magazine.

Students of Kenyon have shown by their concern at the long delay in publication of HIKA that they want such a magazine here. But for the most part they have been more willing to criticize than to show an active interest in it. And now, because the deadline for the last issue had to be moved up two months in order to obtain sufficient material to fill its pages, HIKA has been placed far behind schedule. Although it would be possible to publish the rest of this year's issues during the relatively small amount of time remaining (some fine material is now on hand, and more has been recently promised), this is inadvisable for the reason that advertising contracts could not be satisfactorily fulfilled, and no publication can operate successfully under such circumstances.

Thus it is that the staff has found it necessary to forego publication for the two months remaining of this college year and to suspend the magazine until September. With the aid of Dr. C. Coffin, Malcolm Doig, Brent Tozzer and Harshman Miller are subjecting the staff to a vigorous reorganization to prevent any recurrence of the present condition of the magazine. With this end in view, it is requested that persons interested in working or writing for HIKA see any of the above-mentioned immediately.

Local I. R. Club Entertains Lake Erie Lassies

The Kenyon Chapter of the International Relations Club had as their guests April 9-10 Lake Erie College, Saturday afternoon was spent formulating ideas concerning the Spanish problem and its Mediterranean consequences and the problem of satisfying Germany. Such plans as a British plan of pacification and settlement of Mediterranean problems and Pan-Germanic plan of extreme claims were extended.

The conference ended with an informal dance Saturday night held at 8:30 in the Commons. Students, faculty and visiting alumni attended.

The Kenyon Chapter was extremely fortunate to meet informally with the British publicist and politician, Dr. Duval on April 6 discussing International Relations.

Reporter Laments Passing of "Courts"

In the year nineteen hundred and thirty-six, Kenyon College by reputation had four of the best clay tennis court in Ohio. In the year nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, Kenyon has no clay playing courts, from a utilitarian point of view. This sudden transition from something to nothing is an interesting story.

About two years ago, four Har-True courts were finished and ready for the use of the Kenyon students. This was a worthy addition to the Kenyon plant, and since their completion, these courts have been in constant use during favorable weather. Now our story reverts back to the clay courts behind Old Kenyon, and what happened there in the next two years merits the scientific and minute scrutiny of anyone interested in management.

An object lesson in the "so nots" of management is one of the finest ways of learning efficient use of equipment. In the two years since the Har-True courts were first open to the student body, those clay courts have suffered many and rugged abuses. After heavy rains they were used for foot races and auto races. This past winter a skating rink was endeavored there, but for some reason no one skated on that rink. Today, those one-time tennis courts are an unhappy sight to behold, for on that fairly level piece of ground there is trash, junk, missiles of a vast variety.

Let no one venture to say that these courts have not been kept up for lack of demand. On any play day, there is a great line of tennis enthusiasts waiting patiently for a chance to employ one of the Har-True courts. The fact that we have no longer our one-time famed clay courts can be attributed to gross abuse by students, followed by half hearted and never really thorough attempts by the Phi Betes to recondition the old courts.

LOCAL PSI U CHAPTER HOST TO CONVENTION

By Phil Porter

Iota Chapter of Psi Upsilon, here at Kenyon, will be host to the Psi U Convention on April 18, 19, 20 of this year. Three times before the Iota has acted in this capacity. The first time was in 1867, then again in 1888, and for the third time in 1910.

The convention this year, will be different from most present day fraternity conventions. It will be kept entirely on the "Hill."

President Gordon K. Chalmers has granted to Iota the complete use of the college.

Guests are to be housed in the Alumni House and in Leonard hall.

"Because the convention will be kept on the 'Hill' we will be able to do a lot of things which would be impossible in a city where a hotel must be the center of action," said Harold Sparks, Psi U president. "We are going to have an ox roast in our lodge grounds on Monday night. On Tuesday we will have an out-door smoker accompanied by professional as well (Continued on Page 3)

"Night Must Fall" To Be First Of Kenyon's Movies

By Robert B. Brown

According to Time Magazine: "Night Must Fall" comes under the heading of "...a daring cinematic experiment." Declared to be one of the year's ten best films, this picture, starring Bob Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, is certainly one that every Kenyon student should not miss. Kenyon is fortunate in securing this film for a one night showing on Sunday evening, the 24th of April. Bob Montgomery proves himself to be a top-flight actor in one of the finest characterizations seen on the screen in the role of an ego-centric murderer, whose brutality is as real as any movie audience could ask for.

Mark Van Doren praises Mr. Montgomery's acting in saying that he is "convincing and absorbing," and any person who has seen this picture cannot help but agree. It is without doubt the most interesting picture on criminology that Hollywood has produced.

As an added feature to the first program, Robert Benchley will apply his wit and humor to a short subject entitled: "How To Start the Day." Because of an agreement with film distributors, only those persons directly connected with the college are invited to attend. These persons include: all Kenyon and Bexley Hall students; members of the faculty or employees of the college and their wives.

After three years of planning and campaigning, Kenyon's dream of motion pictures on the Hill has at last come to reality. We should be very grateful indeed to all those who have made this possible.

Opening night, then, is Sunday evening, April 24, featuring the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer success "Night Must Fall."

Players Assemble, Dine, Wine and Elect

Under the soft glow of candlelight forty members of the Kenyon Dramatic Club assembled in the banquet room of Peirce Hall last Thursday, April 7th, to celebrate the conclusion of a successful year of play producing.

Members of the club assembled in the Coffee Shop and were lead into the banquet room by Dale Shaffer, president of the club, who acted as toast-master. Immediately following the dinner, Mr. Shaffer called the meeting to order, and an election of officers was held. Mr. Shaffer was re-elected, and Richard Olin was elected to the office of assistant director, Thomas Sawyer, vice-president, and David Feagans, secretary. Upon motion of Mr. Shaffer, Eric Hawke was unanimously elected stage manager for the year 1938-39.

Dr. John W. Black, Professor of Speech, made a brilliant address in which he bore messages from the ladies of the faculty who had taken parts in plays during the year. Mr. Black spoke of the success of the club and contributed it to the splendid and full cooperation of all members. Immediately following the applause for Mr. Black, Professor W. Ray Ashford was called up (Continued on Page 3)

Three Major Meets Are Scheduled For The Birdmen

Whether the National Intercollegiate Flying meet will be held at Kenyon, Akron or again at Hicksville, Long Island, will be decided at the National Intercollegiate Flying Conference which will be held in Washington, D. Kenyon will compete in the Midwestern Meet held every year at the Kenyon airport, the National Intercollegiate Flying Conference meet to be held again in Philadelphia, and the National Intercollegiate Flying meet to be held at the close of the school year.

Drama Club Ends Season With Best Production of Year

By Joseph W. Peoples

There was an ice storm outside, and inside Nu Pi Kappa Hall last Wednesday evening there was a storm of laughter and applause. Despite the ice storm, one of the largest audiences of the year witnessed a production of "Shoemaker's Holiday," which was in nearly every way equal to professional work.

The enthusiasm of the large audience was certainly justified, for with Thomas Dekker's old comedy the Dramatic Club used its talents in fine fashion. Just as is the case with the contemporary Broadway production of "Shoemaker's Holiday," the cast entered into the spirit of this Elizabethan burlesque in bubbling good spirits, and with the pep, the jolly bounce and sprightly lilt that are so necessary to its success.

The over-acting that has characterized some of the previous plays in this year's schedule was not present to any noticeable degree in "Shoemaker." Practically the entire cost, from the more important characters to the "walk-ons" performed with a spirit and a quality of interpretation without which (Continued on Page 4)

It is legend on Kenyon's Hill that no typical Kenyon man is actively interested in anything. Blase, sophisticated boredom was supposed to be the distinguishing mark of any upper-classman. But recent experience has proved that if that supposition is true at all, it is not borne out by a good part of the student body.

When a call went out for men in the various divisions to report on choices of motion pictures by their particular group, every man asked responded quickly and efficiently. But later, when volunteers were requested to assume permanent responsibilities on the Production Staff for the movies, twice as many men responded as were actually needed. And the men who were chosen for the various positions have given long hours of work already toward preparing for the first show. In spite of heart-breaking delays, and continued postponements, the nine men who comprise the staff have worked cheerfully and patiently with the many problems which arise prior to even the announcement of the first program. Without any material reward whatsoever—without even a free admission to the shows—nine Kenyon men are working so that you may attend a series of smooth running movie shows. The COLLEGIAN congratulates these very "un-traditional" Kenyon men.

TRACK TEAM IN MEET AT DENISON

Coach Rudy Kutler has his track team working out faithfully and training earnestly for their first meet against Denison and Otterbein at Denison, April 23. The seniors out for the squad are Milar, Boren, Clark, Sparks, and Gage. Other outstanding candidates are Brown, McMullin, Young, Michaels, Puffer, Wende, Gray, Olin, and Shaw. Coach Hafeli is handling the field events and has plenty of material in those events.

Mr. Kutler believes he has a better balanced team than last year and has enough man power to be tough to beat.

Over twenty-five freshmen have reported for track and this is most enlightening to Coaches Kutler and Hafeli. Perhaps they see track also coming out of the doldrums and blossoming into a paying sport as far as the win column is concerned.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

POLOISTS LOSE TO HARVARD, 15-6

The better team won as Kenyon went down in defeat to Harvard at the National Intercollegiate Polo meet held in New York. The Kenyon riders played hard from beginning to end; however, probably due to over-anxiety they did not play their usual brand of polo. It took Kenyon the entire first period to get used to the enormously large ring and to analyze the tactics of their opponent with the result that Harvard scored eight times during the first period while Kenyon was able to score only twice during the same period. During the remaining three periods Harvard was able to score only seven times with Kenyon scoring four times. Two pony-goals, another goal made when the ball hitting the helmet of a Harvard player bounded right into the goal and some lucky shots enabled Harvard to roll up a total score of 15 while balls stopping less than one inch from the goal-line or hitting the wall a few inches to the left or right of the goal posts held Kenyon's score down to six. Realizing the bad breaks which came to the hard-playing Kenyon team the whole crowd cheered wildly from beginning to end for Kenyon. Harvard used twelve ponies for the game while Kenyon, through the kind efforts of Mr. Cummings, was able to raise their number of ponies from six to ten. Our own ponies could run as fast as the ponies of the Harvard team, but they were inferior to the latter when it came to stopping and turning; this, of course, being due to the utter lack of training-facilities. Considering that the father of the No. 2 player on the Harvard team owns 150 first class ponies, one may easily understand that Harvard's string of ponies can not be touched. In spite of everything the Kenyon players have given a mighty good account of themselves and every Kenyon alumnus was well pleased with their performance. It was most gratifying when, on the morning after the game, the manager of the famous Newark Essex Troop polo association invited the Kenyon team to play one of their teams the following Saturday, offering at the same time to pay all expenses. The invitation could not be accepted since our ponies were already on their way back to Gambier.

KENYON NATATORS TAKE 3RD. IN A. A. U.

Last week in Cleveland, the National Junior A. A. U. Swimming Championships were held. The entries from Kenyon were Sebach, Eagon, Rowe and Vinnedge in the 200-yd. relay, and the two former in the 50-yd. free style.

In the relay, Kenyon's quartet qualified at 7:30 p. m., in the second heat, there being eleven teams competing. The time they made here was not equalled all evening, as they splashed through in 1:40.2. The race itself took place at 8:30, and was won by Western Reserve Academy in 1:42.2. The Detroit Athletic Club was second, and Kenyon, third. At the finish, the first three teams were each within a foot and a half of the line.

In the 50-yd. race, Sebach was first in the finals with 25.4, Hobart of Sandusky High school, considered Sebach's closest rival, was second, and rather unexpectedly, Eagon was third.

In the National Senior A. A. U. Championships, the 300-yd. medley relay Kenyon team of Sebach, Shorkey and Griffin swam their best race ever, and finished in the finals in 7th place in a field of fifteen teams. Their time was 3:11. Princeton won this race, and in doing so, set a new world's record on. Mr. Ashford rose to the occasion in his customary brilliant way and told about the meager beginning of the now flourishing Dramatic Club. Various members of the club revealed after the meeting that the organization of the Kenyon Dramatic Club was due largely to the efforts of Mr. Ashford who kept alive interest in dramatics at Kenyon during the years of the depression.

Following Mr. Ashford's talk, Mr. Shaffer announced the creation of an organization to be known as The Hill Players. Membership will be drawn from juniors and seniors who have taken major parts in at least six plays or the equivalent. Charter members include Mr. Shaffer, Eric Hawke, Thomas Sawyer, Richard Olin, Joseph Allen, Howard Poland, and Hugh Lawrence.

The meeting was brought to a close by a scene from The First Legion, played by Howard Poland and Eric Hawke.

President Chalmers also spoke.

WHEN RAY WINTERS SIGNED OFF (above) he had a long, hard day behind him. Ray has thought a lot about which cigarette best fits in with the nerve-and-energy-consuming work he does. "Camels are different from other cigarettes," is his verdict. "In the ten years I've been enjoying them, I've never known Camels to make my throat feel scratchy, my nerves ragged. That says mildness, doesn't it? There are so many ways in which Camels agree with me!"

And many millions of other smokers find what they want in Camels, too.

MORE and more experienced smokers are concluding: "Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me." If you are not now smoking Camels, try them. Look for the difference between Camels and other cigarettes. Find out what it means to enjoy Camel's costlier tobaccos.

HE'S AFTER A "STRIKE"! Off duty, bowling is one of Ray Winters' pastimes. He's good! "And when I'm tired," Ray says, "I get a 'lift' with a Camel—a feeling of renewed energy."

"The majority of tobacco growers favor Camels because we know what choice tobacco goes into them,"

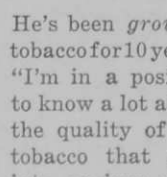

TOBACCO PLANTERS REPORT

"The favorite with most men who grow tobacco," is what Vault Snowden, veteran planter, calls Camels. "Camel doesn't buy just any tobacco—they get the best. The Camel buyer bought all the choice grade tobacco of my last crop. I've been a steady Camel smoker myself for 19 years."

B. F. Bivins, another experienced tobacco grower, knows what cigarette pays more for the choice leaf tobacco. "The Camel people sure do get the best grades," he says. "Take my own crop last year. Camel bought the best lots. And other planters will tell you the same. You bet, I smoke Camels."

He's been growing tobacco for 10 years. "I'm in a position to know a lot about the quality of the tobacco that goes into various cigarettes," James Graves, another well-known planter, says. "Most of the growers around here—myself included—sold the best leaf tobacco of their last crop to Camels. I know tobacco so I smoke Camels."

SHOEMAKER'S HOLIDAY

the show would have been lost. Since this work is a loosely organized piece of drama, and has a continuity which is difficult to follow, the audience was fortunate to have it performed in such a fashion as to point up each situation and episode. There were few dull moments, and although the audience may not always have been able to understand the flow of action, they were certainly kept in such constant mirth at the lively delivery of colorful lines that it made little difference. The writer cannot remember any other comedy at Kenyon which has aroused in the audience such continued and hilarious laughter.

Eric Hawke proves now without any doubt to be one of the most versatile members of our dramatic corps. He can play practically any sort of role with considerable success, and although we have severely criticized him in the past for working too hard at his parts, he completely redeemed himself in our eyes with his naive and captivating interpretation of Firk. Dale Shaffer and Virginia Imel must be listed as show-stoppers. The vivacity of all the ladies of the cast is amazing. One is at a loss to understand how supposedly stiff-backed faculty wives can so consistently turn out to be coy, charming, frivolous, and lovely to look at.

Hugh Lawrence gave a virile performance, and his double-characterization was expert. It is impossible to mention everyone by name who contributed with a quality performance. Tom Sawyer was his customary best, and Grudier, Huff and Porter certainly allowed Dekker's bones to lie contentedly.

It should be noted that the diction of the actors is a specially good feature of our plays. Dr. Black has trained his group so well in proper diction, pronunciation, and "projection" that few words are mouthed or mumbled. The farthest corner of Nu Pi Kappa hall is reached by almost every line of the play. Few must strain their ears. Being able to hear distinct words from the back row is the first demand of the audience, and that demand is being artistically satisfied by our club.

The half-dozen odd plays seen here this year make a really high mark for next year's club to equal. They will be doing well if they surpass the group in either quality, or in number of performances.
