PILOTS TO COMPETE IN NATIONAL AIR MEET

Lieurance, Boren, Ascher, Rose and Nichols Give Last Support

Kenyon's National Championship flying team will be well represented at the National Flying meet at Akron, June 24th and 25th. Practically every member of the team will be on hand to take part on the competition. Invitations have been sent to all of the conference teams to be the guests of the Kenyon flyers for the week prior to the meet, spending their time here in practicing for the various events.

With a highly successful season behind them and such seasoned flyers as Lieurance, Boren, Ascher, Nickolson, Rose, and Henderson vying for points the meet promises to be the most exciting of the year. Among the other teams who will participate in the meet are the University of Detroit, Ohio State University, Michigan, University of Pennsylvania, Purdue, Stanford University, and Akron.

SENIORS ESTABLISH BEATTY FUND

Fund Available Only To Seniors

The Class of 1938 announces this week the completion of assessments which enable the founding of the David L. Beatty Memorial Loan Fund. In respectful memory of David L. Beatty, '38, of Hinsdale, Illinois, whose unfortunate death was a great sorrow to his classmates, this loan fund has been dedicated. Secretary of the class, Francis H. Boyer, said of the gift, "After some deliberation, the Class of '38 decided on this means of expressing its regard for David L. Beatty as the most effectual and permanently active."

"The principal of the fund will amount to $750, and while this amount is not large, indeed does not come near the sum that is required by students every year, in excess of the loan funds already available, it will nevertheless be a creditable supply to a need that never seems to grow less."

The rules by which loans from the fund will be granted are as follows:

The father or guardian must endorse the application and express his belief that the loan will be repaid at maturity. The faculty will consider the application to be confidential, and in granting the loan, will take into consideration the applicant's character, ability and merit, including examinations in college, and his records for regularity, punctuality, and general conduct.

COLLEGE AWARDS HONORARY DEGREES

Ganter, Weaver, Fulton, Davidson, Fletcher, Watson, Honored

A distinguished attorney, a business executive, an eminent medical authority, and three widely known members of the Episcopal clergy were awarded honorary degrees by Dr. Gordon Keith Chalmers, Kenyon president, at the 110th annual Kenyon College commencement exercises held here this morning.

Carl Ransom Ganter, prominent member of the New York Bar since 1902, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. One of Kenyon's most distinguished alumni, Mr. Ganter was graduated in 1899 with First Honors. At Columbia University he was the winner of the Beck Prize and was a member of the Board of Editors of the Columbia Law Review. For the past fifteen years he has been a trustee of Kenyon College.

Robert Augustus Weaver, president of the Ferro-Enamel Company of Cleveland, Ohio and president of the Citizens League of that city, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws. A graduate of Kenyon in 1912, Mr. Weaver has given generously of his time to his alma mater, of which he is a trustee. The Kenyon School of Equitation is a gift of Mr. Weaver's.

The degree of Doctor of Laws was also conferred upon Dr. John F. Fulton, Sterling Professor of Physiology in the School of Medicine at Yale University. Dr. Fulton, who delivered the Kenyon Commencement address, is perhaps the world's most eminent authority on the human nervous system, particularly reflex in regard to the spinal column. Dr. Fulton was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University from 1921 to 1923.

The Rev. George Davidson, one of the outstanding clergymen on the Pacific Coast, and Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Los Angeles, Calif., received the honorary degree, Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Davidson was graduated from Kenyon College in 1902 and the Bexley Theological Seminary in 1904. Author of "The Episcopal Church," he is a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California.

BEAUTIFUL KENYON

Since the installation of Mr. Wm. E. Becker as engineer of the college—Kenyon, a college which has always been known to possess the most beautiful campus in Ohio, has been groomed and pruned until now the campus wears a holiday dress continually and is ship-shape enough to take away the breath of college visitors.

Mr. Becker's activity in college building maintenance and his foresight in campus beautification has won him a place of respect among Kenyon men. Kenyon men point with pride to show returning alumni the results of Mr. Becker's industry. New walks, trip paths, new lawns, the beautification of the parkette behind the railway station, new trees on the commons lawn, and the diligent care of Kenyon's beloved trees have been the result of his efforts.

Returning alumni cannot help but enjoy returning to a campus so loved by them which shows the result of ambitious, artistic occupation.

FIFTY SENIORS DON CAP AND GOWN

The largest senior class in the 114 year history of Kenyon College will be graduated at the 110th annual commencement on Monday morning, June 13, according to President Gordon Keith Chalmers, Kenyon president.

The fifty seven seniors who are expected to receive degrees will hear Dr. John Farquhar Fulton, M. D., Sterling Professor of Physiology at the School of Medicine of Yale University, deliver the commencement address. One of the world's most eminent medical authorities, Dr. Fulton is especially known for his research in regard to the human nervous system. A graduate of Harvard University and a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, Dr. Fulton also attended the University of Minnesota.

Beginning the three-day commencement program will be the annual banquet of the Bexley Society and Alumni on Friday evening, June 10th. Saturday will be devoted to exhibitions by the famous Kenyon tennis team, a flying demonstration by Kenyon's national championship aviators, and a polo game. Fraternity and non-fraternity banquets will be held in the evening.

On Sunday morning the Right Rev. Warren Lincoln Rogers, Bishop of Ohio, will conduct the ordination to the diaconate at the Church of the Holy Spirit. The Rev. James P. Brereton, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Medina, will deliver the sermon at these services.

The College Baccalaureate service will be at 5:00 p. m. with the sermon by the Rev. Francis John Moore, Rector of the Church of the Advent, Cincinnati. Class reunion dinners and informal singing will take place on Sunday evening.

Lieurance Presented New Gretzer Award

Bill Lieurance, president of the Kenyon Flying Club for the past year, has been selected by Mr. Donald Gretzer as the winner of the Colonel Paul Henderson Award.

The trophy, in the form of a plaque, has recently been donated to the flying club by Colonel Paul Henderson, of Washington, D. C. It is to be placed in the flying clubroom at the hangar. The plaque shall contain the names of the winners of each year's award until the year 1951.

The award, according to Mr. Gretzer, shall be given to the man who has been of the most value to the flying team for one year.

Dr. Richard L. Schanck has accepted a position in the department of Psychology at Louisiana State University.

His writing is concerned with the arts, with philosophy, and with literature in general.

College To Purchase Student Paintings

The College Lectureship Committee voted a sum of money to purchase paintings executed by students this year. This action was taken to encourage students to leave examples of their best work on the Hill when they leave. It was hoped that paintings would be left in the several divisions in addition to the College Gallery, which the committee thought should be started. The honor of these first purchase prizes has gone to Lawrence H. Kenyon for his "Owl," to Cecil Durbin for his "Landscape," and to Frederick Doepeke for his "Winter Landscape." Honorable mention went to Richard Shorkey for his "Cat" and to Charles McKinley for his "Still Life."

The committee expressed a hope that some friend of art in the Kenyon world would subsequently facilitate the purchase of pictures, which it has begun with money from this Ryerson Art Lectureship fund.

Dr. C. P. Gould will go on leave of absence next year.

COLLEGIAN SPORTS

HAFELI GIVES WORD ON 1938 FOOTBALL

Predicts Successful Year
For Squad Opening
At Denison

Thanks Senior Men

A few words to the squad of next fall:

You fellows in this year's spring practice succeeded in getting off to the right start for which I had hoped. Probably the most promising results of our spring season was the fact that 25 of you stayed out for the entire practice and showed a greater and a more sincere type of enthusiasm to improve and equip yourselves for the coming fall.

Kenyon's teams have, in the past, lacked this true spirit of team organization which is so necessary for its success. A football club is not merely a group who play as individuals, but is an organized group of fellows that must work together as a team with one common purpose, and one man from lack of condition, knowledge of plays, or lack of practice, can be disastrous to the entire squad. So, fellows, let's put our heads together this fall with a willingness to give and take, and each to carry his responsibility of doing his part toward giving Kenyon a successful season.

We open our season Sept. 30 with Denison, a game I'm sure you, as well as I, want to win. In order to have the necessary time to get in shape for this game, we must begin our practice promptly at 9:00 a. m., Monday, Sept. 12. It would be to everyone's advantage if all could report at this date in condition.

I would like the following players to report on the above date:

Seniors: M. H. Baker, C. W. Elliott, F. Eurick, A. Goodale, C. Henderson, C. W. May, R. Qlin, L. Simonetti, W. Stamm, F. Vineyard.

Juniors: S. Chubbuck, T. Cruttenden, R. Gray, R. Ioanes, R. T. Lowell, J. Reed, E. Schuller, H. Seibert, G. Thomas, J. Watson, J. Whitaker.

Sophomores: C. Amato, W. Borges, E. Channer, G. Chubbuck, C. Crawford, S. Curtis, F. Hancock, K. Lees, W. Loving, McDowell, B. Mast, R. Pringle, C. Seltzer, R. Stevens, E. Sevec, L. Treleven, M. Warner, S. Watts, J. Welty.

I want to take this opportunity to thank and express my sincere appreciation to the Senior football players for their support, cooperation, and willing spirit displayed in this year's season. The Seniors on any team are very important to the squad, since it is they to whom the underclassmates look for their leadership, and consequently the Seniors have the power of setting the pace which will affect the team's spirit for better or worse.

The entire squad joins with me in wishing these Seniors the best of luck, and when they return next year to see us in action, we promise to do our very best to thrill them with a victory.

Seniors: A. R. Boren, G. S. Clark, J. C. Ehle, D. W. Jasper, H. K. Morgan, J. V. Sammon, T. W. Thackery III.

FIRST UNDEFEATED SEASON SINCE NINETIES SCORED BY IMEL'S TANKERS

The Kenyon college natators in their last season demonstrated that small colleges as well as large can, and do have, successful swimming teams. Coach Chuck Imel's tankers turned in the first real untied and undefeated record since the late nineties. The purple mermen have not lost a home meet in two years. This year, in ringing up eleven scheduled victories, the team piled up a total of 600 points to their opponents 223. This of course does not include the 58 points gained in winning the conference championship. The record of the purple natators is even more astounding when one considers the size of the schools against whom they competed. Wayne, Carnegie Tech and Illinois were among the purple's early victories. Outside of these victories the Kenyon splashers left Oberlin, Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati, Case and Wooster in their wake.

Outstanding on the Kenyon squad are seniors Captain George Eagon, Henry Sebach, Stewart Matthews, Richard Shorkey and Jay Ehle. Each was a fine sportsman, a fine competitor and more than capable performers when it came for them to splash their distance. Their graduating takes deep root in the heart of Coach Imel, for as many great teams that he has turned out, he has never had an Ohio Conference title.

However weakened the '37 Kenyon swimming squad may be, the '38 is bolstered in potentiality by the addition of many really promising freshmen who should move up to varsity competition next year. Returning will be Kenyon's great crop of sophomore stars who did so much to make this past season what it was. Dick Lehrer, Bob Henry, Dick Brouse, Bill Griffin will all be back to seek further laurels in the Schaffer natatorium. Next season will be another great year for Imel's tutelages but this year should still top them for a long time to come.

BETAS TAKE OVER INTRAMURAL CROWN

Delts Place Second, Middle Kenyon Third In Close Steady Competition

By Jack Barlow

South Leonard captured the 1938 Intramural trophy with one of the most powerful intramural machines were built at Kenyon. Eclipsing eleven trophies and finishing second in the remaining events the Beta's managed to garner 619½ points. In second place was Delta Tau Delta with a smooth running organization that managed to garner 503 points. Middle Kenyon was third and this group had one of the strongest teams in all events and had not the competition been so good chances are that this group might have been the winner. North Hanna, West Wing, and East Wing followed in that order. North Hanna, last year's champion, lost their punch and fell a long way down the ladder with practically the same contestants. The only old time form they exhibited came when they slugged their way behind Steve Chubbuck's pitching to snare the baseball crown.

Trophies will be awarded to South Leonard in football, horseshoes, speedball, handball, basketball, swimming, tennis, golf, as well as bait casting and rifle shooting. Their more outstanding athletes were Amato, Francis, Jasper, Huggins, Baker, Tanner, and Rooster Sammon.

Middle Leonard annexed trophies in cross country, horseshoes in which they tied with South Leonard, volley ball, and track. Middle Kenyon gained the trophies in riding and badminton.

The Betas gained 619½ points toward the 5,000 needed to hold the big trophy permanently. This year ninety percent of the student body competed in 16 intramural sports for one of the largest percentages for student competition and participation in intramural sports program.

The complete point standing which is the results of the loyal efforts of the 960 men that competed in intramural athletics is as follows:

South Leonard	619½
Middle Leonard	503
Middle Kenyon	295
North Hanna	247½
West Wing	244½
East Wing	203
South Hanna	107½
North Leonard	100
Middle Hanna	91

CHALK TALK

By Jack Barlow

During the past year, Kenyon College, with an enrollment limited to 300 men, has played the role of "the Giant Killer" with a success never before equaled in the history of college athletics. In the past, some small colleges have achieved national prominence in one or two sports, but never has such an institution attained such excellence in four sports.

Tennis tops the list of Kenyon's "useful" sports which have achieved such great success. The team an all undergraduate squad boasts the national men's indoor championship and more than thirty national, sectional and collegiate titles.

The Polo team by far and away the toughest outfit in the Midwest lost but one game in nine starts and that to a club they had beaten three times before. The first western team ever to threaten eastern supremacy, in that sport, Kenyon's hard riding aggregation was defeated by Harvard in the semi-finals of the national intercollegiate tourney.

Kenyon aviators in one short year, captured the National Intercollegiate championship, the Eastern Intercollegiate Title, and the Midwest crown, scoring the first grand slam in intercollegiate flying.

The swimmers went through an extremely ambitious schedule without defeat, scoring 600 points to opponents 225. They also walked off with the Ohio Conference title.

Victims of the Lords were not only the usual small colleges but many of the largest and athletic-ly strongest universities in the nation. Among them are Minnesota, Northwestern, Carnegie Tech, Illinois, Cornell, Kentucky, Wayne, Ohio State, Michigan, Harvard, California, Cincinnati, Pennsylvania, N. Y. U.

Especially noteworthy is the fact that this remarkable record is no accident. Instead of de-emphasizing football as other small colleges, Kenyon decided to stress the "useful" sports which will be used to advantage in later life, and the results of the last two years have demonstrated the soundness of this program. As the remaining other sports all had very successful seasons in proportion to the difficult schedules that they faced, the results of the four sports bring the accomplishment of the participating men and the difficulties they (Continued on Page 5)

M'NEILL AND LEWIS OFF FOR CHICAGO FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE TOURNAMENT PLAY

Athletic Director R. J. Cutler, today announced that he would send Kenyon's nationally prominent tennis aces to Chicago to compete in the qualifying play for the finals in the National Intercollegiate Tourney to be held later in Philadelphia. Don McNeill and Morey Lewis will leave here Saturday immediately after their exhibition on the Hard-Tru courts to begin their summer campaign.

McNeill, who holds the National Indoor title and is the ninth ranking player in the country, is predicted to go far according to tennis experts throughout the country and should improve his ranking considerably if not win the collegiate tilt this summer. His outstanding competitors will be Joseph Hunt and Julius Heldeman as well as the battling Murphy brothers from Chicago. Lewis in his recent setoo with McNeill proved that he is a new Lewis. Far steadier and much more serious about his play; Morey, according to his coach, Bruce Barnes, should score many an upset and may be the dark horse like another southerner from down his way turned out to be in the Kentucky derby.

The "Jeep" has been beaten only once in his two years of college competition while his teammate, and doubles partner, has yet to lose his first regular match although he has been beaten in tournament play by his teammate and captain, McNeill. The doubles team of McNeill and Lewis has yet to be defeated in intercollegiate match play. Judging from these statistics, it is easy to see how it is possible that Kenyon may have their second Intercollegiate championship, already possessing the majority of flying trophies.

Penna. RR. Runs Jr.-Sr. Excursion

In twenty-five innings of baseball played last Saturday afternoon, the Juniors trounced the seniors 14 to eleven. A highly riotous afternoon was spent in comment upon the umpiring of Mr. McGoogan's brother, a frequenter and citizen of the various rural hang-outs of Gambier, as he persisted in calling with more and more abandon the balls and strikes offered up by Rooster Sammon and Mike Simonnetti. The remarkable feature of the game was the incident of only two errors. One committed by Elliott when he suggested that the keg be placed on the 5:10 freight to Mt. Vernon—and the other by Pec Becker who thought it was a good idea. As a consequence of the two, in spite of the boisterous rivalry which had developed between the junior and senior factions over the closeness of some of the afternoon's decisions, both teams boarded the Gambier to Mt. Vernon coal and livestock special, and made their sooty way to the adjacent city.

Lack of judgment was shown en route, when as the train stopped several miles out of Vernon, four of the party chose to disembark and bathe in the waters of the Kokosing, immediately adjacent to the Mt. Vernon Sewage Disposal Company. Though no cases of typhoid and similar aqueously received diseases have been reported, a goodly number of Sunday morning ill healths were reported among those who felt that a keg of beer and twenty-five innings of baseball were not enough for one Saturday.

OUTSTANDING POLO TRIO BRINGS LAURELS TO KENYON

With only one veteran left, and no substitutes, the Kenyon polo trio embarked last fall on what became the most successful polo season since its introduction here three years ago.

The Kenyon poloists this year played nine games against teams every one of which carried a higher rating than the Kenyon squad. Kenyon won eight of the nine games and lost only one by a one-half point margin to the strong Cincinnati Cavalry team, after Kenyon had defeated the Cincinnati three times.

Outstanding among this year's polo achievements was the double victory over Cornell. Riding strange ponies in a strange ring, they defeated Cornell at Ithaca in a six period game, as Cornell used two substitutes and Kenyon used none.—Kenyon won by the decisive score of 23-15. Considering that Cornell defeated Princeton and Penn. Military Academy, Kenyon now holds an exceptional place among eastern polo-playing universities.

Still more outstanding this year was Kenyon's triple victory over the Cincinnati Cavalry team, which has won 22 out of 25 of its games this season, defeating such teams as Cornell, Culver, Yale (intercollegiate champs), and the highly rated Detroit Gold Hats, as well as many strong teams of the Middle west. It took the mighty little Kenyon to hand this exceptionally strong team its most marked defeat of the year, as they defeated them by a 10-point margin, 23-13.

Goals for Kenyon throuout the year were equally divided, among all three players who thru hard play and fine team work brought about this spectacular season.

Kenyon poloists have been given wide publicity in the leading american newspapers and polo periodicals; they have earned not only the reputation of hard-driving, consistent poloists, but at the same time they have enjoyed the reputation of one of the country's cleanest playing indoor teams.

Letters

The COLLEGIAN assumes no responsibility for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Kenyon Collegian, Gambier, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Sonenfield:

May I humbly suggest, as a one-time Collegian editor, that your sports staff at least be exposed to the rudiments of newspaper writing?

In the May 25 issue, page one, under a two-column head—"Kenyon Batmen Triumph Over Highly Touted Denison Nine"—is a story that would give any editor of my acquaintance the screaming meemies.

This story runs 31 lines on page one and 27 lines on the page two carry-over, in what Stanley Walker calls the "Gee Whiz!" style in sports writing. That's bad enough in itself; but no-where in the story is the score of the ball game as much as mentioned!

For shame, for shame! I'm afraid your boys have fallen into the old Collegian error—prevalent in my time, too—of copying the style of the Cleveland sports pages. Jack them up Mr. Editor, and tell them that such things are not permitted on the best regulated periodicals. (Incidentally, I'm surprised that Timbuck would let you get away with such stuff without a protest).

Lest you think my criticism pique, I should like to add that you're doing a swell job . . . a hell of a lot better one than I or any of my immediate predecessors turned out.

Sincerely
Charles Malcolmson,
Kenyon '30

EX-PRESIDENT PEIRCE WRITES TO COLLEGE

Now Living In Bel Air Maryland Following European Sojourn

In a very recent letter to a member of the Class of '38 Dr. William Foster Peirce, 15th president of the College, sent cordial greetings to members of the Class of '38. Part of the letter is as follows:

"Pray tell the other fellows that my interest in them will never lose its keenness and that I will be eager always to hear of and from them.

"Our last days in Europe were spent in a motor trip thru Normandy and a bit of Brittany. The countryside was particularly lovely in early May, and the weather was nearly warm enough to be comfortable. All thru the winter we have been hardened by chill outside and the insufficient heat inside so that temperatures of sixty or above were more than grateful. There is no better preparation for a polar expedition than a winter in the south of Europe—and for discomfort Italy easily holds the first place.

"Even our return journey across the Atlantic was chill and foggy. However, we were glad to get across by any means for the first steamer on which we had taken passage, was withdrawn, and the second one, the ill-fated "Lafayette" was burned in drydock. This catastrophe gave us a day or two of worry, but the Line substituted a better and faster boat, the "Paris" which brought us over in real luxury. But on reaching the dock we paid the price, for a particularly repacious swarm of custom officials did their best to make our welcome searchingly thoro. At noon we were in sight of the Statue of Liberty, and it was after five when, quite worn out, we started our weary car away from the pier. Seventy-five hundred miles in Europe showed on our dial, and during the whole time, the sturdy little Chevrolet had never faltered.

"Here in Bel Air, our new home, the tremendous problem of getting a fairly old house into reasonably good condition confronts us. Our post office address will be Bel Air, but our acres of field and forest lie about three miles out of town. The place was very substantially built about forty years ago for the rector of a delightful little country church St. Mary's. It would be hard to find anywhere a more tasteful house of worship than this stone church with imported windows of good stained glass and a really rich chancel. Better yet, the rural congregation almost crowds the little church on Sunday morning.

"Whenever you, or any other Kenyon men find yourselves near Bel Air, Harford County, Maryland, you must certainly look us up. We are close to a little cross-roads settlement called Emmorton, and our place is just half-way between the great highways, No. 1 and No. 40. Baltimore is less than twenty-five miles away and Philadelphia is less than three times as far.

"With assurances of affectionate friendship and the deepest interest in you and the Class of '38 and all the College men, I am, always,

"Faithfully yours,

"William F. Peirce."

Lucy Ellen Marries

Miss Lucy Ellen Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex McNaughton Lamb, of Highwood, was married 4:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Mt. Vernon to Mr. Monford Daniel Custer, Jr., of Coshocton. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the married couple at Highwood.

SOCIETY

Professor Charles M. Coffin and Mrs. Coffin recently entertained in their Marriott Park home with a charming dinner party for members of the senior class who are graduating with majors in English.

Greeted by Professor Coffin in the vestibule, the guests were led to the dining room where cantaloupe cocktails were served and where Mrs. Coffin, the charming former Mary Dubois, and her sister, the Miss Martha Dubois, served Virginia-baked ham, green beans, potatoes au gratin, homemade jelly, rolls, and butter. The guests, who were Messrs. Doepke, Ascher, Foland, Becker, Gass, and Timberlake, were seated at tables with covers for four in the drawing room where a tomato salad with homemade dressing and apple pie a la mode were served. After coffee and home-made fudge, the tables were cleared, and the guests joined in a quiz conducted by Professor Coffin, who with Mr. Timberlake, won the high prize. Consolation prizes were won by Messrs. Doepke and Gass. Lively conversation followed and then Dr. Coffin read to his guests, after which the guests went home to sleep.

Messrs. Viner, Kaufman, Donley, Fisher, May, Michels, MacLeish, and Howard were recent guests of the Discipline Committee in the Rooms of the Registrar.

Mr. Peter O. Perkins, of Detroit, was a recent week-end guest of Charles McKinley.

Mr. Norman W. Reed recently entertained out-of-town guests.

Mr. Teddy Bear Whitaker recently went to Mansfield for a matinee.

On Sunday, May 29th, in the Great Hall of the Commons, John Osterling Whitaker, of the Class of '40 and a prominent member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, was entertained at a delightful surprise dinner in celebration of the anniversary of his birth in Wheeling, W. V., by his grandfather, Mr. A. C. Whitaker and Mrs. Whitaker and his sister the Miss Jessie Whitaker. The table in the Great Hall was set with covers for twelve and was decorated with clusters of smilax tied with baby pink and blue ribbon. During the course of the delightful dinner, a gift from Mr. Whitaker's family was presented to him in the shape of a darling teddy-bear which was served on a silver tray borne by the Kenyon Rabbit. At the conclusion of the dinner, the guests assembled on the veranda of Peirce Hall where Mr. Whitaker received congratulations of the day from his friends and other guests of the College. Mr. Whitaker wore a brindle-brown suit and lavender tie which was fastened to a pale green shirt with yellow buttons. Miss Jessie Whitaker wore a beautiful black and white polka-dot gown cut on the Mother Hubbard style. Mr. Whitaker's guests left the following Monday for their homes in the hills of West Virginia.

Mr. Limp Lehrer left last Saturday night after a farewell party in his Gambier Lodge for Cedar Point, Lake Erie, where he will assume his recently appointed duty as conductor on the Inland Trails Railways Lines. Mr. Lehrer plans to take his graduate work at Johns Hopkins University where he will study to be a veterinarian.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Rahming recently called on the C. S. Thorntons in their new home at an early hour.

Mr. Eric Hawke and Mr. Howard Foland recently entertained Mr.

and Mrs. Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Rahming, the Rev. Dr. Roach and Mrs. Roach, and Mrs. Julia P. Leonard at dinner in the Commons. Mr. Hawke and Mr. Foland are majoring in English, the department headed by Mr. Coffin. Mr. Hawke is enrolled in the art course headed by Mr. Rahming; and Mr. Foland is preparing to enter Holy Orders. Mr. Roach is Chaplain of the College and a member of the Bexley Hall Seminary Faculty. Mrs. Trainer, who is manager of the Commons, was a coffee guest. The menu consisted of apple sauce, apple pie, apple tarts, apple dumplings, cinnamon apples, spiced apples, and baked apples. Following the meal the guests adjourned to the veranda where Mrs. Roach entertained the guests. Richard Cropsey Olin was in charge of a round table dinner last Sunday at the High Table in the Great Hall given in honor of William Peters Reeves, Professor of English for thirty-eight years at Kenyon College, who has announced his retirement. Following a clever introduction by Chalmers, Mr. Reeves spoke to the student body assembled and told them how pleasant it had been to teach thoroughly American Students. Dr. Chalmers, who is President of Kenyon, is a former Rhodes Scholar.

Rudy Kutler had a bridge party last Saturday night.

The Goodale-Howard-Street-Donley Kaufman League recently entertained in their quarters in Kenyon College.

Mrs. C. C. Trainer, Manager of Peirce Hall, entertained the Misses Lillian G. Chard and Mildred Kimball of Rockford, Illinois, last Monday.

Mr. Boren was stricken at the Lake and was accompanied to his quarters in Middle Leonard by Mr. Art Kohler and Mr. William Allen. Mr. Boren is a prominent member of Delta Tau Delta, and Mr. Kohler and Mr. Allen are members of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity. Mr. Allen's brother is in Africa.

The Pennsylvania Railroad recently favored members of the junior and senior classes by a rail trip to Mount Vernon following an enjoyable ballgame on Benson Field. Several members of the party disembarked before reaching Mount Vernon and were treated to a swim by the Mount Vernon Sewage Disposal Department.

Professor and Mrs. Cahall recently entertained at a lawn social for prospective majors in history. Mr. and Mrs. Cahall and their guest R. D. McCleary played "Wink'em" and "Drop the Handkerchief" during the evening. Mr. Cahall lectured on the intimate life of Queen Elizabeth. Martin Luther was also discussed.

Miss Nolan left the following morning for New York where she will enroll in a nursing school. Miss Nolan was formerly connected with Kresge & Company in Mount Vernon.

Below is a gem clipped from the Rockford Review. Kenyon men should love it.

Night-Tide

The night is a soft green pool,
Creeping up the long legs of the trees,
The one-legged trees which will soon be drowned,
Fingering my knees.

Take a last look at the sky,
While the night-tide fills my ears.
The night
Is an echo—and I am looking up thru the green water.

At the falling petals of moon-light
Tomorrow, when the green water recedes,

I shall have water-lilies in my hair,
And wet dreams in my eyes.

PURPLE NETTERS UNDEFEATED FOR SECOND STRAIGHT YEAR

Kenyon college's net team is definitely one of the strongest court squads in the country. This is the firm conviction of the majority of the tennis enthusiasts in the country as well as coaches and critics everywhere. Bruce Barnes, nationally prominent professional, and former sparring partner to Big Bill Tilden and present National Open champion, who spent long hours as the Kenyon coach predicts that the Purple entries in the National tourney to be held in Chicago, and later in Philadelphia, will score many an upset even if they don't sweep the titles.

The marauding Kenyon netters swept through thirteen opponents and buried each in an avalanche of points to complete their second successive unbeaten year. They finished the season unbeaten, untied. Coach Barnes' racket men convincingly trounced such teams as Northwestern, Wayne, Cincinnati and Kentucky as well as giving able exhibitions to seven Ohio conference competitors. The first five men on the squad went through the season without as much as a blemish on their records which firmly convinced the critics in Detroit and Chicago and points any where that the Kenyon college tennis team was a mighty aggregation.

The team captured the Ohio Conference title for the second successive year when Morey Lewis and his teammate and captain, Don McNeill, battled it out in five sets for the title coveted only by them. Incidentally, McNeill is National Indoor champion and ranked ninth nationally.

McNeill's unlimited tournament experience was evident in the later stages of the match as he outvolleyed his playmate to capture the last two sets to take the match and retain the title he gained last year. The doubles also fell to Kenyon behind the powerful raquets of Kenyon's mighty doubles duo composed of "Tex" Reeder and George Pryor who had little trouble in disposing of any of their opponents.

All four of the first Kenyon players have winning streaks in collegiate competition extending upwards of twenty-three matches. Graduating will be George Pryor, husky number three man, who has performed so admirably the past two years.

Outstanding among the Kenyon victories was the seven-one defeat that they handed to Wayne university at Detroit. Harvey Barcus, Detroit News tennis writer, stated: Kenyon college has the strongest net team in the country. This of course is based on the defeat they handed the Wayne squad which had not been beaten but once in two years and had played the strongest teams in the South. This should give Kenyon added assurance in the national tournament to be held the last week in June in Chicago and the first week in July moving over to Philadelphia.

KENYON TRACKMEN EXCEED EXPECTANCY

Olin Ranked High In State As Individual Point Scorer

Kenyon's up and coming trackmen closed their most successful victory in years with a smashing win over Wittenberg, thus avenging Kenyon's rankling football loss at the hands of the Lutherans last fall. Coach Rudy Kutler did a fine job in guiding the Gambler thin-clads through a fine campaign, and particularly in developing Dick Olin to the point where he now ranks with highest individual scorers of Ohio. The emergence of promising sophomore talent lends a pleasant outlook to the future. Allan Michels who followed Olin in individual scoring, was the discovery of the season, with his hurdling. Jim Wende competent half-miler turned in several winning performances. The rest of the scoring was sprinkled among comparatively green hands who came along fast at the end of the season. McMullen, Sparks, Puffer and Clark were vastly improved performers. Team hopes were dealt a severe blow when Rodney Boren unbeaten miler, suffered an ankle injury, which held him from the last two meets. Departing seniors are headed by Joe Millar, tested veteran, who capped his career by winning both sprints at Springfield. Sparks Clark and Weir join Millar in the completion of their track careers.

BASEBALL TEAM GAINS NEW PRESTIGE

Sammon, Infielder Deluxe, Hits .460

This spring marked the beginning of a new era in Kenyon baseball. Heretofore regarded as a cross between the Brooklyn Dodgers and a traveling vaudeville troupe the Kenyon baseballers are now ready to be taken seriously. During the process of this preparation for departure from light entertaining activity on the diamond, their riotous conduct has occasioned many mirthful moments. As laugh provokers they were magnificent, as ball players they wallowed in the mires of mediocrity. All this is changed, however. No longer do Kenyon outfielders emulate Miss Gilda Gray while waiting for the descent of a badly misjudged fly ball. This spring new faces crowded the diamond and gave Kenyon her first real ball team in ten years.

Departing seniors who figured heavily in the improved team play will be sorely missed. Red haired Jack Sammon, possessor of a .460 batting average and was a fielder de luxe, will head the list of graduating veterans. Second baseman Johnny Long and Pitcher Harry Kogler will go the sheepskin route. Captain Skip Wright, whose final campaign behind the plate was darkened by injuries, is also ending his career. Coach Chuck Imel who turned in a fine coaching job, and made the discovery of one of the most promising Kenyon pitchers in the school's history, is hard put to replace these veterans.

Next year's club will be moulded around Ray Ioanes, heavy hitting infielder, and Chuck May, catcher. Steve Chubbuck, Frank Eurich, Carol Prosser and Joe Rudge will supplement the activities of May and Ioanes. This year's club featured the fine play of Ioanes, Sammon, May and Baker. They won two games, and the season can be glossed over with the revealing statement that not once during the year did a Kenyon runner steal second with the bases full, an example of restraint unparalleled in the last ten years.

MRS. BESSIE TRAINER RESIGNS COMMONS POST

Closes Nine Years Of Serv- ing Kenyon Men

After serving the College ably for nine years, Mrs. C. C. Trainer has resigned her position as Director of Peirce Hall. She will leave Kenyon with the thanks and good wishes of the whole community, having provided for its many and various wants and having maintained a standard of service in Peirce Hall which makes the building the envy of other institutions not only for its architecture but for its efficiency. In thanking her for her splendid work, I want to compliment as well the members of her staff who have cooperated with her loyally and with good spirit.

Peirce Hall and the Alumni House will be under the management next year of a Dietitian and Assistant Dietitian. The Dietitian will be Miss Lillian G. Chard; the Assistant Dietitian will be Miss Mildred Kimball.

Both women have had extensive experience in the management of institutions in various parts of the country. Miss Chard took her training in Institutional Management at Simmons College in Boston and of recent years she has been Institutional Manager at Rockford College.

Miss Kimball took her bachelor of science degree in Home Economics at the University of Minnesota, spent an extra year studying Institutional Management at the same university, has directed institutional work in other parts of the country, and ultimately joined Miss Chard as Assistant Dietitian at Rockford College.

In general, the new Dietitian and Assistant Dietitian mean to continue along similar lines the splendid work so ably done under Mrs. Trainer's management. They will visit the College and Mrs. Trainer will show them about Peirce Hall on June seventh. Undergraduates who want positions in Peirce Hall should apply as usual to Mrs. Trainer.

PRIZE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS ANNOUNCED

Six Entering Freshmen Win Grants In First Kenyon Competition

All year there have been various rumors about the new system of awarding scholarships. There have also been posters on bulletin boards here on the hill and on those of innumerable high schools and preparatory schools throughout the country to the effect that Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio was awarding prize scholarships to secondary school seniors.

Examinations in ten subjects: Latin, Spanish, French, German, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, History, English Literature and English Composition were given on April thirtieth in Gambier for all Ohio applicants and at sixteen high schools and preparatory schools from Illinois to Connecticut. These schools were Academy High School, Erie, Pa.; Episcopal Academy, Philadelphia, Pa.; Ottawa Hills High School, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Francis W. Parker School, Chicago, Illinois; Cranbrook School, Detroit, Mich.; Choate School, Wallingford, Conn.; Highland High School, Fort Thomas, Ken.; St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis.; Kiski, Saltsburg, Pa.; Geneva High School, Geneva, New York; Vineland High School, Vineland, New Jersey; McKean High School, McKean, Pa.; Louisville Male High School, Louisville, Ken.; Central High School, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Fulton High School, Fulton, New York; Union Endicott High School, Endicott, N. Y.; Hillsdale High School, Hillsdale, Mich.

The three hundred and fifty dollar prize scholarships have been awarded to six applicants on the basis of excellence in the examination chosen by the applicant himself, general good standing, and recommendations. The six recipients of the first Kenyon College Prize Scholarships are: William P. Blackman, Buchtel High School, Akron, Ohio and Robert M. Vance, Senior High School, Springfield, Ohio both of whom won their awards in Physics; Walter N. Elder, Jr., Senior High School, Springfield, Ohio, in French; John D. Rheinheimer, also from the Springfield Senior High School, in Chemistry; John J. Jambor, St. John's Military Academy, in German; Robert H. Sager, Francis W. Parker School, Chicago, in Mathematics. Two Honorable Mentions go to John A. Goldsmith, Choate School, Wallingford, Conn. and Arthur P. Judge, Kiski.

There have been fifteen General Scholarships with a maximum of two hundred and fifty dollars already awarded on the basis of general good standing and recommendations.

Scholarships for returning men will be awarded after the grades are in. Notice will be sent these men early in the summer.

DEAR MAMA

Whistledown Manor,
Thistledown, N. J.,
May 25, 1938.

My Darling Whistlebert:

I must confess that your letters still cause me some wonderment and not a little anxiety. You seem to have picked up some words and expressions peculiar to the institution of which you profess yourself to be an inmate.

I have looked them up in the dictionary, which you know I always keep by my side, it is so conducive to proper cultural expression, but apparently those words are too new or else they are not accepted in good taste. In either case I believe you should refrain from using them, as they are without meaning to the uninitiate.

I observe, for instance, that you use "turf" as an intransitive verb. I am certain you must be laboring under a misapprehension. It is sometimes used, though rarely, as a transitive verb. In other words, my sweet, you have to turf SOMETHING, whereas you use it in the sense that you turf ON something, which I am sure is decidedly wrong.

Twice now this year you have signed yourself "Fuzzbert" in your letters. Why do you do that? "Bert" is a much nicer contraction of your name. Besides, somehow "Fuzzbert" doesn't sound just proper, but I can't seem to pin down the exact reason. The boys don't call you that, do they?

If they do, I should put a stop to it immediately. If you tell them to cease, they most undoubtedly will understand the delicacies involved, and ashamed of taking too great liberties with a person's most prized possession, his name, they will refrain from such carelessness in the future.

I spoke to your father about it, but he really didn't seem to understand it properly, although he apparently concurred with my view. He laughed in that nasty way of his when he is disturbed and simply remarked, "It's about time he lost his Fuzz."

So, Bert dear, hold your end up with the best of them.

Lovingly,
MAMA.

Wiseman Displays Gambier Possibilities

Before the Harmer store was remodeled through the generosity of Wilbur L. Cummings, it could well have been recognized by Philander Chase as the one which stood at the college gates one hundred years ago.

Today, the handsome renovation of Gambier's first house and Kenyon's stately Alumni House form not only a striking counterpart to Kenyon's far-famed beauty, but also have inspired a larger, more extensive development of Gambier as an architectural "model village."

In order to portray Gambier's possibilities, Robert Wiseman, '13, has prepared drawings of the village's main street as it might appear some time in the future. These handsome drawings, now on display in the loggia of Peirce Hall, are compared to actual photographs of present Gambier. The only addition to buildings now standing is a Kenyon theater, which would be erected between the post office and the bank.

Already one of America's most attractive communities, no great stretch of the imagination is needed to see Kenyon one day famous as another Williamsburg.

Mr. Wiseman's drawings will be on display the entire commencement week-end.

FULTON AND MATTHEWS ADDRESS GRADUATES

Fifty Graduates And College Guests Hear Commencement Exercises

"Today's graduates, who have had the benefit of our broadened educational horizon, should guard that precious heritage from the forces of greed and intolerance which have lately destroyed all academic freedom in some other countries," Dr. John F. Fulton, Sterling Professor of Physiology at Yale University, today told Kenyon College graduates at the 110th annual commencement.

"This you may do by retaining, as alumni, a vigilant interest in everything that relates to the welfare of Kenyon and of other institutions of learning with which you may become associated."

Speaking before one of the largest graduating classes in Kenyon's 114 year history, Dr. Fulton, a leading medical authority and former Rhodes Scholar, traced the development of academic liberalism through the world's history, telling of the struggle necessary to achieve that long-coveted goal.

T. Stewart Matthews, of San Antonio, Texas, chose "Post-Graduation" for his class oration and, as a newly born Kenyon alumnus said, "An alumnus is not just a matriculate with a diploma on his wall; he is like an automobile at the end of an assembly line. He represents the intelligence of engineers, chemists, production-experts, physicists, and on his performance rests their reputation."

Dr. Gordon Keith Chalmers, Kenyon president, conferred the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, upon Carl Ransom Ganter, eminent New York attorney and Kenyon graduate, Robert Augustus Weaver, Cleveland business executive, civic leader and Kenyon alumnus, and Dr. John F. Fulton of Yale University, the principal Kenyon Commencement speaker.

Dr. Orville E. Watson, Bedell Professor at Bexley Theological Seminary for 35 years, received the degree of Doctor of Letters. A Doctorate of Sacred Theology was conferred upon Dr. Joseph Francis Fletcher, Director of the Graduate School of Applied Religion, Cincinnati, and the Rev. George Davidson Rector of the St. John's Episcopal Church, Los Angeles, California, received an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

duct. The fund is available only to seniors for payment of semester fees. Upon receiving the credit, the student will give his promissory note for the repayment one year from the date of his graduation, with interest at the rate of one and one-half percent.

Upon the grant of a loan to a student, and the acceptance thereof by a student and co-maker, it is understood that the recipient is expected to complete his course in this college. In case of a loan from the David L. Beatty Memorial Loan Fund, the obligation becomes due one year after graduation, and in case of withdrawal or dismissal, becomes due and payable immediately.

Interest will be charged from the date of signing the note at the rate of one and one-half percent until the date due, after which time the rate of interest will be six percent until final payment.
