The Chapel Cat

By Don Young

Martian Visit

Orson Welles' Mercury Theater Halloween eve dramatization of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" brought forth a practical specter far more terrifying to the radio industry than any manifestation of the supernatural. The Federal Communications Commission which already holds considerable authority over commercial radio, is discussing virtual censorship in the wake of the simulated news broadcast which panicked thousands. A Pittsburgh woman attempted suicide, hundreds of others prepared to flee from the larger cities, especially in New York where the telephone exchanges were unable to handle the telephoned inquiries. Whatever the merits of this particular case the democratic American can scarcely countenance a government function so abhorrent to his political philosophy as radio censorship... at least not logically.

Dies Gets Stab In Back

While Chairman Dies, Democrat, Texas, of the House committee investigating un-American activities, was preparing a radio speech defending the findings of the committee and showing how his committee was being impeded by administration officials, the Democratic national committee was financing radio time for a criticism of the committee's activities by Paul Y. Anderson, Washington correspondent. Remember the parable a "house divided?"

The Biscuit Romps

That long-awaited meeting between the current kings of the turf, War Admiral and Sea Biscuit, was finally consummated Tuesday. The result was somewhat surprising with War Admiral, odds-on favorite losing by three lengths. Sea Biscuit looked the part of a champion breaking Pompoon's track record and going away in a driving finish. Fifteen thousand went to the winner making Sea Biscuit the second largest money winner in track history.

Governor Martin L. Davey ordered Wednesday, Ohio National Guard troops to proceed upon Middletown, Ohio, to preserve "law and order" in connection with a strike at the P. Lorillard Co. tobacco plant. To his action Chairman John L. Lewis of the C.I.O., said, "As well as being a rascal in office, Davey will be a 'bloodthirsty fool' if he goes through with his national guard mobilization." . . . 1,100 Dayton, Ohio, teachers met secretly this week to express their reactions to a compromise proposal to reopen Dayton public schools and pay salaries later. . . . The Ohio Chamber of Commerce said this week that the combined local, state and federal taxes in Ohio had increased 18.9 per cent since 1929, while the total income in the state in 1936, "a fairly good business year" was 19 per cent under 1929.

Close Inspection Reveals Hamburgers
Small, French Fries Few in Coffee Shop
Orders — Jake Keeps Close Tongue

By ED WILLIAMS

According to poets with long beards and moustaches, even machines have hearts. According to the bushy ones, the most regular engine has a heart and soul. Well, I wouldn't doubt the word of any poet, but I will agree with them to the extent that some Kenyon institutions have feelings, too. The main one is the Coffee Shop.

The "C" shop is best known for the fine miniature hamburgers, microscopic steaks, and free water. Harold, Jake and Steve form the bulk to throw off the abuse arising from small portions. They all have retorts, but they don't say them because there are often women present. However, I cornered the boys in the kitchen the other night and after questioning them they finally broke down and talked.

Steve has a pet peeve. Every time he gets the windows opened wide and the place nicely airing, Worthy Dr. Ashford comes and closes the windows. Poor Steve nearly dies. Jake's pet peeve is embodied in those worthies who come tearing in just before closing time and order a hamburger steak with French fries.

Orange and tomato juice are good sellers with the tomato juice winning after a big week-end. Flavored ice cream sells the poorest. The two biggest sellers are milk shakes and hamburgers.

The men who are seen most often in the shop are Doc Ashford, Frank Love, and Dave Hill.

All the boys in the shop say that Kenyon men drink their beer like gentlemen. They also add that hard liquor is not used so widely, as the sale of ice and ginger ale has gone down quite a bit.

The boys who swing out in the kitchen have a fine time. Sometimes they tear off a little close harmony, while other times they laugh at Jake because he is laughing at them because they are laughing. The kitchen crew is: Mel Saymer, Joe Saymer, and Ed Ayers.

Carl Fawcett is the new man who favors all eyes with his swifty walk and nonchalant air. Mel Saymer, chef, is peeved when an order of steak and toasted buns arrive at the same time, while Uncle Harold finds ire when gentlemen don't pay when served.

Movie Committee

To Offer "Tovarich"
Sunday Night in Philo

To Kenyon's Little Movie Theater in Philo Hall next Sunday night comes Tovarich. Stars of Tovarich's stellar cast, which includes Anita Louise, Melville Cooper, Basil Rathbone, and Isabel Jeans, Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer, skip lightly through a whirling, hilarious story leaving laughter in their wake.

A sparkling, witty comedy, Tovarich concerns a crown prince, played by Boyer, and a duchess, Colbert, lately of Russia, impoverished in Paris, and at the same time the possessors of 40,000,000,000 francs of Czarist Russian money. The two struggle along, subsisting on artichokes and caviar, washed down with champagne, which they managed to steal from a nearby grocery. They finally flee across the roof-tops from their numerous creditors and take jobs as butler and maid in a middle-class Parisian home. The confusion that results when the gentleman of the house and his son fall in love with the maid, and the daughter and her mother fall in love with the butler, none realizing that the two are a prince and duchess, as well as being husband and wife, will afford a very pleasant evening for attending Kenyonites.

The picture, as usual, will start at 8:00 Sunday evening, and the admission will be the usual quarter, although the Committee on Motion Pictures has gone to considerable extra expense to obtain this fine show.

Abbreviated Practice
Prepares Footballers
For Wittenberg Game

Coach Dwight Hafeli, after the Lord's victory over Otterbein last Saturday, announced that there would be only three practice sessions this week. He gave as reasons the hard work the squad endured the last four or five weeks and thought this would give many of the squad a chance to catch up on their studies and help them iron out their difficulties. The rest is also needed for many of the fellows have a few bruises and inasmuch as the next game comes a week from Saturday there is little need to put the squad to too much preparation at this early date.

Most of the players received only minor bruises from the Otterbein game. James Herl and Chuck Jenkins torn muscles will be in shape for the Wittenberg game and Freddie Hancock, who took considerable punishment from the Beavers, will be back to dish out the same to Wittenberg. Bob Gray, Kenyon's plunging fullback, will be back to continue to hold his yardage at three yards to a try in the Wittenberg game. Bob was injured by the frosh in a heavy scrimmage in preparation for the Hobart game and torn tendons in his ankle have kept him on the bench the last two games. On Monday the squad will go back into serious preparation for Wittenberg who will be heavily scouted by the Kenyon coaches in their game this Saturday.

EAST WING CAPTURES FOOTBALL CROWN;
DOIG, OLDS, LEWIS COMBINE WHIPS M. K.

East Wing won its first intramural title since 1936 last Friday afternoon when their intramural grid team defeated the Middle Kenyon squad in an over time battle on the intramural field.

Off to a slow start that picked up momentum all through the game East Wing flashed a passing attack that caught the Middle Kenyon backfield time and again out of position, and netted the Wing plenty of yardage. The passing attack built around Mac Doig, with either Roy Olds or Morey Lewis doing the receiving was all East Wing had or needed.

Middle Kenyon, which had displayed such a stellar pass defense previous to this game, seemingly folded up and let the passes be the deciding factor in the game. The Mu Kappas went through the East Wing line at will but not seemingly often enough. Murry Shubin and Harry Seibert picked up plenty of yardage through the Wing's line with the whole Middle Kenyon team as interference. Middle Kenyon at times threatened through the air and the game as a whole was nip and tuck all the way into the overtime.

McGowan To Present
Nu Pi Kappa History
To Members, Nov. 6

Mr. Stuart R. McGowan will address the members of Nu Pi Kappa Sunday evening, November 6 in the lounge of the Commons.

While a student at Kenyon, Mr. McGowan, in celebration of the hundredth anniversary of Nu Pi Kappa Hall, wrote its complete history. This "History of Nu Pi Kappa Hall" will be heard Sunday evening by members following their unanimous and express request for the reading.

In order to prepare the most varied group of programs throughout the school year, President Tom Sawyer has selected a committee made up of one member from each division on the hill. "This committee, while seeking entertaining and intellectually stimulating programs, will place special emphasis on material which will promote and encourage discussion among Nu Pi Kappa members," said Sawyer.

The International Relations club, held its first meeting on Monday, October 31.

Due to greater interest in international affairs today, and the everlasting war scare, students attendance showed a definite reaction in round numbers. Seventy men appeared at the first meeting.

Election by secret ballot placed Norman Reed in the presidential chair, chose Ray Ioanes vice-president, and King Lees secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Cahall, the club's advisor, announced the arrival of Mr. Brown, English publicist and member of Parliament, who spoke to the club informally Wednesday afternoon. The club also heard of the coming of William Saunders who will speak to the club on China.

Ex-president, Jim Heath, related the preparations for the Ohio-Valley Conference to be held at Ohio State University on November 11-12. Three delegates will be sent to Columbus to discuss the far Eastern question, Imperialism, Minority groups, and World Security.

Dr. Palmer of the political science department has been invited by the club to attend their meetings in order to aid the members in their informal discussions.

EXOTIC CHURCHMAN
DELIVERS LECTURES

Speaking to an audience of Chinese or Japanese through the services of an interpreter, was one of the hardest feats ever attempted by Dr. Shirley Jackson Case, special lecturer at Bexley hall.

In the Orient in 1930 as chairman of a commission sent to China, Japan, the Philippines and India by the International Missionary Council to investigate the status of theological education in the native schools, Dr. Case had ample opportunity to face embarrassing situations of this sort.

"One loses all oratorical effects, when a pause must be made for the interpreter to speak," Dr. Case said. "It is an odd sensation to hear the words one has just uttered ring forth again in a foreign tongue. I couldn't keep my mind on my next sentence, so fascinated was I in listening to the interpreter, although I couldn't understand him."

Dr. Case encountered many odd situations in China and Japan due to his lack of knowledge of the language, but he always managed to get by in the situation. "Language is the lazy way of expressing one's thoughts. Motions and sign language can be just as effective and really test the ingenuity of a man."

A graduate of Acadia university of Nova Scotia, Dr. Case was awarded A. B. and M. A. degrees from that institution in mathematics. He then attended Yale, where he secured the degrees of B. D., Ph. D., and D. D. He also spent some time in Marburg University in Germany.

Dr. Case has taught in many institutions, including St. Martin's seminary and Horton academy preparatory schools, Bates college and Chicago University. He went to the latter school as professor of New Testament in the Theological Seminary in 1908. He later taught Church history and in 1933 was made Dean of the seminary. He retired last June, after thirty years service at the seminary.

Dr. Case is lecturing for eight weeks at Bexley hall on the New Testament. He was also the Bedell lecturer in the Founders' Day services in the Chapel of the Holy Spirit Nov. 1.

Dep't To Purchase New Models Every Year

After two hectic weeks of chasing all over the state of Ohio and after firing telegrams and night letters hither and yon, Mr. Donald Gretzer, head of the Kenyon Department of Aeronautics, has finally announced that the College Flying School is going to buy two new Aeronca airplanes.

Three weeks ago it was decided that a change must be made. The school's older airplanes, while in excellent flying condition, had started to be too expensive to maintain, and a switch to a safe, light plane was deemed desirable.

Consequently, last Saturday Instructor Gretzer journeyed to Cincinnati to inspect the new Aeronca Chief. He consulted long with factory heads, and inspected earnestly the trim little Aeronca. It was rumored that he was very favorably impressed, but only two weeks before it had been rumored that he was very favorably impressed with the new Taylorcraft 50.

Mr. Gretzer said last night that after due consideration of both airplanes, he had come to the conclusion that the Aeronca was best suited to the use to which an airplane would be put in Kenyon flying.

The Aeroncas are two-passenger cabin coupes powered with fifty-horsepower Continental motors. They will cruise at an even 90 m. p.h., and will do about 96 wide open. This compares very favorably with the speed of the older planes, but the new ships can give this performance on about one-third the hourly gas consumption.

The new airplanes are slated to arrive in about ten days or two weeks. The color of the planes has not yet been decided, but Inspector Gretzer promises he will apply his best artistic judgment to the problem.

Syracuse Men Ask
For Marriage Course;
Then Fail To Enroll

Syracuse, N. Y.—(ACP)—After five years of experimenting with courses on marriage problems, Syracuse University this fall established one of the first full-credit classes in the subject.

But though 80 percent of the men voted in a student referendum in favor of the course, not a single male registered for the new class.

Men, not afraid of marriage or the discussion of it, are afraid of registering in a home economics department course, officials believe, for it is in that division that the subject is offered.

EXHIBITION OF SPEED AND POWER BRINGS FIRST FOOTBALL VICTORY

Showing the speed and power which wins ball games, the Kenyon Lords chalked up their first victory of the year on Benson field last Saturday. The score was 18 to 7. The Lords, revamped for the occasion, started with a bang and finished with nothing less than an explosion. Sparked by Fred Hancock, the Kenyon machine rolled on to show real drive and will to win which had previously been so conspicuously absent.

Kenyon wasted no time. In no more than fourteen plays the Lords had driven to the one yard line. Here after one wasted play, Bill Elliott scooped up a lateral and dashed around right end for the first score. The kick for the point was wide. Before the period was over the Lords had started two more marches; one was stopped by an untimely fumble, the other by the first of many penalties which were to hamper the Lords all afternoon.

In the second quarter two passes and a beautiful punt by Olin which left the Otterbein team on their five yard line set up the reverse, Curtis to Steve Chubbuck, which scored from the nineteen yard line. The third quarter resolved itself into a midfield punting duel in which Dick Olin's kicks gave the Lords a slight advantage.

Early in the fourth quarter, when all seemed cinched, Otterbein came up with a rally which put them back in the ball game. Learish and Frazier took only six plays to cross the Kenyon goal line. A moment later a perfect placement added the point. In the remaining minutes Kenyon seemed content to keep control of the ball and retain their advantage. However after Learish's kick had been taken on the forty-five, Dick Olin found a hole in the right side of the line, cut to the right, and galloped across. Three plays later the game was over.

Soccer Competition Replaces Speedball As Intramural Game

With touch football out of the way, intramural activity finds itself concerned with a new game at Kenyon, soccer. Soccer replaces speedball on the athletic calendar, and quite a bit of interest is being shown in it according to Rudolph J. Kutler, athletic director. The schedules have been made out and play begins this week.

In the purple league are the following teams: North Leonard, Middle Leonard, North Hanna, and Middle Kenyon. In the white league are: East Wing, West Wing, South Hanna, Middle Hanna, and South Leonard.

SCOTTIE

Known variously in early Scottish history as Skye terrier, Highland, Cairn, and Scots terrier, although that dog bore no resemblance to Skyes and Cairns of today. Nicknamed the "die-hard" for stout heart and unquenchable love for sport. Extremely independent.

HE'S GIVING HIS

AND SO IS HE

LIKE humans, dogs have a complicated set of nerves. But dogs are kinder to their nerves than we. They rest when they need rest...we plunge ahead with hurry and worry—straining our nerves to keep up the fast pace. We can't turn back to the natural paces of life like an animal, but we can protect, soothe, and calm our nerves. Smoking a Camel can be your pleasant method for breaking nerve tension. Camels are mild, with the flavor of a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Smokers find Camel's mild tobaccos delightfully soothing—soothing—to the nerves.

EARLY RECOVERY SEEN FOR MAY

Hopes that Chuck May, versatile Kenyon guard, will be back in the fold for the coming Fathers' Day battle with Wittenberg a week from Friday, are climbing, according to Coach Dwight Hafeli. "I am not the one to give the final say, nor will I play him if he is not in perfect shape. Chuck tells me his injured hip is much improved," said Coach Hafeli.

Chuck, who was injured in the Hobart game, has for the past two years been one of the outstanding linemen on the Lord's squad. In his first three games this year he averaged 18 tackles a game and was well on his way to an all-Ohio berth before he was injured in the Hobart game. Chuck, who was unable to get up off the rub down table due to this hip muscle injury, has been forced to spend his last week in bed due to the stubbornness of the affliction. He was released Saturday from the hospital in order to witness the game only to be forced to return to bed immediately after it.
