EXECUTIVE COUNCIL APPROVES PLAN TO REORGANIZE PUBLICATIONS

SYSTEM ESTABLISHES COMPETITIVE PLAN

Will Eliminate Politics, Give Permanency To College Presses

The plan to reorganize the business and editorial staffs of the college publications was presented before the executive council at a meeting Wednesday night.

The suggestions were drawn up by a committee composed of the editors and business managers of the publications, representatives of the executive council, and Dean Gilbert T. Hoag.

The plans which are listed below were voted upon and passed by the members of the Council, and will go into effect after the appointment of the new editors and business managers in the spring.

The new arrangement will foster a permanency in the organizations in that it calls for the permanent appointment of staff members from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. Another purpose of the plan is to prevent, as far as possible, the ability of one fraternity to secure control of one of the publications.

Collegian Selections

Each year offices on the business and editorial staffs of the COLLEGIAN will be filled in the following competitive manner.

Editorial Board

Freshmen—As many freshmen as are interested will compete for a place on the staff during their first year in college.

Sophomores—At the end of their freshman year five freshmen will be chosen as staff members by the existing staff members. In the case of all freshmen return to college another competition will be held to fill vacancies when college opens in the fall.

Juniors—From these five sophomores three will be selected as Junior editors at the end of their sophomore year. Selection of these three men will be done by a voting system; the editor being entitled to one vote, the staff, one vote, and a faculty advisor, one vote.

Senior Editor—Selection of Editor from the three Junior candidates.

Davis II Plays Same Role As Did Davis I As Frosh In 1919

That history does indeed repeat itself was demonstrated in a most unusual way last week. Freshman Perry Hume Davis II had written his parents that he had been given the part of Yell in the Dramatic Club's forthcoming production, The Texas Steer. To his astonishment his father wrote back that he had played that same part when The Texas Steer was given at Kenyon just twenty years ago.

The annual freshman play will be given Mar. 15 in Nu Pi Kappa Hall and is under the direction of Thomas Sawyer and Eric Hawke. The cast is as follows:

Crab	Gene Olsen
Mink	John Konopak
Brander	Bob King
Bright	George Hill
Green	Bill Nelson
Yell	Perry Davis
Fishback	George DeGraff
Bragg	William Sawyer
Pepper	Robert Vance
Blow	John Goldsmith
Innitt	Gordon Agnew
Gall	Hallock Hoffman
Sam	Walter Volkmar
Othello	Brown Craig
Mrs. Brander	Mrs. Agnes Camp
Mrs. Campbell	Mrs. P. A. Palmer
Mrs. Bossy	Miss Anne Elmers
Dixie	Mrs. Virginia Imel

Proposed Plan For College Athletic Plant

COLLEGE ANNOUNCES CALENDAR CHANGE

New Schedule To Go Into Effect Next Year

Centers On Thanksgiving Christmas And Easter Vacation

Analysis of the College calendar reveals that the College year is longer than it need be to provide time for the year's work and activities. The present College calendar appears to be a reflection of schedules of larger institutions where because of numerous conflicts it is necessary to devote two full weeks to examinations at mid-years and in June. It has been found possible to schedule two 17-week semesters, the normal and approved practice of colleges belonging to the North Central Association, and to hold Commencement one week earlier than usual. So the Board of Trustees at its recent meeting voted that beginning in 1940 the College Commencement will fall on the second Monday in June. This means that the extremes of Commencement will be June eighth to June fourteenth.

No action has been taken to affect the date of Commencement this June, which remains as published in the College calendar in the catalogue, Monday, June nineteenth.

The revision of the College calendar to begin in the autumn of 1939 produces some special problems in the calendar of 1939-40, centering chiefly in the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter vacations. Dean Hoag and Mr. McGovern have discussed the problem.

WARNING

There is a man going around the country who represents himself as being a former Kenyon mathematics professor. He was in Cleveland about eight months ago, and has last been reported to the Council as being in Ojai, near Santa Barbara, California. He calls himself Dr. Fry, and says that he is shortly to receive a pension of $100 a month from the Carnegie Foundation but would like a loan to tide him over until this begins. This man is a fraud, and anyone that is approached by him should report his whereabouts to either the college or the Alumni Council.

U. S. PURCHASES LAND FOR NEW POST OFFICE

Old Commons Building To Be Developed Into Faculty Quarters

The United States government has purchased from the College a square of land between the present post office and the Gambier People's bank, college authorities announced this week. A small post office building, preferably of brick, will be built on the land.

"The government architects have agreed to take into consideration the neighboring village buildings and the College buildings in developing their design, and it is likely that the new post office will provide a real addition to the village street," said Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers.

A plan of development of the village street, drawn up by Robert C. Wiseman, '13, indicates the distinguished architectural possibilities of the part of the village directly north of the College Park. The Alumni House, the Hayes Grocery Store, and the new post office represent definite steps toward the realization of the general plan of the village restoration and improvement.

A fourth step to the same end will be the remodeling of the old Commons building, now occupied by the post office. The present plan calls for developing a group of small apartments for faculty in that building.

TWO KENYON ORATORS SPEAK IN MT. VERNON

Fred Henschel speaking on "Unrest and Religion" and R. Donald McCleary, speaking on "Jews Need Not Apply" addressed the Mt. Vernon Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in Mt. Vernon Wednesday.

COLLEGE OFFICIALS PRESENT PLANS FOR PROPOSED ATHLETIC PLANT

The dream of every Kenyon man who has thrown a football, swung a baseball bat, wielded a tennis racket, run a quarter mile, or made a basket while in Gambier is now one step nearer realization.

A Kenyon field house and athletic plant which has been discussed every time the walls of Rosse Hall became a little more insecure and every time a new corner of a handball court or shower room was utilized for storage space is now a developed architectural plan. The plans for the proposed athletic plant have now been placed in the hands of the College administration.

The map shown above outlines the plan of development of the athletic plant for the College.

The plan has been evolved from an original suggestion by Dean Gilbert T. Hoag. He and Rudolph Kutler, Director of Athletics, studied in great detail the large tract of land adjacent to the present intramural fields and demonstrated that this land is the most favorable for an extensive athletic set-up. Through the help of Mr. William E. Becker, Superintendent of the College Grounds, numerous studies and drawings have been made since the first proposal for development last summer. The reprinted map is the result.

The plan represents a goal to work toward. As money becomes available, the college expects to develop large or small parts of the whole project until it is complete.

It is estimated that the development of the new playing fields will cost $17,000.

Field House

The center of the plant is the Field House, (estimated cost $143,000), a building which when completed will room over 25,000 square feet of playing space. This will be divided into a permanent floor for basketball, badminton, volleyball, etc., a hard clay court, and soft earth for small field practice, such as warming up for baseball, broad-jump, shotput, pole vault and other sports or training which require only a small open area.

There will be a one-tenth of a mile track as well, and adjacent to the main floor, rooms for squash, handball, wrestling, and fencing.

The fields will be on two levels,

RELIGION AND REFUGEES TO BE SUBJECT MAR. 6

Albert Martin, representative of the Friends' Conference in Philadelphia, will speak in Philo Hall at 8:15 on March 6 on the subject, "Religion, Peace Groups, and Refugees in Europe Today."

The Lecture Committee of the college announces that Mr. Martin's talk will be unique in that it will damn no governments, praise no particular type of state, but will show what individuals can do to further peace and help refugees.

a terrace crossing the whole area just south of the field house. A pond situation in the low-land just south-east of Pierce Hall, will be made large enough for skating and hockey.

By its very nature the field house will be bulky, and what beauty it will have will be derived from its size. This being true, to build a field house on a campus of old and exquisitely designed gothic buildings presents a problem of appropriateness.

Not only will the proposed location of the Field House make its lockers and showers convenient to all the fields; on the site indicated it will stand apart, always seen against a background of fields and farm houses.

From many points along the eastern edge of the Hill one will be able to see, either in the open or thru the trees, the major part of the athletic plant. This, with the pool near-by, the hangars beyond, and the stables to the north will comprise thoroughly adequate equipment for the Useful Sports program.

ALUMNI SLIP-SHEET IS SECOND STEP IN DRIVE FOR ENLARGED "COLLEGIAN"

In an early issue of the "Collegian" an article bearing the following head appeared:

"Business and Editorial Boards aim at Increase in Size of Paper, Alumni Slip Sheet"

This issue was sent to each alumnus and the response which immediately followed made it possible to publish this new enlarged Collegian. With this issue the second aim is realized.

The "Collegian" has several goals which it hopes will also be realized. The support of the Alumni is the deciding factor as to whether or not they will be. The enlargement of the Collegian was due directly to them as, is this publication of the Alumni Quarterly in connection with "The Collegian."

KENYON MEN TO VISIT ROCKFORD TOMORROW

Turn-About Dance Invitation Offers Picnic, Roller Skating, Tea Dance, Concert

Rockford College Campus will wake up to the presence of a score or more of Kenyon delegates this week-end when a caravan of cars dumps its Gambier visitors on the young ladies' front steps Friday evening.

This turn about dance is planned by the Rockford hostesses as a festive week-end retaliation for the classic Kenyon-Rockford week-end here last March.

Excused from classes, the Kenyon crusade plans to move into Rockford sometime Friday evening. Upon their arrival they will be welcomed by an all-college serenade and a candle light "spread." Girls from each of the four Rockford College classes have been named by their classmates to be the official guides and mentors to the visitors, and it will be the job of these appointed hostesses to see that the Kenyon squad meets the other Rockford college lassies.

Saturday noon there will be a picnic lunch at the Rockford College farm and in the early afternoon the group will have a roller skating party at one of the local rinks.

At 3:30 that afternoon a tea dance will be held, and at 6:30 dinner will be served in the college dining room.

In the evening, Quin Bowen's orchestra will play at an informal "mixer" in Talcott hall.

Sunday activities will include church-going parties, and a concert of the Rockford Symphony orchestra.

During their stay in Rockford, Kenyon will be the house guest of the Rockford Board of Trustees. Betty Norton, president of the Tolo Club, is in charge of the week-end activities.

To Chose Speakers For Commencement In Contest April 21

Announcement has come from Dr. John W. Black calling the attention of the seniors to a contest to be held on Friday, April 21, at four o'clock for the purpose of selecting one or more student speakers for commencement.

It is an important aspect of the character of the college that Kenyon has maintained the student commencement speaker.

The speeches will be memorized and may deal with any subject appropriate to the commencement occasion. Manuscripts for the speeches must be in the hands of the committee not later than April 18, and should be from ten to twelve hundred words long.

The committee for selecting the commencement speakers is headed by Dr. Black. He will be assisted by Professors Stewart McGowan, Charles Coffin, and Paul A. Palmer.

ALUMNI SLIP-SHEET IS SECOND STEP IN DRIVE FOR ENLARGED "COLLEGIAN"

It is the hope of the "Collegian" staff that this has been accomplished. It is also its hope that those of the Alumni who are not receiving the Collegian, through some oversight on their part, will become subscribers. To encourage this a special rate of one dollar ($1.00) is being offered to cover the remaining issues.

Matriculation Service

The annual service of matriculation took place in this Church of the Holy Spirit on Wednesday, March 1. Classes Wednesday morning were shortened.

Malcolm P. Sharp, professor from the University of Chicago law school spoke.

Two Blights

Two outstanding blights on a hill that in most respects is faultless are the Gambier Telephone System and Gambier Postoffice.

He who has within the last two months attempted to call long distance by frantically dialing "O" finds that his chances of making a connection are about as great as if he had stuck his head out of the window and shouted for Cleveland. Any attempts to get long distance after dark usually end up fruitlessly. The cards are stacked heavily against anyone who believes that by dialing "O" he can reach Mt. Vernon, especially after the sun has set.

By now it seems to be pretty well understood that either the high class system recently installed is made of bakelite and solder which couldn't stand the recent cold snap, or the human element on the other end of the numbers "O" and "9" is dead.

The other, older but still no better, Gambier front is the local postoffice. It is a well known fact that the governmental organization as a whole is in pretty fair shape but the local postmaster is certainly the gallstone in the kidney of efficient and courteous mail service. After all, the post office carries at least half its business in college mail; yet he who gets courteous attention from the postmaster in charge can mark up a red letter day for himself.

We have two deliveries a day. Let the Southern Limited or Northern special miss its time of arrival by fifteen minutes or let a holiday offer a chance for the postmaster to out the deliveries to one day and he's hot on the opportunity.

This writing will do little to mend a ruptured telephone service or soften a caustic postmaster but we're in a better frame of mind for having mentioned these two local liabilities.

Outstanding Lecturer

The usual lecturer before the college comes and goes without producing a great deal of furor. One day he is here and one-third of the college turns out to hear him; the next day he has departed and the whole college little mourns his absence.

The two outstanding men to visit the college so far this year have been Mr. Harrison Brown and Mr. Gregory Tucker.

Mr. Tucker who played and talked in the Commons lounge last week-end drew a larger and more enthusiastic audience than any other lecturer this year.

The informality of his talks and recitals and his ready acceptance of the college, and the college's quick acceptance of him, leads us to believe that he is the type of man who would foster the student-professor relationship which is now prized here at Kenyon.

As things now stand our department of music is in remarkably sad shape.

That a department of music is needed here has been outstandingly shown by the interest shown in his performances. That he is the type of professor who could do the job in true Kenyon style is evidenced by the readiness with which he blended with the student body and faculty.

We can't appoint him to the faculty, but we can certainly urge that he be appointed. There is a wide open gap in Kenyon's curriculum where someone should insert some music appreciation and understanding. He seems to be the man who could fill it to our great advantage.

Spring And All

Some call it a fever, but whoever heard of a fever that draws the mind away from the man-made gruel of fact, moral, and theory to the strong nectar of the Gods. Sober-minded people say no mortal can ever drink with the Gods. Ah, they are the deluded ones. True, the Gods will never call us to the top of Pike's Peak, Mount Olympus, or wherever they gather on Saturday night, and give us a chair at the table. But once a year they remember us, siphon up the left over nectar, and hurl it down to the mortal earth.

It has a magical effect. From November to April the earth is a frozen something we walk over to get to our duties. In a while, duty becomes overpowering, and we come to believe the little tasks men set each other and themselves are all that exist. Then the land begins to come out from under, saying in wood, and hill, and water, "Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever!" Men and the thoughts of men.

Most of the time we study about the earth, paint it, or write about it. Some become so far gone, that they can no longer think of it as anything but the material for human study, or expression. Then follows the struggle among men to see who can give it the most powerful expression and artists arise. The magnitude of the struggle is so impressed on the ordinary mortal, that he comes to believe he is incapable of finding in the world what the poet or painter can. His teachers foster this belief. It is nonsense.

So our advice to Kenyon is to forget what the poet said about spring, and find out for yourself. This may make finals a little tougher, but count the springs you have left. Perhaps fifteen more while you can still call yourself young. We know individuals who still think the dead poet is a good substitute for everything. Now is the time of year to make the choice.

Artie Shaw First In "Billboard" Poll. Sweet Beats Swing

By Ken Ray

In a recent Kenyon poll sponsored by "Billboard Magazine" Artie Shaw was given first place in popularity. 175 votes were polled. Tommy Dorsey rated second and Larry Clinton, third.

The fourth place brought in a three-way tie between Benny Goodman, Kay Kyser and Hal Kemp. Horace Heidt, Count Basie and Bob Crosby brought up the rear.

As for the vocalists with the orchestras, Bing Crosby and Bea came through with flying colors. For the males, Jack Leonard, Skinnay Ennis, and the inimitable Dr. Ashford followed in that order, while Martha Tilton, Ginny Simms and a tie between Ella Fitzgerald and Maxine Sullivan finished the vocalists.

Apparently Kenyon likes sweet music for its dances. For they don't like to have swinging brass and saxons interrupt their own conversations and saute movements on the dance floor. When sitting in a comfortable cushioned chair, swing takes the foreground. When dancing, Kenyon likes dance music; when relaxing, Kenyon likes swing music.

Jitterbug dancing is definitely taboo here. One hundred sixty-three votes were cast for "smooth" dancing while twenty-three voted for Jitterbug dancing. Red Nichols was approved of by the majority, and records are definitely the basis of an orchestra's popularity.

N. I. F. C. DELEGATES TO ESCORT ERIE GALS

Chivalrously swooping to the aid of fair ladies will be the fair-haired lads of the Flying Club two weeks from the present.

Laying themselves wide open, they have invited the delegates from Lake Erie College for women to accompany them to the N.I.F.C. conference in Washington.

Inspired entirely by unselfish motives, the Kenyon fliers offered transportation to the beautiful Lake Erie Flying Club delegates, who would otherwise be unable to attend the conference.

:: Off the Tombstone ::

With amazingly well tutored guile, a freshman recently suggested that the philosophic Sunday evening menu of "Nothing and Milk" be advertised in conjunction with bank night or Ten-O-Win. Such a presentation he felt might provide company for the disillusioned stoics that go the way of cold cuts. Furthermore, it might be possible to have a representative from the Coffee Shop around at this time to take side orders.

One night not so long ago when the thermometer was shuddering in the vicinity of zero, some one inadvertently spilled a beer at Cornell's and laid the foundation for an ice carnival. Grey executed a natty figure eight and the rest of the party left at two-thirty.

When McCleary heard the popular fantasy, "I want to feel a thigh," vocalized for the first time he exclaimed rather shame-facedly, "Certainly that person is lisping."

11:05 p. m. is a sacred hour—sommnambulism pervades the campus and three hundred potential Henry Adams turn automatically and willingly pay obeisance to their letters, and the Pantomime of the Postmarks is on. The various facial expressions are the only perceptible signs of intelligence. A far away smile plastered on a roseate countenance is the transcriptions of love or darling. dates will be determined by the retiring editor casting one vote, the staff casting one vote, and faculty advisor casting one vote.

Business Staff. Freshmen—as many freshmen as are interested will compete for a place on the staff during their first year in college.

Seniors.—At the end of their sophomore year three freshmen will be chosen as staff members by the members of the staff. At the beginning of the sophomore year, enough men will be chosen in a new competition to bring the total number of men up to seven. Juniors.—At the end of their sophomore year three freshmen men will be selected as Junior business managers by a voting system; the business manager casting one vote, the executive council casting one vote, and the faculty advisor casting one vote.

Seniors.—Selection of the Senior Business Manager will be made by the retiring business manager casting one vote, the executive council casting one vote, and the faculty advisor casting one vote. The retiring business manager will be given the office of Circulation or subscription manager. A percentage of the revenues from new subscriptions will be paid to the circulation manager. This percentage shall be decided by the executive council.

Reveille Editorial Staff

Freshmen.—The Freshmen editorial staff of the Reveille shall consist of five men selected by the staff from among those competing for positions on the staff. The selection of these five men will be made at the end of the first semester.

Sophomores.—At the end of the second semester of the freshman year the three men from these five best qualified to compete for the position of editor. The final selection will be chosen by the editor, the retiring editor, and the editor.

Junior.—At the end of their sophomore year one man will be elected from the three competitors for the position of editor. The final selection will be made by the faculty advisor, the retiring editor, and the Reveille Staff.

The staff will consist, therefore, of the editor, three sophomores, and five freshmen.

The editor will be paid a salary, the amount to be named by the Executive Committee.

Business Staff of Reveille

Freshmen.—As many freshmen as are interested will compete for a place on the staff during their first semester in college.

At the end of the first semester the business staff will choose five men from this group to serve on the staff.

Sophomores.—At the end of their freshman year three men will be chosen by a committee of three (consisting of 1) the Executive Committee; 2) The Business Manager; and 3) a designated faculty member). These three sophomores to be chosen from the above-mentioned five men. These men will serve on the staff, and will receive a per cent of all advertisements and other promotions under the supervision of the Business Manager and will do other work required, without compensation.

Juniors.—From the three above-mentioned men one man will be chosen by the same committee previously mentioned to be the Business Manager receiving a salary designated by the Executive Committee.

One man will also be chosen by this same committee to be the Associate Business Manager, will assist in promotions, and will receive a per cent of the year's money earned by the book during the year (outside of the student assembly budget).

Hika Business Staff

Each year the offices on the business staff of the Hika will be filled in the manner indicated below.

Freshman.—The number of freshmen on the staff shall be five chosen by the staff members and approved by the faculty advisor.

Sophomore.—The sophomores shall be selected from the five men who served on the staff as freshmen. There will be four men selected by the junior and senior members of the staff and approved by the faculty advisor. These four men will comprise the sophomore staff.

Junior.—Three Juniors will be selected from the sophomore staff of year before. The selection will be made by a vote of the executive council, the retiring editor, and the faculty advisor.

Senior.—One of these three juniors will be chosen Editor by a vote of the editor, executive council and the faculty advisor.

broken leg, and a face expostulating "Oh hell" indicates a missing check. But the saddest face of all is the face of the broker's son, a resigned apathetic grimace tells the sad story of the fallen stock market.

During her lush history Kenyon has witnessed the entrance, sustenance and departure of many brands of society, the military school boys, athletes, play boys and recently the poets. And now as if to round out this social mosaic, South Hanna is presenting kenyon with her first born, the "station wagon set." The effect of the station wagon on Kenyon can only be speculated but it will undoubtedly function similarly to refuse disposal truck—collecting and depositing.

One more freshman class has attached itself irrevocably to the roll call of Kenyon students. It was a profound sight to see so many freshmen honored at matriculation. They stood there deeply stirred by the significance of the moment, listening ardently to the President's words and shifting from one foot to the other as if they were being tantalized by a back-scratcher.

"Our Duty to You Sir and Madame!"

The following is a clipping from an Little Rock, Arkansas, paper:

CAMPUS CAPERS: Pete Taylor, colleging at Kenyon in Ohio, shares his room with a pal whom he calls Lowell. Lowell is from Boston and very unfamiliar with Southern ways. Every other day or so he questions Pete on the customs of Memphis, his home, what de does et al., and Pete always makes up fantastic tales which Lowell never fails to swallow. We proudly present the latest to date. Lowell: "And how is your home run, Pete?" "I'll tell you, Lowell, we run our house about the same as Mark Twain's Colonel Grangerford. Every morning my brother Bob and I, after dressing, hasten downstairs, have portions of rum poured out into small glasses and standing before mother and father, salute them, saying "Our duty to you Sir, and Madame!" Then we four sit down for breakfast."

Dear Alumnus:

At the beginning of the year we sent you a sample copy of "The Collegian" and a subscription slip with the hope of gaining your support during the college year. We want to thank you and many of your fellow-alumni for the enthusiastic support we received. We think that you ought to know that it was only because of this support that the new larger "Collegian" was made possible as well as making available many services which otherwise we should have to go without.

Now, for the first time, the Alumni Quarterly is being sent to you as a supplement of the "Collegian". What do you think of the plan? We hope that you will enjoy receiving "hill" news as well as alumni news, and that this taste will develop into a thirst for more.

Instead of following "what is going on here" four times a year, why not follow Kenyon week-by-week?

If you are one of the alumni who let our first suggestion slip your mind, but are sincerely interested in Kenyon, won't you fill out the enclosed subscription slip and mail it with your check for one dollar ($1.00) to the Business Manager? This dollar will cover a subscription for the remaining issues.

Cordially yours

Letters to the Editor

Feb. 26, 1939

Editor of the "Kenyon Collegian"
Kenyon College
Gambier, Ohio
Dear Sir:

Whoever wrote the article on Fred Zinn did a good job.

It seems to me that Fred did enough for Kenyon so that one of those bronze tablets or something of that sort ought to be put up on the campus. Fred would not want it to be a very big one nor to be put in a conspicuous place.

To be what it ought to be, it should be paid for by subscriptions by as many as those who tions of as many of those who knew him, if possible no subscription exceeding $1.00. If the "Collegian" thinks well of it, I enclose my check to your order in the sum of $1.00.

If it does not think well of it, just put the $1.00 in the till of the "Kenyon Collegian."

Yours very truly,

SILAS B. AXTELL

Editor, Collegian
Gambier, Ohio
Dear Sir:

According to Dr. Chalmers' speech to the student assembly last Fri. night, it was necessary to cut down on the original budget because of reduced income from the college investments. I do not believe that the students should have any voice in the handling of the college funds and budget, however I would like to express my opinion on one of the cuts which was made. It is Dr. Chalmers' wish, and the wish of every Kenyon man to raise Kenyon to the top in the ranks of colleges and universities in the country. This is impossible if the health of the students is not safeguarded to the greatest possible extent. I feel, as everybody should feel, that one's health is essentially important above everything else. For this reason I believe that the health fund in its entirety should be used for this purpose and for this purpose alone. Furthermore, if a cut in finances is necessary it should be made at the expense of anything and everything except our health.

I sincerely hope that in the future the administration will realize that everything we are striving for is based fundamentally upon the health of the individuals making up our school, and we must not just wish that the entire health fund could be used for this purpose, we MUST use it for this purpose.

Sincerely yours,
EDWIN W. GERRISH, '39

ALUMNI COUNCIL SPEAKS THROUGH COLLEGIAN

NEW YORK ALUMNI HEAR PRESIDENT

College Head Addresses Association Of East At February Dinner

New York, N. Y., February 21, 1939 — New York alumni were brought up to date on the happenings on the Hill by President Chalmers, who was the principal speaker at the annual Alumni Dinner held on February 9, 1939 at the University Club. The other speakers of the evening were Dr. William A. Shimer, Editor of The American Scholar and National Secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, and Dr. Guy Emery Shipler, Editor of The Churchman. Dr. Shimer paid high tribute to the new Kenyon Review, a publication for which he thinks there is a real need. From the enthusiastic reception of the first issue, he predicts a brilliant future for the Review.

The outgoing officers, Rev. Lester L. Riley, '07, President, Charles McG. Roberts, '06, Vice President, and Frank M. Votaw, '24, Secretary, have been succeeded for the coming year by Charles C. Jordan, '18, President, Howard Fishack, '21, Vice President, and Everett B. Taylor, '21, Secretary.

The alumni present at the dinner were:

Rev. George F. Dudley, '88, Lewis C. Williams, '92, Rev. William A. Grier, '97, Harry B. Shoutz, '98, Carl R. Ganter, '99, Rev. Eugene F. Bigler, '00, Rev. Frank R. Jones, '01, Walter T. Collins, '03,

Rev. Lucius A. Edelblute, '04, Rev. John C. McKim, '04, Silas B. Axtel, '06, Rev. Lester L. Riley, '07, Fred G. Clark, '13, Don C. Wheaton, '13, G. Willard Freeman, '15,

Charles C. Jordan, '18, Rev. Harold Hohly, '19, H. Bruce Puffer, '19, F. E. Rogers, '19, George L. Brain, '20, Howard Fishack, '21, E. B. Taylor, '21, Frank M. Votaw, '24,

W. E. Class, '25, Willis H. Lamb, '26, Rev. Charles A. W. Brocklebank, '27, Jack A. Miller, '27, Edwin S. Clark, '28, Robert B. James, '28, Daniel S. Johnson, '28, Thomas H. Sheldon, '29, Thomas B. Greenslade, '31, Frank T. Jones, '35, H. L. Cullings, '38.

NORTH OHIO MEETS, ELECTS OFFICERS

Two meetings of the Northern Ohio Association have been held recently, one during the holidays and one on February 18. At the latter the following officers were elected: President, R. D. Wells, '25, 1130 Hanna Bldg., Cleveland; Vice President, Fred Palmer, Jr., '22, 975 Front Street, Cleveland; Secretary-Treasurer, Newton A. Prentice, '34, 3065 Scarborough Road, Cleveland Heights.

Representatives to the Alumni Council: R. D. Wells, '25, Fred Palmer, Jr., '22; William A. Uhler, '26, Charles F. McGuire, Jr., '19, D. L. Cable, '21, Noble VanVoorhis, '18.

The annual meeting of the Northern Ohio Alumni Association was held on February 18 at the Mid-Day Club in Cleveland, approximately 70 member being present. Several members of the Board of Trustees were in attendance, a Board meeting having been held during the morning. The main speaker of the day, Kenyon's president, Gordon Keith Chalmers, talked at some length on what the administration, faculty, and students of the college were doing in 1939. The meeting was brought to the customary close with the singing of the "Thrill."

Christmas Meeting

The annual Christmas holiday luncheon of the Kenyon Alumni Association, of Northern Ohio was held at the Mid-Day Club, December 31, 1938, at one o'clock. Approximately 85 men attended the meeting, and according to the custom established in the past few years, the undergraduates living in Cleveland were guests of the Association on this occasion, there being about 25 present. President Prosser called on several of the undergraduates to tell us what was happening on the Hill this year.

Bill Turner, '36, was introduced as the recently appointed assistant to the Dean. He spoke briefly on what action he intended to take toward interesting high school seniors in Kenyon.

After Turner, the chief speaker of the day, John Crowe Ransom, Professor of Poetry at Kenyon, was introduced. Professor Ransom is editor and founder of the new Kenyon Review. He told the Association of the need for a fresh, well-written review, and of how he and his colleagues were endeavoring to fill this need. He asked that alumni give it a boost to friends, inasmuch as it would not receive a great deal of publicity through advertising, and its acceptance would be through its readers spreading its popularity.

A LETTER FROM PRES. CHALMERS

To Kenyon Alumni Everywhere:

Congratulations to the Alumni Officers on the first issue of the Alumni Supplement. May it bring more and more Kenyon men into active touch with Kenyon affairs. And I felicitate especially the editor, Dr. Philip W. Timberlake, '17, chairman of the Department of English, on this debut. May his contributors overwhelm him with news and comments.

So many things are happening in the College that even this enlarged form of the Alumni Bulletin cannot catalogue them. I wish alumni who have not been able recently to return to the Hill could come back in term-time to sense the old bustle of ideas, talk, and congenial assemblage which have enlivened this place for one hundred and fifteen years. Many formal statements in print and from pulpit or platform reflect it: The Kenyon Review, the scientific papers published by members of the faculty, the sermons well preached, and the discussions in class and laboratory. The best recent example of the excitement I speak of is the continuous talk about modernist music carried on by about one quarter of the student body during the long week-end visit of a composer and pianist who demonstrated some of the relationships of jazz, swing, and serious music.

But to speak of one aspect of Kenyon life is to omit many. The addition of fencing to the sports program and of squash to the intramural tournament symbolizes in still other terms the same liveliness. There are two new planes in the hangar, within the past year, a new horse in the barn; one new play (freshman acting and seniors directing) appears on the Dramatic Club calendar; besides the fall and spring dance, the Assembly Dance, in mid-winter, is becoming a fixture; the Singers, as in the past, give three concerts in cities nearby.

I hope that the Supplement may not only renew for you the old days but indicate as well some of the rewards of being a student in 1939.

GORDON KEITH CHALMERS

Mahoning Alumni Elect

Cloyce Christopher, '29, Named President for 1939

The following election of new officers occurred at a meeting of the Kenyon Alumni Association of the Mahoning Valley held on January 27, 1939:

President: Cloyce A. Christopher, '29, 300 Christian Avenue, Hubbard, Ohio; Secretary: Frank M. Mallett, '34, 103 Brady Court, Sharon, Penna.; Treasurer: Walker N. Lybarger, '22, 161 Wychwood Lane, Youngstown, Ohio.

Delegates to the Alumni Council: C. A. Christopher, '29, Charles B. Sentt, '31, 535 Rodonda Road, Youngstown, Ohio.

KENYON MAN IS NEW DELAWARE BISHOP

Consecration of the Reverend Arthur Raymond McKinstry, '18, as Bishop of Delaware took place in Wilmington, Del., on February 17. Among the congregation witnessing the rites were a number of Kenyon men, including the Rev. John Q. Martin, '28, who was an official representative of the college. Kenyon's other official delegate Matthew F. Maury, '04, was prevented by illness from attending.

Bexley Centennial

"It was worth noting," writes the Rev. Mr. Martin, "that Bishop McKinstry was vested in his Kenyon doctor's hood, which was his choice over the other doctorates he holds."

Bishop McKinstry was elected to the episcopate on November 15, 1938, while rector of Christ Church, Nashville, Tenn. Previously he was rector of parishes in San Antonio, Texas, and Albany, N. Y., and was also connected for several years with the Field Department of the National Church Council.

CHALMERS TO SPEAK BEFORE AKRON ALUMNI

Dr. Gordon Keith Chalmers, president of Kenyon College, will address the meeting of the Kenyon Alumni Association of Akron at a dinner to be held at 7:00 p. m. on Friday, March 3rd, at the University Club.

President of the Alumni Association of Akron is Frank F. Ake, Kenyon, '34, of 81 Stockbridge Road, and William C. Baird, Kenyon, '29, of the Second National Building, is secretary-treasurer of the Association.

FELLOW ALUMNI

This is the first issue of the Alumni News Bulletin in this particular form, that is, incorporated in the Kenyon Collegian. We plan to have one more issue before Commencement in June and thereafter four issues each college year starting in the fall.

By using this method of publishing alumni news we feel a closer contact will be established between Alumni and undergraduates. We are deeply indebted to Dr. Philip W. Timberlake, fellow alumnus and member of the Kenyon faculty, for his splendid help and untiring efforts and to the Collegian Board for its fine cooperation.

The success of this sheet naturally lies within the hands of the alumni. Please do your part. Send us any or all bits of news regarding Kenyon Alumni and Kenyon Alumni Association meetings or gatherings.

May we again ask you to do your part. If you have not already sent in your Alumni Council dues of $3.00 for 1939, please do so at your earliest convenience as we need these funds to defray expenses of these Bulletins and for other expenses of the Council.

May we have your cooperation?

ALUMNI COUNCIL OFFICERS

Robert B. Brown, Vice Pres.
Francis Ginn, Secretary-Treas.

KENYON MAN WRITES BOOK ABOUT AFRICA

Van Nes Allen's "I Found Africa" Recently Published By Bobbs-Merrill

Van Nes Allen, Kenyon undergraduate from 1935 to 1937, is the author of "I Found Africa," a volume dealing with his life among African natives, which was published last month by the Bobbs-Merrill company.

Allen, who is the son of Stanley Allen, '09, of Glendale, Ohio, and brother of Richard M. Allen, '39, went to Africa when he was eighteen. His subsequent adventures among the native tribes back of Sierra Leone was remarkable in the completeness with which he won their confidence and lived their life. Of this the book is a stirring and sincere account, worthy of a fuller review than is possible here.

Upon his return to America Allen was enrolled for two years at Kenyon, where he was engaged largely in producing the account of his African life. Last September he returned to Africa, where he is now living.

CHAIRMAN OUTLINES JUNE REUNION PLANS

Donald C. Mell, '21, Forecasts Attractive Features Of June Gathering

Class reunions at commencement this June will be among the most prominent features of the occasions, according to preliminary plans laid by Donald C. Mell, '21, chairman of class reunions for the Alumni Council.

Kenyon classes whose numerals end in 4 or 9 are scheduled for official reunions on the Hill this year, and Mr. Mell is already in communication with the permanent officers of these classes.

According to present arrangements, class night will be held in front of Old Kenyon on Sunday evening of the Commencement week-end. Transparencies will be placed in the windows in the traditional manner and a temporary stage erected for the informal program. Present plans call for the placing of this stage directly under the walls of Old Kenyon so that better acoustics may result.

Classes holding official reunions will all be expected to perform some sort of act.

What Kenyon Alumni Are Doing—A Class by Class Record

Kenyon Alumni in Aviation
The following alumni of the Kenyon School of Aeronautics are engaged in military or commercial aviation, according to information furnished by Donald M. Gretzer, instructor in flying:

Robert Lawless, '35, married '38, is on active duty with the U. S. Navy during present maneuvers, in a pursuit squadron based on the aircraft carrier USS Ranger. This is his fourth year. He will leave active duty in eight months.

Lester Wood, '35, obtained employment with United Airlines after graduation, and is now located in New York City, doing well in the traffic department of U. A. L.

Al Nowak, '37, is now a flying cadet at Randolph Field, U.S. Army, Texas. . . "I finally got over the worst hump. We are through with primary stage and start the Basic stage the 25th (Feb.), when we fly nice low wing BT9's (North American's) and then get night flying, day and night cross country's, formation etc. . . All the hazing is finally over too and we are now the upper classmen so life will be a comparative paradise."

C. D. (Dave) Nichols, '38, is studying at the Boeing School, California, specializing in traffic, dispatching and meteorology.

Clark Henderson, '39, is actively arranging for the forthcoming Intercollegiate Flying Conference meeting in Washington, March 20-21. He is president of the National Intercollegiate Flying Club. He is now employed by the Glenn Martin Aircraft factory, Baltimore, Md.

George Sutton, '40, passed the physical examinations for entrance to Randolph field, and is now waiting selection.

JOINS STUDENTS IN ALUMNI-HILL ISSUE

Collegian Will Go To All Kenyon Alumni With College And Alumni News Four Times Yearly

Collegian and Alumni council join in this issue in sending to every alumnus a full account of what is happening on the Hill and among the ranks of Kenyon men everywhere.

If this innovation meets with approval it will replace the little occasional alumni bulletin of past years, and the Collegian will be used three or four times a year as the general means of alumni communication.

It is believed that the plan is a sound one. Kenyon men like to know what is going on in Gambier—not merely through official bulletins, but as seen by students and faculty alike in objective news columns. The space thrown open by the Collegian for purely alumni news also makes possible a fuller report of the activities of alumni associations and of personal items. With more adequate organization much fuller accounts may be expected hereafter than in this first attempt.

The Alumni council will be glad to receive your comments on this new sort of alumni bulletin. And if you like it, it will be glad to receive all the news you have about yourself and other Kenyon men for the next issue, which will appear some time before commencement.

BEXLEY COMMITTEE BEGINS STUDY

The committee recently appointed to study Bexley Hall held its first meeting in Washington, D. C., on February 24.

The committee, composed of Bishop-Coadjutor Robert L. Studer, of West Virginia, chairman; the Rev. Duncan H. Browne, of Chicago, President Kenneth C. M. Sills, of Bowdoin, Robert B. Tunstall, of Cleveland, and the Rev. Theodore O. Wedel, of Washington, D. C., has as its purpose "to study and report on the present and future status of Bexley Hall."

KENYON ALUMNI IN ADAMIC'S BOOK

Louis Adamic in My America mentions three Kenyon men, the Hon. Robert Crosser, '97, Elrick B. Davis, '17, and Robert A. Weaver, '12.

The chapter My Friend Bob Weaver Suggests—gives at some length an account of fertile ideas advanced by Mr. Weaver leading to highly interesting discussions in regard to labor and capital.

The chapter Jack Raper: Cleveland's Wasp of Virtue refers to Elrick Davis, one of his colleagues on the Press, as having given Jack Raper the short characterization, "Wasp of Virtue."

Farther along in the same chapter a paragraph is devoted to a succinct and brilliant characterization of the Hon. Robert Crosser, who "is not known to the country at large and lacks all desire for fame, but has been an extremely able independent-Democratic member of Congress now for twenty-odd years, representing the Twenty-first Ohio district, which is a section of Cleveland inhabited largely by Polish, Slovak, Hungarian, Bohemian, and Lithuanian families, who always reelect him. Bob Crosser hates ordinary political publicity and buncombe, has no campaign fund, no support from the Democratic machine, no machine of his own, no campaign manager, and makes no regular campaign speeches, but delivers, instead, an occasional brief talk in some Polish or Slovak hall on liberty, democracy, social justice, progress, and other such essentials of what he calls Americanism, and gives a party for his Hunks supporters in his house, where personally a dry, but politically a wet—he serves coffee and doughnuts!"

Kenyon B. Conger Dies

Kenyon Bronson Conger, '37, died on January 18, 1939, at the home of his brother, Col. Arthur L. Conger, in Washington, D. C.

Born in Akron, Ohio, on April 26, 1866, Mr. Conger was a graduate of K. M. A. as well as of Kenyon. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi.

ways get back three or four times a year, and he promises that this June will be no exception.

1900-B

Rev. Frank Jones, rector of St. Mary's Church, Mott Haven, New York City, is the father of four children, the youngest of whom, Frank T. Jones, was a member of the class of '35. He says his only hobbies are "paying for personal and ecclesiastical 'dead horses'."

1901

George A. Frazer, K. M. A., is a Major, Judge Advocate, U. S. Army, with the War Department in Washington, D. C., and lives in Bethesda, Maryland. He belongs to the Sons of the Revolution, War of 1812, and the Army and Navy Country Club. He regrets that because of the 'exigencies of the service' he will be unable to return to the Hill in June.

Arthur Vall Spinoso lives in Parkersburg, W. Va., where he is vice president of the Penn Metal Co. He is a member of many civil engineering societies as well as the Archaeological Institute of America.

Wilbur L. Cummings, Kenyon trustee who received his LL.D. in 1928, is a partner in the law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell in New York City. He is one of the alumni who have always given most generously of their time and money to the college. One of his favorite doings is to get into his plane and pilot himself out to Gambier for a week-end.

George Davidson is rector of St.

John's Church in Los Angeles, Calif. He has received honorary degrees from the University of California, U. S. C., and Southwest University, and has written many things among which is a booklet entitled The Episcopal Church.

Walter J. Morris lives in Denver, Colo., where he is president of the National Fuse and Powder Co., as well as a director of the First Industrial Bank and the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

Walter T. Collins is a partner in Hemphill, Noyes & Co. in New York City. When he doesn't live in the city you can always find him grees from Kenyon as well as from at his home in Siasconset, Nantucket. Walt has been a member of the Psi Upsilon Executive Council since 1921, but in spite of all his outside interests always manages to get back to the Hill during the year.

Thomas J. Goddard is a partner in the insurance firm of Chubb and Son in New York City. He often returns to the Hill to keep up his friendships and to attend the meetings of the college board of trustees, of which he has long been a member.

Pierpont E. Irvine lives in Evanston, Ill., and is an engineer with the Air Conditioning Corporation in Chicago. He is the father of a boy, Alby Todd, who is now fourteen.

George E. Rabb has retired as a school principal and is now living in Toledo. He was formerly secretary and treasurer of the Lucas County Brotherhood of St. Andrew and was principal of the College Preparatory Night School for the Foreign-born. He spent a great deal of his time as visitor and interpreter among the foreign speaking in hospitals, jails, the county infirmary, and prisons.

The Rt. Rev. Charles Clingan is Bishop of Kentucky and makes his home in Louisville, where he is a member of the Pendennis Club. He is also a member of the Board of Regents of the University of the South (Sewanee).

Edward A. Oliver is a physician in Chicago, where he is Associate Professor of Dermatology at Rush Medical College. He is also attending dermatologist at St. Lukes, St. Francis, and U. S. Veterans' Hospitals.

Carl A. Weiant is a greenhouse grower in Newark, Ohio, and is President of Warren S. Weiant & Son, Inc. Carl is one of the oldest members, in point of service, of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Council, and is the father of Carl, Jr., a member of the class of '37.

Silas Blake Axtell is an attorney "opposed to the New Deal," with offices at 80 Broad street, New York City, but he has his home in Little Britain, N. Y. He hopes to return for commencement this year, but the life of a trial lawyer being what it is, finds it hard to promise too far ahead.

Samuel Spelman Holmes is a partner in the law firm of McNab, Holmes & Long in Chicago. He is the father of six children, the oldest of whom Sam, Jr., was a member of the Class of '35. For the past two years he has been Chicago Chairman of the Seeing Eye.

Reuben Springer Japp is President of J. G. Japp & Co., Inc., hair goods manufacturers, in Cincinnati. He has always been a frequent visitor on the Hill and is the father of Paul, a member of the Class of '31.

Rollie Eugene Dyer, LL.D. '32, is a physician with the National Health Service in Washington, D. C. He is chief of the division of infectious diseases, and assistant director of the National Institute of Health.

Lester Leake Riley is rector of the Zion Protestant Episcopal Church in Douglaston, L. I., N. Y., and since 1926 has been a staff contributor to the Churchman.

Frederick L. White now lives in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. For seventeen years up until last year, Fred was Supervising Engineer at Kenyon.

Fred W. Butler is President and General Manager of the Akron Porcelain Company in Akron. He is the father of four daughters, belongs to all Masonic bodies, and makes Boy Scout work his hobby.

Fred McGlashan lives in Canton, where he is an executive of the Climacene Company. He is a member of the Canton and Brookside Country Clubs.

Joseph E. Thompson is rector of Christ Church, Rock Springs Parish, Forest Hill, Maryland. He is Forest Hill Grange Chaplain this year and also a Scout Master in Troop 329.

Anthony Coldewey is an author and writer for Warners-First National Studios in Burbank, but lives in Beverly Hills. He will return to the Hill this June to see his son Anthony, Jr., who is now a student in the college.

Clarence C. Childs is an industrial engineer with offices in Washington, D. C., but maintain homes in both Washington and Fremont, Ohio. He belongs to Phi Delta Phi, a legal fraternity, the Army and Navy Club, and the National Press Club.

Ralph D. Metzger teaches in the physics department of McKinley High School in Canton, Ohio. He has been a member of the Vestry of St. Paul's Church for twelve years, and Junior Warden for eight years. In 1928 he ranked close to the top in a class of a thousand candidates for the degree of M. A. at Columbia University.

William A. Cuff is a trial examiner for the National Bituminous Coal Commission in Washington, D. C., and makes Arlington, Va., his home.

Roger S. Littleford is in the steel business in Cincinnati, being a partner in and general manager of Littleford Bros. He is a member of many clubs and a director of the Hilland Country Club, and runs a farm as a hobby.

SWIMMERS TO CONVE NE HERE FOR FIFTH ANNUAL OHIO CONFERENCE

Kenyon's Shaffer pool will be the center of the State's aquatic championships this week-end when the Fifth Annual Ohio Conference swimming championships are contested with Kenyon's defending champions again playing role of favorites. The eliminations are Friday night at 7:30 and finals Saturday at 3:00.

Threatening Kenyon's supremacy are such strong contenders as Case's '37 champions, Oberlin, Wooster, Kent State, and Wittenberg. According to Kenyon Athletic Director R. J. Kutler there will be a record number of sixty mermen competing in the conference battle. Four champions are back to try and repeat last year's victories. They are Jack Lawler of Case in the diving, Art Compton of Wooster in the 200 yard breaststroke, Kenyon's Captain, Bill Griffin, in the 150 yard backstroke and 440 yard freestyle, and Carl Swanbeck, Oberlin, in the 220 yard freestyle.

From the spectators standpoint the competition should result in some very close races especially the 220 yard freestyle, for Vinnedge and Lehrer of Kenyon, Dale Stewart, Kent State, and Griffith of Oberlin have broken Swanbeck's record of 2:31.8. The 50 yard dash will see a close finish between Patkin, Wooster, and Rowe of Kenyon, and the 100 yard freestyle finds Vinnedge a contender with the former two. Not only will spectators witness close races, but will be treated to an orgy of record breaking.

Bob Tanner, Kenyon's undefeated breaststroker should not only beat Wooster's Compton, but clip his record by seven or eight seconds.

Griffin should win the backstroke easily, but will have to look to his laurels in the distance race against Griffith of Oberlin, Morse of Wooster, and Stewart of Kent State.

The medley relay should go to Kenyon without much trouble leaving Wooster and Case's trios fighting for second place.

The final event of the program will provide a fitting climax with Oberlin, Wooster, Case, and Kenyon splashing heatedly for first honors.

CHALK TALK

By Jack Barlow

Losing only two meets this season to date, and having defeated the cream of the Ohio Conference, the Kenyon natators are the team most to be reckoned with in the Conference meet this week-end. As Coach Charles Imel puts it "we're swimming six teams that day and every one would like to kill us."

Morey Lewis fared none too well in his recent journey to New York but in losing in the second round to Joe Fishback, the Brooklyn flash, it must be said he lost to one of the finest indoor men in the country. Fishback was the National Junior indoor champ last season.

Freddy Hancock, ex-Kenyon gridder, is the nautical star of the Missouri School of Mines, swimming team. Freddie has been winning the breaststroke out in that Conference without being beaten as well as performing admirably on the board. Kenyon could use a diver at this time, and also some help for Tanner in the breaststroke would aid the team's cause. Kenyon gets five points in this event while their opponents pick up four. All of Kenyon's gridgers wish Fred as much luck on the gridiron as he has been having on the swimming squad.

Spring football is here. The squad the other night elected Raymond 'socko' Ioanes Captain. Ray should aid Coach Hafeli greatly in Spring practice as should Mike Simmonetti. Line Coach Imel will be busy with his baseball team and Rudy Kutler has plenty of work cut out for him in the track squad.

A lot of time must be spent to revamp the varsity as Hancock, Olin, Legg and Elliot will be hard to replace in the backfield. It will be no easy task to find a scrappy center like Jenkins, and May at guard will also be difficult to replace. Steve Chubbuck is gone at end all of which makes spring football this year a real hope for the yearlings. Coach Kutler sent up several promising men from his frosh squad by Wilson, Rose, Berno, Sivyer and Talmadge but none of them are proven, but all of them should learn and have to learn a lot at the Spring session. Spring Football should get the player reacquainted with the fundamentals and also let the Coach get a line on his material for next season.

Lewis Defeated by Fishback in N. Y.

Making his first appearance on the courts in 1939, Kenyon's ace racketeer, Morey Lewis, journeyed last week to Manhattan's Seventh Regiment Armory. Playing in the National Indoor Championships, won last year by Kenyon's Don McNeil, Morey was eliminated by Joey Fishback, National Junior Champion.

ENLARGED LIBRARY IS COMMITTEE'S AIM

Only 30 Per Cent Of Books Deemed Indispensable Available
Here

In a recent survey of Ohio colleges in which the faculties, equipment, and methods were given ratings, Kenyon ranked at the top in nearly every instance. Poorest showing on the Kenyon list was the library, which, although considerably better than those of many of the other colleges, was not on a par with the high standard of the rest of the school. The professors of the science hall were found to have far better equipment with which to work than do those members of the faculty who must depend on an inadequate library for what is analogous in their field to laboratory work.

Last year Mr. Charles B. Shaw, librarian at Swarthmore College, drew up for the Carnegie Foundation a list of the 14,000 books which he considered indispensable to any college library. For the Kenyon library to rank with the general excellence of the rest of the college, it should contain at least 90% of these books. In reality it contains slightly less than 30%. In the classified list, books on chemistry and physics had the largest percentage of the recommended texts, with those of the classics, English, and modern languages far down the scale.

To make efficient use of the resources already present at Kenyon, there is a pressing need for an enlarged and improved library. Letters have already been sent to all the alumni asking for contributions of money or books, the latter of which may be sold or exchanged if they are not directly needed.

Calendar Change

with representatives of the Assembly, and Dean Hoag has made the following announcement of them:

The Calendar For 1939-40
The college calendar for 1939-40, printed herewith, varies from that of recent years in several ways. A part of this is due to a recent vote of the Trustees establishing a norm of two 17-week semesters for the college year. Another part is due to the fact that Thanksgiving comes exceptionally late and Easter exceptionally early next year. If the traditional practice had been followed, Christmas vacation would have begun on December 21 and ended January 3. This would have kept the College in session for only two days after the week-end of December 16-17.

Furthermore, the vacation would have followed the Thanksgiving recess, which would have ended on December 4, by too brief a period.

The only other change of any importance concerns the opening of the second semester. Instead of starting with eight o'clock classes on Wednesday morning, February 7, in accordance with recent practice, the second semester will be formally opened with Morning Prayer at 11:15 o'clock on February 7. The rest of the day will be set aside for registration and change of courses.

COLLEGE ACCLAIMS VISITING PIANIST

Enthusiasm, Personality,
Informality Of Gregory
Tucker Draws Large Audience

Kenyon students proved last week-end that they could show real enthusiasm for a lecturer when his subject was interesting and his presentation good.

Thursday noon after lunch the Commons Lounge was packed for Gregory Tucker's first concert. Thursday night he played and talked until well after midnight. On Friday he lectured on rhythms and played records far into the afternoon. That evening his formal concert was again attended by a large audience.

Accountable for much of the enthusiasm was Mr. Tucker's engaging personality, his informality, his pithy comments on modern music, but most of all his subject matter.

Kenyon students had never before heard modern music, jazz and swing, defended so well and in the same terms as are generally used by the classicists to condemn it.

"Modern music is after all not so different from the music of Bach," Mr. Tucker said. "Bach was just as swingy and modern to the people of his day as Benny Goodman is to us. Jam sessions are essentially improvisations on a given rhythm and chord pattern, which is just what Bach and Mozart and many other great composers did in their concertos and variations on themes."

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR SPEAKS TO ALUMNI

Alumni and Friends of Kenyon:

On behalf of the Kenyon Athletic Association which comprises the entire student body I want to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude for your splendid response and cooperation to our efforts to augment the income of the Association. One hundred and ninety-seven replies have been received to date representing an income of $445.20. Such replies are still coming in. This figure may reach $500 before the college year comes to a close.

We are aware that these payments for season tickets are in reality donations to a worthy cause with the donor receiving only the satisfaction of giving and the appreciation of student body who are benefited. Only in a very few cases are the donors so situated that they can attend any of the contests on the Kenyon Sports Program.

It is hoped that before this year is over each one of you will have an opportunity to use your ticket and at the same time allow us to personally thank you for your generous support.

Yours Very Sincerely
