THEODORE S. COBBEY, '40, MADE COLLEGIAN EDITOR

Will Revise Publication Organization To Com- ply With Recent Ex- ecutive Council Plans

At a meeting of the Editorial Staff of the "Kenyon Collegian," held Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of electing the new staff members, Theodore S. Cobbe, '40, was elected editor for the coming college year.

Ted Cobbe has been associate editor of the Collegian for the past year, and has written the editorial column, "Off the Tombstone." He will succeed Robert Sonenfield, '39, in the editorship.

Upon newly elected Editor Cobbe falls not only the burden of the editorship, but the necessity of conforming the editorial management of the "Collegian" to the policy of staff organization called for by the recent action of the Student Executive Council.

It will be his duty to arrange as far as possible a staff composed primarily of some men now active on the staff, which at the end of the year will elect next year's staff as prescribed in the minutes by the Executive committee.

PLAYS AND BANQUET CLOSE '38-'9 SEASON

Seniors Bow Out After Busy Week With Four Presentations

The annual Dramatic Club banquet was given last night at 6:15 in the private dining room of Pierce Hall. At that time there was an election of next year's officers and an announcement of the new members of the Hill Players.

After the banquet the club adjourned to Nu Pi Kappa hall where three one-act plays were presented. The first of these, "Eyes" by James Stambaugh, a former student at Kenyon, was given by the Dramatic Club in 1936. Second was to be "The Traitor," an original play by Thomas Macready Sawyer, Jr. "Love's Labors Won," the third on the program, was given by the club in 1938 but has since been revised and augmented by the authors, Phillip W. Timberlake and Robert M. Ball.

R. BROUSE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF BETAS

At the annual election of officers of the Beta Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, held Tuesday evening the following men were elected to offices:

President—Richard W. Brouse, Jr.
Treasurer—George L. Thomas.
Secretary—John O. Whitaker.
Recording Sec'y.—Robert B. Brown, Jr.

SECOND ANNUAL PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST TO BE HELD FROM MAY 17 TO 31

Thirty Dollars In Prizes To Be Awarded. Mr. Norris Rahming To Supervise. Competition Open To All Kenyon Men

The Kenyon College Photography Club, under the supervision of Mr. Norris Rahming, has announced that the second annual photography contest will be held during the last two weeks of May. Prizes totaling thirty dollars will be awarded to those students submitting outstanding snap-shots.

Any Kenyon student is eligible to submit pictures taken by himself. A fee of fifty cents will be charged each entrant who is not a member of the Photography Club, and not more than five pictures may be entered in the contest by each individual.

Pictures entered in the contest will be divided into three classifications: College Life, Portrait, and Pictorial. The pictures need not have been taken on the Kenyon campus and any student having above average snap-shots is urged

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

There will be an important meeting of the Executive Council at 6:15 Monday evening in the Peirce Hall banquet room.

All men interested in applying for the Business Managership of the "Collegian" should submit a written application to Robert Sonenfield, Sec'y of the Council, before Monday noon.

CORIOLANUS CLOSES 38-39 DRAMA SEASON

Handling Of Difficult Plot And Staging Is Praised By Theatre Goers

The Kenyon Dramatic Club Wednesday night presented this year's concluding production, Shakespeare's "Coriolanus," to a near-capacity house. The unusual character of the drama, the infrequency with which it is produced, and the esteem in which it is held by some of our leading critics were in a large part responsible for the active interest in the play.

The manner of presentation added greatly to the sweep of the drama, although at times the plot moved too rapidly to be followed easily. The use of the simple stage and with the added device of a double stairway enabled an otherwise tediously long play to be given with the rapidity that Shakespearean plotting demands.

Because of the difficulty with which the audience was able to pick up the thread of the plot, the first part of the play attracted frequent twitters. But as the intrigue became more apparent and the actors warmed up to their parts, the tension gradually built up to a magnificent climax beginning with Eric Hawke's guard speech and leading to the emotional intensity of Mrs. McGowan's pleading with Tom Sawyer.

FIRST YEAR DEBATERS TO MEET WITTENBERG

John Albach, Robert Vance, Robert King and Robert Easton, representing Kenyon as first year debaters, will debate with Wittenberg at 3 p. m. on March 31 in Philo Hall.

The subject will be: "Resolved, That the United States Should Form an Alliance With Great Britain."

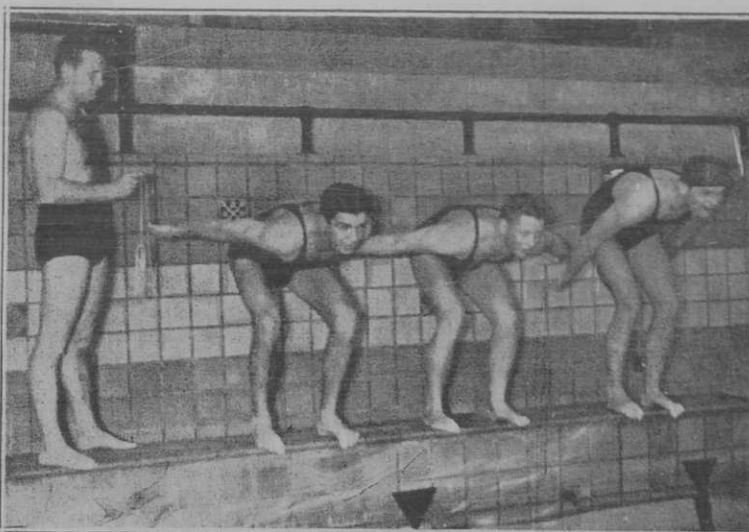

Albach and Easton speaking for the negative and Vance and King speaking for the affirmative have been preparing their discourses since the middle of November.

March 17 they debated Denison here, and on March 24, Ohio Wesleyan, here.

A return debate with Wittenberg at Wittenberg will be held April 4.

The state first year debate tournament will take place at Denison on April 15.

ANONYMOUS DONOR PRESENTS CUP AS AWARD FOR COMPETITIVE SINGING

Contest Scheduled For 7 P. M. On April 17— Weist And Cahall Are Judges

For the past five or six years there have been interfraternity singing contests at Kenyon.

From time to time judges from outside institutions have judged the singing on the same three things as they will be judged this year: effectiveness of part singing, phrasing, and tone. The respective merits of the songs sung has never been taken into consideration.

Last year there was neither such a day, nor such a contest. This year an anonymous alumnus presented the plans for an interfraternity contest to Dr. Edmund C. Weist, who referred him to Dr. Raymond Cahall.

The competition will take place at seven o'clock on the night of the third Tuesday in April. The fraternities will meet in front of the library and march down the path in succession each one singing two songs and proceeding in order of priority.

This year there will be no money prize, but the winning fraternity will have its name inscribed upon a handsome cup which will remain in their possession for the ensuing year. Any fraternity which wins the cup three times in succession will keep it permanently.

The anonymous donor is offering the cup as an incentive to raise the singing standards at Kenyon to a new high. The committee selected to arrange for the judges and to start the contestants consists of Professors Cahall and Weist.

Cleveland Entertained By Kenyon Singers. 25 Present Concert

By Bob Brown

Last week-end The Kenyon Singers again took to the road for their second concert of the year, a delightfully unique one with the young ladies of Flora Stone Mather College in Cleveland.

The group of twenty-five arrived in Cleveland early Friday afternoon for a preliminary performance at the Shaker Heights High School where, following that concert, Shaker Heights' Alumni Prosser and Tozzer were presented to that audience amid great cheers from the happy youngsters. Although the two alumni were very modest about the affair, they afterwards said that it was "quite thrilling."

A very enjoyable luncheon at the Cleveland Club, many rehearsals, and finally the joint concert which proved to be a huge success (musically speaking.) The maidens, on the whole, were not completely up to par so to speak but that fact hardly dampened the young men's spirits and, in no time at all they were to be seen enjoying life at the Shaker Tavern, the Southern Tavern, Lindseys, etc., etc., and so to bed in their respective fraternity houses.

Plans For May Hop Already Being Made By Dance Committee

Though plenty of time remains before a definite decision must be made, the dance committee has already started negotiations for an orchestra for the Spring Dance. Though reports from most of the booking bureaus have not yet come in Mac Baker, committee chairman, has already received several reports, and considered several bands.

When more possibilities are ascertained the college may be given a chance to express its opinion by a poll or straw vote but this is impossible at present as only one band can be seriously considered. "Jimmy Dorsey and his band are the only aggregation who could be secured who measures up to the committee's standard." Chairman Baker announced early this week. He also revealed that reports are being waited from all over the country in an effort to please the tastes of Kenyon men as regards a good dance band.

Student Speeches For Commencement Due By April 18

Manuscripts of commencement speeches prepared by seniors who wish to compete for the privilege of giving the senior commencement day addresses must be in the hands of the faculty committee composed of Drs. Paul A. Palmer, Charles Coffin, Stewart McGowan, and John W. Black, chairman, by April 18. The contest will be held on April 21.

Those seniors who plan to enter the contest should express their intention to do so by notifying some member of the committee before Spring Vacation.

N. I. F. C. DELEGATES RETURN WITH PLANS FOR NATIONAL MEET

Fifth Intercollegiate Con- test Scheduled For Port Kenyon

Three Day Conference Es- tablishes Kenyon's Im- portance In Flying Circles

Returned from Washington this week are the victorious members of the Kenyon College Flying Club, who there attended the Conference of the National Intercollegiate Flying Clubs, and managed to snag the National Meet for Kenyon in June.

While in Washington the club members heard speakers of outstanding importance in private and military aviation fields. They attended luncheons at which addresses were given both by C.A.A. officials and visiting female delegates. They were guests at a banquet presided over by former Kenyon college student and ace pilot, Clark Henderson. They were hosts at numerous parties which admirably managed to carry Kenyon party traditions into the nation's very capitol.

The conference was held in the swank Wardman-Park hotel, where the Kenyon delegates, as well as most of those from other clubs, lived during their three-day stay. The group arrived, together with the three girls from the Lake Erie College Flying Club, on Sunday night.

Conference activities began early Monday morning with registration and the first business meeting. During the afternoon, at a joint meeting of the College Flying Clubs and the Private Flying Rally (being held at the Wardman-Park at the same time) the various clubs submitted reports of their activities of the preceding year, heard an address by Grove Webster, head of the Private Flying section of the Civil Aeronautic Authority, and listened to bids for the National Intercollegiate meet in June, at which time Robert Sonenfield presented Kenyon's invitation.

New officers for the club were elected at the last meeting, President Clark Henderson, of Kenyon, retiring in favor of Eddie Martin, president of the Michigan University Flying club. Other officers and regional vice-presidents were also selected at this time.

The biggest news to come out of the conference, as far as Kenyon is concerned, is of course the location of the National Meet at Kenyon. Plans have been made to make the affair outstanding, and the college is cooperating with the club in its extensive job.

FANCIFUL FACULTY FABLES, OR WILD LIFE HERE ABOUTS, IS COMING PRESS EXPOSE

Faculty Fables, or a Natural History of Kenyon College, will be a feature expose' in the next issue of the Kenyon Collegian.

Such questions as: Who let the prairie dog loose in the modern language department? What ant eater uses the dean's private telephone? and what is an aardvark doing teaching Physics 17? will be raised.

It was our hope that this breath-taking disclosure would make today's issue, however more time was needed for a classification of these funny little denizens of Gambier's stormy terrain.

With liberal reference to the ark, and apologies to Aesop, this coming analogy will bare the innermost peculiarities of Gambier wild life.

Who dares to say that he doesn't await this bold tabloidian venture which has already sent the more timid furry and feathery creatures scurrying to their lairs.

Complete with pictures — watch for it.

Birdmen Invited

Upon the invitation of the Detroit University Flying club, members of the Kenyon College Flying club will journey to Detroit's Wayne county airport on May 27 and 28 to participate in an airmeet to be held there.

At the meet the Kenyon flyers will be the guests of the University of Detroit.

Students Concerned

It is our belief that the "Collegian" should become concerned with the financial state of the college only when said state begins to affect outwardly the guarantees promised us by our enrollment in the college and the payment of our bills.

In this consideration, we are vitally concerned when we are deprived of adequate dispensary services, when an attack is made upon our pockets through a raise in room rents, or when the college spring sport schedule is endangered because of lack of funds.

It is apparent, in light of these influences, that present difficulties inefficiencies, that present difficulties are the result of a present lack of funds.

It is our suggestion to the administration that an explanation be made which will straighten out the daily questions which arise as to the cause of cuts in college maintenance, etc.

This college is in itself a small town, and in small town fashion readily plays host to all manner of rumors and wild suppositions.

The "Collegian" has always offered itself as a bulletin board in an effort to foster an understanding between administration, students, and faculty. If the administration were on its toes many of the college's difficulties could be clearly and honestly explained before supposition and inference establish such a strong foothold.

Bad Manners

Of all the types of editorials which can be written, the one that sounds the corniest to us is the, "You ought to be ashamed of yourself" kind.

It is our belief that when some misadventure occurs which calls for this type of a condemnation, any editorial comment which might be made will be of little value. By the time a man has reached college age he should be by all measures of conventional upbringing, have had his breeding wiped from his makeup by his parents.

Kenyon is a college which revels in a clever arr eff, but there always seem to be a few present who are unable to distinguish between cleverness and rank bad taste.

Those who thought they were clever in their recent attack on the visit of Mr. Joseph Scanlon, C. I. O. lecturer, made a sorry mistake.

Any college guest needs special consideration in that he will carry away and advertise his impressions of Kenyon. Mr. Scanlon, as a guest speaker, certainly deserved better consideration than the mud slinging, window breaking reproaches showed him.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"Unless people interested in youth are on guard and use wise strategy, youth is going to suffer in the increasing conflict between young people and old-age groups. It will be a tragedy to have this national conflict, but it seems almost certain to come." Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president-elect of the University of Texas, believes the conflict threatens youth with loss of financial assistance for education.

"It is a great pity that through the offense of a few students many others permit themselves to be influenced by the fear of 'apple polishing'. I feel that it is a waste of opportunity when students fail to seek acquaintance with members of the staff on a friendly, social basis." Frank D. McElroy, president of Mankato (Minn.) State Teachers College, comes out for intelligent and valuable student-faculty contacts.

Letters

Editor
Kenyon Collegian
Dear Sir:

Let's gripe about the chapel situation again. As long as we must have compulsory chapel, let's make it compulsory for the Faculty as well as the student body. It might even be awe-inspiring to see more than six or eight of the faculty at morning services. The absence of faculty members at last Sunday night's service was anything but inspiring. Seven o'clock is not a bad hour, but only two members of the active faculty showed up.

The six weeks spent preparing the music for the service must have seemed like a waste of time outnumbered the congregation to the choir members who greatly And the music was good, too. If the organization of the church doesn't mean anything to the faculty, they might be expected to have a little of the old Kenyon Spirit that we hear so much about.

Perhaps we expect too much of them. Perhaps at heart they're just nasty theathens like the rest of us.

I'm willing to bet that if the distances keep the members of the faculty away from church, many of us who have cars would be glad to pick them up on Sunday mornings and deliver them to their homes again in time for dinner.

Respectfully Yours,
A. PAGAN

Editor, Kenyon Collegian,
Gambier, Ohio.
Dear Sir:

Scarcely a week of Kenyon life goes by—if my memory serves me right—without a comment, usually of unfavorable nature, concerning the College Maintenance Department. The theme is such an old one to most of us students that I fear that I shall be considered merely as harping on an old score, yet I do think that I have a definite point for student action in the future.

It would seem, from bills received in the Division, that we student renters (for rent from the college we do) are in a very unique situation. Unlike other renters of property, who rely wholly on the landlord for the property maintenance, we have an uncanny system of "pay as you go." In other words, when necessary repair must be done, of course it is done—but we, the renters, are charged. Certainly the college will paint our rooms and repair the plaster, for example, they will also send around a nice stout bill for that maintenance work. I wonder what would happen to our fair college dormitories if the renter Fraternities declined to carry the costs of maintenance, as I think they should.

This is no letter to urge an escape from reasonable charges, but merely one of claim that we should not be the recipients of unjust ones. I fully agree, and am very proud, that this Kenyon of ours is a unique institution, but the thing is carried to extremes.

There is no reason, as I see it, why the uniqueness should be extended to include the system of maintenance of college property such as we have. (Perhaps, who knows, this whole matter would have been overlooked if the charges inflicted upon us were reasonable.)

I advocate an examination by Fraternity heads and treasurers of the charges for maintenance placed on them by the college. Perhaps then the realization of our gullibility in this matter will come about. If it does, well then, let's do something about it—and quit being the goat for dues which are not ours.

Yours sincerely,
VERNON JENKINS.

College Headed for Complete Gov't. Domination Says Amherst President

Amherst, Mass. — (ACP) — The growing fear of U. S. college and university administrators that higher education is headed for complete governmental domination has been concisely summarized by Amherst college's Pres. Stanley King.

Pointing out that when colleges no longer are able to pay their own way they lose their freedom, Pres. King said:

"The economic basis of privately endowed educational institutions is sound today, but it is doubtful if it will be sound tomorrow. The income from our endowments has dropped a third and the end is not yet.

"The government has been operating for ten years by deficit financing. We'll pay for that later. I'm not criticising the government. It's just the way things are—it's a world situation. Those costs will have to be paid the day after tomorrow.

"That evil day may come in a few years, or it may be ten. It will definitely be during his life time, he is convinced.

"They will be faced with the alternative of remaining independent privately endowed institutions, or accepting government subsidies. In the latter event, they will no longer be the free institutions that have made this country what it is. My judgment tells me that only the strongest will be able to withstand the temptation of government subsidy and yield to whatever government supervision may accompany the subsidy."

Kenyon-Mansfield Fight Together To Down Canton Fencers

Representatives of the Kenyon Fencing Club joined the Mansfield Fencing organization in meeting the Canton Fencing Club last Saturday afternoon. The group beat the Canton men in a close photo-finish 9 to 8. It was the last point of the last sabre bout that decided the meet. H. Bloomfield scored the cut.

Shep Holt gave the top performance of the day, fencing three foil bouts and three epee bouts and winning them all.

As there were not enough men available from either of the clubs to fence Canton, Coach R. K. Von Wieder, coach of both teams, held elimination bouts to determine which men should go. William Seaton and Henry Bloomfield represented Mansfield and Shep Holt and Wayne Borges, Kenyon. Holt fenced foil and epee and Borges foil and sabre.

FLYERS WELCOME SCHULLER AS SOLOIST

Eight Kenyon Men Now Wear Kenyon Wings

Newest member of the Kenyon College Flying Club to wear the Kenyon "wings" which are significant of solo ability is Edward Schuller, '40. Schuller was checked out by Instructor Don Gretzer on Tuesday afternoon.

Jack Clements, first man to receive his "solo wings" this year and first to solo on training received exclusively in the new Aeronca Chiefs, was soloed by Instructor Gretzer just before the N.I.C.A. Conclave last week.

The number of soloists in the Kenyon club now totals eight. They are, club president, Robert Legg, Robert Sonenfield, Hallock Hoffman, Murray Shubin, Bill Elliott, Bill Allaman, Jack Clements and Ed Schuller.

A "solo celebration" meeting was held in the Coffee Shop on Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. Schuller's venture.

Kenyon Flying Club Prepares For Annual Mid-West Air Meet

Not only is Kenyon scheduled to play host June 27 and 28 to National Intercollegiate flyers from all over the country, but plans are already under way for the annual mid-west meet held every year at Kenyon some time in May.

It has been announced by club President Robert Legg that the Mid-west meet this year will take place on May 6 and 7.

As has been done heretofore, invitations are already being sent out, and it is hoped by the Kenyon Flying club that the attendance of delegations from Michigan, Akron, Detroit University, Purdue, Ohio State and Lake Erie college for women may be expected.

The meet will consist of the usual spot landings, bomb dropping, and paper straffing events.

Dietitians Announce Picnic Box Lunches For Sward Sojourns

It has recently been announced by those dumping demons, the Misses Chard and Kimball, that for the convenience of Kenyon men box lunches will be available at reasonable notice. From now on the Kenyon man who wishes to commune with nature can, when lunch times comes, soothe his stomach with something more than spiritual food. Picnics in the beautiful Kokosing valley bid fair to become one of those emphasized minor sports which are so popular here.

McGugan's Hollow, summer resort par excellence, will doubtlessly blossom forth with cuisine which will make Gene Val Dean turn his head in shame. Empty lunch boxes seem likely to join empty cans and bottles on the sward, and the old free lunch will have returned in all its pre-prohibition glory.

Lost Are Found

Mr. Elrick Davis, '17, Literary Editor of the Cleveland News, has found and reported to Kenyon college two former students whose addresses have not been known for many years and who are now restored to the alumni records. They are: Harry Payne Burton, '10 Kenyon, '12 Bexley, Editor of The Cosmopolitan, 8th Avenue and 57th Street, New York, N. Y., and Harry Stuart Haylor, '09 Kenyon, 18225 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

MIDDLE KENYON SWEEPS COURT LAURELS, CAPTURES BOTH "A" AND "B" CROWNS

Middle Kenyon confirmed its supremacy in intramural basketball when it added the "B" crown to the "A" championship by defeating South Leonard last Monday night, 18-15. In winning both of the playoffs Mu Kappa boosted its total number of points by 70 to go into second place for the year.

Shep Holt appeared to be the mainstay of the winning team by scoring six points. William Alexander and Charles F. Schaefer distinguished themselves for the losers, Alexander being high scorer with seven points.

GRIFFIN, TANNER, VIN NEDGE TACKLE TOUGH FOES IN INTERCOLLEGIATES

Kenyon's 1939 invasion of the National Intercollegiate swimming championships brought results for the first time when the group of three swimmers, Captain Bill Griffin, Bob Tanner, and Sid Vinneuge, scored two points in the meet dominated by Michigan and Ohio State. In fact the only small schools ever to score in the championship meet have been Kenyon and Iowa State both achieving the trick this year. Iowa State scored three points.

Friday afternoon saw Griffin quantify in third position in the 150 yard backstroke negotiating the distance in the fast time of 1:38.9, losing by hair to Joe Burns of Yale, but easily beating Beebe of Michigan who in the evening's final beat both Burns and Griffin. The final was a great race between these three boys after Princeton's Vande Weghe won handily. The Burns-Griffin race was again a nip and tuck affair, Burns getting the decision although both had the same time, 1:39.9 with Beebe a second ahead.

The same afternoon the medley relay swam by far their best race of the year finishing in seventh place. All three boys swam fine races, but it simply was a question of being outclassed. The slowest qualifying time was 3:01.4 compared to Kenyon's 3:05.9, and the pool record of 3:09.3. The split times were: Griffin 62.8, Tanner 66.1, and Vinneuge 56, this his best time, incidentally.

Saturday saw Tanner the victim of circumstances. Swimming against such stars as McKee of Ohio and Sojka of Texas he matched their speed, but both of them were having an off day not only eliminating themselves but Tanner whose time of 2:37.2 was much short of his pool record of 2:31.7, which would have put him in the finals for the slowest qualifying speed was 2:32.4.

The 1939 season will come to a

The intramural pool and billiards tournament was won by South Leonard last week with North Leonard taking second place.

Badminton and ping-pong will start next week. Mr. Rudolph Kuttler stated this morning that there were to be two contestants from each division allowed to enter. Only singles matches will be played.

Best Averages Held By Freshmen Prize Scholarship Men

Figures on the averages of grades show the marks of Prize Scholarship students somewhat higher than those of freshmen on General Scholarships. The grades of the five Prize Scholars averaged 1.42 for the first semester's work; the average of the fourteen freshmen on general scholarships was 2.09. The difference would indicate that the Prize Scholarship plan has helped to raise the scholastic standing of the college. It must be taken into account, however, that some of the men on Prize Scholarships would have entered the college regardless of the title attached to the scholarship.

Averages of scholarship students in the other classes are very little below the average of the five freshmen Prize Scholars. The averages of all classes follow:

20 Seniors 1.65
16 Juniors 1.67
18 Sophomores 1.65
19 Freshmen 1.75
Averages of 5 highest individual averages.
Senior 1.29
Soph 1.27
Prize Fresh. 1.42

Plan Early Practice For Spring Schedule In Intramural Polo

Practice for intramural polo will begin immediately after spring vacation if the ground is dry enough by that time. The championship will be determined by a series of games to be played in early May. The contests will be held outside but in a shortened field. Each team is to consist of two players, and it is expected that at least five divisions will enter the competition. Names of the members of each team will be announced soon after practice is begun.
