WILL OSBORNE SLIDES INTO KENYON TONIGHT

COUNT SFORZA TO TALK ON ITALY, FRANCE, DIPLOMACY IN DECEMBER

Will Give First of Public Lectures in Speech Hall

Count Carlo Sforza, Carnegie professor of international relations, will be at Kenyon College to give a series of public lectures during December and January. Count Sforza, a noted Italian democratic leader, is expected by many to succeed Mussolini as head of a new Italy after the war.

His first lecture will be The Defeat of Diplomatic Europe; a psychological study, with diplomatic revelations, to be delivered in Speech Hall on Friday, Dec. 5 at 8:00 p.m. Thursday he will speak in the college assembly, Dec. 11, 10:00 a.m. The next subject will be Italy: the permanent Italian relation behind the Fascist screen, on Fri., Dec. 12, at 8:00 p.m. On January 9, his subject will be Hitler and Mussolini: The myth and the realities, and on the following Friday, France: the French defeat and the future of democracy in France. These last three lectures will be given in Speech Hall at 8:00 p.m. The Italian diplomat has been lecturing in this country under a Carnegie Foundation grant.

Was Diplomat

Sforza was born in 1873 and began his career in 1896 when he entered the diplomatic service. During the following years he was attaché and secretary to Cairo, then Paris, then Constantinople, then Peking, then Bucharest, and then to London Legations and Embassies. In 1906 he was secretariat at the Algerias Conference. He was chargé d'affaires in Turkey during the Italian naval demonstration against Turkey in 1910. Between 1911 and 1915

LATIN RECORDS TO BE TESTED

Kenyon College is one of several institutions which have been asked by the Carnegie Corporation to test the usefulness of an experimental series of phonograph records in Latin. The eight records were prepared by the Harvard Department of Classics and undergraduates and a few other Classics scholars.

Mr. E. C. Weist, chairman of the Kenyon Classics Department, commented favorably on the records as a whole, and termed the undergraduate presentation of Comediae Plantae "most successful." Other selections in the series are readings from all periods of Latin literature, from Plautus and Terence, through Catullus, Cicero, and Livy, to Martial, Horace, and St. Augustine, embracing the major fields of the literature.

The records show a variety of pronunciations and further examples of how Latin sounds in the various styles of delivery. The editor of the series is E. K. Rance of Harvard, who visited Kenyon in 1937. Mr. Rance delivers the passages from Vergil.

Students in the classics will hear parts of the series in their classes from time to time during the next few weeks.

Annual Oratorical Contest Announced

Formal speaking for this year at Kenyon will have its beginning, as usual, with the Kenyon Prize Oratorical Contest, to be held Sunday, January 18, in the Speech Building. This contest will be the fourth annual. Previous winners have been Don Ender, Robert T. S. Lowell, and Hallock Hoffman, now a member of the Kenyon Faculty.

Three prizes will be awarded to the three orators judged best, in the sums of $25, $15, and $10. It is urged that all men considering competing in this annual event begin at once to formulate and prepare their orations. Increasing interest in speech and debate seems to indicate that this year's competition will be the stiffest yet.

It should be noted that there are consequences to the Prize Contest. From its winners are chosen the representatives to the State Oratorical Contest, and the State Peace Oratorical Contest. Last year's winner, Hoffman, won second prize in the State Oratorical Contest held at Denison University. Also the January contest serves as an unofficial warm-up for the seniors who will be chosen commencement orators. It is probably more than a coincidence that every year the commencement speakers have been Prize Contest winners.

Senator Burton To Speak Dec. 4; Topic Not Set

The Honorable Harold H. Burton, at present Senator from Ohio, will speak to the student body on Dec. 4. Senator Burton, a very good friend of the College and a frequent visitor, has not as yet announced the subject of his speech.

After attending Bowdoin doing graduate work at Harvard University, Senator Burton was affiliated with several business firms for various lengths of time. In 1929 he was elected to the House of Representatives, and in the following year acted as mayor of Cleveland. He was elected to that office in 1935 and retained it until 1940, when he was elected senator from Ohio.

He served overseas as captain in the last war, was a member of the Order of the Purple Heart (U.S.), and received the Croix de Guerre (Belg.). His political affiliations are with the Republican party, and he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Book Learning By Mail

(ACP)—Every institution of higher learning in Wisconsin, and some in other states, have enrolled students whose first year or two of college work was taken at U. of W. extension centers in their home towns.

Will Not Apply For CPTP Grant

Hoffman Cancels New Plane Order

Mr. Hallock Hoffman, Instructor of Practical Aeronautics, announced on Wednesday that the College will not apply for a Civilian Pilot Training Program grant this year. The decision came after a long period of consideration. The order for a new plane, placed by the College in September, will be canceled.

"We were anxious to have a CPTP program at Kenyon this year," Mr. Hoffman said. "We placed an order for a second plane, and we made arrangements to carry out the necessary field improvements. A registered mechanic in Mansfield agreed to service the College planes, and apparently the Civil Aeronautics Authority was satisfied with the Kenyon set-up. But, when we circulated our questionnaire, we found that only twenty-two men in College were interested in taking any one of the three courses to be offered in the coming year. We would have needed a minimum of twenty men who could pass an exceptionally stiff physical examination to start the program. The interest was obviously not there so we have let the matter drop for the present."

Mr. Hoffman added that the order for the new plane which the college had placed with the Aeronca Corporation will be canceled.

KEEP OUT ARCHY

Newport, R. I. (ACP) — Well, at any rate, this educator tried to scale the heights.

Dr. A. D. Fraser, University of Virginia archaeologist, wanted to examine an old stone mill at Newport, R. I., in an effort to ascertain its disputed origin.

Newport firemen let him take a fire ladder so he could climb over the mill wall, but just as he started to do so police came along and halted him.

"We don't even allow Harvard and Yale boys to go in," said the police, explaining there is a long-standing rule against permitting anybody in the structure, which some believe was built by Vikings centuries ago.

HAWKE ANNOUNCES "DON JUAN" CAST

Mr. Eric Hawke, of the Speech Department, has recently announced that Don Juan, the second fall contribution of the Dramatic Club, will be presented on Wednesday and Thursday nights, December 10 and 11. The popular Molière comedy will be directed by Mr. Hawke.

The cast which will take the Speech Building stage for this production has also been made public. The leading parts of Don Juan and Sganerelle will be taken by two Dramatic Club veterans, Nevin Kuhl, and William Sawyer. Also the leading female character will be done by Betty Frazier, remembered from I Killed the Count and A New Way to Pay Old Debts. Scattered throughout the rest of the cast are outcroppings of new talent, both female and male. The cast follows:

Don Juan Nevin Kuhl
Sganerelle William Sawyer
Gusman David Cooper
Pierrot Claire Owen
La Ramee Burt Johnson
Hermit George Hills
Don Carlos Wesley Baylor
Don Alonzo C. MacDonald
Ragotin Jason McCoy
Dimanche Theodore Miller
Don Louis Edgar McGuire
The Statue William Straus
El Vire Betty Frazier
Charlotte Prudence Shipley
Mathurine Martha Wilson
Don Juan, with the subtitle "The Stone Guest," was first produced in Paris in 1660, by the Comedie Française. It was a play typical of that seventeenth century period, for Molière employed all the new tricks of the stage. The author, who also played the stock character of Sganerelle, took full advantage of all the devices which the French stage had to offer at that time. The result is a romantic comedy in five acts, with plenty of swashbuckling!

The composer Mozart, as well as other artists, utilized the theme of Don Juan. Incidental music from his opera, Don Giovanni, will be used in the Kenyon production. Good reproduction is made possible in the Speech Building through the facilities of the new sound system, assembled and installed by Robert Kaag and David Weller. Two turntables, an amplifier, and three individually controlled speakers will make almost "Fantasound" possible.

TWO WIN KAY KYSER SCHOLARSHIPS AT N. C.

Chapel Hill, N. C. (ACP)—A seventeen-year-old North Carolina boy who has made amazing progress since he began playing piano at the age of five, and a 19-year-old North Dakota girl who already has won many honors in writing and acting, have been selected as recipients of the first Kay Kyser scholarships in music and drama recently established at the University of North Carolina.

The lucky winners are Elaine Berg and John O'Steen.

Established last June through the Kay Kyser foundation, which has been endowed by the famous Tar Heel band leader, a U. N. C. graduate who organized his first band here, the awards are based on character, scholarship, leadership, achievements and promise of future distinction. They provide tuition, room and board for one year.

GIRLS JOIN STUDENTS FOR HEALTH WEEK-END UNDER GIRL SCOUT AUSPICES

Tonight in the hills of Ohio will be held a dance. It will be a distinctive dance for many reasons. Reason number one is that Will Osborne is to furnish the music. The announcement was made by Mr. Earl Walbridge, chairman of the Music Committee, over a table in the Commons this week. Mr. Walbridge appeared, to his after-dinner-coffee-drinking friends, to be enthusiastic Osborne fan. He named without hesitation a long list of boarding houses in which Osborne has recently played—the New Yorker, Lexington, Blackhawk, Meadowbrook, Edgewater Beach, and NOW, Kenyon. Mr. Walbridge stared dreamily out into space.

Week-End Rulings

It was decided by the Senior Council to move all "parties" on Saturday night of Dance weekend after 12 midnight to the division parlors and some previously designated room or group of rooms, that the chaperones be asked to be present until 2 a.m., but that they should feel perfectly free to leave when they wish or when the party "dies"; in case they wish to stay longer than 2 a.m. they may do so.

In order that guests may have Sunday dinner free, Sunday supper has been cut out. All those desiring box lunches for Sunday night should notify Miss Chard by Friday night.

Each Council member is asked to appoint a substitute to enforce the Council's rulings in the absence of the Council member.

Emeny's Topic Is "American Policy"

Informing Kenyon students on "American Policy," Dr. Brooks Emeny spoke at the College Assembly on Nov. 27. Dr. Emeny now Director of the Foreign Affairs Council of Cleveland and an assistant professor of international relations at Cleveland College, has done research in the U. S. government and was formerly an instructor at Yale.

He is the author of The Strategy of Raw Materials—A Study of America in Peace and War, and the co-author, collaborating with Frank H. Simonds, of The Great Powers in World Politics and The Price of Peace.

Dr. Emeny graduated from Princeton, received the Ph.D. degree from Yale, and studied at the Sorbonne in Paris, the London School of Economics, The Konular Akademie in Vienna, and the University of Madrid. He has been a delegate to many conferences on international relations, including the Institute of Pacific Relations in Tokyo, the Yosemite Conference, and the Virginia Beach Conference.

During the presidential campaign of 1940 Dr. Emeny traveled with Wendell Willkie on his tour of the country as special advisor on foreign affairs.

SO THERE

Scribner's Commentator is the national magazine planned and edited solely for the safety and future of America. It is obtainable by subscription only and is not available on newstands.

(ACP)—One of the scholarships offered by Harvard University is restricted to students who formerly sold newspapers.

The dance at Kenyon was not planned to entertain Kenyon men, in spite of the rumors to the contrary. The dance is the result of all the charitable and patriotic sentiment the Gambier students could muster up. They were not thinking of themselves, mark that! Thinking only of giving, they have cooperated with the Girl Scout Company to bring underprivileged children to the country. The boys have a theory that a weekend of woodsy fresh air will do the children a world of good. So they have invited some needy heiresses and lonely Beauty-contest winners to the country for rest. As part of the rest cure—and this is only an incidental—Will Osborne will play.

Patented Music

Oh yes, Will Osborne. Mr. Walbridge drew himself to attention at the word and began mumbling frantically.

Snatches of his mumbling: Will Osborne's Slide Music rates the distinction of being the only musical style to be patented by the U. S. Patent office in Washington. His sliding effect used largely in introductions and in long interludes between instrumental and vocal solos, is distinct enough to identify the band. An impressed Freshman grabbed Walbridge's autograph and ran out of the door shouting, "Oh my God, Oh my God!"

In these trying times it is a virtue to display patriotism. And Kenyon men have patriotism in a strangle hold. They have learned through one of the intelligent Psi U's that the government is in dire need of glass for defense. And to show their patriotism they have determined to collect glass—and collect it the hard way. The best quality glass is tempered into liquor bottles (horrid things) and the boys want their Uncle Sammy to have the best. So they will give dozens of cocktail parties and empty bottles and bottles which will be sent to Washington or someplace. Kenyon men are proud of their response to THE CAUSE. Will Osborne will be played during the height of the glass collecting.

Will Osborne. Music-mad Walbridge was saying to his thrilled listeners that Osborne sleeps only five hours a night, eats little and is superstitious. He has a mania for fast cars and insists on driving them himself. You should know these things if you are to appreciate his playing. Mr. Walbridge was saying as the man in the white jacket came toward him.

And so the Weekend will serve the generous impulse of the campus dweller. True, there are a few traitors who intend to enjoy the vacation from books. A notorious Beta-redhead is looking forward to his date, who is Miss Ohio of 1941. Other students have been seen nudging each other for the past week.

So You're Coming To Kenyon

Following is a list of the main attractions and points of interest at Kenyon. The list is published for the benefit of young women who are unaware of what they are liable to encounter this weekend on the Hill. First, there are nine traps, commonly known as divisions, placed in strategic positions to waylay unsuspecting females. Second, each of these traps have definite tendencies which will enable you young women to recognize which snare you have become enmeshed in. There we stop. No means of escape is known or offered. You'll have a wonderful time.

NORTH LEONARD

Everything always starts with North Leonard, and not a few little things have started in North Leonard. A gay and reckless tribe, the North Leonards can always be counted on to climb a tree, to live in a driveway, or to broadcast popular music within thirty feet of any radiator. Their's also is the hospitality of the South, and the lucky ladies who are entertained there will have a good time without being drawled at. When things get dull (as if they could) a North Leonard freshman, chosen at random, will deliver a short lecture on the canctity of Kenyon Traditions. If properly urged he will recite Barbara Freitche as an encore. Except for mechanization of transportation they are very wary of progress in any form originated by any one except at Psi U, and the Psi U's are very wary of progress. You see how it does go on. Ventilation is no problem, either; windows fall ut at the slightest provocation. Girls do not, so don't wear your safety belts.

MIDDLE LEONARD

In Middle Leonard people are always doing something. The casual visitor must be constantly on her guard or she will be appointed, elected, or talked into something. The atmosphere sometimes a little thick, and sometimes the athletics get out of their cages, but even then there is little danger. There is always a great deal of noise in this division. The general confusion is heightened by an ink stained freshman who does nothing all day but run through the division at odd intervals shouting, "Copy Boy." Sometimes he varies this with, "Let's go to press!" According to the Kenyon caste system the inhabitants of Middle Leonard are nouveau riche and pretty bourgeois, but you'd hardly notice it if you didn't know. Intellectual activity is just as lacking here as any place else on the Hill, and will probably become extinct. Commercialism is very much in evidence here, and you can be laundered, cleaned and pressed, and flowered without setting foot outside the door. We will not reveal the affectionate nickname by which these lads are known on the campus. The Collegian motto is, after all "Keep it Clean."

SOUTH LEONARD

South Leonard has an annex under the clock in New York's Biltmore Hotel, and there is something Biltmore-like about the gentlemen from South Leonard. They have more smooth sport coats in their collective closet than any area of equal size this side of Princeton, New Jersey. Formerly known as an exclusive athletic club, South Leonard has recently taken the cure, and athletic endeavor is now no more than one fact on a many sided jewel. The atmosphere is inspiring. There is a pleasant air of informality which almost (but not quite) hides the fact that any man in the group is ready to fight at the drop of a spat in the old Siwash manner. Here the weekend will not create the furor which has been observed in other quarters. Naturally socially inclined and backed by years of successful entertainment South Leonard will

TAKE HEED

Listed below are the chaperones who have been employed by each division for the weekend. They should be identified early and avoided maliciously. Care must be taken for some of them look just like any other people. If in doubt look at the man's face. If he looks sure of his date he's a chaperon.

North Leonard — Mr. Hocking.

Middle Leonard — Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Rahming.

South Leonard — Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

East Wing — Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Kraft (Fri.).
Mr. and Mrs. McGowan (Sat.).

Middle Kenyon — Mr. and Mrs. Hoag.

West Wing — Mr. and Mrs. Strohecker, Mr. and Mrs. Black,
Mr. and Mrs. Coffin (Fri.).

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Kraft, Mr. and Mrs.
Santee (Sat.).

South Hanna — Mr. and Mrs. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton.

Middle Hanna — Mr. and Mrs. Santee.

North Hanna — Mr. and Mrs. Imel, Mr. McDowell.

take the thing in their stride. If you are invited to South Leonard take it easy relax, everything is going to be all right.

EAST WING

East Wing has beautiful furniture, a beautiful parlor, a beautiful bar, and they will probably continue this boring tendency by having beautiful dates. However, they cannot spell simple words correctly; they are very belligerent; and Rutherford B. Hayes does not live there any more even though the Club was founded in 1832. East Wing is surrounded by walls and wealthy alumni. On every night except dance weekend they surround each other and pretty girls, as distinguished from the beautiful date which they will overawe at the dance. East Wingers will fight at the drop of any other East Winger. They are scorned by the uncivilized brutes on the Hill because they are not uncivilized brutes, and they retaliate by scorning anyone who seems to have any of the requisites of uncouthness. If you are in East Wing over the weekend, don't tip toe. It only gives that impression at first glance.

MIDDLE KENYON

Middle Kenyon is a cosmopolitan place inhabited by cosmopolites. They will be unable to reveal their true nature because they will be chaperoned by the Dean and his wife. It will be rather like having a high draft number and good health or a low draft number and potential bad eyes. It's all a matter of hanging on the verge for one whole weekend. Stout Fellows and all that. Volcanic outbursts are destined to disrupt the placid surface. You'll see for yourself.

WEST WING

From a usually reliable source we have learned that West Wing is West Wing is West Wing. Seldom do they appear at dinner without coats and ties, and the selection of their ensembles shows taste, usually associated with rich heritage and cultural background. They have thousands of athletes who are responsible for their winning of the intramural football trophy. They have more dates pro rata and more college spirit than any other place on the Hill. At the slightest provocation people of all sizes and descriptions descend upon West Wing for a party or eight. They feel keenly their responsibility to do the correct thing academically, socially and administratively, and because their lodge was burned by Indians in 1492, they exude tons of conservatism. These same Indians, or descendants of the original tribe, attacked the first floor of the Wing the other night with fire brands. The single bright spot of the year for the Wing has been the ambitious climb to the ethereal heights of sixteen downs by the freshmen class. A word of caution to visitors and guests—if you open a door watch out for a shower of broken glass or a discarded and scorned member of Phi Beta Kappa.

FIELD HOUSE NEARS REALITY

MIDDLE HANNA

Middle Hanna is a welcome haven between the two other dens of iniquity in Hanna Hall. You can find a quiet little nook where some patient understanding man will be glad to discuss the welfare of your soul, or if your mood is unmeditative then you will be able to find some companions who will indulge in a rousing Bach chorale. Nature lovers will be conducted upon a whirlwind tour of the sights of the Kokosing valley at a pace of about twenty-six minutes for every four and a half miles. After you have found their parlor you will enjoy the cribbage game very much. The stakes are low, the voices are low, the hours are reasonable, and the motives are high and somewhat mighty. It has been rumored that there are three intellectuals and an applejack manufacturing concern hidden in the depths of their air raid shelter. Both rumors will be stoutly denied with the only qualification being "as yet." Don't be alarmed by the ominous looking guard surrounding every window. They have been unable to obtain any mechanical protectors, so human watchdogs will serve in shifts. They haven't broken a window in ninety odd years, and under the sun's mellowing light, the glass is assuming the hue of lavender and old lace.

NORTH HANNA

If you can possibly avoid North Hanna over dance weekend, do so. The place is over run with ex-football players who spend half of their time breaking training strenuously and the other half talking about the professional offers which they have received. Opposing them in constant warfare is the North Hanna League of Health, Education, and Morality. This contingent is lead by the freshman class who recently brought disgrace to the division by getting a down in English. Over dance weekend the Purity league will be somewhat backward because they will be busy guarding an immense number of intramural trophies which are indicative of something or other. If there is no one in North Hanna over the weekend, a reasonable conjecture will be that half of them will be in lab catching up, and the other half never stay in North Hanna at night anyway.

A special warning is needed to the less-athletic-minded young women who are unfortunate enough to be trapped in North Hanna. There is a contingent who thinks that it would be great fun to have some sort of strenuous physical endeavor such as a basketball game for the mutual entertainment of everyone some time during the weekend.

After weeks and years of dallying around, after periodic outbursts of enthusiasm and optimism, we are happy to report that finally something definite, something concrete and explicit, has happened in the oft-discussed, oft-postponed matter of the Kenyon Field House. We call upon the cynics to stop sneering and talking about "a hundred years from now." We call upon the faithful who have never lost sight for a moment of the glorious ideal of a clean, safe, healthy place in which Kenyon men may take part in violent athletic endeavors to rally 'round the Cause. Without any ado then, we publish forthwith a startling statement.

"Dear Dr. Chalmers:
Father's Day contributions at the Smoker in Peirce Hall for the Field House totaled $6.59. This amount will be carried in our gift accounts as a separate item.

Sincerely yours,
W. E. Camp, Treasurer
Editorial Note. After some extensive and intensive research, we have discovered that the above amount will cover the purchase of one Kohler and Kohler Handy Home Convenience, three bars of soap, and two rolls of inch and half tape, including state and federal taxes.

DOUGLASS HOUSE

There is a place related to Kenyon called Douglass House. We must be fair and admit it. It lies in the suburbs of Gambier and has no direct connection with the College except for the fact that the inhabitants commute to classes on the Hill at not infrequent intervals. In none of their Literary gods can they find any mention of an institution known as dance weekend, so they are protesting like the Republicans in regard to the early Thanksgiving. The protest has taken the form of a mass exodus much like the flight from Paris. The only contact that you young women are liable to have with it is in a dull conversational moment of the way to Bexley, which you will undoubtedly visit. Some one will throw a hand sideways and say That's Douglass House. Proper answer is, Oh.

Prize Contest

"George Washington's Foreign Policy Today" is the subject of the $1500 prize essay contest being conducted by Scribner's Commentator magazine, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The first prize is $1000. There are also prizes of $200 and $100 each, and eight $25 prizes. The contest closes December 1, 1941.

Full details of the contest may be obtained by writing to Scribner's Commentator, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. All manuscripts should be addressed: Contest Editor, Scribner's Commentator, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

SCHEDULE

It has been a tradition for Lo these many three or four years for the Editor of the Collegian to compile a calendar of events for dance weekend. However, this year the responsibility has been taken off our shoulders, and the rules and regulations have been laid down by the administration and the senior council, who insist upon being heard from. Here then is a list of events which you may blandly ignore, as usual.

- 6:15 P.M. Friday, November 28 — No dinner in the Commons.
- 11:00 P.M. Will Osborne and boys will arrive.
- 5:00 A.M. Saturday, Nov. 29 — Will Osborne and boys will leave.
- 10:00 A.M. Saturday, Nov. 29 — The chapel bell will strike ten.
- 4:00 P.M. One hour until the D. E. cocktail hour.
- 6:00 P.M. No dinner in the Commons.
- 9:00 P.M. Faculty invited to a dance in the Commons.
- 12:00 P.M. Basements of divisions disappear.
- 11:00 A.M. Sunday, Nov. 30 — New Party.
- 6:00 P.M. Sunday — No dinner in the Commons.

Swimmers Will Race Slippery Rock In First Meet Dec. 12

Smeeth, Henschel Will Lead Weakened Team

For the past week the Kenyon swimming team has been in training for its opening meet on Friday, Dec. 12, with Slippery Rock Teachers at Gambier. This meet is only 13 days away and Coach Chuck Imel is working the boys hard. Weakened by the loss of Sam Cook, Bob Tanner, and Tom Monaghan, the Lords will be hard-pressed to equal their championship record of past seasons. They were also disappointed when Fred Wright, one of Coach Imel's prospective divers, failed to return to school.

Co-Captains Named

The natators will be led this year by co-captains Bill Smeeth and Fred Henschel. These boys are undoubtedly two of the best swimmers in Ohio and will prove to be inspirational leaders. Bill Blacka, National Junior backstroke champion, will again be an important member of the team and is expected to win many honors again this year. Diver Ned Brouse will

Kenyon Smashes Alleghany, 18-12

Driving line smashes by Myron Monck and Paul Herrick and outstanding line play by Cubie Chamberlain featured Kenyon's 18-12 win over a surprisingly strong Alleghany eleven, on Nov. 15. This victory of the Lords completed their finest season in two decades with five wins against two losses.

The Lords dominated the play throughout the whole first half and at intermission held at 12-0 lead. The Gators scored their first touchdown in the third period but Kenyon came back early in the fourth quarter to get the twelve point lead back. The Pennsylvania eleven made their last tally shortly before the final whistle. Paul Herrick scored two of the Purple and White's touchdowns on line plunges and Myron Monck marked up the other one from an off-tackle play.

Four seniors played their last game for Kenyon in this tilt. They are Captain Gabe Paolozzi, Jack Berno, Alan Goldsmith, and Bill Wilson.

VOTES AND AWARDS HONOR FALL HEROES

Paolozzi Gets Trophy; Sweaters Distributed

Game captains will be used by the 1942 Kenyon football team, it was announced Wednesday, Nov. 26 at the annual football banquet in the Great Hall of the Commons. Members of the freshman and varsity teams were guests of honor at the affair, which was attended by the entire student body.

The Spring Football Trophy was presented to Capt. Gabe Paolozzi by Dave McDowell, backfield coach. The Sportsman trophy was given by Dean Gilbert T. Hoag to Bob Davis.

Awards Made

Later in the program, the awards of the sweaters and numerals were announced. The freshmen receiving their numerals were Dick Carlson, Groff Collett, Harold Doremus, Bill Harsha, Frank Keegan, Don Knapp, Dick Marr, Pierce McLeod, Andy Morgan, Dave Parke, Chick Pauly, Clyde Rhein, Sparky Vail, and Ernie Vogel. The managers were announced to be Bill Chapin, Chet Cable, Alan Gilmore, Dave Cannon, and Jim Toy. The freshman team was captained by Don Knapp.

The Sophomores coming back to win their sweaters were Phil Doughten, John Jewitt, Bill Kindle, Bill Lane, Herb Long, Russ Lynch, Myron Monck, Bill Perry, Don Ross, and Dick Weaver.

The junior awards went to Ed Chamberlain, Hal Grace, Paul Herrick, Bill Lehecka, Don McLeod, and Bob Weaver.

Seniors Honored

The senior players, in honor of their final year on the team, were given gold footballs. The members of the squad to receive them were Jack Berno, John Goldsmith, Captain Paolozzi, and Bill Wilson. These players have been on the team three, and in cases, four years.

Seated at the high table were R. J. Kutler, Varsity coach; Chuck Imel, Freshman Coach McDowell, Trainer Russell VonWieder; Captain Paolozzi; Spiv Harris of the Mt. Vernon News; Dean Hoag, chairman of the athletic committee; Dr. B. M. Norton, member of the committee; and Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, president of the college. The entire Freshman and Varsity teams were guests of the high table and occupied seats before it.

Kingery Finishes Third At Oberlin; Reinheimer Seventh

For the second straight year, a two man cross country team represented Kenyon in the Ohio Conference Cross Country Meet, which was held at Oberlin College on Saturday, Nov. 16. Schools represented were Oberlin, Bowling Green, Case, Kenyon, and Ashland.

Ken Kingery, captain of the 1942 Kenyon track team, and Johnny Reinheimer were the two stalwarts who carried the colors of the Lords. Kingery, who has improved with every race, finished third in a very fast field. Reinheimer, the boy who doesn't know how to spell quit, came home in the seventh slot.

Oberlin's Winston Day paced his team to the first place honors. Bowling Green, Case, Kenyon, and Ashland followed in that order.

Kenyon's fourth place is truly remarkable, in that the Lords only entered two men; while Ashland, the fifth place team, entered five. The Lords two men had to spot the Ashland team the last three places and then compile more points than the total compiled by the five men representing Ashland.

Phi Betes Work

Last week the Kenyon Observatory on Ascension Hall was redecorated and painted for the first time in ten or fifteen years. Bill Becker's Boys, under the guiding thumb of the mathematics department, did the work because of the increased interest in astronomy this year.

There is a possibility that a course in the subject will be included next semester.

CANDID COMMENTS

by Logan

The football season is over and we feel that it was definitely a success. We could put down here the statistical results and say that this proves it and "didn't we tell you so." But we feel that there is a success, though less tangible, more important and far-reaching than can be abstracted from statistical information.

By this we mean attitude. We will not bore you with a detailed analysis of the term. But there are certain psychological counterparts of the word that will be reflected in Kenyon athletics in the years to come. Kenyon football players had the attitude that we will win and we will do everything necessary to win. They felt that they were as good as any other team in the Ohio Conference. They set out to show everybody, including themselves for a change, that they were right. They had this attitude from the beginning to the end. It was not an every-other-day affair, but went on twenty-four hours a day and seven days a week. It was reflected in everything they did and said. They told themselves they could and would. They did. This reflected in their strict observance of training rules and tireless practice sessions. There was complete and agreed understanding between player and coach, player and player.

This attitude, we believe, is not peculiar to the football team. One would expect that with the beginning of a new sport and the necessary changing of personnel that the attitude would have to be regenerated. But this is not

Basketball Squad Has Long Practice for Bluffton Game

Passing, Zone Defense Are Featured In Scrimmage

With Dance Weekend beginning tonight and only two weeks remaining before the season's first game, the varsity hoopsters are vigorously trampling the boards of Rosse Hall in their attempt to be in the best possible condition for that all important opener with Bluffton here December 9th.

Coach Chuck Imel has informed the squad that their physical condition is going to have to be as good, even better if possible, as that in which Rudy Kutler had the football squad this fall. At present practices are lasting two and one half hours during which the boys are constantly kept on the move.

Passing Stressed

Passing the ball is being stressed very greatly in the attempt to set up easier shots and therefore more points. Imel has even had the boys resort to passing alone with no shots in scrimmages. A zone defense is being used at present and probably will be tried out against Bluffton. Each squad member is required to shoot at least 100 fouls a day. This practice should make every foul shot count when it is needed in the game.

Captain Andy Anderson is very optimistic about the team's chances this year, and this optimism is radiated throughout the entire squad. Win or lose, the 1941-42 Kenyon basketball team promises to show as much spirit as any team put on the hardwood this winter.

Dean Gilbert T. Hoag gave a buffet supper at his home Thursday evening, Nov. 20. He had as his guests all students who were celebrating Thanksgiving here on the Hill.

Alpha Delta Phi's new tap room was initiated amid celebration last Monday evening, Nov. 17. The party began at 7:00 and broke up at 11:30 because the entire supply of beer, 48 gallons, had been consumed.

Burt Legg, Jack Konopak, Bill Vendenberg, and Scott Morrill were guests at the home of Mr. S. R. McGowan, Thursday evening, Nov. 20, for dinner. The evening was spent in a pleasant round of conversation.

Psi Upsilon has lost at last the window breaking championship. Last week the Psi U's thought they still held the record when they smashed 18 panes of glass, but they were mistaken. For Middle Kenyon had beaten them 2 to 1 with the outstanding (?) score of 40 panes broken. One Psi U spokesman is apparently looking toward better times, for he promises that business will pick up with the coming of snow-ball season.

The Psi U's are not the Psi U's of old. Something on the sissy side has crept in. It is nothing less than an automatic coke machine which has been placed in their "playroom." In the way of defense, one Psi U said that it did come in handy for spontaneous rum and coke parties. What kind of defense is that?

carry a heavy load as he will be the only diver on the team.

Freestylers Ken Kingery, Don May, and John Tyler will be very hard to beat. Ken Knopf, backstroker, will get his big chance this year and will be very valuable. Junior freestylers who will bear watching are Dick Penn, Dick Timberlake, Bruce Crittenden, and Bill Lewis. Four sophomores will play an important part in the fortunes of the Lords. Carl Fuller is a freestyler who is counted upon to add strength in the distance events. "Had" Murry will probably swim second to Fred Henschel in the breaststroke. Thom Green and Bob Kuehn also will bear watching.

These 16 swimmers have a great record to uphold and they have a good chance to do it.

To Go South

After their initial meet the natators will leave on Dec. 17 for Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where the annual Aquatic Forum will be held. The trip will last two and a half weeks and the boys will return on January 5, 1942.

This year's schedule includes two Pennsylvania and five Ohio teams as dual meet opponents. The Ohio Conference will be held at Kenyon and the first Mid-West Intercollegiate meet will take place at Michigan State.

A complete schedule follows:

CINCY GROUP HOLDS DINNER

Cincinnati alumni of Kenyon College held a dinner meeting at the University Club in Cincinnati Nov. 25, according to J. W. Scheer, '29, Secretary. R. Gayle Evans, '26, President, and Vice-President R. F. Gordon, '08, welcomed R. B. Brown and Rudy Kutler of Kenyon, who attended the gathering.

A. D. Eastman, who left early in the week to visit schools in Cincinnati, Dayton, and Springfield with his assistant, Dick Grudier, was also present for the dinner.

Sforza Here in December

he was minister to China. During the war he served in Albania and Turkey at various diplomatic posts.

After the war he negotiated and signed treaties with Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, and Romania, and opposed the secret pacts for the partition of Turkey, replacing them with an Italio-Turkish agreement for economic Italian penetration. He was appointed ambassador to France in 1922, but resigned the same year when the fascists came into power. From then on he was the leader of the democratic opposition until the suppression of opposition parties in 1926. In addition to his political work, he contributed articles to a vast number of widely-read periodicals.

Wins Admiration

By his sacrifice of security, an easy life, property, and honors to uphold his belief in free government, Sforza has won the admiration of not only the Italian people, but also the government of the United States and Great Britain. Many times Mussolini has sent messengers to the 68 year-old statesman to induce him with honeyed words to return to his homeland and make his peace with Il Duce "for the sake of Italy's future." But far from the mind of this man, devoted to the democratic cause, was such a method of helping his country's future.

Sforza stands today as the example of an opponent to Fascism to whom Mussolini cannot point and tell the Italians that all such men are Bolsheviks. It was Sforza who heroically accused Mussolini to his face of murdering the Italian Socialist leader, thus proving him the bitter enemy of all liberal movements, whether they be radical or conservative.

Kindly and dignified, Sforza is a tall, erect man with thinning gray hair, steady gray eyes, and direct speech. Having won the confidence and gratitude of Italians all over the world, he hopes soon to return triumphant to a democratic Italy.

Hold Your Kisses

Amherst, Mass. (ACP) — Freshmen coeds at Massachusetts State College have been advised to "wear a girdle unless you're a veritable sylph—the day of the hip-swinging siren co-ed is gone." A booklet of advice published by Isogon, senior honor society, and written by Kay Tully of Southbridge and Mary Donahue of Newburyport, advises not only how to dress but how to act.

On "dating," a major portion of the booklet, the advice is to "hold onto your kisses 'til you find somebody you really want to give them to. Don't forget that boys talk about girls... and if you 'neck' with one man, all his 'brothers' will know it soon."

Other warnings include: "Don't be possessive. It is the easiest way to lose a good date."

"Don't drink more than two if you drink at all. You can still be sociable without drinking."

"Don't be too choosy at first. Some fellows can introduce you to some good future dates if you're smart."

And girls — "Don't believe an eighth of what you hear."

true. There has been a carrying over of attitude. The spirit you saw on the football field you will see on the basketball court. We hope that there will be a hold over of the Booster Club for basketball. And most important of all, we must realize that this attitude is not, and should not be, restricted to the players of the teams. It must be the attitude of every member of the student body. If this attitude does remain with the entire school as it did during football season, continue throughout the year, Kenyon College students again will be able to sing "Kenyon College, Champions of Ohio" and know that what they are singing is true.
