Alumnus Lectures On Japanese Church

The Rt. Rev. Charles S. Reifsnider delivered a series of three lectures, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 10 and 11, on the subject, "The Church of Japan." Bishop Reifsnider is a graduate of both Kenyon College and Bexley Hall, and has many honorary degrees bestowed on him by both institutions. In 1912, he became the president of St. Paul's University in Tokyo, and in 1924 was consecrated Bishop, becoming Bishop of the Missionary District of North Kwanto in Japan in 1935.

His lectures were divided as follows: Ground Breaking Period 1859-1887, Pioneer Period-laying Foundations 1887-1937, and Independent, Self-supporting Period of 1937 to the present time.

V-1 Will Enroll 80,000 Students

The United States Naval Reserve Training Program for College Men has announced the provisions of V-1, a program under which college men, excluding juniors and seniors, although enlisting now in the Naval Reserve, will not be called for active duty, for the equivalent of two academic years. Eighty thousand men between the ages of 17 and 19, inclusive, will enlist as apprentice seamen under this program. During the two years which they will remain in college, they will take curricular stressing physical training, mathematics, including one semester of trigonometry, and physics.

Enlistees under V-1 who successfully complete 1½ years of college work, pass a Navy comprehensive exam above a certain level, and whose physical fitness meets the standards for Aviation cadets, will be selected for flight training at the rate of 20,000 per year. Volunteers for V-1 who fulfill the first two requirements mentioned above, and whose physical fitness meets the standards for Reserve Officers, will be transferred to V-7 enlistment status, allowing them to obtain from V-1 to V-7 at the rate of baccalaureate degrees, and receive training leading to a commission in the Naval Reserve. Men will be transferred of 15,000 per year.

The balance of 45,000 men per year will be ordered to active duty for training at Naval Training Stations after they have finished two academic years.

Marine Here March 16 for Final Check

At Kenyon on Monday, March 16, will be Second Lieutenant John L. Pratt, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. He will bring with him a medical officer to examine those men who submitted preliminary applications or enlistments during his first visit on Feb. 11. The men concerned will receive notice of the time of their appointment with the doctor.

Lieut. Pratt will receive applications from sophomores and upperclassmen up until his visit on March 16. These applications can be made through the dean's office, or can be made directly through Lieut. Pratt, U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Room 522, Federal Bldg., Cleveland, Ohio.

Glee Club Sings Kenyon Concert

A main event in a busy week will be the home concert of the Kenyon Singers Wednesday evening, March 25. The concert comes between a joint appearance with the Flora Stone Mather Glee Club in Cleveland the week-end before and a concert in Mansfield the night of the 26th.

The first section of the program is, as usual, devoted to church music of the 16th and 17th centuries; it includes Liebster Jesu Wir Sind Hier by Bach, Salve Regina, for chorus and solo, an anonymous piece of the 16th century, Plorate Filii by Clarissimi, and Your Voices Raise by Handel.

In a different vein are Der Gang Zum Liebchen by Brahms, and a Thomas Morley canzonet, Philomela. The expected light pieces for this season include A Finnish folk-song, A dotty ditty, Charles Glover's well-known Rose of Tralee, sung as a solo by James Libbey, and the favorite sea chanteys of last year, Away to Rio and Old Man Noah. Gilbert and Sullivan are represented by two choruses from Patience, When I Go Out of Door and The Magnet and the Churn.

TKA Discusses Race Problem

Fred Henschel and Sam Fitzsimmons were rated as joint winners of the first round of the 1942 Annual Tau Kappa Alpha Intramural Speech Competition, held in Philomathesian Hall last Monday night. The second round was held this afternoon at 4:00, and the final results were not available as this went to press. The first round consisted of a panel discussion of racial minorities, and the second round was, as usual, composed of individual speeches.

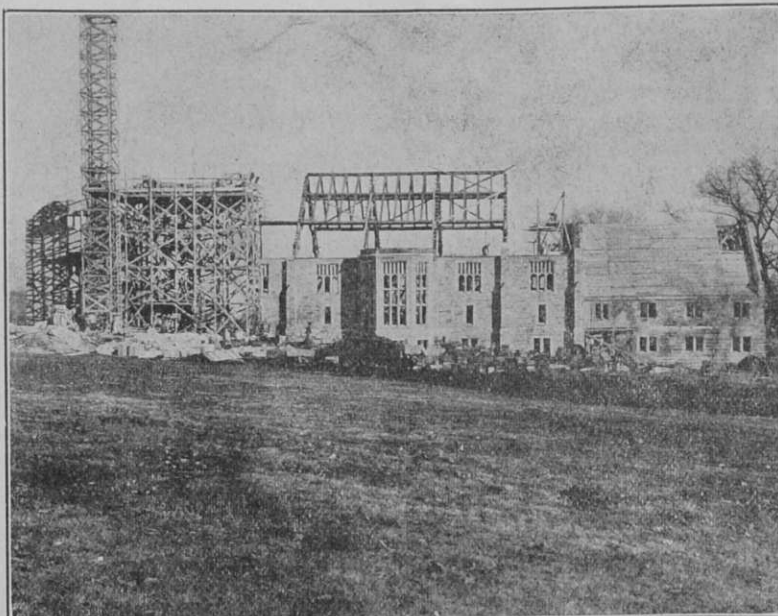

Departing from custom this year, Tau Alpha, under the leadership of Robert Easton, decided to hold a round table discussion, counting one-half toward the final results. The subject of the discussion, treatment of racial minorities, was suggested by President Gordon K. Chalmers' Matriculation speech. President Chalmers acted as chairman for the round table, with one representative from each of the nine divisions participating. The winners represented South Hanna and North Leonard respectively. Other members of the panel were Jack Berno, North Hanna; Fiske Dellinger, Middle Kenyon; Carter Brown, East Wing; and Gil Collyer, Middle Leonard.

BEXLEY TEACHERS PUBLISH ARTICLES

Two Bexley professors recently had articles published in current periodicals. Dr. W. C. Seitz, Professor of Homiletics, Religious Education, and Parish Administration, is the author of an article in the current issue of Religious Education entitled "Religious Education in a Homogeneous School District." The Rev. Lawrence Rose, Associate Professor of Systematic Theology, wrote an article appearing in a recent issue of The Living Church entitled "Shall We Bomb Tokyo?"

The new officers of the Bexley Society are: President, Lloyd Gressle; Vice-President, Walter E. Hoskin; Secretary, Howard Graham; Treasurer, Gordon Lind.

Here's What You Do . . .

So you don't like the Collegian. Well don't be a show-off and use it like a dollar bill to light a cigar, and don't tear it up and distribute it evenly over the campus. It looks like hell! If you can't see the necessity of keeping it on your desk till the next issue, be a good joe and return this copy to any of the editors except conversation is regularly interrupted by the roar of power saws and thundering of hammers. Their plates are usually dashed with a sprinkling of sawdust from activities above. By June the Commons that existed before will be no more.

Various explanations have been made to the student body regarding the shake-up in the structure of Pierce Hall. Presumably the source of these announcements were the President's Office and the Maintenance Department. The Collegian, however, in cooperation with all public organs of the United States, hastens to warn its readers not to be misled by rumors. We admonish you not to believe anything you hear until it is confirmed by the proper governmental authority. The Collegian, understand, is not denying that recent explanations given for the enterprise are true. The Collegian merely offers you the picture above as a suggestion: judge for yourselves.

Committee Names A R P Wardens

Ken Kady, Sector Chief of Defense for Kenyon College, has announced the air raid wardens for the dormitory divisions who were appointed by members of the Student-Faculty Conference Committee on the College and the War. The duties of these 12 students will be disciplinary during air raid drills and informative in telling the students in their division the precautions and rules of conduct for air raids.

The wardens by divisions are: North Hanna, J. P. Chase; Middle Hanna, Don Hammister; South Hanna, Bruce Crittenden; West Wing, Jim Paton; Middle Kenyon, Fred Arner, David Weller, and Robert Costello; East Wing, Scott Morrill; South Leonard, Frazier Ford; Middle Leonard, Donal Ross; North Leonard, Stan Johnson; and Douglass House, Don Bowers.

According to Dr. Coffin, Gambier Chief of Defense, our village is one of the best prepared in Ohio. Meetings of the wardens and the Conference Committee will insure adequate preparations for any event. At least one room in each division will be reserved as an air raid shelter, and kept supplied with necessities and medical kits, which will be furnished by the College.

DEKES SET AIR RAID EXAMPLE; COFFIN SATISFIED BY TEST

Dance Week-End Follows Vacation

It has been a subject of great concern on the part of the student body whether or not the usual spring dance would be held this year. After some lapse of time, during which the Faculty and the Senior Council could not seem to reach an agreement, Richard Troxell presented a plan to enable the students to purchase defense stamps and bonds while enjoying the prospects of the dance.

Mr. Troxell's plan provided for the purchase of defense bonds and stamps as admissions to the three dances of the week-end, as raffle chances, as payment for liquid enjoyment at the coffee shop, and several other possible means to insure the purchase of a good amount of defense stamps and bonds.

After the faculty had turned the affairs of the week-end of April 10-11 over to the Dean and the Senior Council, the council considered the plan and modified it somewhat. Remembering other dance week-ends, they decided to make the whole business as simple as possible. As it now stands, each student, with or without a date, will purchase $2 worth of stamps as he enters the dance. The further disposition and final disposal of the stamps was referred to the Student-Faculty Committee on the College and the War, which met yesterday afternoon.

The spring dance will begin with the usual formal dance on Friday, April 10, from 11 P. M. until 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Although the divisions will be closed at 3 A. M., Peirce Hall will remain open until 5 A. M. The tea dance will be held at the Sunset Club from 4 until 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The week-end will be climaxed by the informal dance from 9 to 12 P. M. Saturday, April 11. The divisions will close at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Proposed Bus Line Still "Hopeful"

Plans for establishing a bus line between Mount Vernon and Kenyon have not been forgotten. Although the completion of the line has been retarded by legal complications, the hope for establishing a temporary line until the final hearing, which will take place in about three weeks, has not been discarded. In view of this possibility, a bus has been obtained. It is a 22 passenger bus with seats facing front. The schedule originally proposed will probably be the one followed when the line is finally put through.

Mr. Roger Servais, who will operate the line, stated Tuesday that very possibly he would be allowed to open his routes before the hearing, because he will be able to transport defense workers to Mt. Vernon.

The asked-about late Saturday run after the midnight show will very probably be added after the line is under way.

Says Campus Is Safe In Future

A week ago Wednesday night, West Wing, vital outpost of Kenyon defense, succumbed to the war scare generated by the Dean of the College. As soon as notices were sent out, Air Raid Warden James Paton whipped into action, and by ten o'clock all the windows of the division were painted dark brown. At ten o'clock the first of four two-hour shifts was stationed on the fire escape outside the bullseye window. The following shifts were stationed at two and four.

At ten-fourteen Delt look-outs from Quarry Chapel phoned in the report that two observation balloons named "The Twins" had passed over and advised a blackout which was promptly accomplished. Seventeen minutes later Jean ValDeans reported a need for reinforcements against agricultural strength. Help was dispatched immediately. The West Wing office phoned back thirty minutes later and received the report: "Heo, heo, this place captured." The report at four-seventeen that a Japanese cruiser had been sighted on the Kokosing was immediately proven false.

Later in the week, Dr. Charles M. Coffin, local director of National Defense, turned an opportunity to expressing thanks to West Wing for its cooperation and spirit, and further said that if this action was duplicated by the rest of the campus, we should have no fear in the future.

Freshmen Fiction To Flow Freely

Because of the Freshman Reserve classification of the newest books in the college library, Kenyon upperclassmen have been forced to stoop, squint, and turn away. Under the plan now being considered by the English Department, students not in the prescribed courses will not be denied the use of the recent publications, of which approximately 36 are added to the shelf each semester.

Prof. Coffin said Tuesday morning that very probably a two-day borrowing plan would be worked out to put the new books at the disposal of the entire college.

Adams Advocates Art Exchange

Philip Rhys Adams, Director of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, discussed different phases of art at the Kenyon Assembly on March 13 and in a lecture that evening. The title of Mr. Adams' morning talk was "Art in Inter-American Relations," a subject upon which he had gained first hand information as Secretary for Art on the Council of Inter-American Affairs. In the evening Mr. Adams spoke on "Renaissance Art in the Columbus Gallery."

Mr. Adams is a graduate of Ohio State University and has done graduate work at New York University and Princeton University. He has been an art instructor and lecturer at Newcomb College, and Tulane University. During the summers of 1935, 1936, 1937, and 1938, Mr. Adams traveled in Mexico and Great Britain as a lecturer for the Bureau of University Travel.

Opportunity

The action of the faculty last Monday in repealing their former decision to remove the spring dance from the calendar must have proved quite perplexing to those who cry down student government and faculty-student relations on the Hill. After the majority of the students had forsaken the spring dance there still remained a few leaders among the student body whose estimation of the fairness and generosity of the faculty was much greater than ours. For we had given up all hope of a dance and were fighting for as favorable a compromise as possible. However, thanks to 440 e efforts of the Senior Council (and the leaders of the Student Assembly, the dance has become a reality.

400 y Heale dance is not a compromise, nor is it a reward for the 5:34 Cosptful patriotism shown in the 400 y proposal for each student to purchase $1.75 worth of defense stamps as admission to the various functions of the week-end. Rather it is an acknowledgment that perhaps the faculty had been too hasty in removing the dance from the calendar, and that after careful consideration decided that morale and confidence was as great a boon to the shortened semester as the excellence of the dance.

The attitude of the student in regarding this reversal of opinion can be either disastrous or favorable to the continuance of student-faculty cooperation and understanding. To regard this change of mind as a result of coercion on the part of the students in threatening to take the dance off the Hill would be fatal to future attempts to gain a basis of understanding with the faculty. This triumph of student government, for so we might call it, is an opportunity for the student body to establish a valuable precedent in the development of student-faculty relations at Kenyon.

The Collegian earnestly supports the present plan of the Senior Council to sell $2.00 worth of defense stamps as admission fee to the activities of the week-end. Not only is it quite fashionable to mix defense stamps and pleasure in the best collegiate circles, but we believe that the men on the Hill have more than a superficial interest in the war, and that such an investment would prove this interest as well as become a source of personal satisfaction.

MATRICULATION ADDRESS

(Resume of Address Delivered at the annual Matriculation Service, March 2, 1942, by President Gordon K. Chalmers, Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio.)

One hundred one years ago when the first matriculation service was held, the College was much concerned with the liberation and repatriation of Negro slaves in Liberia. In 1942 our relations with men of other races are still a vital issue. At the recent alumni meeting in Chicago, Sidney Waddington, a Kenyon man recently returned from the Philippines, told about Bataan Peninsula and Singapore. The Philippines, he said, respect and admire the Americans; the two fight side by side; in Malaya the relationship between white and colored man has been different. As the battle went on, the natives left boats half unloaded. The Americans very often have made the mistakes the British have made, but evidently on one small island, Luzon, we have on the whole been respectful of men of another race. Americans and Englishmen are inclined to use the word historic in referring to the meeting of our President and the British Prime Minister which led to the announcement of the Atlantic Charter. Probably another meeting of leaders of great nations was of more historical meaning, the meeting of Chiang Kai Shek with the national leaders of India, Nehru and Gandhi. Our own destinies are now involved with men of yellow skin and brown skin in such a way that to fail to deal with understanding and fairness will undoubtedly lead to disaster.

It is not necessary to look across a wide ocean to see the issue; we have it at home. Negroes, one-tenth of our population, enjoy only a fraction of their privileges as citizens. Some of the unions of the American Federation of Labor exclude them, thus depriving them of the chance to work at trades for which they have the skill. Some industries and some colleges in effect exclude them.

In subscribing to the oath of matriculation, Kenyon men do not adopt a single opinion of the race problem, but by inference they do enter into what the Quakers call a concern, a concern for endeavoring to deal with the problem of the eighteen-forties and the nineteen-forties, the problem of fair dealing and a just regard between ourselves and men of other races.

Air Raid Precaution

In general the student body has ridiculed, rejected or ignored completely the program for air raid defense which has been placed in the hands of at least one member of every division on the Hill. These orders or suggestions were sent out for the education of the students on how to behave during an air raid. For the most part, these papers have been put away or thrown out without being read by more than a few students. This seems rather childish and stupid.

The most frequent cause for ridicule is the little likelihood of Kenyon's ever being bombed. This is insufficient, however. Kenyon in all likelihood will never be bombed, but few students are at Kenyon all year round. The chances of their homes being bombed is far greater than Kenyon's, and it is possible that in the future it will be much more probable. The instructions are simple:

1. Keep cool. Know the alarm signal (ours will be announced in the Collegian later). Obey the air raid warden.
2. Since anti-aircraft shells shower shrapnel, stay at home, or at least under cover. Spray incendiary bombs, don't douse them. They will explode.
3. Black out, regardless if the signal is given or not. Prepare one room, that with the least number of doors and windows, as a shelter.
4. Lie down, preferably under a table.
5. Stay away from windows.

No special equipment is needed for these precautionary measures.

In substance, these are the simple rules to be followed. They have been prepared by men with broad, extensive knowledge of the subject. And regardless of the little probability of Kenyon's ever being bombed, it is childish to scoff at them.

Letters to the Editor

March 3, 1942

To the Editor:

The attitude shown by a number of Kenyon students in the recent Red Cross drive is shameful. A serious and hard-working group of men attempted to raise the College quota of $500.00, only to be met with refusal by a number of the students.

The majority of the refusals were accompanied by weak excuses, hardly worth mentioning. For example, a number said that they were unable financially to contribute even a quarter. The same group were students who spend between $5.00 and $10.00 a week on personal pleasures, yet they were "financially unable" to give at least $1.50 to the alleviation of suffering.

The Red Cross has a history which would bear reading by the "tightwads." It is a history which it filled with contribution to the welfare of the people of the world. We are at War! War in which human suffering is at its maximum. Millions suffer from want of food and clothing while we at Kenyon must suffer the loss of rubber tires for our pleasure cars and a summer vacation. It seems only right that a group which is "living off the fat of the land," so to speak, should shoulder a small portion of the responsibility.

The way that we, as students, can carry our share is painless: by giving to the Red Cross freely and generously. The attitude exhibited by the "tightwads" is typical of a group in every society which says, "It doesn't help me directly, so what concern is it of mine."

Let those who will not contribute to this worthy fund be set apart from the contributors as selfish individuals, persons to whom self gain is most important, persons who are not only a liability to Kenyon but to any society. God be praised that this group of non-contributors is not larger than it is, and that some of the students think enough of their fellow men to help them in their unhappiness.

(signed)

Fiske Dellinger, '44

(Ed. note: We agree with Mr. Dellinger, but think that he might be interested in knowing that a college within thirty miles of Gambier whose enrollment is three times that of Kenyon pledged $800.00 to the Red Cross. At the end of a second week in a three-week campaign they had collected $294.00. We are still not excusing ourselves, however.

Oberlin Queens

Petition Kenyon

Striking proof of the inadequacy of Oberlin men was given last week in a letter from two hungry Oberlin women. The letter, received by a Kenyon Student, had been sent to a Gambier box number, picked at random—perhaps in desperation. Fortunately a student did receive the letter and it has since fallen, accidentally, into the hands of the Collegian. The paper prints it, forthwith, to prove something we've always suspected anyway.

Box X

Kenyon College

Gambier, Ohio.

Dear Man (?)—you lucky boy.

Because of the strained social conditions at Oberlin, we find it imperative to correspond (and we hope that you will reciprocate) with a very fortunate boy at Kenyon.

We are two of the most glamorous and beautiful girls in the Oberlin camps (and don't think us conceited), but we are fed up with this goddam hole, and always with an eye to the future—we have an eye to the future. In the past we have done this several times, and have been most successful.

If you wish to correspond with two very charming young ladies, please address your next letter to:

(Address has been withheld. Submit any reasonable offers to the editors.)

P.S. We hope that you

THAT IS THE QUESTION

are not the Dean or a housemother—if so, we hope you have a sense of humor. This is not a form letter, believe us.

It was not ascertained whether or not the letter has as yet been answered. It must be noted that all italicized words in the letter were written in script, although the writers profess that they were not sending a form letter. The Collegian, other than this, has nothing to say.

FACULTY FOLLIES OF FORTY-TWO

The room is heavily paneled and carpeted. To the right are two doorways, casements hung with two doors forming an air chamber between. To the left are two doorways, casements hung with two doors forming air chambers between. Directly in the center is a long, richly carved mahogany table with wheels and balloon tires. Nine young girls with that secretarial air ride into the room through air chamber on the right on pogo sticks. Four of them air out the air chamber. Five of them place papers at the end of the table. Eight of them file out through the door on the right. The remaining one rides to one of the aired-out air chambers and opening the doors, claps her hands twice, calls "chop chop" in an eastern accent and bounces out the door on the right.

Thirty men in academic robes and hips file adroitly into the room, while a student orchestra plays the "Lambeth Walk" outside the window. The thirty gowned men stand behind the chairs at the table, left face, and count off by twos. The orchestra, led by an ordained sax player, strikes up "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen." The thirty men sing as two young handsome men step into the room from the left air chamber—

"Oh, hello, Gord-butt, Oh, hello, Gil-butt Who shall we slip the business to today? Dance Committee broke a rule Shall we toss it out of school? Oh, Gord-butt, come on Gilbutt Whatcha say?"

The air becomes tense. The two young handsome men assume their positions at the respective ends of the table.

"We must wait for the report from the 'Let's hurry up and get this school year over with' committee. Please make your report, you down there in the middle."

You down there in the middle stands.

"History never repeats itself so we can skip it. Math, I flunked in high school, so we'll skip that. English—we usually read all the books before we get our doctor's degree, so skip it. Science is for the world of tomorrow—why have a semester at all?"

The 27th down rises hastily and begins, "But—but—"

The telephone hanging from the ceiling rings. One of the two young handsome men answers it.

"Which one?"

"Shut up."

"Wants to know if beans or hard-tack will do for dinner."

"Tell her—beans," said someone gleefully.

"Beans." He hangs up.

One of the YHM at the end of the table stands up, and passes thirty sheets of paper down the table, one by one.

"Gentlemen, we shall have a secret ballot in favor of not having a second semester. All those in favor write okay kid."

Dear Mom:

The things that make life worthwhile at a College that is different are the Crises. Whenever things get dull and in the intervals between winter sports and spring sports a Crises always comes up to keep things interesting. In my last letter I told you about the Dance Crisis. Well it looks like the Dance Crisis is going to desolve in a solution of soft soap and Defense Bonds, but there's another crisis too, I guess.

Crises are usually the results of Conflicts. Mostly the students and the Faculty are the conflicting agents, but sometimes the Faculty has a Conflict all by itself. This is fun for the Students, because they don't know anything for sure, but they can guess, can't they? A fellow says that the whole thing is because of a telephone bill, and then other people talk about it. The Collegian had a cartoon about it in the last issue. When the story finally gets to the Alumni they all go out and sell their stock in A. T. & T. the story got to be so bad.

You can see, Mom, that Rumor is important in Crises. A good Rumor is better than several letters from the President's Office because it is always more interesting and usually just about as reliable. The big Rumor in this College that is different now is the Rumor about the Faculty Economy Committee. I don't know much about it, Mom, but I've got a knowing smile.

Lots of love,

Your son

P. S. Please don't forget to send my check!

The 27th one down rises. "But—but—" he begins, pathos trembling in his voice.

The telephone rings. One of the YHM answers it.

"It's the Maintenance Department. They say that they're tobogganing down the stairs on a door again in the West End, kids."

"What shall we do?"

"Tell them to give 'em the business," said one of the YHM from the other end of the table. The telephone is replaced and the message is recorded on a dictaphone and sent down.

"All those in favor say Nose."

"But if we don't have a semester we can't have any dance week-end." The orchestra outside begins to play nostalgically "The Biggest Assapastra in the World."

Another member: "God forbid. We must have a semester."

Another another member:

"But how can we shorten it?"

"I've got it. I've got it," an excited voice cried frantically.

"We could shorten it by—"

"Yes?"

"By—"

"By not having a dance week-end." The air became tense.

"But would the students stand for that?"—meekly.

Outside three hundred students stood about and cheered as a car full of Flora Mather Singers drove by.

Inside the thirty gowned men followed the YHM out the door in an imitation soft shoe dance, and their refrain hung lightly in the gay atmosphere left behind—

"Oh, so long, Gord-butt, Oh, so long, Gil-butt We guess you cleaned the business up today."

How about a little swim, Imel's going to let us in, Oh, Gord-butt, come on Gil-butt Whatcha say?"

PHI KAP FRESHMEN WIN INTRAMURAL MEET FOR DIVISION

Bahnsen Sets New Freestyle Record

By BOB MONTIGNEY
On Wednesday, March 4, in the Shaffer Pool, North Hanna won the annual Intramural swimming championship with the greatest display of power that has ever been seen in the meet. With only four swimmers, all freshmen, the Phi Kaps won seven first places out of the eight events. Their team of Bob Montigney, Don Twining, and Jack Konopak, defeated a new record of 2:40.0 in the 100 yd. freestyle. Jack took it easy in this race so he could give Bill Harsha a good race in the 220 yd. freestyle which followed. He then upset all predictions by defeating Harsha in the fair time of 2:40.0. Phi Kap Pierce Bahnsen won the 50 yd. freestyle by a touch over Middle Kenyon's Chuck Smith in the good time of 25.7 seconds. Sandy Hudson won the diving to add six points to South Leonard's total. This was the only event that North Hanna failed to win. Jim Harsha of Middle Kenyon was second in this event. Bahnsen came back in the 100 yd. freestyle to win easily in the spectacular time of 56.3 seconds. This was a new meet record. Bahnsen's time was identical with the winning time in the Ohio Conference championships.

Don Twining won the 75 yd. breaststroke for North Hanna by defeating Frazer Ford of South Leonard and Ed Shortley of South Hanna. In the 75 yd. backstroke, Bob Montigney continued the Phi Kap-Sigma domination by winning easily in the time of 48.1 seconds. Sturges Crawford of Middle Kenyon was second. The final event, the 100 yd. freestyle relay, went to the Phi Kap quartet of Bahnsen, B. Montigney, J. Montigney, and Twining. Their time of 46.0 seconds was an average of 11.5 seconds a man for each 25 yd. leg. Middle Kenyon's team of Smith, Ed Nugent, J. Harsha, and B. Harsha was a good second.

The showing of the freshmen in this meet indicates that Kenyon will probably have another excellent team next year. The final results of the meet were: North Hanna—51, Middle Kenyon—43, South Leonard—31, Middle Leonard—13, East Wing—8, West Wing—5, South Hanna—3.

TRACK TEAM WAITS SONG OF ROBIN

"Spring track will begin sometime this week; just as soon as the weather permits," announced Coach Rudy Kutler recently.

"There are 16 returning men with several promising sophomores coming up, so prospects for a successful season look bright. Anyone interested in coming out for track should see me in the near future. Freshmen are not eligible for varsity competition, but there will be a freshman squad."

Returning men who run the dashes are Jack Konopak and Dave Posner. Coach Kutler plans to use Dick Storm, and perhaps Konopak, in the 440, while Leonard Snellman and Ken Kadey are competing in the 880-yard run. Snellman is also listed as a half miler. Distance men on the team are Ken Kingery and Johnny Allen, both of whom are entered in the one and two mile runs.

Dick Penn and Andy Anderson are Kenyon's chief hopes in the pole vault, while Penn, Bill Straus, and Gil Collyer are trying out for the position of high jumper. Bill Wilson has just about cinched the discus, while Kutler lists Spook Abrens as the only one entered in javelin competition. Kenyon In Second Place Drops Swim Title To Oberlin

Kenyon has finally had to relinquish its hold on the Ohio Conference Swimming title. In the seventh annual championship meet held in the Shaffer Pool on Saturday, March 7, the Lords finished second to a well-balanced Oberlin squad. The Yeomen, led by brothers Hugh and John Richards, amassed 54 points to the Lords' 38. Other scores were Bowling Green—28, Wooster—26, Wittenberg—13, Kent State—8, and Case—4. The illness of Bill Blacka, ace Lord freestyler and backstroker, was a main factor in the downfall of the Lords.

By qualifying 11 places in the preliminaries on Friday night, the Yeomen stamped themselves as the team to beat. Kenyon also qualified 11 places, but Oberlin's were mostly first and second places. One of the highlights of Friday's competition was the triumph of Kenyon's Ken Kingery over Oberlin's John Richards in a 440 yd. freestyle trial, although Richards came back in the finals to win the championship.

The opening event of the finals, the 300 yd. medley relay, was won by the surprising team of Paul Stark, Bill Hardman, and Bill Holzaepfel from Bowling Green. This trio was timed in the slow time of 3:17.3. Oberlin's Al Sutton, Larry Fay, and Herb Hansen were less than a second behind. Ken Knopf, Fred Henschel, and Bill Lewis of Kenyon were fourth.

The first of four wins for the Richards brothers of Oberlin was John's victory in the 220 yd. freestyle over Bob Newlin of Wittenberg and Ken Kingery of Kenyon. Richards negotiated the distance in the fast time of 2:23.8. Dan Miles of Wooster finished in fourth position.

Hugh Richards kept the Oberlin ball rolling by repeating his 1941 triumph in the 50 yd. freestyle. His time was 24.8 seconds. Loder Brooks of Kent State was a second behind in the runner-up position, followed closely by Gordon Galloway of Oberlin and Russ Westbrook of Wooster. John Tyler, Kenyon's entry, finished fifth.

In the diving Ned Brouse of Kenyon completed his brilliant career by winning over Bobby Warren of Oberlin. Brouse's win gave him an undefeated record for his last year. Hugh Richards captured the 100 yd. freestyle for the third year when he again defeated Brooks of Kent State in the time of 56.3 seconds. Brooks' two seconds in the sprints accounted for all of Kent State's eight points. Tyler of Kenyon finished fourth in the hundred.

The 150 yd. backstroke was won by Bowling Green's Paul Stark, a sophomore who promises to be very tough next year. Stark churned the six laps in 1:48.7. Al Sutton of Oberlin and Arch Duncan of Wooster were close for second and third. Kenyon's Otto Kuehn was a surprise fourth-place finisher. Capt. Fred Henschel of Kenyon concluded his career by winning the 200 yd. breaststroke in 2:42.2. Bob Dunlap of Wooster just touched out Lentz of Wittenberg for second.

RED SAYS

HATS OFF TO CHUCK IMEL

Coach Charley Imel's first Kenyon basketball team ended the current season with a record of 8 wins—7 losses; this is the best a Kenyon team has done since 1930. The squad erased the old scoring mark of 606 points in 19 games, by totaling 767 in 15 games.

Russ Lynch set a new Lord individual scoring record of 211 points, bettering Sebach's 188 points, chalked up in 1938. Captain-elect Tom Smith also bettered the old mark.

Coach Charley Imel's Lord swimming team ended a very tough season by clinching second place in the Ohio Conference Swimming Meet held recently at Shaffer Pool. Coach Imel is not making any excuses for not winning his fifth Conference Championship in six years at Kenyon; because Chuck's record speaks for itself. In 79 dual meets, his Kenyon teams have won 71, lost 7, and have tied 1. In six Conference Championship meets, his Lords have walked off with top honors on four occasions.

If Chuck is not going to sing the blues about his tough luck this year, he certainly should be complimented. It is no hardship at all to give three big reasons why the Lord tank team did not do as well as was hoped. (1) Sam Cook, sophomore star of last season, and holder of three Conference crowns in 1941, went into the army last summer. (2) Co-Capt. Bill Smeeth entered the army at mid-semester. (3) Bill Blacka, mainstay of the current squad, was forced out of the Conference Meet due to a kidney injury. This ought to be enough to drive any coach to the weeping well.

Coach Charles Imel has announced that the baseball team will commence practice immediately after Spring Vacation. The baseball schedule has been cut down due to the accelerated program, and will number about seven games.

SPRING GRID SESSION

CALLED OFF

On Sunday night, March 8, Football Coach Rudy Kutler announced a complete spring football schedule. There was to be practice every day from 3:30 until 5:30, for six days a week. There were to be several scrimmages during the three-week period and Saturday inter-squad games. At the first meeting of the squad on Monday, Rudy announced that this schedule was to be cancelled because of the present accelerated program. He felt that it would be impossible for most of the men to do the college work and play spring

LORDS FIVE END IN VICTORY

Two weeks ago the Kenyon Basketball team successfully ended the current season with a 52-43 victory over a weak Fenn five. Russ Lynch, with 24 points, and Captain Anderson, playing his last game for the Lords, with 11 points, paced the local quintet to their eighth victory of the year.

Although eight victories against seven defeats may appear, on paper, to be only a mediocre season, in reality it is one of the most successful seasons that Kenyon has had in many years. And with only three seniors graduating the squad can look forward to an even better season next year. The team will undoubtedly miss the services of Anderson, Berno, and Shaw, but with their two leading Soph. scorers, Captain-elect Tom Smith and Russ Lynch, returning, the team will have a strong nucleus upon which to form another winning team.

Cagers Falter In Stretch, Lose

The Kenyon cagers fell to a vicious Mt. Union long shot attack in the last half of their game at Alliance, Ohio, on Feb. 27.

The Lords led by Russ Lynch, Don Bateman, and Jack Berno were holding their own at the half, trailing only by a few points. In the second half the Mt. Union cagers opened up with a passing and long shot attack. Their zone defense useless, the Lords fell 43-77.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By WARREN MOORE

The intramural basketball season continued with its share of surprises, as N. Leonard took the measure of M. Hanna in both the A and B games. VonHacht tossed in ten points to pace the 25-20 A victory for the Psi U's; the game went to N. Leonard 12-6.

In the other league M. Leonard continued undefeated and romped over N. Hanna 39-9. Dave Cannon led the scoring with ten points. Jim Persons scored all of the Phi Kap's nine points in the B game as they went under the short end of a 13-9 score. South Leonard continued with a clean slate in their league by dropping the Dekes 27-19. Warren Moore scored 17 of the 19 points for West Wing (plug), while Kindle, Jewitt, and Weaver each netted four baskets apiece for the Betas. The Beta B team walked away with a 23-7 win.

East Wing took both ends of their double header with Middle Kenyon, the A game ended 34-14, with Heffner scoring 12 points for the Alpha Deltas; the B game ended 14-12. The West Wing A team suffered its third defeat in four games at the hands of M. Hanna. Snellman and Reinheimer each netted twelve points to pace the 28-22 victory.

The climax game in this same league was the S. Hanna-S. Leonard battle. After a first half which gave the Betas the edge, Sigma Pi rushed the taller men all over the floor and managed to come through with a decisive 22-16 victory. This necessitates a playoff game between these two teams since they have each lost one game, Sigma Pi to West Wing, and S. Leonard to Sigma Pi. The Betas took the B game 24-13.

The semi-finals of the squash tournament have been played, and Delt Paul H.

won over Bert Johnson of Betas, while Ken Dalby, of Middle Leonard, took the measure of Phi Kap Jim Persons. Dalby and Herrick will meet in the finals.

The Badminton competition finished with Bull Derham of the Betas the winner. After edging Murray Smith in the semi-finals, 15-13, 9-15, and 16-14, Bull won in straight games over Frazer Ford, 15-6 and 15-4, in the finals.

OHIO CONFERENCE
SWIMMING

The 440 yd. freestyle went to John Richards, closely followed by Ken Kingery, and Dan Miles of Wooster was a close third. Bud Richmond of Case outraced North of Bowling Green for fourth position.

The final race of the meet, the 400 yd. freestyle relay, was won in spectacular fashion by the Kenyon quartet of Ned Brouse, Bill Lewis, John Tyler, and Fred Henschel. These four boys took 3:57.1 seconds to travel the distance. Oberlin's team of Herb Hansen, Larry Fay, and the Richards brothers was less than a second behind.

This meet concluded the 1941-42 swimming season for the Kenyon Lords. Their record for the year was five dual meet victories, and two losses, plus the second place in the Ohio Conference. Capt. Fred Henschel finished an outstanding career with the Lords, and will be remembered as one of the best swimmers ever to compete for Kenyon College. Ken Kingery was one of the finest distance men that Coach Chuck Imel ever had. His consistency was one of the highlights of this season. Ned Brouse proved himself to be the outstanding diver of Kenyon swimming history during his three years of varsity competition. Don May could always be counted on for points in the distance events. When next season rolls around all of these boys will be remembered, and missed, by Kenyon swimming fans.

Coach Rudy Kutler has called off spring football practice for the simple reason that he hates to see all of his good work up to date go for naught. Maybe some day the Park will be hollowed by the sound of cleats biting into the moist earth in the spring. But I'm afraid that we may have to wait until men return to Kenyon College.

Fair basketball record?: Considering the showing of the team on a few occasions, they should have won at least three more.

Swimming team had tough luck—but it isn't necessary to go around before a fall and lay cushions, so that the fall can be taken gracefully no matter what the cost. Oh, speed the day when men will return to the Hill.
