High School Heads Meet Here May 20, 21

Saturday and Sunday of this week approximately thirty-five high school principals and superintendents, mostly from Ohio, will meet with twenty faculty members here to discuss educational problems common to the two levels. This will be the third School and College Conference planned by Kenyon College. The preceding conferences were held in the spring of '45 and the fall of '46.

The first discussion session will follow a luncheon Saturday. The high school men will meet with all the faculty for after-dinner coffee Saturday evening. Sunday breakfast will be followed by a session from 9 to 10:30. After church, the visitors will meet with a picked group of students until 1:00, when they will dine with students here from their schools.

The tentative plan for discussion includes the social studies, languages, success in school and college, scholarships, English, pre-professional education, and college entrance requirements.

MK To Start Memorial Fund

In memory of the members of Middle Kenyon in the tragic fire last year the Middle Kenyon Association has decided to establish a Memorial Book Fund. The fund will be administered by the Alumni Office of the College. The library and music department plan to use this fund to purchase scores and books pertaining to courses taught in music. Eventually it is hoped that the fund will be large enough to sponsor the fine arts room in the proposed library. At present each article purchased will be marked with a special book plate designed for this fund by Edgar Doctorow.

Since 1918, the financial picture at Kenyon has undergone considerable change. The total educational and maintenance budget has increased 911%. In the same period tuition fees were raised 700%. With a 200% increase in total endowments, gross endowment income increased 107% even though the rate of endowment income decreased 35%.

In the year 1917-1918 endowment income accounted for 54% of the total maintenance and educational expenses of the college. In 1930-1931 it represented 51½% of the total, but by 1948-1949, it accounted for only 11% of the budget. At present rates of return, to produce 50% of the educational and maintenance in endowment income would necessitate total endowments of 11,000,000 dollars. The present endowment of the college is only $2,140,275.72.

Kenyon has become very dependent upon tuition fees for her operation. In the year 1917-1918 tuition fees represented 23½% of the budget. In 1948-1949 they were 59% of the budget, a substantial increase.

Delta Phi Takes TKA Trophy; Dekes and Mu Kaps, Delts Place

The usual sedate atmosphere of Philomathesian Hall was ruffled prior to 7:30, the evening of May 10th. Rustling of notes, last minute rehearsals, a huddle of judges, and clearing of throats pervaded the scene just before Fenton Goldberg called the group to order for the start of the annual Tau Kappa Alpha Inter-Fraternity Speech Contest. Mr. Goldberg, president of the Kenyon chapter of the national forensic fraternity, acted as chairman for the event. Serving as judges with the unenviable task of selecting the best speaking team were Dr. Titus, Mr. McGowan, and Mr. Hamar. The judges are all members of Tau Kappa Alpha, Mr. Hamar serving as faculty sponsor for the local chapter.

Each division on the Hill was invited to send a team of three speakers to the contest with the only requirement being that they be kept within a specified time limit. Frank LeFever served as time judge, indicating to the speakers when their five minute allotted time was up. Each speaker was judged on a point system based on content of the speech and the manner of delivery. The team having the highest number of combined points of its highest two speakers was to be declared the winner.

When all represented divisions had spoken, notes crammed into pockets, and perspiration wiped from foreheads, all attention was turned to the judges. After all points had been added up, Raymond Bentman and Robert Ashby, representing Delta Phi were found to be the winning team. Bentman's speech was entitled, "Hill-sides of Attica" while Ashby spoke on "The Problems of the University." The team was awarded the Tau Kappa Alpha Trophy as the prize. The cup had been held during the past year by Middle Kenyon, last year's winners. Any division winning the cup 3 years in succession is awarded permanent possession. A second place tie occurred between the teams of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Middle Kenyon. Speakers for Delta Tau Delta captured third place honors.

The speaker who received the highest number of individual points was Alan Feinberg, speaking on the Middle Kenyon team. There is no award, however, for the best individual speech, the contest being run on a team basis.

The Tau Kappa Alpha fraternity chapter at Kenyon was started in 1937. The Inter-Fraternity Speech Contest was begun in that year, this year's contest being the 13th.

Four Men Receive Scholarships For Grad Work at Eastern Schools

Four outstanding men here at Kenyon have been offered a total of $2,840 in scholarships for their graduate work.

Bill Chadeayne has received $600 from the Harvard Law School. Ray Bentman has won the George Lieb Harrison Scholarship of $1,000 to the Classics Department at the University of Pennsylvania. Jim Olmstead has been granted a special scholarship in Philosophy from Brown University amounting to $920. The Economics Department of Cornell University has given Dick Bower, already an instructor of economics here at Kenyon, a $320 scholarship.

All four men have done quite a bit here at Kenyon to merit these awards. Bill Chadeayne has majored in political science and after four years has come out on top with a phenomenally high cumulative average of 3.72. Aside from Bill's Phi Kappa laurals he has been very active on the campus. In the past Bill was a president of Archon Fraternity, a COLLEGIAN staff member, and a member of the Student Council. Presently the position of headwaiter at the Commons keeps Bill pretty busy.

As a classics major Ray Bentman has a very respectable average of 3.35. He has been a vice-president of Delta Phi Fraternity, a past editor of REVEILLE, a past editor of the COLLEGIAN, and a HIKA staff member. In the unforeseen future Ray hopes eventually to earn his Ph.D. in the classics.

For the second consecutive time a Kenyon man has been awarded a special scholarship in philosophy at Brown University. Last year Tom Howell got this award and this year it has been granted to Jim Olmstead. Jim is a Psi U., a member of the Kenyon Singers and the Chapel Choir. His tentative plans for the future center around a professorship of philosophy.

Dick Bower, '49, another one of Kenyon's Phi Beta Kappas, was active on the Hill in the past. Mr. Bower hopes to return to Kenyon to teach when he has received his doctorate in economics.

Primary Guns Start '50 Election Derby

by Charles Docter

Bang! ! They're off! The 1950 Congressional race has now officially started. The starting gun was fired recently at primary elections in Ohio, Florida, and Alabama.

The most important of these primaries occurred right here in Ohio. In Ohio's Democratic primary State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson was chosen from a field of seven candidates to oppose Senator Robert A. Taft's bid for re-election.

Mr. Ferguson is a good "vote getter." Ferguson has managed to have himself elected State Auditor for the past sixteen years. These sixteen years include times when Republicans controlled the state capitol.

Mr. Ferguson does not cut an imposing figure. If this man of little stature beats Senator Taft next fall it will be largely because the Democratic National Committee and organized labor are firmly behind him. Senator Taft has attained great national eminence and undoubtedly has strong support in Ohio. Even some Democrats will vote for Taft in order to keep a good minority leader in the Senate. (It is rumored that Democratic Governor Frank J. Lausche may support Taft for the above reason.)

Now let us leave the Ohio Senatorial race and discuss two southern Democratic primaries. The Florida and Alabama primaries, as in other Southern states, are tantamount to the November elections.

In Florida, Representative George H. Smathers unseated Claude Pepper. Throughout the election campaign Smathers attacked Pepper's "radical" New Dealism. Republicans believe Pepper's defeat shows that voters have revoked their support of the New-Fair Deal. But to predict a Republican trend on the basis of this one New-Fair Deal defeat is very risky. Florida does not have big-city voters who have been the nucleus for Democratic victories since 1933.

The regular Democratic party regained some of its strength in the Alabama primaries. Alabamians voted for Senator Lester Hill instead of the Dixiecrat candidate, Lawrence McNeil. Since Senator Hill opposes the Dixiecrats, his victory may signify the disinte-

'Time of Your Life' Was Exactly That

The Time of Your Life, by William Saroyan, presented by the Speech department last week, illustrates how much fine acting and fine production can do for a script which is, at best, mediocre. Saroyan has his moments, of course, but the excellent performances turned in by the twenty-five actors and actresses resulted in two hours of uniformly and consistently competent drama.

Generally speaking, the play has two main aspects. It can be enjoyed purely as a comedy, or, on the other hand, it can be enjoyed for its philosophical commentary on life, although the latter never becomes subtle, and seldom becomes profound. The action takes place in a small honky-tonk in San Francisco in 1939, where a small but peculiarly interesting mob of people prowl in and out, each with his own problems and eccentricities. The saloon's habitue, Joe (Lee Meier), calmly observes the whole scene, and in a perpetual alcoholic haze cryptically tosses in philosophical comments on the general goings-on in the saloon, and in the world in general.

Such is the main theme of the play. But the performance, the entire production—certainly ranks among the best things that the Speech department has accomplished in some time.

Heading the cast was Lee Meier, who handled his difficult role as Joe brilliantly. George Porterfield turned in a very believable performance as the bartender who polishes glasses, hands out beer and champagne, bets on horses, and avidly stands up for the rights of the persecuted prostitutes, dancers and pin-ball players that frequent his saloon. Lorrie Bright's interpretation of the aged and senile old prospector, Kit Carson, ranks as one of the best in the play, and Mort Segal, Pat Rahming, John Workman, Bob Levy, Flo Pasini, Bob Kenmore, and the others, support the play as competently as anyone could wish.

The fine staging was done by the Speech department's James Michael, an devery role, from the largest down to the smallest, was handled creditably and efficiently. Set design was aptly handled by Jim Keegan.

In fact, the real success of the play lay in its uniform excellence. Few, if any, weak spots detracted from the performance. We might add, however, that with such excellent acting material and production facilities it's a shame that the Speech department didn't select a more worthwhile script with which they could have fully exploited their potentialities.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Most of the chapter thinks that J. L. Rice was slightly miscast as a "gentleman" in the play last week. Anyhow, his scintillating performance was equally inspiring as his magnificent role in Lear. Latest topic of conversation among the Lambda intellectuals concerns the world-shaking question of how much each of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" weighed during his football days.

Pete Crawford is preparing himself for a brilliant career with the National Association of Manufacturers as an investigator of subversive activities. Meanwhile, the softball team forged through an undefeated week of postponed games.

PSI UPSILON

We are happy to announce the repledging of Dave Paul, who has decided to stay at Kenyon. And in the line of activities among the other brothers: Bato has been the star of the baseball games in front of Leonard Hall, and also the flow of air through the dorm at the same time. Frank Uhlig is still pounding the typewriter, making up some story about how the Navy should be forgotten as a lost cause. And we are still wondering what A. C. wanted with some little boy's bicycle.

BETA THETA PI

The World Wanderers, Warth, Mitchell, and McCutcheon, set a new record for the round trip to Springfield, Mass. They made the journey in ten hours, and plans are now being made for their last-minute entry in the "500".

The old men of the fraternity, Dunham and Jensen, celebrated their birthdays last week. They certainly starting to tell on Russ; he felt very weak after his twenty-fifth martini.

The Beta winning streak was stopped at two when the team was downed by a strong Archon nine last Friday. Hull, Simonds, and Knapp in particular, made a valiant effort, but the absence of Holdridge and Wahl was sorely felt.

Lost: one dance week end date. If found please contact George Rankin, SL. Last seen heading East with one of the World Wanderers.

ARCHON

The plans for the parties over commencement are well under way, and it looks as if a good many of the fraternity will be staying over for one reason or another. Several of the men who finished work in February will be returning for the exercises and festivities. Both South Leonard and South Hanna were defeated in softball during the past week. So far none of the COLLEGIAN staff has showed up for instruction in the fundamentals of that time-honored game chess. Several Bexley men, however, have taken advantage of the generous offer.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

Theta Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma recently elected officers for next year. President is John Schlemmer. Other officers include: Bill Stierman, social chairman; Dave Bunnell, scholarship chairman; George Lanning, corresponding secretary; Will Pilcher, treasurer; Dick Sawyer, rushing chairman; Al Herzing, recording secretary; and Art Johnson and Al Murphy, house officers.

The North Hanna softball team now leads in the intramural division. In addition, Phi Kaps have won the "Thundermug" from the Deltas again. The presentation of the trophy was made a week ago Saturday in the North Hanna parlor.

The chapter wishes to congratulate those men who have brought distinction to themselves and to Phi Kappa Sigma. Tom Southard was elected President of the Student Council, following after Bob Koke, retired President. Bud Meier was elected Secretary of the Student Assembly, Bob Hesse was appointed Editor of Reveille, and George Lanning was appointed Editor of Hika.

The chapter has pleasure in announcing the initiation of Professor Robert O. Fink into the fraternity.

by Martin and McMasters

Last Saturday was a banner day for Kenyon spring sports. In fact, with a lacrosse game, a baseball game, a tennis meet, and a track meet going on at the same time, it looked as if Kenyon were conducting a sports circus or a junior Olympic Games. With four athletic contests going on at once the loyal Kenyon sports fan had a hard time giving all the teams his undivided support. If the fans were unable to watch all four contests at once, they could at least derive some consolation from the results of the day's games. Although the Lords managed only to gain a split, losing the lacrosse and baseball games and winning the track and tennis meets, they put on a good show and even looked impressive in their defeats. It should be said, however, that the baseball team was particularly ineffective when it came to getting base hits, although with a few breaks to bolster the six-hit pitching of Dave Bell they might have defeated a mediocre Oberlin nine.

The lacrosse team suffered a decisive loss Saturday against Hobart but, nevertheless, played one of their best games. The Lords displayed an unquenchable desire to win and at one point, with the score at 6 to 4 in favor of Hobart, looked as though they would do it. Goalie Bud Meier played sensationally at times, stopping the ball with his chest, stick, feet, or anything else he happened to have handy. Hobart's 10 to 4 win was their fifth in seven games but was a far cry from the 13 to 1 defeat they handed Kenyon in 1948. If someone had been able to stop Gordon Satterly, Hobart's candidate for All-American honors, who scored nine of Hobart's ten goals, the score might have been a good deal closer.

Cheers for Frazer Clark who did an exceptional job playing first base for Kenyon in the Oberlin game. Bob Day, the regular first baseman, was busy taking a medical school examination that day and was unable to be at the game.

On May 20, this Saturday, the Kenyon golfers will journey to Wooster where they will play in the Conference Meet. Most of the Lord linkmen have indicated to us that they are optimistic about their chances in that meet in spite of their mediocre season's record. Much of their optimism stems from the fact that the meet will be played under medal-play conditions instead of the usual match play. In other words, then, the four scores of each team are compiled and compared, and the team with the lowest net score wins the meet. Heading the list of the sixteen teams that will step onto the scenic little nine hole course at Wooster Saturday is the defending championship team from Denison University. Although medal play should aid the Kenyon golfers somewhat, the "scenic little" course at Wooster will be a highly unpredictable obstacle in the path of their title ambitions.

The track team has won five straight! ! Need we say more?

Tracksters Snare Fifth Straight; Trounce Favored Wittenberg Team

The Lord trackmen continued their winning streak last Saturday as they outpointed a favored Wittenberg squad, 72-55. It was the fifth consecutive victory for the Lords, who captured nine first places. The 880-yard relay team with Stan Jackson as anchor man was narrowly edged out of first place as Wittenberg's team crossed the line in 1 minute and 35.7 seconds. Phil Best, who has been undefeated in the hurdle events this year, held scoring honors with 14 points.

The results of the meet are as follows:

- 100-yard dash—Hoch (W), first; Jackson (W), second; Reynolds (W), third. Time 0:10.6.
- 220-yard dash—Schroeder (K), first; Hoch (W), second; Hood (K), third. Time: 0:23.8.
- 440-yard dash—Davis (K), first; Klosinski (W), second; Stierman (K), third. Time 0:54.2.
- 880-yard dash—Karkow (K), first; Schnappier (W), second; Klosinski (W), third. Time: 2:09.7.
- Mile run—Karkow (K); first; Saeman (W), second; Sanford (K),

- third. Time: 4:51.7.
- Two-mile run — Saeman (W), first; Sanford (K), second; Ward (W), third. Time: 11:09.4.
- 120-yard high hurdles—Best (K), first; Haines (K), second; Walsh (W), third. Time: 0:17.9.
- 120-yard low hurdles—Best (K), first; Walsh (W), second; Gayley (K), third. Time: 0:13.9.
- Shot put—Sampson (W), first; Cooke (K), second; Haines (K), third. Distance: 41 ft. 1½ in.
- Discus—Sampson (W), first; Reade (K), second; Cooke (K), third. Distance: 120 ft. 2½ in.
- High jump—Cornwell (W), first; Best (K), second; McCutcheon (K), third. Height: 5 ft. 10 in.
- Broad jump—McCutcheon (K), first; Cornwell (W), second; Best (K), third. Distance: 20 ft. 10½ in.
- Pole vault—Schroeder (K), first; Onderdonk (W), second; Davis (K), third. Height: 10 ft.
- 880-yard relay—Wittenberg (Reynolds, Del Medico, McEvers, Houch). Time: 1:35.7.
- Mile relay—Kenyon (Hood, Davis, Cooke, Karkow). Time: 3:38.9.

Lacrossemen Bow to Hobart, 10-4

Gordon Satterly and his teammates from Hobart defeated the Lord stickmen last Saturday by the score of 10-4. Satterly, Statesmen All-American candidate, accounted for 9 of Hobart's 10 goals. Kenyon played its best game of the season, but succumbed to the greater experience of the eastern team. Bud Meier, Kenyon goalie, played an outstanding game and made what seemed to be impossible saves. John Jones led the Kenyon scoring with three goals and Lennie Burrows added one more. The game, which was the best lacrosse exhibition seen in the midwest for several years, was relatively free of penalties with Kenyon receiving seven minutes time and Hobart three.

Next Saturday the Lords will be host to the Yeomen from Oberlin. This game should turn out to be a rough battle since Oberlin will be seeking revenge for their earlier defeat.

B-W, Wittenberg Fall To Lord Racquetmen

In one of the most thrilling matches that has been played here this year the tennis team downed Baldwin-Wallace 4-3. Although "Worthy" Schneebeck and Tim Ryan, our one and two men, lost their matches, they bounced back to beat the same opponents in their doubles. Jack Goldberg defeated his man, and Bat Thomas, whose victory was necessary to tie the score, won his match in three nerve-racking sets. After this victory Bat teamed with Jack Goldberg to win the deciding doubles match.

Following this victory the team continued their winning ways last Saturday by trouncing Wittenberg 7-0. This was the team's seventh victory against two losses which have been to teams outside the conference, while the victories have been obtained from schools in the Ohio Conference. Tuesday's match against Oberlin will be the deciding contest of the year. For the Yeomen it means an undefeated year and Conference Championship. If Kenyon wins, Oberlin's chain of thirty-five victories will be broken and the conference crown will be ours.

Ohio Academy Names Norton

Professor of Chemistry Dr. Bayes M. Norton was elected vice-president of the Ohio Academy of Science at the Academy's meeting in Columbus Friday, April 28. In his new position Professor Norton will be presiding officer of the Chemistry Section of the Academy in 1951.

During World War II Professor Norton was technical supervisor for the Office of Scientific Research and Development in its contract for rocket ordnance development with the California Institute of Technology. The work there also included aircraft torpedo launching, operation of the experimental facilities at the Naval Ordnance Tent Station in the Mojave Desert, as well as services for the Los Alamos Laboratory of the Manhattan Engineering District.

nual fraternity picnic, held on Saturday afternoon under the supervision of social chairman Lee Hirsche. The accompanying softball game was enjoyed by all, with "Hardjaw" DeGruchy's coming out on top.

The only ill-effect of the week end was the result of Tuesday's "hangover" game with Middle Leonard. The softball team had been undefeated until this upset, and is now out to take the trophy in spite of the untimely loss. Sy Weissman's pitching arm is now fully recuperated, and with Dave Haines, Herb Ullmann, and Don Brunson on the diamond, any further defeats are not anticipated.

Last week Phi chapter of Delta Phi elected officers for the term, with Jim Birdsall as president, Pete Paisley as vice-president, George Christ as treasurer, and Johnny Barnes stepping into the secretary's office.

After May 20th there will be no sales made in the book shop on blue charge cards or veterans' green slips. $30.00 deposit cards (white) may be used until June 1st. After June 1st, cash sales only.
