HARPER'S EDITOR TO ADDRESS GRADUATES

Kenyon's Commencement speaker this year will be John Fischer, editor-in-chief of Harper's Magazine and author of "Why They Behave Like Russians," a Book-of-the-Month Club selection in 1947, and "Master Plan USA," 1951. Mr. Fischer, 45, was educated at the University of Oklahoma and at Oxford University in England. He has been a reporter for the United Press, the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City, and the Globe News in Amarillo, Tex. From 1937 to 1941 he was a member of the Department of Agriculture. During the war years he was an economic intelligence officer with the Board of Economic Warfare. Mr. Fischer spent part of this period in India as chief representative of the Board and of the Foreign Economic Administration. In 1945 he went to Russia as one of a three-man team of supervisors sent to check up on the distribution of UNRRA supplies in the Ukraine. His first book was a result of this experience.

Mr. Fischer has been with Harper and Brothers since 1944. He was appointed editor-in-chief of the magazine last October, succeeding the late Frederick Lewis Allen. In addition to his editorial duties, he serves on the selection committee for John Hay Whitney Opportunity Fellowships and acts as district leader for the Democratic party in White Plains, N. Y. Last year he was on one of the selection committees for Fulbright awards.

The Rt. Rev. J. Brooke Mosley, Bishop Coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware since last June, will deliver Kenyon's baccalaureate address. Bishop Mosely, a graduate of Temple University and of Episcopal Theological School, was formerly Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. John in Wilmington.

Commencement exercises this year will be on June 14.

DISCRIMINATION VOTE SET FOR TUESDAY

"Cap" Leaves Kenyon; Florida New Home

A man who has been an inspiration and a real friend to a whole generation of Kenyon men is about to leave us. We are all sad at the parting of those whose friendship we treasure, yet how we can rejoice with the benefits we have garnered from our contacts with such a friend, and the good fortune of those who will include him into their galaxy of friends.

Frederic Eberle was born in Stuttgart in Southern Germany, the son and grandson of educators. Mr. Eberle is a graduate of the Realgymnasium of Stuttgart, the Royal Bavarian War School in Munich, and the Royal Bavarian Artillery and Engineering School. He furthered his studies at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology and the University of Munich. Coming to the United States, Mr. Eberle received a degree from Purdue University. While at Purdue he became affiliated with Delta Tau Delta social fraternity and Triangle Professional Fraternity.

From 1920 to 1934 Mr. Eberle was head of the German and French departments at Lakewood High School in Lakewood, Ohio. It was during these years that Mr. Eberle renewed his close friendship with Count Liekner, the famous "Sea Devil" of World War I, and accompanied him to South America on the Count's sailing yacht. Many illustrated lectures were given throughout the midwest as a result of this cruise. Another prominent friend of Professor Eberle's was Madame Schuman-Heink, the opera singer. Mr. Eberle was the founder and first president of the Lakewood French Society and was a charter member of Battery "B", 135th Field Artillery Regiment.

In 1934 Mr. Eberle, upon the suggestion of Robert Weaver, a Kenyon Trustee, came to Gambier to begin the era in his life with which we are so familiar. For the past twenty years Professor Eberle has

Awards Won By 3 Seniors

Two National Woodrow Wilson Fellowships and a Fulbright award for study abroad have gone to three members of the senior class. Recipients of the Wilson Fellowships are Morgan W. Guenther, as previously announced, and Jim Kennedy. The Fulbright scholar is Mel Plotinsky.

Guenther and Kennedy were two among nearly 1200 young men and women to be nominated for Wilson Fellowships. Of this group, 144 were successful. The Fellowship is given on the basis of "marked promise for the teaching profession" and possession of "the highest qualities of intellect, character and personality." This year's awards, totaling $268,000, went to 101 colleges and universities. Kenyon was one of 19 institutions to receive two of them.

Mr. Guenther will use his Fellowship for graduate study of the Far East at the University of Michigan. Mr. Kennedy will continue his studies in English at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Plotinsky was one of approximately 192 American students to receive a Fulbright to the United Kingdom. He will be attached to the University of Nottingham, where he will continue his work in English literature.

Betas Win IFC Sing, Delts Cop Second

Before a good crowd of appreciative on-lookers, Beta Theta Pi sang its way to its second straight Inter-Fraternity Singing Contest championship. Led by Jim Robinson, the Betas won the right to lead the singing in Commons for another year with their renditions of their famous marching song, and "Stars."

A close second to the champs was Delta Tau Delta, led by Gordon Duffey. The top three was rounded out by Phi Kappa Sigma, under the deft hand of Larry Jay.

The contest was snappily run, as usual, with all of the fraternities showing to good advantage. The Dekes, led by Norm Schwenk, led off the proceedings at the last stroke of 7:00. They were followed in rapid order by the Alpha Delts under the conduction of Riggs Miller. The Psi U's, under the incomparable Cameron Sanders, were next to be set off by the official starter, Dr. Ashford. The elite twosome, the Betas and Delts, followed in order. Al Pugsley and his Sigma Pi songsters were next to undergo the scrutiny of judges Graham, Welch and Ritcheson. Next came the Phi Kaps, followed by the other two Hanna Hall entrees, the Delta Phi's under the guiding hand of Bo Mohr, and Archon led by Armand Lavalley.

The contest was sponsored by the Pan Hellenic council, which also provided some liquid refreshments afterwards in the Deke patio. Only one surprise featured the proceedings, the impromptu entry of four canine Carusos.

Singers Make Recordings Of Traditional Songs

Seen above are the Kenyon Singers as they made their recording of Kenyon Songs, recently. This record includes most of the traditional Kenyon songs, including "Philander Chase," "The Thrill," and many others. Orders may be placed for the recording in the Alumni Office. The sale price upon delivery is $5.00.

At the May 10th Student Assembly, composed of all students, it was unanimously voted to hold, on May 25, a "straw" vote on the following resolution, "We believe that it would be in the best interest of the individual student, of the fraternities, and of Kenyon College if the fraternity chapters on our campus had the power to determine locally their own membership."

This move, aimed at abolishing restriction clauses as they affect Kenyon fraternities, is the result of many years of discussions on both official and private levels. Today's vote represented the first tangible step towards positive action. Generated in St. Paul society discussions, the idea was taken to the Dean of the College, Frank Bailey, who suggested that it be referred to the Senior Society. Here further discussion was held and the resolution was drafted. The motion, made on the floor by Senior Society president Don Marsh, represents individual action, however, rather than an official move on the part of the administration. The following statement was read along with the motion, "Considering both the composition and organization of our student body and recent local and national fraternity developments, we believe it timely and wise that the following statement be submitted to a written ballot of the student body on Tuesday, May 25."

Recent local developments refer to the decision of several campus chapters to bring the matter of restriction clauses up at their national conventions this summer. If the resolution is passed, it will give their arguments the support of Kenyon student opinion. The Tuesday vote is merely a poll vote and will only determine whether or not the student body wishes to have firm action taken toward the abolition of these clauses. If passed, the resolution will be referred to either the Student Body or the Pan-Hellenic council for more decisive action. Unfortunately the final decision rests with the board of trustees who have hitherto not acted favorably on such a step.

Both the Dean and President Gordon Keith Chalmers have declared themselves favorable toward this proposed step. If eventually given force, the resolution will not, in its present form, completely abolish restrictions in all chapters, but merely give them power to do

Editor's Corner

This is the final issue of the Collegian this year, and the final issue of the present staff. It seems only fitting therefore that a review be made of the year and see what, in my eyes, were the accomplishments of the administration, student government, and this paper, sprinkling a few editorial brickbats and bouquets in the process.

As I see it, the administration had two main problems in its policy towards campus life, its policy towards student government and second semester rushing. The first of these, concerning student government, was solved to a fair degree of satisfaction to both the student council and the administration when the new constitution was approved early last fall.

I cannot give the administration anything but a very large brickbat for its handling of the second semester rushing, however. The Collegian has continually pointed out that second semester rushing has caused more problems than it has solved, that neither the freshmen nor the upper classmen have favored the set-up, and that if the old first semester system is not reinstated, the administration should take measures to eliminate the problems it has caused by insisting on second semester rushing. The administration has done nothing.

A small bouquet is in order for student government, under which the social committee, the Student assembly and the student council, and senior society. Council has performed its job adequately the entire year under the competent leadership of Rod French and Jim Wallace. Its work has been unspectacular, and certainly far from startling, but it has been able to co-operate effectively with the administration in a way that has helped the student body. The social committee, under the hard-working leadership of Dave Cummings, has had some tough breaks, especially with procuring a Dance Week-end band. It did come up with a band enjoyed by all, however, and put on a well-run dance, as usual. I hope next year's committee will do as well. The senior society has done a very capable job of giving leadership to the school and has been the guiding hand behind the present anti-discriminatory motion before the school.

Now we come to the Collegian. What has it accomplished? This year can be best summed up in one word, "experimental." Starting with an entire new format this fall, the staff has continually sought ways to improve the Collegian and make it truly what the student body wants. On the plus side of the ledger, we have reflected student opinion whenever a controversial issue has arisen, such as second semester rushing, or the unfortunate incident in Mount Vernon. We have reported the news accurately and as quickly as our publishing schedule allowed us. We have instituted the College Scene to put the student body in better contact with other schools.

On the debit side we have not been able to find an adequate medium to report the division news, and in that we on the old staff hope our new editors, Shavzin and Treitel, will be more successful. We have not been as complete in our coverage of the campus news as we would like to have been.

As I finish my term as editor, I owe many thanks to all who helped me make the Collegian a co-operative effort with men of every division on the staff. I especially thank the student council for the opportunity of running the Collegian, and members of the student body for their many helpful criticisms and suggestions.

I wish the new editors the best of luck, and hope they conquer the problems we have not.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor of the Collegian:

Every year I seem to recall reading at one time or another the annual gripe about the food in the commons. I would like to add my $230 worth now. When I first arrived at this school too many years ago as a bright and innocent freshman the food did not seem too bad, but as the years wore on so did the constant whipped cream which I am beginning to think appears on everything: every dessert baked, every dessert special (which is half-pear), and even in the tomato soup. The same soggy pancakes, greasy eggs, tasteless meat, yellow onions (which few eat), baked potatoes "fixed," raw horseburgers, luke-warm Welsh rarebit, and so on ad nauseam. Now I realize the trouble that the Bobseys face in trying to prepare good and wholesome meals for 400 hungry boys, but I wish they would realize that my intestinal tract can only take so much. And that much was reached by the end of my first year. Also, while I have the floor, why in h... do meals for visitors cost so much? More food is wasted than is consumed by these visitors and I am sure that the kitchen never feels the extra-load. Also, when in hot weather's sake are they going to stop with the warm milk and start with ice tea. And why does the VI always know when a bad meal is coming up? And why can't we have cold cereal at dinner anymore? I think the new Student Council ought to submit the people who are responsible for what is laughingly called "Peirce Hall food" to the full investigative treatment. With a gagging throat I thank you for hearing me out.

In Our Opinion

The student body of Kenyon College has made clear the fact that the problem of discrimination within national fraternities is timely and of local, as well as of national concern. Next Tuesday's balloting will determine whether the anti-discrimination movement will be continued on this campus. That is — whether or not it has student support.

If the proposal receives student support, then what? The next logical step would be for the proper student organization to draw up and bring to a vote a resolution stating in effect, that no discriminatory fraternities will be permitted on this campus after a certain length of time. We have been assured that the administration and faculty are emphatically in favor of such action. We hope that this kind of support will be enough to convince the trustees that steps should be taken against such organizations on this campus.

We have heard the objection of those who say that since fraternities are private, discriminatory groups, they have the right to set up any membership requirements they wish. Certainly we believe there is merit in this view. We believe, however, that the problem cannot be limited to this narrow outlook.

The issue must be viewed with foresight and broadmindedness. We must realize that we are confronted with a matter which is not limited to this time and this place. It is, instead, a question which our country will be required to answer in subsequent years and is indeed answering now.

If we believe that something is morally right, there is no better means of making it a reality than by incorporating it into our social and educational organizations. Who is in better position than a college-trained person to see that prejudice is ignorance and injustice? If men with the type of education which Kenyon offers us cannot oppose discrimination, we cannot expect it to be done by the less-educated. We can never eliminate this blemish if we permit it to exist in our colleges and our fraternities.

We commend Beta Theta Pi for its recent action. We are pleased to hear that Kenyon's chapter of Sigma Pi is attempting to gain support of some of its "Yankee" chapters in an effort to eliminate its national discriminatory clause. We commend anyone who realizes that certain things are right regardless of what the national fraternities may have decreed years ago when they were founded. We commend those who will risk the loss of popularity and convenience for the opportunity of promoting a cause which is known by them to be morally right.

It is not pleasant to tell our friends that we think their social groups are founded on principles which are undemocratic and undesirable. Technically, these groups can be as discriminatory as they please. Morally, they CAN NOT! A nation established on moral principles cannot tolerate intolerant social groups.

The problem which confronts us now at Kenyon will appear again and again in other forms, at other places. It will always be demanding the same answer. Do we really want to be democratic? If we do, are we going to do anything about it?

Now is the time to show how we stand.

P. J. P.

It is with a great feeling of emptiness and shock that we continue to hear reports of the petty thievery which has recently swept the campus. We sympathize fully with the men who find themselves victims of this most insidious form of crime. We hope we can be right if we say that the thief or thieves are not Kenyon students. But the uncanny knowledge of these persons in knowing just when dorm rooms would be empty does not give exactly the most secure of feelings.

We recognize that, in the investigation which is being carried out, certain details must be kept quiet. At this stage, however, it would seem that the matter is no longer quiet. Fears, doubts, rumors, and suspicions grow where there is no knowledge. Therefore, there seem to be certain questions which should now be answered to perhaps settle a few fears.

Is it possible that a statement concerning the situation be released: the extent of losses etc? What steps have been taken aside from the rather token search of rooms by the student council? If steps have been taken has any progress been made? Have regular law enforcement agencies been either consulted or called in? What steps are being taken to prevent further thefts? Does the school accept any responsibility for the losses?

We hope that something positive can be determined for empty words cannot fill empty closets, nor replace radios, watches, or cord suits.

Professors Graham and Michael Awarded Faculty Fellowships

Two members of the Kenyon faculty have just been awarded Faculty Fellowships by the Fund for the Advancement of Education. They are James E. Michael, chairman of the department of speech and dramatics, and Eric S. Graham, associate professor of chemistry. The fellowships are for the academic year 1954-55, and they have been granted leaves of absence by the school.

Mr. Michael, who has been at Kenyon since 1947, is an alumnus of Amherst College. He holds an M.F.A. from Yale. He plans to spend next year with his wife and children in New York, where he will work on a new play and attend an advanced seminar in playwriting conducted at Columbia by John Gassner. He will also attend as many Broadway productions as he has time for, and study the off-Broadway and academic theatre scene. Mr. Michael already has a number of plays to his credit, including "Something to Write Home About," a prizewinner at the 1945 National Theatre Conference; "Rude Awakening," produced at Kenyon in 1949; "Red Two," produced at Amherst College in 1952 and scheduled for performance later this month by the New Orleans Community Theatre; this independently of their national affiliation. The more then, is not as radical as the Dartmouth plan which has wiped out restriction clauses en masse.

Elsewhere nationally there is a movement to break down the race and religion lines. A great deal of sentiment has come from the New England states. Recently William Paley, head of CBS, resigned his fraternity because of such clauses.

and "Cousin Grace," a contemporary comedy which he has just completed.

Mr. Graham, a native of Canada and a graduate of Ontario's Queen's University, will spend next year in England, studying at University College of the University of London. He will concentrate on recent developments in theoretical organic chemistry. He hopes to study under Professor C. K. Ingold, the originator of most modern theories about the mechanism of organic reactions. Mr. Graham has most recently been doing research, with the aid of a grant from Research corporation, on an organic reaction called the Favorskii rearrangement.

"Cap" Still To Teach

been a member of the modern language department. He has also taught engineering drawing at Kenyon and during World War II doubled his teaching load by teaching mathematics and military-map drawing to the members of the armed forces assigned to Kenyon.

In 1934 Mr. Eberle introduced horsemanship and polo at Kenyon. His polo teams were famous throughout the country. The Kenyon Polo team was the only polo team west of the Alleghenies to participate in the National Indoor Polo Championship Tournaments in New York. With the decrease in enrollment early in the war years the polo team became financially impractical, and the Kenyon polo string was, of necessity, disposed with. But Mr. Eberle and his polo teams remain in the memories of horsemen all over the nation.

For fourteen years Mr. Eberle was faculty adviser to the Chi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta. The Delts have long treasured the advice and wonderful spirit of "Cap." All those who have had any contact with him have enjoyed his interest in them and have often remarked how much they have appreciated his advice and help.

Now "Cap" is leaving Kenyon. He is going to Orlando, Florida, not to rest, for we cannot imagine him enjoying being idle, but to settle there with Mrs. Eberle. He will continue his teaching, and she will take up library work once again.

Baker Scholarship Winners Awarded; Four From Ohio; Two Out-of-Staters

The Kenyon Office of Admissions, through its privilege of awarding the George F. Baker Scholarships, has secured the entrance into our student body of six outstanding high school seniors; four of these, who will attend Kenyon this coming Fall semester, are residents of Ohio, while two students live out-of-state. These scholarships, providing a maximum stipend of $1,250 a year, are given according to the applicants' leadership, scholastic aptitude, scholastic achievement, and performance on the scholarship examination. Thus, a large degree of versatility and general competence must second the intellectual record of those who win this honor. Those who will benefit from this award next Fall are the following:

Todd Bender, of Jackson Memorial High School in Clinton, Ohio has won many national honors in debate, and is rated 15th in the National Forensic League standings; and as well as having displayed exceptional talent both as a musician and singer, he played on the football team that won the county championship.

Jerry Looker, coming from the same school as Ralph Guglielmi, quarterbacked its football team for three years, being named to the all-star team of his league. Jerry earned a 17 point-per-game average in basketball, and also captained his baseball team for three years, compiling an average of .380. Hailing from Grandview Heights, Ohio, he attended Grandview Heights High School.

Another proficient debator and speaker is Robert Scott, who has won numerous awards in that field, on both local and national levels. Robert attended Cuyahoga Falls High School, where he was active on the yearbook and the swimming team. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, is his home city.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is represented by David Shearer, who was president of the Wilkinsburg Senior High School Student Council, and was also active in numerous other activities, being voted Most Likely To Succeed. David also placed extremely high on the scholarship test of the National Honor Society.

Clifford Slayman's secondary school was Mount Vernon High School in Mount Vernon, Ohio — a city known to many Kenyonites — and there he edited the yearbook and played on the golf team, among several activities he participated in. An Eagle Scout, Clifford won the Mount Vernon American Legion Essay contest, and has also been given many local and state awards for scholarship.

From Utica, New York, comes Joseph Yournio, who possesses talent in two rather disparate fields. Joseph has shown ability in the playing of the violin and plays football as well. A fine musician and vocalist, Joseph attended the Thomas R. Proctor High School, where he was president of the honor society.

The College Scene

By Phil Currier

Some colleges seem to be having a problem with drinking. At Toledo University, the students seem to find themselves unable to keep control. As they put it, "One dorm student came home at night, nearly hit a car, smashed a glass door at the dorm entrance and afterwards couldn't remember a thing — he'd been drinking." I like the "astute" observations made on that campus. Want more? The Dean of Students said, "It's so easy to go out and get drunk." Now, who would have ever guessed it?

At William and Mary, the same problem was mentioned and The Flat Hat reminded students that misuse of alcohol could lead to dismissal from school. Case Tech has recognized a part of the problem and prohibited the serving of beer or intoxicating liquor at any rushing functions. With such a system at Kenyon maybe people could find Lewis and Norton Halls.

And colleges have other problems too. At Fenn College people have been dropping pillow cases out of windows. Fine, but they fill them with water. A student at Oberlin was arrested for helping to raise a brassiere above the town flagpole. That reminds me, has anyone seen the Deke Centennial flag?

Noticed that the Betas at Miami took a second in their interfraternity singing contest. And at Bowdoin they were nosed out by the Alpha Deltas with Psi U. in show position. I might mention that the Bowdoin Orient criticized the judgment of the contest. It would seem that the majority of people present were more favorable impressed by other fraternities. I have heard that before, somewhere on another campus.

Everyone is getting into the Bermuda-shorts clash. At Radcliffe they have received the go-ahead sign on the rather immodest attire, but nothing any shorter, please. The girls are angry because, after all, some of them roll up the legs of the Bermudas. One girl said, "I can't imagine what they did before they had Bermuda shorts."

Stud. Assembly Approves Const. Changes, Budget

On May 18, The Student Assembly held its second Meeting of the year, passing two constitutional changes, recommending three seniors for the Anderson cup, and approving the budget for the fiscal year. Chaired by Student Assembly president Jim

Hughes, the body submitted with its recommendation to the faculty committee the names of Rod French, Don Marsh, and Fred Papsin as candidates for the Anderson cup which is awarded yearly to an outstanding senior.

The first of the two constitutional changes affected the composition of the Student Council by adding two non-voting representatives from each of the freshman dorms, and by giving the unaffiliated group only one representative rather than representation according to size as compared with the average fraternity size.

The other change concerned the social committee. Two Members representing the freshmen dorms were added, and the committees term of office was made coextensive with the school year.

The new budget is as follows: athletics, $19.50 per man for a $7800 total, the Collegian, $4.50 and $1800, the Reville $6.50 and $2600, dramatics $1.00 and $400, WKCO $.85 and $340, music $.60 and $240, Hika $1.00 and $400, contingency $1.05 and $420. The budget shows a raise in every activity from $60 for music to $600 for athletics; the Collegian received an increase of $180. Because there were no debts outstanding the contingency fund was lowered. A new addition was the Kenyon literary magazine Hika which has not been published regularly this year.

Lord Netmen Defend Title at Oberlin

Today and tomorrow, the Kenyon tennis team will compete in the Ohio Conference Championships at Oberlin. The Lords are defending champions, but prospects for repeating are not too impressive. The Big Red of Denison are favored, with Ohio Wesleyan and Kenyon ranked as outside possibilities.

Coach Bob Bartels expressed his view of the team's chances by saying, "It could very well happen." Bartels would not predict victory, but did say that if the drawing went well, the Lord netmen might be able to repeat as champions.

Undefeated Bill Ostrander and Dick Yee are ranked as favorites in their divisions, while the first and second doubles teams also have strong chances of winning. Captain Barry Cahill, Freshman Pete Hermes, Bob Forsythe, and Bob Snyder have looked good in spots this season and could come through to aid the Lord cause.

Denison, ranked as the favorite, lost only one man from last year's squad. A freshman, however, not only filled his shoes, but moved the rest of the team down a position when he captured the number two spot. The Lords lost to Denison, 6-3, but the match was much closer than the score indicates.

On Tuesday, May 25, the Lords will wind up the current season when they travel to Denison to try to avenge the earlier setback at the hands of the Big Red.

Tennis Team Whips Wooster; Loses Two

Playing three home matches in the past eight days, the Kenyon tennis team won one and dropped two contests as they ran into some of the finest talent in Ohio. Highly regarded Cincinnati and Denison set back the Lords, after Wooster had been found easy prey for the Bartels men.

Tuesday afternoon the netmen lost to the University of Cincinnati by a score of 7-2. Rumored to be in Spain, the famed Tony Trabert did not make his appearance as scheduled. The Bobcats, however, needed no help from their ace as they handled the Kenyon squad with ease. Lone victors for the Lords were Bill Ostrander and Pete Hermes in their singles matches. Ostrander's victory continued his undefeated string and almost cinched a number one seeding in his bracket at Oberlin today.

Last Saturday, the Lords met the Big Red of Denison, currently the favorites in the Ohio Conference finals, and lost a 6-3 decision. Coach Bob Bartels, however, claimed the match was much closer than the scores indicated. He felt that the Lords could have won the match, despite the vaunted Denison power. Ostrander, Hermes, and Dick Yee were the Kenyon winners, while Captain Barry Cahill lost a close three set match that could have gone either way.

On May 13, the Lords played host to Wooster on the Har-Tru courts. The Lord netmen sent the visitors home after handing them a sound 7-2 thrashing.

Delta Phis, Peeps Vis For I-M Crown

With a record of eight wins against no losses, the Middle Hanna nine faced its last hurdle in the drive to the Intramural Softball crown when they met East Division Wednesday afternoon. The Peeps, with one loss marring their season's record, needed a victory to tie for first place. A victory for the Delta Phis meant undisputed possession of the title.

As of Tuesday afternoon, the Dekes held down the show position with a 5-2 record, while the Betas and Archons followed in a fourth place tie with identical 4-2 marks. Any of the three had a mathematical chance for a second place tie if the Delta Phis managed to whip the Peeps.

The season ended today, with each team finishing out a nine game schedule. The highlight of the season was undoubtedly Gerry Holiday's no-hitter against the Dekes, the first in I-M competition in many a moon.

Peeps Lead Pasini Race

With only softball and tennis points to be added to the totals, the Pasini Trophy race looks pretty well sewed up for East Division. The Peeps have almost a 100 point lead over the second place Dekes. In both tennis and softball, the Peeps appear to be widening the gap, so that a last minute rush by the Dekes is unlikely.

Two points separate the third and fourth place teams, with the Alpha Dekes holding the slim edge over the Betas. The strong showing of the former in the tennis tournament should provide the Alpha Dekes with enough points to remain third.

Alpha Dekes Near I-M Tennis Crown

Despite frequent delays and postponements, the Intramural Tennis Tourney, under the capable direction of Bob Ritzi, has advanced into the semi-final rounds. With all their entrants having reached the semi-finals, the Alpha Dekes seem to have the title almost in hand.

Tom Wigglesworth, the pre-tourney favorite, and Chuck Mignon appear to be headed to the finals. Wigglesworth won his quarter final match by beating John Cobau of West Wing, while Mignon defeated Bill Yetter of North Hanna.

The match which should decide the doubles championship is the semi-final duel between defending champions Don Marsh and Hank Price of East Division and Bill McAfee and Joe McConnel of East Wing. The other bracket is still playing in the quarter-final round, with Delta Phi favored to go to the finals against the winner of the Peep-Alpha Delt match.

Spring Sportsmen To Dine In Style

The annual spring sports banquet will be held in Peirce Hall, Monday, May 24th. At the banquet, the lacrosse, baseball, tennis and golf teams will be honored with steaks, and speeches; steaks first, of course.

Sports awards will be distributed during the Tuesday assembly period on the 25th. Letters and numerals will be awarded to the members of the above mentioned teams. The Dr. Drake trophy will be awarded to the season's best baseball player and the R. A. Weaver trophy will go to the best lacrosseman. Intramural awards will be presented, and the captains for next year's varsity teams will be announced.

Head Swimming and Tennis coach Bob Bartels has announced that he has accepted a similar position at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. The move is a well deserved step toward the big time for Bartels, whose highly successful career at Kenyon has proven him ready for faster company.

Bartels was at Kenyon for two short years, coming straight from Ohio State University. In that short period, he compiled a record that every athletic coach would marvel at. He produced two championship teams in two years in two different sports. Last year, the tennis team won eight out of nine matches and was declared co-champions of the Ohio Conference when the scheduled conference championship matches at Oberlin were rained out. This winter his swimming team swept through ten dual meets without a loss and added the conference title to their laurels.

In his initial season, Bob started from scratch and developed a swimming team that was good enough to take third place in the title meet. His tennis team this year has an excellent chance to finish in the top trio of the league.

Coach Bartels graduated from Ohio State in March 1951 with a B.A. degree in education. He remained there until June and worked for the Master's degree which he also possesses.

He swam the breaststroke events for the mermen of Mike Peppe for three years, and was the first man during his junior and senior years. He was ranked among the best of the breaststrokers during his Big Ten swimming career.

When asked for a comment concerning his transfer to the new position, he said, "I sure hate like the devil to leave Kenyon. I really enjoyed these two years here. I'll never forget some of the thrills I received with those champions. Next year, when Kenyon swims against us, I won't know who to root for. I think I'll stay in bed."

At Ohio University, Bob will inherit a championship team because the swimmers from Athens won the Mid-American Conference title this winter. With a fine start promised, Bartels should be well on his way to a quick and successful rise to the big time.

LORDS AIM FOR 8-5 MARK

Yoemen Drop Kenyon From Title Race

During the last two weeks, the Lord lacrosse team won two out of three games with conference rivals, blasting Denison and Ohio State, while losing a close one to the league leading Yeomen of Oberlin. Denison succumbed to a goal hungry Kenyon team 19-9 on Dance Weekend. The following Wednesday the Lords traveled to Columbus and whipped the Buckeyes 8-4. At Oberlin last Saturday Oberlin erased a 4 to 2 halftime deficit to whip the Stilesmen 8-6. The Oberlin loss Saturday brought Kenyon's season's record to a three-win, five-lost slate. They stand third in the conference with a three-two mark.

The Denison game was a real fiasco, as Coach Stiles would put it. Kenyon scored after 30 seconds had elapsed with Al Speivack on the scoring end of the prettiest play at home this year. Speivack tallied three times in the first period and added one more in each of the other periods. Numerous people scored as Stiles cleared the bench to give the Frosh game experience.

Kenyon played its worst game of the year against State, but won, 8 to 4, as Tookie Cole fired in five of the eight goals in his best scoring display of the year. Kenyon had a four goal margin at half time and coasted the final thirty minutes while Stiles substituted freely.

Last Saturday's game with Oberlin found the Lords leading at halftime, 4 to 2. The defense fell apart in the third period when Oberlin scored five times, and Kenyon's last hope for the conference championship went out the window. Tookie Cole and Fred Papsin each scored twice as the team, particularly the attack, played its best game of the year. Charlie Opdyke turned in another fine job in the nets.

The game was marked by many penalties as the two officials called 26 personals against Kenyon alone. Five of Oberlin's goals were scored when Kenyon was a man short. The score might well have been a tie because Cole lost two goals because of a slow whistle.

Collegian Special:

Mike Taddonio's solid single to center in the last of the ninth sent Dick Block across the plate with the winning run and climaxed a thrilling pitching duel between Rolly Webb and Sam McKenny of Denison, 3-2. The win for the Lords knocks Denison out of a first place in the Ohio Conference.

Webb scattered five hits, struck out seven and walked three as he recorded his fifth win of the year, his best. This masterpiece should answer the blast in the Denisonian concerning the Kenyon pitching corps.

Lacrosse Shots:

Stickmen To Play Two More Games

The Lords have two games left this year. Wednesday, they invade the hills of Denison for a return match. On Saturday they play host to the Cleveland Lacrosse Club in the season's final . . . Tookie Cole now has 23 goals this year and has two more games to add to this total. Fred Papsin is a distant second with 11 . . . Bill Stiles has been heard moaning about the quick whistle and the closeness of the penalties called by the officials. Just to bear out this point, let us turn to statistics. While in the East, there were 29 fouls called against the Lords, in three games. In the Oberlin game Saturday, there were 26 personals called. Kenyon is averaging approximately 23 fouls a game . . . Next year, Stiles will have one of the tallest attack combinations in the country. He plans to have Gene Nazarek 6'6", Al Halverstadt 6'3" and Phil Payton 6'4" working together in a unit . . . For a while, it looked as if Bob King might lead the country in personals, but he has slowed his slugging average . . . Kenyon has scored 61 times this year, and has allowed 67. In the league they have scored 43 and have given up 31 . . . With only seven men graduating from a frosh-soph studded team and the prospects of new talent, the future is not too dismal. Lost by graduation will be Aulenbach, and Culp at defense; King, Gammon, and Buckets Smith at Midfield; and Cole and Papsin at attack.

Kenyon Clubs OWU, Taddonio Fans 13

On Monday afternoon on the home field, the Kenyon team continued its rampage of hits and runs with a 14-2 verdict over Ohio Wesleyan University. This onslaught raised the total number of runs for the Lords to 33 in their past two games. Mike Taddonio, with his usual fine performance on the mound, was the recipient of some hitting support, as he coasted to the victory. This was the first win of the season for hard-luck Mike, and also the first time the team got him any runs.

The hitting seige was led by Bob Rowe, with a single, double, and triple, and five runs batted in. With seven hits in his last ten at bats, Bob, the Ohio Conference's leading hitter, raised his average to .487. Phil Pitney and Pat Wilcox also contributed two hits.

Combining timely hits and sloppy Wesleyan fielding, the Lords erupted for three runs in each of the first two innings to make Taddonio's job easy. Mike, in turn, allowed just three hits and registered thirteen strike-outs. He also walked six, but these did not bother him, for Wesleyan just could not hit the ball. Wesleyan now has a 3-11 record, while the Lords evened theirs at .500 with a 5-5 record.

Webb Stars, As Lords Crush Otters

Kenyon thumped Otterbein 19-2 last Saturday, to pay back with dividends the 5-0 licking they absorbed earlier in the season. Rolly Webb was the hero of the game as he turned in a fine mound job and had four hits, one of which was a grand slam home run. Bob Rowe and Ron Kendrick also made four hits apiece, as the Lords totaled 24 hits for the day. Kenyon tied their highest run total for one inning for the season with a seven run fourth. The win gave Rolly a record of four wins and one loss.

Collegian Special:

With Fred Papsin scoring nine goals and Tookie Cole adding five more, the Kenyon lacrosse team blasted the Big Red of Denison Wednesday at Denison, 21-3. It was the Lord's largest victory margin of the year. The win pushes the Lords above the Cleveland Lacrosse club in the league standings.

Mt. Union Plays Here

Kenyon's baseball team plays its final two games of the season within the next week. The first of these will be tomorrow afternoon when the Lords entertain Mount Union, on the Field House Field. Little is known about the quality of the Mount Union team, except that they have a pitcher named Jack Vogelgesang who shut out Hiram on one hit last week. Coach Falkenstine has nominated Mike Taddonio to hurl against the Purple Raiders, hoping that he will duplicate the fine performance he gave against Ohio Wesleyan earlier in the week.

The final game of the season, also a home game, will be played next Tuesday against the Lutherans of Capital. Capital currently even with Kenyon in the Ohio Conference, vanquished the Lords 2-1 in their first encounter. But Kenyon's batting and fielding have improved greatly since then, and the team expects to return the favor to Capital. If the Lords win both of these games, they will finish with their best season in quite a few years.

The big reason for the teams recent victories has been their slugging. The team has averaged over eight runs a game during the season. Bob Rowe is leading the team in nearly every hitting department. He has a .487 average, five doubles, four triples, twelve singles, and seventeen runs batted in. Phil Pitney is hitting .356, Rolly Webb is hitting .347, and Mike Taddonio and Frank Hagan finish out the charmed circle. Sub John Stauffer has an average of .429. Bill Williams has started to hit and has returned to left field. The infield defense has been strengthened with Judge Jones taking over at third base. Pat Wilcox, hitting .285, has moved from third to right field.
