Verbal Description:

Complex censer plate, rim piece. Piece broke where it would have connected to the body of the censer. There is also a rather large censer prong seen. The underside of the plate is lightly burnt all over, but there are areas of darker burning, especially near the rim. This underside is really rough to the touch & does not look like it has been smoothed over at all. It is lumpy & looks like someone brushed over it with a stiff broom. The plate side is a bit smoother, totally burnt & is a bit rough around the prong seen. The rim undulates. No paint, slip or other deposit.
