Verbal Description

Yellow zoomorphic figure fragment, depicts the right half of a primate face, including the leaf-shaped ear (with an oval indentation) an eye (laterally mounted) framed by a protruding sphere surrounded by a raised arch (very ^{prosimian} prosimian-like). The head rises to a slight point above the eye & the entire face is triangular in shape. The entire surface is very rough & the upper edge of the hollow piece may have been open as there are traces of once slip present. The face also has a raised, rounded nose. Back is convex. Light banding for ear. Once slip on all of exterior, which depicts (?) - Simia 3 - small, orbited.
